EQUALITY OF EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY

The University of North Carolina at Greensboro is committed to equality of educational opportunity and does not discriminate against applicants, students, or employees based on race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, or handicap. Moreover, The University of North Carolina at Greensboro is open to people of all races and actively seeks to promote racial integration by recruiting and enrolling a larger number of black students.

This commitment is in keeping with Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972 and Section 504, Rehabilitation Act of 1973. The Affirmative Action Officer, 201 Forney Building (919-334-5009), is responsible for coordinating compliance and investigating complaints.

TO PROSPECTIVE STUDENTS

University catalogs are not as a rule light reading. This one is no exception. It is, however, a useful and accurate compilation of information describing program offerings and requirements. These pages serve as introduction to a rich and vital academic community. Faculty and staff alike are pleased by your interest. All of us at The University of North Carolina at Greensboro will be delighted to provide further help as needed.

William E. Moran
Chancellor

Introduction to the University

The institution which is now The University of North Carolina at Greensboro was chartered in 1891 to provide higher education for women. Formerly The Woman's College — one of the three original institutions of The Consolidated University of North Carolina — it has been highly regarded now for more than a century for both its strong liberal arts tradition and its excellent professional preparation for selected careers. In 1963, it became a comprehensive, coeducational university.

The student body of UNCG — 66% female and 34% male — comprises approximately 12,000 men and women, about three-fourths of whom are undergraduate and one-fourth graduate students. While 88% are from North Carolina, students come from 38 other states and 59 foreign countries. Minority enrollment is approximately 14%, including approximately 11% African-American students. About half of all UNCG students receive some type of financial aid.

Among the more than 600 full-time faculty members are nationally known scholars whose research and creative work regularly contribute new knowledge to their fields; 74 percent hold doctoral degrees. The faculty is committed to excellence in teaching, research, and public service. Faculty members are easily accessible to students through an advisory system and on an informal basis. The ratio of students to faculty is 14.2 to 1.

Academic Programs

The University is organized into a College of Arts and Sciences and six professional schools — those of Business and Economics; Education; Health and Human Performance; Human Environmental Sciences; Music; and Nursing. Undergraduates have a choice of over 100 areas of study from which to select a major or concentration within a major leading to one of six undergraduate degrees offered: Bachelor of Arts (BA), Bachelor of Fine Arts (BFA), Bachelor of Music (BM), Bachelor of Science (BS), Bachelor of Science in Medical Technology (BSMT), and Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN)

The UNCG Board of Trustees, acting within the framework outlined for UNCG by The University of North Carolina Board of Governors, determines general directions for UNCG's academic programs. Direct responsibility for administering academic programs rests within the various academic units.

The Chancellor has the responsibility for the administration of all campus programs, academic and non-academic. The Provost coordinates and oversees the graduate and undergraduate academic programs on the UNCG campus.

The University faculty through the Faculty Senate, the Academic Cabinet, and the Undergraduate Curriculum Committee, determines the general framework for UNCG undergraduate degree requirements and approves the programs proposed by academic units.

More than 1,000 courses are available each semester. In addition, since UNCG is a member of the Greater Greensboro Consortium, students may cross-register at Bennett, Elon, Greensboro, Guilford, Guilford Technical Community Colleges, and High Point University, and North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University without additional tuition.

The University also offers three doctoral degrees in 13 areas of study, four Master of Fine Arts degrees, and several other master's degrees in a wide variety of concentrations. The Graduate School Catalog describes these programs in complete detail.

Most undergraduate degree programs require 122 semester hours with 24-36 semester hours of work in the major. See Chapter 4 of this catalog for descriptions of academic programs and University-wide requirements.

Many special academic programs are available as well. Among these, Teacher Education has a long tradition. Five UNCG schools and several departments within the College of Arts and Sciences offer programs leading to teacher certification in North Carolina and qualification for certification in most other states. Students may select certification programs in 32 subject areas.

The Honors Program provides an early opportunity for broad interdisciplinary study with team-taught sessions and independent projects.

Opportunities for interdepartmental studies are available in International Studies, African American Studies, Women's Studies, Gerontology, and others.

UNCG's seven preprofessional programs offer all of the courses required for admission to medical or dental schools, to pharmacy, veterinary, or physical therapy schools, or as needed for entrance into law school. A two-year pre-engineering curriculum prepares students to transfer to schools with engineering programs.

Independent study, tutorials, and internships are available in most schools and departments.

Residential College provides a setting for innovative study and unity of academic and social experiences for freshmen and sophomores.

Students interested in study abroad for academic credit may select from several opportunities available, through summer study, semester abroad, or the junior year abroad program.

These and other special academic programs are described more fully in Chapter 5.

Campus Life

The 75 buildings on the attractive campus reflect the 100 year history of the University from the oldest, Foust, built in 1892, to the buildings currently under construction. The new Student Recreational Center, adjacent to the Health and Human Performance Building and the new Soccer Stadium, opened in 1992. Apartment-style housing is under construction and should be ready for occupancy for Fall 1993. Ground-breaking for a five-level parking deck occurred during the fall of 1992. The Student Plaza, situated in the middle of the campus, is a focal point of the University.

UNCG is especially rich in the diversity of its arts programs. Weatherspoon Art Gallery, now located in the new Anne and Benjamin Cone art center, houses what is considered to be the most outstanding permanent collection of contemporary art in the southeast and offers a showcase for student and faculty work.

The University Dance Company provides performance and choreographic opportunities for qualified graduate and undergraduate students in dance. In music, student performing organizations are open to all university students by audition.

A wide-ranging program in theatre has five production programs including the Workshop Theatre, Studio Theatre, UNCG Theatre, The North Carolina Theatre for Young People, and the Centennial Summer Theatre Company. The Media Workshop explores film and video topics and co-sponsors a student-managed campus radio station. Moreover, the University Concert/Lecture Series brings exciting and innovative programs in the performing arts each year to the campus.

Residence life and the many opportunities and services for students are described in Chapter 6, Student Life, and in the Student Handbook.

The Office of the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services is responsible for assigning a faculty member as advisor to each student to help plan a course of study.

Student Health Service provides full-time medical services.

The Career Services Center assists students with planning their careers and securing full-time employment after graduation.

The Counseling and Testing Center offers personal counseling, psychotherapy, and outreach programs to assist students with their adjustment to college.

The focal point for campus events is Elliott University Center, which not only provides space for student government, student publications, and many student organizations, but also offers movies, concerts, lectures, dances, and parties.

More than 100 student clubs and organizations are in operation at UNCG, ranging from academic honor societies and service organizations through religious, musical, media, sports, and departmental organizations. UNCG is one of only five higher educational institutions in North Carolina approved to have a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

Eight Greek fraternities and eight sororities have chapters on campus and offer a channel for social growth.

UNCG has a thirteen-team intercollegiate athletics program and, in 1991, began competition in the NCAA Division I. A wide choice of intramural sports and club sports is also offered on campus.

The UNCG campus consists of approximately 180 acres located near the center of Greensboro, the state's third largest city. Greensboro has an approximate population of 184,000, and the Greater Greensboro area has a population of approximately 196,000. Located midway between Washington and Atlanta, Greensboro is but two hours from the mountains, and about four hours from the coast. In a national survey a few years ago, Greensboro was rated as the nation's second most attractive place to live, based on climate, health, transportation, crime rate, and prosperity. Overall, it is a dynamic city, offering a splendid setting for a university. In return, for over 100 years, UNCG has enriched Greensboro with its widely diversified academic community.

THE MISSION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT GREENSBORO

(Approved by the Board of Trustees, April 8, 1993)

Dedicated to teaching, research, and service for the benefit of the people of North Carolina, The University of North Carolina at Greensboro provides excellence in mutually supportive undergraduate and graduate education. This mission is based upon its legacy of distinguished undergraduate education for women and on the responsibilities inherent in its present role as a doctoral-granting university.

Committed for more than a century to accomplished teaching and scholarship, the University fosters knowledge, intellectual skills, and the joy of reasoned inquiry in its students so that they may become thoughtful and responsible members of society. It affords an exceptional opportunity for all students, at any stage in their lives, to secure professional or other specialized preparation firmly grounded in the liberal arts. In carrying out its responsibilities for research and creative endeavor, the University offers undergraduate and graduate programs of distinction and aims for national recognition for certain graduate programs, including all doctoral programs.

The University has a proud tradition of professional and public service. Recognizing that the society it serves is global, the University applies its intellectual resources to enhance the quality of life in the Piedmont Triad region, the state of North Carolina, the nation, and the world.

The University is dedicated to sustaining a community in which women and men of every race are motivated to develop their potential fully and to achieve an informed appreciation of their own culture as well as the culture of others. As an institution in an urban setting, the University offers students a rich array of experiential opportunities. Through its co-curricular programs, the University contributes to the social, aesthetic, and ethical development of its students and supports them as they pursue their academic goals. Intellectual curiosity and tolerance, the natural resources of any learning environment, are cultivated and prized by the University community.

ACCREDITATION

The University of North Carolina at Greensboro is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award Bachelor's, Master's, Specialist's, and Doctor's degrees.

Teacher Education programs have been approved at the state level by the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction and at the national level by the National Council of Accreditation in Teacher Education.

Programs in the professional schools and in some departments of the College of Arts and Sciences are also accredited by relevant professional agencies. Where applicable, such accreditation is noted in the respective sections in Chapter 4, Academic Programs.

AFFIRMATIVE ACTION PLAN

(March 25, 1973, Chapter II, reaffirmed in Affirmative Action Plan) (Revised 1983)

University Commitment to Nondiscriminatory Policies and Practices

The University of North Carolina at Greensboro is fully committed to equality of educational opportunity and does not discriminate against applicants, students, or employees based on race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, or handicap. This commitment is in keeping with Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972 and Section 504, Rehabilitation Act of 1973. The Affirmative Action Officer, 201 Forney Building (919-334-5009), is responsible for coordinating compliance and investigating complaints.

This policy is stated officially in various documents adopted formally by responsible University agencies. The Code adopted by the Board of Governors of The University of North Carolina affirms the following statement:

*"Admission to, employment by, and promotion in The University of North Carolina and all of its constituent institutions shall be on the basis of merit, and there shall be no discrimination on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, sex, or national origin."
(Chapter 1, Section 103)*

At The University of North Carolina at Greensboro, the following statement has been formulated to express the commitment to Affirmative Action:

"It is the goal of The University of North Carolina at Greensboro to achieve within all areas of employment a diverse faculty and staff capable of providing for excellence in the education of its students and for the enrichment of the total university community. In seeking to fill openings, every effort will be made to recruit in such a way that women and individuals from minority groups will have an equal opportunity to be considered and appointed to all vacant positions."

The University appoints and promotes for all job classifications without regard to race, color, national origin, sex, age, religion, handicap, or veteran status in such manner as is consistent with achieving a staff of diverse and competent persons.

The University administers all personnel actions such as compensations, benefits, promotions, grievance procedures, transfers, training and educational programs, tuition assistance, travel assistance, research grants, support for graduate assistants, social and recreational programs without regard to race, color, national origin, sex, religion, handicap or veteran status.

The University maintains a standing committee on equal employment opportunity and intergroup relations appointed by the Chancellor, to act in an advisory capacity to him and to other members of the University responsible for affirmative action and to act as an agency to monitor the implementation of affirmative action.

All employees of the University are expected to support the principle of and contribute to the realization of equal employment opportunity. Affirmative action is a priority concern in all facets of operation.

ADMISSIONS

UNCG seeks men and women with ability, character, motivation, and the intellectual potential to meet UNCG standards of performance. UNCG's admission decision is based upon an evaluation of the applicant's secondary school record and/or college record, including the overall grade point average and SAT or ACT scores. These factors are used to determine the applicant's probability of success at UNCG.

This policy applies to the admission of freshmen, transfer students, and former students. The University of North Carolina at Greensboro is fully committed to equality of educational opportunity and does not discriminate against applicants, students, or employees based on race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, or handicap. This commitment is in keeping with Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972 and Section 504, Rehabilitation Act of 1973. The Affirmative Action Officer, 201 Forney Building (919-334-5009), is responsible for coordinating compliance and investigating complaints.

Interviews are not used as criteria for admissions decisions, except in the case of those interviews specifically requested by the Office of Admissions or those required for the Adult Continuing and Evening Students (ACES) program. However, interviews may be scheduled by contacting the Office of Admissions at 919-334-5243 at least two weeks in advance of the date a campus visit is planned.

Adult students who do not meet ordinary admission requirements may seek admission through the Adult Continuing and Evening Students (ACES) program (see p. 23).

Overenrollment or state budgetary constraints may require the restriction of admission during a given year or the adjustment of minimum requirements or application deadlines.

FRESHMEN

A freshman is defined as a student who is a high school graduate and who has not attended college. Admission into the freshman class implies that the student will eventually become a candidate for a bachelor's degree. A student who has college credit totaling fewer than 24 semester hours from a regionally accredited institution is designated as a "freshman-transfer" and must meet requirements under both transfer and freshman admissions programs.

Secondary School Preparation

Candidates for admission to the freshman class must submit a secondary school diploma (or its equivalent) and at least 15 acceptable units of credit from an accredited secondary school. (A unit is defined as credit given for a course which meets for one period daily during the entire school year.) Students must present the following units:

	Units
English (emphasizing grammar, composition, and literature)	4
Foreign Language (two years of one foreign language)	2
Mathematics (Algebra I, Algebra II, Geometry)	3

Science (including at least 1 unit in life or biological science, at least 1 unit in physical science, at least 1 laboratory course) 3

Social Science (1 unit in US history; 1 unit in history, economics, sociology or civics) 2

Total required units: 15

It is recommended that prospective students take one foreign language unit and one mathematics unit in the twelfth grade.

An audition is required as part of the admissions procedure for students seeking the Bachelor of Arts with a major in music or the Bachelor of Music degree. Students should write the School of Music for information.

An interview with the faculty of the Department of Housing and Interior Design is required for selection into that program. The appropriate forms will be enclosed with the letter of admission for students who indicate interior design as their proposed major.

Entrance Deficiencies

If a student lacks one or more of the required units of high school preparation, an entrance deficiency exists. In some cases, students who are deficient may be considered for admission if their credentials are otherwise satisfactory. However, the deficiency must be removed within the time set by the Office of Admissions. Accepted students are encouraged to remove any deficiency before enrolling. All deficiencies must be removed before graduation from the University.

Foreign Language. A student deficient in one or two foreign language units may be admitted. If admitted, the student must remove the deficiency prior to the completion of 60 semester hours. Deficiencies can be removed by completing the course in an approved secondary school, or by completing the appropriate college-level course in the area of the deficiency. Removal of a two-unit foreign language deficiency requires successful completion of two college-level courses in the same language. Removal of a one-unit language deficiency requires the successful completion of one college-level course at the 102 level. Students admitted with a one-unit deficiency in French or Spanish (and who wish to continue with the same language) must take the Language Placement Test to determine the level at which they must pick up their study of the language at UNCG. Information about alternate ways of satisfying this requirement may be secured by contacting the Office of Admissions.

Other Deficiencies. Students who graduated from high school in or after the Spring of 1988 and who are deficient in any high school unit except foreign language must complete six semester hours (or nine quarter hours) of "C" or better course work in each of the following subject areas — English, mathematics, natural sciences, and social sciences — before they can be admitted to UNCG. These courses must be taken at an accredited institution of higher education and must be creditable towards a degree at UNCG.

2 + 2 Articulation Program Deficiencies. Students who have not completed the AAS degree with all Articulation requirements met are admitted to UNCG as candidates for formal admission to the School of the 2 + 2 Program with a deficiency. The deficiency(s) must be removed before these students can be formally admitted to the School of the major program.

Nonaccredited Secondary Schools

Applicants from nonaccredited secondary schools must meet the same requirements for secondary school courses and SAT scores as applicants from accredited secondary schools.

Application Procedure for Freshmen

1. Complete the UNCG application forms. A $35.00 application fee must accompany the application. This fee covers the cost of processing the application, and is subject to change. It is not refundable and is not applicable toward tuition or other costs.

Early application for admission is suggested, however, the deadline for submitting the application is August 1 for the fall and December 1 for the spring semester.

2. Submit an official transcript of secondary school work. Applicants must request their guidance counselors to forward their transcripts, including courses in progress, cumulative grade point average, and rank in class, directly to the Office of Admissions. Students currently enrolled in secondary school should request that the courses in progress and cumulative grade point average be listed on the transcript.

3. Take the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) administered by the College Board. This test should be taken in the spring of the junior year and in the fall of the senior year of secondary school if possible. Test scores must be sent directly from the College Board to the Office of Admissions. UNCG's College Board code number is 5913. For information about the SAT, write College Board, P.O. Box 592, Princeton, NJ 08540.

American College Test Scores are acceptable in lieu of SAT scores. Test scores should be sent directly from The American College Testing Program, P.O. Box 168, Iowa City, IA 52240. UNCG's ACT code number is 3166.

4. Applicants who have been in the armed services must submit a copy of their discharge papers (DD 214).

ACCEPTANCE

After all required information is in the Office of Admissions, applicants are notified by letter of their acceptance, rejection, or other action taken on their applications.

Intent to Enroll Card

Students admitted before April 1 for fall semester must return this card by May 1. Students admitted after April 1 for fall semester and all students admitted for spring semester must return this card within 4 weeks from the date on their letter of admission.

Immunization Clearance

Students who have been admitted to UNCG are required to submit a medical report form with appropriate verification of immunizations. This form is supplied by the Office of Admissions and must be satisfactorily completed and returned to the Student Health Center. Failure to comply with this requirement within thirty calendar days from the first day of registration will result in the student's being dropped from the University. Once dropped from the University, the student must re-apply for admission should he or she wish to return the following semester or any time thereafter. This requirement applies to all students, regardless of whether they are part-time or full-time. Students subjected to an administrative withdrawal for failure to comply with medical clearance requirements are not entitled to a refund with the exception of a pro rata refund of board charges (if applicable); see pp. 379-381. Students with financial aid will be considered to have used a semester of financial aid eligibility.

Early Decision Plan

Well-qualified applicants for admission who decide that UNCG is the university of their choice may apply for "early decision". This decision is made by November 1 of the senior year in high school.

To be eligible for early decision, the applicant must do the following:

1. Take the Scholastic Aptitude Test during the junior year in secondary school and have the official scores forwarded to the UNCG Office of Admissions. These scores and the secondary school records showing courses in progress, cumulative grade point average, and rank in class must be received in the Office of Admissions by October 10 of the senior year.

2. Submit the application forms and all required credentials to the Office of Admissions by October 10 of the senior year.

Students whose applications are not accepted under the Early Decision Plan will have their applications reviewed as regular admission candidates.

Students accepted under the Early Decision Plan must submit the "intent to enroll" card by November 30 of their senior year in secondary school.

COURSE CREDIT AND ADVANCED PLACEMENT

Advanced placement credit or exemption from specific degree requirements may be granted by UNCG. Students should contact their secondary school counselors regarding dates and local test centers.

College Board Advanced Placement (AP) Program

Secondary school students enrolled in AP courses may receive college credit by taking AP examinations upon completion of the courses and forwarding the results to the Office of Admissions for evaluation.

2 + 2 ARTICULATION AGREEMENTS

UNCG is proud to be one of the first institutions in North Carolina to enter into 2 + 2 Articulation Agreements with local community colleges for students transferring from specific Associate in Applied Science degrees into accredited Bachelor of Science programs.

Agreements currently exist with Guilford Technical Community College, Forsyth Technical Community College, and Alamance Community College in these AAS programs: Business Administration, Accounting (for transfer into Management and Marketing, but not Accounting), Early Childhood, and Nursing (RNs only). Specific details of each agreement may be obtained from the UNCG Admissions Office, Academic Advising and Support Services Office, or the community college involved.

2 + 2 Articulation students are transfer students with several unique requirements and procedures. All details governing their enrollment are provided for in the Articulation Agreements. Specific requirements for transfer students (see below) still apply to 2 + 2 Articulation students or are noted if they do not.

TRANSFER STUDENTS

Well-qualified students with 24 academic semester hours or more of college credit from a regionally accredited institution are encouraged to transfer to UNCG to continue their studies. A student who has college credit totaling fewer than 24 semester hours from a regionally accredited institution is designated a "freshman-transfer" and must meet requirements under both transfer and freshman admissions programs.

Requirements and Procedures

Transfer students must have a 2.0 or better average on a 4.0 scale on all previous work attempted and on all transferable course work from a regionally accredited college or university. Grade point averages are recalculated to determine admissibility. They must be in good standing and eligible to return to their last attended institution.

Prior to August 1 for admission into the fall semester or before December 1 for the spring semester, they must submit the following:

1. UNCG application forms showing true and complete information.
2. Official transcript from the secondary school attended. Transfer students must present 15 acceptable units of credit from an accredited secondary school. (See specific course units listed in Freshmen section above, page 13). Transfer students not meeting this requirement should refer to the section on entrance deficiencies (page 14).
3. Official transcripts from each postsecondary institution previously attended (including summer school and extension).
4. A list of courses in progress including course number, course name, and semester/quarter hours of credit.
5. A copy of discharge papers (DD 214) from the armed services if applicable.
6. An application fee, currently $35, not refundable and not applied toward tuition and other costs.

After receipt of the above credentials, the UNCG admissions office staff reviews the application to determine the number of semester hours of credit for previous college-level work which can be transferred to UNCG and applied toward a bachelor's degree. Transfer credit to be awarded is determined by the quality as well as the quantity of the student's previous college work. Course work completed with a grade of D will not transfer hours of credit but may be used to fulfill course requirements. A copy of the credit evaluation generally accompanies the acceptance letter.

2 + 2 Articulation Program students are unique transfer students. They must complete all of the procedures listed above except for #2. The decision for admission in these cases is based on successful completion of the Associate in Applied Science Degree and other specific factors outlined in the 2 + 2 Articulation Agreement (see each agreement or advising tools provided by UNCG Admissions, Academic Advising, or the community college involved).

Intent to Enroll Card

Students admitted before April 1 for fall semester must return this card by May 1. Students admitted after April 1 for fall semester and all students admitted for spring semester must return this card within 4 weeks from the date on their letter of admission. If the form is not received, the student's application is subject to cancellation. Students must also submit a completed medical examination form prior to enrolling.

Specific Programs

Transfer students planning to take a concentration in the Media Studies Major should contact the Department of Communication and Theatre to determine whether they are eligible for admission to the program.

Transfer students planning to enter the School of Business and Economics should contact the school to determine the requirements for entrance.

An interview with the faculty of the Department of Housing and Interior Design is required for selection into that program.

An audition is required as part of the admissions procedure for transfer students seeking the Bachelor of Arts with a major in music or the Bachelor of Music degree. Students should write the School of Music for information.

Students transferring into the School of Nursing from another baccalaureate nursing program must have a letter of reference from the administrative head of that nursing program. This reference should be sent directly to the Dean of the School of Nursing. Credits with a nursing designation do not transfer.

Transfer students planning to major in Elementary or Middle Grades Education should contact The School of Education's Student Services Office.

2 + 2 Articulation Program students who have completed the AAS degree with all articulation requirements met, are admitted to UNCG as candidates for formal admission to the School of the 2 + 2 major program.

Transfer Regulations

Accreditation. UNCG accepts the accreditation of the North Carolina State Department of Public Instruction for colleges in North Carolina and the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges. Colleges and universities outside North Carolina must have accreditation from the appropriate regional accrediting agency for the transfer credit to be accepted.

Nonaccredited Institutions. Applicants from nonaccredited institutions must meet the requirements in effect for admission into the freshman class, including satisfactory secondary school records and SAT scores, as well as meeting the transfer requirements of a 2.0 average on a 4.0 scale.

Validating Examinations. Some departments at UNCG require an examination to validate transfer credit. These examinations are administered by the department or school involved.

Professional School Admissions. Admission into the University does not constitute selection into any of the professional schools.

Two-Year College Transfer Credit Limit. Transfer students who enter UNCG after attendance at two-year colleges receive transfer credit for no more than 64 semester hours from two-year institutions.

Extension Credit. UNCG extension credit, earned either on or off campus, will be considered transfer credit for admission purposes. Up to 64 semester hours in extension and/or correspondence credits may be applied to completion of work for an undergraduate degree. Academic departments may establish such course and credit limitations in acceptance of extension credit as may be required by specific degree programs.

Although UNCG extension credit is treated as transfer credit at the time of admission, it will be thereafter considered "Residence" credit for degree certification purposes. The grades and quality points are calculated in the UNCG grade point average.

Correspondence Credit. Up to 64 semester hours in correspondence and extension credit may be applied to the completion of work for an undergraduate degree with the further stipulation that not more than one-fourth of the requirements for the degree may be completed in correspondence credit. Academic departments may establish such course and credit limitations in acceptance of correspondence credit as may be required by specific degree programs.

Although UNCG correspondence credit is treated as transfer credit at the time of admission, it will be thereafter considered "Residence" credit for degree certification purposes. The grades and quality points are calculated in the UNCG grade point average.

Correspondence credit earned from institutions other than UNCG is always treated as transfer credit. It will have no impact on the UNCG grade point average. Only hours will be applied toward the UNCG degree.

FORMER STUDENTS

Students who were previously enrolled and are in good standing in the undergraduate program at UNCG but who did not complete the previous semester should apply for readmission to the Office of Admissions. If such students earned credits at other colleges or universities since last attending UNCG, they must submit official transcripts of credit from those institutions before they can be considered for readmission. An overall and transferable 2.0 or better average on a 4.0 scale must be maintained on all course work attempted since leaving the University. UNCG students who have been suspended for academic reasons may apply for readmission after being away from the University for at least one semester.

Former UNCG students who have been out of college for more than two years should contact the Adult Continuing and Evening Students (ACES) Office. See page 23 for more information.

All former students must receive medical clearance from the Student Health Center before readmission. A student who withdraws for psychological reasons must receive clearance from the Counseling and Testing Center before readmission.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

International applicants must complete the special international application and return all required documents on or before the international deadline as specified in the international application. International applicants should present Scholastic Aptitude Test results along with all applicable transcripts from secondary and post-secondary schools. International applicants whose native language is not English should also present TOEFL results in support of their application.

Prior to admission, applicants must further submit evidence of adequate financial support to cover their expenses for their first year of study at the University as specified on page 371 of this catalog. The University will issue the necessary visa documentation only to those students who are formally admitted to the University. International students should not leave their native countries intending to enroll at the University until they have received a formal letter of acceptance and all appropriate visa documentation.

VETERANS

Veterans' enrollment certification is handled by the Office of the Registrar.

UNCG is on the list of approved institutions which can provide training under the Veterans Administration Educational Training Program. A veteran wishing to receive educational benefits should apply first to the Veterans Administration for a Certificate of Eligibility. The student then applies for admission to UNCG through normal admissions procedures. The issuing of a Certificate of Eligibility by the VA does not automatically assure a student of admission to UNCG.

When enrolling at UNCG, the veteran should present a Certificate of Eligibility to the Registrar requesting that certification of enrollment be sent to the VA. This Certification of Enrollment is necessary before educational benefits can be received. Certification of Enrollment must be requested each year and again in summer school.

VISITING STUDENTS

College Level

A student who is currently working for a degree at another institution but wishes to take courses here during the regular term is classified as a "visiting" student.

To be considered for admission as a visiting student, an applicant must:

1. Submit the regular application forms and the application fee.
2. Have the dean of the home institution send the Office of Admissions written permission to take the specific courses here which will be acceptable for transfer credit at that institution. Written permission must be submitted for each semester that the applicant wishes to attend UNCG. Visiting students may not continue beyond one semester without providing additional permission from the dean of the home institution.
3. Have an official transcript from that institution forwarded to the Office of Admissions.

Visiting students must have a 2.0 or better average on a 4.0 scale on all previous work attempted. They must be in good standing and eligible to return to their last attended institution.

Secondary School Level

The University provides secondary school students who have good academic records the opportunity to begin their college studies early and to supplement their secondary school curriculum. Secondary school juniors or seniors can be considered for enrollment in courses as visiting students by submitting an application, the application fee, a high school transcript, and a letter of permission from their principal. Enrollment as a visiting secondary school student does not imply regular admission.

GREATER GREENSBORO CONSORTIUM

A student attending a college or university in the Greater Greensboro Consortium (Bennett, Elon, Greensboro, Guilford, High Point, and Guilford Technical Community Colleges and North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University) is not classified as a visiting student and does not go through the admissions process for the fall or spring semesters. Students wishing to register for courses here through the Consortium should contact the registrar of their home institution. For the Summer Sessions, the Consortium is in effect only with North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University. Bennett, Elon, Greensboro, Guilford, High Point, and Guilford Technical Community College students interested in taking courses in the UNCG Summer Sessions should request a bulletin from the Summer School Office and submit the application form in the bulletin.

RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

The United States Air Force and Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps programs are available to UNCG students at North Carolina A. and T. State University (in Greensboro). As a member of the Greater Greensboro Consortium, UNCG offers students these opportunities for leadership training and a commission in the Army or Air Force through cross-registration.

PART-TIME DEGREE STUDENTS

Students who plan to enroll on a part-time basis, but who wish to work toward a degree, are considered "part-time degree students" and should follow the standard admissions procedures. Part-time students are those who enroll in less than 12 semester hours. Tuition and fees are determined by the number of semester hours taken and by in-state or out-of-state residency. Part-time degree students may not reside in University housing.

ADULT CONTINUING AND EVENING STUDENTS PROGRAM

The Adult Continuing and Evening Students (ACES) program provides expanded opportunities for adult, non-traditional and returning students who qualify. Several evening degree programs are available for such individuals on a part-time or full-time basis. Many other programs are available during the day. The Office of Adult Continuing and Evening Students will offer assistance in the form of admission processing, registration, advising and support services. The ACES office is open 8am to 8pm, Monday through Thursday, and 8am to 5pm on Friday. The phone number for the ACES office is 919/334-5757 (Area Code becomes 910 after 11-14-93).

NONTRADITIONAL STUDENTS

Persons who do not meet traditional entrance requirements or who have been away from formal school for at least one year may be considered for admission as "nontraditional" students.

Persons who graduated from high school in or after the Spring of 1988 are expected to present the required high school units as listed on pages 13-14. With approval from a member of the Adult Continuing and Evening Students staff, these students may enroll for undergraduate courses for credit within specified guidelines. Upon successful completion of 15 semester hours and the removal of mathematics deficiencies, the student will be placed in a University classification of freshman through senior (depending upon the number of hours completed) with an advisor from the faculty. See Chapter 3, Academic Regulations.

To apply for acceptance as a nontraditional student, an applicant should do the following:

1. Complete the UNCG application forms and return them to the Office of Adult Continuing and Evening Students with the application fee.
2. Submit official transcripts from the secondary school attended (and/or General Educational Development equivalency scores) and from any postsecondary institutions previously attended, including summer school and extension.
3. Submit discharge papers (DD 214) from the armed services if applicable.
4. Schedule a preadmissions conference with an advisor in the Office of Adult Continuing and Evening Students.

Applicants will be notified of action taken as soon as possible. They should confirm their intention to enroll by completing the "intent to enroll" card and returning it to the Office of Adult Continuing and Evening Students by May 1 (if admitted before April 1) or within four weeks from the date of acceptance. Confirmation of late acceptance must be made by the deadline for registration. Before enrolling, students must submit a medical report form supplied in the Enrollment Handbook.

UNCLASSIFIED ADMISSIONS

Students who do not wish to pursue an undergraduate degree at this time may apply through the Office of Adult Continuing and Evening Students to be an "unclassified" student.

To apply for acceptance as an unclassified student, an applicant should fill out an undergraduate application in its entirety - including the application fee - and return it to the Office of Adult Continuing and Evening Students. Former UNCG students are not eligible for this program but must apply as former students (see above).

An applicant admitted through the unclassified category will be permitted to take no more than 7 semester hours of credit per term and is not eligible for any kind of University financial aid. An applicant who has previously attended another college must be eligible to return to that institution. If the student desires to be considered for degree-seeking status, all records must be submitted to the Office of Adult Continuing and Evening Students and the Unclassified Change Request Form must be completed and signed. At this time the records will be reviewed to determine if the student is eligible to become degree-seeking according to admissions policies. All students will have to meet the University's continuing-in-education requirements as defined in the catalog to be able to continue their academic endeavors.

Students are required to submit a medical report form (in the Enrollment Handbook) with appropriate verification of immunizations. This form must be completed under the conditions established for all admitted students (see "Acceptance", page 15).

SECOND BACCALAUREATE DEGREE STUDENTS

An applicant who holds a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited institution and who wishes to take undergraduate work toward a second baccalaureate degree should follow the instructions below:

1. Complete the application forms and return them to the Office of Adult Continuing and Evening Students with the application fee.
2. Submit official transcripts from each postsecondary institution previously attended (including summer school and extension).

An applicant holding a baccalaureate degree and taking work for credit for any other purpose must apply through the Graduate School.

ACCELERATED MASTER'S PROGRAMS FOR UNDERGRADUATES

The University of North Carolina at Greensboro offers a selection of accelerated educational programs that will allow qualified students to earn both a bachelor's and a master's degree in approximately five years. Students must be admitted to these programs. Generally, students who are admitted as freshmen in Fall 1993 will be eligible. For availability and other information, please consult with the Office of Academic Advising and support Services.

SUMMER SESSION

Students continuing their education at UNCG receive Summer Session registration materials along with Fall registration materials in late March of each year. Continuing students may register for Summer Session in April at the same time they register for the next Fall semester.

New or visiting students planning to attend summer session at UNCG must complete an Application for Summer Session form. A copy of the Summer Session Bulletin and the application form may be obtained in early March by contacting the Office of Summer Session, UNCG, Greensboro, NC 27412-5001 (Telephone 919/334-5416). For more information see page 34.

AUDITING COURSES

Auditing a course is the privilege of being present in the classroom when space is available. No credit is involved, no examinations are required, and no grades are reported. Attendance, preparation, and participation in classroom discussion and activities are at the discretion of the department head and/or instructor. Admission is determined following the close of regular student registration.

Registered Auditors

A currently enrolled student may audit a course upon the written approval of his faculty advisor and the instructor and must register officially for the course. A student paying full tuition and fees may audit one course per semester without additional fee. A registered part-time credit student may not audit more than two courses per semester and is charged a $15.00 fee for each audited course. Fees are payable in full at the time of enrollment.

Persons not officially registered at UNCG who desire a record of enrollment as an auditor should follow regular admission, registration, and fee payment. The fee is $163.50 in-state and $896.50 out-of-state for each course audited.

Visiting Auditors

A person not officially registered at UNCG who desires to audit a course without a record may secure an application form from the Office of Continuing Education. To audit a 600-or 700-level course, a student must hold a bachelor's degree. Visiting auditors are admitted to lecture courses when space is available with the approval of the department head in consultation with the instructor teaching the course requested. A fee is charged for each course audited.

GRADUATE STUDENTS

Students interested in working toward a graduate degree or students who hold a bachelor's degree and wish to continue their general education should consult the Graduate School Catalog for admission information. The catalog can be obtained from the Graduate School Office, 241 Mossman Building.

CONTINUING EDUCATION PROGRAMS

The Office of Continuing Education offers programs for extension credit, professional development, and non-credit personal enrichment. Those who register for these special programs need not apply to the University for admission to a degree program. Registration is handled by the Office of Continuing Education.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Residents of North Carolina age 65 or older who meet applicable admission requirements may enroll tuition free on a space available basis. The availability of course space is determined by the Registrar at the close of registration for any given semester.

THE ACADEMIC HONOR POLICY

All work undertaken for academic credit at UNCG is governed by the Academic Honor Policy, which provides that all study be carried out in good faith and with due regard for the integrity of the learning process. Students, faculty and staff are responsible for ensuring that learning proceeds uncompromised by breaches of academic integrity and for ensuring that the Academic Honor Policy is recognized as the imperative governing all academic work at the University. Specific provisions of the Academic Honor Policy are stated in Appendix A II of the UNCG Student Handbook.

ORIENTATION

New students are welcomed by a number of programs designed to assist with the transition into the UNCG community. The Office of Orientation coordinates these programs to meet the needs of traditional, nontraditional, minority, and disabled students. Orientation activities include academic advising and registration for classes along with tours of the campus, informal discussion groups with faculty members, and general information sessions facilitated by upperclass students. French, Latin and Spanish language and mathematics placement tests are given at this time.

Students entering UNCG in the fall semester are invited to participate in a summer program, called Step-Ahead, which occurs the latter part of June and a fall program which takes place a few days prior to the beginning of classes in August. Likewise, orientation programs are planned for students entering in January a few days prior to the onset of classes for the spring semester.

REGISTRATION

Freshman and transfer students register for courses after the completion of their orientation programs. Dates are given in the University Calendar, pp. 2-3.

Former, special, or unclassified students receive registration notices by mail specifying a particular date to report for registration.

Continuing students, those enrolled in UNCG who are returning for another semester of work, may register at the end of one semester for the next semester. The student's registration card must be signed by the student's faculty advisor. Continuing students eligible to register who do not do so, will be required to pay a late registration fee. Registration dates for each semester are published in the University Calendar, pp. 2-3, and in each semester's Schedule of Courses booklet.

ACADEMIC ADVISING AND SUPPORT SERVICES

The Office of Academic Advising and Support Services coordinates academic advising for undergraduate students.

Each student is assigned a faculty advisor. Students are expected to meet with their advisor during registration periods and whenever the student needs advice in selecting courses and assistance in planning an individual program of study. Some departments and schools have established advising centers or appointed coordinators to assist students with academic matters pertinent to their major. These serve as a complement to the faculty advising program.

The Director of the Office of Academic Advising and Support Services is responsible for the monitoring of University Undergraduate academic regulations as described on the following pages. Any student with questions concerning academic regulations should address them to the staff in the Office of Academic Advising and Support Services. If a student, because of extenuating circumstances, wishes to have a regulation set aside, he/she should petition to the Director on an Academic Policy Petition form. These forms may be obtained in the Office of Academic Advising and Support Services, 159 Mossman Building.

A staff of academic advisors is available in the Office of Academic Advising and Support Services from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, to answer questions and to assist students with academic matters beyond the scope of the faculty advisor. Please refer to page 355 for a description of services offered by the office.

OFFICE OF EXTENDED EVENING SERVICES

The Office of Extended Evening Services is administered by the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services. It is also centrally located for student convenience in 159 Mossman Building.

The mission of this office is to extend from 5 to 8 p.m., Monday through Thursday, most of the services provided during the day by Academic Advising, Admissions, Cashier, The Graduate School, and the Registrar's Office. Specific, limited assistance is also provided at night for the Health Center (immunization clearance), Student Affairs, Traffic Records, and Financial Aid.

This "one-stop shopping" service complements the evening degree programs. Since the Fall of 1992 UNCG has offered the complete 45-54 hour All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) at night, as well as six degree programs: English, Psychology, Social Work, Management and Marketing, Nursing (for RNs only), and Accounting.

The Associate Director for Extended Evening Services has authority from all five primary offices to serve evening students' needs. Immediate action can be taken in most situations and follow-up decisions are coordinated to provide quick responses to evening students.

SELECTING COURSES

Course Loads

Undergraduates normally take five courses per semester. Since a majority of courses carry three semester hours of credit with some carrying four hours of credit, a normal course load is 15 or 16 hours per semester. Students may not take more than 19 hours per semester except with the approval of the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services. Students who have cumulative grade point averages of 3.0 may be authorized, in special circumstances and at the discretion of the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services, to carry a maximum of 21 semester hours of course work. The Academic Policy Petition form is used for such requests and can be obtained in 159 Mossman Building.

A student must be enrolled for a minimum of 12 hours to qualify for full-time certification to any organization and to reside in University housing.

Course Levels

Course level numbers are structured as follows:

100-199—intended primarily for freshmen

200-299—intended primarily for sophomores

300-399—intended primarily for juniors

400-499—intended primarily for seniors

500-599—intended for advanced undergraduates and graduate students; these courses are not open to freshmen and sophomores

600-749—registration restricted to students who are classified as graduate students

750-799—registration restricted to students admitted to doctoral programs

Adding Courses

Courses may be added to a student's schedule during a one-week period at the beginning of each semester. After the one-week period has passed, a student desiring to add a course must petition for approval from the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services with support from the instructor of the course. Unusual circumstances must be demonstrated.

Dropping Courses

Withdrawal from a course or courses within the first eight weeks of the semester shall be without penalty and hours shall not be computed as hours attempted.

Withdrawal without penalty from a course or courses after the eight-week deadline but before the end of the semester shall be approved only for appropriate cause as determined by medical, psychological, or administrative reasons. Courses of less than one semester's duration, including summer school courses, shall have shorter deadlines (proportional to the eight-week deadline for the regular semester) for withdrawal. These deadlines are announced in the Schedule of Courses or class syllabi.

The Director of Academic Advising and Support Services shall be responsible for authorizing these withdrawals after consultation with the instructor, and with the Director of the Student Health Center or the Director of the Counseling and Testing Center as appropriate, and shall further be responsible for notifying the instructor(s) and the appropriate Director in writing of the Director of Academic Advising's decision in each case. An instructor whose recommendation to the Director is overruled may appeal that decision to the Provost. Unauthorized withdrawals after the first eight weeks shall be counted as WF and computed in the grade point average.

The grade W indicates that the student either withdrew from the course within the eight-week, no-penalty period or that the student withdrew at a later date for appropriate cause determined by medical, psychological, or administrative reasons.

If a student is enrolled in only one course and drops that course, the student must officially withdraw from the University.

Retroactive Withdrawals (see Retroactive Grade Change on page 32)

Withdrawal from the University

A student wishing to withdraw from the University should follow the official procedure which is initiated in the Office of Academic Advising and Support Services. Withdrawals without penalty for medical or psychological reasons are authorized by the Director of the Student Health Center, the Director of the Counseling and Testing Center, or by the Director of the Office of Academic Advising and Support Services. Withdrawals without penalty for administrative reasons are authorized by the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services. The same policy for assigning W or WF grades as described above shall apply.

AUDITING

Regular full-time students may audit courses upon the written approval of their faculty advisor and the instructor. Auditors must register officially for the class. Attendance, preparation, and participation in the classroom discussion and laboratory exercises shall be at the discretion of the instructor. An auditor is not required to take examinations and tests and receives no credit for the course.

Registration may not be changed from audit to credit or from credit to audit after the one-week add period ends.

Regulations regarding visiting auditors and part-time auditing students are found on pages 24-25. For auditing fees, see pages 25 and 376.

CLASS ATTENDANCE

Regular class attendance is a responsibility and a privilege of university education. It is fundamental to the orderly acquisition of knowledge. Students should recognize the advantages of regular class attendance, accept it as a personal responsibility, and apprise themselves of the consequences of poor attendance. Instructors should stress the importance of these responsibilities to students, set appropriate class attendance policies for their classes, and inform students of their requirements in syllabi and orally at the beginning of each term.

Student's Responsibility

1. Knowledge of each instructor's attendance policy and monitoring his or her class absences throughout the term.
2. Familiarity with all materials covered in each course during absences and make-up of any work required by the instructor.
3. Initiation of requests to make-up work missed because of class absences. The decision to assist the student with make-up work, including tests, rests with the instructor.
4. Follow-up on all notices from the Registrar regarding course enrollment in order to correct registration.

Instructor's Responsibility

1. Setting of reasonable regulations for class attendance as appropriate for class content, organization, methodology, and size.
2. Description of attendance policies in course syllabi and announcement in class, particularly at the beginning of each term.
3. Maintenance of class attendance records of enrolled students as appropriate for the attendance policy.
4. Exaction of penalties for unsatisfactory class attendance. Possible penalties are lowering the course grade, including a grade of F, and, in extreme circumstances, dropping the student from the course.

Appeals

If a student thinks there is a discrepancy between the instructor's exaction of a penalty for unsatisfactory class attendance and the stated policy or that there is an extenuating circumstance that may affect the instructor's decision, then he or she should first make a request to the instructor. If desired, the student may further appeal to the Department Head, the Dean of the School or College, and the Provost, in that order.

GRADING

Final Course Examinations

Students are required to take a final examination, if one is given, on every course for which they are registered. Exceptions hold for seniors in the Honors Program (see Chapter 5).

No final examinations may be given except during the regular examination period of the semester. According to faculty policy, no test which shall be substituted for the final examination can be given between November 25 and the opening of fall examination week. In the spring semester, no such test can be given after April 15.

During the ten calendar days prior to Reading Day in the fall semester and in the spring semester, no hourly tests may be given unless they were announced during the first month of the semester.

Grades

A grade in a course is based on the quality of the student's classroom and written work throughout the semester. It is not based on the final examination alone. A grade report is sent to each student at the end of the semester by the Registrar.

UNCG uses the following grading system:

A-Excellent. A indicates achievement of distinction and excellence in several if not all of the following aspects: 1) completeness and accuracy of knowledge; 2) intelligent use of knowledge; 3) independence of work; 4) originality.

B-Good. B indicates general achievement superior to the acceptable standard defined as C. It involves excellence in some aspects of the work, as indicated in the definition of A.

C-Average. C indicates the acceptable standard for graduation from UNCG. It involves such quality and quantity of work as may fairly be expected of a student of normal ability who gives to the course a reasonable amount of time, effort, and attention.

Such acceptable standards should include the following factors: 1) familiarity with the content of the course; 2) familiarity with the methods of study of the course; 3) full participation in the work of the class; 4) ability to write about the subject in intelligible English.

D-Lowest Passing Grade. D indicates work which falls below the acceptable standards defined as C but which is of sufficient quality and quantity to be counted in the hours of graduation if balanced by superior work in other courses.

F-Failure. F indicates failure that may not be made up except by repeating the course.

I-Incomplete. I indicates that the completion of some part of the work for the course has been deferred because of prolonged illness of the student or because of some serious circumstances beyond the student's control.

Concomitantly with the recording of an Incomplete grade, the instructor files with the head of the school or department concerned, with the Registrar, and with the Office of Academic Advising and Support Services the student's average grade and the specific work which must be accomplished before the Incomplete can be removed. Incomplete grades may be recommended by the University physician, the Counseling and Testing Center, and by the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services.

Removal of Incomplete. An Incomplete may be removed by completion of the deferred work. An Incomplete received during a semester or in summer school must be removed within six months from the last day of examinations in the term in which the course was taken. An Incomplete not removed within this time limit is automatically converted to an F by the Registrar. A graduating senior who incurs an Incomplete and who has enough semester hour credits and grade points to graduate may do so even though the Incomplete grade is outstanding. If the incomplete is not removed within the required six months, it will be converted to F at the end of that period of time. When an Incomplete is removed, it may be replaced by A, B, C, D, F, or, in certain designated courses, P, NP, S or U.

S/U - Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory (designated courses only)

P/NP - Passing/Not Passing (designated courses only)

W - Withdrawal

WF - Withdrawal with Failure

WN - Withdrawal Not Passing (in a course graded P/NP)

NC - Audit-No credit given (student registered for course as an auditor.)

Appeals

If a student wishes to appeal an assigned grade, the student should first discuss the concerns with the instructor. If desired, the student may further appeal to the Department Head, the Dean of the School or College, and the Provost, in that order.

Semester Hour Credits

Credits for all courses are reported in semester hours. A semester hour credit equals one 50-minute class period per week or its equivalent throughout one semester. The number of semester hour credits given for each course is listed as part of the course description.

Except for independent study or where specific provision is made in the course description, no student may repeat for credit a course for which the student has earned credit. If a student repeats such a course, the grade will be recorded on the transcript, but no additional credit will be allowed toward graduation. Quality points are calculated into the cumulative grade point average for the first two attempts if the second grade is not an "F". For further information, see below for the Course Repeat Policy.

Grade Points And Grade Point Averages

UNCG uses a semester hour credit and grade point system for evaluating undergraduates. Semester hour credits represent the number of course hours completed. Grade points are determined by the number of semester hour credits attempted and the grades earned.

The formula for calculating grade points follows: For each hour of A, 4 grade points; of B, 3 grade points; of C, 2 grade points; of D, 1 grade point; of F or WF, no grade points. Effective Fall 1991, plus and minus grades can be assigned for undergraduates, but do not affect the GPA.

The grade point average is determined by dividing the accumulated number of grade points earned by the accumulated number of semester hours undertaken. Hours attempted but not passed must be included in this calculation. However, a second F or WF in the same course is not used in computing the grade point average. Courses graded on the P/NP or S/U basis and courses transferred from another institution (except those courses taken through the Consortium) may not be used in determining the UNCG grade point average. MAT 100 does not count toward graduation and therefore is not calculated in a student's GPA.

Repeated Courses/Grade Forgiveness

Commencing with the Fall Semester 1992, UNCG undergraduates are allowed to benefit from retaking a UNCG course because "quality points will be calculated as the average of the first two attempts". The new policy is stated below:

Except for courses with specific provision in the course description for repeated credit, a course may be repeated for a better grade. Such course is subject to the following regulations: (1) credit hours for the course will count only one time in the total hours for the degree, and (2) quality points will be calculated as the average of the first two attempts.

It is important to note that the second "F" or "WF" policy stated above takes precedence over this policy. The repeated grade must be a "D" or above before it is calculated as the second attempt and averaged into the grade point average.

Some undergraduate courses at UNCG are only offered on a Pass/Not Pass basis, such as Spanish 101B and French 101B. Grade forgiveness of SPA 101A or FRE 101A through repetition of the course is therefore not possible because of the P/NP policy and departmental restrictions. Course descriptions in this Bulletin will identify courses which are graded on a P/NP basis, and which therefore cannot be repeated for a letter grade.

Dean's List

Undergraduate students carrying 6 or more semester hours of course work graded on an A, B, C, D, or F basis are eligible for the Dean's List.

Students who earn a grade point average of 3.5 or better and who have no grade below "C" for the semester will be placed on the Dean's List. The list is compiled at the end of each semester or when a grade change is processed after a semester for all students whose grade point average falls within the range at the time the report is prepared.

Recognition is accorded the recipients of this honor.

Classification of Students

Undergraduate students are classified as freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors. These classifications are determined by the number of semester hours completed.

Sophomore: Completion of 24 semester hours.

Junior: Completion of 51 semester hours.

Senior: Completion of 84 semester hours.

Retroactive Grade Change

A retroactive grade change is a change in an officially recorded grade. A grade becomes officially recorded when the Registrar so stipulates. Except to correct clerical errors, a retroactive grade change is an extraordinary action and is granted only in the most compelling circumstances. No change may occur unless the instructor who gave the grade initiates the formal process of a retroactive grade change. The change must also be approved by the instructor's department head and by the instructor's dean. In the event that the instructor is, for practical purposes, unavailable, only the Academic Appeals Committee of the Faculty Senate may act in place of the instructor in the matter of a retroactive grade change.

A retroactive grade change to a 'W' must meet the preceding conditions and be approved by the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services. In addition, an instructor who is being asked by a student to consider a retroactive withdrawal must be informed by Academic Advising and Support Services of how many courses were completed and how many requests for retroactive 'W' are being sought by the student for the semester in question.

CONTINUING AT UNCG

To continue in academic good standing at UNCG, students who have completed all of their work at UNCG must meet the cumulative grade point average presented in the table below. Transfer students must add the semester hours accepted in transfer to the hours attempted at UNCG to determine the cumulative grade point average necessary.

In addition, to meet graduation requirements, a student must present a minimum of 122 semester hours with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.00. No more than 168 hours may be attempted toward an undergraduate degree.

Some departments or schools at UNCG require a cumulative grade point average higher than 2.0 for admission to or continuance in a major program.

Academic Probation

A student whose cumulative grade point average is below that required is placed on academic probation. Failure to restore the required grade point average in one semester will result in academic suspension. Summer School enrollment may be used as an additional opportunity to regain academic good standing.

Students are expected to be aware at all times of their academic status and to be responsible for knowing whether or not they are on academic probation.

Removal of Academic Suspension

After at least one semester of academic suspension for failure to meet the minimum grade point average, a student may apply for readmission. (Summer School is not considered a semester for removal of academic suspension purposes.) If readmitted, the student will be placed on academic probation. Failure to meet the terms of this new academic probation period in one semester will again result in academic suspension.

UNCG reserves the right to deny enrollment of any student, even though the student has met the minimum grade point average required, if it is apparent from the student's academic record of required courses that the student will not be able to meet the graduation requirements.

Academic Appeals

The Director of Academic Advising and Support Services and the Academic Appeals Committee, appointed from the faculty, consider special and meritorious requests for waivers of academic regulations stated in the UNCG catalog. The student should consult the Office of Academic Advising and Support Services for information concerning the appeal process.

CREDIT REGULATIONS

Summer Session Credits

Approval to be a visiting student at another college and to have the credits transferred to UNCG for degree credits must be obtained from the Office of Academic Advising and Support Services.

Students may enroll for no more than 14 semester hours during the entire Summer Session (two terms) unless permitted to take an increased load by the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services. Students will normally not be permitted to enroll for more than one semester hour of credit per week.

Transfer Credit

No more than 64 semester hours may be accepted in transfer from two-year institutions. Current UNCG policy stipulates that courses completed in technical, vocational, or professional programs at community colleges or courses from technical colleges or proprietary institutions cannot be accepted in transfer, unless they are part of an 2 + 2 Articulation Agreement. These agreements give students with articulated Associate in Applied Science degrees access only to complementary degrees at UNCG.

Extension or Correspondence Credit

Extension Credit. UNCG extension credit, earned either on or off campus, will be considered transfer credit for admission purposes. Up to 64 semester hours in extension and/or correspondence credits may be applied to completion of work for an undergraduate degree. Academic departments may establish such course and credit limitations in acceptance of extension credit as may be required by specific degree programs.

Although UNCG extension credit is treated as transfer credit at the time of admission, it will be thereafter considered "Residence" credit for degree certification purposes. The grades and quality points are calculated in the UNCG grade point average.

Correspondence Credit. Up to 64 semester hours in correspondence and extension credit may be applied to the completion of work for an undergraduate degree with the further stipulation that not more than one-fourth of the requirements for the degree may be completed in correspondence credit. Academic departments may establish such course and credit limitations in acceptance of correspondence credit as may be required by specific degree programs.

Although UNCG correspondence credit is treated as transfer credit at the time of admission, it will be thereafter considered "Residence" credit for degree certification purposes. The grades and quality points are calculated in the UNCG grade point average.

Correspondence credit earned from institutions other than UNCG is always treated as transfer credit. It will have no impact on the UNCG grade point average. Only hours will be applied toward the UNCG degree.

PLACEMENT EXAMINATIONS

Placement tests are given every summer during orientation (STEP AHEAD) and every semester during the advising and registration period. They are administered by the departments concerned. Students should check the course schedule booklet each semester for the exact dates and times during which the tests will be administered.

The results of placement tests on French, Latin, and Spanish are binding for student placement in courses. Students may enroll in mathematics courses at the level at which they place or in lower level courses. Students will not receive credit nor will they be exempt from University distribution requirements based on their performance on the tests.

French, Latin, and Spanish Placement Tests

Students who started French, Latin, or Spanish in secondary school and who are beginning their study of that language at UNCG must take a placement test. All transfer students returning to the study of French, Latin, or Spanish begun in high school but not previously pursued at the college level must also take the placement test. Students admitted with a two-unit language deficiency need not take the test. Students who are transferring credits in these languages from another college need not take the test in order to continue the same language at UNCG.

Mathematics Placement Tests

Placement tests in mathematics are mandatory for all freshman students and for all upperclass students who wish to take a college-level math course for the first time.

Placement Without Credit

Students with exceptional ability are encouraged to take examinations for placement without credit in order that they may take advantage of opportunities for advanced courses and for individual research or other creative endeavors.

Examinations for placement without credit will be administered by the departments or schools concerned. It is recommended that departments or schools make available to interested students reading lists and other source material which might assist the students in preparing for the examination.

Passing an examination of this type will not alter the number of hours required in that area or subject. Successful completion of an examination for placement at the 100 level in the student's major field shall have the effect of increasing the number of hours accepted toward graduation above the 100 level by the number of hours so waived.

In all cases where requirements of prerequisites are waived, by placement examination or other means, this fact should be reported in writing by the appropriate department head to the Office of Academic Advising and Support Services and should be entered on the student's record.

Examinations for Credit

In exceptional circumstances, students may attempt to establish academic credit through a special examination upon the recommendation of the department or school and under the supervision of the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services.

Only those courses which are designated by the department or school may be credited by special examination. The department or school shall administer a written examination, except in cases where mastery of techniques may be demonstrated in other formats. Applications for the exam shall be made to the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services with the written permission of the head of the department or school, at least 30 days before the examination. A non-refundable fee will be charged, payable after the application has been approved.

Examinations must be taken before the last semester or 12-week summer session preceding the completion of the student's degree requirements. Students may not be tested in material for which they received high school credit, and transfer students may not extend the number of hours allowed in transfer by this method. Credit will not be given for a prerequisite to a course for which the student has already received credit. No examination may be given in a course for which the student has registered for audit.

No more than 12 semester hours may be earned toward graduation by this procedure. The School of Nursing has a special exemption to present 30 semester hours in Nursing Exams (see School of Nursing). Credits earned in this manner may not be used to fulfill residency requirements.

A student must consult in advance with the faculty advisor and with the head of the department or school concerned and file evidence of having prepared for the exam. Assistance should be given to the student in developing reading lists and other source material.

Results of all examinations shall be reported to the Registrar before the first day of the next registration period. Credit, but no grade points, will be granted when the level of performance is C or better.

GRADUATION

At the beginning of the semester or summer session in which graduation is expected, students must officially apply for graduation to the Registrar. Fulfillment of all requirements for the degree applied for as well as official application for the degree are the student's responsibilities.

Academic Requirements

Candidates for a degree must satisfy all of the specific requirements of UNCG and of the School/College and department in which they major. They must present for graduation the specific number of hours required for the degree with a minimum cumulative overall grade point average of at least 2.0 on all hours undertaken.

At least 36 of the total semester hours for the degree must be at the 300-level or above.

Residence Requirements

All students are expected to take their last year in residence at UNCG, except those students in programs offered in cooperation with another institution and approved by the faculty. With the approval of the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services, students may take 15 of their last 60 hours at another approved institution.

All students must complete at least 30 semester hours in residence at UNCG for the degree, 12 of which must be in the major field and 9 of which must be in the minor if a minor is sought. After enrollment, Extension credit and Correspondence courses offered by UNCG are considered residence credit. However, credit earned by special examination is not considered residence credit.

Time Requirements

Students must meet the University/College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements for graduation as stated in the UNCG Undergraduate Bulletin for the year they entered, or any subsequent year while they are enrolled.

Students must complete all degree requirements within seven years or must meet more current ones. The seven year catalog life applies to the University/College Liberal Education Requirements. Deans, however, reserve the authority to require that students meet the departmental requirements in force when the student declares or is formally admitted to a School/College major.

Application for Graduation

All undergraduate students are required to file an application for graduation in the Registrar's Office at the beginning of the semester in which they plan to graduate. This application is required for processing the final degree audit and for ordering diplomas. The deadline dates for filing are published each year in the University Calendar and in each semester's Schedule of Courses booklet. The deadline dates for undergraduates filing for the 1993-94 academic year are:

- Thursday, October 1, 1993 for those graduating in December 1993
- Friday, January 21, 1994 for those graduating in May 1994
- Wednesday, July 6, 1994 for those graduating in Summer (August) 1994

Undergraduates who do not file applications for graduation by the published deadlines may petition to the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services for an exemption. However, only extremely unusual circumstances warrant exceptions to these deadlines as notification of the candidates for graduation must be submitted to the Board of Trustees for official action shortly after the deadline dates for filing each term.

Graduation with Honors

The designation of graduation with honors is based on all courses (including the last semester's work) for which grades and grade points are given. Any senior is eligible for honors who at the end of the senior year has completed at least 45 hours of work in residence at UNCG. This does not include hours for which credit and grade points have been received by special examinations.

Honors are awarded to graduating seniors as follows:

Summa cum laude (with highest honor)

- achievement of a minimum grade point average of 3.90

Magna cum laude (with great honor)

- achievement of a minimum grade point average of 3.70

Cum laude (with honor)

- achievement of a minimum grade point average of 3.50

Commencement Participation Policy

Students completing all degree requirements by the end of the spring semester are encouraged to participate in May Commencement. Students completing degree requirements by the end of the Summer Session or by the end of the fall semester are encouraged to participate in the December Convocation and/or the following May Commencement.

Only those students whose degree requirements are completed by the end of the spring semester are authorized to participate in the May Commencement ceremony.

Students who do not apply for May graduation before the published deadline, or who do not complete degree requirements before the date designated in the University Calendar for final clearance, may apply for graduation in August or December and may participate in the December Convocation and/or the following May Commencement.

Degrees are conferred only after all requirements are completed and the Board of Trustees has taken official action.

OTHER REGULATIONS

Dual Registration: Undergraduate and Graduate

Any senior who is required to take less than 12 semester hours of work in the last semester of residence to fulfill all requirements for the bachelor's degree may register for graduate courses for graduate credit provided approval is granted by the Graduate Office, the student's faculty advisor, and the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services. The total load may not exceed 12 hours including undergraduate credit.

Students should be advised that approval for dual registration does not guarantee nor constitute acceptance into any graduate program.

Students must apply for admission to a graduate program before requests for dual registration can be approved, but do not have to be formally admitted until the end of the semester in which credit is earned.

Requirements for a Second Baccalaureate Degree

A student with a bachelor's degree may receive a second baccalaureate degree if it is a different degree or a different major. In such a case, all the requirements for the second degree and major as stated in the catalog which the student is entitled to follow must be met. In any case, a minimum of 30 hours in residence beyond requirements for the first degree must be completed.

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS

UNCG offers six undergraduate degrees:

BA	Bachelor of Arts
BFA	Bachelor of Fine Arts
BM	Bachelor of Music
BS	Bachelor of Science
BSMT	Bachelor of Science in Medical Technology
BSN	Bachelor of Science in Nursing

A bachelor's degree from UNCG is awarded to a student who has met the following requirements:

1. Successful completion of a minimum of 122 semester hours, distributed as follows:

a. Liberal education	45	semester hours (minimum)
b. Major subject and related areas	60	semester hours (maximum)
c. Electives	17	semester hours (minimum)
2. A grade point average on the hours attempted of not less than 2.0
3. At least 36 semester hours of courses at the 300 level or above.
4. Residence at UNCG for the last 30 semester hours

The College of Arts and Sciences and each of the six professional schools — Joseph M. Bryan School of Business and Economics; Education; Health and Human Performance; Human Environmental Sciences; Music; Nursing — have structured their individual degree programs to comply with this all-University degree framework.

Students who are undecided about their major are considered to be enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences and should follow the College requirements (see pp. 50-52). Satisfying these requirements permits a student to pursue a major either in Arts and Sciences or in one of the professional schools.

Studies leading to the baccalaureate degree are offered in the programs listed on the following pages.

ALL-UNIVERSITY LIBERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS (AULER)

New All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) were approved by the Faculty Senate in April 1988. Undergraduates who began their college careers in Fall 1991 were the first group of students to meet these requirements.

Forty-five semester hours of course work comprise a minimal core of fundamental knowledge and intellectual skills which the faculty at UNCG believe all university-educated persons should possess. These hours are organized into the areas described on the following page.

Courses satisfying these requirements have been approved by the appropriate University Instructional Area committee, the College Undergraduate Studies Committee (College of Arts and Sciences), the College Council of the College of Arts and Sciences and the Undergraduate Curriculum Committee. Each committee has reviewed from a different perspective the courses proposed. Guidelines followed in the selection process included: selecting only those courses considered to be fundamental, basic, and central to the instructional category; keeping the number of courses in each category as small as possible, emphasizing breadth of coverage rather than depth of examination; and, preferring courses open to freshmen and sophomores that have no prerequisites.

All degree programs have AULER requirements. With few exceptions, the full 45 semester hours are required. Certain professional programs have been permitted to reduce slightly the number of AULER credits required in order to meet accreditation or licensing standards. The details are clearly shown in the descriptions of these special professional programs. In addition, programs in the College of Arts and Sciences may exceed the requirements in several categories. These differences are noted in the appropriate description of College/School requirements for a particular program.

The list of courses which satisfy AULER may be modified from time to time. The student's advisor is an additional source of information on the status of courses meeting the requirements.

All-University Liberal Education Requirements by Areas	Semester Hours
1. Analytic and Evaluative Studies A study of abstract systems of thought and evaluative concepts fundamental to intellectual inquiry and values: includes ethics, metaphysics, epistemology, historiography, religious thought and traditions, and cultural anthropology.	3
2. British or American Literature A study of selected major works of prose and poetry written in Britain or the United States.	3
3. Fine Arts A study of how ideas and feelings are shaped into artistic form in the visual arts, theatre, cinema, dance, or music.	3
4. Historical Perspectives on Western Culture A study from an historical point of view of formative periods in Western culture, looking at fundamental ideas, institutions, philosophical traditions, or literary and artistic masterpieces.	3
5. Mathematics A study of major concepts, theories, methods, and applications of the mathematical sciences.	3
6. Natural Science A study of basic physical or biological sciences with attention to the methods of scientific investigation.	6
7. Non-Western Studies A study of fundamental cultural forms, expression, socio-political structures, and habits of mind that are distinctly different from Western cultural traditions.	3
8. Reasoning and Discourse Training in reasoning well, reading critically, writing cogently, or speaking persuasively.	6
9. Social and Behavioral Sciences A study of individuals, society, and human institutions and systems with an emphasis on the effect of social and environmental factors on individual experiences and behavior, and on the structures and mechanisms of societies.	6
10. World Literature A study of selected major works of prose and poetry written outside of Britain and the United States.	3
11. Electives Six additional hours in a foreign language* at any level or from any of the areas specified above.	6
Total Semester Hours Required by AULER	45

As of the date of this publication, the following courses have been selected to satisfy the requirement in the areas designated. The appropriate distribution designation (AE, BL, FA, HP, MT, NS, NW, RD, SB, WL) also appears after the description of courses in the respective departments.

* NOTE: Students are reminded that they will be eligible for election to the UNCG chapter of Phi Beta Kappa only if they have completed the equivalent of six semester hours of foreign language study at the intermediate college level.

Six additional hours from any of the areas specified above or in a foreign language at any level.

TOTAL SEMESTER HOURS

Additional degree requirements have been established by the College of Arts and Sciences. Students who are undecided as to a major as well as those majoring in anthropology, art, biology, chemistry, communication and theatre, English, French, geography, German, Greek, history, interdisciplinary studies, Latin, mathematics, medical technology, philosophy, physics, political science, psychology, religious studies, sociology, and Spanish are affected by these requirements. For these students the liberal education requirements total 54-55 hours, and are described in detail on pages 50-52. Students who satisfy the College requirements will also satisfy the All-University requirements.

Major Requirements

Each school or department establishes the course requirements for each major program, concentrations within a major, and related-area requirements.

Special Curriculum Option (Plan II)

For students whose needs are not met by the formal majors and degrees offered at UNCG, a special curriculum option—called Plan II—allows students to design their own courses of study in consultation with appropriate faculty.

Students desiring to pursue Plan II should be advised that there is no guarantee that their proposed program will lead to graduation until it has been fully approved. Developing a program is a time consuming process, often taking one year from initial intent to final approval. Students must file a statement of intent to pursue Plan II in the Office of Academic Advising and Support Services prior to registering for their last 45 hours. Required steps have been adopted by the Undergraduate Curriculum Committee for approving Plan II programs. The following is an abbreviated description of the procedures that should be followed:

1. Consult with the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services regarding general requirements and procedures. All general University requirements must be met by any Plan II program.
2. Select a faculty advisor with expertise in the interdisciplinary major.
3. Select another member of the faculty to serve on an advisory committee.
4. Develop a formal proposal with the committee.
5. Have the proposal approved by a representative of the Undergraduate Curriculum Committee.

Minor modifications to an approved Plan II program may be made if approved by both the faculty advisor and the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services. Other modifications require the full process outlined.

GUIDE TO COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

In the following pages, the academic programs and course offerings of the University are set forth. Unless a notation appears in the course description to the contrary, the course is usually offered each year.

Regularly scheduled undergraduate classes for which fewer than ten students enroll (or graduate classes for which fewer than five students enroll) will be offered only with special approval of the Provost. If enrollment does not justify continuation of a class, the class may not be offered.

Each course description is represented by a three-letter symbol (indicating the department or program within which the course is taken) and a three-digit number. After each course title are two (or three) numbers separated by colons which indicate credit, class, and laboratory hours. Letters which follow the course description indicate which requirements the course satisfies. All these symbols are explained on page 49 under "Hours".

Course Numbers and Levels

Courses numbered 100-199 are primarily for freshmen and sophomores; 200-299, primarily for sophomores; 300-399, primarily for juniors and seniors; 400-499, open to seniors; 500-599, open only to advanced undergraduate students (juniors and seniors) and graduate students; 600-749, open only to graduate students; 750-799, open only to doctoral candidates. Course descriptions for graduate-level courses are printed in the Graduate School Catalog.

Course Credit Hours

The first of the figures enclosed in parentheses immediately following the course title indicates the number of semester hour credits given for the course. The second and third figures indicate the number of lecture and laboratory hours, respectively, normally scheduled each week or one semester in the course. For example, (3:2:3) means the course carries three semester hour credits and meets for two lecture hours and three laboratory hours each week. A class period is 50 minutes. Graduate courses and certain other courses may have only one figure enclosed in parentheses. For such courses the figure indicates the number of semester hours credit given. When only one or two figures appear in the parentheses, there are no laboratory or studio hour requirements.

Two course numbers separated by a comma indicate a sequence of two courses with closely related content.

Course Prerequisites

Prerequisites for a course are indicated in the course description by "Pr." followed by appropriate requirements which must be met before that course may be taken.

Courses approved to satisfy the liberal education requirements in the College of Arts and Sciences are indicated by one of the above abbreviations in brackets at the end of the course description: CAE - Analytic and Evaluative Studies; CBL - British or American Literature; CFA - Fine Arts; CFL - Foreign Language; CHP/CPM - Historical Perspectives on Western Culture, Pre-Modern; CHP/CMO - Historical Perspectives on Western Culture, Modern; CLS - Life Science; CMT - Mathematics; CNW - Nonwestern Studies; CPS - Physical Science; CRD - Reasoning and Discourse; CSB - Social and Behavioral Sciences; CWL - World Literature.

Changes in Degree Requirements and Other Regulations

The University reserves the right to make changes as required in course offerings, curricula, academic policies and other rules and regulations affecting students, to be effective whenever determined by the University. These changes will govern current and formerly enrolled students. Enrollment of all students is subject to these conditions.

THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Walter H. Beale, Professor and Dean of the College

Timothy D. Johnston, Professor and Associate Dean

Susan C. Shelmerdine, Associate Professor and Associate Dean

Sheila Schurer, Assistant to the Dean

The College of Arts and Sciences is composed of the departments of Anthropology, Art, Biology, Chemistry, Classical Studies, Communication and Theatre, English, Geography, German and Russian, History, Mathematics, Philosophy, Physics and Astronomy, Political Science, Psychology, Religious Studies, Romance Languages, and Sociology. It also includes the Residential College and the Center for Critical Inquiry in the Liberal Arts, which sponsors such cross-disciplinary programs as Special Programs in Liberal Studies, the Honors Program, Freshman Seminars, and the Master of Arts in Liberal Studies Program. The basic undergraduate degree of the College is the Bachelor of Arts, traditionally a liberal arts degree. While other degrees offered by the College (Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Science in Medical Technology, and Bachelor of Fine Arts) contain professional and technical studies, they are primarily programs in the liberal arts.

Through its faculty, courses, and programs, the College of Arts and Sciences encourages intellectual inquiry and development of the knowledge and skills that enable critical examination of traditions and assumptions. A liberal education prepares students for informed and reflective participation in society, for sustained cultural and aesthetic enjoyment, and for a lifetime of learning.

Freedom and self-motivation in the context of a rational plan of disciplined study are fundamental to a liberal arts education. Students are encouraged to seek relationships among the various subjects studied and to develop a coherent intellectual perspective. To aid in this process, the College requirements build upon the All University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) (see p. 44).

COLLEGE REQUIREMENTS

Included in the list below are the College requirements that differ from AULER along with the designated courses that meet those requirements.

1. Writing-Intensive Courses

To emphasize the importance of writing both as an essential skill and as a tool for learning, the College requires students to take four Writing-Intensive courses.

- a. At least one of the four Writing-Intensive courses must be in the lower division (200 and below), at least one in the upper division (300 and above), and the College recommends at least one in the student's major.
- b. Students transferring to UNCG as sophomores are required to take three Writing-Intensive courses, distributed as in 1-a above. Students transferring to UNCG as juniors are required to take two Writing-Intensive courses.

NOTE: Writing-Intensive courses may also meet AULER, College, or major requirements.

Students who obtain a score of 5 on the English Advanced Placement Literature and Composition examination are exempted from one of the required lower-division writing-intensive courses. Contact the Department of English for further information.

The Writing-Intensive courses offered each semester are designated "W" in the printed semester Schedule of Courses.

Native speakers of foreign languages who wish to satisfy the college Foreign Language requirement should contact the College Office, 105 Foust Building, for a list of designated courses and information on equivalent proficiencies before planning their academic program. Such students may satisfy the requirement in either of the following ways:

¹Honors Program courses; see pp. 318-320 for details and requirements.

- A. Establishing intermediate level proficiency through testing or coursework in an approved non-native language other than English:
- B. Completing a minimum of four designated English courses (or equivalent)

Students with disabilities (deafness, communication disability, etc.) that affect completion of the foreign language requirement in the usual way, should consult with Disabled Students Services, 157 Elliott University Center, in the first year of their academic program. After a disability is officially documented through that office, the student should contact the College Office, 105 Foust Building, for information on alternative ways to complete the requirement.

All students in the College must fulfill the foregoing College Requirements. A course in the major may be used to satisfy College liberal education requirements.

Requirements for each of the degrees offered by the College of Arts and Sciences are included in the descriptions of majors, concentrations, and minors under the respective departments.

Major Requirements

Candidates for the bachelor's degree may count a maximum of 60 semester hours in the major subject and related areas toward the degree. A course cross-listed in the major department must be taken within the major and counts toward the total hours in the major.

Minor Requirements

Most departments and interdepartmental programs of the College offer a minor program which may be taken in conjunction with a major. In general, a minor requires 15 to 21 hours in a department or area with no more than 8 hours at the 100 level and no fewer than 9 hours taken at UNCG.

Second Majors

A student may take a second major in conjunction with the first major. This program requires a minimum of 24 semester hours in each of two approved majors. All requirements of each major must be met; hours from the second major can be applied toward the University-wide distribution requirements (AULER). A student with a first major outside the College who chooses a second major in one of the College departments is required to complete all of the departmental requirements for the second major but need not satisfy the College liberal education requirements. In the case of transfer students, at least 12 hours in each major must be taken at UNCG. Students wishing to complete a second major should contact the Office of the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services so that an advisor can be appointed in each major.

DEPARTMENT OF ANTHROPOLOGY

426 Graham Building

Willie L. Baber, Professor and Head of DepartmentProfessors Bartel, Fitzgerald, Helms, Mountjoy; Assistant Professors Coleman, McIrvin, Sandford; Lecturers Bogden, Bruner

Anthropology is a broad discipline which includes physical anthropology — the study of humans as biological animals; cultural anthropology — the study of humankind in a cultural perspective; archaeology — the recovery and interpretation of ancient human biological and cultural remains; and linguistics — the study of language in culture and society.

The undergraduate major provides extensive training in all four areas. Non-western societies are studied both as a way of understanding our own society and as a laboratory by which the dynamics of culture and its constituent parts can be comprehended. The biological and cultural evolution of humans is explored through investigation of ancient remains and comparisons with our closest animal relatives - the primates.

Careers in anthropology depend in great measure upon training beyond the B.A. degree. Most anthropologists are employed in universities and colleges where they combine research and teaching. There is, however, a growing demand for anthropologists in government agencies and business. In such settings, the knowledge which they have can be applied to the solution of human problems.

A number of anthropology courses carry both All-University (AULER) Area credit and College of Arts and Sciences (CLER) credit as outlined below.

ATY 213 and 360	Analytic and Evaluative Studies (AE and CAE)
ATY 253 and 331	Natural Science (NS) and Life Science (CLS)
ATY 100, 325, 330, 333, 335, 337, 345	Non-Western Studies (NW and CNW)
ATY 201, 212, and 258	Social and Behavioral Science (SB and CSB)

Two courses (ATY 385 and 387) may be used by students with a hearing impairment or communication disability to satisfy the College foreign language requirement.

ANTHROPOLOGY MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Required: 122 semester hours

The Anthropology Major provides training in human biological, social and behavioral science within the broader framework of a liberal arts education. The program presents a holistic view of the nature of humans in society, past and present, through courses in linguistics, prehistory, biological anthropology, and cultural anthropology. It provides a solid foundation for both a basic liberal arts education and more specialized advanced study.

Majors who are interested in obtaining certification to teach social studies in North Carolina secondary schools through their anthropology program should consult their department advisor. Also see the Teacher Certification in Social Studies section of this catalog (p. 347).

Departmental courses are offered within a four-semester sequence to facilitate students meeting requirements for the major within a two-year period. Copies of the course sequence are available in the department office. Students should, however, begin to schedule required courses for the major at the earliest opportunity, preferably prior to the junior year.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

24-60 semester hours in anthropology above the 100 level to include the following courses:

1. ATY 213, 253, 360, 387, 411
2. Six additional hours above the 300 level
3. Electives to complete the degree requirements

Related Area Requirements

Courses according to interest and in consultation with major advisor. Selected courses in the following disciplines are particularly recommended for anthropology majors: classical studies, geography, history, philosophy, religious studies, sociology, biology, psychology, communications.

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete the 122 semester hours required for degree.

ANTHROPOLOGY MINOR

A minimum of 15 semester hours in anthropology selected from the following courses:

ATY 212, 213, 253, 360, 387, 411.

ANTHROPOLOGY COURSES (ATY)

For Undergraduates

- 100 Contemporary Non-Western Cultures (3:3). A survey of contemporary non-Western societies which emphasizes their distinctive cultural characteristics and how these relate to changes taking place in the world today. Freshmen only. [NW, CNW].
- 201 Man in Nature (3:3). Anthropology's answers to the question, "What is Man?" A basic understanding of the human condition, i.e., man and his place in nature. Anthropology and human problems. [SB, CSB].
- 212 General Anthropology (3:3). Survey of general anthropology. Includes an inquiry into human origins, prehistory and comparative study of culture. Open to freshmen. [SB, CSB].
- 213 Cultural Anthropology (3:3). "Cultural anthropology" attempts to stimulate interest in basic questions about human nature and human adaptation, including major theoretical approaches, the nature of field work, and an examination of selected topics. [AE, CAE].
- 253 Introduction to Physical Anthropology (3:2:3). Study of human biological variation and evolution; includes contrasting non-human primate traits, fossil man, population genetics of racial formation, individual growth and development and human engineering. [NS, CLS].
- 258 World Prehistory (3:3). Development of culture from its paleolithic beginnings through the rise of early civilizations. [SB, CSB].

- 325 Race and Culture Contact in the Caribbean (3:3). Types of social systems and cultural patterns in the West Indies arising from relations between Europeans, West Africans, and Asians, with implications for development, social change and identity. [NW, CNW].
- 330 Cultures of North American Indians (3:3). Ways of life, both aboriginal and contemporary, of indigenous people of North America. [NW, CNW].
- 331 Human Variation (3:3). Physical differences within and between human populations: their source and effect. [NS, CLS].
- 333 Latin American Societies and Cultures (3:3). Tribal and peasant groups with special emphasis on their place in contemporary Latin America. [NW, CNW].
- 335 Cultures of Africa (3:3). Study of the peoples of Africa emphasizing family organization, religion, political organization, languages and urbanism. Includes a study of African novelists. [NW, CNW].
- 337 Cultures of the Pacific (3:3). Ethnographic study of Pacific cultures, focusing on language, physical characteristics, psychology and culture contact. [NW, CNW].
- 345 Comparative Political Systems in the Non-Western World (3:3). Investigation of political systems in nonindustrial and non-Western societies. Emphasis on leadership and the political control of demographic, economic and ideological factors in native societies of the Americas, Africa and Asia. [NW, CNW].
- 348 Man and the Future (3:3). Role of anthropology in understanding human problems of today and tomorrow. Emphasis on the sociocultural dimension of human problems and their solutions.
- 357 Monkeys, Apes, and Humans (3:3). An overview of primatology — the study of prosimians, monkeys, apes, and humans. Involves in-depth study of selected primates as well as discussion of major theoretical issues and ways in which the study of nonhuman primate behavior helps illuminate human evolutionary history.
- 360 Modern Archaeology (3:3). Analysis and evaluation of methods, theories and concepts necessary for recovery and interpretation of cultural information about past societies relevant for anthropological goals. Includes issues of historiography, epistemology and ethics. [AE, CAE].
- 362 Archaeology of the Eastern United States (3:3). Investigation of Indian cultural development in the United States from the Mississippi River Basin to the Atlantic Coast, from earliest evidence to the European Contact Period, with special emphasis on the context of the East in the archaeology of North America and North Carolina as a part of the East. Involves some field trips and/or laboratory experience.
- 385 Language and Culture (3:3). A survey of verbal and nonverbal behavior cross-culturally. Emphasis on the use of language in the speech community, gestures, body languages, expressive behavior, verbal art and language learning.
- 387 Modern Linguistics (3:3). Systematic investigation of the general properties of language, the universal properties found in all languages, and the specific properties of the grammars of individual languages. Includes linguistic differences found in selected dialects of American English.
- 411 History of Anthropological Theory (3:3). Developments in history of anthropology and study of culture leading to the emergence of anthropology as a scientific field.
- 477 Field Methods in Cultural Anthropology (3:3). Review and discussion of major methodological principles and techniques used in anthropology.
- 478 Field Methods in Archaeology (3:3). Methods, techniques and theories of archaeological field investigation. Includes site survey, mapping, systematic sampling and controlled excavation. Pr. consent of instructor.
- 479 Analysis of Archaeological Data (3:3). Instruction on proper treatment of material recovered through archaeological investigation. Includes classification, statistical manipulation of data, seriation, and analysis of spatial and temporal dimensions. Attention to special analytical techniques (e.g., C14 dating, chemical analysis, faunal analysis) with stress on ecological interpretation. Pr. consent of instructor.

- 493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p. 320).
- 497, 498 Special Problems in Anthropology (1 to 3), (1 to 3). Opportunity for students to have directed instruction on problems of special interest. Pr. consent of faculty member with whom student wishes to work.
- For Advanced Undergraduates and Graduate Students*
- 501, 502 Selected Topics in Anthropology (3:3), (3:3). Opportunity for advanced students to study in depth topic or issue of special interest. Pr. major in anthropology or consent of instructor.
- 520 Economic Anthropology (3:3). An analysis of the economic organization of tribal and peasant peoples with special attention given to their participation in a world economy; emphasis is on economic models of social change. Pr. 212, 213, or 3 hours of social science.
- 524 Applied Anthropology (3:3). Application of anthropological method and theory in situations of directed sociocultural change.
- 529 Culture Change (3:3). Development of culture and analysis of acculturation stemming from contacts of peoples of different cultural heritages.
- 531 Latin American Culture (3:3). Development of Latin American culture, its characteristics, variations, and significance. Directed especially toward present and future teachers. Not open for credit to graduate students in anthropology.
- 533 Archaeology of Mexico (3:3). Major prehispanic cultural developments in Mexico with emphasis on internal cultural change (from early man to rise of great civilizations such as Aztec and Maya) and relationships with adjacent areas. Pr. consent of instructor.
- 543 Anthropological Perspectives on Homosexuality (3:3). Critical examination of sociocultural dimensions of homosexuality in both nonindustrial and industrial societies, with concentration on American culture.
- 547 Belief and Value Systems (3:3). Examination of sacred and secular beliefs in cross-cultural perspective. Emphasis on symbols, ritual, and their functions.
- 550 Anthropological Examination of Sex Roles (3:3). Nature and variations in sex roles, emphasizing female roles. Biological and sociocultural determinants of role differences.
- 553 Human Identification (3:2:3). Anthropological study of aspects of the human body that includes identification of individual bone and fragments, sex differences, age changes in bone and teeth, dermatoglyphics, ABO blood groups, paleopathology, and somatology of living individuals. Pr. 253 or 3 hours of biological science.
- 555 Human Evolution (3:3). Biological and cultural evolution of humans from prehuman forms. Pr. 253 or 3 hours of biological science.
- 557 Primate Behavior (3:3). An overview of primatology and of methods for studying the behavior of prosimians, monkeys, and apes. Involves experience in data collection, computerized data analysis, and producing a scientific report. Pr. 253 or consent of instructor.
- 559 Disease and Nutrition in Ancient Populations (3:3). Evaluation of past disease and nutritional status using skeletal remains and other tissues. Topics include differential diagnosis of pathology. Analysis of mummified material and chemical methods of dietary reconstruction. Pr. 253 or FNS 213 or 3 hours of biological science.
- 560 Anthropology and the Teaching of World Studies (3:3). Concept of culture as a foundation for teaching about cultures. Related anthropological concepts and their significance for social studies. Objectives in teaching world studies. Anthropological materials and resources for social studies teacher. Not open to undergraduate majors in anthropology.
- 563 Educational Anthropology (3:3). Contemporary educational events (systems of cultural transmission) viewed in cross-cultural perspective. Includes case studies of educational systems and practices.
- 571 Ethnographic Methods (3:3). A guide to the conduct of ethnographic research; an introduction to culture theory, the elements or research design, data collection and analysis, and the sociological significance of an interpretative paradigm. Pr. graduate status or advanced undergraduate in Anthropology, Geography, History, Political Science, or Sociology.

- 76 Culture and Personality (3:3). Cross-cultural analysis of effect and influence of culture and group membership on development of personality.
- 83 Culture and Society (3:3). Concepts of culture and society and their employment in understanding human behavior in a cross-cultural context. Not open for credit to anthropology majors. May not be taken for credit by students who have received credit for ATY 213.
- 85 Social Dialects (3:3). Consideration of differences in social dialects (speech patterns) among males and females, social classes, regions, and ethnic groups. Includes attitudes about social dialects, models for describing social dialect differences, and consequences of social dialects.

587 Foundations of Linguistic Theory (3:3). An in depth study of modern linguistic theory and its historical antecedents. An extensive background in a language related discipline is required. Application of linguistic theory will be included. Pr. consent of instructor.

597, 598 Special Problems in Anthropology (3), (3). Opportunity for advanced students to undertake independent study or research of special interest. Pr. consent of faculty member with whom student wishes to work.

For Graduate Students Only

601, 602 Seminars in Anthropological Analysis (3), (3).

611 Pro Seminar I in Anthropology (3).

612 Pro Seminar II in Anthropology (3).

DEPARTMENT OF ART

162 McIver Building

Porter Aichele, Associate Professor and Head of Department

Professors Barker, Collins, Goldstein; Associate Professors Doren, Gottsegen, Kotani, Laymon, Lee, Leeds, Maggio, Martin, Rice, Wasserboehr; Assistant Professors Gerhart, Kelleher, Kellman

The Department of Art offers the following degree programs:

B.F.A., art major, concentrations in art education I & II, design, painting, and sculpture

B. A., art major, concentrations in studio art, art history, and museum studies

M.Ed., art major

M.F.A., studio art major, with or without teacher certification

The department believes that at the undergraduate level students are best served by a liberal university education with a specialization in art. Specialized degree programs emphasize the traditional disciplines of painting, sculpture, design, art history, and art education. Students seeking vocational specializations should pursue relevant post-baccalaureate studies.

Freshmen art majors are encouraged to contact Academic Advising and request a faculty advisor in the Art Department. Courses recommended for freshmen vary according to the degree program.

Courses in drawing, painting, and sculpture in the 20's, 30's, and 50's series emphasize working from observation. Still life, landscapes, interior environments, and the human figure are the primary sources of study from which students work toward developing basic artistic/observational skills. Courses in design and the crafts in the 40's, 70's and 80 to 84 series focus on the inherent systemic logic or functional requirements of works of art.

Course fees are required in certain studio courses where models are used or where art supplies are provided by the department.

The faculty includes artists and historians of acknowledged accomplishment in their areas of specialization. All members of the faculty teach at the undergraduate level in well-equipped facilities on the north side of McIver Building and in the Cone Art Building.

The Weatherspoon Gallery, housed in the Cone Art Building, sponsors a program of exhibitions and lectures that complement the Art Department's curriculum.

ART MAJOR (Bachelor of Fine Arts)

Concentrations in

- Design (including Ceramics, Fiber Crafts, and Photography)
- Painting (including Drawing and Printmaking)
- Sculpture

Required: 128 semester hours.

The B.F.A. program allows a more intense concentration in studio work than is available in a B.A. program. This concentration is gained by extending the program for the equivalent of one summer session. Because of the number of required courses, junior transfers cannot expect to complete a B.F.A. program in two years.

All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) (45 hours)

All candidates for BFA degrees in the Art Department are required to complete the AULER requirements as listed below:

	Semester Hours
1. Analytic and Evaluative Studies (AE)	3
2. British or American Literature (BL)	3
3. Fine Arts (FA)	3
4. Historical Perspectives on Western Culture (HP)	3
5. Mathematics (MT)	3
6. Natural Science (NS)	6
7. Non-Western Studies (NW)	3
8. Reasoning and Discourse (RD)	6
Required: ENG 101 and one additional RD course
9. Social and Behavioral Sciences (SB)	6
10. World Literature (WL)	3
11. AULER Electives	6

In addition, candidates for BFA degrees must complete two writing-intensive courses; these may be selected from AULER courses and/or from the four upper-level art history courses required of studio majors.

See pages 43-46 for a detailed listing of the complete AULER area requirements and courses meeting those requirements.

Major RequirementsCore Courses for all Concentrations

1. ART 100 or 101
2. Four art history courses above 100 level
3. Art 120, 140, 150, 220, 221
4. ART 498 and 499 to be taken in the senior year

DESIGN CONCENTRATION

1. ART 120, 140, 150, 220, 221, 240, 285, 347
2. Advanced design courses from those numbered in 40's, 70's or 80's: 10 semester hours
3. ART 498 and 499. Independent Study projects should be in graphic design, ceramics, fiber crafts, photography, or another appropriate area of design specialization.
4. Art or related electives: 8 semester hours

PAINTING CONCENTRATION

1. ART 120, 140, 150, 220, 221, 231, 232, 335, 337
2. Printmaking: 4 semester hours
3. ART 498 and 499. Independent Study projects must be in painting, drawing, or printmaking.
4. Art or related electives: 8 semester hours

SCULPTURE CONCENTRATION

1. ART 120, 140, 150, 220, 221, 252, 253, 353, 355, 356
2. Art 498 and 499. Independent Study projects must be in sculpture.
3. Art or related electives: 8 semester hours

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete the 128 semester hours required for the degree.

ART MAJOR (Bachelor of Fine Arts)Concentrations in

- Art Education I
- Art Education II

Required: 128 semester hours.

All studio art students who seek teacher certification in art must take a BFA under one of two concentrations: Art Education I offers academic breadth, Art Education II offers concentration in a studio discipline. Junior transfers cannot expect to complete these programs in two years.

All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) (45 hours)

All candidates for BFA degrees with a concentration in Art Education are required to complete the AULER requirements as listed below:

	Semester Hours
1. Analytic and Evaluative Studies (AE)	3
2. British or American Literature (BL)	3
3. Fine Arts (FA)	3
4. Historical Perspectives on Western Culture (HP)	3
5. Mathematics (MT)	3
6. Natural Science (NS)	6
7. Non-Western Studies (NW)	3
8. Reasoning and Discourse (RD)	6
Required: ENG 101 and one additional RD course
9. Social and Behavioral Sciences (SB)	6
10. World Literature (WL)	3
11. AULER Electives	6

In addition, candidates for BFA degrees must complete two writing-intensive courses; these may be selected from AULER courses and/or from upper-level art courses.

See pages 43-46 for a detailed listing of the complete AULER area requirements and courses meeting those requirements.

Major RequirementsART EDUCATION I (GENERAL ART) CONCENTRATION

1. ART 100 or 101
2. Four additional courses in Art History above the 100 level
3. ART 120, 140, 150, 221, 285
4. Painting, Design: 2 semester hours in each
5. Crafts: 6 semester hours
6. Art or related electives: 6 semester hours
7. Art Education courses: 360 (junior year); 363, 365, 463 and 465 (senior year)
8. Concentration in one studio area (Design, Painting or Sculpture) of 9 semester hours above the 100-level.

ART EDUCATION II (STUDIO ART) CONCENTRATION

1. Same as Art Education I, numbers 1 through 7
2. Independent Study in ART 498, 499 or approved substitutes: 4 semester hours
3. Single studio specialization, including at least 4 semester hours of independent studio (ART 498, 499 or approved substitute) in this specialty: 10 semester hours

Related Area Requirements

(See Teacher Education in Chapter 5 for full explanation.)

1. AULER requirements as identified within each major
3. HEA 201
3. PSY 221 General Psychology (PSY 223 may not be substituted)
4. CEF 381 The Institution of Education
5. PSS 450 Psychological Foundations of Education
6. PSS 470 Reading Education

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete the 128 semester hours required for the degree.

Admission to Student Teaching:

During the junior year students must apply for admission to the student teaching semester. Art Education methods courses 363 and 365 are prerequisites to student teaching and are taken in the fall semester of the senior year. Student Teaching 463 and 465 are taken in the spring semester.

Student teaching admission requirements include the following:

1. Speech screening and medical clearance
2. Grade point average of at least 2.7
3. Art 360, Foundations of Art Education, which includes pre-student-teaching practicum
4. Completion of 12 semester hours following admission to teacher education
5. Evidence of teaching readiness competencies as set and evaluated by the department.

ART MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Concentrations in

- Art History
- Studio Art
- Museum Studies

Required: 122 semester hours

The Art History Concentration is an academic, liberal arts program with emphasis on the visual rather than the verbal tradition. Students who wish to pursue a professional career in this discipline should plan to enter a Ph.D. program after graduation. In preparation for doctoral work, they should acquire a fluent reading knowledge of two foreign languages; German and French are usually recommended.

The Studio Concentration combines a liberal arts education with the development of studio skills.

The Museum Studies Concentration offers specialized courses in curatorial projects and other museum functions. Students are encouraged to make use of the resources in the Weatherspoon Gallery.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

In addition to meeting the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER), students in BA art programs must satisfy College of Arts and Sciences (CLER) requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

24-60 semester hours in art above the 100 level

ART HISTORY CONCENTRATION

1. ART 100 or 101, 201, 202, 203, 204
2. Studio Art: 6 semester hours
3. Art History above the 200 level: 12-24 semester hours.

STUDIO ART CONCENTRATION

1. ART 100 or 101
2. Two courses from ART 120, 140, 150
3. Art History above the 100 level: 12 semester hours
4. Studio Art above the 100 level: 12-24 semester hours
5. Enrollment in independent study courses (optional for qualified students)

MUSEUM STUDIES CONCENTRATION

1. ART 100 or 101, 201 or 202, 203 and 204
2. Two courses from ART 120, 140, 150
3. 15 additional semester hours of Art History, Studio Art, or approved related electives above the 100 level
4. ART 590 (taken in the junior year)
5. ART 400
6. ART 401 or ART 393 or HIS 545a or b

Related Area Requirements

No specific courses required.

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete the 122 semester hours required for the degree.

ART MINOR

An Art Minor requires 15 semester hours of studio and/or art history courses. A Minor in Art History requires 3 hours in ART 100 or 101 and 12 additional hours of 200-level or above art history courses. A Minor in Studio Art requires 3 hours in ART 100 or 101 and core studio courses ART 120, 140, 150, 220, 221.

ART COURSES (ART)

STUDIO Courses*for Undergraduates*

- 20 Drawing and Pictorial Composition (4:2:6). Basic course in principles and practice of drawing in various media and principles of pictorial composition.
- 40 Design I (4:2:6). Basic course in fundamentals of design. Work in two and three dimensions.
- 50 Clay Modeling (4:2:6). General course in preparation, designing, and modeling in clay.
- 90 Introduction to Studio Art (3:1:4). Basic course for non-art majors. Simplified studio projects in image making and system construction in two and three dimensions. Lecture on project-related masterpieces each week. Not open to art majors.
- 20 Drawing and Pictorial Composition II (2:1:3). Continuation of 120. Pr. 120.
- 21 Life Drawing I (2:1:3). Figure drawing from the model. Pr. 220.
- 22 Mechanical Drawing (2:1:3). Basic information and skills required to produce and read working drawings and plans.
- 23 Perspective (2:1:3). Linear perspective and its application in various media.
- 25 Serigraphy I (2:1:3). Silk screen stencil techniques as a printmaking medium. Pr. 120 or 140. (Not offered every year.)
- 26 Woodcut and Wood Engraving (2:1:3). Woodblock relief techniques as a printmaking medium. Pr. 120 or 140. (Not offered every year.)
- 28 Etching I (2:1:3). Intaglio techniques as a printmaking medium. Pr. 120 or 140.
- 29 Lithography I (2:1:3). Planographic techniques as a printmaking medium. Pr. 120 or 140.
- 31 Techniques of Painting (2:1:3). Materials and characteristic processes of major techniques. Pr. 120.
- 32 Painting I (2:1:3). Basic painting course. Pr. 120.
- 240 Design II (2:1:3). Continuation of 140 with special emphasis on advanced standards of execution. Pr. 140.
- 242 Letters, Signs and Symbols (2:1:3). Letter forms, signs and symbols as configurations for design study. Pr. 140.
- 252 Techniques of Sculpture (2:1:3). Tools, materials and characteristic processes of major techniques. Pr. 150.
- 253 Sculpture I (2:1:3). Working from observation, students will increase their perceptual ability and skills through studio assignments. Emphasis on the comprehension of forms and structure in space. Pr. 252.
- 271 Fiber Crafts I (2:1:3). Fibers and yarns used in woven structures. Preparation of looms and basic weaving techniques. Pr. 140 or HID 112 or permission of instructor.
- 273 Fabric Crafts I (2:1:3). Study of fabric surface design and fabric structures using tie dye, batik, quilting and 3D form construction. Pr. 140 or HID 112 or consent of instructor.
- 275 Metal Crafts I (2:1:3). Techniques required to make jewelry and small art objects from copper, brass and precious metals. Includes gem and stone setting. Pr. 140 or 150.
- 281 Ceramics I (2:1:3). Basic course with emphasis on handbuilt forms.
- 285 Photography I (3:1:6). Equipment and basic techniques of photography. Students must purchase film and papers. 35 MM camera required. Pr. 140, 190, or permission of instructor.
- 287 Photographic Perception (2:1:3). Designed to enhance visual awareness. Photographic vision, perception and language investigated. Lecture-discussion; problem solving through field and studio exercises with frequent critiques. Photographer and sitter roles explored through feedback. Pr. access to a Polaroid camera.
- 320 Drawing Exploration (2:1:3). Introduction to descriptive and expressive drawing for the general student with no previous training in art. Not open to students who have previously earned credit for 120.
- 321 Life Drawing II (2:1:3). Continuation of 221. May be repeated for credit with consent of instructor and department head. Pr. 221.
- 323 The Arts as Human Experience (3:3). An examination of the meaning of the arts experience, including its historical and personal significance. Includes reading and related work in art, dance, drama and music. (Same as COM 323, DCE 323, MUS 323.) [FA, CFA].

- 328 Watercolor Painting (2:1:3). Special techniques and pictorial problems of transparent paint media. Pr. 120, 220.
- 335 Painting II (4:2:6). Studio course with substantial work from the model. Emphasis on development of control of the medium for pictorial purposes. Pr. 231 and 232.
- 337 Painting III (4:2:6). Studio course with work from the model and other subject matter; emphasis on control of pictorial elements and individual development. Pr. 335.
- 342 Graphic Design with a Computer (2:1:3). Introduction to using a computer for graphic design and drawing. Emphasis on studio problems and applications. Pr. 140 or permission of instructor.
- 343 Techniques of Structures (4:2:6). Theory and craftsmanship of small structures. Emphasis on aesthetic and mechanical characteristics of common materials. Pr. 240.
- 345 Three-Dimensional Design (2:1:3). Development of three-dimensional systems as objects and as environments. Pr. 10 s.h. of studio art including 140.
- 346 Kinetic Design (2:1:3). Motion and time sequence in two-dimensional and three-dimensional design. Pr. 10 s.h. hours of studio art including 140.
- 347 Color Theory (2:1:3). Major color theories and systems. Projects using properties of color in pigments, transparencies and projected light. Pr. 140.
- 348 Metal Sculpture (2:1:3). Studio course in non-cast metal sculpture techniques and concepts. Basic welding and fabrication of metal as a sculpture medium. Pr. 252.
- 353 Metal Casting (4:2:6). Basic course in casting metal as a sculpture medium. Theory and practice of moldmaking and foundry processes. Pr. 253 or permission of instructor.
- 355 Sculpture II (4:2:6). The study of the human form with emphasis on the demonstration of a sound understanding of the articulation of the figure in space. Pr. 252 and 253.
- 356 Sculpture III (4:2:6). Sculpture as a plastic idiom in creating forms in space. Emphasis on the development of individual expression. Pr. 355.
- 371 Fiber Crafts II (2:1:3). Continuation of 271 loom weaving including pattern drafting. Introduction of off-loom techniques. Pr. 271 or consent of instructor.
- 372 Surface Design/Fabric Printing (2:1:3). Introduction to pattern design and to the basic block printing and silkscreen printing processes appropriate for the fabric surface. Pr. 140.
- 373 Design Methods for the Crafts (4:2:6). Sources of and approaches to crafts design with materials such as wood, fiber, metal and paper. Exploration of sources of design in natural and man-made worlds. Recommended for Art Education majors. Pr. 100 or 101, 140, or consent of instructor.
- 375 Metal Crafts II (2:1:3). Advanced work in techniques required to make jewelry and small art objects from copper, brass, precious metals. Pr. 275.
- 381 Ceramics II (2:1:3). Wheel-thrown forms; glazing and decorating techniques. Pr. 281 or consent of instructor.
- 382 Ceramic Glaze Techniques (2:1:3). Glaze formulae; mixing and testing of glazes, glaze application, the care and operation of equipment. Pr. 281.
- 385 Photography II (3:1:6). Special techniques including those used in research laboratories; work with special types of film. Students must purchase films and papers. Pr. 285 or portfolio and permission of instructor.
- 387 Color Photography (3:3). An introduction to the basic processes used to produce color photographs and to an understanding of color photography as art. Pr. 285.
- 420 Book Illustration (4:2:6). Execution and composition of illustrations in black and white and color of children's books, classical and contemporary literature, textbooks and poetry. Work in pen and ink, watercolor and oil. Pr. 220, 221, or approval of instructor.
- 428 Etching II (2:1:3). Continuation of 228. May be repeated for credit with consent of instructor or department head. Pr. 228.
- 429 Lithography II (2:1:3). Continuation of 229. May be repeated for credit with consent of instructor or department head. Pr. 229.
- 439 Painting: Selected Media (2:1:3). Special techniques and pictorial problems of various paint media. Pr. 120, 220.

- 446 Graphic Design (4:2:6). Problems characteristic of the professional practice of graphic design. For advanced students. Pr. 12 s.h. of design or its equivalent or permission of instructor. Not offered every year.
- 471 Fiber Crafts III (4:2:6). Advanced studies in floor loom and off-loom fiber arts. Pr. 140, 271, 371 or consent of instructor.
- 481 Ceramics III (2:1:3). Advanced course in ceramics with emphasis on the entire ceramic process: preparation of clay body and glazes, forming, bisque and glaze firing. Pr. 281, 381.
- 493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p. 320).
- 496 Special Problems, Studio (2). Independent studio work adjusted to needs and interests of individual student. May be repeated for credit with consent of department head. Pr. prior approval of supervising instructor required.
- 498, 499 Independent Study (4), (4). Students will complete work demonstrating technical accomplishment and self-motivation. 498: sessions on portfolio presentation and preparation. 499: sequence of work for juried senior show. Pr. senior status and permission of instructor. NOTE: Credit for 498, 499 will become (2), (2) for seniors in Fall 1995.

For Advanced Undergraduates and Graduate Students

- 520 Anatomy for the Artist (3:2:2). Visual analysis of the human form with an emphasis on the skeleto-muscular system. Pr. ART 150 or permission of instructor.
- 525 Advanced Metal Casting (4:2:6). Advanced theory and practice of metal casting. Pr. 353 or permission of instructor.
- 531 Painting (4:1:8). Theories, methods and techniques characteristic of recent trends in painting. Pr. senior or graduate standing.
- 535 Variable Topics in Painting (4:2:6). Practice and study of traditional and contemporary methods of painting in a variety of media and genres. May be repeated when topic varies. Pr. advanced undergraduate or graduate standing.

ART HISTORY Courses

For Undergraduates

- 100 Introduction to Art (3:3). Intensive study of selected works of art with an emphasis on formal analysis and the relationship between art and culture. [FA, CFA].
- 101 Survey of Western Art (3:3). Major artists and periods starting with the ancient world through current times. [FA, CFA].
- 200 History of Western Architecture (3:3). Architecture in Europe and the U.S.A. from ancient Greece to the present.
- 201 Ancient Art (3:3). Art and architecture of Egypt, Greece and Rome until 337 A.D.
- 202 Medieval Art (3:3). Art and architecture of Europe from Early Christian times through the late Gothic period ca. 1400 A.D.
- 203 Renaissance through Rococo (3:3). Visual arts of Europe during the Renaissance, Mannerist, Baroque and Rococo periods.
- 204 Modern Art (3:3). Visual arts in the West from ca. 1790 to the present.
- 300 Greek Art (3:3). Architecture, sculpture, and vase painting from ca. 1000 B.C. to the end of the Hellenistic period. Pr. 100 or 101 or 201.
- 301 Early Medieval Art (3:3). Early medieval art in Western Europe from ca. 500 to 1066 A.D. including Hiberno-Saxon (Celtic), Carolingian, Ottonian and Anglo-Saxon works. Pr. 100 or 101 or 202.
- 302 Romanesque Art (3:3). Romanesque Art throughout Europe from ca. 1050 to ca. 1180 A.D.: architecture, sculpture, manuscript illumination and mural painting. Pr. 100 or 101 or 202.
- 303 Gothic Art (3:3). Art in Europe from ca. 1160 to ca. 1400: architecture, sculpture, manuscript illumination and mural painting. Pr. 100 or 101 or 202.
- 304 Italian Renaissance Art (3:3). Art in Italy from ca. 1300 to ca. 1600; painting, sculpture, architecture. Pr. 100 or 101 and 203 or consent of instructor.
- 305 Northern Renaissance Art (3:3). Art in Europe north of the Alps from ca. 1400 to ca. 1560. Painting and graphic arts emphasized. Pr. 100 or 101 or 203.
- 306 Baroque Art (3:3). Seventeenth-century art in Europe: painting, sculpture, architecture and landscape architecture. Pr. 100 or 101 and 203 or consent of instructor.

- 307 European Art in the Eighteenth Century (3:3). A survey of European art media, practice, theory, and issues surrounding patronage during the century. Pr. 100 or 101 and 203 or consent of instructor.
- 308 European Art in the Nineteenth Century (3:3). Painting, sculpture, and architecture from 1800 to 1900. Pr. 100 or 101 and 204 or consent of instructor.
- 309 Architecture in the Twentieth Century (3:3). The components of style, theory, structure and material as embodied in the architecture of the century. Pr. 100 or 101 or 200.
- 310 American Art (3:3). Historical development of art in the United States including the colonial period. Painting and architecture emphasized. Pr. 100 or 101.
- 311 Early Twentieth-Century Art (3:3). Painting, sculpture, architecture and other media from 1900 to World War II. Pr. 100 or 101 and 204 or consent of instructor.
- 312 Late Twentieth-Century Art (3:3). Traditional and new media in the last half of the century. Pr. 100 or 101 and 204 or consent of instructor.
- 400 Special Problems, Art History and Criticism (3:3). Directed program of reading and research. Pr. 15 semester hours of art history and criticism and approval of instructor.
- 418 History of Photography (3:3). A lecture course in the exploration of the photographic image, how it was produced, how it has evolved and the work of the photographers who make it an art. Pr. Art 100 or 101 or permission of the instructor.
- 493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p. 320).

For Advanced Undergraduates and Graduate Students

- 500 Traditions of Art Criticism (3:3). A study of the major critical traditions from the Italian Renaissance to the present, aiming to define the role of criticism in the production and reception of works of art. Pr. junior standing or graduate status.
- 501 Topics in the History of Art (3:3). Special topics in the history of art, ancient to modern. May be repeated when topic varies. Pr. junior standing or graduate status.

ART EDUCATION Courses

For Undergraduates

- 360 Foundations of Art Education (3:2:1). An introduction to the art theoretical and philosophical foundations for Art Education K-12. A field placement practicum in schools or other appropriate settings is included. A prerequisite for student teaching. Pr. junior standing.
- 363 Curriculum and Teaching Methods in the Elementary School (3:2:2). Aims and philosophy of art education in elementary school. Special section for art majors only offered in the fall. For art education majors only. Pr. consent of instructor, 360. (Counts as Art credit.)
- 365 Curriculum and Teaching Methods in the Secondary School (3:2:2). Aims, philosophy and curricula of art education in the secondary school, selection, preparation and use of teaching materials. Pr. 18 semester hours of art, 360. (Counts as Art credit.)
- 367 Child Art and Teaching (2:1:3). An introduction to the theoretical and philosophical foundations for Art Education (K-8), including hands-on experience with school art media. Not open to Art Education majors. Pr. junior standing.
- 463 Student Teaching in the Elementary School (6:1:10). Supervised student teaching at the elementary school level. Pr. senior standing with 2.7 GPA or above; PSS 450, ART 363, 365.
- 465 Student Teaching in the Secondary School (6:1:10). Supervised student teaching at the secondary school level. Pr. senior standing with 2.7 GPA; PSS 450, ART 363, 365.

For Advanced Undergraduates and Graduate Students

- 563 Trends and Teaching in Art: Special Populations (3:2:1). Curricular and instructional principles, processes and designs applicable to special populations in various school, institutional or community settings. Pr. completion of 363 student teaching, or equivalent or consent of instructor.
- 565 Issues in Art Education (3:3). Exploration of issues in art or education which affect the teaching of art. May be repeated once for credit when topics vary. Pr. graduate status or consent of instructor.

MUSEUM STUDIES Courses*For Undergraduates*

- 93 Practicum in Art Careers (1). Practicum experience for art majors for developing career goals and skills. May be repeated for credit. Pr. sophomore standing.
- 01 Special Problems: Museum Studies (3:3). Directed program of reading, research or curatorial projects in the Weatherspoon Art Gallery and other museums. Pr. 15 hours art history/criticism and approval of instructor.

For Advanced Undergraduates and Graduate Students

- 90 Museum Studies (3:3). A study of the diverse operations and institutional missions of art museums, including management, governance, development, collections management, education and curatorial activities. Pr. junior standing or permission of instructor.

Art Courses For Graduate Students Only

- 00 Writing Art Criticism (3:3).
- 01 Public Art (3:3).
- 02 The Teaching of Art from Vasari to Albers (3:3).
- 03 Expressionism (3:3).
- 04 Realism (3:3).
- 05 Perspectives in Contemporary Art (3:3).
- 06 A Study of the Artist (3:3).
- 18 Topics in the History of Art (3:3).

- 619 Research Problems in Art History, Art Criticism (3).
- 620 Drawing (4:2:6).
- 626 Woodcut and Wood Engraving (4:2:6).
- 627 Lithography (4:2:6).
- 628 Etching (4:2:6).
- 629 Studio Problems in Drawing, Painting, or Printmaking (4).
- 631, 632 Painting and Drawing (2:1:3), (2:1:3).
- 633, 634 Painting and Drawing (4:2:6), (4:2:6).
- 635 Variable Topics in Painting (4:2:6).
- 636, 637 Painting Research Seminar (4:2:6), (4:2:6).
- 641 Design (4:2:6).
- 649 Studio Problems in Design (4).
- 655, 656 Sculpture (2:1:3), (2:1:3).
- 657, 658 Sculpture (4:2:6), (4:2:6).
- 659 Studio Problems, Sculpture (4).
- 663 Practicum: Schools, Museums, or Other Settings (3).
- 665 Art Education (3:3).
- 669 Special Problems in Art Education (3).
- 672 Fiber Arts (4:2:6).
- 682 Ceramics (4:2:6).
- 685 Photography (4:2:6).
- 690 Experimentation and Analysis: Studio Arts (3:1:6).
- 699 Thesis (2 to 6).
- 800 Graduate Registration. (0).
- 801 Graduate Registration. (0).

DEPARTMENT OF BIOLOGY

312 Eberhart Building

Robert E. Gatten, Jr., Professor and Head of Department

Professors Bates, Lutz; Associate Professors Cannon, Hendrickson, Kirchoff, Lacey, Lombardi, McCrady, Morrison, Stavn; Assistant Professors Henrich, Leise, Lepri, Rublee; Instructors J. Curtis, Patrick; Lecturers Horton, Pelli, Randall, Somers

Adjunct Faculty: Adjunct Associate Professor Hicks, Adjunct Assistant Professors Anderson, Baldi, Bever, Kelly

The Department of Biology was created over 80 years ago to prepare professionals in biology and provide students with an appreciation of living organisms and their environments. The Department has an active undergraduate biology program and offers the Master of Arts degree. The degree of Master of Education is also available through a cooperative program with the School of Education.

The Biology wing of the Eberhart Building is a modern facility with space for classroom and laboratory instruction and space for research by students and faculty.

BIOLOGY MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Required: 122 semester hours.

The Department offers a full range of courses leading to the B.A. degree. The degree may lead to further study in graduate school, medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, medical technology, biotechnology, and environmental biology. Research is a major component of faculty activity. Both study and laboratory facilities are available to advanced undergraduates.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) and the College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER). Note that students who satisfy CLER will also satisfy AULER. See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

Biology majors must complete BIO 101, 102, 107 and 108, and 30-60 semester hours of Biology courses above the 100-level with a Biology GPA of 2.0 or above. A maximum of four hours at the 200-level may be counted toward the major. In meeting this requirement for hours above the 100-level, all majors must complete the Biology Core:

1. Ecology: BIO 301
 2. Cell Biology: BIO 355
 3. Genetics: BIO 392
 4. Diversity: one of the following: BIO 322, 341, 354, or 370
- BIO 302, 356, and 393 are also strongly recommended.

Related Area Requirements

Biology majors are required to take the following cognate courses or their approved equivalents:

1. CHE 114, 114L
2. MAT 121 or 191A

The department highly recommends the following courses in addition to the required cognates:

1. CHE 351, 352, 354
2. MAT 191A, 292
3. STA 271, 351, or 571
4. PHY 101, 102

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete the 122 semester hours required for degree.

Transfer Credit

Credit for courses above the 100-level is transferred as Biology elective credit only. To attempt to establish transfer credit for Biology courses above the 100-level, students should contact the head of the Department of Biology.

Teacher Education Requirements

Secondary Subject-Area Certification in Biology

Undergraduates seeking secondary teacher certification in biology must satisfy the requirements for the B.A. degree in Biology and must also complete Geography 103, Mathematics 121, and Physics 305. See additional information in this catalog under the subject of Teacher Education in Chapter 5.

Students seeking admission to the UNCG Teacher Education Program with a major in Biology must meet the following minimum requirements of the Department of Biology:

1. Completion of a minimum of 9 semester hours in biology courses, with at least 6 of those hours from courses taken at UNCG.
2. A biology course grade point average of at least 2.5 for biology courses completed at UNCG.

Students already admitted to the UNCG Teacher Education Program with a major in Biology who are seeking admission to Student Teaching must meet the following requirements of the Department of Biology:

1. Completion of a minimum of 18 semester hours of biology courses, with at least 15 of those hours from courses taken at UNCG.
2. A biology course grade point average of at least 2.5 for biology courses completed at UNCG.

Initial "A" Certification

Students with an undergraduate degree who are seeking Initial "A" Certification in Biology must complete the requirements for a B.A. in Biology at UNCG with a biology grade point average of 2.5 or better. Course selection must be completed in consultation with the Head of the Department of Biology. Students who have already taken biology courses as part of their undergraduate program should contact the Head of the Department of Biology to determine if any of those courses can be accepted as meeting some of the requirements for "A" certification in Biology at UNCG.

Questions about the above requirements should be directed to the Head of the Department of Biology.

BIOLOGY MINOR

A minimum of 17 hours in biology (including BIO 101, 102, 107 and 108, and at least two Biology Core courses) is required for a minor in biology.

BIOLOGY SECOND MAJOR

A minimum of 24 hours in biology (including BIO 101, 102, 107 and 108, and the Biology Core) and CHE 114 and 114L are required for a second major in Biology.

CONCENTRATION IN BIOLOGY

A total of 24 semester hours in biology (including 101, 102, 107 and 108, and at least three Biology Core courses) is required for a concentration in Biology.

CONCENTRATION IN BIOTECHNOLOGY

The concentration in biotechnology is designed for students with a strong interest in molecular biology and genetics. Courses will prepare students in both conceptual and practical aspects of genetic engineering. The concentration is built within the framework of Biology degree requirements.

Basic requirements: BIO 392, 481, 535, 594, 549-Molecular Biology Journal Club (1 hr), 499 (1-3 hrs); CHE 351, 352, 354; PHY 101, 102 or 291, 292; and MAT 191A

Strongly recommended: BIO 528, 538, 545, 583, 584, 595; CHE 331, 333; and additional hours of independent study (BIO 499)

Note: Students will be required to attend seminars covering biotechnology topics.

BIOPSYCHOLOGY SECOND MAJOR

This second major is designed for students interested in behavior and the structure and function of nervous systems. Topics will span molecular, cellular, organ, and organismal levels. Each student seeking to complete this second major must complete the basic requirements and then select additional courses in Biology and Psychology with the approval of the Biopsychology Second Major Advisory Committee (contact either the Head of the Department of Psychology or the Head of the Department of Biology).

Basic requirements: BIO 277; CHE 114, 114L; MAT 121; and PSY 425, 450, 453.

Additional requirements: a minimum of nine additional hours in Biology courses and three additional hours in Psychology courses.

Strongly recommended: CHE 351, 352, 354; MAT 191A, 292; and PHY 101, 102.

BIOLOGY COURSES (BIO)

For Undergraduates

- 101 Principles of Biology I (3:3). Prerequisite for upper level biology courses. Emphasizes the cellular basis of life, energetics, and homeostasis. Students must take BIO 107 concurrently unless they have credit for an equivalent laboratory course. Students who have prior credit for BIO 101 may not take BIO 105 for credit. [NS, CLS].
- 102 Principles of Biology II (3:3). Prerequisite for upper level biology courses. Continuation of 101. Emphasizes reproduction, genetics, and evolution. Students must take BIO 108 concurrently unless they have credit for an equivalent laboratory course. Pr. 101 and 107. Students who have prior credit for BIO 102 may not take BIO 105 for credit. [NS, CLS].
- 105 Major Concepts of Biology (3:3). For students not planning to take additional biology courses. Introduction to the major ideas about life including reproduction, genetics, evolution, energetics, and ecology. Emphasis placed on the derivation of ideas. Students who have prior credit for BIO 101 or 102 may not take BIO 105 for credit. [NS, CLS].
- 106 Plants and Civilization (2:2). Introduction to uses of plants and fungi in human society.
- 107 General Biology Lab I (1:0:3). Laboratory work to accompany Biology 101. BIO 101 must be taken concurrently with 107. [NS, CLS].
- 108 General Biology Lab II (1:0:3). Laboratory work to accompany Biology 102. BIO 102 must be taken concurrently with 108. Pr. 101, 107. [NS, CLS].
- 271 Mammalian Anatomy (4:3:3). Human anatomy with study of skeletons, models, and anatomical preparations. Includes dissection of cat. Pr. 101.
- 277 Mammalian Physiology (4:3:3). Human physiology with emphasis on homeostatic mechanisms. Pr. 101 and high school chemistry with grade of C or better.
- 280 Fundamentals of Microbiology (3:2:4). General survey of microscopic life and its impact on medicine, public health, industry, agriculture and the environment. Recommended for non-biology majors. Credit cannot be received for this course and BIO 481. Pr. 101.
- The remaining courses (300-, 400-, 500-, and 600-levels) require the successful completion of BIO 101-102 and 107-108:
- 301 Principles of Ecology (3:3). Introduction to fundamentals of ecology. Principles relating to populations, communities and ecosystems stressed. Particular emphasis placed on the many dimensions of interdependence within ecosystems.
- 302 Introductory Ecology Laboratory (1:0:4). Laboratory course to accompany BIO 301. Several field trips, including one weekend trip, required. Pr. 301 (may be taken concurrently).
- 322 Plant Morphology (3:2:3). Plant kingdom from an evolutionary point of view, with emphasis on structure, function, reproduction, habitat and probable phylogenetic relationships.
- 341 Invertebrate Zoology (4:3:3). Major invertebrate groups with emphasis on ecology, physiology, evolution, and structural adaptations of representative types. Weekend coastal field trip required.
- 354 Plant Systematics (3:2:3). Introduction to the classification and evolution of vascular plants. The principles of classification and characteristics of selected plant families are emphasized. (Formerly BIO 524)
- 355 Cell Biology (3:3). Study of cellular organization and function. Fundamental biochemical properties, including cellular components, enzyme function, energetics, and metabolism studied in relation to cellular structure, membrane function, cell movement, and cytoplasmic compartments. Pr. CHE 114 or equivalent.
- 356 Cell Biology Laboratory (1:0:3). Laboratory exercises to complement lecture material of 355. Pr. previous completion of or current enrollment in 355. Withdrawal from 355 requires automatic withdrawal from 356.
- 370 Natural History of the Vertebrates (3:2:3). Classification, identification, and phylogeny of all classes of vertebrates, with field work. (Formerly BIO 570)
- 392 Genetics (3:3). Mendelism and modern trends in genetics. (Formerly BIO 592)

- 393 Genetics Laboratory (1:0:4). Laboratory course to complement BIO 392. Exercises employ both classic genetic approaches and modern recombinant DNA technology. Pr. concurrent enrollment in or prior completion of BIO 392. (Formerly BIO 593)
- 420 Marine Biology (3:3). An introduction to marine organisms and their habitats; special attention given to adaptations necessary for marine life, physical oceanography, and basic ecological principles; one weekend coastal field trip is required. Pr. one of the four core courses. (Formerly BIO 320)
- 424 Plant Physiology (3:2:3). Physiological processes involved in plant growth and behavior including effect of environmental factors. Pr. 355. (Formerly BIO 324)
- 425 Biological Clocks (3:3). Descriptive survey of behavioral and physiological rhythms in humans and other animals, including circadian, tidal, lunar, seasonal and circannual cycles, with ecological considerations and implications for human health. Pr. one of the four core courses. (Formerly BIO 325)
- 430 Biological Evolution (3:3). Survey of modern systematics and the biological mechanisms responsible for diversity among living forms. Pr. 392 and a diversity course. (Formerly BIO 330)
- 431 The Biosphere (3:3). A study of environmental issues in biology, specifically ecosystems, population dynamics, biodiversity and extinction. Pr. 301. (Formerly BIO 331)
- 440 Vascular Plant Anatomy (4:3:3). Principles of plant structure and function are studied in lecture and laboratory. Emphasis is placed on structure and evolution of the major tissues of vascular plants. Pr. 392 or a diversity course. (Formerly BIO 340)
- 453 Vertebrate Morphogenesis (4:3:3). Comparative anatomy of vertebrate embryos and adult forms. Laboratory work includes dissection of representative vertebrates and microscopic study of stages of embryonic development. Pr. 355. (Formerly BIO 353)
- 464 Developmental Biology (4:3:3). A survey of developmental processes in plants and animals. Topics will include fertilization, achievement of multicellularity, cell determination and differentiation, pattern development, and the genetic regulation of such processes. Pr. 355. (Formerly BIO 364)
- 472 Histology (4:3:3). Microscopic anatomy of vertebrate tissues. Emphasis on correlation of cell and tissue functions with structures visible under the light and electron microscopes. Pr. 355. (Formerly BIO 372)
- 477 Animal Physiology (3:3). Physiology of invertebrates and vertebrates including metabolism, temperature regulation, respiration, blood, circulation, water and ion balance, excretion, and the nervous, sensory, endocrine, and muscular systems. Pr. 355. (Formerly BIO 377)
- 479 Neurobiology (3:3). Descriptive overview of chemical transmission in nervous systems from invertebrates to man. Sensory processing, ionic conductance at synapses and axons, neural circuits and pathways in the brain will be analyzed. Pr. 355. (Formerly BIO 379)
- 481 General Microbiology (4:3:4). Introductory survey of microbiology, emphasizing the role of microorganisms in everyday life. Pr. 355 or 392. (Formerly BIO 581)
- 483 Introduction to Clinical Pathology (3:2:4). Introduction to profession of medical technology, including major divisions within the field of laboratory medicine. Lectures describe tests to evaluate organ systems, basic pathophysiology-producing abnormalities and evaluation of clinical procedures. Laboratories emphasize basic concepts and evaluation of results of tests discussed in lecture. Pr. 277, and 355 or 392, and CHE 114. (Formerly BIO 383)
- 493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p. 320).
- 499 Biological Problems (1 to 3). Individual Studies: Biological research culminating in a written report or an internship. Times by arrangement. May be repeated for up to 6 hours credit with departmental permission. Pr. two core courses and consent of instructor.

For Advanced Undergraduates and Graduate Students

- 527 Terrestrial Plant Ecology (3:2:3). Application of principles of ecology to plants and plant communities. Experimental methods stressed in laboratory work. Two required weekend field trips. Pr. 301.
- 528 Microbial Ecology (3:3). Emphasis on current areas of active research with reference to applied problems. Pr. 301 and either 280 or 481, or permission of instructor.

- 529 Aquatic Ecology (3:2:3). Interactions and adaptations of aquatic organisms in the major aquatic environments: fresh water, estuaries, and oceans. Optional field trips monitor local lakes, Carolina bay lakes, and the coastal Cape Fear area. Pr. 301, CHE 114, or permission of instructor.
- 535 General Biochemistry (3:3). Chemical properties of major cellular compounds; biosynthesis, degradation, and function of carbohydrates, lipids, proteins, nucleic acids, vitamins, and hormones; energy metabolism; enzymatic catalysis. Pr. 355 or 392, or permission of instructor.
- 538 Radiation Biology and Radiotracer Methods (4:3:3). Characteristics of ionizing radiation and use of radioisotopes in biological studies. Principles of radiation interaction; methods of detection of ionizing radiation; personnel protection. Laboratory work emphasizes liquid scintillation methods and processing of these data. Pr. 355 or 392, or permission of instructor.
- 545 General Biochemistry Laboratory (1:0:3). Experimental work designed to complement lecture material of 535. Pr. 535 (may be taken concurrently).
- 549 Problems in Biology (1 to 3). Current problems in biological sciences. Students make individual contributions in the form of independent reading, bibliographic work, and simple laboratory experiments. Pr. permission of instructor.
- 550 Macroevolution (3:3). Lectures and discussions provide an introduction to evolution above the species level. Special attention is given to Phylogenetic Systematics and theories integrating evolution and development. Term paper or project required. Pr. 430 or permission of instructor.
- 552 Animal Metamorphosis (3:3). Readings, discussions, and oral presentations of current literature on metamorphosis in animals. Mechanisms controlling metamorphosis, evolution of complex life cycles, and adaptations to differing habitats. Pr. an upper level course in physiology (e.g. 477), and a course in developmental biology (e.g. 453) or equivalent courses.
- 555 Biology of Vertebrate Reproduction (3:3). An advanced treatment of the diversity of vertebrate reproductive biology, with emphasis on structural, regulatory, behavioral, and evolutionary aspects. Pr. 464 or permission of instructor.
- 560 Symbiosis (3:2:3). Symbiotic interactions of living organisms from an evolutionary perspective. Metabolic, genetic, behavioral, and ecological adaptations which allow symbioses to be formed and maintained will be discussed. Pr. 301, 355, and 392, or permission of instructor.
- 579 Environmental Physiology (3:3). Lectures, discussions, demonstrations, and student presentations on the physiology of animals as it is influenced by, and is adapted to, environmental conditions. Pr. one of the following three courses: 341, 355, 370; or permission of instructor.
- 583 Virology (3:3). Selected topics in virology. Emphasis upon new trends in the study of animal, plant, and bacterial viruses at both molecular and cellular levels. Pr. 481 or permission of instructor; BIO 392 and 535 recommended.
- 584 Immunology (3:3). Principles of immunology and serology covering both humoral and cellular aspects of immunobiology. Selected topics include: T and B cell, immunoglobulins, tolerance, hypersensitivity. Pr. 481 or permission of instructor.
- 589B Experimental Course: Neuroanatomical Techniques (3:1:3). Practical experience with a variety of neuroanatomical procedures used to investigate the structural framework of nervous systems in invertebrate and vertebrate preparations. Students will learn to conduct independent projects. Pr. 277 or 379 or PSY 450 or PSY 453 or permission of instructor.
- 594 Introduction to Biotechnology (4:3:4). Basic principles and techniques of biotechnology. Includes molecular cloning, DNA sequencing, and hybridomas. Explores development of interferon, growth hormones, gene therapy, and gene surgery. Pr. 12 hours of biology or chemistry above 100 level, including BIO 392.
- 595 Advanced Genetics (3:3). Selected topics in genetics at an advanced level. Emphasis placed on comparative view of molecular mechanisms underlying animal and plant development. Pr. 392.
- 599 Biology Seminar (1:1). Oral reports and discussions of topics from current literature of biology by students, faculty and guest lecturers. Grade: Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory (S/U). Pr. senior or graduate standing.

For Graduate Students Only

- 630 Seminar in Ecology (3:3).
631 Seminar in Microbiology (3:3).
632 Seminar in Biochemical Genetics (3:3).
633 Seminar in Biochemistry. (3:3).
634 Seminar in Mammalian Cytogenetics (3:3).
635 Seminar in Evolution and Systematics (3:3).
655 Advanced Topics in the Biochemical Literature (3:3).
656 Advanced Topics in Plant Physiology (3:3).
657 Advanced Topics in Animal Physiology (3:3).
658 Advanced Topics in Morphogenetic Processes in Development (3:3).
659 Advanced Topics in Development (3:3).
660 Advanced Topics in Animal Morphology (3:3).
661 Advanced Topics in Genetics (3:3).
662 Advanced Topics in Biochemical Systematics (3:3).
663 Advanced Topics in Animal Ecology (3:3).
664 Advanced Topics in Plant Ecology (3:3).
665 Advanced Topics in Cytogenetics (3:3).
666 Advanced Topics in Microbiology (3:3).
695 Techniques in Biological Research (3:2:3).
699 Thesis (3 to 6).

801 Graduate Registration (0).

DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY

221 Petty Building

Michael Farona, Professor and Head of DepartmentProfessors Barborak, Herman, Jezorek, Knight, Miller, Nile; Associate Professors Banks, Vanselow, Walsh; Assistant Professor Rives; Laboratory Assistants Katsikas, McRimmon

The Chemistry Department offers programs leading to either the Bachelor of Arts or the Bachelor of Science degrees at the undergraduate level and the Master of Science and Master of Education degrees at the graduate level. The Department of Chemistry is included on the list of schools which have been accredited by the American Chemical Society. Students who follow the program leading to the B. S. degree are certified to the Society upon graduation as having met its rigorous requirements for undergraduate professional training in chemistry.

Students who elect chemistry as a major include those planning to work directly in the chemical industry on completion of the undergraduate degree; those planning to continue their studies at the advanced level and then enter either industrial or academic research and teaching; those preparing to teach at the secondary level; those preparing for professional training in medicine and dentistry; and those who will use their training in chemistry as a background to undertake work in related fields such as business, technical sales, and textiles. Many of our majors take considerable work in related programs, which include earning a minor, or in some cases a double major, in areas such as biology, economics, mathematics, physics, or textiles.

One of the features of our undergraduate program which we particularly emphasize is the opportunity for students to engage in undergraduate research. Many of our majors do so, principally in their junior and senior years, and this provides excellent training for those who intend to continue their studies at the graduate level. We encourage undergraduate chemistry majors, particularly those planning to enter teaching as a career, to work as teaching assistants in our lower level laboratory courses. This provides valuable training as well as financial assistance.

Students seeking teacher certification should see Teacher Education, Chapter 5.

CHEMISTRY MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Required: 122 semester hours.

The Chemistry Major (B.A.), while less specialized than the B.S. program, provides sound training in chemistry. It offers fine preparation for those planning to enter medicine or dentistry, secondary school teaching, or various vocations within the chemical industry. In fact, by electing some additional courses in chemistry beyond the minimum required, the student may prepare for graduate work under this program as well as under the B.S. While this program allows a more flexible arrangement of schedules, the student should work closely with a chemistry advisor to be certain that the proper sequence of chemistry and related area courses is taken with regard to the prerequisites.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

24-60 semester hours in chemistry above the 100 level

1. CHE 111, 111L, 114, 114L, 242, 331, 333, 351, 352, 354, 371, 501 (audit), 502, 461 or 506
2. Two courses from among CHE 442, 531, 556, and 581

Related Area Requirements

1. MAT 191A, 292
2. PHY 101, 102 or 291, 292

Electives

Electives should be sufficient to complete the 122 semester hours required for the degree. Additional advanced courses in mathematics are advised. Additional chemistry courses, up to 36 hours above the 100 level, may be taken.

Teacher Certification

Additional requirements for teacher certification, beyond the Chemistry Major (B.A.), are listed in Chapter 5. In addition, students must take 6-8 credits in biology and/or earth science chosen from the following:

- a. BIO 101, 102, 107, 108 or BIO 103, 104, 107, 108
- b. GEO 103 and one or more of GEO 111, 205, 311, 314. CHE 252 is also recommended.

CHEMISTRY MAJOR (Bachelor of Science)

Required: 122 semester hours.

The Chemistry Major (B.S.) differs from the B.A. in requiring additional advanced courses in chemistry and/or related sciences. It provides very thorough undergraduate training in chemistry and an excellent background for students planning to undertake graduate work or to enter the chemical industry. Students who complete this program will be certified to the American Chemical Society upon graduation as having fulfilled the Society's requirements for undergraduate professional training. German is strongly recommended as the foreign language choice. The sequence in which the required courses are taken is important, and the student should work closely with a chemistry advisor in planning a schedule.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

34-60 semester hours in chemistry above the 100 level

- CHE 111, 111L, 114, 114L, 242, 331, 333, 351, 352, 354, 371, 442, 461, 462, 463, 464, 501 (audit), 502, 531, 533, 581

Related Area Requirements

1. MAT 191A, 292
2. PHY 291, 292
3. At least two courses selected from: CHE 320, 491, 492, 493, 494, 536, 553, 556, 570; BIO 535, 536, 538; CSC 236, 342; MAT 293, 311, 340, 390, 394; PHY 321, 323, 325, 327, 512, 513, 521

Electives

Electives should be sufficient to complete the 122 semester hours required for the degree. Additional advanced mathematics courses are advised. Additional chemistry courses, up to 42 hours above the 100 level, may be taken.

CHEMISTRY MINOR

A student may earn a minor in chemistry by completing a minimum of 19 semester hours in chemistry of which not more than 8 semester hours may be applied from introductory level courses (CHE 103, 104, 106, 110, 111, 111L, 114, and 114L.)

CHEMISTRY COURSES (CHE)For Undergraduates

- 103 General Descriptive Chemistry I (3:3). Introductory course for students whose programs require only one year of college chemistry. Among the topics introduced are states of matter, atomic and molecular structure, nuclear chemistry, stoichiometry, and solutions. Not open to students who have already taken 111. CHE 110 must be taken concurrently unless student takes CHE 104 or CHE 111 later. [NS, CPS].
- 104 General Descriptive Chemistry II (3:3). Applications of the principles introduced in 103 to representative inorganic, organic, and biological systems. Topics include equilibrium, acid-base chemistry, and introductory organic and biochemical concepts. Pr. 103 or permission of instructor. CHE 110 must be taken concurrently unless taken with CHE 103. [NS, CPS].
- 106 Introductory Chemistry (3:3). For elementary education, business, and liberal arts majors. Nonquantitative survey of fundamentals of measurement, molecular structure, reactivity, and organic chemistry; applications to textiles, environmental, consumer, biological, and drug chemistry. Not open to students who have already taken 111 or 103. CHE 110 is recommended. [NS, CPS].
- 110 Introductory Chemistry Laboratory (1:0:3). Designed to acquaint non-science chemistry students with basic laboratory practices. To be taken concurrently with either 103 or 104. Also may accompany 106. Elementary and middle school education students must enroll in special sections. [NS, CPS].
- 111 General Chemistry I (3:3). Fundamental principles of chemistry, including stoichiometry, atomic structure, and states of matter. All students must take 111L concurrently unless they have previous credit for an equivalent course. Pr. one year of high school chemistry. Students who lack high school chemistry should take the sequence 103, 111, 114. [NS, CPS].
- 111L General Chemistry I Laboratory (1:0:3). Laboratory work to accompany 111. The latter course must be taken concurrently. [NS, CPS].
- 114 General Chemistry II (3:3). Continuation of 111 with attention to ionic equilibria, elementary kinetics and thermodynamics, acid-base theory, coordination chemistry, and electrochemistry. Designed primarily for science majors and is the prerequisite to upper level courses in chemistry. All students must take 114L concurrently unless they have previous credit for an equivalent course. Pr. 111, 111L. [NS, CPS].

- 114L General Chemistry II Laboratory (1:0:3). Laboratory work to accompany 114. The latter course must be taken concurrently. Includes semi-micro qualitative analysis and ionic equilibria experiments. Pr. 111L or equivalent. [NS, CPS].
- 205 Introductory Organic Chemistry (4:3:3). Survey of organic chemistry, designed for students whose programs require only one semester in this area. Credit cannot be obtained for both 205 and 351. Pr. 104, 110; or 114, 114L.
- 242 Inorganic Chemistry (2:2). Introduction to descriptive inorganic chemistry, including oxidation-reduction, electrochemistry, acid-base and coordination chemistry. Pr. 114, 114L. Farona, Nile, Walsh.
- 252 Chemistry and the Human Environment (3:3). Study of chemical problems central to current technological, biomedical, and environmental issues. Topics include energy alternatives, food chemicals, environmental chemistry, molecular basis of drug action, and consumer products. Pr. 104, 106, or 114 or permission of instructor.
- 320 Chemistry in Industry (2:2). Broad coverage of the roles played by chemistry, chemists, and chemical engineers in industry, including discussions of management, research, development, production, sales, and patents. Government agencies, economic considerations, professional societies, and employment practices also explored. Some material presented by experts from local industry. Pr. 205 or 352 (the latter may be taken concurrently). (Not offered every year.)
- 331 Quantitative Analysis (2:3). Introduction to the theory and practice of volumetric and gravimetric methods of analysis. All students must take 333 concurrently unless they have previous credit for an equivalent course. Pr. 114, 114L. Herman, Jezorek, Walsh.
- 333 Quantitative Analysis Laboratory (2:0:6). Laboratory work to accompany 331. Pr. 331 concurrently. Both 331 and 333 must be passed in order to obtain credit for either course. Herman, Jezorek, Walsh.
- 351 Organic Chemistry I (4:4). Chemistry of aliphatic and aromatic compounds with attention to reaction mechanisms and synthetic applications, and the application of spectroscopy to structure determination. Pr. 114, 114L. Banks, Barborak, Knight.
- 352 Organic Chemistry II (3:3). Continuation of 351 with attention to alcohols, ethers, aldehydes and ketones, carboxylic acids and derivatives, amines, lipids, carbohydrates, and organic spectroscopy. All students must take 354 concurrently unless they have previous credit for an equivalent course. Pr. 351. Banks, Barborak, Knight.
- 354 Organic Chemistry II Laboratory (1:0:4). Laboratory work to accompany 352. Includes basic techniques of organic laboratory practice plus preparations involving representative reactions. Pr. 352 concurrently. Barborak, Knight, Banks.
- 371 Chemical Literature (1:1). Instruction in use of the literature of chemistry. Reading knowledge of German helpful. Pr. 242, 351.
- 442 Advanced Inorganic Chemistry I (3:3). Modern concepts of chemical bonding and its application to inorganic reactions and periodic relationships. Pr. 242, 461, or 506 (may be taken concurrently). Farona, Nile, Walsh.
- 461 Physical Chemistry I (4:4). Chemical thermodynamics and equilibrium processes covered, including phase equilibria, thermodynamics of solutions and electrochemistry. Pr. MAT 292 and PHY 292. Vanselow, Miller, Rives.
- 462 Physical Chemistry II (3:3). Subject material deals with microscopic world including introductions to quantum mechanics, molecular spectroscopy, statistical thermodynamics, and kinetics. Pr. 461. Miller, Rives, Vanselow.
- 463 Physical Chemistry I Laboratory (1:0:4). Laboratory work related to 461 with emphasis on mathematical treatment of experimental data and communication of results in report form. Pr. 331, 333, 461 (preferably taken concurrently with 462). Rives.
- 464 Physical Chemistry II Laboratory (1:0:4). Additional laboratory work primarily in kinetics and the determination of molecular structure. This is a writing emphasis course. Must be taken concurrently with 462 and 463, Rives.
- 491, 492 Independent Study (1 to 3), (1 to 3). Directed program of independent study and research for the qualified student. Pr. two years of chemistry and permission of department head and instructor under whom student wishes to work.
- 493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p. 320).

*For Advanced Undergraduates
and Graduate Students*

- 501, 502 Chemistry Seminar (0:0), (1:1). Oral reports and discussion of topics from the current literature of chemistry by students, staff, and guest lecturers. Students will audit 501 and receive credit for 502. Pr. 371, senior standing.
- 506 Introductory Physical Chemistry (4:4). Concepts basic to chemical kinetics, equilibrium, energetics, spectroscopy, solution phenomena, electrochemistry, and colloidal behavior with applications to biological systems. Credit for an undergraduate degree cannot be obtained for both 506 and 461. Pr. two semesters of chemistry beyond general chemistry, MAT191, one year of physics. Miller, Rives, Vanselow.
- 531 Instrumental Analysis (3:3). Theory and practice of advanced analytical techniques with emphasis on instrumental methods of analysis. Pr. 331, 333, 352 (may be taken concurrently), PHY 102 or 292. Herman, Jezorek.
- 533 Instrumental Analysis Laboratory (1:0:4). Laboratory work to accompany 531. Pr. 531 concurrently. Herman, Jezorek.
- 536 Computers in Chemistry (3:3). Introduction to analysis of chemical data and control of chemical instruments with digital computers. Designed primarily for chemistry majors but may be taken by other interested science majors. Pr. two semesters of chemistry beyond general chemistry; one semester of calculus; one year of physics; one semester of programming in a higher level language; or permission of instructor. Herman.
- 553 Advanced Organic Chemistry I (3:3). Advanced topics in organic chemistry with special emphasis on reaction mechanisms and stereochemistry. Pr. 352. Banks, Barborak, Knight.
- 556 Biochemistry (3:3). Biochemistry presented from a chemical perspective. Topics covered include the structure of biomacromolecules, enzyme mechanisms, metabolic pathways, and biochemical genetics. Pr. 352; 461 or 506. Banks.

- 570 Advanced Special Topics in Chemistry (1 to 3). Studies at an advanced level dealing with specialized areas of chemistry in which there is special expertise among departmental faculty. Areas of offering to be identified as follows: 570a, Analytical; 570b, Biochemistry; 570c, Inorganic; 570d, Organic; 570e, Physical. Pr. Permission of instructor.
- 581 Synthetic Techniques (2:0:8). Theoretical discussion and laboratory practice in modern methods of synthesis in the areas of organic and inorganic chemistry. Emphasis given to regions of overlap such as organometallic chemistry. Areas covered include high temperature and high pressure reactions, photochemistry, reaction kinetics, inert atmosphere reactions, micro-techniques, and the use of modern instrumentation to determine product structure. Pr. 242, 352, 354, 371. Banks, Barborak, Knight, Nile, Walsh.

For Graduate Students Only

- 604 Advanced Polymer Chemistry (3:3).
- 632 Advanced Analytical Chemistry (3:3).
- 641 Advanced Inorganic Chemistry II (3:3).
- 652 Advanced Organic Chemistry II (3:3).
- 661 Advanced Physical Chemistry I (3:3).
- 662 Advanced Physical Chemistry II (3:3).
- 670 Advanced Special Topics in Chemistry (1 to 6). 670a Analytical, 670b Biochemistry, 670c Inorganic, 670d Organic, 670e Physical.
- 680 Research Problems in Chemistry (1 to 6). 680a Analytical, 680b Biochemistry, 680c Inorganic, 680d Organic, 680e Physical.
- 699 Thesis Research in Chemistry (6).
- 800 Graduate Registration (0).

DEPARTMENT OF CLASSICAL STUDIES

237 McIver Building

Jeffrey S. Soles, Associate Professor and Head of Department

Associate Professor Shelmerdine; Assistant Professors Dix, Parker; Adjunct Assistant Professor Frost; Lecturers Danford, Thurmond, Wharton

The Department of Classical Studies provides a comprehensive approach to the study of the ancient Greek and Roman world. The Department believes that students should have a solid foundation in the language, history, and culture of Greek and Roman civilization. To this end, the program is designed to ensure that all students gain proficiency in the Greek or Latin language, as well as a broad understanding of Classical literature in its cultural and historical context, the influence of Graeco-Roman civilization on the conceptions and values of Western civilization, and the methods of critical inquiry which are central to the discipline of Classical Studies.

The Department offers a wide variety of courses in English on mythology, archaeology, literature and culture, as well as courses in ancient Greek and Latin at all levels. Courses with a CCI prefix require no knowledge of either language; GRK courses require reading of texts in Greek and LAT courses require reading of texts in Latin. The following departmental courses also satisfy AULER categories as designated: CCI 201, 202, 211, 212, 323 (Historical Perspectives on Western Culture); CCI 205, 305, 306, 321, 324, 325 (World Literature).

Students also have an opportunity in the summer to visit Athens, Rome, and other parts of the Classical world, to participate in archaeological excavation, and to earn semester hours of credit through CCI 393, 394, 401, or 450; GRK 393, 394; LAT 393, 394; or through Study Abroad Programs.

CLASSICAL STUDIES MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Required: 122 semester hours

The Department offers a B.A. in Classical Studies, with four distinct concentrations in Greek Language and Literature, Latin Language and Literature, Classical Civilization, and Classical Archaeology. All four concentrations offer a broad liberal arts experience which provides an excellent foundation for a variety of careers including law, business, government, journalism, and teaching.

The Greek Language and Literature and the Latin Language and Literature concentrations are designed to ensure a solid preparation in the chosen language and to acquaint students with those works which form the origin of European literature, history, and philosophy. These concentrations prepare students for graduate work in the Classical languages and literature and for secondary school language teaching.

The Classical Civilization and Classical Archaeology concentrations provide a solid and wide-ranging background for understanding the origin and development of our Western ideas, values, languages, institutions, attitudes, and art. The Classical Civilization concentration is an excellent second major, particularly for those interested in any area of primary or secondary school teaching. The Classical Archaeology concentration is intended especially for students wishing to pursue graduate work in Classical Archaeology. Students interested in other areas of archaeology should also consider the Interdepartmental Program in Archaeology. (See pp.331-332.)

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

24-60 hours above the 100 level distributed as follows in one of the four possible concentrations, and at least a 2.0 GPA for courses in the major:

- 1) Greek Language and Literature
 - a) 15 hours in Greek language above the 100 level
 - b) 6 hours in literature in translation
 - c) 3 hours in Greek archaeology or history
- 2) Latin Language and Literature
 - a) 15 hours in Latin language above the 100 level
 - b) 6 hours in literature in translation
 - c) 3 hours in Roman archaeology or history
- 3) Classical Civilization
 - a) 12 hours in either Greek or Latin above the 100 level
 - b) 12 hours in civilization (literature in translation, archaeology, ancient history)
- 4) Classical Archaeology
 - a) CCI 211, CCI 212 (6 hours)
 - b) 6 additional hours in Archaeology to be chosen from
 - c) 9 hours in classical literature in translation or ancient history from
 - d) 3 hours in either Greek or Latin at the intermediate level (203 or 204)

Under special circumstances and with the permission of the Department Head, some substitutions for required courses may be allowed.

Related Area Requirements

No specific courses required.

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete the 122 semester hours required for degree.

CLASSICAL STUDIES AS A SECOND MAJOR

Required: 24 semester hours.

See the description of major requirements listed above. The Classical Civilization concentration is particularly recommended for students in the Teacher Education program who need a second major and are satisfying their language requirement by taking Greek or Latin. Students seeking Middle Grades certification in Language Arts must also take ENG 321, 322.

CLASSICAL STUDIES MINOR

Required: 15-21 semester hours.

The Classical Studies Minor complements majors in a variety of fields including anthropology, art, English, foreign languages, history, philosophy, and religious studies. Requirements are flexible enough to permit students to develop and extend their major plan of study. The minor consists of 15 to 21 hours in courses above the 100 level to be worked out with the department advisor as best suited to each student's academic program.

TEACHER CERTIFICATION IN LATIN

The Department of Classical Studies cooperates with the School of Education to prepare students for teaching Latin at the secondary level. The aim of the departmental program is three-fold:

- 1) to promote proficiency in Latin by providing courses which focus on grammatical analysis and reading of Latin texts with understanding, and which cover a range of genres and authors;
- 2) to make available a full variety of courses in literature, civilization, and advanced language training to ensure students a broad base of cultural and linguistic experiences;
- 3) to promote an understanding of and appreciation for the Classical foundations of the Western tradition.

Students seeking teacher certification in Latin are required to take a minimum of 27 semester hours distributed as follows:

- 1) 15 hours in Latin above the 100 level.
* 3 hours in Greek may be counted towards this requirement.
- 2) 3 hours in Latin Grammar and Composition (LAT 431)
- 3) 6 hours in Classical Literature in translation
- 4) 3 hours in Classical archaeology or history (Roman recommended)

In addition, students must meet additional requirements in General and Professional Education (see Teacher Education, Chapter 5). For further information concerning these requirements students should consult with their advisor from the Department of Classical Studies.

CLASSICAL CIVILIZATION COURSES (CCI)

Courses in English Translation

(No knowledge of Greek or Latin required.)

For Undergraduates

- 201 Introduction to Classical Civilization: The Greeks (3:3). Introduction to Greek civilization from its beginnings to the Hellenistic age. Lectures and discussion will focus on the development of Greek literature, thought, and art in the context of society. [HP, CHP-CPM].
- 202 Introduction to Classical Civilization: The Romans (3:3). Introduction to Roman civilization from its beginnings to the Roman Empire. Lectures and discussion will focus on the development of Roman literature, thought, and art in the context of society. [HP, CHP-CPM].
- 205 Mythology (3:3). Great myths of the world with emphasis on their literary and artistic representations. Greek and Roman mythologies stressed; Norse and other myths included when possible. Only primary sources read. [WL, CWL].
- 206 Classical Origins of the English Language (3:3). Analysis of Greek and Latin prefixes, stems, and suffixes used in English. Emphasis on the history of beliefs, institutions, and traditions reflected in the Greek and Latin elements.
- 209 The Ancient World (3:3). Early civilizations: Near Eastern, Egyptian, Greek, and Roman to Reign of Constantine. (Same as HIS 220).
- 211 Introduction to Classical Archaeology (Greece) (3:3). Archaeological consideration of the Mycenaean, Archaic, Classical, and Hellenistic periods of Greek civilization. [HP, CHP-CPM].
- 212 Introduction to Classical Archaeology (Rome) (3:3). Archaeological consideration of the Italian Peninsula with emphasis on the Etruscan sites and Rome. [HP, CHP-CPM].
- 305 Classical Tragedy (3:3). Study of Greek tragedians of Athens in the fifth century and their subsequent influence on later literature. Readings from Aeschylus, Sophocles, Euripides, and Seneca. [WL, CWL].
- 306 Classical Comedy (3:3). Study of Greek comedy in the fifth and fourth centuries and its subsequent influence on later literature. Readings from Aristophanes, Menander, Terence, and Plautus. [WL, CWL].
- 312 The Art and Archaeology of Egypt (3:3). Introduction to the archaeology of Egypt, emphasizing the relations between Egypt and the Aegean in the Bronze Age.
- 313 Archaeology of the Aegean (3:3). Archaeology of the Aegean Islands, Crete, the coast of Asia Minor, including Troy, and the mainland of Greece in the Bronze Age.
- 314 Ancient Cities (3:3). Introduction to the great cities of the past, emphasizing the physical design of those cities, especially as it reflects changing political and social structures.
- 321 The Archaic Age (3:3). Study of the Greek Archaic period, from the end of the Homeric Age to the dawn of the Classical era. Focus on literature, art, and religion within their social context. [WL, CWL].
- 323 The World of Alexander the Great. (3:3). An introduction to the Hellenistic period of Greek civilization, emphasizing its art and architecture, its religion and literature in their historical context. [HP, CHP-CPM].
- 324 The Age of Cicero (3:3). Introduction to Roman literature and society in the first century B.C. Focus on the development of the genres of Latin literature and the relationship between politics and literature. [WL, CWL].
- 325 The Age of Augustus (3:3). Introduction to Roman literature and society during the reign of Augustus. Focus on the development of Latin epic poetry, historical writing, and elegy, and the relationship between authors and Emperor. [WL, CWL].
- 351 History of Greece, 2000-31 B.C. (3:3). Mycenaean society, Greek "dark ages," colonization and tyranny, Athens and Sparta, flowering in the fifth and fourth centuries, conquests of Alexander, Hellenistic empires, and the diffusion of Greek civilization. (Same as HIS 351.).
- 353 Athens in the Fifth Century B.C. (3:3). Study of the social and political history of Athens in the fifth century B.C. Pr. 209 or 351 or permission of instructor. (Same as HIS 353.)
- 354 The Roman Republic, 754 B.C.-44 B.C. (3:3). Study of the social and political forces that led to Rome's conquest of the Mediterranean World and of the transformation which world con-

- quest wrought on Rome itself. Topics covered include: the Roman Constitution and politics, the Roman conquest of Italy and then of the whole Mediterranean, and the decline of the Republic. (Same as HIS 354.)
- 355 The Roman Empire, 44 B.C.-337 A.D. (3:3). Survey of politics and society at Rome under the Empire, when Rome dominated Western Civilization. Topics covered include: Augustus and the rise of one-man rule at Rome, the long "Roman Peace" and the civilizing of Europe under the Emperors, the rise of Christianity, and the transformed Empire of Constantine the Great. (Same as HIS 355.)
- 393, 394 Classical Studies Abroad (3:3), (3:3). Extensive reading in Greek and Latin literature in translation, ancient history and archaeology, selected in accordance with student needs. For students participating in foreign study programs. Pr. permission of department.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNICATION AND THEATRE

200 Taylor Building

Robert C. Hansen, Professor and Head of Department

Professors Batcheller, Cook, Glenn, Jellicorse, Smith, Tedford; Associate Professors Behm, Bell, Timorelli, E. Edwards, Fadely, Fragola, Jones, Newton, E. Shroyer, Wren; Assistant Professors Barrett, Boyd, Compton, Frierson, McMullen, Natalie, Paludan, Ross, Wolf; Instructor Etling; Lecturers Burwell, Donaldson, Fore, McCreedy, McDougald, Mihalik, Shackelford, S. Shroyer

Human communication is primarily speech communication. The visual, oral, and aural dimensions of the speech process provide the principal means by which human beings share ideas and feelings. Speech is inquiry, reporting, and persuasion; it is a means of appreciation, entertainment, and artistic expression. The Department of Communication and Theatre offers a full range of courses and degree concentrations in contemporary speech arts and sciences. It is committed to teaching theory through practice. Each of its four divisions operates practicum programs in which academic work is wedded with a variety of University public services and performing arts activities which assist, educate, or entertain over 125,000 persons each year.

The Communication Disorders and Education of Deaf Children Division provides opportunity for study of language and the analysis and improvement of speech and hearing disabilities through its offerings in Speech-Language-Pathology, Audiology, and Education of the Deaf. It conducts research through its Speech Science Laboratory and The Center for Auditory Research; aids students, faculty, and the public through the University Speech and Hearing Center and the Augmentative Communication Systems Laboratory; and assists clinics of area public schools, hospitals, and other human service agencies.

The Communication Studies Division provides opportunity for study of the theory and practice of interpersonal, organizational, and public communication, including group communication, debate and public address, communication theory, political communication, public relations, and oral interpretation. It offers specialized training through the Audio Tape Laboratory, and assists community and state institutions in planning programs involving interpersonal, organizational, and public communication.

The Broadcasting/Cinema Division provides opportunity for study of the conditions, theories, and practices of radio, television, and film production and performance. Studio and practicum projects are part of the curriculum as well as local media internships for which students can apply. Radio and video co-curricular activities permit supervised experience as crew members, writers, and directors.

The Theatre Division provides opportunity for exploring the many facets of play production theory and practice and the development of skills in acting, directing, design, technical theatre, and child drama. Students, majors and non-majors, working under professional guidance, supply the energy and talent of the Division's extensive production programs: The UNCG Theatre, Studio Theatre, Workshop Theatre, Summer Theatre Program, and the North Carolina Theatre for Young People.

The divisions of the Department of Communication and Theatre provide numerous interdivisional services which strengthen the Department's degree programs. For example, members of the Communication Disorders faculty are available for clinical evaluation and treatment of actors' and broadcasters' individual speech and language problems. Voice and articulation performance courses, offered to all students by the Communication Studies Division, are scheduled with special sections for theatre students. Theatre and Broadcasting/Cinema faculty and students work together in both classes and in performance projects. An interdivisional Communication Education Program provides supervision for the teacher certification curricula in Theatre Arts and in Speech Communication.

Liberal education courses and degrees in the Department of Communication and Theatre fill the needs of students who desire to think critically and creatively and to communicate clearly and convincingly. Professional courses and degrees fill the needs of students preparing for careers as speech-language pathologists and audiologists; as broadcasters or filmmakers; as theatre directors, designers, or actors; or as teachers in the areas of education of the deaf, communication studies, or theatre arts. Special courses and sequences fill the needs of students interested in communication preparatory to careers in law, public relations, applied communications, and the ministry. Graduate programs (for details see the Graduate School Catalog) provide opportunities for advanced study, research, and performance in the fields of communication disorders, communication studies, broadcasting/cinema, and theatre.

The requirements stated below for admission to Departmental majors, concentrations, and options are minimum requirements, and marginal compliance with them does not automatically imply admission.

ADMISSION TO CLOSED COURSES

- a. Due to enrollment pressures and limitations on space in certain impacted courses, the Department adheres to the following policy governing enrollment in its courses:
 - (1) Students may be dropped from impacted courses even though they may have successfully completed the registration process. This process will conform to the priority system established below.
 - (2) Students not attending the first day of class may be dropped from the course.
- b. Priority for inclusion in a course will be based on the following criteria, in any order deemed appropriate:
 - (1) Successful prior completion of all prerequisite coursework.
 - (2) Graduate or Special Graduate student standing.
 - (3) Total number of semester hours earned toward graduation, not including hours currently being attempted.
 - (4) Overall GPA.
- c. Only those students who attempted preregistration will be considered for late placement in closed courses.

CRITERION FOR PROGRESSION IN THE MAJOR

Only grades of "C-" or better taken in Communication and Theatre courses will count towards completion of a major in the Department.

DRAMA MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Required: 122 semester hours.

The B.A. in Drama provides a broadly based approach for students who wish to emphasize theatre arts as an undergraduate major. A strong core of courses in stagecraft, acting, directing, playscript analysis, and theatre history is supplemented by additional work in performance, technical theatre, and cognate theatre studies. B.A. Drama Majors have plentiful opportunities to develop analytical, communication, and presentational skills highly valued in university graduates; and B.A. Drama majors undertake work preparatory to teacher certification, nonspecialized employment in theatre and media, and graduate studies in theatre.

B.A. drama students are required to complete one production assignment each semester during the freshman year and a total of six more during the sophomore, junior, and senior years. COM 150 credit is granted for these assignments (see below).

The B.A. in Drama major may also include a program for certification in theatre arts as described below.

In accordance with Department policy, only grades of "C-" or better will count for credit in the major.

All Theatre Division majors are expected to read and abide by the policies published in the Theatre Division student handbooks, available by mail or in Taylor Building, Room 202.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

36-60 semester hours in the major above the 100 level.

1. COM 106, 122, 123, and eight semester hours of 150 over four years. Junior transfer students must complete a minimum of four semester hours of COM 150. Senior transfer students must complete a minimum of two semester hours of COM 150
2. COM 201, 251, 541, 580, 581, and 582
3. One Performance course selected from COM 112A, 252T, 320, 520, and 542
4. Two Technical Theatre courses selected from COM 365, 375, and 376
5. One course selected from COM 221, 301, 579, 586, 596, 597, and 598
6. Six semester hours from categories 3 and/or 4 and/or 5 and/or COM 253, 366, 522, 533

Teacher Certification Requirements for Theatre Arts Certificate

(See Teacher Education in Chapter 5 for full explanation.)

Students in the Theatre Arts certification concentration must have and maintain a 2.7 GPA for all work attempted for admission to teacher education and for acceptance into student teaching.

1. COM *105, 112, *121, 122, 123, four semester hours of 150: 1 sh each in scenery, lights, costumes/makeup, management, 251, 252T, 301, *320, 328, 454, 541, 542, 580, 581, 582, and 596
2. HEA 201
3. *Social and Behavioral Sciences requirement must include one semester each from two of the following: anthropology, sociology, economics, geography, history, or political science
4. *PSY 221
5. CEF 381, PSS 450, 465, 470; LIS 547
6. At least four pre-student teaching experiences and evidence of teaching readiness are required. These are based upon evaluations done by the Department.

Students may seek endorsement in Speech Communication simultaneously by the addition of nine semester hours as follows: COM 207, 231, and 530.

Students may seek certification in Speech Communication simultaneously by the addition of twenty-one semester hours as follows: COM 205, 207, 231, 340, 530, and two from COM 331, 502, 531, or 532. Please note: program suspended for 1993-94.

(* These requirements may be selected to satisfy College of Arts and Sciences and AULER liberal education requirements.)

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete the 127 semester hours required for degree.

DRAMA MAJOR (Bachelor of Fine Arts)

Required: 124 semester hours

The B.F.A. Drama Major emphasizes that theatre is a discipline involving three basic factors: talent, study, and practice. Only students who show evidence of talent and who work to perfect it through classroom study combined with practical application will be continued in the major. Transfer students from programs other than the B.F.A. should note that this program is concerned with the maturation of the young artist. Thus enrollment for six semesters is required even when study is begun in the junior year. Transfer students who successfully remain in the B.F.A. curriculum must, therefore, spend a minimum of three years in residence at UNCG to complete the B.F.A. degree. There are no exceptions to this requirement. Students select from two concentrations: the B.F.A. in Acting or the B.F.A. in Design and Technical Theatre. Provisional admission is granted to the B.F.A. Acting Concentration students for their first year in the program. Retention beyond the first year in the B.F.A. in Acting is based upon application, audition, and selection in the spring semester of the provisional year. Provisional admission is granted to B.F.A. Design and Technical Theatre Concentration students for the first year in the program. Retention beyond the first year in the B.F.A. in Design and Technical Theatre is based upon application, review of project work, and selection in the spring semester of the provisional year. In both B.F.A. concentrations, the total development of each student is continually under evaluation and is formally examined by the theatre faculty at least once each year. Continuance in the program depends upon the student's attitude, discipline, and achievement.

As part of developing the appropriate professional understanding, B.F.A. Acting students must complete one production assignment each semester in the freshman year and a total of six more assignments during their sophomore, junior, and senior years. Four of the B.F.A. Acting students' production assignments must be in technical-related activities. B.F.A. Design and Technical Theatre students must complete one production assignment each semester in the freshman year and a total of six more assignments during the sophomore, junior, and senior years. B.F.A. transfer students are required to complete one production assignment each semester in the program. COM 150 and COM 450 credit is earned for these production assignments as noted in the outline of requirements stated below.

B.F.A. Acting and Design and Technical Theatre majors are required to complete an internship. The internship may be fulfilled in the UNCG Summer Theatre Program, in the North Carolina Theatre for Young People touring company, or in an intensive, off-campus theatre program that is approved by the Theatre Division faculty. Transfer students should make arrangements to schedule the internship as soon as possible. Internships must be approved prior to completion of the internship duties.

In accordance with Department policy, only grades of "C-" or better will count for credit in the major.

All Theatre Division majors are expected to read and abide by the policies published in the Theater Division student handbooks, available by mail or in Taylor Building, Room 202.

All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) (45 hours)

All students in this program must meet AULER requirements.

4. Completion of approved internship.

Related Area Requirements

ART 120, 140, 220, and 221.

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete the 124 semester hours required for degree.

SPEECH COMMUNICATION MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Required: 122-123 semester hours

Speech Communication is offered in three concentrations:

Communication Studies provides focus on the theory and practice of interpersonal, organizational and public communication. Two special options are available: (1) COMMUNICATION STUDIES, and (2) ORGANIZATIONAL COMMUNICATION.

The COMMUNICATION STUDIES OPTION is designed for students interested in the liberal arts study of communication theory and practice including rhetorical and communication theory, history and criticism of public address, political communication, and interpersonal communication. This option is flexible to prepare students for graduate study and a variety of communication-oriented professions.

The ORGANIZATIONAL COMMUNICATION OPTION concentrates on the study of communication theory and practice with specific application to organizational and public relations contexts. Students in the organizational communication option should be planning a professional career in a corporate or nonprofit environment.

General Speech is a special, interdivisional degree concentration which affords students an opportunity to develop a major that combines courses from two or more of the Department's Divisions. The degree option is intended for gifted students whose interests would not be easily accommodated by pursuing a degree in only one division.

Speech Communication Teacher Certification leads to North Carolina teacher certification in speech communication at the secondary level. Please note: program suspended for 1993-94.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

COMMUNICATION STUDIES CONCENTRATION

1. ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

- a. Students must be formally admitted to the Communication Studies Division to pursue a major. Only students with formal, written acceptance will be permitted to remain in those upper division courses so specified in section (e) below. Non-majors who wish to take these courses may seek permission from the instructor, but may not use those courses for a Communication Studies major without proper admission.

- b. Applicants to the options in Communication Studies and Organizational Communication will be reviewed in light of the following criteria:
 - (1) Completion of at least 1 semester at UNCG,
 - (2) Completion of at least the following core courses or their equivalents with grades of "C-" or better: COM 105, 106, 112; and
 - (3) A GPA of at least 2.50.
 - c. The stated requirements for admission are minimum ones, and simple compliance with them does not automatically imply admission. In all cases, admission is competitive and limited by space available in the program.
 - d. Students seeking admission to the Division as majors should proceed as follows:
 - (1) Check to see that they meet the minimum requirements as described in section (b) above;
 - (2) Secure an official transcript from the Office of the Registrar;
 - (3) Secure an application form from the Office of Academic Advising or from the Division Office in 102 Ferguson building; and
 - (4) Deliver both the completed application form and the official transcript to the Division Office in Ferguson 102.
 - (5) In some cases the Division may require additional information or an interview, so the application process should be initiated well in advance of registration.
 - e. Permission of the Division is required to enroll in COM 331, 342, 344, 345, 412, 413, 420, 502, 514, 530, 531, 538, 560, and 562. Students enrolled in these courses without permission are subject to removal.
2. CRITERIA FOR CONTINUING IN THE COMMUNICATION STUDIES DIVISION
- a. Maintaining the 2.5 minimum GPA;
 - b. Demonstrating high quality oral and written communication skills in all dealings with the Division; and
 - c. Complying with all University regulations including the Academic Honor Code as well as policies and procedures developed by the Division or Department.
3. MAJOR REQUIREMENTS

MEDIA STUDIES MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Required: 122 semester hours

Media Studies is offered in three concentrations:

Media Production concentrates on the conditions, principles and practices of broadcasting and film. It is a professional program that provides selected skills development within the context of a strong liberal arts degree. It is intended for the person planning a career in radio, television or film production.

Broadcast Journalism concentrates on developing awareness and understanding of electronic communication within the context of a strong liberal arts degree. It is intended for the person interested in developing selected skills for a career in "on air" or "on-camera" positions in broadcasting.

Broadcasting and Cinema Studies concentrates on the study of the conditions, principles and practices of broadcasting and film within the context of a strong liberal arts education. It is appropriate for those interested in a general knowledge of the field or who are interested in writing.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

 - (1) COM 106, 203, 310 or 515, 312 or 532, 380, xxx or 508, 517 or 518 or 521
 - (2) Other courses from among: COM 302, 303, 310, 312, 333, 381, xxx, 508, 515, 516, 517, 518, 521

2. ADMISSION PROCEDURES FOR THE MEDIA STUDIES MAJOR

- a. A student must be formally admitted to the Media Studies Major to take courses in one of the Broadcasting/Cinema Division's concentrations.
- b. Each year 30 students are admitted to the Media Production concentration and 30 to the Broadcast Journalism concentration. Admission to the Broadcasting and Cinema Studies concentration is unlimited.
- c. The selection process is made at the end of each spring semester. Applicants obtain admission request forms from the Broadcasting/Cinema Division office in Carmichael Building. The foundation courses (see below), including COM 171, 172 and ENG 101 must be completed prior to or during the spring semester at the end of which application will be made. Completed applications received by Reading Day will be considered for admission beginning with the following Fall semester. Applications received after Reading Day of the spring semester will not be processed until the spring semester of the following year.
- d. Since admission to the Media Studies Major requires a probationary year at UNCG before full admission to the degree program, transfer students will usually require a minimum of six semesters at UNCG to complete degree requirements.

3. MEDIA STUDIES ADMISSION CRITERIA

- a. Admission to the Broadcast Journalism and Media Production concentrations is competitive. Compliance with the minimum criteria does not guarantee admission.
- b. Admission to the Broadcasting and Cinema Studies concentration is open to qualified students.
- c. The Broadcasting/Cinema Division reserves the right to refuse admission in cases where additional enrollments would threaten the academic quality of classes or program and in cases where a review of an application suggests that the applicant lacks the ability, background, or intellectual/creative orientation necessary to benefit from the programs provided.
- d. Minimum criteria:
 - (1) for Broadcast Journalism and Media Production concentrations:
 - (a) Minimum OVERALL grade point average of 2.5
 - (b) Completion of ENG 101 and COM 171 and 172, with no grade lower than "C-"
 - (c) Competitive criteria:
 - (60%) OVERALL grade point average
 - (40%) Grade point average in COM 171, 172, and ENG 101
 - (2) for Broadcasting and Cinema Studies concentration:
 - (a) Minimum OVERALL grade point average of 2.2
 - (b) Completion of ENG 101 and COM 171 and 172, with no grade lower than "C-"

4. CRITERIA FOR CONTINUING IN THE MEDIA STUDIES MAJOR

- a. Initial admission to a Media Studies concentration does not guarantee the student the right to complete the degree program.
- b. Continuation in a Media Studies concentration is contingent upon the following requirements:
 - (1) Maintenance of the current minimum overall GPA
 - (2) Demonstration of high quality oral and written communication
 - (3) Adherence to all building and equipment policies and procedures
 - (4) Professional treatment of Divisional equipment and prompt payment of any charges assessed for equipment damage

(5) Compliance with all University regulations including the Academic Honor Code

5. ADDITIONAL MEDIA STUDIES REGULATIONS

- a. Students will not be allowed to register for any production courses in the Division without formal, written admission to either the Broadcast Journalism or the Media Production concentration. Students who appear to be following one of the Media Studies curricula but who have not been formally admitted may be prohibited from taking additional course work within the Division.
- b. Transfers from one concentration to another concentration, may be made only if (1) the applicant meets the competitive criteria for the concentration to which transfer is requested, (2) there is an opening in the concentration to which transfer is requested, and (3) the transfer is granted in writing by the Broadcasting/Cinema Division.
- c. In accordance with Department of Communication and Theatre policy, only courses completed with the grade of "C-" or higher may count towards fulfilling requirements for the Media Studies Major.
- d. Although production courses are limited to majors only, Broadcasting/ Cinema foundation courses (COM 171 and 172) and Broadcasting/Cinema courses meeting AULER and College of Arts and Sciences requirements are open to any student in the University on a space available basis.

SPEECH PATHOLOGY AND AUDIOLOGY MAJOR (Bachelor of Science)

Required: 122 semester hours

The Speech Pathology and Audiology Major provides a preprofessional program for those preparing for graduate study in speech-language pathology or audiology. The major as outlined is designed to satisfy some requirements for the N.C. license in speech-language pathology or audiology, although no license is awarded until completion of the Master's degree. Instruction is designed to meet American Speech-Language-Hearing Association standards. Transfer students may require an additional semester to complete the undergraduate degree program.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

1. ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

- a. Students must be formally admitted to the Speech Pathology and Audiology Major. Only students with a written acceptance will be permitted to enroll in required courses at the 300 level or above.

- b. Applicants for admission to the Speech Pathology and Audiology major may apply only after completion and/or transfer of 55 semester hours and must apply before enrollment in any required courses at or above the 300 level in the major. Applicants must have an overall grade point average of at least 2.7 to be admitted to the major.
 - c. The grade point average (see b. above) is a minimum requirement and simple compliance does not automatically imply admission. In all cases, admission is competitive and limited by space available in the program.
 - d. Students seeking admission to the Speech Pathology and Audiology Major should proceed as follows:
 - (1) Secure an official transcript(s) of undergraduate coursework completed at colleges and universities other than UNCG, if any;
 - (2) Secure an application from the Division Office at 300 Ferguson Building;
 - (3) Deliver both the transcripts and the application to the Division Office in 300 Ferguson Building.
 - (4) In some cases the Division may require additional information or an interview, so the application process should be initiated immediately after completion of 55 semester hours.
2. CRITERIA FOR CONTINUING IN THE SPEECH PATHOLOGY AND AUDIOLOGY MAJOR
- a. Maintenance of a minimum grade point average of 2.7;
 - b. Minimum grade point average of 2.7 in COM 133, 134, 240 and 241, with no grades in these courses below C-;
 - c. No grades below C- in any course in the major;
 - d. Demonstration of high quality oral and written communication;
 - e. Compliance with all University regulations including the Academic Honor Code.
3. MAJOR CURRICULUM REQUIREMENTS (24-60 semester hours above the 100 level)
- a. All majors are required to take COM 133, 134, 240, 241, 135, 336, 337, 570 and 556; PSY 221
 - b. Students preparing for graduate study in speech-language pathology are required to take COM 338, 339 and 451.
 - c. Students preparing for graduate study in audiology are required to take PHY 305 and two courses from MAT 119, 191A and 292.
 - d. All undergraduate majors must complete 25 supervised observation hours in the University Speech and Hearing Center.

EDUCATION OF THE DEAF MAJOR (Bachelor of Science)

Required: Teacher Education concentration - 128 semester hours

Educational Interpreter concentration - 129 semester hours

See Teacher Education section for Teacher Education admission requirements and second major requirement.

TEACHER EDUCATION OF THE DEAF CONCENTRATION

The Teacher Education of the Deaf concentration provides training at the undergraduate level for a limited number of teachers of deaf and hard-of-hearing children. In addition to courses in the major area, students elect a specialization such as preschool education, elementary education, or secondary (mathematics, history, English, etc.). Internship for teaching takes place at the Central North Carolina School for the Deaf or in area public schools. Transfer students may require an additional semester to complete the undergraduate degree program. Upon completion of the program, students are eligible for certification by the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction (K-12 Hearing Impaired) and the National Council on Education of the Deaf.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

132A McIver Building

James E. Evans, Professor and Head of the Department

Professors Beale, Chappell, Cushman, Darnell, Ellis, Shapiro, R. Stephens; Associate Professors Arndt, Baker, Brewer, Bulgin, Davis, Ferguson, Gibson, Griffith, Kelly, Kirby-Smith, Langenfeld, Lautermilch, R. McDonald, Roskelly, Tisdale, Zacharias; Assistant Professors Hodgkins, May Lombardi, Meyerson, Roberts, Tucker; Visiting Assistant Professors, Dischell, Parker; Adjunct Assistant Professors Mille, Patterson; Lecturers Beatty, Clark, Cline, Covington, Gingher, Huger, G. McDonald, Meyers, Orr, Queen, Rosenblum, Schurer, White, Yardley

The Department of English provides courses in English composition, in major authors, in all major literary periods, in literary theory, in linguistics and rhetoric, in journalism, and in writing fiction and poetry. Senior-graduate courses are available to advanced students, and the graduate program offering the full range of literary and rhetorical studies permits students to pursue work leading to the M.A., M.Ed., and Ph.D. The unusually fine writing program offers courses both to undergraduates seeking the B.A. degree and to graduate students seeking the M.F.A. degree.

ENGLISH MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Required: 122 semester hours.

The English Major participates in a diversified program. After course work that provides an increasingly intensified study of language and literature, English and American and, if one chooses, foreign literature in translation, the English major upon graduation is unusually well qualified to enter any field that does not require previous technical and professional training.

Many students will seek certification to teach, and others will choose to enter graduate schools. English has long been recognized as a desirable major for prelaw and premedical students. It is recommended as a major for students who wish to enter such fields as journalism editing, communications, advertising, and personnel work.

A "Guide for English Majors and Minors," available upon request from the departmental office, provides current advice on planning a major or minor. Additional guidance is available from the Director of Undergraduate Studies in English and from faculty advisors.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

The department offers two major programs leading to the B.A. degree: "English" and "English — High School Teaching." Successful completion of the latter program qualifies the graduate to teach in high schools in North Carolina and other states with which North Carolina has reciprocal certification agreements. A student may declare either major upon matriculation to change one's major to English, or to change from one degree program to the other, one must have permission of the department. (See the Director of Undergraduate Studies in English.)

Additionally, a 24-hour concentration in English meets the requirement of a second major for Elementary and Middle Grades Education (School of Education) and certain other University programs in education which require the second major (consult with your major advisor or with the Director of Undergraduate Studies in English).

For both major programs, a minimum of 27 hours of English above the 100 level is required. The requirement for the major may be met by a grade lower than C-. The courses must be distributed as follows:

For the degree, B.A. in English:

1. ENG 211, 212, 251. These requirements are intended to afford students an overview of English and American literature that will give perspective and the means of more capably choosing courses. The survey courses should be taken in the sophomore and junior years.
2. One course in language (ENG 260, 261, 321, 513) or criticism (303, 531, 549, 551) or creative writing (221, 222, 225, 226, 325, 326) or expository writing and journalism (219, 223, 224, 319, 320, 322, 327, 519, 520, 522, 523, 524).
3. Four courses in literature:
 - Two courses in major authors or genres, one before 1800 (ENG 336, 339, 340, 381, 536, 539, 540, 541, 555, 556, 567), and one after 1800 (349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 358, 382, 534, 548, 557, 558, 559, 563, 568, 582).
 - Two courses in literary movements or period surveys, one before 1800 (ENG 337, 338, 342, 360, 510, 537, 542, 561), and one after 1800 (331, 333, 344, 345, 346, 355, 375, 532, 533, 544, 545, 550, 552).
4. One additional course in English at the 200 level or above.

For the degree, B. A. in English — High School Teaching:

1. English 211, 212, 251.
2. English 321.
3. Four courses in literature:
 - Two courses in major authors or genres, one before 1800 (ENG 336, 339, 340, 381, 536, 539, 540, 541, 555, 556, 567), and one after 1800 (349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 358, 382, 534, 548, 557, 558, 559, 563, 568, 582).
 - Two courses in literary movements or period surveys, one before 1800 (ENG 337, 338, 342, 360, 510, 537, 542, 561), and one after 1800 (331, 333, 344, 345, 346, 355, 375, 532, 533, 544, 545, 550, 552).
4. English 322.

Besides completing the above courses in English, candidates for the teaching certificate must meet additional requirements, including admission to teacher education (end of sophomore year) and to student teaching (junior year), successful completion of the National Teacher's Exam, and course work outside the English Department. For full current information about all requirements see Teacher Education in Chapter 5 and the UNCG Teacher Education Handbook. Note: Admission to teacher education and student teaching in English requires a minimum grade point average of 2.75.

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete the 122 semester hours required for degree.

HONORS in ENGLISH

Requirements

Nine semester hours to consist of:

3 hours of HSS 490 (Honors Thesis)

3 hours of ENG 494 (Honors Seminar)

3 hours of any English Honors course above the 100 level

Qualifications

Enrollment in and successful completion of the University Honors Program

A declared English Major

Maintenance of at least a 3.3 overall GPA

Recognition

The designation "Honors in English" will be printed on the student's official transcript.

ENGLISH MINOR

ENG 101 and 102 satisfy the College Reasoning and Discourse (CRD) requirement and do not, therefore, count as part of the hours for an English minor.

English minors have wide choice among courses offered in fulfilling the minimum of 18 hours in English. They are urged, however, to report to the departmental faculty advisor as early as possible for help in planning a program.

Requirements:

1. Any two courses, to be chosen by the student, from among the following: ENG 201, 202, 211, 212, 251, 252.
2. No more than six hours at the 100 level (but see head note, above); and at least six hours at the 300 level or above.

DEPARTMENT OF GEOGRAPHY

129 Graham Building

John Rees, Professor and Head of Department

Professors Bennett, Hidore; Associate Professor Patton; Assistant Professors Debbage, Lewis; Lecturer Jordan

The Department of Geography offers a program which has three principal objectives; to promote the understanding of the locational dimensions of human behavior in their environmental context; to offer a curriculum where geographic concepts and methods are applied to understanding economic, environmental and social problems at the urban and regional scale; and to promote international understanding through area studies. Thus, the purposes of the program are to contribute an important dimension to the university student's liberal education and to provide practical training in important contemporary areas of concern as well as the background appropriate for certain vocations.

Graduating majors of the department have found careers in business and industry, in urban and regional planning agencies, in departments of federal and state governments, and in teaching. Job titles include: city or regional planner, cartographer, demographer, resource analyst, land or economic developer, location analysts, and teacher. Many graduates find that an undergraduate degree in geography is an excellent foundation for advanced graduate work or professional training in planning, business or law.

Special facilities of the department include fully equipped laboratories in computer cartography, geographic information systems and remote sensing with a variety of other specialized locational analysis programs for both instruction and research.

GEOGRAPHY MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

General Major and Concentrations

- Urban Planning
- Earth Science/Environmental Studies

Required: 122 semester hours.

The Geography Major requires four courses from a selection of more than twenty and requires 24-60 hours in geography above the 100 level. Students may elect a general geography major or they may complete additional courses for a concentration in Urban Planning or Earth Science/Environmental Studies. Students seeking teacher certification should see Teacher Education in Chapter 5. Certification in social studies is available for geography majors.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

A minimum of 24 hours in geography above the 100 level. Only grades of "C-" or higher will count toward completion of the major and concentrations.

Core Courses for Geography Major and Concentrations

1. One course from GEO 321, 322, 323, 521, 522.
2. One course from GEO 103, 111
3. One course from GEO 105, 114, 202, 301, 302, 303, 502, 533.
4. One course from GEO 101, 104, 313, 344, 560.

URBAN PLANNING CONCENTRATION

The inter-regional shift of people and jobs in the United States and elsewhere over the past decades coupled with the movement away from large central cities has increased the need for formal urban and regional planning. Planners are needed in the private sector as well as in state and local governments to provide the appropriate kinds of economic and community development that will ensure a high quality of life in both developed and developing countries. In a growth region like the Southeastern States geographers with a planning background are in increasing demand.

In addition to the core courses in geography listed above, student choosing this concentration are required to take GEO 202, 301, 303, and five courses from the following: GEO 302, 321, 322, 344, 502, 522, 533.

EARTH SCIENCE/ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES CONCENTRATION

A central theme of geography is human interaction with the earth's physical environment. This concentration permits students to apply the basic scientific principles of physical geography, cartography and natural resource analysis to the problem of ensuring a high quality of life through maintenance of the natural processes that support human existence. This concentration also provides training to enhance the employment opportunities of students with a strong interest in environmental assessment and resource evaluation.

In addition to the core courses in geography listed above, required courses for students choosing this concentration are GEO 311, 311L, 314, 314L, and five courses selected from the following: GEO 205, 305, 312, 321, 323, 330, 505, 521.

Majors planning to teach geography / social studies in the secondary schools should plan their programs to include GEO 344 and one of the following courses: GEO 105, 114, or 202.

Related Area Requirements for General Geography Major

No specific additional courses beyond the core are required. Suggested courses in other departments and schools are recommended by the department.

International Studies - See pages 337-341.

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete the 122 semester hours required for degree.

GEOGRAPHY MINOR

Any six courses (18 semester hours) constitute a minor, but the following suggested course sequences will be of interest to certain students pursuing specific majors and with certain career objectives such as planning, environmental conservation, or business:

1. General Geography Minor - two physical, two human, 1 regional, 1 techniques course (for the student desiring a broad range of geography courses to supplement a cognate major).
2. Minor emphasizing Urban Planning - 202, 301, 302, 303, 344, 502, 533.
3. Minor emphasizing Environmental Studies - Six courses from list of courses included under this emphasis. GEO 303 also recommended.
4. Minor emphasizing Geographic Techniques - 105, 321, 322, 323, 521, 522 (for student desiring to acquire geographic research, writing, and cartographic techniques).
5. Geography Minor for majors in the School of Business and Economics - For the major who wishes to acquire knowledge of industrial location, international trade, demographic change and environmental impact: 103, 202, 301, 302, 303, 344.

GEOGRAPHY COURSES (GEO)

For Undergraduates

- 101 The Changing Human Environment (3:3). Changing interaction of man and his environment and the resultant human and economic patterns in various parts of the world.
- 103 Introduction to Earth Science (3:3). Survey of basic concepts and processes integrating the nature of the earth's three primary physical systems: the solid earth and continents; the ocean basins and the oceans; and the atmosphere's weather. [NS, CPS].
- 104 The Geography of the Nonwestern World (3:3). A study of the geographical factors which combine to form the major culture regions of Africa, Asia, and the Soviet Union. [NW, CNW].
- 105 Cultural Geography (3:3). Introductory project-oriented course concerned with the geographical characteristics of population, political systems, settlement patterns and livelihoods. [SB, CSB].
- 111 Physical Geology (3:3). Introduction to nature and origin of minerals and rocks, the dynamic internal processes of the earth responsible for the creation of continents and ocean basins and the external processes which shape world landscapes. Field trips. [NS, CPS].
- 111L Physical Geology Laboratory (1:0:3). Laboratory demonstrations and map interpretation exercises to accompany GEO 111, which must be taken concurrently. Pr. concurrent registration in GEO 111. [NS, CPS].
- 114 The Geography of World Affairs (3:3). Contemporary problems and issues of and between nations of the world as they have evolved in their geographical settings. [NW, CNW].
- 202 World Production and Marketing Systems (3:3). Characteristics and location of the world's resources, theory of industrial location, world patterns of industry. [SB, CSB].
- 205 Environmental Change: Its Nature and Impact (3:3). Human interaction with the physical environment. Environmental impact assessment and land-use planning for control of human use of the environment for the future.
- 301 Urban Patterns (3:3). World urbanism; development, growth, structure, characteristics, and spatial arrangement of cities. [SB, CSB].
- 302 Urban Land Use (3:3). Characteristics, spatial arrangement, and patterns of land uses within cities; techniques of city planning.
- 303 World Population Problems (3:3). Major world population problems, trends, and significant policy and action alternatives for the future. Impact of various geographical factors on problems and trends. [NW, CNW].
- 305 Natural Hazards Assessment (3:3). Nature and geographical distribution of short-lived environmental hazards including earthquakes, hurricanes, floods, volcanic eruptions, and landslides. Factors contributing to increased hazard potential. Alternative human responses to short-lived hazards. Pr. 103 or equivalent.
- 311 Weather and Climate (3:3). Introduction to the nature, origin, processes, and dynamics of the atmosphere. Consideration also of human modification of the atmosphere and of climatic change. Pr. 103 or equivalent. [NS, CPS].

- 311L Climatology Laboratory (1:0:3). Laboratory work to accompany 311. The latter course must be taken concurrently. [NS, CPS].
- 312 Geomorphology of North America(3:3). A survey of the various landscape regions of the North America. Emphasis on the relationships between the geologic, erosional, and climatic processes occurring in each region.
- 313 Natural Resource Regions of North America (3:1:6). Regional natural resource use and associated human interaction with the natural environment. Instruction takes place during an extended field trip across portions of North America. Pr. Permission of instructor and GEO 103 or 314.
- 314 Physical Geography: Landscape Processes (3:3). Examination of the processes responsible for the development of the earth's varied terrain characteristics. Analysis of environmental problems involving human impact on landscape and river systems. Pr. 103 or equivalent. [NS, CPS].
- 314L Physical Geography Laboratory (1:0:3). Laboratory demonstrations and map interpretation exercises to accompany GEO 314, which must be taken concurrently. Pr. concurrent registration in GEO 314. [NS, CPS].
- 321 Map Design (3:1:6). Lectures provide an introduction to the science of cartography with an emphasis on use of maps as descriptive and analytical tools. Laboratory work is an introduction to map making: drafting, compilation, design, and symbolization.
- 322 Field and Research Techniques (3:3). Practical application of geography emphasizing field techniques of data collection, analysis, and writing.
- 323 Air Photo and Remote Sensing (3:3). Air photograph and map techniques as applicable to both cultural and physical geography. Background information on map and air photo sources, equipment and interpretation methodology useful in making detailed studies of agricultural and urban land utilization, population and settlement distributions, and the patterns of soil, vegetation, hydrology, geology, and topography.
- 330 Elements of Hydrology (3:3). Introduction to the origin, properties, occurrence, circulation of the waters of the earth, including the application of hydrologic techniques for the evaluation of regional water budgets and problems relating to the conservation of water resources. Pr. 103 or 311 or 314, or consent of instructor.
- 333B Experimental Course: The Geography of Russia: Old and New (3:3). Offers an understanding of the implications of recent political, military and economic changes in the former Soviet Union for the social and economic policy and structures of the cities and regions of Russia and its neighboring territories.
- 338 Regions of Latin America (3:3). Geographic distinctiveness of Latin American regions, with an emphasis upon the physical foundation, bases of past development, and recent transformation. Major consideration given to Mexico/Central America, Peru/Bolivia, and Brazil.
- 344 Geography of the United States and Canada (3:3). Study of the human and physical characteristics of the United States and Canada, with emphasis on the former. [SB, CSB].
- 401 Development of Tourism (3:3). Geographic distribution of tourist development with an emphasis on the spatial dimension of origin-destination flows, industrial structure, demand, and supply. Tourism planning and agents of tourism development are stressed. (Same as LES 401.)
- 491 Current Topics in Population (3:3). Multidisciplinary seminar dealing with major topics concerned with national and international issues. May be repeated for credit when topic varies. (Same as SOC 491.) (Not offered every year.)
- 492 Introduction to Broadcast Meteorology (3:3). Basic theories, facts and principles of meteorology and their application to producing and delivering a television weathercast. Pr. permission of instructor. (Same as COM 492.)
- 493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p. 320).

For Advanced Undergraduates
and Graduate Students

- 502 Urban Planning (3:3). Experiences in planning and primary concepts and procedures utilized by planners in city and local government agencies for improving the quality of the urban environment. Pr. 302 or consent of instructor.
- 505 Seminar in Environmental Studies (3:3). Selected topics of current interest in environmental studies. Pr. 305 or 311.
- 521 Advanced Cartography (3:3). Introduction to computer cartography and advanced photographic methods for map production. Design, production, and evaluation of computer and photographically generated maps. Pr. 321 or consent of instructor.
- 522 Seminar in Population and Urban Studies (3:3). Advanced study of population processes and urban concepts from an interdisciplinary viewpoint. Emphasis on accessing and interpreting data from the U.S. census and other sources. Pr. consent of instructor. (Same as SOC 522.)
- 533 Industrial Development: State and Local (3:3). Theories of industrial location; techniques to measure impact of industry on communities; policy and institutional issues related to state and local industrial development.
- 560 Seminar in Regional Geography (3:3). Smaller regions within Latin America, the United States, and Europe as case studies of regionalism and the regional method in geography. Pr. 338 or 344. (Not offered every year.)
- 570 Applied Field Methods in Physical Geography (3:1:6). Application of methods in physical geography. Topics include surveying, stream measurement, dendrochronology, and geomorphological mapping. Extended field trip required. May be repeated as area of world visited changes. Pr. 103 or 314, or consent of instructor.
- 590, 591 Special Problems in Geography (3), (3). Opportunity for advanced students to undertake independent study of field research of special interest. Pr. consent of faculty member with whom student wishes to work and at least 3 hours of previous work in geography. (Not offered every year.)

DEPARTMENT OF GERMAN AND RUSSIAN

337-A McIver Building

Joachim T. Baer, Professor and Head of Department

Professor Newton; Associate Professors Adams, Lixl-Purcell; Lecturers Boissonnault, Jensen, Pynes

The aim of the Department of German and Russian is to convey a deeper understanding for important foreign languages and cultures in the context of a liberal and humanistic education.

The following courses are intended both to impart useful skills and to contribute to the student's intellectual development and aesthetic experience. Language instruction courses provide the students with a basic speaking knowledge and with a reading knowledge that will enable them to inform themselves independently about the life and literature of German- and Russian-speaking countries. More advanced courses emphasize literary study and culture, which are the actual goals of the major in German.

The language laboratory provides the student with the facilities for aural and oral exercises. Cultural material such as film, records, and tapes is coordinated with classroom work. Students may also elect to live in UNCG's International House.

For all interested students a German coffee hour (Kaffeestunde) is held once a week, where students and faculty meet socially to speak German. The UNCG film program provides a German full-length film each month, and several Russian films each semester.

From time to time a UNCG Summer Study Abroad travel program in German-speaking countries is offered. Information on other summer programs abroad is available.

Students who wish to spend their junior year studying any subject at the Universities of Heidelberg, Munich, Mannheim, or with other programs, must have completed intermediate German.

GERMAN MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Required: 122 semester hours.

The German Major, depending on the student's interest and other abilities, may lead into various careers such as teaching, government and international trade. The specialized study of German aims to improve language skills and to convey understanding of German culture, through the study of literature, film and works of German thought.

Students seeking teacher certification should see Teacher Education, Chapter 5.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

24-60 semester hours in German above the 204 level, including at least:

1. Two courses from 210, 301, 302, 307, 311 (at least one from 301, 302).
2. GER 303 and one of the following: GER 304, 315 or 316

3. At least five total courses at the 300 level.
4. At least four total courses involving literature or cultural studies.

NOTE: Courses in German literature or culture in English translation (217, 218, 221, 315, 316) can only be used for Major credit if an appropriate amount of reading is done in German.

Related Area Requirements

Suggested but not required: ART 305; ATY 385, 387, 587; ENG 201, 202, 339, 340; HIS 391, 392, 572, 573; RUS 201, 202, 313, 314, 315, 316; PHI 252, 330.

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete the 122 semester hours required for degree.

GERMAN MINOR

15 hours above German 102, including at least 6 hours at the 300 level. Courses in English translation may not be counted.

RUSSIAN MINOR

15 hours above the 100 level of which the following twelve are compulsory:

RUS 203-204 (3:3)-(3:3).

RUS 305, 306 (3:3), (3:3).

GERMAN COURSES (GER)

Courses Read in English

German literature courses read in English translation are as follows:

- 217, 218 Masterworks of German Literature Read in English (3:3), (3:3).
 221 Germanic Mythology. Readings in English (3:3).
 315, 316 German Civilization. Readings in English (3:3), (3:3).

A full description of the above courses will be found in numerical order in the German courses listed below.

For Undergraduates

- 101-102 Elementary German (3:3)-(3:3). Essentials of grammar, graded reading, vocabulary building. Language laboratory required. German 102 must be successfully completed to receive credit for German 101.
- 101B-102B Elementary German for Business and Economics Majors (3:3)-(3:3). Essentials of grammar and vocabulary with supplementary business vocabulary and reading of business texts. Language laboratory. German 102 or 102B must be successfully completed to receive credit for German 101B.

101R Elementary German Reading (1:1). Optional supplementary reading course at the elementary level for students interested in improving their command of the language. Course meets two hours a week in second half of semester. Pr. concurrent registration in 101.

102R Elementary German Reading (2:2). Optional supplementary reading course at the elementary level for students interested in improving their command of the language. Simple but unedited literary texts used. Course meets two hours a week for the whole semester. Pr. concurrent registration in 102 or permission of instructor.

203 Elementary German (3:3). Continuation of the essentials of grammar begun in 101-102. Language laboratory required. Pr. 101-102. [CFL]

204 Intermediate German Topics (3:3). Reading, composition and discussion, at an intermediate level, based on German texts on various topics. Pr. 101, 102, 203 or equivalent. [CFL]

205, 206 Advanced Intermediate German Topics (3:3), (3:3). Topics will be of a cultural, historical and/or literary nature. The purpose of the course is to improve reading proficiency and introduce students to German-language culture.

- Pr. 204 or equivalent. May be repeated if topics are different.
- 210 Intermediate German. Beginning Conversation (3:3). Introduction to German conversation on an everyday level. Includes some reading as a basis for conversation. Willingness to participate is an essential. Concurrent review of grammar. GER 210 does not satisfy the College foreign language [CFL] requirement. Pr. 101-102.
- 217, 218 Masterworks of German Literature Read in English (3:3), (3:3). Reading and discussion in English translation of some of the best works of German literature. 217 - the Middle Ages, Baroque and Classical Periods, Romanticism, Realism. 218 - Naturalism, Turn of the Century, Expressionism, New Objectivity, parabolic drama, contemporary writers. [WL, CWL].
- 221 Germanic Mythology. Readings in English (3:3). Course taught in translation. Myths of Northern Europe, their main personages and events as preserved in the heroic sagas and epics, the traces of these myths in later literature, in folklore and art, the history of their revival in the nineteenth century (Brothers Grimm, Richard Wagner), the variety of interpretations given to them. [WL, CWL].
- 301, 302 Topics for German Conversation and Composition (3:3), (3:3). For students desiring some proficiency in spoken and written German. Conversation and composition based on various announced topics. Attendance at Kaffeestunde required unless excused by instructor.
- 303 Introduction to German Literary Studies (3:3). Readings from various genres by representative authors of the Age of Goethe, Young Germany, Poetic Realism, Naturalism, and Expressionism, and contemporary literature. Introduction to methodologies of literary analysis. Pr. 204, or equivalent and permission of instructor.
- 304 German Popular Culture. An Introduction (3:3). History and analysis of German popular culture in the age of modernism. Readings and discussions of works by authors such as Spengler, Benjamin, Freud, Bovenschen, Enzensberger, Habermas. Pr. 204 or equivalent and permission of instructor.
- 305, 306 Advanced Topics in German Literature and Culture (3:3). Topics will be of a cultural or literary nature. May be repeated for credit if topics are different. Pr. 204 or permission of the instructor.
- 307 Advanced German Grammar (3:3). Intensive study of German grammar (including features not covered in lower levels of instruction) and of the contrasting structures of German and English. Introduction to reference tools. Pr. two intermediate German courses or equivalent.
- 308 History of the German Language (3:3). Study of major language changes from Indo-European to modern High German, of short texts in Old High and Middle High German literature, and of theories of language change. Pr. two intermediate German courses or equivalent.
- 311 Business German (3:3). Introduction to the special vocabulary and syntax of German as used in business contacts, correspondence and articles. Practice in reading and writing German for business purposes and travel. Pr. 203 or its equivalent.
- 315, 316 German Civilization. DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

219 McIver Building

Steven F. Lawson, Professor and Head of Department

Professors Calhoon, D'Emilio, Link, MacKenzie, Melton, Saab, Schleunes, Schweningen, Trelease; Associate Professors Bilinkoff, Caneva, Cassell, Clowse, Cooley, Floyd, Gordon, Mazgaj, Ruzicka, Thompson; Assistant Professors Enstad, Kriger; Lecturers Conklin, Hatcher, Raley

History, at the most general level, provides students not just with the collective memory of their own national heritage but with an opportunity to gain perspective on this heritage by comparing it with the legacies of other nations and even other civilizations. Courses offered by the History Department, therefore, range from American through European history to histories of non-Western civilizations. In addition to giving students a knowledge of their own national development and a comparative perspective from which to evaluate it, history is designed to produce an awareness of the circumstances surrounding change and continuity over time and how both alter the quality of human life. This knowledge is important not only because human beings have difficulty in knowing where they are unless they know where they have been, but also because, in Santayana's words: "Those who cannot remember the past are condemned to repeat it."

The History Major prepares students for career opportunities in a wide range of employment, where liberally educated minds can be turned to fruitful account. It offers an excellent general background for later, more specialized studies in fields such as law and journalism. A number of history majors go on to work in public service at the local, state, and federal levels or find employment in those areas of the private sector where a premium is put on a sound general education. Finally, many history majors employ their skills more directly: in the teaching profession (from the primary through graduate school levels), in museums and archives, or in the expanding field of historical preservation work.

The department offers programs leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree in history, the Master of Arts in history, and the degree of Master of Education with a concentration in history or social studies.

All 200-level courses are open to freshmen; all 300-level courses are open to sophomores; 400- and 500-level courses are open to juniors and seniors.

HISTORY MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Required: 122 semester hours.

Students seeking teacher certification should see Teacher Education in Chapter 5.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

10-60 semester hours above the 100 level, where History is the primary major.

The department divides its undergraduate offerings into three fields (see courses listed below): Western Europe, United States, and the Wider World. For the primary major, the minimum of 30 semester hours must include 12 semester hours at the 200-level with no more than 6 hours in the Western European field; 12 semester hours at the 300-level, and 6 semester hours at the 500-level, which must include HIS 511a, b, or c (Seminar in Historical Research and Writing). To ensure that each major has breadth in his or her program, of the 30 semester hour minimum a student must take at least 6 hours from each of the three fields (Western Europe, United States, Wider World).

For the second major, of the 24-semester hour minimum, a student must take at least 6 hours from each of the three fields. Furthermore, at least 6 hours of the 24-semester hours minimum must be taken at the 500-level.

Field I: Europe

220, 221, 222, 223, 251, 252, 311, 315, 349, 351, 353, 354, 355, 357, 358, 360, 363, 364, 365, 366, 368, 369, 371, 373, 374, 375, 376, 380, 391, 392, 393, 397, 398, 510, 511b, 541, 542, 544, 560, 562, 563, 564, 567, 571, 574.

Field II: United States

211, 212, 301, 302, 328, 329, 330, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 343, 344, 347, 359, 502, 505, 511a, 512, 515, 517, 518, 520, 522, 524, 526, 530, 545a, b, 549, 550.

Field III: Wider World

203, 204, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 239, 240, 303, 304, 307, 308, 320, 321, 361, 370, 377, 378, 379, 381, 383, 384, 385, 386, 389, 508, 511c, 538, 540, 575, 577, 587, 588.

Other (individual study courses for the most part; will vary according to subject taught each time): 305, 390, 401, 402, 493

Related Area Requirements

Because history is closely related to many other disciplines, we strongly recommend that history majors consult their advisors about using their liberal education requirements and electives to build a coherent series of cognate courses. Students interested in the various national histories may wish to pursue language and literature courses in the same area; students interested in social and institutional history may wish to pursue courses in the social sciences such as anthropology, sociology, political science, and economics; students interested in cultural and intellectual history will profit by work in philosophy, religious studies, and art and music history.

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete the 122 semester hours required for degree.

HISTORY MINOR

The History Minor complements majors in a variety of fields, including English, the languages, and the other social sciences. Requirements are flexible to permit students to select courses with the help of their major departments, which will develop and extend their individual interests as expressed in their majors. The minor shall comprise 15-21 semester hours in history; it may include two courses at the 100-level. If six hours of Western Civilization are taken with a team or panel which includes a member of the History Department, three hours may be counted toward the History Minor. Students should register for the History Minor in the History Department Office, 219 McIver Building.

Topics include an examination of Hispanic democracy, the evolution of the military, and land tenure. Seminar format. May be repeated once for credit when topic varies. Pr. one course in Latin American history or consent of instructor.

- 510 Historiography (3:3). History of historical writing from Old Testament times to 19th century, with some attention to the philosophy of history and the development of the historical profession. Readings in major historians from Herodotus to Ranke.
- 511a,b,c Seminar in Historical Research and Writing (3:3), (3:3), (3:3). Locating and using historical source materials, written and oral, published and unpublished. 511a: American; 511b: European; and 511c: Wider World. Required of history majors. Pr. permission of instructor.
- 512 The Preservation of the American Past (3:3). A history of America's past through museums (indoor and outdoor); collections and their interpretation; exhibitions and park and wilderness areas. Gordon.
- 515 American Diplomatic History: The Twentieth Century (3:3). Emphasis on most important crises and making of basic policy decisions from Spanish American war to present. D'Emilio.
- 517 American Economic History: Colonial Times to 1865 (3:3). Evolution of the American economy through the Civil War. Emphasis on sources of economic growth and economic welfare. Pr. ECO 201 or consent of instructor. Same as ECO 517. Snowden.
- 518 American Economic History: 1865 to Present (3:3). Evolution of the American economy from the Civil War to the present. Emphasis on economic performance through time measured against the goals of full employment, price stability, and rapid growth. Pr. ECO 201 or consent of instructor. Same as ECO 518. Snowden.
- 520 Southern History: Selected Topics (3:3). Selected topics in the history of the American South from the colonial origins to our time. Examples include politics, education, economic development, reform, race, and gender. May be repeated once for credit when topic varies.
- 522 Early American History: Selected Topics (3:3). Varying topics in early American history including settlement, economic development, Puritanism, the Great Awakening, slavery ethnicity, and pre-Revolutionary politics. May be repeated once for credit when topic varies.
- 524 Twentieth Century U.S. History: Selected Topics (3:3). Varying topics in twentieth century U.S. history including Progressive Era, World War I, the 1920s, the Great Depression and New Deal, World War II, McCarthyism, Civil Rights Movement, Vietnam War, the 1960s. May be repeated once for credit when topic varies.

526 The Civil War and Reconstruction: Selected Topics (3:3). Causes of the Civil War. Military events and developments on the home front in wartime, North and South. Reconstruction policy in Washington and its implementation in the South. May be repeated once for credit when topic varies.

530 History of Sexuality: Selected Topics (3:3). Intensive exploration of critical themes in the history of sexuality, including such issues as fertility control, sexual identity, and sexual politics. May be repeated once for credit when topic varies. Pr. for undergraduates, HIS 359 or the permission of the instructor. D'Emilio.

538 South America (3:3). A comparative study of the political and economic history of select countries. Emphasis on the variety of the Latin American experience; similarities and differences among the republics. Concentration on late nineteenth century to 1974. Seminar format. Pr. one course in Latin American history or consent of instructor.

540 Middle America (3:3). An investigation into the history of Mexico and Central America. Emphasis on the political and economic developments in Mexico, 1876-1976, with special attention to the Revolution, and on the late nineteenth century to 1979 in Central America. Seminar format. Pr. one course in Latin American history or consent of instructor.

541 Ancient World: Selected Topics (3:3). Varying topics in ancient Near Eastern, Greek, and Roman history, including politics and public rituals, patterns of social organization, ancient slavery, cross-cultural interactions. May be repeated once for credit when topic varies.

542 Middle Ages: Selected Topics (3:3). Varying topics in medieval culture and society chosen from the broad categories of political, social, economic, intellectual, or religious history. May be repeated once for credit when topic varies.

544 Early Modern Europe: Selected Topics (3:3). Varying topics in early modern European history, including Renaissance cities, Protestant Reformation, Catholic Reformation, court cultures, impact of printing, gender and identity and the Age of Discovery. May be repeated once for credit when topic varies.

545a,b Southern History and Southern Material Culture in a Museum Context (3), (3). Combination of southern history and material culture with a museum practicum. Offered each summer at the Museum of Early Southern Decorative Arts in Winston-Salem. Students selected by individual application. Pr. consent of instructor. Gordon.

549 American Social History: Family and Religion (3:3). American social history from the eve of colonization to Reconstruction, the family and communal organization of early American society, and the assumptions about human nature and destiny underlying culture and change.

550 American Social History: Women and Work (3:3). American social history from Reconstruction to the present. The ways biology, work, and culture have defined social roles, shaped values, and dictated political strategies.

560 Nineteenth-Century Europe: Selected Topics (3:3). Selected topics address comparative political, social, and economic development of major European states and changing power relationships from the defeat of Napoleon to the end of the First World War. May be repeated once for credit when topic varies.

562 Twentieth Century Europe: Selected Topics (3:3). Topics in 20th century European history including World War I, its impact on European thought and culture, the origins of World War II, the movement for European Unity, the Cold War. May be repeated for credit when topic varies.

563 Early Modern England: Selected Topics (3:3). Varying topics in early modern British history, including the Protestant Reformation, political revolutions and economic and social change. May be repeated once for credit when topic varies.

564 Modern Britain: Selected Topics (3:3). Varying topics in modern British history such as the industrial revolution, parliamentary reform, loss of one empire and the creation of a second, World War I and II. May be repeated once for credit when topic varies.

567 French History: Selected Topics (3:3). Study of specific themes and/or problem areas in French History. May be repeated once for credit when topic varies. Mazgaj.

- 571 Modern European Thought: Selected Topics (3:3). Study of selected themes and/or problems in European intellectual and cultural history. May be repeated once for credit when topic varies.
- 574 Modern Germany: Selected Topics (3:3). Varying topics in modern German history including the Third Reich, Germany during World War I, Bismarckian Germany, ideology in Germany. May be repeated once for credit when topic varies.
- 575 Modern Russian History: Selected Topics (3:3). Varying topics in modern Russian history, including "Great Reforms," industrialization, revolutionary movement, Marxism-Leninism, tsarist and Soviet foreign policy, Soviet politics, post-World War II changes, Gorbachev era, and end of Soviet Union. May be repeated once for credit when topic varies.
- 577 Eastern Europe: Selected Topics (3:3). Varying topics in modern east European history including partitioned Poland and national reawakening, the Czechs, Balkan nationalism, modern Serbian nationalist groups such as "The Black Hand." May be repeated once for credit when topic varies.
- 587 Southern African Kingdoms, 1780-1897 (3:3). The rise and decline of African nations in nineteenth-century southern Africa: state formation, economics and social change; historical methodology and the use of oral sources.
- 588 East Asian History: Selected Topics (3:3). Varying history in East Asian history: a detailed examination of specific social, economic, political and intellectual facets of Chinese, Korean and Japanese history. May be repeated once for credit when topic varies.
- 589 Experimental Course: Topics in the History of Sexuality (3:3). An exploration of major issues in the history of sexuality. Emphasis on U.S. and modern Europe. Topic may vary from year to year. May be repeated once for credit. Pr. 359 or permission of instructor.

For Graduate Students Only

- 601 Seminar In European History (3:3).
- 602 Seminar in European History (3:3).
- 609 Colloquium in American History before 1865 (3:3).
- 610 Colloquium in American History since 1865 (3:3).
- 611 Seminar in American History (3:3).
- 612 Seminar in American History (3:3).
- 621 Colloquium in European History before 1800 (3).
- 622 Colloquium in European History since 1815 (3).

DEPARTMENT OF MATHEMATICS

383 Bryan Building

Paul F. Duwall, Professor and Head of Department

Professors Hildebrandt, Posey (Emeritus), Sher, J. Vaughan; Associate Professors Church, Gentry, Herr, Kissling, Long, Ludwig; Assistant Professors Blanchet-Sadri, Briner, Byrd, Cooper, Landman, Lea, Love, T. Vaughan; Instructors Griffin, Kilgariff; Lecturers Bradley, Carter, Cromartie, Keith, Koehler, Montgomery, O'Connor, Sallez, Sen, Shelton, Tennant, Weigel

The Department of Mathematics offers undergraduate programs leading to the B.A. and B.S. degrees in Mathematics and the B.S. degree in Computer Science. It also offers graduate programs leading to the M.A. or M.Ed. degrees in Mathematics (with specialities available in mathematics, computer science, or statistics) and the Certificate of Advanced Study (sixth-year program).

Mathematics and Computer Science are excellent majors for the student whose immediate objective is to acquire a strong liberal arts education. The goal of all of the Department's programs is to produce students who are both technically competent and sufficiently well grounded in theory that they can contribute to fundamental research in their chosen specialty. To give a professional direction to the student's liberal arts education, the mathematics major may elect a concentration in statistics or computer science, or seek secondary teacher certification. (Students seeking secondary teacher certification should see the Teacher Education chapter of this catalog.) The Department of Mathematics can also help students design a plan of study emphasizing special interests, such as applied mathematics or computer systems analysis.

There are many opportunities for the undergraduate majors in the mathematical sciences in industry, government, business, and secondary school teaching. An undergraduate major in the mathematical sciences also provides excellent preparation for graduate studies in many areas, including actuarial sciences, computer science, economics, engineering, law, mathematics, operations research and statistics. The majors can be specialized to allow preparation for any of these goals.

The department offices, classrooms, and study areas are located in the Bryan Building. Students have access to computing facilities including personal computer laboratories, workstations, and VAX minicomputers. The campus is fully networked locally. The University is a member of the state-wide computer network LINCnet as well as the international networks BITnet and Internet.

MATHEMATICS MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science)

Required: 122 semester hours.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

The mathematics major must complete the mathematics core courses and additional courses as specified below, and must maintain a grade point average of at least 2.0 in MAT/CSC/STA courses required for the major.

NOTE: For purposes of identification, the courses offered by the Department of Mathematics are listed under three headings: Computer Science, Mathematics, and Statistics.

Mathematics Core Courses

MAT 191A, 292, 293, 311, 340, 394 and two 500-level MAT/CSC/STA courses other than MAT 503, 504, 505, 593, 594, STA 571.

Requirements for the Bachelor of Arts

The mathematics core courses and at least six additional hours in MAT/CSC/STA courses above the 100 level, not to include MAT 220, 301, 302, 303, 304, 503, 504, 505, 593, 594, STA 571.

Requirements for the Bachelor of Science

The mathematics core courses and at least 12 additional hours in MAT/CSC/STA courses above the 100 level, not to include MAT 220, 301, 302, 303, 304, 503, 504, 505, 593, 594, STA 571.

COMPUTER SCIENCE CONCENTRATION

Students majoring in mathematics may elect to concentrate in computer science. Students seeking this concentration must satisfy the requirements for the B.S. degree and must include in their program: CSC 137, 236, 261, 336, 543, 544, 553, 561, MAT 251.

STATISTICS CONCENTRATION

Students majoring in mathematics may elect to concentrate in statistics. Students seeking this concentration must satisfy the requirements for the B.S. degree and must include in their program: CSC 137, STA 351 (or 551), 352 (or 552), 573, 574, an approved course in analysis, and two additional statistics courses at the 200 level or above chosen with the advice and consent of the Department of Mathematics.

Secondary Teacher Certification

Students seeking secondary teacher certification must satisfy the requirements for the B.A. or B.S. degree and must include in their program: CSC 137 or 236; CSC 342 or MAT 390; STA 271 or 351; MAT 504, 505, 513; one course chosen from: MAT 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 531, 540, 595, 596.

MATHEMATICS MINOR

The minor in mathematics consists of at least 15 hours of work in the department, to be arranged in consultation with an advisor and with 12 semester hours in courses above the 100 level.

NOTE: All minor programs must be approved by the Department of Mathematics.

COMPUTER SCIENCE MAJOR (Bachelor of Science)

Required: 122 semester hours.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Computer Science Core Courses (Required)

CSC 137, 236, 261, 336, 340, 543, 539 or 553, 561, 562.

Electives (three required in consultation with an advisor)

Any CSC course numbered 300 or above which is not one of the core courses. Any of MAT 515, 531, 556 not used below as part of the requirements. Any of ISM 400; PHY 512, 513; MAT 532, 541, 542, 545, 546.

Supporting Discipline Courses (Required)

STA 351

Either PHY 291 and 292 or CHE 111, 111L, CHE 114, 114L

One of MAT 515, 531, or 556

Students must maintain a grade point average of at least 2.0 in the core courses, required electives, and required supporting discipline courses.

COMPUTER SCIENCE MINOR

The minor in computer science consists of at least 15 hours of work, chosen as follows:

1. CSC 137 or equivalent.
2. CSC 236, 261, 336; MAT 251.

NOTE: All minor programs must be approved by the Department of Mathematics. The minor in computer science is designed for nonmathematics majors.

COMPUTER SCIENCE COURSES (CSC)

For Undergraduates

- 136 Introduction to Computer Concepts (3:3). Introduction to computers and computing; emphasis on the logical processes involved in analyzing and planning computer-based solutions to problems. Examples of computer applications, impact on society, ethical issues, hardware and software, introduction to programming. May not be taken for credit by students who have credit for ISM 234.
- 137 Introduction to Computer Programming (3:3). Programming a computer in a high-level language. Emphasis on analysis of problems from various disciplines, problem solving techniques, and programming style. Designed for students with a serious interest in learning to program a computer. Pr. an acceptable score on the mathematics placement test or a grade of at least C in MAT 100.

- 236 Problem Solving and the Computer (3:3). Continuation of 137. Techniques of problem solving and algorithm design emphasizing topdown design, stepwise refinement, and modularization. Advanced programming techniques including files, text processing, pointers, and recursion. Advanced syntax features of the high level language taught in 137. Pr. grade of at least C in 137.
- 237 Programming Language Laboratory (1to 3; 1 to 3). Syntax of a language, including variables, assignments, loops, conditionals, arrays, subroutines, I/O and advanced topics. Language covered announced at preregistration. May be taken twice for credit with permission of the Department Head. Pr. grade of at least C in 137 and 236 or equivalent.

- 261 Introduction to Assembly Language (3:3). Architecture: CPU, memory, I/O devices, twos complements, floating point, psw, machine language. Assembly language: instruction types, registers, addressing data types, arithmetic, instruction format, opcodes, pseudo opcodes, assembler directives, system calls, macros. Pr. grade of at least C in 236.
- 336 Structure and Management of Data (3:3). Introduction to data structures and data management methods including access theory and classical processing schemes. Pr. grade of at least C in 236 and in MAT 251.
- 339 Survey of Programming Languages (3:3). Comparative study of syntactic and semantic features of programming languages, including block-structured, object-oriented, and functional languages. Topics include procedure calls and execution environments, parameter passing, storage allocation, recursion. Pr. grade of at least C in 336.
- 340 Software Engineering (3:3). Practical and theoretical concepts of software engineering using the UNIX and C environment. Pr. grade of at least C in 336.
- 342 Linear and Convex Programming (3:3). Simplex computational procedure for solving the linear programming problem, minimum feasible solution, artificial-basis technique, slack variables, dual problems, perturbation techniques, cycling, parametric objective and dual problems, sensitivity analysis, decomposition algorithm. Pr. grade of at least C in MAT 340.
- 463 Introduction to Data Communication (3:3). What every computer science student should know about data communication. Private leased-line, dial-up communication; modems; protocols; multiplexers; LANs; port-selectors; software/firmware. Pr. grade of at least C in 261 or equivalent plus one year of physical science (preferable physics).
- 539 Introduction to Compiler Design (3:3). Basic techniques of compiler design and implementation: lexical analysis, parsing, code generation. Sizable programming project implementing a compiler for a block structured language with strong typing. Pr. grade of at least C in 261 and 336 or consent of instructor. Successful completion of 553 helpful.
- 543 Numerical Analysis and Computing (3:3). Number systems and errors, solutions of nonlinear and linear systems, eigenvalue problems, interpolation and approximation, numerical differentiation and integration, solution of differential equations. Pr. grade of at least C in 137, MAT 293, MAT 340.
- 544 Numerical Analysis and Computing (3:3). Continuation of 543 with special topics in numerical analysis, emphasis on applied mathematics. Pr. grade of at least C in 543.
- 553 Theory of Computing (3:3). Introduction to mathematical models of computer science including automata theory, formal languages, grammars and parsing, computability, and decidability. Pr. grade of at least C in MAT 251 and programming experience.
- 555 Algorithm Analysis and Design (3:3). Introduction to the mathematical analysis of computer algorithms, correctness, complexity, asymptotic lower bounds; efficient data structures, and prototype algorithms; NP-completeness, approximation algorithms, probabilistic algorithms. Pr. grade of at least C in MAT 340 and CSC 336.
- 559 Artificial Intelligence (3:3). Introduction to the field of artificial intelligence. Topics covered may include: search techniques, game theory, knowledge structure, logic and logic programming, neural networks, natural language, expert systems and problem solving. Pr. grade of at least C in 336.
- 561 Principles of Computer Architecture (3:2:3). Hardware and software components of computer systems, their organization and operations. Topics: comparative instruction set architectures, microprogramming, memory management, processor management, I/O, interrupts, and emulation of processors. Pr. grade of at least C in 261, MAT 251.
- 562 Principles of Operating Systems (3:3). Techniques and strategies used in operating system design and implementation: managing pro-

For Advanced Undergraduates and Graduate Students

- 521 Introduction to Computer Graphics and Image Processing (3:3). An introductory survey of graphics and image processing hardware, algorithms, and data structures. Pr. grade of at least C in MAT 340 and CSC 336 or consent of instructor.

cesses, input/output, memory, scheduling, file systems, and protection. Pr. grade of at least C in CSC 261 and CSC 340 or permission of instructor. Successful completion of CSC 561 helpful.

- 565 Microcomputers and Assembly Language Programming (3:3). Architecture: CPU, memory, registers, interrupts, polling, peripherals, basic in/out environment. Assembly language: arithmetic algorithm design, subroutines, straight line program design, stack manipulation, timing, size and speed considerations. Pr. grade of at least C in 261 or equivalent.
- 589 Experimental Course: Concurrent Processing (3:3). An introduction to concurrent processing, including parallel and distributed processing.

Topics include: concurrent processing; communication and synchronization, programming paradigms and languages; and parallel algorithms. Pr. grade of at least C in 561 or 562.

- 593, 594 Directed Study in Computer Science (1 to 3), (1 to 3).

For Graduate Students Only

- 621 Advanced Computer Graphics and Image Processing (3:3)
- 643, 644 Numerical Mathematics (3:3), (3:3).
- 693 Advanced Topics in Computer Science (3 to 6).
- 695 Current Problems in Computer Science (3:3).
- 699 Thesis (4-6).

MATHEMATICS COURSES (MAT)

For Undergraduates

- 100 Intermediate Algebra (3:3). Real numbers and their properties, linear equations, systems of equations, polynomials and functions, fractional expressions, exponents and roots, quadratic equations, graphing, inequalities. Credit does not apply toward graduation nor count in the student's GPA.
- 112 Contemporary Topics in Mathematics (3:3). Selected topics from sets and logic, mathematical systems, statistics and probability, geometry and matrix algebra. Designed primarily for liberal arts student. [MT, CMT].
- 119 College Algebra (3:3). Review of elementary algebra, equations, inequalities, relations, functions, transformations, graphing, complex numbers, polynomial and rational functions. Pr. an acceptable score on the mathematics placement test or a grade of at least C in 100. [MT, CMT].
- 121 Analytic Trigonometry (3:3). Review of relations, trigonometric (circular) functions and identities, exponential and logarithmic functions, solutions of triangles, equations of second degree and their graphs. Pr. an acceptable score on the mathematics placement test or a grade of at least C in 119. [MT, CMT].
- 191A Calculus I (3:3). Limits and introductory differential calculus of the algebraic and transcendental functions of one variable. Credit cannot be received for both this course and MAT 191B. Pr. a grade of at least C in MAT 121 or permission of the instructor. [MT, CMT].

- 191B Calculus I (3:3). Limits and introductory differential calculus of the algebraic functions of one variable. Credit cannot be received for both this course and MAT 191A. Pr. an acceptable score on the mathematics placement test or a grade of at least C in MAT 119. NOTE: this course does not serve as a prerequisite for MAT 292 (Calculus II). [MT, CMT].
- 220 Plane and Solid Analytic Geometry (3:3). Study of conic sections (including rotation of axes), graphing with polar coordinates, quadric surfaces, and vectors. Pr. grade of at least C in 121 or equivalent.
- 251 Introduction to Discrete Mathematics (3:3). Mathematical reasoning techniques and concepts in computer science. Topics include proof techniques, logic, Boolean circuit design, sets, relations, functions, modular arithmetic, number bases, graphs, trees, counting, recurrence relations, discrete probability. Pr. grade of at least C in 119 or proficiency in college algebra. Programming experience helpful.
- 292 Calculus II (3:3). A continuation of the study of differential calculus of the elementary transcendental functions, introductory integral calculus of the algebraic and transcendental functions of - one variable, techniques of integration. Pr. a grade of at least C in 191A or permission of the instructor.

- 293 Calculus III (3:3). Indeterminate forms, Taylor's formula, infinite series, partial derivatives, multiple integrals. Pr. grade of at least C in 292.
- 295 Proofs and Mathematical Structures (3:3). An introduction to basic mathematical concepts needed for most upper level mathematics courses. The language and logic of proofs, basic set theory, relations, functions, numbers, counting, cardinalities, introduction to algebra. Pr. grade of at least C in 292.
- 303 Topics in Mathematics (3:3). Primarily for students seeking grades 6-9 certification. Extensive study of rational, irrational and real numbers; selected topics from number theory; clock and modular arithmetic. Concrete models used to illustrate many of the mathematical concepts studied.
- 304 Introduction to the Foundations of Geometry (3:3). Introductory course primarily for students seeking grade 6-9 certification. Designed to develop an understanding of the fundamental ideas of geometry. Includes both an intuitive and deductive study of points, lines, planes, curves, surfaces, congruences, parallelism, similarity and linear, angular, area, and volume measures.
- 311 Modern Algebra (3:3). Introduction to theory of groups, rings, integral domains and fields, including basic properties of polynomials. Pr. grade of at least C in 292.
- 340 Matrix Theory (3:3). Matrices, equivalence relations for square matrices, determinants, finite dimensional vector spaces, linear transformations, eigen-vectors. Pr. grade of at least C in 292.
- 345 Vector and Tensor Analysis (3:3). Vectors, scalar fields, vector fields. Dot and cross product. Vector differentiation and integration. Gradient, divergence and curl. Green's theorem, divergence theorem, Stokes' theorem. Curvilinear coordinates. Tensor Analysis: Physical laws. Coordinate transformations. Contravariant and covariant vectors. Contravariant, covariant, and mixed tensors. Tensor fields. Symmetric and skew-symmetric tensors. Conjugate or reciprocal tensors. Associated tensors. Transformation laws of Christoffel's symbols. Tensor form of gradient, divergence, and curl. Pr. grade of at least C in 293 and 390.
- 390 Ordinary Differential Equations (3:3). First order differential equations and linear equations of finite order, inverse differential operators, undetermined coefficients, variation of parameters, power series solutions near ordinary or regular singular points, applications, numerical methods. Pr. 292.
- 394 Calculus IV (3:3). Application of partial derivative, infinite series, multiple integrals, line and surface integrals, integral theorems. Pr. grade of at least C in 293.
- 493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p.320).
- For Advanced Undergraduates and Graduate Students*
- 503 Problem Solving in Mathematics ((3:3). Investigates the nature of problem solving, covers procedures involved in problem solving, develops individual problem solving skills, and collects a set of appropriate problems. Required for middle grades mathematics concentration. Pr. grade of at least C in 191 and 303 or consent of instructor.
- 504 Foundations of Geometry for Teachers (3:3). Primarily for students seeking teacher certification. Includes logic and axiom systems, history, plane and solid Euclidean geometry, proof strategies, introduction to non-Euclidean geometries, and transformational geometry. Pr. grade of at least C in 292 or consent of instructor.
- 505 Foundations of Mathematics for Teachers (3:3). Primarily for students seeking teacher certification. Includes properties and algebra of real numbers; analytic geometry; polynomial, rational, exponential, logarithmic, and trigonometric functions; complex numbers; concept of limits of functions. Pr. grade of at least C in 292 or 303 or consent of instructor.
- 513 Historical Development of Mathematics (3:3). Study of the historical development of mathematics, not a history of persons involved in development. Pr. grade of at least C in 292.
- 514 Theory of Numbers (3:3). An introductory course to both multiplicative and additive number theory. Divisibility, prime numbers, congruences, linear and nonlinear Diophantine equations (including Pell's equation), quadratic residues, number-theoretic functions, and other topics. Pr. grade of at least C in 311.

- 515 Mathematical Logic (3:3). Formal languages, recursion, compactness, and effectiveness. First-order languages, truth, and models. Soundness and completeness theorems. Models of theories. Pr. grade of at least C in either 295 or 311.
- 516 Polynomial Rings (3:3). Rings, integral domains, fields, division algorithm, factorization theorems, zeros of polynomials, greatest common divisor, relations between the zeros and the coefficients of a polynomial, formal derivatives, prime polynomials, Euclidean rings, the fundamental theorem of algebra. Pr. grade of at least C in 311.
- 517 Theory of Groups (3:3). Elementary properties of groups and homomorphisms, quotients and products of groups, the Sylow theorems, structure theory for finitely generated Abelian groups. Pr. grade of at least C in 311.
- 518 Set Theory and Transfinite Arithmetic (3:3). The axioms of set theory, operations on sets, relations and function, ordinal and cardinal numbers. Pr. grade of at least C in 311.
- 519 Intuitive Concepts in Topology (3:3). Basic concepts, vector fields, the Jordan curve theorem, surfaces, homology of complexes, continuity. Pr. grade of at least C in 311.
- 520 Non-Euclidean Geometry (3:3). Fifth postulate, hyperbolic geometries, elliptic geometries, consistency of non-Euclidean geometries, models for geometries, elements of inversion. Pr. grade of at least C in 311.
- 521 Projective Geometry (3:3). Transformation groups and projective, affine and metric geometries of the line, plane, and space. Homogeneous coordinates, principles of duality, involutions, cross-ratio, collineations, fixed points, conics, ideal and imaginary elements, models, and Euclidean specializations. Pr. consent of instructor.
- 522 Hilbert Spaces and Spectral Theory (3:3). Vector-spaces: basis, dimension, Hilbert spaces; pre-Hilbert spaces, norms, metrics, orthogonality, infinite sums. Linear subspaces; annihilators, closed and complete subspaces, convex sets. Continuous linear mappings; normed spaces. Banach spaces, Banach algebras, dual spaces. Reisz-Frechet theorem. Completion. Bilinear and seaquilinear maps. Adjoints. Operators in Hilbert space: isometric, unitary, self-adjoint, projection, and normal operations. Invariant subspaces. Continuous operators. Spectral theorems for a normal co-operator. Pr. grade of at least C in 311.
- 531, 532 Combinatorial Analysis (3:3), (3:3). The pidgeon-hole principle, permutations, combinations, generating functions, principle of inclusion and exclusion, distributions, partitions, recurrence relations, graphs, graph coloring, planar graphs, trees, networks. Pr. grade of at least C in 295 or 311 or consent of instructor; MAT 340 and 531 are required for 532.
- 540 Complex Functions with Applications (3:3). The complex number system, holomorphic functions, power series, complex integration, representation theorems, the calculus of residues. Pr. grade of at least C in 293.
- 541, 542 Stochastic Processes (3:3), (3:3). Markov processes, Markov reward processes, queuing, decision making, graphs and networks. Applications to performance, reliability, and availability modeling. Pr. grade of at least C in MAT 394 and STA 351, or equivalents.
- 545 Differential Equations and Orthogonal Systems (3:3). An introduction to Fourier series and orthogonal sets of functions, with applications to boundary value problems. Pr. grade of at least C in 293 and 390 or consent of instructor.
- 546 Partial Differential Equations with Applications (3:3). Fourier integrals, Bessel functions, Legendre polynomials and their applications. Existence and uniqueness of solutions to boundary value problems. Pr. grade of at least C in 545.
- 549 Topics in Applied Mathematics (3:3). Selected topics of current interest in applied mathematics. May be repeated for credit with approval of the Department Head. Pr. grade of at least C in 293 and 390 or consent of instructor.
- 556 Advanced Discrete Mathematics (3:3). Advanced topics in discrete mathematics and their uses in studying computer science. Pr. grade of at least C in 251 or consent of instructor.
- 591 Modern Algebra (3:3). Set theory: sets, mappings, integers. Group theory: normal subgroups, quotient groups, permutation groups, Sylow theorems. Ring theory: homomorphisms, ideals, quotient rings, integral domains, fields, Euclidean rings, polynomial rings. Pr. grade of at least C in 311.
- 592 Abstract Algebra (3:3). Fields: extensions, transcendental elements, roots of polynomials, Euclidean constructions. Galois theory, solvability by radicals. Pr. grade of at least C in 591 or 311 with consent of instructor.

- 593, 594 Directed Study in Mathematics (1 to 3), (1 to 3).
 595, 596 Mathematical Analysis (3:3), (3:3). Real number axioms, metric spaces, sequences, series, continuity, differentiation, the Riemann-Stieltjes integral. Pr. consent of instructor.

For Graduate Students Only

- 606 Calculus for Middle Grade Teachers (3:3).
 607 Abstract Algebra for Middle Grade Teachers (3:3).
 613 Development of Mathematics and Logic (3:3).
 614 Advanced Number Theory (3:3).
 615 Symbolic Logic (3:3).

STATISTICS COURSES (STA)

For Undergraduates

- 108 Elementary Introduction to Probability and Statistics (3:3). Finite sample spaces, discrete probability, random variables, expected value, binomial distribution, independent trials, random samples, point estimation, hypothesis testing, and confidence intervals. May not be taken for credit by students who have received credit for ECO 250 or 350 or are concurrently enrolled in ECO 250. Pr. an acceptable score on the mathematics placement test or a grade of at least C in MAT 100. [MT, CMT].
 271 Fundamental Concepts of Statistics (3:3). Survey of basic descriptive and inferential statistics for undergraduates from any discipline. Graphical and descriptive techniques. Measures of central tendency, variability, correlation. Estimation. Normal tests, t-tests, analysis of variance. Emphasis on statistical literacy and interpretation. Pr. An appropriate score on the mathematics placement test or grade of at least C in MAT 119 or STA 108 or consent of department.

- 351 Probability (3:3). Basic probability theory; combinatorial probability, conditional probability and independent events; univariate and multivariate probability distribution functions and their properties. Pr. grade of at least C in MAT 292.
 352 Statistical Inference (3:3). Descriptive and inferential statistics. Emphasis on sampling distributions; theory of estimation and tests of hypotheses, linear hypothesis theory, regression, correlation and analysis of variance. Pr. grade of at least C in 351 or consent of instructor.

For Advanced Undergraduates and Graduate Students

- 551, 552 Introduction to Probability and Mathematical Statistics (3:3), (3:3). Events and probabilities (sample spaces), dependent and independent events, random variables and probability distribution, discrete and continuous distributions, expectation, moment generating functions, point estimation, multivariate normal distribution, testing hypotheses, confidence intervals, correlation and regression, small sample distributions. Pr. grade of at least C in 351 and MAT 293 or consent of instructor.

571 Statistical Methods for Research I (3:3). Introduction to statistical concepts. Basic probability, random variables, the binomial, normal and Student's t distributions, hypothesis tests, confidence intervals, chi-square tests, introduction to regression, and analysis of variance.

571L Statistical Methods Laboratory I (1:0:2). Using statistical software packages for data analysis. Problems parallel assignments in 571. Pr. enrollment in 571.

572 Statistical Methods for Research II (3:3). Statistical methodology in research and use of statistical software. Regression, one and two factor ANOVA, analysis of covariance. Pr. consent of instructor.

572L Statistical Methods Laboratory II (1:0:2). Using statistical software packages for data analysis. Problems parallel assignments in 572. Pr. enrollment in 572.

573 Theory of Linear Regression (3:3). Linear regression, least squares, inference, hypothesis testing, matrix approach to multiple regression. Estimation, Gauss-Markov Theorem, confidence bounds, model testing, analysis of residuals, polynomial regression, indicator variables. Pr. grade of at least C in STA 352 and MAT 340 or 662, or consent of instructor.

575 Nonparametric Statistics (3:3). Introduction to nonparametric statistical methods for the analysis of qualitative and rank data. Binomial test, sign test, tests based on ranks, nonparametric analysis of variance, nonparametric correlation and measures of association. Pr. consent of instructor.

589 Experimental Course: Computational Methods in Statistics (3:3). Approximating probabilities and percentage points in various distributions; generating random numbers; tests of random number generators; generation of variates from the normal distribution; computational methods for matrices and applications. Pr. computer programming experience.

593, 594 Directed Study in Statistics (1 to 3), (1 to 3).

For Graduate Students Only

651, 652 Mathematical Statistics (3:3), (3:3).

661 Advanced Statistics in Behavioral Science Research I (3:3).

661L Advanced Statistics Laboratory (1:1).

662 Advanced Statistics in Behavioral Science Research II (3:3).

662L Advanced Statistical Laboratory (1:1).

667 Statistical Consulting (1:1).

671 Multivariate Analysis (3:3).

672 Applied Statistical Computing. (3:3).

673 Statistical Linear Models I (3:3).

674 Statistical Linear Models II (3:3).

675 Experimental Design (3:3).

676 Sample Survey Methods (3:3).

677 Advanced Topics in Data Analysis (3:3).

699 Thesis (4-6).

DEPARTMENT OF PHILOSOPHY

216 Foust Building

Joshua Hoffman, Associate Professor and Head of Department

Professors Leplin, McConnell; Associate Professors King, Rosenkrantz, Zimmerman; Lecturer Soyhun

The Department of Philosophy offers courses on the fundamental problems and methods of philosophy, the classics of philosophical literature, and the major figures in the history of philosophy.

Philosophy courses fall into natural groups.

A. Ethics and Theory of Value: 119, 121, 220, 231, 321, 322, 335, 361, 545.

B. Metaphysics and Epistemology: 259, 319, 357, 555, 559, 565.

C. History of Philosophy: 251, 252, 351, 353.

D. Logic and Philosophy of Science: 115, 211, 311, 325, 523, 525, 527, 575.

Group A is useful preparation for careers in law and government. Group B is necessary for advanced work in philosophy. Group C relates philosophy to other humanistic disciplines and is vital to a liberal education. Group D provides knowledge and skills vital to careers in science and medicine.

All courses under 300 and many higher level courses are open to students without previous training in philosophy. Prerequisites for other courses may be waived at the discretion of the instructor. Students are encouraged to begin work in philosophy by taking 111, 115, 119, 211, 251, or 252.

The department sponsors a philosophy club open to all undergraduates, regardless of major. Each year the department sponsors a number of lectures by distinguished scholars from other institutions. The department conducts an annual symposium on a topic of current research in philosophy.

PHILOSOPHY MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Required: 122 semester hours.

The Philosophy Major is recommended for students wishing a basic education in the liberal arts, students preparing for a career in law or government, and students contemplating graduate study in philosophy or a related discipline. Students who would like to major in philosophy but whose interests or career goals require substantial work in another field are encouraged to consider the option of a second major.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

The following courses offered by the Philosophy Department carry AULER and College of Arts and Sciences (CLER) credit:

AULER, CLER Credit

PHI 111, 119, 121, 220, 231	Analytic and Evaluative Studies (AE, CAE)
PHI 251, 252	Historical Perspectives on Western Culture (HP, CHP)
PHI 115, 211	Reasoning and Discourse (RD, CRD)

Major Requirements

1. PHI 211.
2. PHI 251 and 252.
3. 24-60 hours in philosophy courses above the 100 level, including at least 12 hours above the 200 level.

Related Area Requirements

Cognate courses to be determined by department adviser where necessary.

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete the 122 semester hours required for degree.

PHILOSOPHY MINOR

The Philosophy Minor requires a minimum of 18 hours including PHI 251 and 252.

PHILOSOPHY COURSES (PHI)

For Undergraduates

- 111 Introduction to Philosophy (3:3). Discussion of views and methods of major philosophers. Topics drawn from metaphysics and epistemology, such as the foundations and scope of human knowledge, personal identity, freedom and determinism, and the mind-body problem. [AE, CAE].
- 115 Practical Reasoning (3:3). Introduction to basic principles of reasoning and argumentation. Topics taken from syllogistic reasoning, probability, informal fallacies, the structural analysis of statements, and scientific methods. [RD, CRD].
- 119 Introduction to Ethics (3:3). Fundamental questions of ethics, such as the nature of the distinction between good and evil, moral right and wrong, the foundation of moral judgments, relativism, absolutism, and subjectivism. Readings from major figures in the history of ethics. [AE, CAE].
- 121 Contemporary Moral Problems (3:3). Philosophical readings and discussion of such current topics as abortion, euthanasia, capital punishment, censorship, sexual morality, affirmative action and preferential hiring, environmental ethics, population control, and the morality of war. [AE, CAE].
- 201 Topics in Philosophy (3:3). Variable content. May be repeated for credit with different topics.
- 211 Introduction to Formal Logic (3:3). Validity, consistency, implication, and the formal analysis of language. Propositional logic and quantification theory. [RD, CRD].
- 220 Medical Ethics (3:3). Moral problems in medicine including the patient's right to know, the confidentiality of doctor-patient communications, informed consent and experimentation with human subjects, abortion, euthanasia, socialized medicine, conflicts between medicine and religion, and genetic engineering. [AE, CAE].
- 231 Social and Political Philosophy (3:3). Major writings on social freedom or liberty, coercion, human rights, justice, and the basis of political authority. [AE, CAE].
- 251 History of Ancient Philosophy (3:3). Survey of Western philosophical thought in the ancient period from the pre-Socratics, Plato, Aristotle,

- the Sceptics, Stoics, Epicureans. Particular choices of texts and philosophical ideas may vary. [HP, CHP-CPM].
- 252 History of Modern Philosophy (3:3). Survey of Western philosophical thought in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, its historical background and its influences on subsequent intellectual developments. Reading from major figures of the period, such as Descartes, Locke, Berkeley, Leibniz, Spinoza, Hume, and Kant. [HP, CHP-CMO].
- 259 Philosophy of Religion (3:3). Arguments concerning God's existence, the problem of evil, God's foreknowledge and human freedom, the analysis of divine attributes, immortality and the soul. (Same as REL 259.) [AE, CAE].
- 267 Existentialism (3:3). Introduction to the fundamental ideas of existentialism. Readings from Kierkegaard, Heidegger, Sartre.
- 311 Intermediate Formal Logic (3:3). Quantification theory with completeness results, identity, functions, decidability, and axiomatic methods. Pr. 211 or consent of instructor.
- 319 Knowledge, Truth, and Belief (3:3). Discussion of concepts central to an understanding of the nature of human knowledge, such as truth, evidence, certainty, intuition, perception, the reasonableness of belief, and the reliability theory of justification.
- 321 Ethical Theory (3:3). Analysis of the meaning of moral concepts such as good, right, ought, duty, and of the nature of ethical argument. Attention to current theories in normative ethics.
- 322 Philosophy of the Arts (3:3). Philosophical problems concerning description, interpretation, and evaluation of the visual, performing, and literary arts, discussed generally and in relation to specific works of art. Readings in philosophy and art theory.
- 325 Introduction to the Philosophy of Science (3:3). Concepts important to an understanding of the nature and goals of research in the natural sciences, such as observation, experiment, theory, law, and explanation. Philosophical problems about objectivity and conceptual change in science based on examples from the history of science. Nature of scientific knowledge. Pr. one course in logic, mathematics, or natural science.
- 330 Philosophy in Literature (3:3). Basic philosophical issues in literature such as personal identity, the problem of evil, free will, ethical ideals, the nature of reality, truth in literature, and reference to fictional objects. Major works of fiction studied for their philosophical content.
- 335 Philosophy of Law (3:3). Theories of the origin and justification of legal systems, our obligation to obey the law, justice, punishment, and related issues. Readings from classical and contemporary sources.
- 348 Existentialism, Phenomenology, and Structuralism (3:3). Recent philosophical movements in France and Germany. Application of structuralist models to the human sciences. Post-structuralist developments such as Deconstruction and Hermeneutics. Selections from such writers as Husserl, Levi-Strauss, Foucault, Lacan, Althusser, Derrida, Gadamer, and Ricoeur.
- 351 Major Philosophers (3:3). Systematic examination of the works of a major philosopher. May be repeated for credit with change in topic.
- 353 Major Philosophies (3:3). Systematic examination of a major historical movement in philosophy, such as rationalism, empiricism, positivism, materialism, and idealism. May be repeated for credit with different topic.
- 357 Metaphysics (3:3). Selected metaphysical issues such as personal identity and the immortality of the soul, freedom and determinism, the nature of space, time and substance, the problem of universals, forms of realism, and theory of reference. Pr. one course in philosophy.
- 361 Ethical Issues in Business (3:3). Ethical theory and its application to business: economic justice, corporate responsibility, self-regulation and government regulation, conflict of interest, investment policy, advertising, and environmental responsibility.
- 401 Reading Course for Seniors (1-3). Supervised reading and research for philosophy majors. Pr. consent of instructor. May be repeated for credit.
- 402 Independent Study (1-3). Pr. satisfaction of requirements for the major in philosophy and consent of instructor. May be repeated for credit.
- 493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p. 320).

*For Advanced Undergraduates
and Graduate Students*

- 23 Philosophy of Social and Behavioral Science (3:3). Issues in philosophy of social and behavioral science from Hume to the present: explanation, theory construction, methodology of the social sciences, the status of the sociology of knowledge. Pr. one course in social or behavioral science and one in philosophy or consent of instructor.
- 25 Philosophy of Physical Science (3:3). Study of a major current issue in the philosophy of science such as scientific progress and change, scientific methods, experiment and theory, scientific explanation, rationality, scientific realism, relations between philosophy of science and history of science. Examples drawn from modern history of the physical sciences. Pr. 325 and one course in physical science or consent of instructor.
- 27 Philosophy of Biological Science (3:3). Examination of concepts of law, theory, explanation, evidence, classification, and reduction using examples drawn from biology. Investigation of problems related to alternative conceptual systems and conceptual change in biology, the nature of the biological subject matter, and the place of biology among the natural sciences. Pr. one course in biology and one in philosophy or consent of instructor.
- 545 Social Philosophy (3:3). Topics from social, political, and legal philosophy, such as property, justice, punishment, liberalism, and conservatism. Study of such major figures as Hobbes, Rousseau, and Marx. Pr. one course in philosophy or consent of instructor.
- 555 Epistemology (3:3). Skepticism, the analysis of knowledge, confirmation and induction, apriori knowledge, naturalized epistemology. Pr. 319 or consent of instructor.
- 559 Philosophy of Mind (3:3). The mind-body problem, identity theories, functionalism, reductive and eliminative materialism, behavioral and causal theories of mind. Pr. one course in philosophy or consent of instructor.
- 565 Philosophy of Language (3:3). Theories of truth, meaning, and reference. Origin and nature of human language and its relations to animal and machine language. Pr. one course in philosophy or consent of instructor.
- 575 Advanced Logic (3:3). Axiomatic first order quantification theory with completeness theorems. Numbers and sets. Paradoxes and type theory. Introduction to modal logic. Pr. 311 or consent of instructor.
- 590 Aesthetics (3:3). Readings in the major philosophies of art, analysis of evaluative judgment and argument, the nature of aesthetic concepts, artistic truth, the art object, and the aesthetic experience. Pr. 322 or consent of instructor.

For Graduate Students Only

- 601 Advanced Topics in Philosophy. (3:3).

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICS AND ASTRONOMY

101 Petty Building

Francis J. McCormack, Professor and Head of Department

Professors Clark, Hageseth; Associate Professors Danford, Meisner, Muir; Adjunct Associate Professor Mosie; Lecturer Vandegrift

Physics and astronomy have long been recognized as constituting the basis for study, research, and understanding in the natural sciences. The undergraduate major program seeks to provide the student with a broad and general background in all areas of physics. With this background, he should be able to adapt readily to the specialized requirements of a job in industry, as a teacher, or to the specialized graduate study in physics or a number of related fields. Opportunities are provided through electives to sample the concerns of many of these related fields.

The effort required for a non-scientist to understand our technological society is formidable, but essential if an educated man or woman is to intelligently understand and affect our natural surroundings. Recognizing this, the Department of Physics and Astronomy offers for the non-major, with no prerequisites, courses with an overview of physics as well as special interest courses dealing with topics of immediate concern (PHY 101, 102, 203, 209, 235, 305, 333 and 334).

The department also offers graduate programs at the master's degree level. Its faculty members are involved with graduate and, in some cases, undergraduate students in research in computer simulation and computational physics, quantum statistical mechanics and low temperature physics, observational astronomy and digital image analysis, mathematical and x-ray analysis of crystal structure, and pedagogical methods in science teaching. The department uses and administers the Three College Observatory, located in a nearby dark-sky location. This observatory contains the state's largest (32 inch) reflecting telescope, along with a low light-level image acquisition system. The research of the Department is supported by a local area network linking departmental microcomputers and the campus VAX cluster, a number of laboratories well-equipped with modern instrumentation, and an instrument-making facility.

PHYSICS MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science)

Required: 122 semester hours.

The Physics Major is a firm basis for a career in medicine, law, business, sales, engineering, teaching, computing, biophysics, environmental science, or physics.

Students who elect physics as a major need to complete PHY 291, 292, and MAT 293 no later than the end of their sophomore year. Freshmen who declare physics as a major are strongly advised to take PHY 291 and MAT 292 their first semester. If the freshman student is not prepared to take calculus his first semester, the student is advised to take MAT 121 or 119 (depending upon his background) and CHE 111 and 114 instead of PHY 291, 292 during the first year. Any student who desires to major in physics should contact the head of the department as soon as possible so a proper schedule can be planned.

Students seeking teacher certification should follow the requirements for the Bachelor of Arts degree. In addition the following are required: BIO 101 and 107; CEF 381; GEO 103; HEA 201; PSY 221; PSS 450, 459, 465, and 470.

BACHELOR OF ARTSCollege of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements & Related Area Requirements

30-60 semester hours in physics above the 100 level and at least a 2.0 grade point average for the required physics and mathematics courses.

Core Courses for Physics Majors

Courses required for the physics major:

1. PHY 291, 292, 321, 321L, 323, 323L, 325, 325L, 327, 425, 425L, 525.
2. Related Areas: CHE 111, 111L, 114, 114L; MAT 191, 292, CSC 137; MAT 293, 390.

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete the 122 semester hours required for degree.

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE

Requirements are the same as above except that a maximum of 60 semester hours in physics may be counted toward the degree. PHY 521 is required.

PHYSICS MINOR

A minimum of 15 semester hours in physics courses is to be planned in consultation with a physics faculty member. The usual physics minor program will consist of PHY 291, 292, and at least 7 semester hours of additional courses (excluding PHY 203, 209, 235, 305, 333, and 334). Other quite different programs may be fitted to the individual student's interests and objectives

PHYSICS AND ASTRONOMY COURSES (PHY)For Undergraduates

101, 102 General Physics I, II (4:3:3), (4:3:3). Introduction of laws and properties of matter, sound, heat, optics, electricity, and magnetism. Algebra and trigonometry used in development of this material. 101 pr. for 102. No student may receive credit for 101 or 102 if credit has previously been earned for 291 or 292. [NS, CPS].

203 Conceptual Astronomy (3:3). Introduction to astronomy. Knowledge gained of day and night sky by use of binoculars, telescopes, and other simple instruments and how to observe and measure properties of astronomical objects. Basic concepts of solar system, stellar evolution, and cosmology. No student may receive credit for both this course and either 209 or 235. [NS, CPS].

209 Astronomy: The Solar System (3:3). Introductory study of the solar system. Sun and planets studied with special attention to results of recent planetary exploration. Telescopic and naked-eye observations of the constellations and planets. 209 intended to complement 235, although each course is independent of the other. No science or math background beyond the level of high school algebra required. No student may receive credit for both this course and 203. [NS, CPS].

- 235 Astronomy: The Universe (3:3). Introduction to stars, galaxies, and cosmology. Emphasis on conceptual approach to such topics as the evolution of stars, the formation of galaxies, interstellar communication, and the Big Bang. Sky observations utilizing the UNCG telescopes included. 235 intended to complement 209, although each course is independent of the other. No science or math background beyond the level of high school algebra required. No student may receive credit for both this course and 203. [NS, CPS].
- 291 General Physics I with Calculus (4:3:3). Basic principles of mechanics, heat, and sound developed using the calculus. 291 together with 292 constitute a one-year general physics course utilizing calculus and including laboratory experiences. No student may receive credit for this course if credit has previously been earned for 101. Pr. MAT 191, co. MAT 292. [NS, CPS].
- 292 General Physics II with Calculus (4:3:3). Introduction to basic principles of electricity and magnetism and optics, presented in terms of both classical and modern physics topics. 291 together with 292 constitute a one year general physics course utilizing calculus and including laboratory experiences. No student may receive credit for this course if credit has previously been earned for 102. Pr. 292 or permission of instructor. [NS, CPS].
- 305 Conceptual Physics (4:3:3). Introduction to basic laws of physics made by extensive use of demonstrations. Labs use discovery approach. Concepts emphasized and mathematical manipulations held to a minimum. No student may receive credit for this course if credit has previously been earned for 101, 102, 291, or 292. [NS, CPS].
- 321 Introduction to Modern Physics (3:3). Fundamental concepts of atomic, molecular, nuclear, and solid state physics from quantum-mechanical and special relativity points of view. Topics include special relativity, wave-particle duality, Schrödinger equation, hydrogen atom, atomic spectra, nuclear structure, radioactivity, nuclear reactions, and molecular and solid state physics. Pr. 292 (or 101, 102 with permission of instructor).
- 321L Modern Physics Laboratory (1:0:3). Performance of atomic, nuclear, and solid state physics experiments and analysis of data in a quantitative and scientific manner. Simple computer programs used to study the concepts of error and least-square-fit techniques. Pr. 292 (or 101, 102 with permission of instructor).
- 323 Mechanics (3:3). Mathematical treatment of classical kinematics and dynamics of a particle in a uniform field, in oscillatory motion and simple motions of systems of particles. Analytical and numerical techniques of problem solution stressed. Pr. 101, 102, or 292; co. MAT 293, or consent of instructor.
- 323L Classical Physics Laboratory (1:0:3). Performance of experiments emphasizing concepts of classical physics. Topics include force, energy, resonance, and relaxation. Pr. 292 (or 101, 102 with permission of instructor).
- 325 Electricity and Magnetism I (3:3). A study, developing and using techniques of vector algebra and calculus, of topics in the theory of static electric and magnetic fields including the divergence and Stokes' theorems and the law of Gauss, Biot-Savart, and Ampere. Application to the properties of conductors, dielectric, and magnetic materials. Pr. 292 and MAT 293.
- 325L Electricity and Magnetism Laboratory (1:0:3). Performance of electricity and magnetism and electronic experiments with analysis of these basic phenomena as applied to research laboratory. Pr. 323, MAT 390, or consent of instructor.
- 327 Thermal Physics (3:3). Properties of matter developed by combining thermodynamic reasoning with molecular theory. Pr. 292 (or 101, 102 with permission of instructor).
- 331, 332 Experimental Physics (1:0:3), (1:0:3). Advanced courses in laboratory techniques as involved in special laboratory problems. Pr. two advanced courses in physics taken concurrently or completed.
- 333 Selected Topics (1 to 3). Primarily intended for those who are not physical science majors. Topics vary with instructor and with semester. Contemporary topics may include subjects such as analysis of physical resources, their inherent energy limitations and new sources of energy (such as solar, geothermal, etc.); development and adaptation of nuclear energy to electric power plants and armaments systems and the ensuing environmental and political problems; ideas involved in special relativity, cosmology, and quantum mechanics for those with little mathematical background; importance of understanding physical laws in development of art, music, and architecture; relationships between physical laws and communications. No previous science course required. Interested student should inquire at Physics and Astronomy Department office for further details. Selected topics for science majors may also be given upon request.

- 334 Energy Options and the Environment (3:3). Energy dilemma facing the U.S. Fundamentals of fission and fusion discussed and military and commercial uses of nuclear energy analyzed. Risks and benefits of fossil fuel use, extent and uses of geothermal energy, basic elements of wind energy, and feasibility of biomass use studied. Passive and active solar energy fundamentals and techniques studied and demonstrated.
- 345 20th Century Physics: A Liberal Art (3:3). 20th century developments in description of physical universe, including small (quantum mechanics), fast (Einstein's relativity), energetic (nuclear). Emphasize understanding, societal impact, minimal mathematics. Junior, senior standing, or consent of instructor.
- 375 Science of Nuclear Weapons/Arms Control (3:3). Principles of nuclear weapons, strategies of their use. Science of weapons, effects, arms control efforts and problems. Pr. MAT 119 or equivalent.
- 425 Optics (3:3). Analytical treatment of geometrical optics (thin and thick lenses, image formation, theory of optical instruments) and physical optics (electromagnetic waves, interference, polarization, diffraction, optical properties of materials). Pr. 325 or permission of instructor.
- 425L Optics Laboratory (1:0:3). Performance of geometrical and physical optics experiments with both microwaves and visible light. Pr. 321L, 325L, or permission of instructor.
- 493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p.320).

For Advanced Undergraduates and Graduate Students

- 500 Seminar (1 to 3). Selected topics of current interest in physics are studied.
- 501, 502 Conceptual Physics for Teachers (3:3) (3:3). The basic laws of physics are introduced by extensive use of demonstrations. Concepts are emphasized and mathematical manipulation is minimal. Teaching materials and strategies are developed. Credit not applicable to M.S. degree in Physics.
- 510 Apparatus and Instrumentation for Teaching (3:3). Principles of design, construction, maintenance, and use of demonstration and laboratory apparatus and instrumentation are studied. Safe use of equipment, materials choice and substitutions, and functionality tests are included. Pr. consent of instructor.
- 512 Electronics for Scientists (3:2:3). Electronic circuits useful for measurement, signal processing, and control. This course is especially designed to meet needs of experimental scientist. Pr. permission of instructor or head of student's major department.
- 513 Microcomputer Interfacing for Scientists (3:2:3). Methods and techniques of electronic connection between computer and other devices and programming methods to facilitate use of the computer as a laboratory instrument are introduced. Assembly language used primarily. Pr. permission of instructor.
- 519 Advanced Laboratory (1 to 3:0:3 to 9). Principles of design and execution of laboratory experiments are introduced, with emphasis on developing the capability to do independent experimentation. Pr. 321L and 323L.
- 520 Selected Topics in Physics (3:3). A topic of special interest is studied in depth. Pr. consent of instructor.
- 521 Modern Physics with Quantum Mechanics (3:3). Modern theories of matter are studied by applying quantum mechanics to atomic, molecular, nuclear, and solid state systems. Pr. 321 and 325.
- 523 Analytical Mechanics (3:3). Classical laws of particle motion are extended to the treatment of general motion of a rigid body, noninertial reference frames, generalized coordinates, normal

- coordinates, and to topics and techniques based on calculus of variations. Pr. 323, MAT 390.
- 525 Electricity and Magnetism II (3:3). Continuation of 325. The properties of time-varying electric and magnetic fields, including Faraday's law, and the development of Maxwell's equations are studied. Results are applied to alternating current circuit theory, electromagnetic waves, and radiation. Pr. 325.
- 530 Astrophysics (3:3). Current understanding of the structure and evolution of stars and galaxies is emphasized. Properties of the interstellar medium and cosmological models are studied in some detail. Pr. 291, 292, 321, 325, 323.
- 595 Individual Study (1 to 3). The student and at least one member of the graduate faculty will develop a plan to study a topic of particular interest to the student. Pr. consent of instructor.
- For Graduate Students Only*
- 600 Graduate Seminar (1-3:1-3)
- 601 Teaching Concepts in Physics and Astronomy (3:3)
- 603, 604 General Physics for Teachers (3:3), (3:3).
- 605a, b Advanced - Placement Physics for Teachers (3:3), (3:3).
- 606 Advanced - Placement Physics for Teachers (3:3).
- 607, 608 Modern Physics for Teachers (3:3), (3:3).
- 610 Theoretical Physics for Teachers (3:3)
- 612 Experimental Physics for Teachers (1 to 3).
- 621 Quantum Mechanics I (3:3).
- 622 Quantum Mechanics II (3:3).
- 623 Classical Dynamics (3:3).
- 625 Electrodynamics (3:3).
- 627 Statistical Physics (3:3).
- 631, 632 Solid State Physics (3:3), (3:3)
- 640 Nuclear Physics (3:3).
- 650 Theoretical Physics (3:3).

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

237 Graham Building

Charles Prysby, Professor and Head of Department

Professors Clotfelter, Olson, Prysby; Associate Professors Bernick, Crowther, De Hoog, Meyers; Assistant Professors Buck, Griffiths, Tulloss

Political science is the study of the government, politics and policies of the United States and other nations; of levels of government, such as city and state, within those nations; and of relationships among nations. It studies the political behavior, attitudes, and ideas of groups and individuals.

All 100- and 200-level courses are introductions to the study of political science. Beginning students are urged to take any 100- or 200-level course in which they may be interested.

Students seeking electives in political science may select from almost the entire range of offerings. Non-majors are urged to select their electives widely to satisfy individual intellectual interests and are not restricted to 100- and 200-level courses.

Internships and field experience are available to both majors and non-majors in national government, public administration, and electoral politics.

Students seeking teacher certification should see Teacher Education in Chapter 5.

POLITICAL SCIENCE MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

The Political Science Major is suitable for students with career interests in law, participation in electoral politics or governmental service (at local, state, or federal levels), as well as for students who have more general intellectual interests in government, politics, and international relations as part of their effort to obtain a liberal education or to prepare for careers in business.

Students should take a broad variety of courses in the major to become familiar with the diversity of topics and methods used by contemporary political scientists throughout the world. Majors should consult early with their faculty advisors to plan programs most suitable to their individual interests and needs.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

30-60 semester hours in political science above the 100 level including PSC 200, 210, 240, and 260. At least 15 semester hours must be at 300 level or higher.

Related Area Requirements

No specific courses required.

Electives

Courses in other social sciences and in history are recommended. Electives sufficient to complete the 122 semester hours required for degree.

DOUBLE MAJOR IN POLITICAL SCIENCE

A student may double major by combining political science with another major. The student must complete all of the required courses for political science (PSC 200, 210, 240 and 260) and take 12 additional hours of political science at the 300 level or higher. The student must also take at least 24 hours in the second major and meet the appropriate requirements of that department for the double major. Students considering this option are advised to consult extensively with their advisors.

POLITICAL SCIENCE MINOR

A student may minor in political science by taking at least 15 hours of course work above the 100 level. The student should select courses to best suit intellectual and career interests, and in consultation with a member of the Political Science faculty.

POLITICAL SCIENCE COURSES (PSC)

For Undergraduates

- 105 Political Issues (3:3). Introduction to the main intellectual traditions of political science. Discusses basic problems, political life, and evaluates responses from the perspectives of competing theories of political behavior. [AE, CAE].
- 200 American Politics (3:3). Organization and behavior of the institutions, groups, and persons in American national government and politics. Introductory level course. [SB, CSB].
- 210 Introduction to Public Policy (3:3). Problems of public policy and administration with emphasis on analysis of decision-making in governmental organizations. [SB, CSB].
- 240 The International System (3:3). Introduction to international politics focusing upon major changes in the international system since 1945. Introductory level course. [SB, CSB].
- 260 Introduction to Comparative Politics (3:3). Basic concepts and methods of comparative political analysis. Introduction to political institutions, processes, and problems of democratic, non-democratic and transitional political systems. [SB, CSB].
- 290 The Politics of Development (3:3). Introduces students to problems of political development. Surveys the theoretical literature concerning the development process and explores critical problems facing developing countries and strategies employed to overcome them. [NW, CNW].
- 300 Special Topics (3:3). Study of an issue in political science. Students may repeat the course, but not the same topic, for credit.
- 301 Research Methods in Political Science (3:3) Basic principles of research in political science. Focus on testing of empirical propositions, with particular emphasis on survey research methods and on data analysis and interpretation. No statistical knowledge required. Non-majors interested in taking the course should secure consent of instructor.
- 305 Individual in Politics (3:3). Introduction to development of individual political attitude and their relationship to political behavior. Topics include the psychology of political leaders, the belief systems of mass publics, and the development of distinct political cultures. Emphasis on the range of political participation, from voting behavior to extremism and violence.
- 310 Public Administration (3:3). Major concepts in administration of public bureaucracies, including comparative administration, organizational theory, budgeting, public personnel, and decision-making.
- 312 Environmental Policy (3:3). The study of the formation and implementation of federal and state environmental policy. Topics include air and water pollution, hazardous waste, resource conservation, wildlife management as well as related issues. Buck.
- 313 Environmental Law (3:3). Development and implementation of legal framework to regulate and to protect the environment. Emphasis on recent statutes and administrative/judicial interpretation. Focus on federal and international law. Buck.

- 16 Introduction to Law (3:3). Survey of development of common law, civil and criminal court procedures, legal reasoning, use of precedent, and introduction to the case study method. Emphasis on law as instrument of social change, legal institutions and processes, and constitutional law. Pr. junior standing or consent of instructor.
- 18 Constitutional Law (3:3). Leading principles and practices of Supreme Court decision-making with emphasis on interplay of social and political factors. Pr. junior standing or consent of instructor.
- 22 American State Politics (3:3). Comparison of political behavior and institutions among the 50 American states. Bernick.
- 23 Urban Politics (3:3). Examination of political behavior, processes, and institutions in city as a special focus for study of politics and government in United States. Discussion and readings directed to current development in American cities. Tulloss.
- 24 Urban Administration (3:3). Special characteristics and problems of implementing urban policies and managing municipalities and other local governments and non-profit service agencies. Role of the city manager and other professional administrators.
- 327 American Political Parties (3:3). Analysis of the role of political parties in the American political process, with emphasis on recent elections and campaigns. Prysby.
- 328 North Carolina and Southern Politics (3:3). Examination of contemporary political and governmental developments in the American South. Particular attention to North Carolina politics and government.
- 329 American Political Movements (3:3). Examination of recent American political movements. Emphasis on their ideologies, their tactics, and their effect on public policy.
- 330, 331 Workshop in Practical Politics (3:2:6), (3:2:6). Analysis of electoral campaign strategies by party and candidate through actual participation in campaigns and by writing of case studies based on student campaign participation. Spring semester in even numbered years covers primary elections; fall semester concentrates on general elections. Either semester may be taken independently. Pr. consent of instructor; 200, 327 or 328 recommended.
- 332 Elections and Voting (3:3). Analysis of influences on voting behavior and of the relationship among voting behavior, elections, and the political process as a whole, with emphasis on contemporary U.S. presidential elections. Prysby.
- 333 Congress and Legislatures (3:3). Examination of contemporary legislative bodies - Congress, state legislatures, and foreign parliaments. Attention given to their internal organizations and politics and to their relationship to their Chief Executive. Olson.
- 334 The American Presidency (3:3). Examination of the contemporary American presidency. Attention given to the multiple roles of the president, to the rise of the presidency in American government and politics, and to the implications of a powerful presidency for democratic government. Olson.
- 335 Women in Politics (3:3). Relationship of women to political process with particular emphasis on women's political socialization, patterns of political participation, and leadership selection.
- 336 Women and the Law (3:3). Analysis of American laws affecting women with emphasis on the impact of existing law on contemporary social and political issues.
- 340 International Politics (3:3). Analysis of recent problems in international politics, including weapons proliferation, underdevelopment, and selected regional conflicts. Pr. 240.
- 341 International Law and Organization (3:3). Introduction and analysis of the fundamentals of international law and organization and their role in the contemporary international system. Pr. any international relations course or consent of instructor.
- 342 American Foreign Policy (3:3). Analysis of the decision-making process concerning formulation and execution of American foreign policy. Meyers.
- 343 Comparative Foreign Policy (3:3). Comparative analysis of foreign policy of major nation states, including Russia, Japan, China, France and Germany. Pr. 240 and 342 or consent of instructor.
- 345 National Security Policy (3:3). Development of national security policy and the role of military forces in the United States. Emphasis on the changing nature of security challenges. Pr. 240.

- 346 Russian Foreign Policy (3:3). Analysis of development and implementation of Soviet Foreign Policy and the foreign policy of the current government of Russia.
- 350 Democratic Political Systems (3:3). Comparative examination of political institutions and behavior in selected industrialized and non-industrialized countries.
- 355 Selected Topics in Comparative Politics (3:3). Cross-national examination of specific topic in political organization and behavior. Students may repeat course but not same topic. 355a. Political Violence; 355b. Political Parties; 355c. Politics of Development; 355d. Politics of Industrial Societies; 355e. Legislative Process; 355f. Politics of the Future; 355g. Political Ideologies.
- 361 East European Politics (3:3). Analysis of patterns of political power in European nations formerly ruled by Communist parties, including an examination of the development of political liberalization, dissent, and international relations. Crowther.
- 391 African Political Systems (3:3). Survey and analysis of the institutions and current problems of African states. Emphasis on Sub-Saharan Africa. Pr. 260 or consent of instructor. [NW, CNW].
- 399 Public Affairs Internship (1 to 3). Field learning experience in governmental agencies and private organizations involved in the political process. Academic supervision provided by faculty advisor and direction in field provided by job supervisor. Written report on a substantive topic related to the internship required. Students may repeat the course. Pr. consent of instructor.
- 401, 402 Individual Study (1 to 3), (1 to 3). Reading or research. Available to qualified students upon recommendation of an instructor. Pr. departmental stamp required for registration.
- 493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p. 320).
- For Advanced Undergraduates and Graduate Students*
- 501 Selected Topics in Political Science (1 to 3). Opportunity for advanced students to study in depth a topic of special interest. May be repeated for credit when topics vary. Pr. major in political science or consent of instructor.
- 503 Survey Methods for Policy Research (3:3). Theoretical and practical issues involved in designing and using sample surveys for political and policy research. Emphasis on survey methods used by the government and others in public sector. Prysby.
- 504 Public Sector Computer Applications (3:3). An overview of computer applications in public administration, covering both specific applications and broader questions of design, management, and impact of information and decision support systems. Prysby.
- 505 Problems in Politics (3:3). Seminar in research and study in political science. Attention also on problems of methodology and alternative conceptions of field of political science as a scholarly discipline.
- 510 Topics in Public Policy (1 to 3). Intensive analysis of a major area of public policy. Examination of sources of policymaking, the policy-making process, and the impact of policy. Students may repeat the course but not the same topic. 510a. Politics of Education; 510b. Criminal Justice; 510c. Labor Relations; 510d. Foreign and Defense Policy; 510e. Environmental Policy; 510f. Urban Development Policy; 510g. Health Strategies; 510h. Global Challenges; 510i. Press and Politics; 510j. Politics of Industrial Policy; 510k. American Foreign Policy; 510m. Comparative Foreign Policies; 510n. Soviet Foreign Policy. Pr. consent of instructor.
- 511 Problems in Public Management (1). Intensive examination of important current problems related to the management of public institutions. Students may repeat the course when topics vary up to a limit of six credit hours. Pr. consent of instructor.
- 512 Federalism and Intergovernmental Relations (3:3). Focuses on changing relationships of local-state-federal agencies, expanding role of regional cooperation, and recent developments in sub-national governments. Pr. consent of instructor or 200, 210, or 310; or graduate standing.
- 516 Administrative Law (3:3). The law, practice, and procedure in federal administrative agencies: agency rulemaking; administrative adjudication; judicial review; informal process and administrative discretion. Pr. 200 or approval of instructor. Buck.

- 520 Urban Political System (3:3). Examination of major topics in the study of urban government and policy. Systems approach to provide an analytic framework for interrelating specific topics such as citizen participation, interest groups, parties, types of elections, forms of government, community power, and racial politics. Pr. 323 or 324 or consent of instructor. Tulloss.
- 530 Administrative and Elected Leadership (3:3). Recruitment, selection, and roles of executives and legislators; organization and activities of the offices; relationships among executive offices, administrative offices, and legislative bodies. Pr. consent of instructor. Olson.
- 535 Citizen Participation in Policy-Making (3:3). Political participation and citizen involvement in governmental policy-making. Both citizen initiated and government sponsored efforts to increase popular input analyzed. Assessment of impact of citizen participation on policy-making in specific areas of policy and on performance of government in general. Pr. consent of instructor.
- 540 Nonprofit Management and Leadership (3:3). Overview of major concepts and concerns of nonprofit organizations, including tax-exempt status, incorporation, nonprofit-government relations, board-director-staff relations, volunteers, services and program planning, implementation, resource development. Pr. senior or graduate standing. De Hoog.
- 550 Survey of Regional Politics (3:3). Survey of political problems and processes in international regions, intended primarily for teachers and education majors seeking an introduction to selected geographic areas of the world. Students may repeat course but not same topic. 550a. Africa; 550b. Asia; 550c. Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union.
- 580 Political Change and Public Policy (3:3). Potential socio-economic and political consequences of contemporary societal policies, including examination of policy options and planning processes.
- For Graduate Students Only*
- 600 Public Administration and Management (3:3).
- 601 Politics of Public Policy (3:3).
- 602 Quantitative Analysis and Program Evaluation. (3:3).
- 603 Budgeting and Fiscal Administration (3:3).
- 604 Public Personnel Management (3:3).
- 610 Public Policy Analysis (3:3).
- 612 Organizational Behavior (3:3).
- 613 Local Government Administration (3:3).
- 615 Public Personnel: Development and Evaluation (3:3).
- 620 Research Seminar in Urban Policy (3:3).
- 630 Research Seminar in American Politics (3:3).
- 635 Political Ideologies and Political Movements (3:3).
- 650 Research Seminar in Comparative Public Policies (3:3).
- 690 Public Affairs Seminar (3:3).
- 695 Public Affairs Internship (3 to 6).
- 696 Directed Field Research (3 to 6).
- 697, 698 Special Problems in Political Science (1 to 3), (1 to 3).
- 699 Thesis (3 to 6).
- 800 Graduate Registration (0).
- 801 Graduate Registration (0).

DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY

296 Eberhart Building

Walter Salinger, Professor and Head of Department

Professors DeCasper, DeRosa, Eason (Rosenthal Excellence Fund), Gottlieb, (Excellence Foundation Professor), Hunt, Johnston, Logan, Lumsden, Marschark, Morrison, Nelson, Shull, Smith (Emeritus), Soderquist, Wells, White; Associate Professors Guttentag, Hicks, Keane, Lawrence, Seta; Assistant Professors Kossen, Rabiner

The Department of Psychology approaches its subject matter as a scientific discipline with emphasis placed on understanding behavior and cognition through experimentation and observation.

All of the major areas of specialization in psychology are represented among the interests of the departmental faculty. Physiological psychologists study the biological foundations of behavior. Experimental psychologists investigate problems related to cognition, learning, sensation and perception, personality, developmental, and social psychology. Clinical psychology emphasizes the application of psychological principles to clinical problems and other aspects of adult and child behavior.

To supplement reading and lecture material, some courses have laboratories where students can see the principles of behavior and psychological functioning in operation firsthand. In addition to the B.A. program for undergraduates, the department offers training at both the M.A. and Ph.D. levels.

Students may take any 300- and 400- level psychology course for which they satisfy the stated prerequisites.

Students who wish to seek teacher certification should see Teacher Education in Chapter 5 as well as below. Such persons should contact the departmental Director of Undergraduate Studies as early as possible.

PSYCHOLOGY MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Required: 122 semester hours.

The Psychology Major provides a background for entry into a variety of professions other than psychology where understanding the principles of behavior and cognition is important. It also provides the necessary background for individuals planning to do graduate work in either basic or applied psychology.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

24-60 semester hours in psychology including: PSY 221 or 223; 310; either 341 or 345; either 326 or 342 or 347; either 450 or 453; 452 or 454; 425 or 449 or 451; and 515.

Related Area Requirements

No specific courses required.

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete the 122 semester hours required for degree.

TEACHER CERTIFICATION IN SOCIAL STUDIES

Students majoring in psychology may elect to pursue teacher certification in Social Studies. Completion of this means of teacher certification will enable one who wishes to teach Social Studies curricula in the secondary schools to gain the background for teaching psychology courses as well. The requirements for completion of teacher certification in Social Studies are listed on page 347 of this catalog. The University, College, and departmental major requirements are the same as for any other psychology major; however, those intending to gain teacher certification are particularly encouraged to select Personality, Abnormal, and Social Psychology either as their choices among the required alternatives or as electives in the major. Furthermore, the student is encouraged to choose electives in Departments of Sociology, Philosophy, or Religious Studies that address human behavior and experiences from complementary or, perhaps, alternative perspectives.

CONCENTRATION IN PSYCHOLOGYFor Teacher Education Students

A minimum of 24 semester hours to include:

Psychology 221

A minimum of 3 courses at the 300 level

A minimum of 2 courses above the 300 level (not including PSY 433 or 434)

Plus other psychology courses (which can include 433 and 434) to total a minimum of 8 courses or 24 semester hours

PSYCHOLOGY AS A SECOND MAJOR

Psychology courses required are the same as for a Psychology Major. (See College Requirements for Second Majors, page 52).

BIOPSYCHOLOGY AS A SECOND MAJOR

This second major is designed for students interested in behavior and the structure and function of nervous systems. Topics will span molecular, cellular, organ, and organismal levels. Each student seeking to complete this second major must complete the basic requirements and then select additional courses in Biology and Psychology with the approval of the Biopsychology Second Major Advisory Committee (contact either the Head of the Department of Psychology or the Head of the Department of Biology).

Basic requirements: BIO 277; CHE 114, 114L, MAT 119A; and PSY 425, 450, and 453.

Additional requirements: a minimum of nine additional hours in Biology courses and three additional hours in Psychology courses.

Strongly recommended: CHE 351, 352, 354; MAT 191A, 292; and PHY 101, 102.

PSYCHOLOGY MINOR

A student may earn a minor in psychology by completing a minimum of 15 hours in the department. The Department's Director of Undergraduate Studies will be glad to recommend courses appropriate to the student's interest.

PSYCHOLOGY COURSES (PSY)

For Undergraduates

- 221 General Psychology (3:3). Survey of psychology. Includes psychology as science, nervous system, growth and development, sensory and perceptual processes, motivation, emotion, learning, personality (normal and pathological), statistics, testing, intelligence, aptitudes, and achievement. Students may not take both 221 and 223 for credit. [SB, CSB].
- 223 Introduction to Psychology: Natural Science Perspective (3:3). Topics include evolutionary and genetic factors, physiological processes, sensory processes, perception, learning, memory, motivation, and emotion. Relation between research and theory stressed. Students may not take both 221 and 223 for credit. [NS, CLS]. NOTE: PSY 223 cannot be substituted for PSY 221 for Teacher Education curricular requirements.
- 223L Experimental Psychology Laboratory (1:2). Laboratory/lecture introduction to methods of experimental psychology. Emphasizes formulating hypotheses, designing experiments, describing and interpreting data, and writing reports. Pr. prior or concurrent enrollment in 223 or consent of instructor. [NS, CLS].
- 310 Statistics in Behavioral Science Research (3:3). Moment and product-moment statistics; description and inference; estimating parameters and testing significance. Taught at introductory level. Requires knowledge of elementary algebra. Student may not receive credit for STA 352, 371, or ECO 250 and PSY 310.
- 312 Psychology of Learning (3:3). Principles of learning and their application to everyday human behavior. Analysis of learning situations involved in child-rearing, classroom teaching, and deviant behavior. Pr. 221 or 223. [SB, CSB].
- 314 Industrial and Organizational Psychology (3:3). Introduction to industrial and organizational psychology with special emphasis on employee motivation, selection, training, and organizational determinants of employee behavior. Pr. 221 or 223. (Same as MGT 314.)
- 320 Psychology of Animal Communication (3:3). Survey of the strategies of non-human communication used by animals, the methods used for their study, and their bearing on human communication. Pr. one introductory course in a behavioral or biological science or consent of instructor.
- 326 Developmental Processes: Learning, Cognition, and Perception (3:3). Children from infancy through adolescence, emphasizing developmental concepts, processes, experimental methodology, and findings of research in the areas of learning, cognition, and perception. Pr. 221 or 223.
- 341 Abnormal Psychology (3:3). A description of the various psychological disorders is presented along with the research methods used to study them. Each disorder is approached from a number of perspectives: Biological, psychosocial (psychodynamic, interpersonal, behavioral, cognitive, and humanistic) and sociocultural. Pr. 221 or 223. [SB, CSB].
- 342 Developmental Processes: Social, Personality, and Motivation (3:3). Survey of development and behavior of children from infancy through adolescence, emphasizing developmental concepts, processes, experimental methodology, and findings of research in the areas of social, personality, and motivation development. DEPARTMENT OF RELIGIOUS STUDIES

Henry Samuel Levinson, Professor and Head of DepartmentAssociate Professor Wakeman; Assistant Professors Krueger, Orzech, Ramsey; Lecturers Headington, Sopper

The Department of Religious Studies investigates a variety of religious traditions, movements, and expressions that play important roles either historically or in contemporary cultures.

Courses are organized in four concentrations:

1. Traditions
2. Historical Studies
3. Critical and Evaluative Studies
4. Cultural Studies.

The Department teaches courses on such traditions as Buddhism, Christianity, Confucianism, Hinduism, Islam, Judaism, Shinto, and Taoism. Historical studies include courses about religions in African, Asian, Middle East, European, and American (especially United States) history. Critical and evaluative studies include courses on religious philosophies, religious ethics, and theologies, as well as political, social, and psychological accounts of religious life. Cultural studies include courses that investigate the role religion plays in politics, economics, social movements, arts, sciences, as well as diverse forms of personal conduct.

RELIGIOUS STUDIES MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Required: 122 semester hours.

The Religious Studies Major participates in a diversified program in the humanities, studying religious history, imaginative literature, systems of thought, and criticisms of culture, politics, and society. Because religious studies majors engage in multidisciplinary studies in the liberal arts, they are well-qualified to enter any field that profits from disciplines of exposition, analysis, appreciation, criticism, and historical reflection. Upon graduation, Religious Studies majors have gone into teaching, medicine, nursing, law, business, ministry, journalism and communications.

Members of the Religious Studies Department are available to advise students about career opportunities and to refer them to further information that may be of help.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements.

Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

24-60 semester hours in Religious Studies above the 100 level, including one course from each category.

1. Traditions: REL 210, 211, 215, 221, 225, 351, 352.
2. Historical Studies: REL 201, 202, 204, 205, 219, 231, 232, 235, 301, 305, 310.
3. Critical and Evaluative Studies: REL 207, 259, 324, 331, 333, 335, 365

DEPARTMENT OF ROMANCE LANGUAGES

319 McIver Building

Mark I. Smith-Soto, Professor and Head of Department

Professors Fein, Kish, Sánchez-Boudy, Smith; Associate Professors Almeida, Bulgin, Goode, Koenig, Mitchell, Sotomayor, Stinson, Whitaker; Assistant Professors Campo, Chesak, Rizk; Lecturers Bender, Dattalo, Jones, Levine, López-Bilbao, McLin, Newsom, Rodriguez, Rubio, Tomlinson

The Department of Romance Languages offers a variety of programs in language, literature, and culture of the three major Romance areas of French, Spanish, and Italian. Students may begin the study of any of these at the elementary level or continue it at the intermediate level. Students with one or more years of high school French or Spanish who wish to continue the study of that same language must take the Language Placement Test. Incoming transfer students returning to the study of French or Spanish begun in high school but not previously pursued at the college level must also take the test. Intermediate proficiency is expected for further work in French or Spanish; according to the student's interests, he or she may then begin the study of literature or develop language skills in composition and conversation. Native or near-native speakers must consult with Department Head before signing up for courses in the Department.

The Department's goals are three-fold:

1. To provide practical training in understanding, speaking, reading, and writing a foreign language;
2. To promote those values in the liberal arts tradition that derive particularly from the study of language and literature: increased understanding of language itself as structure and process, and the enlightening encounter with cultures and modes of thought different from one's own.
3. To prepare students interested in becoming French and Spanish teachers by providing a range of courses and experiences in their prospective field.

In addition to the Bachelor of Arts degree, the department offers the Master of Arts and the Master of Education degrees in French and in Spanish.

Special facilities and features include language laboratories; summer programs in France, Spain, Italy, and Latin America; and French and Spanish honorary societies. Achievement in Romance studies is recognized by five annual awards to outstanding juniors and seniors.

FRENCH OR SPANISH MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Required: 122 semester hours.

The French and Spanish Majors are designed to ensure a well-rounded preparation in language and literature. The programs are balanced and comprehensive, yet they allow students the latitude to explore subjects of special interest to them. Specific course and area requirements and electives in language, literature, and culture characterize both programs. The majors in Romance Languages begin above the 204 level. The maximum number of hours in the major that will count toward graduation is 60 (see page 52 for details).

Students seeking teacher certification should see Teacher Education in Chapter 5.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements in French

30-60 semester hours above the 204 level, including:

1. 301.
2. 307, 308 (301 is a prerequisite for 307 and 308).

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY

337 Graham Building

William E. Knox, Associate Professor and Head of Department

Professor Humphrey; Associate Professors Adams, Brown, Knox, Lindsay, Luebke, Markham, Pratto; Assistant Professors Erdmans, Malone, Mitchell; Lecturers Edwards, Neary

The undergraduate program in sociology is planned primarily as a part of a liberal arts education. The objective is to provide the student with an analytic and systematic approach to the understanding of social relations. The major provides a foundation for a variety of occupations and for advanced study.

Graduate study leading to the Master of Arts degree with a major in sociology is also available. Courses in this program are offered during the regular academic year. For details, see the Graduate School Catalog.

SOCIOLOGY MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Required: 122 semester hours.

The Sociology Major provides students with an understanding of the fundamental processes of social interaction that underlie all social organization and change. Beyond book and library study, students are required to develop skill in laboratory and field research. Students may a) major in sociology, b) major in both sociology and another major, or c) complete the social studies certification for secondary teachers with a major in sociology. Requirements for these three options are described separately below.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (54-55 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

JOSEPH M. BRYAN
SCHOOL OF BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS

401 Bryan Building

James K. Weeks, Professor and Dean of the School

Donald L. McCrickard, Associate Professor and Associate Dean

The Bryan School of Business and Economics is organized into five academic departments and an instructional division, each of which offers a program leading to the Bachelor of Science degree. The Department of Economics also offers a liberal-arts-oriented program leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree.

Departments

Accounting Economics
Finance
Information Systems and Operations Management
Management and Marketing

Division

Business and Marketing Teacher Education

The School's Advising Center supplements and complements faculty advising. The Director of Undergraduate Advising with a professional staff coordinates orientation, registration for the school and administers admission and retention of majors in the School.

The School's Internship and Cooperative Education Program integrates academic study with career-related work for eligible juniors majoring in the Bryan School. A variety of internship and co-op plans are available to meet students' needs.

Additionally the School supports two professional centers. The Center for Applied Research sponsors and conducts studies of particular relevance to economic and business developments in North Carolina, the southeast, and the nation. It publishes monographs and occasional papers. The Center for Economic Education, affiliated with the North Carolina Council for Economic Education, works to improve understanding of economic affairs, primarily in collaboration with state and local school systems.

ACCREDITATION

Undergraduate and graduate programs offered by the Bryan School of Business and Economics are accredited by The American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business, and in the case of programs leading to certification to teach, by the National Council of Accreditation in Teacher Education and the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction.

SCOPE

Programs within the Bryan School of Business and Economics prepare students for careers in business, teaching, and government, or for graduate study. These programs combine the essentials of a professional education and the breadth of general education. A minimum of 40 percent of the degree program requirements must be taken in general education and liberal arts studies outside the School. In a 122-semester-hour degree program, no more than 72 semester hours may be taken within the Bryan School of Business and Economics.

The essential components of a professional education in business and economics (Bachelor of Science degrees) include a common body of knowledge for breadth and opportunities for advanced work for depth in the various business and economics disciplines. The common body of knowledge requirements for Bachelor of Science majors within the Bryan School of Business and Economics include ACC 201, 202; ECO 201, 202, 250, 250L; FIN 340; ISM 350, 360; and MGT 312, 320, 330 (331 for Accounting majors), 491.

Noncredit courses, workshops, and special lectures and seminars by distinguished persons of national prominence promote continuing education for a diverse public.

Collaboration with North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University (located in Greensboro) permits UNCG students to take courses not offered on the home campus - for example, Agricultural Economics or Agribusiness.

ADMISSION TO THE SCHOOL

A student must be formally admitted to the Bryan School of Business and Economics and to the department or division in which a major is to be pursued. Only students who have formal, written acceptance into the School will be permitted to register in advanced courses and complete work for the major involved.

Criteria for Admission

1. 51 semester hours (at UNCG or in acceptable transfer credit) with a minimum grade point average of 2.5. (Admission to Accounting will require a minimum grade point average of 2.7). If additional enrollments again threaten academic program quality, higher minimum grade point averages will be required for admission to the Bryan School.
2. Completion of the following group of preadmission courses either at UNCG or in acceptable transfer credit.

For students in Bachelor of Science programs:

ACC 201, 202; ECO 201, 202, 250, 250L; MAT 191A or B; PSY 221; SOC 211

For students in Bachelor of Arts program:

ECO 201, 202, 250, 250L; MAT 191A or B

Students may not enroll in more than 15 semester hours within the School beyond the preadmission courses cited above without being admitted to the School. Application for admission to the Bryan School of Business and Economics and to the departments should be made the semester a student is completing the preadmission courses. Applications are available in the School's Advising Center.

Admission should normally be sought during the second semester of the sophomore year. Students who appear to be following one of the School's curricula but who have not applied for admission may be prohibited from taking additional work within the School.

Since preadmission course requirements are different, students who have been admitted to the B.A. program may not transfer to one of the B. S. programs without completing the additional background requirements and being admitted to the B.S. program.

Holders of baccalaureate degrees who wish to work toward a second bachelor's degree should apply for admission immediately upon enrolling in the University and consult carefully with an advisor regarding requirements for completing the second degree. The Bryan School of Business and Economics cannot, at this time, accommodate persons who seek only to complete a series of courses in one field (such as Accounting or Management Information Systems). Those who enroll as candidates for second undergraduate degrees are expected to respect all course prerequisites and show evidence of orderly progress toward the second degree.

The stated requirements for admission are minimum requirements, and bare compliance with them does not automatically imply admission. The School and its departments reserve the right to refuse admission in cases where additional enrollments would threaten the academic quality of classes or programs and in cases where a review of an application suggests that the applicant lacks the ability, background, or intellectual orientation necessary to benefit from the programs provided.

Criteria for Continuing in the Bryan School of Business and Economics

Majors who have been admitted to the Bryan School of Business and Economics must maintain a cumulative grade point average equal to or greater than the minimum quality point ratio required at the time of their admission to the School. Admitted majors whose cumulative grade point average falls below their admission grade point requirement will be placed on probation the following semester (and summer session) and will be allowed to continue taking coursework within the School during that period. At the end of the probation period, students must have achieved a satisfactory cumulative grade point average (i.e., equal to or greater than that required for their admission), to continue taking coursework in the School. Students on probation will not be allowed to enroll in MGT 491-Business Policy and Strategy.

INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS STUDIES

The major in International Business Studies is an interdisciplinary program which meets the requirements of the Bryan School, the College of Arts and Sciences, and the International Studies program. This major provides broad-based study in international business including the common body of business and economics courses plus foreign language training and international studies courses. For additional information please see the description on pages 336-337.

TRANSFERS

Since most of the courses in the major are taken during the junior and senior years, transfer students often complete their programs without extending their total stay beyond the usual four years. As a general guide, courses taught mainly to freshmen and sophomores here will usually, but not always, be accepted in transfer from accredited two-year colleges. Courses numbered 300 and above generally will not be accepted in transfer credit from two-year institutions. However, credit for any course may be obtained by examination, and passing grades on CLEP examinations may be used to establish credit in a few courses.

SUGGESTED ACADEMIC WORKLOAD GUIDELINES

The faculty of the Bryan School of Business and Economics recognizes that many Bryan School students hold jobs to support college expenses. The faculty wishes to emphasize that academic excellence and scholastic achievement usually require a significant investment of time in study, research, and out-of-class projects. To provide guidance to students in planning their academic and work schedules, the faculty of the Bryan School have endorsed the following recommendations:

1. In general, students should plan to devote between 2-3 hours outside of class for each hour in class. Thus, students with a 15-hour course load should schedule between 30-45 hours weekly for completing outside- of-class reading, study, and homework assignments.

2. Students who are employed more than 5-10 hours each week should consider reducing their course loads (credit hours), depending upon their study habits, learning abilities and course work requirements.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND FELLOWSHIPS

Procedures and requirements for undergraduate scholarships are described in Chapter 7.

BUSINESS MINOR

The Business Minor, consisting of 21 semester hours, is available for majors outside the Bryan School of Business and Economics who are in good standing in the University. The minor complements a variety of professional, and arts and sciences fields. To earn a Business Minor, a student must meet the following requirements in the order listed:

1. Complete ACC 201 and ECO 201 with a grade of C or better. (Note: MAT 119 - College Algebra, or the equivalent, and sophomore standing are prerequisites for ACC 201.)
2. Apply for admission to the minor program in the Bryan School Advising Center, Room 232, Bryan Building, and
3. Consult with an advisor in the Bryan School Advising Center to select 15 semester hours of electives.

A grade of C or better must be achieved in each course utilized for the minor.

DEPARTMENT OF ACCOUNTING
418 Bryan Building

William A. Collins, Professor and Head of Department

DEPARTMENT OF ECONOMICS

462 Bryan Building

David H. Shelton, Professor and Head of Department

Professors Allen, Caldwell, Link, Neufeld, Seaks; Associate Professors Layson, McCrickard (Associate Dean), Ruhm, Snowden; Assistant Professors Brod, Leyden, Joan Rodgers, John Rodgers, Shobe, Simkins; Lecturers Ellis, Hopkins, Lockley, Mackie, Mirka, Nowakowski, Pennell, Redmond, Skipper, Vines, Woodbery

The Department of Economics endeavors to provide students with an understanding of economic principles, concepts, and institutions and the ability to analyze economic problems and public policy issues. Economics is a social science concerned with such issues as inflation, unemployment, international trade and finance, energy scarcity, population pressures, urban decay, environmental pollution, poverty, and discrimination.

The Economics Department offers degree programs leading to the Bachelor of Arts with a major in economics, Bachelor of Science with a major in economics, and Master of Arts with a major in economics or applied economics. A financial economics concentration can also be taken in the applied economics major. Students who prefer a liberal arts approach to the study of economics should pursue the Bachelor of Arts degree. Students who wish to study economics in combination with an introduction to the principal business fields should pursue the Bachelor of Science degree. Requirements for the B.S. degree include the "common body of knowledge" courses common to all professional degree programs within the Bryan School of Business and Economics.

As a social science, economics is among those disciplines traditionally included in liberal arts studies. Economics is also an immensely practical subject. Many economic ideas and concepts are at the core of rational decision making and, consequently, are very useful to those planning careers in commerce, industry, law, government, journalism, and administration. An undergraduate major in economics at UNCG combines a liberal education with technical specialization and provides an excellent background for finding employment in private firms and with government. The program also helps to prepare the student for graduate study in economics, law, business, and other professional fields.

A program leading to social studies teacher certification with a major in economics is also available.

Electives sufficient to complete 122 total semester hours required for degree. Not more than 72 hours may be taken in the Bryan School of Business and Economics.

ECONOMICS MINOR

Eighteen semester hours of economics at or above the 200 level are required to complete a minor. A minor in this field may be combined with a major in any discipline. An economics minor is especially appropriate for students whose majors are geography, history, mathematics, political science, sociology or any of the professional areas in the Bryan School of Business and Economics.

DOUBLE MAJOR

Completion of a second major in economics is a good choice for students in the business fields, other social sciences, mathematics, and a number of professional areas other than those in the Bryan School of Business and Economics. The double major can usually be fitted into a normal four-year course of study. In highly structured professional programs, additional hours beyond the minimum required for graduation may be necessary, but the number of these is often not large. Students who double major in economics and another field must complete all major requirements in both areas as well as the general requirements for the degree which they are seeking.

A specialized second major in economics is also offered. It is available to all students but is especially appropriate for those who expect to teach in the secondary schools. The requirements are the same as those for a regular second major except that, if the courses CEF 381, PSS 450, and PSS 470 are taken, the three courses together may substitute for one three-semester-hour advanced elective course in economics.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE

441 Bryan Building

G. Donald Jud, Professor and Head of Department

Professors Flanigan, Johnson; Associate Professors Balbirer, Wingler, Winkler; Assistant Professor Simms; Lecturers Oglesby, Phillips

The undergraduate finance program deals with the theory, organization, and operation of the financial system from both a market and a managerial viewpoint. Students are expected to develop analytical abilities and to present their analyses in both written and oral form.

The Department of Finance offers a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in finance. Undergraduate majors in finance may select a concentration in financial management or in risk management and insurance.

A concentration in financial management may lead to managerial positions in controllership or treasury work in nonfinancial businesses as well as a wide array of careers in the financial service industry. A concentration in risk management and insurance may lead to positions in the risk management departments of public agencies and private corporations as well as insurance companies. The education received in either program can lead to responsible managerial positions.

At the graduate level, the department offers courses in finance and risk management as part of the Master of Business Administration (MBA) program.

DEPARTMENT OF INFORMATION SYSTEMS AND OPERATIONS MANAGEMENT

479 Bryan Building

Gerald L. Hershey, Professor and Head of Department

Professors Grill, Weeks (Dean); Associate Professors Eatman, Ehrhardt, Steele, Taube, White¹; Adjunct Associate Professors Cheng, Grandon; Assistant Professors Amoako-Gyampah, Herschel, Hopkins, Koh, Smith; Lecturers Budd, Kaiser, Kauber, Thies

Programs offered by the department include study of computer technology and automation applied to information systems, production-manufacturing systems, office systems and management decision making. Career opportunities are excellent for quality graduates of any of the three concentrations. All students in departmental programs gain extensive experience using microcomputers and contemporary applications software.

The department sponsors two professional student organizations, participates in the School's internship program, and assists students with career planning and placement. Students with appropriate academic records are encouraged to seek an internship as advanced juniors or seniors. The programs in Management Information Systems and Office Systems Administration closely follow the national curriculum models of DPMA and OSRA.

ECO 250. 234 Introduction to Business Information Systems (3:3). Introduction to computer hardware, software and microcomputer applications including word processing, graphics, spreadsheets, and network functions. Open to freshmen and other students seeking a basic introduction to microcomputer usage. | 240 COBOL Programming I (3:3). Introduction to the use of COBOL language as a tool for solving business-related problems. Emphasis on problem analysis and structured programming techniques. Pr. 234. 309 Business Communications (3:3). Analysis and composition of effective business communications, including both short and formal reports. Stresses the importance of communications to effective management of organizations. Pr. junior standing and admission to Department or other professional program approved by Department. |
|---|---|

- 310 COBOL Programming II (3:3). Advanced study of structured COBOL programming. Multiple dimensioned tables, multiple file handling, indexed and direct file access for business applications. Pr. grade of at least C in 240 and admission to Department or other professional program approved by Department.
- 320 Office Systems (3:3). Organization and applications of office and end-user systems. Approaches to integration of various support systems with attention to user support and applications of technology. Pr. junior standing and admission to the Bryan School of Business and Economics.
- 345 Management Information Support Systems (3:3). Advanced microcomputer applications and end-user systems. Hands-on experience using and evaluating software. Discussion of operating systems and network applications. Pr. 234 and admission to the Department or other professional program approved by Department.
- 350 Management Information System Concepts (3:3). Survey of foundation concepts: system definition, constraints, relationship of MIS to data processing, organizational and behavioral implications, systems reliability, and social responsibilities. Pr. junior standing and admission to the Bryan School of Business and Economics or other professional program approved by the School.
- 351 Analysis of Management Information Systems (3:3). Study of the process of identifying and translating business needs into information systems specifications. Includes data gathering, feasibility analysis and business modeling techniques. Pr. admission to Department.
- 360 Operations Management (3:3). Survey of the operations functions of organizations with emphasis on design and control decisions. Qualitative and quantitative problem-solving methods used to enhance managerial competence in the operations functions. Pr. 230 or ECO 311 and admission to the Bryan School of Business and Economics or other professional program approved by Department.
- 361 Assembler Programming (3:3). Examination and utilization of assembly language with an emphasis on understanding how a one-for-one machine language operates. Pr. 240.
- 400 Database Processing (3:3). Introduction to database processing with emphasis on file structures, commercial data bases, data definition language, query language, and processing in a database environment. Pr. 310, admission to Department or other professional program approved by Department.
- 420 Office Systems Analysis and Design (3:3). Approaches and tools used in analysis and design of office and end-user systems. Development of techniques for analyzing unstructured systems and assessing office productivity. Pr. grade of C or better in 320 and admission to the Department or other professional program approved by Department.
- 452 Design of Management Information Systems (3:3). Development of cost effective computer-based systems to produce information needed for managerial decision making as specified in the information analysis phase. Pr. 351 and 400, and admission to Department or other professional program approved by Department.
- 461 Production Management Controls (3:3). Analysis of development, execution, and control of an operating plan for an organization, including discussions of material and capacity control, quality control, and Japanese techniques. Cases and a term paper/project. Pr. 360, admission to Department or other professional program approved by Department. (Normally offered only in the Fall semester.)
- 462 Distribution and Materials Management (3:3). Major topic areas covered include inventory management, distribution, purchasing and logistics management. Pr. 360. (Normally offered only in the Spring semester.)
- 463 Production/Operations Management Simulation (3:3). Seminar simulating operation of a complex business enterprise. Student teams operate competing firms in an industrial environment simulated by a computer. Pr. 360.
- 472 Advanced Office Systems (3:3). Study of advanced topics in office systems and office automation. In-depth analysis of selected issues. May involve field-based research. Pr. 351, grade of C or better in 420, and admission to Department or other professional program approved by Department.

- 492 Advanced Topics in Business Information Systems (3:3). Advanced study of topics of interest to those in Information Systems. Group discussions and study emphasized. Pr. 351 and senior standing.

DEPARTMENT OF MANAGEMENT AND MARKETING

366 Bryan Building

Benton E. Miles, Professor and Acting Head of Department

Professors Lucas, Moran (Chancellor of UNCG); Associate Professors Buttner, Kane, Land, McEnally, Tullar, Williamson; Assistant Professors Brown, Gryskiewicz, Kawashima; Adjunct Assistant Professor Novelli; Lecturers Arledge, Cash, Crook, Hassell, Johnson, Schwartz, Sowers, Summers

The Department of Management and Marketing offers a program of study leading to the Bachelor of Science degree. The objective of the undergraduate major in management and marketing is to provide liberally educated students with a broad exposure to the functional areas of business and a more comprehensive understanding of one of the managerial specialties through choice of a concentration:

Human Resources places focus on skills and knowledge needed by the professional human resources manager: job analysis, recruiting, screening, selection, training and development, performance appraisal, job evaluation, and salary administration.

Management is the process of producing organizational effectiveness through planning, organizing, staffing, leading, and controlling. Activities range from supervising small groups to establishing strategy for a multinational corporation.

Marketing is concerned with the development and pricing of products, selection of distribution channels, and promotion of products to consumers. This concentration leads to careers in sales, sales management, advertising, and retailing as well as marketing management.

Merchandising Management focuses on the retail environment and the appropriate channel members involved in consumer goods/services. The concentration leads to careers in management in retailing organizations and related business firms dealing with consumer goods and services.

DIVISION OF BUSINESS AND MARKETING
TEACHER EDUCATION

366 Bryan Building

Benton E. Miles, Professor (Department of Management and Marketing) and Director of Division
Professor Lucas (Department of Management and Marketing)

Programs in this division develop, maintain, and promote business and marketing teacher education. Graduates are qualified and certified to teach in North Carolina secondary schools. Employment opportunities are excellent in community colleges and technical institutes as well as in secondary schools.

Two majors are available in this division in two areas of teaching: business education and marketing education. While each major primarily prepares students to teach high school subjects germane to the business world, the strong foundation in business courses also prepares students for employment in the business world.

The Business Education major has two available concentrations. The Business Education concentration qualifies graduates to teach office systems, information systems, accounting systems, administrative support, and business administration courses normally taught at the secondary school level in North Carolina. The Business Education/Information Processing concentration qualifies graduates to teach all the business education concentration courses, except shorthand, that are normally taught at the secondary school level in North Carolina.

The Marketing Education major prepares graduates to teach marketing, merchandising, and management courses in secondary schools as well as courses in fashion merchandising, advertising, sales, wholesaling, and food marketing. Graduates have frequent opportunities to mix with the business community; the marketing education teacher is often an entrepreneur. Employment opportunities for graduates are excellent.

Financial Aid. Financial aid is available on a competitive basis to undergraduate students preparing to teach business education and/or marketing education: the Vance T. Littlejohn Scholarship, Nina Teague Lineberry Scholarship Endowment, Charles Burchett Allen Scholarship, and James W. Crews Scholarship Endowment are available. Other financial aid sources are listed and explained in Chapter 7.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

Curry Building

A. Edward Uprichard, Professor and Dean of School

Mary W. Olson, Professor and Associate Dean

The School of Education comprises five departments and the Collegium for the Advancement of Schools, Schooling and Education. Within the Collegium are three centers.

Departments

Counseling and Specialized Educational Development (CED)

Curriculum and Educational Foundations (CEF)

Educational Administration, Higher Education, and Educational Research (EAR)

Library and Information Studies (LIS)

Pedagogical Studies and Supervision (PSS)

The Collegium

Center for Educational Research and Evaluation

Center for Educational Studies and Development

Center for School Accountability

All of these departments are engaged in graduate programs leading to master's, specialist's, and/or doctoral degrees. The Department of Pedagogical Studies and Supervision offers undergraduate degrees as well; its Bachelor of Science programs prepare students for Class "A" certification in North Carolina. Undergraduate majors are available in Elementary and Middle Grades Education.

The School of Education also supports programs in teacher education conducted under the auspices of other schools (music; dance, health, physical education; home economics; business) and departments within the College of Arts and Sciences by responding to course requirements in the areas of social, philosophical, and psychological foundations, methodology, and curriculum and student teaching. Recent emphases in competency-based curricula and individualized programming contribute to new designs of teacher education programs.

All certification programs for school personnel are approved by the North Carolina State Department of Public Instruction and accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

The School of Education continues to seek realization of its goals as a professional school to create and disseminate new knowledge in professional education, to engage in field services and apply research findings, to prepare practitioners, and to study the profession. A general discussion of Teacher Education may be found in Chapter 5, Special Academic Programs.

Departments of the School of Education are listed below with their respective faculties. Students seeking further information on graduate-level programs are referred to the Graduate School Catalog.

DEPARTMENT OF PEDAGOGICAL STUDIES AND SUPERVISION

John E. Readence, Professor and Chair of Department

Professors Bright, Olson, Uprichard, Van Hoose; Associate Professors Irwin, Lee, Miller, Mitchell, Powers, Stoodt, Strahan, Vallecorsa; Assistant Professors Baber, Cox, de Bettencourt, Matthews, Niemeyer, Vacc

Adjunct Professors Adkins, Friel, McCoy, Woodruff

Professor Emeritus Bowles

Undergraduate majors in this department are prepared to receive North Carolina Class "A" certification for teaching in public schools, grades K-6 and 6-9. The majors in this department include Elementary (K-6) and Middle Grades (6-9) Education.

Admission to the University does not guarantee admission to Teacher Education with a major in the Department of Pedagogical Studies and Supervision. In addition to admission to teacher education (See Teacher Education in Chapter 5), a student that seeks admission to the elementary or middle grades education major is expected to achieve:

1. A minimum grade point average (GPA) of 2.75;
2. A grade of C or better in PSS 250;
3. completion of all courses needed to fulfill the "All University Liberal Education Requirements;" and
4. demonstration of effective written communication skills.

Applications for admission to elementary and middle grades education are due in the office of Student Information and Advising by February 1 of each year for admission for the following academic year.

Eligibility to enter student teaching requires maintaining a grade point average of 2.75 or better after being admitted to the major, and achieving a grade of "C" or better in each professional course. After admission to the major, if a student fails to maintain a grade point average of 2.75, the student has one semester to improve his/her grade point average. If a student receives a "D" or "F" in a professional course, the student is eligible to retake the course at its next offering.

All students majoring in Elementary or Middle Grades Education are required to complete another approved major or a second major or a concentration consisting of a minimum of 24 semester hours in a basic academic discipline. Depending on the academic discipline selected, a maximum of 6 hours may be counted toward the all-university liberal education requirement and this requirement. All students who entered the University in fall 1989 as freshmen are subject to this requirement.

The School of Education's Department of Pedagogical Studies and Supervision reserves the right to refuse admission where additional enrollments would threaten the academic quality of classes or programs. The size of each junior class coming into Elementary or Middle Grades Education is determined by the availability of clinical faculty for student practicum and student teaching experiences. Therefore, it may not be possible to assure space for each student who meets the quantitative criteria for admission to the major as specified above. Interviews and/or other qualitative criteria will be implemented in such instances.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION MAJOR (Bachelor of Science)

Required: 127-130 semester hours

All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) (45 hours)

All students in this program must meet AULER requirements. Specific area requirements are indicated below:

SCHOOL OF HEALTH AND HUMAN PERFORMANCE

401 Health and Human Performance Building

Robert W. Christina, Professor and Dean of School

Diane L. Gill, Professor and Associate Dean

In the School of Health and Human Performance academic programs are offered through the Department of Dance, the Department of Exercise and Sport Science, the Department of Leisure Studies, and the Department of Public Health Education. Each department offers varied courses for all University students and programs of study leading to undergraduate majors and minors in their respective areas. Graduate degrees in Dance, Health Education, and Exercise and Sport Science are also offered. The School's programs are designed to meet specialized interests of students and also the requirements of state and national accrediting agencies and professional associations.

In the Department of Dance, the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree is offered with a major in Dance as a creative and performing art. The Bachelor of Science degree, with a major in dance education, is designed to lead to North Carolina certification for teaching in public schools. A dance minor and master's degree studies are also available.

The Department of Exercise and Sport Science offers majors in Exercise and Sport Science leading to the Bachelor of Science degree. One of two concentrations may be selected: Teacher Education or Exercise Science and Sport Studies. The Teacher Education concentration prepares a student for teaching in grades K-12. A Coaching minor is available, and graduate studies leading to the master's degree, and the doctoral degree are offered.

In the Department of Leisure Studies, a major student may choose one of three areas of concentration, Leisure Services Management, Therapeutic Recreation, or Travel, Tourism, and Commercial Recreation. These concentrations lead to the Bachelor of Science degree. A Leisure Studies minor is also available. A Master of Public Affairs with a concentration in Leisure Studies is offered through the Department of Political Science. The undergraduate program is fully accredited by the NRPA/AALR Council on Accreditation.

The Department of Public Health Education offers the Health Education major, leading to the Bachelor of Science degree, with concentrations in Community Health Education and School Health Education. The latter leads to K-12 teacher certification. A Health Studies minor is available as well as graduate studies leading to the master's degree.

Further details about specific major programs can be found in the individual Department listings on the following pages. Graduate programs are described in the University's Graduate Catalog.

DEPARTMENT OF EXERCISE AND SPORT SCIENCE

250 Health and Human Performance Building

Shirl J. Hoffman, Professor and Head of Department

Professors Barrett, Gill, Gould, Martinek, Swanson; Associate Professors Goldfarb, Harris, Karper, Robinson, Umstead, Williams; Assistant Professors Crews, Hopewell, Hudson, Morgan, Veal; Lecturers DeLoca, Francis, Richards, Wieser

EXERCISE AND SPORT SCIENCE MAJOR (Bachelor of Science)

Required: Exercise Science and Sport Studies Concentration — 122-123 semester hours

Teacher Education Concentration — 125-131 semester hours

CONCENTRATIONS

The Exercise Science and Sport Studies concentration is designed for students preparing for fitness leadership as a career and those preparing for graduate programs related to exercise SCIENCE. A 6 semester-hour internship, designed to provide practical experience in community settings appropriate for each student's career goals, is required.

The Physical Education Teacher Education concentration leads to certification for teaching in North Carolina and most other states. The certification program prepares a student to teach grades K-12. Throughout the program there are opportunities for observation, participation, assisting and "mini-teaching", and coaching experiences with public school students, including those with special needs.

Second Major Requirement for Teacher Education Concentration

All students majoring in Physical Education Teacher Education are required to complete another approved major or a second major or a concentration consisting of a minimum of 24 semester hours in a basic academic discipline. Depending on the academic discipline selected, a maximum of 6 hours may be counted toward the all-university liberal education requirement and this requirement. All students who entered any college in Fall 1989 or later as freshmen are subject to this requirement.

REQUIREMENTS

Requirements for the Physical Education Major are described in the following categories:

1. All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) - separately for the ESSS concentration, and for the Teacher Education concentration according to the "Second Major" chosen
2. Related Area Requirements - for the Teacher Education Concentration only, according to the "Second Major" chosen
3. Additional "Second Major" Requirements - for the Teacher Education Concentration only, according to the "Second Major" chosen
4. Major Requirements - for both concentrations
5. Electives - for both concentrations

All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) (47-50 semester hours)• for the Exercise and Sport Studies concentration

All students in this program must meet AULER requirements. Specific area requirements are indicated below:

	Semester Hours
1. Analytical and Evaluative Studies (AE)	3
2. British or American Literature (BL)	3
3. Fine Arts (FA)	3
4. Historical Perspectives on Western Culture (HP)	3
5. Mathematics (MT)	3
Required: STA 108
6. Natural Science (NS)	7-8
Required: BIO 101 plus BIO 107 lab, and one additional NS course
7. Non-Western Studies (NW)	3
8. Reasoning and Discourse (RD)	6
Required: ENG 101 or FMS 103 or RCO 101 and one other approved RD course
9. Social and Behavioral Sciences (SB)	6
Required: PSY 221 and one other SB course
10. World Literature (WL)	3
11. AULER Additional Courses	7 - 9
Required: CHE 103 or 111, plus CHE 104 or 114, and CHE 110

See pages 43-46 for a detailed listing of the complete AULER area requirements and courses meeting those requirements.

All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER)• for the Physical Education Teacher Education concentration

Specific AULER area requirements for Physical Education Teacher Education VARY according to the "Second Major" chosen. Please see second major requirements outlined below for details.

For the Anthropology Second Major (128-131 total semester hours):All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) (40-41 semester hours)

All students in this program must meet AULER requirements. Specific area requirements are indicated below:

	Semester Hours
1. Analytic and Evaluative Studies (AE)	3
2. British or American Literature (BL) or World Literature (WL)	3
3. Fine Arts (FA)	3
4. Historical Perspectives on Western Culture (HP)	3
5. Mathematics (MT)	3
6. Natural Science (NS)	7-8
Required: BIO 101 plus BIO 107 lab, and one additional NS course
7. Non-Western Studies (NW)	3
Required: ATY 325, 333, 335, or 337*
8. Reasoning and Discourse (RD)	3
Required: ENG 101 or FMS 103 or RCO 101
9. Social and Behavioral Sciences (SB)	6
Required: PSY 221 and ESS 330

10. AULER Additional Courses 6

Required: ATY 201, 212, or 258, plus one course from any AULER area

The above reflects waivers approved for this program in the areas of Literature (BL/WL), 3 hours, Reasoning and Discourse (RD), 3 hours. See pages 43-46 for a detailed listing of courses meeting AULER area requirements.

Related Area Requirements (8 semester hours)

BIO 271 and 277

Additional "Second Major" Requirements (18 semester hours plus 6 hours in AULER)

1. Required Core: ATY 213, 253, 360, 387, and 411
2. *Choose one from the group ATY 325, 333, 337 in addition to the course selected for the NW Area in AULER
3. *One from the following: ATY 201, 212, or 258
(was contributed from the AULER Additional courses)

For the Biology Second Major (128-131 total semester hours):

All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) (38 semester hours)

All students in this program must meet AULER requirements. Specific area requirements are indicated below:

	Semester Hours
1. Analytic and Evaluative Studies (AE)	3

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH EDUCATION

437 Health and Human Performance Building

Harvey W. Gruchow, Professor and Head of Department

Professor Howell; Associate Professors Bibeau, King, Lawrance, McLeroy, Mullen, Smith; Lecturers Carr, Essick

Adjunct Lecturer Enright

Increasing national interest in health and health promotion attracts students to the undergraduate degree program in Public Health Education, with concentrations available in Community Health Education and School Health Education. Both concentrations provide field experiences in public and private agencies as a part of the professional studies program. Graduates have found career paths open to them in community health departments, schools, and various health and human services agencies. The student who wishes to declare a Health Education major should consult with the Department Admissions Coordinator, to be assigned an advisor and receive information about required course schedules and sequences.

HEALTH EDUCATION MAJOR (Bachelor of Science)

Required: Community Health Education Concentration — 124 semester hours

School Health Education Concentration — 128 semester hours

Concentrations

- Community Health Education

Students in this concentration are prepared to design and implement health promotion programs in the community. Graduates have found careers in national, state, and local health agencies, health and human services organizations, and business and industry.

- School Health Education

Students in this concentration are prepared for teaching grades K-12 in public and private schools, and school-related positions with selected community agencies. Admission into the UNCG Teacher Education program is required.

Second Major Requirement (School Concentration)

All students majoring in Health Education (School concentration) are required to complete another approved major or a second major or a concentration consisting of a minimum of 24 semester hours in a basic academic discipline. Depending on the academic discipline selected, a maximum of 6 hours may be counted toward the all-university liberal education requirement and this requirement. All students who entered the University in Fall 1989 or later as freshmen are subject to this requirement.

Admission to the Professional Program

1. Completion of at least 12 semester hours at UNCG
2. At least 2.2 grade point average upon completion of 60 credit hours.

Admission to Senior Practicum Course (HEA 428)

1. Admission to the Professional Program
2. Completion of all early field experience requirements (HEA 340 and 345)
3. At least 2.2 grade point average (overall)
4. At least 2.5 grade point average in all Health courses

Admission to Student Teaching Courses (HEA 461, 462)

1. Admission to Teacher Education Program
2. Completion of all Teacher Education requirements
3. Minimum 2.5 grade point average (overall)
4. Minimum 2.5 grade point average in all Health courses

• COMMUNITY HEALTH EDUCATION CONCENTRATION

SCHOOL OF HUMAN ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCES

101 Park Building

Edward A. Powers, Professor and Acting Dean

Linda B. Parker, Assistant to the Dean

Programs within the School of Human Environmental Sciences prepare students for careers in the field of applied human sciences. Our science-based teaching and research programs focus on human beings in multiple environmental contexts.

Students receive a broad-based liberal education that includes University requirements and School requirements along with the courses required for their particular majors. The uniqueness of our programs lies in their ability to utilize basic principles from many disciplines to solve human problems and to meet social needs.

The strong research efforts within the School serve to enhance and support highly challenging undergraduate programs. The six majors offered are:

- Clothing and Textiles
- Food, Nutrition, and Food Service Management
- Home Economics Education
- Human Development and Family Relations
- Interior Design
- Social Work

Special facilities of the School of Human Environmental Sciences include three Child Care Education Centers, the Governor Morehead School for the Visually Impaired, the Historic Costume and Textile Collection, the Family Research Center, and the Environmental Research Facility.

Requirements for Continuing in the Major or Transferring into the Major

1. Students may declare the Clothing and Textiles major as freshmen.
2. Criteria for continuing as a Clothing and Textile major:
 - a. The attainment of a minimum grade point average of 2.2 upon completion of 60 semester hours either at UNCG or in acceptable transfer credit.
 - b. Maintenance of a minimum 2.2 grade point average beyond 60 semester hours. (Note: students whose grade point average falls below this level will be placed on probation for the following semester and will be allowed to continue taking CTX course work during that period. At the end of the probation period, students must have achieved a minimum 2.2 grade point average in order to continue taking Clothing and Textile courses.)
 - c. Completion of a majority of AULER requirements during the first 60 semester hours.
 - d. Completion of the following foundation courses within the first 60 semester hours either at UNCG or in acceptable transfer credit: CTX 121, 211, 231.
3. To qualify for internship, CTX 462, students must have a minimum grade point average of 2.5
4. To transfer from another department into Clothing and Textiles, students must have a minimum grade point average of 2.2.

CLOTHING AND TEXTILES MINOR

Majors in art, history, any major in the Bryan School of Business and Economics, chemistry, or allied fields may elect a minor in Clothing and Textiles by completing 15 semester hours, one course of which must be at the 500 level. There are two areas in the CTX Department from which a student can develop a minor: Textile Products Marketing or Textile Products Design. Required courses (6 hours) for the minor are CTX 211 and 231; remaining courses can be selected from the following concentrations:

Textile Products Marketing: CTX 251, 261, 321, 361, 372, 463, 530, 532, 560, 562

Textile Products Design: CTX 242, 244, 341, 342, 372, 551, 543, 545, 552

CLOTHING AND TEXTILES COURSES (CTX)

For Undergraduates

- 100 Apparel Construction Processes I (3:1:6). An introduction to the concepts of shaping, reinforcing, joining, and detailing textile materials in a variety of textile products. Textile Products Design students are required to successfully pass CTX 100 or a competency examination prior to enrolling in CTX 341. For CTX majors only. (Spring only)
- 111 Textiles for Interior Furnishings (3:3). Textile fiber, yarn and fabric properties, dyes and finishes relating to quality of interior furnishings. Performance evaluation based on industry standards, end-use requirements and the use environment.
- 121 Culture, Human Behavior, and Dress (3:3). Introduction to the social and psychological aspects of clothing and its significance in cultural and subcultural settings around the world.
- 211 Textile Science (3:3). Principles of fiber science with emphasis on fiber chemical composition, physical structure, and properties; analyses of yarn and fabric structures and their characterization; and fundamentals of coloration and finishing.
- 231 Textile Products: Production, Distribution and Consumption (3:3). Overview of the fiber-textile-apparel complex from raw material through consumption; includes scope and structure of the industries, auxiliary enterprises, and career possibilities.
- 242 Design Principles Applied to Textile Products (3:3). Application of the elements and principles of design to analysis of textile products and solution of design problems. Emphasis on textile product design evaluations through verbal and written communications. Pr. 211.
- 244 Visual Communication for the Textile Products Industry (3:1:5). Survey of industry methods for communicating design concepts and presenting finished products. Emphasis is on use of media and development of techniques for rendering fabrics and textile product designs. Pr. 242, ART 140.
- 251 Principles of Apparel Evaluation (3:3). An examination and evaluation of ready-to-wear apparel including terminologies, production techniques and price/quality relationships. Pr. 211, 231.
- 261 Introduction to Apparel Merchandising (3:3). Survey of apparel business focusing on fashion socio-economics, principles governing fashions' origins and movement, and implications of these factors for apparel merchandisers. Career opportunities investigated.
- 312 Textile Product Performance (3:2:3). Study of the properties of textile fibers, yarns, and finished fabrics using standard methods of textile evaluation and basic statistics. Pr. 211, CHE 103, 104, 110L.
- 321 Social Psychology of Dress (3:3). Social and cognitive processes related to the meanings people assign to clothing cues when perceiving one another. Focus on appearance-related stereotypes: age, gender, physical attractiveness, status, and ethnicity. Pr. ATY 100 or 213, SOC 211 or 232.
- 341 Apparel Design Techniques (3:1:5). Development of apparel designs by flat pattern techniques; theory and pattern grading. Pr. 100, 211, 242.
- 342 Advanced Applications of Flat Pattern Drafting Techniques (3:2:3). Flat pattern drafting techniques in development of slopers, master patterns, and original designs as well as theory and practical application of pattern grading and fit. Pr. 341.
- 361 Textile Products Buying and Merchandising I (3:3). Investigation of the role and responsibilities of buyers and managers in retail operations. Fundamentals of merchandise mathematics and buying. Pr. CTX 231, 261, MAT 119 or permission of instructor.
- 362 Visual Merchandising and Promotion (3:3). Application of visual merchandising to textile and nontextile products and services, through design principles and physical manipulation. Pr. 242.
- 372 Survey of Historic Costume (3:3). Survey of historic costume from prehistory to present, with emphasis on social, economic, and political events with emphasis on social, economic, and political events as well as various cultures that have influenced modern dress. Pr. WCV 101.
- 400 Special Problems in Clothing and Textiles (1 to 4). Individual study. Conference hours to be arranged.

- 441 Computer-Aided Design for Apparel (3:1:6). A survey of apparel design techniques utilizing computers to facilitate the design process. Emphasis is placed on developing original designs, patterns, and markers. Pr. 100, 242, 341.
- 461 Textile Products Industry Analyses (3:3). Analyses of trends and current developments influencing the textile and apparel industry. Examination of process, content, requirements, and options for self-directed learning opportunities in clothing and textiles. Pr. 12 hours in CTX; application required.
- 462 Internship: Textile Products Design and Marketing (3:3). Relevant internship experiences for clothing and textiles majors in off-campus organizations; approved plan required prior to internship. Pr. 18 hours in CTX; GPA of 2.5; application required. May not be taken concurrently with CTX 461.
- 463 International Sourcing of Textile Products (3:3). Examination of textile products sourcing strategies, business and cultural environments, and financial transactions used in calculating business in the international marketplace. Pr. 231.
- 481 Contemporary Professional Issues in Textile Products (3:3). Study of contemporary issues related to clothing and textiles in their social, economic and political context. Application of current research to these issues and examination of future directions for the profession. Pr. Senior CTX majors.
- 482 Special Problems in Textile Products Design or Marketing (1 to 4). Individual study. Conference hours to be arranged.
- 493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p. 320).
- For Advanced Undergraduates and Graduate Students*
- 500 Supervised Professional Experience (1-4:0:3-12). Internship with selected commercial or industrial organizations, public or private agencies in accordance with the major course of study.
- 512 Advanced Textiles for Interiors (3:3). Factors related to raw materials, design, technology, performance, and comparative cost of textiles used in interiors. Pr. 111 or 211 or approved equivalent.
- 513 Textiles Product Analysis and Standards (3:3). Process of developing and analyzing product standards as they relate to consumers, industry, and international trade. Analysis of products in relation to existing or proposed standards. Pr. 211, 312.
- 515 Advanced Technology in Fibers and Fabrication (3:3). Advanced study and analysis of fibers, yarns, and fabrication including chemical and physical properties and recent technological advances. Identification, analysis, and evaluation of industry issues and problems. Pr. 211, 312.
- 521 Clothing for People with Special Needs (3:3). Social-psychological factors that affect the design, manufacture, and distribution of clothing products that enhance physically challenged individuals' quality of life. Pr. SOC 211 or 232, PSY 211, CTX 321 or permission of instructor.
- 530 Economics of the Textile and Apparel Complex (3:3). Economics and social aspects of production, distribution and utilization of apparel and textiles. Pr. 231, ECO 201, or graduate standing or permission of instructor.
- 532 International Economics of Textile Products (3:3). Examines theories, concepts and problems related to international trade of textile products. Studies of the impact of international production and trade of textile products on domestic and foreign economies. Pr. 530.
- 543 Apparel Design by Draping (3:2:3). Principles and methods of apparel design by draping; manipulation of fabric on the three-dimensional body form; emphasis on creative solutions to design problems and the interrelationships between fabric, design, and form. Pr. 341.
- 545 Experimental Product Design (3:1:5). The interrelationship of factors involved in creative textile product design for the mass market; use of draping, advanced flat pattern techniques and computer applications, cost analysis, and production methods. Pr. 341, 342, 441, 543 or permission of instructor.
- 552 Textile Products Production Management (3:3). Overview of management issues in textile product production including raw material selection and evaluation, computer integration, equipment selection, planning production, costing, and quality control. Traditional and modular manufacturing systems are analyzed. Pr. 211, 231.

- 553 Human Comfort and Textile Products (3:3). Study of balance between the individual, clothing, and the environment, with emphasis on effects of fabric and clothing structure on comfort. Pr. 211, 312, PHY 305 or equivalent.
- 560 Apparel Marketing (3:3). An intensive analysis of marketing principles applied to the apparel industry. Pr. 231, MGT 320.
- 562 Apparel Consumer Behavior (3:3). Study of environmental, individual, and psychological influences on behavior of consumers in the apparel consumption process. Pr. 321, 560, MGT 320 or permission of instructor.
- 572 The Age of Couture (3:3). History of clothing and fashion from 1850 to the present, with special emphasis on the major designers and their influence. Pr. 372.
- 573 History of Textiles (3:3). Historical background and characteristics of decorative textiles through fifty centuries. Pr. 111 or 211.
- 582 Problems in Textile Products Design and Marketing (2 to 6). Individual study.
- For Graduate Students Only*
- 612 Textile Processing: Dying and Finishing (3:2:3).
- 613 Advanced Textiles (3:3).
- 622 Social-Psychological Theories Related to Dress (3:3).
- 642 Advanced Experimental Product Design (3:1:6).
- 660 International Textile Products Marketing (3:3).
- 662 Textile Products Consumer Research (3:3).
- 672 Textile Conservation (3:3).
- 681 Directed-Individual Study in Clothing and Textiles (1 to 6).
- 682 Graduate Seminar (1:1).
- 683 Problems in Textile Products Design (1 to 3).
- 684 Problems in Textile Products Marketing (1 to 3).
- 685 Problems in Textiles (1 to 3).
- 686 Readings in Textile Products Design (1 to 3).
- 687 Readings in Textile Products Marketing (1 to 3).
- 688 Readings in Textiles (1 to 3).
- 689 Seminar in Textile Products Design and Marketing (3:3).
- 690 Minor Research (2 to 6).
- 699 Thesis (3 to 6).
- 799 Dissertation (1 to 12).
- 800 Graduate Registration (0).
- 801 Graduate Registration (0).

DEPARTMENT OF FOOD, NUTRITION, AND FOOD SERVICE MANAGEMENT

318 Stone Building

Helen A. Shaw, Professor, Chair of Department

Professors Failla, Magee; Associate Professor Taylor; Assistant Professors Green, Loo, Lovelady, McIntosh; Lecturer Harrison; Adjunct Professors Lackey, Longenecker; Adjunct Associate Professor Dignan; Adjunct Assistant Professors Dunn, McClelland; Adjunct Clinical Instructors Bittikofer, Black, Bolton, Bronner, Brossi-Alphin, Hogan, Kennon, Lindeman, Ordon, Schofield, Zuzik-Nielsen

FOOD AND NUTRITION MAJOR (Bachelor of Science)

Required: 122 semester hours

CONCENTRATIONS

- Restaurant and Institution Management (does not meet the educational requirements for ADA)
- Nutrition Science (does not meet the educational requirements for ADA)
- Dietetics Areas (ADA Didactic Program in Dietetics)

Students electing the Dietetics concentration will meet minimum academic requirements for membership in the American Dietetic Association and will meet academic requirements for a dietetic internship or pre-professional practice program.

All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) (45 semester hours)

For All Concentrations

All students in this program must meet AULER requirements. Specific area requirements are indicated below:

See pages 43-46 for a detailed listing of courses meeting AULER area requirements.

• Specific AULER Course Requirements for Restaurant and Institution Management Concentration

Mathematics (MT): MAT 112 or 119

AULER electives, to be taken from the Social and Behavioral Sciences (SB) Area: ECO 201, 202

• Specific AULER Course Requirements for Nutrition Science Concentration

Mathematics (MT): STA 108 or MAT 119

AULER Electives, to be taken from Natural Science (NS) Area: CHE 111, 114

• Specific AULER Course Requirements for Dietetics Concentration

Mathematics (MT): STA 108

AULER Electives, to be taken from the Natural Science (NS) Area: CHE 103, 104

Major and Related Area Requirements

Core Course for All Concentrations

FNS 402

An additional School core course, focusing on the understanding and application of the ecological perspective of all majors, will also be required. This course is currently under development and details were not completed at the time of catalog publication.

Restaurant and Institution Management Concentration

1. FNS 103, 213, 309, 313, 519, 532, 539, 549, 559
2. Related areas: ACC 201, 202; BIO 280; COM 206 or 207; ECO 370 or MGT 475; ISM 234; MGT 200, 314

Nutrition Science Concentration

1. FNS 213, 313, 523, 531, 534, 573, 593, 527 (3-6 hrs) plus one FNS course in applied area
2. Related areas: BIO 107, 108, 277, 392, 481; CHE 111L, 114L, 331, 333, 351, 352, 354; MAT 119; PHY 101, 102; STA 108 or 271

Dietetics Concentration

1. FNS 103, 213, 302, 309, 313, 503, 519, 523, 531 or BIO 535, FNS 532, 573, 593
2. Related areas: BIO 107, 108, 277, 280; CHE 110, 205; ISM 234; MGT 200

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete total semester hours required for degree. Approximately one-third of electives may be selected from departments in Human Environmental Sciences.

FOOD AND NUTRITION MINOR

Completion of 17-18 hours as follows:

Food Service Management Minor: FNS 103, 213, 309, 519, 532, 549, or 559

Food and Nutrition Minor: FNS 103, 213, and four of the following: 313, 503, 523, 533, 543, 553, 583, 593

FOOD, NUTRITION, FOOD SERVICE MANAGEMENT COURSES (FNS)

For Undergraduates

- 103 Food Selection and Preparation (3:2:3). Basic scientific principles of food preparation with emphasis on standards of selection, purchasing, preparation, storage, and preservation.
- 205 Computer Applications in Dietetics and Foodservice (2:1:3). Application of computer software used in word processing, data management, nutrient analysis and food service management operations.
- 213 Nutrition (3:3). Basic principles of human nutrition with emphasis on the nutrients and factors which affect their utilization in the human body. [NS, CLS].
- 302 Nutrition Science, Education and Application Processes (3:3). Study of communication of nutrition science through nutrition education, professional literature, and public media. Evaluation and use of professional and scientific literature in nutrition and food systems.
- 309 Quantity Food Procurement and Production (4:2:6). Procurement and production of quantity foods with an emphasis on menu planning, preparation, service, sanitation, delivery systems, select, use and care of quantity food equipment. Pr. 103.
- 313 Nutrition Throughout the Life Cycle (3:2:3). Principles of nutrition applied to meet the nutrient needs at different stages of the life cycle. Forces governing food availability, acceptability, nutritive quality and safety are stressed in the preparation of nutritional plans for individuals and groups. Pr. 213 or approval of instructor.
- 401 Special Problems in Food, Nutrition, Food Service Management (1 to 4). Individual study. Conference hours to be arranged.
- 402 Contemporary Professional Issues in Foods and Nutrition (3:3). Study of contemporary issues related to professional development, roles, ethics, and performances in dietetics, food systems, or nutrition. Examination of social, economic, and political issues; prejudices; selected food and nutrition controversies. Pr. majors only; senior standing or consent of instructor.
- 493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p. 320).

*For Advanced Undergraduates
and Graduate Students*

- 500 Supervised Professional Experience (1-4:0:3-12). Supervised professional experience in selected commercial or industrial organizations, public or private agencies in accordance with the major course of study of the student.
- 503 Experimental Food Study (3:2:3). Experimental study of factors regulating the preparation of standard food products. Pr. 103, CHE 205.
- 517 Management Problems in Teaching Foods (2:2). Food preparation in relation to use of time, energy, and equipment. On demand. Pr. 103.
- 519 Food Service Management (3:3). Planning, organization, and administration of institutional food service, personnel, and work units. Pr. MGT 200.
- 520 Quantity Food Purchasing (3:3). Purchasing procedures, quantity buying guides, food storage, and methods of cost control. Field trips required. Pr. or concurrent enrollment in 103 or 303.
- 523 Community Nutrition (3:2:3). Current trends in community nutrition with emphasis on community services, government projects, and international health organizations. Pr. 313, or permission of instructor.
- 527 Problems in Food, Nutrition, Food Service Management (2 to 6). Individual study.
- 531 Nutrition and Human Metabolism (3:3). Structure, function, and regulation of nutrients in human metabolism. Pr. 213, CHE 205.
- 532 Analysis and Control of Food Systems (3:2:3). Overview of food service cost control, financial methods and procedures necessary to forecast cost and record and control expense. Pr. 309, 519.
- 533 Cultural Aspects of Foods (3:3). Food patterns and population groups; malnutrition and food habits; national and international programs toward improved food supply and food habits. Pr. 103, 213 or 313, or consent of instructor.
- 534 Nutrition and Human Metabolism Laboratory (2:1:3). Analytical procedures, their rationale and interpretations, applicable to the study of human metabolism. Pr. CHE 205, BIO 535 or FNS 531 (may be taken concurrently).

- 539 Marketing for Dietitians and Food Service Management (3:3). Basic marketing principles with a focus on application to food service and dietetics where competition is requiring a more strategic approach to the promotion of ideas, concepts and products. Pr. 519.
- 540 School Food Service (2:1:3). Selection, purchase, preparation, and service of food for school lunchrooms; organization, administration, records, and cost control applicable to school lunchrooms. (Not offered every year.)
- 543 Maternal and Infant Nutrition (3:3). Nutritional needs of pregnant and lactating women, and infants; methods of evaluating nutritional status of these groups; effects of nutrition on pregnancy outcome and infant development. Pr. 213 or equivalent, and BIO 277 or equivalent.
- 549 Supervised Experience in Food Service Management (3:1:6). Directed experiences in managerial problems of institutional food service. Pr. 309, 519.
- 553 Child and Adolescent Nutrition (3:3). Nutritional needs of children and adolescents; methods of evaluating nutritional status of these groups; effects of nutrition on development. Pr. 213 or equivalent, and BIO 277 or equivalent.
- 559 Comparative Analysis of Food Service Systems (3:1:6). Critical analysis of operational procedures of food service systems. Pr. 309, 519.
- 563 Food Preservation (2:1:2). Comparative study of methods of food preservation with laboratory application, emphasizing recent developments. Pr. 103 or permission of instructor.
- 569 Internship in Foodservice Systems (4:0:24). Internship experience in selected foodservice operations to enhance the educational experience. 400 hours on site plus written and oral final presentation required. Pr. 519, 205, 309, or equivalent.
- 573 Diet Therapy (3:3). Clinical aspects of nutrition. Study of developments and uses of therapeutic diets to combat nutritional diseases and physiological disorders. Pr. 313 (may be taken concurrently); BIO 277, 535 or FNS 531 and 593.
- 576 Nutrition and Physical Fitness (3:3). Metabolism during exercise, ergogenic aids, nutrients' effects on performance, and body composition alterations during training. Gender and age-specific needs and responses to exercise and dietary intake. Pr. BIO 277 and FNS 213 or equivalent required. ESS 375 or 575 recommended. (Same as ESS 576.)
- 583 Food Demonstration Techniques (2:1:2). Demonstration as an educational device; organization and execution of individual and group demonstrations. Pr. 103.
- 593 Advanced Nutrition (3:3). Biochemical and physiological aspects of nutrient metabolism and utilization. Nutrient requirements for maintenance, growth, pregnancy, lactation, work, and senescence. Pr. 313, BIO 535 or FNS 531, BIO 277.
- For Graduate Students Only*
- 601 Directed-Individual Study in Food, Nutrition, Food Service Management (1 to 6).
- 602 Introduction to Clinical Dietetics (2:1:3).
- 603 Food Chemistry (4:3:4).
- 604 Nutrient Drug Interaction (3:3).
- 605 Nutritional Assessment (4:2:6).
- 606 (a)(b)(c) Practicum in Clinical Dietetics (3 to 6), (3 to 6), (3 to 6).
- 607 Nutrition Education (3:3).
- 609 Seminar in Food and Nutrition (1:1) or (2:2).
- 611 Graduate Seminar (0).
- 613 (a) Readings in Foods (3:3).
(b) Readings in Nutrition (3:3).
- 619 Nutrition Consultation Methods (3:2:3).
- 623 Current Trends in Nutrition (1 to 3).
- 625 Nutrient Metabolism I (4:3:2).
- 626 Nutrient Metabolism II (4:3:2).
- 630 Fundamentals of Laboratory Research in Food, Nutrition, Food Service Management (3:3).
- 633 The Mineral Nutrients (3:3).
- 643 Nutrition and Aging (3:3).
- 649 Nutrition and Physical Performance (3:3).
- 653 Problems in Food and Nutrition (2 to 4).
- 663 Nutritional Aspects of Proteins and Amino Acids (3:3).
- 669 Energy, Lipids, Carbohydrates and Alcohol (3:3).
- 670 Minor Research (2 to 6).
- 673 Nutrition Research Methodology (2:1:3).
- 679 Nutrition in Developmental Disorders (3:3).
- 683 Nutritional Aspects of Vitamins (3:3).
- 689 Hormonal Regulation of Nutrient Metabolism (3:3).
- 693 Advanced Medical Dietetics (3:3).
- 699 Thesis (3 to 6).
- 790 Independent Doctoral Research (1-6).
- 799 Dissertation (1 to 12).

DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING AND INTERIOR DESIGN

239 Stone Building

Novem Mason, Professor and Chair of Department

Associate Professors J.R. Leimenstoll, Jan G. McArthur; Assistant Professors Lambeth, Rawls, Standley, Ziff; Lecturer Forsyth; Adjunct Assistant Professors Hammett, Herman

INTERIOR DESIGN MAJOR (Bachelor of Science)

Required: 142 semester hours

The Interior Design program is structured around a continuing sequence of studio courses which help the student develop a deepening mastery of the processes of designing architectural interiors.

The first year presents small-scale problems that take the student through the total design process, from problem identification to graphic communication of the solution.

Second-year design studios focus on the development of scale and proportioning systems within the context of interior spaces. Communication skills are stressed.

Third- and fourth-year studio courses deal with typical interior environments, with emphasis on institutional and commercial interiors, but also including residential design, historic restoration, and adaptive reuse. Attention is also directed toward the environmental needs of special groups. Support courses enable the student to develop skills and concepts that can be tested in the studio.

Twelve semester hours may be completed either through advanced interior design studio courses in the fifth year, through the Interior Design Internship option, or through a combination of both of these. The Internship option provides opportunity for experiential learning in a business setting or government agency, while fifth-year studio courses provide opportunity for independent project work.

Departmental Admission

Enrollment in the Interior Design program is limited. Students who indicate interest in the Interior Design major on their University application will receive information on departmental admission. Students are admitted on evidence of scholastic and design potential, motivation, and self-direction. A personal interview is required. Students will not be allowed to take interior design courses unless they have been formally admitted to the Interior Design program.

Transfer students applying for advance studio placement must present to the Interior Design screening committee portfolio and transcript evidence of relevant achievement through prior course work or experiences. Transfer students seeking entry into the program must have at least an overall 2.5 grade point average in completed course work.

In order to remain in the Interior Design major, students must maintain a minimum overall 2.0 grade point average in the University and in interior design studio courses. Students are responsible for purchase of equipment and studio supplies.

All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) (45 semester hours)

All students in this program must meet AULER requirements. Specific area requirements are indicated below:

	Semester Hours
1. Analytic and Evaluative Studies (AE)	3
2. British or American Literature (BL)	3
3. Fine Arts (FA)	3
Required: ART 100 or 101
4. Historical Perspectives on Western Culture (HP)	3
5. Mathematics (MT)	3
6. Natural Science (NS)	6
7. Non-Western Studies (NW)	3
8. Reasoning and Discourse (RD)	6
Required: ENG 101 or FMS 103 or RCO 101 for 3 of the 6 credits
9. Social and Behavioral Sciences (SB)	6
10. World Literature (WL)	3
11. AULER Electives (from any area listed above or foreign language)	6

See pages 43-46 for a detailed listing of courses meeting AULER area requirements.

Major Requirements

HID 101, 102, 201, 202, 301, 302, 411, 412

Support courses: HID 111, 112, 211, 212, 221, 222, 311, 331, 332, 431, 451; CTX 111

Sixteen semester hours from among the following: HID 252, 432, 452, 453, 501, 502, 527, 531

An additional School core course, focusing on the understanding and application of the ecological perspective of all majors, will also be required. This course is currently under development and details were not completed at the time of catalog publication.

Electives

Fifteen semester hours of electives, twelve of which may be taken in one focused area of study that supports a special Interior Design interest.

HOUSING AND INTERIOR DESIGN COURSES (HID)

For Undergraduates

101, 102 Basic Environmental Design I, II (3:0:6), (3:0:6). Investigation of space design at small scale while exploring properties of basic materials. Development of conceptual thinking. Pr. admission to the Interior Design Program; to be taken concurrently with 111, 112.

111, 112 Perception and Communication I, II (3:0:6), (3:0:6). Studies designed to increase perceptual awareness and communication skills through exercises in various design and communications media and by investigation of pertinent theoretical concepts and established procedures. Pr. admission to the Interior Design Program; to be taken concurrently with 101, 102.

201, 202 Basic Environmental Design III, IV (4:8), (4:8). Design investigations of spaces as articulated by the interaction of individual and place. Introduction to light and color with ongoing study of materials. Emphasis placed on cognitive understanding of design process. Pr. 102.

205 The House and Its Furnishings (3:3). Evaluation of housing alternatives; planning furnishings according to space use, aesthetics, economy, and individuality. Open to non-majors.

211, 212 Visual Communication I, II (2:0:4), (2:0:4). Visual communication processes as they support design activities. Two- and three-dimensional studies as related to conceptual and definitive aspects of the design process. Exercises aimed at developing a mastery of both technical

- and non-technical methods of visual communication. Pr. 112.
- 221, 222 History of Design I, II (3:3), (3:3). Survey of design forms evolved in response to man's needs for community, architecture, furnishings, and artifacts from pre-historic periods through the modern era with reference to cultural, political, and technological movements which affected their development.
- 252 Self-Directed Options in Interior Design (2:2:0). Introduction to process, content, requirements, and options for self-directed learning opportunities in interior design. Students required to plan and complete an individually defined self-directed project.
- 301 Interior Design I (4:8). Design investigations of increasingly complex spaces as articulated by the interaction of individual and place. Ongoing emphasis on light, color, materials and structure as aspects of space design. Pr. 202, 212.
- 302 Interior Design II (4:8). Design investigations of spaces of increasing scale and complexity as articulated by the interaction of individual and place. Special emphasis on social and behavioral aspects of interior design and the responsibilities of the designer to society. Pr. 301.
- 311 Computer-Aided Design for Interior Architecture (3:3:0). Introduction to computer-aided design technology, historical context, and professional use in interior design. Student use of CAD equipment and production of design drawings. Required of all majors. Pr. 102, 112.
- 331 Social and Behavioral Aspects of Interior Design (3:3). Introduction to literature and methods of environmental design research as it applies to interior environments. Pr. 201.
- 332 Materials and Structures of Interior Architecture (3:3). Investigation of building materials, structural elements, environmental controls, mechanical systems and other components of interior architecture. Emphasis placed on historical precedents and contemporary applications. Pr. 101, 102, 201.
- 355 Housing and Community (3:3). Introduction to housing as an environment for living. Sociological, psychological, economic, and technological aspects of shelter explored from both historical and contemporary perspectives.
- 411 Interior Design III (4:8). Design investigations of multi-function environments incorporating understanding of light, color, materials, structure and technology. Pr. 301, 302.
- 412 Interior Design IV (4:8). Design explorations encompassing the full range of interior design scale and complexity. Emphasis on individual competence with respect to design process. Pr. 411.
- 431 Interior Lighting Design (3:1:4). Exploration of light as a design element in interior architecture: uses and control of light, lighting fixtures, and lighting installation for desired effect. Emphasis placed on experimentation with light in relation to other elements. Pr. 101, 102, 301.
- 432 Special Problems in Interior Design (1 to 4). Independent study of topics of special interest. Conference hours to be arranged. Pr. consent of instructor with whom student wishes to work.
- 451 Professional Practice in Interior Design (3:3). Investigation of business, legal, ethical aspects of professional practice in interior design by students, staff, and guest speakers. Pr. open to third-, fourth- and fifth-year students in interior design.
- 452 Internship in Interior Design (4 to 6). Design-relevant internship experiences in off-campus organizations. Approved learning plan required prior to beginning experience; enrollment in 453 in semester following. May be taken twice for total of 10 semester hours credit. Pr. 252 and consent of instructor.
- 453 Interior Design Internship Seminar (1:0:2). Follow-up seminar for internships. Presentation of individual internships, identification of pervasive problems, group projects to address these problems. May be repeated for a total of 2 semester hours credit. Pr. 252 or consent of instructor; 452; consent of instructor required to take concurrently with 452.
- 493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p. 320).
- 499 Studio Problems in Interior Design (4 to 6). Investigation of design problems formulated in collaboration with faculty and that develop competencies equivalent to those covered in interior design studio courses. Pr. open only to students accepted in the Accelerated Option in Interior Design.

*For Advanced Undergraduates
and Graduate Students*

- 500 Supervised Professional Experience (1-4:0:3-12).
Supervised professional experience in selected commercial or industrial organizations, public or private agencies.
- 501, 502 Advanced Interior Design I, II (6:0:12), (6:0:12).
Advanced design problems having complex functional, social, and economic implications, with emphasis on problem identification, formulation, and design development through the collaborative efforts of a design team.
- 527 Problems in Interior Design (2 to 6). Individual study.
- 531 Design Seminar (2:2). Investigation of current research and subjects of topical interest in environmental design. May be repeated for a total of 4 hours credit. Pr. consent of instructor.
- 535 Lighting Design (2:2). Study of environmental lighting.
- 536 History of Decorative Arts (3:3). Study of stylistic and cultural developments in the decorative arts with special concentration on America.

For Graduate Students Only

- 601 Directed Individual Study in Interior Design (1 to 6).
- 602 Advanced Interior Design III (6).

DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN DEVELOPMENT AND FAMILY STUDIES
(INCLUDING HOME ECONOMICS EDUCATION)
Stone Building

Dale Farran, Professor and Chair of Department

Excellence Fund Professors Kivett, Rodman; Professors Clawson, Dilworth-Anderson, Lange, Powers, Watson; Associate Professors MacKinnon, Morgan, Pasley, Tudge; Assistant Professors Cassidy, DeBaryshe, Dollahite, Shoffner; Visiting Assistant Professor Marshall; Adjunct Faculty Canaday, White

Emeritus Professors Canady, Johnson, Smith, Voss; Emeritus Associate Professor White

The Department of Human Development and Family Studies offers undergraduate programs leading to the Bachelor of Science Degree with two majors, Human Development and Family Studies and Home Economics Education. The programs include the study of the development of individuals and families throughout the life span, seeking to improve their well-being through the creation, use, and dissemination of knowledge. Programs of study in the department are multidisciplinary, requiring a synthesis of knowledge from the social and behavioral sciences, and from the field of education. The goal of the Human Development and Family Studies Department is to provide the best opportunity in North Carolina for undergraduates to prepare for careers in child, adolescent, adult, aging and family care services; in business and community consumer services for families; teaching at the preschool level; and in cooperative extension and state agencies.

The Human Development major offers students the choice of three options. The Developmental Foundations in Preschool Education option prepares students for careers in child care centers and agencies, private kindergartens, and hospitals. Changes in this option are anticipated when the new Birth-Kindergarten certificate is adopted. The Child and Adolescent Development option prepares students for careers in community agencies that serve children, adolescents, and their families. The Adult Development and Aging in the Family option prepares students for careers in community agencies that serve adults, the elderly, and their families.

The Home Economics Education major offers students a concentration in Business and Community Services which prepares students for family and consumer interest related careers in business, industry, and governmental agencies such as the Agricultural Extension Service.

The internship program within the Department as well as student organizations provide students with opportunities for professional experiences in the career field of their choice. The Department also administers the Child Care Education Programs at three sites with an enrollment of 80 children in all-day care; two Curry Mainstream Preschools are operated in conjunction with the Governor Morehead School for the Blind, and the Greensboro City Schools. All serve as laboratories for the study of children and their families. The Family Research Center conducts research and policy studies that are aimed at improving life for children and families.

HUMAN DEVELOPMENT AND FAMILY STUDIES MAJOR (Bachelor of Science)

Required: 122-136 semester hours

All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) (45-46 semester hours)

For All Options

All students in this program must meet AULER requirements. Specific area requirements for all HDF options are indicated below:

	Semester Hours
1. Analytic and Evaluative Studies (AE)	3
2. British or American Literature (BL)	3
3. Fine Arts (FA)	3
4. Historical Perspectives on Western Culture (HP)	3
5. Mathematics (MT)	3
6. Natural Science (NS)	6 or 7
(Please see specific requirements listed under appropriate Option)
7. Non-Western Studies (NW)	3
8. Reasoning and Discourse (RD)	6
Required: ENG 101 or FMS 103 or RCO 101 for 3 of the 6 credits
9. Social and Behavioral Sciences (SB)	6
Required: PSY 221 and one other course (see Options)
(Please see specific requirements listed under appropriate Option)
10. World Literature (WL)	3
11. AULER Electives (from any area listed above or foreign language)	6
(Please see specific requirements listed under appropriate Option)

See pages 43-46 for a detailed listing of courses meeting AULER area requirements.

Major Requirements

Core Courses for All Options

A School core course, focusing on the understanding and application of the ecological perspective of all majors, will also be required. This course is currently under development and details were not completed at the time of catalog publication.

ADMISSION TO THE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT MAJOR

Any student may declare Human Development as a major upon entering the university. Declaring Human Development as a major does not assure admission to the program. A student must be formally admitted to the Department of Human Development and Family Studies to register for advanced courses and complete work for the degree.

Criteria for Admission:

1. Completion of the following group of foundation courses with a C or better: HDF 211, 212, and 302 or 303
2. 51 semester hours (junior standing) with a minimum overall GPA of 2.2
3. Transfer students with 51 semester hours may apply for admission after completing 12 semester hours at UNCG. Students must meet the department requirements of the current catalog at the time they declare Human Development as their major.

Students will not be permitted to register for upper division courses in the department (HDF 412, 452, 500, 512, 522, 532, 542, 552, 560, 582) unless they have been formally admitted to the major (or in the case of non-majors, have the permission of the instructor).

Admission forms are available in the department office in Park Building. Admission should normally be sought during the second semester of the sophomore year.

OPTION I: Developmental Foundations in Preschool Education

1. Foundation Courses: HDF 211, 212, 302, 410, 411
2. Skills and Professional Courses: HDF 412 or 452, 522, 532, 552, 560 (6 sem hrs)
3. An additional 11 semester hours will be required in courses that are currently pending approval; see Department for exact specifications
4. AULER Requirements as outlined on p. 281, to include these specific required course(s):
 - For the Natural Science Area (NS)
Required: BIO 101 plus BIO 107 lab, and FNS 213 7 semester hours
 - For the Social and Behavioral Sciences Area (SB)
Required: PSY 221 and HDF 302 6 semester hours
 - For the AULER Electives (EL)
Required: HDF 211 and HDF 212 6 semester hours
5. Additional requirements outside HDF: HEA 236 or NUR 345; MUS 361 or ART 367; COM 240 or PSY 412; LIS 556; additional 3 semester hours to be specified by department

Please Note: The Birth through Kindergarten Certification Program is pending approval. See Department for requirements and complete details.

OPTION II: Applications in Child and Adolescent Development in the Family

1. Foundation Courses: HDF 211, 212, 302, 303, 405, 410, 411, 522
2. Skills and Professional Courses: HDF 412 or 452, 500 (6 sem hrs)
3. AULER Requirements as outlined on p. 281, to include these specific required course(s):
 - For the Natural Science Area (NS)
Required: BIO 105 and FNS 213 6 semester hours
 - For the Social and Behavioral Sciences Area (SB)
Required: PSY 221 and HEA 360 6 semester hours
 - For the AULER Electives (EL)
Required: HDF 211 and HDF 212 6 semester hours
4. Additional requirements outside HDF: MGT 200; SWK 560 or 584; PSY 341 or 346 or 347; HEA 331 or 347; CED 310; SOC 222 or 312 or 317 or SWK 312; HEB 210 and 377

OPTION III: Applications in Adult Development and Aging in the Family

1. Foundation Courses: HDF 211, 212, 303, 405, 410, 411, 562
2. Skills and Professional Courses: HDF 412, 500 (6 sem hrs)
3. AULER Requirements as outlined on p. 281, to include these specific required course(s):
 - For the Natural Science Area (NS)
Required: BIO 105 and FNS 213 6 semester hours
 - For the Social and Behavioral Sciences Area (SB)
Required: PSY 221 and SOC 211 6 semester hours

For the AULER Electives (EL)

Required: HDF 211 and HDF 212

6 semester hours

4. Additional requirements outside HDF: HEA 334 or 347 or 369; MGT 200; SOC 586 or PSY 506 or GRO 301 or 302; SWK 550 or 510 or 580; HEB 210, 377, 410; CED 310; LES 222 or 231

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete total semester hours required for degree. No more than one third may be human environmental sciences courses.

HUMAN DEVELOPMENT AND FAMILY STUDIES MINOR

Completion of 18 hours in HDF courses: HDF 211, 212, 302 or 303, and 410 or 411; 6 additional hours from HDF 412, 512, 522, 532, 552.

HOME ECONOMICS EDUCATION MAJOR (Bachelor of Science)

Required: 122 semester hours

Concentration

- Home Economics in Business and Community Services

Focus on all areas of home economics with a strong emphasis in business and communications, and a supervised internship leading to careers in business, industry, and government agencies including Agricultural Extension Service.

All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) (45 semester hours)

For Home Economics in Business and Community Services Concentration

All students in this program must meet AULER requirements. Specific area requirements are indicated below:

	Semester Hours
1. Analytic and Evaluative Studies (AE)	3
2. British or American Literature (BL)	3
3. Fine Arts (FA)	3
4. Historical Perspectives on Western Culture (HP)	3
5. Mathematics (MT)	3
6. Natural Science (NS)	6
Required: FNS 213 and one other course
7. Non-Western Studies (NW)	3
8. Reasoning and Discourse (RD)	6
Required: ENG 101 or FMS 103 or RCO 101 and COM 105 or 341
9. Social and Behavioral Sciences (SB)	6
Required: ECO 201 and SOC 211
10. World Literature (WL)	3
11. AULER Electives	6
Required: ECO 202 and PSY 221

See pages 43-46 for a detailed listing of courses meeting AULER area requirements.

Major or Related Area Requirements

Core Courses for All Options

A School core course, focusing on the understanding and application of the ecological perspective of all majors, will also be required. This course is currently under development and details were not completed at the time of catalog publication.

1. HDF 212, 346; HEB 210, 410
2. HDF 405, 526, 545; HEB 377, 500 (3 semester hours), 557
3. CTX 100 or 121 or 211; HDF 211 or 302 or 303; HID 205 or 355
4. Related areas: COM 106; ENG 102 or 327; ISM 309; MGT 200, 320

Electives

Six to eleven semester hours or sufficient to complete 122 semester hours required for degree.

HUMAN DEVELOPMENT AND FAMILY STUDIES COURSES (HDF)

For Undergraduates

- 211 Life Span Development in the Human Environment (3:3). Development of human beings prenatally through death. Emphasis on environmental interactions across the life span. This is a foundation course for Child Development majors. [SB, CSB].
- 212 Developmental Patterns of the Family (3:3). Developmental characteristics, behavior, and interpersonal relations among family members in various stages of family life cycle. [SB, CSB].
- 302 Infant and Child Development in the Family (3:3). Examination of contemporary theories, methods and research findings in the study of development from conception through middle childhood. The role of the family, peers, and school will be emphasized. Pr. 211, 212, or consent of instructor. [SB, CSB].
- 303 Adolescent Development in the Family (3:3). Examination of theories, methods, and research findings in the study of development from pre-adolescence through post-adolescence. Ecological perspectives associated with the role of family, peer group, and school on individual development. Pr. 211, 212.
- 346 Consumer Decision Making (3:3). Introduction to rational decision-making in relation to consumer purchases, financial services, and economic changes. Study of consumer protection, consumer fraud, and consumer rights and responsibilities. Pr. junior standing, 212, or HEB 210, or consent of instructor.
- 401 Special Problems in Human Development and Family Studies (1 to 6). Individual study. Conference hours to be arranged.
- 405 Family Resource Management (3:2:3). Management of human, economic, and environmental resources. Examination of managerial behaviors of individuals and families including: valuing, goal setting, problem solving, and decision-making, planning and implementation. Pr. 346.
- 410 Cultural Variations in Families and Children (3:3). The study of children and families that vary as a function of differing cultural family backgrounds (nation of origin, religious orientation, ethnicity) and social stratification. Pr. 211, 212, 302 or 303.
- 411 Individual Variations in Families and Children (3:3). The study of children and child-family relationships that vary as a function of atypical development and behavior in the children or variant family forms (single parent families, stepparent and extended families). Pr. 211, 212, 302 or 303.
- 412 Family Observation and Assessment (3:3). Examination of fundamentals of observing and assessing family functioning. Review of self-report measures and observational techniques for assessing family functioning. Experience in administration, data reduction, and reporting will be included. Pr. 211, 212, 302 or 303. Formal admission to Child Development major or permission of instructor required.
- 422 Interrelationships between Families and the Community (3:3). Multifaceted interrelationships between families and the community. Implementation of public policy. Observation and participation in community agencies serving families. Pr. 211, 212, 302 or 303.

- 446 Family Economics (3:3). Economic principles applied to family formation, market and non-market work, household consumption, production, investment activity, and leisure. Discussion of human capital, fertility and economic well-being. Pr. 346.
- 452 Child Observation and Assessment (3:3). Theoretical, practical, ethical issues in the observation and assessment of children. Laboratory assignments cover direct observation, questionnaires and standardized testing. Applications for research, education, diagnosis, program evaluation will be discussed. Pr. 211, 212, 302 or 303. Formal admission to Child Development major or permission of instructor required.
- 475 Research Methods in Human Development and Family Studies (3:3). An introductory examination of human development (child and family) research methods designed to provide an understanding of scientific inquiry, methodology, measurement, test construction, scaling, and statistical terms and techniques. Pr. STA 108, HDF 211, 212, 302 or 303. Formal admission to Child Development major or permission of instructor required.
- 493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p. 320).
- For Advanced Undergraduates and Graduate Students*
- 500 Supervised Professional Experience (1-6:0:3-12). Supervised professional experience in selected commercial or industrial organizations, public or private agencies. Pr. 211, 212, 302 or 303. Formal admission to Child Development major or permission of instructor required.
- 502 Changing Roles of Men and Women (3:3). Philosophical, political, and technological influences on roles of men and women in the past, present, and future and their relationship to the family. Pr. 211, 212, 410 or permission of instructor.
- 510 Child and Family Ecology (3:3). Study of children and families in their social contexts; examination of issues such as parent-child relations, child maltreatment, divorce and single-parent families, and work-family linkages. Pr. 412 and 452, or graduate standing.
- 512 Current Family Theory and Research (3:3). Topical issues concerning family function: e.g., single parenting, teen pregnancy, alternative family forms, ethnic and racial minorities, and parent care. Provides broad background in research/theories. Writing and editing emphasized. Pr. 211, 212, 302, or 303; admission restricted to degree candidates or by permission of instructor. Formal admission to Child Development major or permission of instructor required.
- 522 Theories and Principles of Parenting (3:2:3). Overview of parent education with special emphasis on parent-child relationships; problems and procedures of teachers working with children and/or families; problem areas and implications of research with parents and their children. Pr. 211, 212, 302 or 303, 410 or 411; admission restricted to degree candidates or by permission of instructor. Formal admission to Child Development major or permission of instructor required.
- 525 Work and Family Linkages (3:2:2). Principles of work simplification and their application to specific situations of work in and out of the home, and to how it influences family relations. Pr. 346 or equivalent. (Not offered every year.)
- 526 The Consumer in a Market Economy (3:3). Consumer issues connected with the market economy. Emphasis on joint interest of consumer, industry, and government. Areas covered include marketing structure and functions, consumer rights and responsibilities, technology of consumption, and environmental issues. Pr. 346, ECO 201 or equivalent.
- 527 Problems in Human Development and Family Studies (2 to 6). In-depth study of new areas in child and family studies such as: children and technology; multi-cultural families; developmental consequences of child maltreatment. Pr. 211, 212.
- 532 Foundations of Preschool Education (3:3). Philosophies, principles, methods, and materials involved in preschool education. Emphasis placed on staff qualifications and responsibilities. Pr. 211, 212, 302. Formal admission to Child Development major or permission of instructor required.

- 542 Methods of Preschool Instruction (3:3). Principles and components of preschool activities with emphasis on developmental appropriateness in creative materials and guidances of experiences. Laboratory experience required. Pr. 211, 212, 302. Formal admission to Child Development major or permission of instructor required.
- 545 Family Finance (3:3). Use of financial resources as situations, needs, and preferences of families differ or change. Pr. 346, 446 or 3 hours in economics.
- 552 Current Developmental Theory and Research (3:3). Seminar designed to examine current issues in development. Emphasis placed on current research literature, theories, and applications across the lifespan. Writing and editing are emphasized. Pr. 211, 212, 302 or 303. Formal admission to Child Development major or permission of instructor required.
- 560 Supervised Teaching in Preschool Centers (3:1:8) or (6:1:17). Planned experiences under supervision for students teaching children enrolled in the preschool centers and community agencies. Pr. 211, 212, 302, 411, 532, 542. Formal admission to Child Development major or permission of instructor required.
- 562 Family Gerontology (3:2:3). Study of the older family members and their relationships with other family members in regard to their physical, social, and environmental situations, life adjustment, and sources of assistance. Observation and participation included. Pr. 211, 212, and consent of instructor.
- 582 Administration of Dependent Care Programs (3:3). Major areas of planning and administering dependent care programs, including programming, scheduling, reporting, financing, housing, equipping, staffing, and working with families. Pr. 211, 212, 302 or 303, 532 or equivalent. Formal admission to Child Development major or permission of instructor required.
- 589 Experimental Course: Infant Programs: Foundations and Methods (3:3). Designed to give students a foundation in the theories and principles of infant development and application of this knowledge to issues related to programs for infants and their families. Laboratory experience is required. Pr. 211, 302, 411.
- For Graduate Students Only*
- 601 Directed-Individual Study in Human Development and Family Studies (1 to 6).
- 602 Problems in Human Development and Family Studies (2 to 4).
- 605 Advanced Family Resource Management (3:3).
- 606 Social and Economic Problems of the Family (3:3).
- 608 Personality and Social Development (3:3).
- 610 Child Development in Cultural Context (3:3).
- 612 Seminar in Parent-Child Relations (3:3).
- 618 Intellectual Development in Young Children (3:3).
- 621 Advanced Theories and Principles of Parenting (3:2:3).
- 622 Family Life Education (3:3).
- 628 The Family in the Middle Years (3:3).
- 630 Research Methods in HDFS (3:3).
- 632 Infant Development (3:2:3).
- 641 Advanced Theory and Research in the Family (3:3).
- 642 Family Theory (3:3).
- 651 Advanced Child Development (3:3).
- 652 Theories of Human Development (3:3).
- 660 Families of Individuals with Special Needs (3:3).
- 662 The Family in Comparative Perspective (3:3).
- 665 Family Decision-Making Processes (3:3).
- 672 Divorce and Remarriage (3:3).
- 689 Professional Seminar I (1:1).
- 690 Professional Seminar II (1:1).
- 692 Contemporary Family Life (3:3).
- 699 Thesis (3 to 6).
- 712 Advanced Research Design in HDFS (3:3).
- 752 Theory Development and the Family (3:3).
- 765 College Teaching Practicum in Human Development and Family Studies (2).
- 790 Independent Doctoral Research (1 to 6).
- 799 Dissertation (1 to 12).
- 800 Graduate Registration (0).
- 801 Graduate Registration (0).

HOME ECONOMICS IN EDUCATION AND BUSINESS COURSES (HEB)

For Undergraduates

- 210 Aspects of the Personal Environment (3:3). Study of reciprocal relationships between families and environments. Emphasis given to family needs, stage in the life cycle, and lifestyles as they are influenced by cultural, social, political, economic, and technological forces.
- 267 Introduction to Home Economics Education (in the Public Schools) (2:2). Nature and scope of home economics in the public schools with particular emphasis on its relationship to total educational experience. Required observation and participation in teaching-learning environments included.
- 357 Curriculum and Teaching Methods in Home Economics (3:3). Principles of education applied to curriculum and methods of teaching home economics. Pr. PSY 221 or consent of instructor.
- 377 Professional Orientation to Home Economics in Business and Community Services (3:3). Identification and exploration of home economics-related careers in the business and community services concentration. Pr. or concurrent enrollment in ISM 309.
- 401 Special Problems in Home Economics in Education and Business (1 to 4). Individual study. Conference hours to be arranged.
- 410 Current Issues Affecting Women and Families (3:3). Contemporary and changing issues affecting individuals and families and their environment. Multidisciplinary approach to decision making and problem solving. For seniors only.
- 467 Supervised Teaching in Home Economics (9). Supervised student teaching under direction of a cooperating teacher with University supervision. Full-time teaching assignment in cooperating schools for 10 weeks. Pr. 357, 478, 507, 508; senior standing with 2.50 grade point average.
- 478 Planning and Evaluating the Consumer and Homemaking Program (3:2:3). Emphasis on time management, planning, instructional, behavior management, human relations, and professional growth skills for effective teaching in home economics. Pr. 357.

- 493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p. 320).

For Advanced Undergraduates and Graduate Students

- 500 Supervised Professional Experience (1-4:0:3-12). Supervised professional experience in selected commercial or industrial organizations, public or private agencies. Pr. 377 for BCS majors and a 2.0 grade point average. This applies to students entering the major during and after 1988-89.
- 507 Occupational Home Economics Practicum (1-3:3-9). Planned work experience in one or more specialized home economics related areas approved in advance by instructor. Coordinating conferences and seminars. May be repeated for a total of 3 semester hours. Pr. consent of instructor.

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL WORK

451 Graham Building

Robert J. Wineburg, Associate Professor and Chair of Department

Professor Scullion; Associate Professor Stephens; Assistant Professors Hurd, Rife, Wheeler; Lecturer Moore; Adjunct Faculty Putnam

SOCIAL WORK MAJOR (Bachelor of Science)

Required: 122 semester hours.

The purpose of the Social Work major is to prepare students for entry level practice in social work and human services. This is a professional program of study which is strongly grounded for the first two years in liberal arts; the second two years focus on the professional curriculum. The program prepares students for work with individuals, families, groups, and communities.

Accreditation

The program is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education for a seven year period ending in June, 1997.

Admission to the Social Work Major

The student who wishes to formally declare Social Work as a major should consult with the department Admissions Coordinator. Admission to the major is based upon:

1. Satisfactory completion of SWK 215
2. A favorable recommendation from the Admissions Coordinator

Admission to Field Instruction

1. Prior admission to the Social Work Major
2. Completion of 84 hours with a 2.0 grade point average
3. Satisfactory completion of all early field experience requirements
4. Satisfactory completion of SWK 215, 310, 311, 312, 325, and 351, and all related area requirements
5. An application process and approval of the Director of Field Instruction

General Information

Students enrolled in the practice sequence are individually responsible for their own transportation to and from community agencies. Some agencies require students to provide proof of liability and malpractice insurance. Insurance information is available in the departmental office.

All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) (45 semester hours)

All students in this program must meet AULER requirements. Specific area requirements are indicated below:

	Semester Hours
1. Analytic and Evaluative Studies (AE)	3
2. British or American Literature (BL)	3
3. Fine Arts (FA)	3
4. Historical Perspectives on Western Culture (HP)	3
5. Mathematics (MT)	3

Professors Bass, Cox, Garlington, Hill, Kiorpes, Lynam, McCrickard, McIver, Sherbon; Associate Professors H. Apfelstadt, G. Carroll, W. Carroll, DiPiazza, Egekvist, Gutter, Hunkins, Kohlenberg, Locke, McCarty, McClaren, Masarie, Marsh, Prodan, Sink, Stewart, , Walker, Whittaker, Williams; Assistant Professors Anderson, M. Apfelstadt, Askew, Bach, Burke, Charry, Huang, LaCourse, LeFevre-Milholin, Payne, Salmon; Lecturers Budrow, Edmondson, Holley, King, Mazzatenta, Poindexter, Tobin Scott, White
Adjunct Associate Professor Wursten

The School of Music is an accredited institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Music. The requirements for entrance and graduation as set forth in this catalog are in accordance with the published regulations of the National Association of Schools of Music. The School of Music is the sole representative of the State of North Carolina to the National Association of Music Executives in State Universities.

The School of Music offers the only comprehensive music program from undergraduate through doctoral study in both performance and music education in North Carolina. Unlike either more specialized programs in conservatory-type institutions or more general curricula encountered in most departments of music, studies in the School of Music complement rigorous professional training with that broad liberal education necessary for students both to function as informed, responsible citizens and, concurrently, to communicate most effectively as musicians.

The Bachelor of Music Performance Major is a professional music degree which prepares students for future careers as performers, composers, and/or teachers; it requires students to spend approximately two-thirds of their time in music study. The Bachelor of Music Music Education Major prepares students for positions as choral directors or teachers of general music (principal performance area usually voice, piano, or organ) or for positions as instrumental directors (principal performance area in orchestral or band instruments) in public schools; it requires students to spend approximately two-thirds of their time in music and teacher certification study. The Bachelor of Arts Music Major is a liberal arts degree which provides valuable undergraduate preparation for a variety of careers; it requires students to spend approximately one-third of their time in music study. Exceptions to prescribed degree programs must have written approval of the Dean of the School of Music.

All prospective music majors and minors must audition for members of the music faculty for acceptance into the School of Music and for approval of the major or principal performance area. Such auditions should be arranged in advance through the School of Music; taped auditions are acceptable only if distance prohibits a personal audition. Composition majors should submit scores and/or recordings of completed compositions.

Aspects of Music Study

Performance Studies. Throughout the four years of undergraduate enrollment, music students will study in one or more performance studies areas: keyboard, voice, strings, winds, percussion, or composition. This study will include private instruction in the major or principal performance area, some group instruction, and work in a secondary performance area (instruments, voice, composition or advanced conducting) outside the major or principal area.

Requirements in performance studies are defined both by proficiency level and credit hours. The level of study for each semester is determined by faculty committees in "jury examinations." Specific requirements for these examinations are provided by the faculty in each performance area.

Music majors enroll each semester in the major or principal instrument for two or three credit hours as determined by the performance faculty. Secondary performance study or performance study by most minors and non-majors normally grants one credit. Music majors assigned instruction in performance studies must simultaneously carry a minimum of two three-credit music courses.

Majors, principals, and minors will be assigned to MUS 151-451 (1-3 credits) for performance studies. Students who are not music majors or minors may enroll for performance study subject to the availability of space. Advance approval must be obtained from the School of Music. Neither noncredit nor audit registration in performance studies is permitted.

Performance Activities. B.M. students will participate in one or more large ensembles in their area each semester according to degree requirements. Any student enrolled for two or more credits of performance studies must coregister for a large ensemble (MUS 380, 381B, 382, 383, 384, 391, 393, 394, 395, 396D, 396I). Each year advanced students may apply for positions as vocalists or instrumentalists in the performances of opera and musical theatre which the School of Music presents in cooperation with the Department of Communication and Theatre. Advanced students also have opportunities to perform in the Greensboro Symphony Orchestra and/or other professional ensembles, to serve as church organists, vocal soloists, and directors, and to participate in orchestras hired locally for touring events appearing in the community.

Community Opportunities

Living in the artistically thriving Greensboro/Winston-Salem/High Point "Triad" area, students enjoy regular opportunities to attend and perform in concerts sponsored by such organizations as the Greensboro Symphony Orchestra, the Greensboro Opera Company, and the Eastern Music Festival. In addition, they interact with some of the world's major artists who frequently schedule informal discussions, open rehearsals, and master classes at UNCG.

Facilities. The School of Music is currently based in the Brown Music Building Complex. This facility, in combination with other buildings on campus, provides large and small auditoriums, choral and instrumental rehearsal halls, and numerous practice rooms. The Music Listening Center, also located in the Brown Music Building, houses a large collection of recordings, other audio-visual materials, and scores.

Many students explore special interests in the Electronic Music Studio, the Electronic Piano Laboratory, and the Computer Theory Laboratory. The Birdie H. Holloway Music Education Laboratory houses reference materials, computer and video cassette recorder equipment, other audio-visual equipment, and the various teaching instruments required for primary and secondary school music instruction.

Students in instrumental areas, although encouraged to own the best possible instruments for their personal use, are afforded access to the school's large inventory of orchestral and keyboard instruments.

Student Information Manual

Additional policies and regulations are found in the Student Information Manual. This manual is made available to all music students after entrance requirements are met. Adherence to the contents of this publication are the responsibility of the student.

Music in General Studies

Courses in introductory music appreciation, Afro-American music, non-western music, jazz appreciation, 20th-century music, popular music in America, etc., are designed for the non-music major. Such courses may be taken either to satisfy degree requirements or as electives. The interested and qualified student may, with consent of the instructor, pursue study in other music courses as well (see pertinent course descriptions).

GENERAL MUSIC MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Required: 122 semester hours.

MUS 090 (4 semesters)

MUS 091 (7 semesters)

All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) (45 hours)

Students in the BA General Curriculum will follow the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) instead of the College of Arts and Sciences (CLER) requirements. Students must elect two writing intensive courses, as defined and identified in the UNCG Undergraduate Bulletin within their AULER requirements. Students must complete six hours of the same foreign language. This may be accomplished by completing six hours of a new elementary foreign language, by completing six hours through the intermediate level of a previously studied foreign language, or by proficiency through the intermediate level.

See pp. 43-46 for a detailed listing of AULER area requirements and courses meeting those requirements.

Major Requirements

46 semester hours in music with at least 32 hours above the 100 level, as follows:

1. Theory; MUS 101, 102, 105, 106, 201, 202, 205, 206, 301
2. History: MUS 331, 332, 333, 343 (fulfills NW requirement of AULER; see above)
3. Performance Studies: 10 semester hours including at least 2 at 351 level
4. Class Piano: 4 semester hours through MUS 134 or proficiency
5. Large Ensemble: 5 semester hours
6. One 500-level music elective in history/literature, theory, or pedagogy

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete 122 semester hours required for degree.

MUSIC HISTORY MAJOR (Bachelor of Arts)

Required: 126 semester hours

MUS 090 (4 semesters)

MUS 091 (7 semesters)

All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) (45 hours)

All students in this program must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). See pp. 43-46 for a detailed listing of AULER area requirements and courses meeting those requirements.

Major Requirements

29-45 hours in music above the 100 level

1. Theory: MUS 101, 102, 105, 106, 201, 202, 205, 206, 301

3. Performance Studies: 10 semester hours (must achieve 351 level)
4. Class Piano: 4 semester hours through MUS 134 or proficiency
5. Large Ensemble: 2 semester hours
6. Collegium Musicum: 6 semester hours
7. MUS 497c (6 semester hours) to culminate in a senior thesis; MUS 507; three of the following: MUS 511, 521, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 537, 538

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete 126 semester hours required for degree.

PERFORMANCE MAJOR (Bachelor of Music)

A concentration in voice or an instrument

PERFORMANCE MAJOR: JAZZ STUDIES (Bachelor of Music)

A concentration in an instrument with emphasis on jazz

COMPOSITION MAJOR (Bachelor of Music)

A concentration in music composition (proficiency in at least one performance area required for acceptance).

Required: 128 semester hours.

MUS 090 (7 semesters)

MUS 091 (7 semesters)

All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) (39 semester hours)

All students in this program must meet AULER requirements.

The School of Nursing offers an undergraduate program leading to the Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree. The first two years of study are in general education, basic sciences, humanities, and basic nursing. The majority of work in the junior and senior years is in nursing.

The School of Nursing also offers a Master of Science in Nursing degree to prepare persons for a leadership role in nursing education, administration, and clinical practice. This program has a strong research emphasis and is founded on specialization in clinical practice.

Accreditation

The program offered by the School of Nursing is approved by the North Carolina Board of Nursing and accredited by the National League for Nursing. The School of Nursing is an agency member of the National League for Nursing in the NLN Council of Baccalaureate and Higher Degree Programs.

Philosophy

The faculty believes that people, existing as individuals, families, groups, and communities, are holistic, complex biological, psychological, social, cultural, and spiritual beings. Each person is unique and possesses inherent dignity, worth, and the right to self-determination. While human responses are individualized, many can be generalized and predicted. Throughout the life span, people have potential for growth and development.

A person dynamically interacts with the environment, and each is affected by the other. The environment is the sum total of all those conditions and circumstances that have an impact on the existence of an individual. The environment constantly changes and influences a person's health.

Health is a relative state of being which is characterized by wellness, illness, disease, or dysfunction. Any view of health must consider both developmental and environmental influences. A person uses both internal and external resources to achieve the desired level of health. Nursing is one of the external resources available.

Nurses use knowledge and skill in working with people to promote, maintain, and restore the balance between them and their environment, and when necessary, to support a dignified death.

Professional nursing has both theoretical and practice components. Nursing's body of knowledge incorporates biological, behavioral, and humanistic principles. The practice component is characterized by critical thinking, scientific inquiry, and effective interpersonal and psychomotor skills. Nurses function independently and interdependently in a variety of roles and are ethically and legally accountable for the quality of nursing care they provide.

The faculty believes that professional nursing education, built upon a foundation of liberal arts and the biological and social sciences, guides the learner to attain competencies required to practice professional nursing. Baccalaureate education prepares nurses to function as generalists, while education at the master's level prepares nurses as specialists in nursing practice. Nursing education respects the uniqueness of the learner and encourages commitment, accountability, leadership, self-awareness, and continued professional development.

Admission

Students must be formally admitted to the School of Nursing which is an upper division major. Only students who have formal, written acceptance into the School will be permitted to register in advanced nursing courses and complete work for the major. Admission should normally be sought during the first semester of the sophomore year. Applications are obtained from the Advising Center in the School of Nursing.

Criteria for Admission:

1. Overall grade point average above 2.0
2. A grade of "C" or better in each of the following courses: BIO 271, 277, 280; HDF 211; NUR 210, 220; PSY 221; SOC 355 or HDF 212
3. No more than two of the above prerequisite courses may be repeated to attain a grade of "C" or better. Prerequisite courses may be repeated only one time.
4. Admission to the upper division is contingent upon receipt of a satisfactory evaluation signed by the student's physician of the applicant's physical and emotional health to provide nursing care. Forms will be sent to the applicants during the spring semester and must be completed and on file in the School of Nursing by the following August 1.

Students may not enroll in nursing courses beyond the foundation level courses cited above without being admitted to the School. Application for admission is possible while students are still completing the prerequisite courses, but unconditional admission cannot be granted until admission criteria have been successfully completed.

Admission to the University does not guarantee acceptance into the nursing major. Various health care agencies in Piedmont North Carolina cooperate with the School of Nursing in providing clinical learning experiences for students. The size of each incoming junior class is determined by the availability of these clinical resources. Therefore, it is impossible to assure space for every student who meets the criteria.

Registered Nurses

RN's interested in completing the BSN degree need to meet the University's requirements for admission. A registered nurse who brings advanced placement may build a minor in order to complete the 122 hours required for graduation. The Registered Nurse who has completed the prerequisite academic work and is ready to enter the professional major may earn up to 30 semester hours of credit for selected courses by special examination. Applications for special examinations are available in the Advising Center of the School of Nursing. Registered nurse students must make a "C" or better in NUR 370 and 371 and a passing rate for each special examination to progress into the 400-level nursing courses. Registered nurse students must provide evidence of graduation from a basic nursing program prior to enrolling in NUR 370 and 371, and current, active, unrestricted N.C. licensure prior to enrolling in 400-level courses. The length of time required to complete the program varies with each individual.

Criteria for Progression in the Major

1. A student must earn a grade of "C" or better in all required nursing courses at the 300-level before proceeding to the 400-level courses, and must earn a grade of "C" or better in all required 400-level courses in order to graduate. An overall grade point average of 2.0 or better is required to graduate.
2. Only one nursing course may be repeated in the nursing major. A nursing course may be repeated only once to attain a grade of "C" or better.

Grading in Practicum and Laboratory

A grade of unsatisfactory in lab or clinical practicum in nursing courses will result in a course grade of "F".

Appeal Procedure Related to Progression Policies

Students who fail to meet the progression policies because of extenuating circumstances may petition the Admission and Progression Committee for consideration of their eligibility to continue in the major. Responsibility for initiating the appeal process and presenting evidence of extenuating circumstances lies with the student.

General Information

1. Nursing majors are required to purchase uniforms - estimated cost is $150. Uniforms are required for clinical activities in the 300- and 400-level nursing courses. Students usually purchase uniforms in the second semester of the sophomore year.
2. Before beginning clinical courses, students are required to furnish the School of Nursing with evidence that they have secured liability insurance covering their actions as students while having clinical activity/practicum experiences. Students may obtain coverage through the School of Nursing's group policy at a cost of approximately $15 per academic year. Insurance obtained through the School's group policy does not cover students for part-time work or work during vacations.
3. Students enrolled in 300- and 400-level courses with a clinical component are responsible for their own transportation to and from the agencies used for clinical activities/practicum experiences. Car owners are reminded that current liability insurance is required by North Carolina law.
4. Achievement tests will be administered during the junior and senior years. Students are responsible for the cost of the examinations, approximately $50 per year.
5. Students admitted to the major must provide evidence of the following on the first day of class:
 - a. a tuberculin Mantoux skin test (or chest x-ray if skin test is positive) - annual requirement.
 - b. a tetanus toxoid immunization - every ten years.
 - c. Rubella and Measles evidence as required by the University.
 - d. History of Mumps or Mumps immunization.
 - e. Chicken Pox history. Some agencies require a titre for students with negative history.
 - f. Completion of the first Hepatitis B immunizations. By the start of the second year of clinical, completion of the Hepatitis B series.
 - g. Rarely, immunization requirements must be changed on short notice. Students will be informed of changes as soon as they occur.

6. Students admitted to the major must provide evidence (annual requirement) that they are certified to perform cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR).
7. RN students admitted to the major must provide evidence of current unrestricted licensure in North Carolina.
8. Substitutions for prerequisite courses may be made with prior approval from the School of Nursing.
9. Qualified students are encouraged to take Honors courses in the arts and sciences.
10. All students are encouraged to take either Advanced Placement Exams, Biology Department exemption exams, or CLEP exams for BIO 101 and 107 which are prerequisites for BIO 271, 277, and 280.
11. All students are encouraged to take the CHE 103 exemption exam offered by the Chemistry Department. The exam determines if a student should take CHE 103 and 110 (fall semester) or take CHE 104 and 110 (spring semester).
12. Placement in a student's first 100-level mathematics (MAT, CSC, or STA) course is determined by a required placement exam.

Scholarships

Procedures and requirements for undergraduate scholarships are described in Chapter 7.

NURSING MAJOR (Bachelor of Science in Nursing)

REQUIREMENTS

All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER) (45 semester hours)

All students in this program must meet AULER requirements. Specific area requirements for the Nursing Major are indicated below:

	Semester Hours
1. Analytic and Evaluative Studies (AE)	3
Required: PHI 119 or 220
2. British or American Literature (BL)	3
3. Fine Arts (FA)	3
4. Historical Perspectives on Western Culture (HP)	3
5. Mathematics (MT)	3
Required: STA 108
6. Natural Science (NS)	6
Required: BIO 101 and 107; CHE 103 or 104 and 110L
7. Non-Western Studies (NW)	3
8. Reasoning and Discourse (RD)	6
Required: ENG 101 or FMS 103 or RCO 101 for 3 of the 6 credits
9. Social and Behavioral Sciences (SB)	6
Required: PSY 221; SOC 211
10. World Literature (WL)	3
11. AULER Electives	6
Required: FNS 213; HDF 211

See pages 43-46 for a detailed listing of courses meeting AULER area requirements.

Major and Related Area Requirements

1. NUR 210, 220, 310, 320, 340, 360, 380, 410, 420, 430, 440
2. BIO 271, 277, 280; SOC 355 or HDF 212.

Electives

Electives must be sufficient to complete 122 total semester hours required for degree.

NOTE: Requirements listed above, with the exceptions of PHI 119 or 220, STA 108, FNS 213, and electives, should be completed prior to enrolling in 300-level or 400-level nursing courses. Because of the time commitments involved with the 300- and 400-level nursing courses, and the difficulties in scheduling non-nursing courses concurrently with nursing courses, students should try to have most course requirements completed prior to entering the upper division major.

Course Requirements for Special Student Populations

Licensed Practical Nurse Students seeking a BSN: same as for the BSN program outlined above, with the following exception

May earn credit (6 s.h.) for the following courses by examination: NUR 210 and 380.

Registered Nurse Students seeking a BSN:

1. Satisfactory completion of NUR 370 and 371.
2. May earn credit (30 s.h.) for the following courses by examination: NUR 210, 220, 310, 320, 340, 360, and 380.
3. Satisfactory completion of NUR 470, 471, 472, one NUR elective, and one other elective.
4. Completion of the AULER requirements (see pp. 43-46 of Bulletin).
5. Completion of sufficient electives to earn a minimum of 122 semester hours.
6. Completion of other University requirements for the degree.

Student pursuing the BSN as a second degree:

1. Satisfactory completion of courses in anatomy and physiology, NUR 210, and NUR 220 prior to entering the upper division major. Second degree students must also apply for admission to the upper division major.
2. Completion of other University requirements for the degree.
3. Satisfactory completion of the required 300- and 400-level courses (NUR 310, 320, 340, 360, 380, 410, 420, 430, 440).

NURSING COURSES (NUR)For Undergraduates

210 Concepts in Nursing (4:3:3). Introduction to basic concepts in nursing. Laboratory activities encourage self-awareness and include exercises in values clarification and communication patterns, with practice of basic nursing skills. Pr. sophomore standing; overall GPA over 2.0.

220 Nursing Assessment of Well Individuals (4:3:3). Introduction to basic nursing assessment of well individuals over the life span. Laboratory activities encourage development of skills in interviewing, physical examination, and documentation of information. Pr. completion of BIO 271 or 277; overall GPA over 2.0. Corequisite: concurrent enrollment in BIO 271 or 277, whichever has not been completed.

310 Nursing Care of Individuals with Psychosocial Problems (5:3:6). Nursing care of individuals who have mental health or psychosocial problems. Clinical activities in selected mental health settings. Pr. NUR 210, 220.

320 Nursing Care of Adults: Common Physiological Problems (5:3:6). Nursing care of adults who have common physiological problems. Clinical activities in medical or surgical units within acute care settings. Pr. NUR 210, 220.

* Note: Students are individually responsible for their own transportation to and from the agencies used for practicum experiences.

- 330 Health of Women (3:3). Women and their health. Incorporating selected health issues, physical and developmental changes in the life cycle, health maintenance, and health problems. Not offered every semester. (Elective credit for nursing majors.)
- *340 Nursing Care of the Developing Family (5:3:6). Nursing care of growing children in maturing family. Wellness emphasized, with the study of illness, disease, or dysfunction. Clinical activities in agencies where care is provided for children. Pr. NUR 210, 220.
- 345 Basic Health Management of Children (3:3). Health appraisal and recognition of symptoms of illness in children. Emphasizes needs of children in group settings from infancy through elementary school age. Pr. HDF 211.
- *360 Nursing Care of the Emerging Family (5:3:6). Nursing care of families experiencing birth of an infant. Wellness emphasized, with the study of illness, disease, or dysfunction. Clinical activities in agencies where care is provided for parents and newborns. Pr. NUR 210, 220.
- 370 Concepts of Professional Nursing (3:3:0). Study of basic concepts in professional nursing.
- 371 Nursing Health Assessment (2:1:3). Study of the assessment of individuals over the life span. Laboratory activities promote the development of nursing assessment skills.
- 380 Nursing Skills (2:1:3). Introduction and practice of nursing skills necessary for care of clients in clinical settings. Pr. 210 and 220.
- 405 Pharmacology in Nursing (3:3). Study of major drug groups and their action, use, side effects, and nursing care considerations. Emphasis on nursing care and teaching, built upon physiology and basic pharmacology. Pr. admission to the School of Nursing or permission of instructor.
- *410 Nursing Care of the Community of Older Adults (6:3:9). Nursing care of older adults: theories of aging, physiological/ psychological functioning, impact of developmental changes, illness, and dysfunction. Clinical activities in agencies where care is provided for older adults. Pr. NUR 210, 220, 310, 320, 340, 360, or equivalent.
- *420 Nursing Care in the Community (6:3:9). Nursing care of individuals, families, and groups within the community setting. Exploration of environmental characteristics and resources. Clinical activities in community health agencies. Pr. NUR 210, 220, 310, 320, 340, 360, or equivalent.
- *430 Nursing in Complex Organizations (6:3:9). Nursing care of groups in complex acute-care settings. Emphasis on nurse's role in research, team membership, and professional growth. Clinical activities encourage development of basic leadership and organizational skills. Pr. NUR 210, 220, 310, 320, 340, 360, or equivalent.
- *440 Nursing Practicum (6:1:15). A concentrated five-week practicum in a clinical area of the student's choice. Students simulate role of the employed graduate under the guidance of a selected nursing preceptor. Pr. NUR 410, 420; pr. or concurrent enrollment in NUR 430. (May not be offered every semester.)
- *470 Community Health Nursing Concepts and Care (5:3:6). Nursing care of individuals, families, and groups within the community settings. Focus on implementation of community health nursing services. Clinical activities in a variety of community health agencies. Pr. completion of all required 200- and 300-level nursing courses or equivalent. Current unrestricted North Carolina licensure as a Registered Nurse.
- *471 Nursing Care of the Older Adult (5:3:6). Nursing care of older adults considering theories of aging, developmental, physiological/ psychological functioning, common health problems, and resources. Clinical experiences in a wide variety of agencies involving older adults. Pr. completion of all required 200- and 300-level nursing courses or equivalent. Current unrestricted North Carolina licensure as a Registered Nurse.
- 472 Nursing Research and Leadership (3:3). Professional nurse's role in applying principles of research, leadership, and management in health care organizations. Pr. completion of all required 200- and 300-level nursing courses or equivalent. Current unrestricted North Carolina licensure as a Registered Nurse.

* Note: Students are individually responsible for their own transportation to and from the agencies used for practicum experiences.

492 Independent Study (1-3:1-3). Guided readings in nursing as an individual project designed with a focus on the nursing profession and/or nursing practice. Approval must be granted by a nursing faculty member prior to registration. Course offering is dependent on faculty availability.

493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p. 316).

For Advanced Undergraduates and Graduate Students

505 Computer Applications in Nursing (3:2:3). An introduction to computer applications in nursing. Practical experience with microcomputers and generic software applicable to patient care and nursing management. Lab assignments will vary to meet specific learning needs. Not recommended for Nursing Administration majors. Pr. Basic understanding of microcomputers or permission of instructor.

540 Budget Development and Analysis of Nursing Services (3:3). An introduction to the principles of fiscal management, health care agency accounting practices, and nurse manager's role in the budgeting process.

542 Law, Policy and Procedure in Nursing (3:3). Focus on legal, procedural, and policy dimensions of health care delivery as related to nursing practice.

550 Pathophysiology for Advanced Nursing (3:3). The physiological changes across the life span and common pathophysiological mechanisms.

562 Advanced Nursing Leadership Role (3:3). Development of the leadership and management roles in specialized areas of advanced nursing practice.

563 The Aged Developmentally Disabled (3:3). Healthcare needs of older developmentally disabled persons. Holistic model incorporating the belief that developmentally disabled can continue to learn as they age. Pr. Undergraduate level psychosocial nursing course or special education courses and permission of the instructor.

564 The Elderly Mentally Ill Client (3:3). A holistic approach to nursing practice with the elderly mentally ill using theories of psychological functioning, and socio-economic conditions. Pr. Undergraduate level psychosocial nursing course or equivalent course and practicum.

FRESHMAN SEMINARS PROGRAM

Freshman Seminars are small discussion classes that introduce students to various areas of study in the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). Each seminar focuses on a topic, issue, or problem selected by the instructor; seminar topics change from one semester to the next and are described in a booklet that is distributed to advisors at the beginning of each semester. Additional information on Freshman Seminars may be obtained from the Center for Critical Inquiry in the Liberal Arts, 100 Foust Building (x3186).

FRESHMAN SEMINAR COURSES (FMS)

- 101 Freshman Seminar in Historical Perspectives on Western Culture - I (3:3). Introduction to the historical study of western culture from ancient times through the Reformation. [HP, CHP-CPM].
- 102 Freshman Seminar in Historical Perspectives on Western Culture - II (3:3). Introduction to the historical study of western culture from the 17th century through modern times. [HP, CHP-CMO].
- 103 Freshman Seminar in Reasoning and Discourse (3:3). Instruction and practice in deliberative, informative, and reflective writing based on the study of primary texts. Emphasis on the writing/revising process and on critical reading. Equivalent credit to ENG 101; students may not receive credit for both FMS 103 and either ENG 101. [RD, CRD].
- 104 Freshman Seminar in Natural Science (3:3). Introduction to the scientific study of the natural world. Illustrates the nature of scientific inquiry and the formulation of hypotheses. [NS, CLS or CPS].
- 104L Laboratory for Freshman Seminar in Natural Science (1:0:3). Laboratory work to accompany FMS 104. Pr: concurrent registration in FMS 104. [NS, CPS or CLS].
- 105 Freshman Seminar in Fine Arts (3:3). An introductory study of selected topics in the fine arts (which include painting, sculpture, cinema, dance, music, and theatre). [FA, CFA].
- 106 Freshman Seminar in Analytic and Evaluative Studies (3:3). An introduction to the abstract systems of thought and evaluative concepts fundamental to intellectual inquiry and values. Topics may be drawn from ethics, metaphysics, epistemology, historiography, religion, and cultural anthropology. [AE, CAE].
- 107 Freshman Seminar in World Literature (3:3). A study of major works in the literature of countries other than Britain and the United States. [WL, CWL].
- 108 Freshman Seminar in Social and Behavioral Studies (3:3). Introduction to the scientific study of individuals, societies, and human institutions with an emphasis on the methods and results of investigations in these areas. [SB, CSB].

109 Freshman Seminar in Non-Western Studies (3:3). Studies of cultural forms of expression, socio-political structures, and habits of mind that are distinctly different from Western cultural traditions. [NW, CNW].

110 Freshman Seminar in British or American Literature (3:3). A study of selected major works in the literature of Britain or the United States. [BL, CBL].

HONORS PROGRAM

The Honors Program offers highly qualified students an opportunity to pursue a unique course of study that is both intellectually stimulating and challenging. The Program is not designed to be a major. Thus students in the Honors Program must complete the requirements for one of the academic or professional programs offered in the University. The Honors Program is, however, designed to be compatible with all major and professional programs and generally adds only a few additional hours to the four-year plan.

The Honors Program provides a strong base in the liberal arts leading to more specialized and independent work as students progress toward the bachelor's degree. It consists of three parts.

1. In their first two years students take Honors Core Seminars, courses specially designed for the Program that explore fundamental areas of study in natural sciences, social sciences, art and literature, and analytical and evaluative studies.

2. Students must enroll in at least six additional hours of designated Honors courses. These may consist of honors sections of regularly-scheduled courses meeting College and University general education requirements (e.g. Introduction to Sociology, Mythology, etc.), upper division Honors seminars, disciplinary work offered through departments and schools, or independent studies conducted under the direction of a faculty member. This component of the Program is designed to provide students with flexibility in coordinating Honors with the requirements of their major programs.

3. The final component of the program is the Senior Honors Thesis. Required of all students completing the Program, the senior thesis covers a topic chosen by the student and is completed in the senior year.

Association with faculty and other Honors students in the Program is close, a welcome contrast to large impersonal lecture classes. Every aspect of the program provides special opportunities for exceptionally qualified students to grow intellectually through contact with a community of Honors students and faculty.

Honors Council

The program is under the general supervision of an Honors Council composed of faculty and students from the various schools of the University, as well as from the College of Arts and Sciences.

Ronald D. Cassell, Director of Honors Program, Department of History

Laurie White, Assistant Director of Honors Program, Department of English

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

All students with an overall grade point average of 3.3 or above are eligible for admission to the Honors Program. Freshmen are admitted on the basis of high school standing, projected grade point average, S.A.T. scores or, exceptionally, through personal interview.

To complete the Honors Program:

- a) eligible students must enroll in a minimum of 18 semester hours of Honors courses;
- b) 9 of the 18 must include three Honors Core Seminars from three of the four core seminar categories;
- c) 3 of the 18 must be in Senior Honors Thesis.

The remaining 6 hours may include any other Honors course. There is no maximum number of courses in which a student may enroll. To remain in the program, students must maintain a cumulative UNCG grade point average of 3.3 or above. A student whose GPA falls below the minimum required may, at the discretion of the Director, continue in the program for a probationary period of one semester. Students who take the minimum required curriculum will have completed the Honors program and will have this accomplishment so recorded on their transcripts.

HONORS PROGRAM COURSES (HSS)

Honors Core Seminars (9 hrs required)

Honors Core Seminars may be used to meet liberal education requirements in the credit areas indicated below. They, however, cannot substitute for introductory prerequisites in the major. Students completing the Honors Program must take three Honors Core Seminars, one each from three of the four categories described below. Specific topics will vary from year to year. The courses may be repeated for credit as topics change.

205a, b, c Aesthetic Dimensions of Culture (3:3).
 Studies in the arts (literature, painting, sculpture, music, architecture, theater, cinema, and dance) and their interpretation, drawing on the perspectives of culture, history and theory. Pr.

3.3 GPA or permission of the Director. [HSS 205a — BL, CBL; HSS 205b — WL, CWL; HSS 205c — FA, CFA].

206 Social and Political Dimensions of Culture (3:3). Influential texts, authors, movements, and critical issues or problems concerned with the conditions, mechanisms and aims of social life. Pr. 3.3 GPA or permission of the Director. [SB, CSB].

207a, b Scientific Dimensions of Culture (3:3). Critical examination of the impact of revolutionary advances in natural science on our understanding of nature and attitudes about humanity and society. Cannot substitute for introductory prerequisite in the major. Pr. 3.3 GPA or permission of the Director. [HSS 207a — NS, CPS; HSS 207b — NS, CLS].

208 Seminar in Analytical and Evaluative Studies (3:3). Analytic and evaluative studies of the search for basic knowledge that have informed systems of thought in intellectual history. Pr. 3.3 GPA or permission of the Director. [AE, CAE].

Honors Electives

220 Student Seminar (2:2). Students (usually eight to ten) agree on a general topic for a semester's study. Each participant defines a special interest to be explored individually as a contributing member of the group. A faculty member directs the group's discussions. Not offered every year.

300 Interdisciplinary Honors Seminar (3:3). Interdisciplinary seminar focusing on a particular theme or topic and taught by two faculty members from different disciplines or schools. Topic varies each semester. May be repeated for credit as topic changes.

400, 401 Senior Honors Seminar (3), (3). Provides qualified students the opportunity to study special topics in an advanced seminar setting with the rigorous and intense discipline implied at the senior level. Pr. Completion of the Honors Core Requirement or permission of the Director of the Honors Program.

Honors Directed Study

330 Honors Independent Study (1 - 3). Student consults with a supervising faculty member to develop a program of concentrated study and investigation within a particular discipline. May be repeated once for credit if the topic of study changes. Pr. 6 hrs. in Honors Core Seminars.

490 Senior Honors Thesis (3 - 6). Independent original scholarship in the student's primary area of interest completed under the supervision of a faculty member. Work culminates in an original essay, annotated creative work or performance, or scientific report, depending upon the area of specialization. While completing the Honors Thesis the student may not enroll in more than thirteen additional hours in either semester. Pr. 6 hrs. in Honors Core Seminars and approval of the Honors Council.

Departmental Honors Sections

Departments may offer special Honors sections of regularly-scheduled courses such as Introduction to Sociology (SOC 211), Mythology (CCI 205), Introduction to Earth Science (GEO 103), etc. Qualified students may enroll in Honors sections (designated by an "H" after the course number), even if they do not expect to complete the Honors Program. However, Honors sections may be used by students in the Program to complete the 18-hour minimum requirement.

xxx493 Honors Work (3-6). (See Departmental listings). Disciplinary Honors work providing students with advanced study of the primary literature in their area of specialization. Pr. 3.3 GPA in the major, 12 hours in the major.

600-Level Graduate Courses

Senior honors students may enroll in 600-level graduate courses subject to the approval of the head of the department in which the course is being offered. The Director of Academic Advising and the Dean of the Graduate School must countersign this approval.

MEDICAL TECHNOLOGY PROGRAM

Coordinator: Reta Beck, Department of Biology, 322 Eberhart Building

UNCG students interested in medical technology have two programs of study from which to choose:

1. A four-year program leading to the Bachelor of Science in Medical Technology.
2. A five-year program which includes receipt of a bachelor's degree with a major in either Biology or Chemistry and the completion of an additional 12 months of study in a School of Medical Technology which has been approved by the Committee on Allied Health Education and Accreditation (CAHEA).

Because the recommended courses of study for both programs are essentially the same during the first year, students do not have to make a choice of programs until the end of the freshman year.

In either the four- or five-year program, students should complete the following courses during their freshman year or during the subsequent summer session: BIO 101, 102, 107, 108 and CHE 111, 111L, 114, 114L.

B.S.M.T. Four-Year Program

Students pursuing this degree program take their first three years of study at UNCG and then complete 12 months of study at one of the affiliated Schools of Medical Technology. The B.S.M.T. is awarded only after successful completion of the fourth year of study at one of the four affiliated clinical schools listed below. Students earning the degree are eligible for state and/or national certification, registration, and/or licensure.

Participation in and completion of the three-year UNCG program does not guarantee acceptance into the 12-month Medical Technology program at one of the affiliated hospitals. Students should apply for admission to an affiliated hospital school early in their junior year at UNCG.

A recommended outline for the four-year program leading to the B.S.M.T. follows.

MEDICAL TECHNOLOGY MAJOR (Bachelor of Science in Medical Technology)

Required: 124-149.5 semester hours

3 years at UNCG: 94 semester hours

12 months in the School of Medical Technology at one of the following:

Moses H. Cone Memorial Hospital in Greensboro, N.C.

Forsyth Memorial Hospital in Winston-Salem, N.C.

Baptist Hospital - Bowman Gray School of Medicine in Winston-Salem, N.C.

Carolinas Medical Center in Charlotte, N.C.

College of Arts and Sciences Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) (48-49 hours)

All students must meet the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER). The College of Arts and Sciences, however, has established liberal education requirements for its programs which, while including those of AULER, contain additional requirements in several categories. Therefore, students following this program should adhere to the College requirements. Please note that students who satisfy the College Liberal Education Requirements (CLER) will also satisfy the All-University Liberal Education Requirements (AULER).

3-Year UNCG Program

Semester Hours

- | | |
|---|------|
| 1. Analytic and Evaluative Studies (CAE) | 3 |
| 2. British or American Literature (CBL) | 3 |
| 3. Fine Arts (CFA) | 3 |
| 4. Historical Perspectives on Western Culture (CHP) | 3* |
| 5. Mathematics (CMT) | 3 |
| 6. Natural Science (CLS and CPS) | 9-10 |
| 7. Non-Western Studies (CNW) | 3 |
| 8. Reasoning and Discourse (CRD) | 6 |
| 9. Social and Behavioral Sciences (CSB) | 6* |
| 10. World Literature (CWL) | 3 |
| 11. Foreign Language | 6 |

The Foreign Language requirement can be satisfied by completing 6 semester hours at the appropriate level to be determined on the basis of high school foreign language background.

*These areas reflect exemptions approved by the College of Arts and Sciences for this program as follows: Historical Perspectives on Western Culture (CHP), 3 hours, and Social and Behavioral Sciences (CSB), 3 hours. Only students in the 3 + 1 B.S.M.T. program are granted these exemptions; 4 + 1 program students are required to take the additional 6 hours for a total of 54-55 hours.

See pp. 50-52 for a complete description of the College requirements and pages 45-46 for a listing of courses meeting AULER/CLER requirements.

Major Requirements

1. BIO 101, 102, 107, 108, 277, 481, 483.
2. CHE 111, 111L, 114, 114L, 351, and either 352 and 354, or 331 and 333, or CHE 205 and CHE 331 and 333.
3. MAT 119 or 121 or 191A or 191B or 292 (MAT 191A is a prerequisite for MAT 292).
4. PHY 101 and 102, or 291 and 292, or 305.

Related Area Recommended Courses:

BIO 392, 472, 535, 545, 584, 594

Electives

Electives sufficient to complete total semester hours required for degree. Some recommended elective areas are: education, management, statistics, and computer science.

Note: The B.S.M.T. program must include these minimum requirements: 16 semester hours in approved biology courses including a course in microbiology and immunology (BIO 481 fulfills both of these requirements); 16 semester hours in chemistry including one semester of organic chemistry; 3 semester hours in college level mathematics; and 3 semester hours in physics.

Fourth-Year (12 month) Affiliated Hospital School Curriculum

The number of semester hour credits earned from the affiliated hospital schools which are applied toward a Bachelor of Science in Medical Technology degree at UNCG ranges from 30 to 55.5 hours.

The credit hours are earned from classes in the following course areas:

Microbiology (Bacteriology, Parasitology, Virology, Serology, Mycology)

Biochemistry and Isotopes

Clinical Microscopy

Hematology and Immunology

Blood Bank

Cytology and Cytogenetics

Basic Electronics, Instrumentation, Computer Technology

Ethics and Laboratory Management

Laboratory Seminars, Medical Mortality Conferences, and Abnormal Laboratory Rounds.

Five-Year Program

Students electing the five-year program earn a Bachelor of Arts with a major in either Biology or Chemistry or a Bachelor of Science in Chemistry from UNCG. After graduation from UNCG they enroll in a School of Medical Technology approved by the Committee on Allied Health Education and Accreditation (CAHEA) for their fifth year of study.

Students electing the five-year program must take the same subjects listed as major requirements for the B.S.M.T. program. They must consult with the head of the department in which they are majoring or their faculty advisor in selecting other courses necessary to fulfill the B.A. or B.S. degree requirements.

Eligibility for certification, registration, or licensure does not come until the student completes the fifth year (12 months) of clinical training in a CAHEA-approved School of Medical Technology.

PREPROFESSIONAL PROGRAMS

DENTISTRY, MEDICINE, AND VETERINARY MEDICINE

Advisory Committee

Robert E. Cannon, Chair of Advisory Committee and Associate Professor, Department of Biology

Rachel H. Allred, Assistant Professor, School of Nursing

R. Bruce Banks, Associate Professor, Department of Chemistry

C. Bob Clark, Professor, Department of Physics and Astronomy

Robert P. Doolittle, Director, Student Health Center

Edward McCrady, III, Associate Professor, Department of Biology

Walter L. Salinger, Professor, Department of Psychology

Students should contact a member of this committee for assistance in planning their program of study.

The admission requirements vary slightly among the various schools and programs. For specific information students should write directly to the individual schools for catalogs or consult the library. Other sources of information are current volumes of Medical School Admission Requirements and Admission Requirements of American Dental Schools.

The preprofessional programs constitute a core of courses which must be completed before admission to the professional schools. They can be successfully incorporated into almost any major. It has been shown in the case of medical schools that the choice of major does not significantly affect the student's probability of admission. Students should give consideration to any major which they find interesting and in which they feel they can do well. Nearly all students accepted to medical, dental, and veterinary schools have completed a bachelor's degree.

Medical schools generally require 2 semesters of English; 2 semesters of general biology (BIO 101, 102, 107, 108); 2 semesters of general chemistry with laboratory (CHE 111, 111L, 114, 114L); 2 semesters of organic chemistry with laboratory (CHE 351, 352, 354); 2 semesters of physics (PHY 101, 102 or 291, 292). A few schools (e.g., Duke) also require mathematics through Calculus (MAT 191A, 292).

Other courses which are often recommended include Mammalian Physiology (BIO 277), Biochemistry (BIO 535 or CHE 556), Genetics (BIO 392).

Dental school preparatory course requirements are usually very much like those for medical school. Many schools do, however, require Quantitative Analysis (CHE 331, 333).

The list of required courses for veterinary schools is considerably more extensive than that for medical or dental schools. In addition to specifying more courses in mathematics, chemistry, and biology, these programs typically require or recommend more courses in animal science, general microbiology (BIO 481), biochemistry (BIO 535 or CHE 556) and nutrition (FNS 213). Significant work experience with animals or in a veterinarian's practice is required. Students interested in veterinary school should make contact with the school and with the advisory committee at an early stage of their undergraduate careers.

The achievement of outstanding academic credentials should not be accomplished at the cost of totally sacrificing extracurricular activities. Most professional programs prefer students who have participated in nonacademic activities and actively pursued a range of interests.

In addition to the core of preparatory courses, virtually all professional schools require some form of standardized test prior to consideration of a student's admission application. These tests are usually taken in the spring before application is made. Medical schools require the Medical College Admission Test (MCAT), dental schools the Dental Admission Test (DAT), and veterinary schools the Veterinary College Admission Test (VCAT). As of Fall 1992, no standardized test is required for the veterinary school at North Carolina State University.

Applications to professional schools are made a year before expected enrollment, usually between June 15 and November 15. Early application is strongly recommended. The American Medical College Application Service (AMCAS) is the agent for most medical schools, and the American Association of Dental Schools Application Service (AADSAS) is the agent for many dental schools. Application materials are available from the committee. Veterinary, medical, and dental schools not subscribing to one of the application services must be contacted individually.

ENGINEERING

Advisors

C. H. Vanselow, Associate Professor, Department of Chemistry

Robert B. Muir, Associate Professor, Department of Physics and Astronomy

A two-year pre-engineering curriculum is offered. This curriculum is planned for students who transfer to other institutions offering engineering programs. The pre-engineering program has been approved by the Subcommittee on Engineering Transfer for transfer to the engineering programs at North Carolina A. & T. State University, North Carolina State University, and The University of North Carolina at Charlotte. Students interested in engineering should contact one of the above advisors as soon as possible, especially those who cannot take Mathematics 191A their first semester.

 One of the above advisors should be consulted regarding programming language choice.

LAW

Advisory Committee

Dean Fadely, Chairperson of Advisory Committee, Department of Communication and Theatre

Susan Buck, Department Political Science

Randolph Bulgin, Department of English

Converse Clowse, Department of History

Frank Land, Department of Management

Terrance McConnell, Department of Philosophy

Jacquelyn G. White, Department of Psychology

Admittance to law school is primarily achieved through a favorable consideration of a student's grade point average, scores on the law school admission test (LSAT), and other materials furnished in an application for admission. Students who plan to attend law school may select their major from any academically respectable field. However, since law schools seek to admit students who can think, speak, and write only at the highest levels of competency, interested students, regardless of their major, should always select courses which engender skills in critical, creative, and reflective thinking as well as clear, cogent, and concise writing and speaking. In order to attain these vital skills, prelaw students are most strongly advised to take the core courses which grant credit in the area of Reasoning and Discourse (RD). These courses are, in alphabetical order, COM 105, 231, 341; ENG 101, 102, 223, 224, 301; PHI 115, 211. Students interested in prelaw should consult a prelaw advisor in addition to their major advisors.

MEDICINE

(see Dentistry, Medicine, and Veterinary Medicine)

PHARMACY

Students seeking a professional degree in pharmacy may follow a prepharmacy curriculum at UNCG for two years before transferring to a school of pharmacy. An additional three to four years will then be required depending on whether the Bachelor of Science in Pharmacy or the Doctor of Pharmacy degree is sought. There are 73 accredited schools of pharmacy in the United States. The two in North Carolina are located at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and at Campbell University.

Prepharmacy requirements generally include the following:

First year

CHE 111, 111L, 114, 114L

Algebra, Calculus, or Statistics

ENG 101, 102

Foreign language or other approved liberal arts courses

BIO 101, 102, 107, 108

Second year

CHE 351, 352, 354

PHY 305 or 101, 102

BIO 271

ECO 201

Other specified courses for a total of 64 sem. hrs. of prepharmacy work

Students will also be required to take the Pharmacy College Admission Test in the second year.

Completion of the prepharmacy work at UNCG does not guarantee admission to pharmacy school. Students should consult a prepharmacy advisor before registering for courses. Those planning to apply to out-of-state pharmacy schools should bring along information from those schools.

PHYSICAL THERAPY

Advisors

Department of Biology: Cannon, Leise, Lepri, McCrady, and Ruble

There are currently three physical therapy programs in North Carolina. The program at Duke University offers an entry-level Masters degree. Beginning Fall 1994 and 1995, respectively, the programs at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and at East Carolina University will replace their bachelors degree programs with entry-level Master of Physical Therapy programs (MPT). Winston-Salem State University offers a B.S. in Physical Therapy.

Students seeking a masters degree in physical therapy may major in any academic area but will be expected to complete a core of science courses. The minimum grade point average for admission is 3.0 on a 4.0 scale. Volunteer experience in physical therapy is required for admission. Requirements for the MPT generally include the courses shown below.

Statistics 108 or Psychology 310

Introductory Biology (BIO 101, 107, 102, 108)

Anatomy (BIO 271)

Physiology (BIO 277)

Physics 101 and 102

General Chemistry (CHE 111, 111L and 114, 114L)

General Psychology (PSY 221)

Human Growth and Development (HDF 211 or PSY 326)

CPR Certification

Additional recommendations include computer literacy and course work in biomechanics, histology, pathology, genetics, and immunology. Students should contact the programs directly to ensure that they meet current requirements for each school. A complete listing of accredited physical therapy programs is available from the American Physical Therapy Association, 1111 North Fairfax Street, Alexandria, VA 22314 (703) 684-APTA.

Students should contact an advisor for assistance in planning their program of study.

The Residential College was created at UNCG in 1970 to provide a setting which encourages innovative study, small classes, unity of academic and social experiences, and close student-faculty contacts.

The Residential College is a two-year program for freshmen and sophomores with a limited number of upperclassperson participants. Members of the program live and have classes in a coeducational residence hall. A Residence Hall Director, who often serves on the faculty, resides in the hall. Other faculty members have offices in the residence hall. Students and faculty serve on governing committees and participate together in special events within the dormitory.

Faculty members from many different departments and schools teach in the Residential College. Courses taught meet All-University Liberal Education Requirements and requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences.

All students participate in an interdisciplinary core course focusing on the American experience and choose from a wide range of other academic subjects. These seminars, along with varied types of independent study and community service work, make up six to nine hours of a student's semester course load. The remaining semester hours are taken in the University outside the Residential College. (Residential College students are full members of UNCG and are expected to participate in the life of the University.)

All students who have been admitted to UNCG automatically qualify for application to Residential College. Anyone who wishes to receive more information about the program is encouraged to write directly to the Residential College.

RESIDENTIAL COLLEGE COURSES (RCO)

- 101 English Composition I (3:3). Designed to develop the student's ability to read with discrimination and write effectively. Seabrooke. [RD, CRD].
- 102 English Composition II (3:3). Practice in writing responsible public discourse. Students write extended, informed arguments on issues of public concern. Attention to critical reading, effective use of evidence. Gray. [RD, CRD].
- 104 Writing Clinic (1). Experimental multi-semester course dealing with real writing problems that occur naturally in other courses. Students instructed on tutorial basis.
- 205, 206 Residential College Core Course: The American Experience: America and the Modern World: 1890-1945 (3). [SB, CSB]. The American Experience: 1945 to Present (3). [HP, CHP]. Second year of a two-year core program dealing with the American experience. Emphasis this year is on 20th-century events. The course is multidisciplinary.

244-59	Cultures of the Pacific. Fitzgerald. [NW, CNW].	262-01	Independent Study (1 to 3).
244-65	The Cold War: Its Evolution and Conclusion. Thompson. [SB, CSB].	301	Independent Study (3). Carpenter.
		302	Advanced Study (3). Carpenter.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS IN LIBERAL STUDIES

The College offers ten programs of focused interdisciplinary study, each of which is firmly grounded in the liberal arts. These programs, designed and administered by faculty committees, are listed below.

In addition, when existing programs in the liberal arts do not meet certain academic needs, students may petition to pursue an interdisciplinary major that they design, in consultation with relevant faculty. Students interested in pursuing this possibility should first discuss it with relevant faculty and then consult with the Associate Dean of the College, Professor Timothy D. Johnston (Room 100, Foust Building). If the request seems justifiable, a faculty committee is appointed to work with the student in developing a program in an academically feasible and coherent manner. Upon the approval of that faculty committee and the Associate Dean, a self-designed interdisciplinary program of study is established as a major for the student, a faculty advisor is appointed, and the Director of Academic Advising and Support Services and the Registrar are notified.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS IN LIBERAL STUDIES

African American Studies

Archaeology

Study in Christianity

Gerontology

History and Philosophy of Science

International Business Studies (co-sponsored with the Bryan School of Business and Economics)

International Studies:

Area I: A Global Approach to International Affairs (second major and minor)

Area II: Cross-Cultural Understanding (second major and minor)

Area III: International Development (second major and minor)

Area IV: Regional Studies

European Studies (second major and minor)

African Studies (minor only)

Asian Studies (minor only)

Linguistics

Russian Studies

Women's Studies

As with other programs, students must meet the liberal education requirements of the College of Arts and Sciences. See pages 47-52 for a detailed listing of courses meeting each area requirement.

AFRICAN AMERICAN STUDIES

The program has several objectives:

1. To promote the teaching and learning about the history and experience of blacks in American society as an integral part of the University experience.
2. To add a vital humanistic dimension to the liberal arts undergraduate experience of students in the university by enabling all students, black and white, to learn how blacks have exerted an indelible impact on American society and to assist black students in learning more about their history and background.
3. To provide a global perspective to the University community by presenting students with various opportunities to engage in courses which promote learning about the culture of Africa, individuals in Africa and African diaspora countries.
4. To provide a learning environment for students through courses and activities that develop research, writing, critical thinking and effective communication.
5. To establish and maintain the interdisciplinary nature of the program by offering courses from other departments which reflect and support the major objectives of the program.

Students who wish to propose a Special Program in Liberal Studies minor in African American Studies should contact the chairman of the African American Studies Committee. The Chairman or members of the Committee will advise the student in the selection of courses to constitute the minor.

The undergraduate courses listed below focus almost entirely on issues, areas of knowledge, and concerns related to the black experience. The minor requires 18-21 semester hours that can be selected from the following courses:

AFS 100, 110, 200; ATY 235, 325, 335; ENG 375; HIS 203, 204, 301, 302; MUS 214, 344; REL 352; SOC 327; Residential College courses with appropriate content and focus. Recently, HIS 203, 204, 301, 302 and MUS 214 and 344 have been approved to be cross-listed with African American courses.

AFRICAN AMERICAN STUDIES COURSES (AFS)

- 100 Blacks in America (3:3). Introduction to African-American culture through an historical and social perspective. [HP, CHP-CMO].
- 110 Blacks in American Society: Social, Economic, and Political Perspectives (3:3). Social, political, economic experience of blacks in the United States. Topics include the black family, Civil Rights Movement, black politicians, and blacks in the labor market. [SB, CSB].
- 200 African American Art History (3:3). The development of Afro-American art placed within the context of mainstream American art and the history of the blacks in this country.
- 493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p. 316).

ARCHAEOLOGY

Committee Members

Jeffrey S. Soles, Chairman of Archaeology Program, Department of Classical Studies

Brad Bartel, Department of Anthropology

Joseph B. Mountjoy, Department of Anthropology

Jeffrey C. Patton, Department of Geography

Mary Kaye Sandford, Department of Anthropology

Timothy D. Johnston, Chairman, Special Programs in Liberal Studies, ex officio

The Special Programs in Liberal Studies major with a concentration in Archaeology introduces students to the ancient civilizations and cultures of the Old and New Worlds and to the analytical tools that facilitate their study. The major is designed to develop both anthropological and historical perspectives in archaeological research, to encompass the range of prehistoric to early historic cultures in the Old and New Worlds, and to introduce the theoretical concepts and methodological techniques appropriate to archaeological research.

Major Requirements

30-60 semester hours distributed as follows:

1. Core Requirements (12 hours)

ATY 258 World Prehistory

ATY 360 Modern Archaeology

CCI 211 Introduction to Classical Archaeology (Greece)

CCI 212 Introduction to Classical Archaeology (Rome)

2. Area Requirements (6 hours with 3 from each category)

Old World Archaeology:

ATY 501 Selected Topics in Anthropology (European Archaeology)

CCI 312 The Art and Archaeology of Egypt

CCI 313 Archaeology of the Aegean

CCI 314 Ancient Cities

New World Archaeology:

ATY 362 Archaeology of the Eastern United States

ATY 533 Archaeology of Mexico

3. Analytical Methods and Techniques (6 hours with no more than 3 from ATY 478, CCI 401, GEO 590)

ATY 478 Field Methods in Archaeology

ATY 479 Analysis of Archaeological Data

ATY 553 Human Identification

CCI 401 Archaeological Practicum

GEO 314 Physical Geography: Landscape Processes

GEO 323 Air Photo and Remote Sensing

4. Electives (6 hours from any of the above courses or the following related courses)

ART 201 Ancient Art

ART 281 Ceramics I

ART 285 Photography

ATY 213 Cultural Anthropology

BIO 106 Plants and Civilization

CCI 450 Internship in Classical Studies

GEO 321 Map Design

HIS 220 The Ancient World

PHI 325 Introduction to the Philosophy of Science

REL 352 Ancient Religions

Under special circumstances and with the permission of the Committee, some required courses may be substituted for others.

Minor Requirements

A minimum of 15 hours with 9 hours chosen from the Core Requirements and 3 hours chosen from each category of the Area Requirements.

STUDY IN CHRISTIANITY

Committee Members:

Stephen Ruzicka, Chair of the Study in Christianity Minor, Department of History

Jodi Bilinkoff, Department of History

Timothy D. Johnston, Chairman, Special Programs in Liberal Studies, ex officio

Susan Shelmerdine, Department of Classical Studies

Janet Summers, Department of Religious Studies

The Special Programs in Liberal Studies minor in Christianity provides a broad-based study of Christian thought, institutions, rituals, personalities, and social movements in their diverse historical and cultural settings. It may be taken with any major in the University.

Requirements

1. Core Course: REL 210 - Christianity
2. 12-18 hours chosen from 3 departments outside the student's major and distributed so that the student takes at least 1 course in each of the categories below. (A substitute course may be taken to satisfy the distribution requirement in the appropriate category with the approval of the Committee.)

- a. Ancient and Early Christian Period: ART 201; GRK 201, 202; HIS 220, 355; REL 204, 305
- b. Medieval and Early Modern Period: ART 202, 302, 303, 304, 305; ENG 337, 536, 537; HIS 221, 315, 357; LAT 401; MUS 331; REL 503
- c. Modern Period: ART 306; ENG 342, 371, 541, 542 ; HIS 549; REL 201, 231, 232, 331; SOC 366

With the approval of the Committee, a student may also satisfy the above requirements with one or more of the following Independent Studies:

GRK 501
 HIS 401, 402
 LAT 501
 REL 401, 402, 403, 404

GERONTOLOGY

Committee Members:

Mariana Newton, Chair of Gerontology Program, Department of Communication and Theatre

Laura Anderton, Department of Biology, emeritus member

Kim Dawkins Berry, Community Member

Martha Boschen, Community Member

Timothy D. Johnston, Chairman, Special Programs in Liberal Studies, ex officio

William Karper, School of Health and Human Performance

Laurie Kennedy, School of Nursing

Jane Myers, School of Education

Virginia Newbern, School of Nursing

Sandra Powers, School of Education

Hal Stoneking, Community Member

Herbert Wells, Department of Psychology

The undergraduate program in gerontology reflects the multidisciplinary nature of issues and concerns about aging. Faculty from various schools and departments, in addition to the committee members listed above, participate in the program. All together, their interests and activities in teaching and research afford opportunities for both breadth and depth in gerontological studies.

As a second major or minor, the Gerontology Program complements the content of the first major and provides for systematic study of the social, psychological, biological, and cultural perspectives on aging and the impact of the aging population upon the environment and social institutions. Students must be advised by a committee member or a designee of the committee, as well as by the Chair of the Program.

This concentration prepares students to enter careers in direct service to older people and their families, in program development, and in the planning and administration of gerontological services. In addition, students are prepared to pursue graduate studies and to participate in gerontological research.

Major Requirements:

36-60 semester hours above the 100 level

Core Courses

15-16 semester hours from the following:

GRO 301, 302, 501, plus a Research Methods course to be approved by the Chair of the Program in consultation with the student's gerontology advisor.

Practicum 400 or 500: internship or independent research project in participating department (must be developed in consultation with gerontology advisor).

21 additional semester hours from the following electives with at least 9 hours from Category A and 9 hours from Category B, distributed among three departments in each category.

Category A. The following courses when total content relates to gerontology: COM 557; ESS 579; HDF 562; PSY 506; SOC 586; SWK 570, 580; special topic courses. Consult with gerontology advisor about other possible Category A courses.

Category B. The following courses when content provides foundation knowledge or substantial focus on gerontology: BIO 392, 464; ECO 201, 202, 336; ESS 381; FNS 213; GEO 303, 522; HDF 502, 545; HEA 369; LES 231, 314, 332, 533; NUR 410; PHI 220; PSC 210; PSS 202; PSY 505; REL 222; SOC 211, 311, 339, 361; SWK311, 550. Consult with gerontology advisor about other possible Category B courses.

Minor Requirements

Minimum of 15 hours above the 100 level.

GRO 301, 302; at least 6 semester hours from Category A. The remaining 3 hours may be taken from Category A or B.

GERONTOLOGY COURSES (GRO)

For Undergraduates

301 Perspectives on Aging (3:3). Examines the field of gerontology and the characteristics of the older population from a variety of theoretical perspectives. Guest lecturers will speak on their areas of expertise.

302 The Context of Aging (3:3). Examines the aging process in its institutional and social environment. Guest lecturers will speak on their areas of expertise.

*For Advanced Undergraduates
and Graduate Students*

501 Seminar: Critical Issues of the Aged (3:3). Intensive review and analysis of the literature and research on issues of aging and the unresolved problems. Pr. 301, 302, or consent of instructor.

HISTORY AND PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE

Committee Members:

John King, Chairman of History and Philosophy of Science Program, Department of Philosophy

Kenneth Caneva, Department of History

Timothy D. Johnston, Chairman of Special Programs in Liberal Studies, ex officio

Robert Miller, Department of Chemistry

The History and Philosophy of Science concentration is designed to impart understanding of the historical development of the natural sciences and of the conceptual foundations of the principal assumptions and theories of modern science. Intellectual problems raised by the interpretation of the goals and methods of science generally as well as by particular scientific ideas will be studied. Central topics of this discipline include the historical background and philosophical analysis of concepts used in understanding science, such as "theory," "evidence," "law," "experiment," and "hypothesis"; the history and analysis of the reasoning by which hypotheses and theories are developed and tested; the causes and intellectual consequences of scientific change; and the nature of scientific knowledge.

Inasmuch as the growth of modern science presents the student of human thought and culture with the outstanding example of intellectual progress and success, it is a subject central to the liberal arts. Accordingly, the History and Philosophy of Science provides a strong focus for a general undergraduate liberal arts education and prepares the student to think critically about some of the central assumptions and components of the modern world view. It also prepares the student for more advanced work in philosophy, especially the philosophy of science. Anyone contemplating graduate work in the history of science is advised to pursue the study of science substantially beyond the minimum requirements spelled out below and to begin the study of one or more foreign languages (typically, French or German) as soon as possible. As either a minor or a major, the History and Philosophy of Science can be fruitfully combined with the study of science, traditional history, philosophy, or sociology. In every case, however, it is imperative that students in the program consult with a member of the Committee in order that their course of study be intelligently tailored to their long-term career goal.

Major Requirements:

36-60 hours above the 100 level, distributed as follows:

1. MAT 191A, 292, 293
2. PHY 291, 292
3. HIS 251, 252
4. PHI 325 and 525 or 527
5. Remaining hours from HIS 311, 360; PHI 211, 525, 527.

The student may choose, under special circumstances and with the Committee's approval, to replace one or more of the above courses with appropriate courses. Any substitutions must be part of a coherent program and will normally be from history, philosophy, mathematics, or a science.

Minor Requirements:

18-21 hours above the 100 level, distributed as follows:

1. MAT 191A, 292
2. PHY 101 and 102, or 291 and 292
3. HIS 251, 252
4. PHI 325 and 525 or 527
5. Remaining hours (if any) from HIS 311; PHI 325, 525, 527

INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS STUDIES

Committee Members:

William Crowther, Chairman of International Business Studies Program, Department of Political Science

Jean P. Koenig, Department of Romance Languages

Frank Land, Department of Management and Marketing

Donald McCrickard, Department of Economics

David Olson, Department of Political Science

Timothy D. Johnston, Chairman, Special Programs in Liberal Studies, ex officio

The Special Programs in Liberal Studies major with a concentration in International Business Studies introduces students to business and economic institutions and practices in the global environment. The program emphasizes the importance of foreign language proficiency and the importance of the multicultural content of the modern economy. Students must meet the requirements for admission to the Bryan School of Business and Economics and must be formally admitted to the International Business Studies program. Students interested in applying should contact the Bryan School Advising Center, Room 232, Bryan Building. The program leads to a Bachelor of Science degree.

Major Requirements

127 semester hours distributed as follows:

1. A. Common Body of Knowledge (40 hours)

ACC 201, 202; ECO, 201, 202, 250, 250L; FIN 340; ISM 230 or ECO 311, ISM 350, 360; MGT 312, 320, 330, 491

B. International (6 hours)

Any two of the following: ECO 360, 540, 560; FIN 444; MGT 390, 426

2. International Studies (27 hours)

Six hours in a Foreign Language (intermediate level of one language).

Six hours in two courses in literature in a foreign language beyond the intermediate level, in 300-level conversation, or in intensive language instruction in a foreign country

Six hours in core courses: INS 233A; INS 400A or INS 400B.

Nine hours in additional courses selected from the following categories: Arts and Literature, Society and Politics, Economics and Environment, and Belief Systems. See course listings under International Studies, p. 339.

3. All-University Liberal Education Requirements (54 hours)

(1) Analytic and Evaluative Studies (AE) 3

(2) British or American Literature (BL) 3

(3) Fine Arts (FA) 3

(4) Historical Perspectives on Western Culture (HP) 6

Required: WCV 101 and WCV 102

(5) Mathematics (MT) 3

Required: MAT 191A or B

(6) Natural Science (NS) 9

(7) Non-Western Studies (NW) 3

(8) Reasoning and Discourse (RD) 6

Required: ENG 101 or FMS 103 or RCO 101

and one additional RD writing/composition course

(9) Social and Behavioral Sciences (SB) 9

Required: PSC 200; PSY 221; SOC 211

(10) World Literature (WL)	3
(11) AULER Electives	6

Required: proficiency in one language through the intermediate (203, 204) level. See p. 51 for specific languages.

See pages 43-46 for a detailed listing of the complete AULER area requirements and courses meeting those requirements.

Under special circumstances and with the permission of the Committee, some required courses may be substituted for others.

INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

Rationale and Course Content

The International Studies program focuses on issues, areas of investigation, and concerns that lie outside the parameters of traditional academic disciplines. The goals of the program are to enrich, complement, and coordinate departmental offerings and to provide a range of skills for students preparing careers in which knowledge of foreign cultures and understanding of global processes is important. Students participating in International Studies with a major, second major, or minor choose one of three areas of concentration:

- I: Global Affairs and International Development (second major only and minor)
- II: Inter-Cultural Studies (second major only and minor)
- III: Regional Studies
 - a. Russian Studies (major and minor)
(Also exists as a separate major program)
 - b. European Studies (second major only and minor)
 - c. African Studies (minor only)
 - d. Asian Studies (minor only)
 - e. International Studies can be pursued as a first major under Plan II or under an interdepartmental major in The College of Arts and Sciences.

A particular feature of the International Studies program consist of its core seminars INS 233 and INS 400. The student may choose the concentration (major, second major, or minor); however, each student must design a course of study with the advice and approval of the Director of International Studies.

Major Requirements

27-60 semester hours above the 100 level. (Russian Studies requirements vary from the following. See page 340.)

If this concentration is a second major, 12 semester hours must be taken outside the major department.

	Semester Hours
A. Foreign Language Requirements	6
Intermediate level of one language: 203, 204
B. Core Courses	6
INS 233A or 233B and INS 400A or 400B
C. Additional courses	15
To be selected from the following categories, with no more than two courses from any one category: (See explanation, p. 339.)
1. Arts and Literature
2. Society and Politics
3. Economics and Environment
4. Belief Systems
INS 333 may be included for credit in any of these four categories depending upon the content of the course, which may vary from semester to semester
Total hours	27
D. Concentration to be fulfilled in consultation with the advisor.

Minor Requirements

18 semester hours above the 100 level

A. Language Requirements	6
(same as for major above)
B. Core courses	6
INS 233A or 233B and INS 400A or 400B
C. Additional courses	6
To be selected from the following categories with no more than one course from any one category: (See explanation, p. 339.)
1. Arts and Literature
2. Society and Politics
3. Economics and Environment
4. Belief Systems
INS 333 may be included for credit in any of these four categories depending upon the content of the course, which may vary from semester to semester.
Total hours	18
D. Concentration to be fulfilled in consultation with the advisor.

INTERNATIONAL STUDIES COURSES (INS)

233A, 233B¹ International Studies Seminar (3:3).

Interdisciplinary seminar to introduce students to methodology of investigation through library research, interviews, and field trips, and to make them aware of global problems and opportunities. Required for majors. [NW, CNW].

333 Selected Topics: International Studies (3:3).

An advanced level course usually offered once a year concentrating on topics of current or immediate international concern. The course may grow out of materials in the INS 233 class. The faculty welcomes and encourages student suggestions in planning the INS 333 course.

400A, 400B Seminar in International Studies (3:3), (3:3). Required for all majors in International Studies Program. Interdisciplinary seminar dealing with contemporary problems in international politics. 400a in junior year; 400b in senior year. Maximum credit 6 hours. Pr. membership in ISP or consent of instructor.

Courses Which Fulfill INS Requirements

Arts and Literature:

All courses in the Arts and Literature² with a focus (1/2 or more) on international³ materials. For example, ART 301, History of Western Architecture, would fulfill the requirement while ART 320, Drawing Exploration, would not count.

All courses reading literature in a foreign language above the 200 level. For example, Romance Languages 307 and 308, Survey of French Literature, would count.

Society and Politics:

All courses with a focus (1/2 or more) on international social, historical, and political issues. For example, SOC 339, Population Problems, would count while SOC413, Corrections and Penology, would not count.

Economics and the Environment:

All courses with a focus (1/2 or more) on international dimensions of economics and on environmental issues. For example, GEO 202, World Production and Marketing Systems would count while GEO 312, Geomorphology of North America, would not count.

Belief Systems:

All courses with a focus (1/2 or more) on ideological, religious, or philosophical issues and their international impact. For example PHI 251, History of Ancient and Medieval Philosophy would count while PHI 211, Introduction to Formal Logic would not count.

Areas of Concentration

Each major, in consultation with the Director of International Studies, must pursue a concentration:

1. Global Affairs and International Development
2. Inter-Cultural Studies
3. Regional Studies

The following are examples and suggestions of possible concentrations.

- 1 Courses designated 233A meet AULER and CLER Non-Western Studies requirements; those designated 233B do not.
 - 2 Because of the close connection between modern British and American Literature, some courses offered by the English Department such as ENG 353, The Contemporary Novel, do not fulfill the requirement.
 - 3 International shall be broadly defined as excluding the United States.

AREA OF CONCENTRATION I.

Global Affairs and International Development

A study of interdependence among people, governments, and nations of the world as problems of progress or survival bear on the future of the entire planet. May focus on socioeconomics and political change as they affect relationships between nations.

- A. Language Requirements
- B. Core Courses
- C. Additional Courses

ART 200, 204; ATY 212, 345, 348, 385, 524, 547; BIO 131, 301, 499; CHE 252, 320; COM 380, 532, 538; ECO 202, 360, 540, 560; GEO 303, 322 (Guilford College), 505; GER 315, 316; HIS 307, 308; MGT 320, 390, 426; MUS 241; PHI 321; PHY 334, 375; PSC 240, 340, 341, 343, 345; PSS 506; PSY 347, 361; REL 205, 222, 351; SOC 211, 327, 337, 339, 533, 543; WMS 450 (with permission of Director of ISP)

AREA OF CONCENTRATION II.

Inter-Cultural Studies

A study of the common yet varied human experience through the arts, literature, and the social sciences, focusing on problems of understanding.

- A. Language Requirements
- B. Core
- C. Additional Courses

ART 200, 204; ATY 213, 385, 547, 583; CCI 201, 397, 398; CEF 375; COM 205, 207, 340, 343, 530, 582; ENG 311, 312, 315, 331, 531, 548, 582; FRE 222; GEO 202; GER 315, 316; HIS 307 or 308, 350; ITL 222; MUS 241 or 343; PHI 251, 252, 325, 335; PSC 335; PSS 506, 523; PSY 346, 361; REL 205, 207, 211, 222, 326, 333, 351, 365; SPA 222; SOC 526, 543

AREA OF CONCENTRATION III.

Regional Studies

Language, peoples, and nations within four specific regions: Russia, Europe, Africa, Asia.

Russian Studies

Exists as a separate program as well as an area of concentration within International Studies (see pp. 342-343).

- A. Language Requirements (two courses)
RUS 203-204
- B. Core
- C. Additional Courses

HIS 367, 377, 378, 576, 579; PSC 260, 343, 346, 361; RUS 201, 202, 313, 314, 315, 316, 401, 402, 511; SOC 300

European Studies

Contemporary Europe in light of past and present realities.

- A. Language Requirements
- B. Core
- C. Additional Courses

ART 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, *307, *308; ATY 258, 411, 501, 502, 583; ENG 201, 202, 345, 349, 350, 548, 550; GEO 560; HIS 349, 350, 356, 357, 364, 365, etc., *515, *566, *570, 573, 579, 582; MUS 331, 332, 511, 528, 531, 538; PHI *231, *251, *252, 267, 348, 351, 545; PSC *260, 333, 343, 346, 361, 550c; REL *204, 309, 324; SOC 533;

*Strongly recommended

African Studies

Contemporary Africa in light of past and present realities.

A. Language Requirements

B. Core

C. Additional Courses

ATY 335, 501, 502, 583; COM 586; GEO 560; HIS 203, 204, 301, 303, 401, 402, 587; Literature - African Literature in Translation; MUS 343; PHI 231, 545; PSC 240, *391, 550, 445 (North Carolina A.&T. State University), 446 (North Carolina A.&T. State University); REL 351; SOC 327, 526

MASTER OF ARTS IN LIBERAL STUDIES

Gerald W. Meisner, Director of Liberal Studies Program, Department of Physics and Astronomy
Professors Calhoon, Chappell, Fitzgerald, Garlington, Kish, Levinson, McConnell, Miller, Schleunes, Scullion, Sher; Associate Professors Caneva, Cannon, Danford, Johnston, Kirby-Smith, Logan, Pratto, Rhone, Ruzicka; Assistant Professors Cassell, Krueger; Adjunct Associate Professor Young

The M.A.L.S. Program encourages innovative graduate studies across traditional disciplinary boundaries. It seeks to establish an intellectual community whose members, both students and faculty, are eager to employ the disciplines of the various liberal arts in ways that will enrich their understanding of themselves and of the world surrounding them. Course work, symposia, and seminars are intended to nurture this intellectual community. The M.A.L.S. degree, a deliberately unspecialized degree, can serve to enhance career opportunities as well as provide personal enrichment.

Required: 33 semester hours of graduate credit

9 semester hours in interdisciplinary work

18 semester hours of electives (graduate level)

6 semester hours for a thesis project

More information is available in the Graduate School Office.

MASTER OF ARTS IN LIBERAL STUDIES COURSES (MLS)

For Graduate Students Only

- 610 Culture and Ideas (3:3).
- 620 Human Nature and Society (3:3).
- 630 Scientific Reasoning (3:3).

Marc Marschark, Department of Psychology
Jane Mitchell, Department of Romance Languages

The Special Programs in Liberal Studies major with a concentration in Linguistics is designed to provide undergraduates with a background in the formal study of language and its implication for the humanities, social sciences, and to some extent the sciences. It includes formal linguistic study as well as the traditional disciplines of rhetoric, philosophy, philology, sociolinguistics, psycholinguistics, and nonverbal communication. The program will serve the purposes of general liberal education, preparation for graduate training in several disciplines, and careers in teaching, especially in language arts, foreign languages, and communication disorders.

Major Requirements

24-60 hours above the 100 level distributed among at least three departments. 18 hours must be chosen from the following core courses:

ATY 385, 387; COM 240 or PSY 412; ENG 261; PSY 410; PHI 211

Remaining courses to complete the major are to be chosen from the core (above) or the following electives:

ATY 585, 587; ENG 260, 321, 510, 513; PHI 565

Credit toward the major may also be received for special topics courses when a research project or paper is specifically related to the study of language, and the topic is approved by the student's faculty advisor in linguistics.

Minor Requirements

The Special Programs in Liberal Studies minor in Linguistics consists of a minimum of 15 hours above the 100 level. Of these, 9 hours must be chosen from the core courses. The additional hours may be chosen from any of the courses listed above with a maximum of 6 hours from one department.

RUSSIAN STUDIES

Committee Members

Julie Brown, Chair of Russian Studies Program, Department of Sociology
Joachim Baer, Department of German and Russian
William Crowther, Department of Political Science
Timothy D. Johnston, Chairman, Special Programs in Liberal Studies, ex officio

David MacKenzie, Department of History

Jonathan Tudge, Department of Child Development and Family Relations

Russian Studies exists as an area of concentration within International Studies as well as a separate program (see above, p. 340).

It provides a solid foundation in Russian language, culture, and related areas and offers early preparation for graduate training and careers in government law, teaching, journalism, international business, and other aspects of public affairs.

WOMEN'S STUDIES

Coordinating Council: Professors Gill, White; Associate Professors Bilinkoff, Gibson, Lawrance, Morgan; Assistant Professor Natalie; Reference Librarian Crowe; Lecturer Raley.

Faculty members affiliated with the Women's Studies Program are housed in the departments throughout the College and Schools. Interested students should contact the program director, Katherine W. Mille.

Requirements for the Major

Hours required: 30-60 hours above the 100 level

Core Content (18 hours)

The following courses are required of all majors:

WMS 250, 333, 350; HIS 328 or 329; ENG 331; one Social & Behavioral Science course chosen from the following: HDF 502, HEB 410, PSY 346, SOC 329

Additional Electives (12-18 hours)

Students choose 12-18 additional hours from among the following courses:

ATY 500; COM 559; ENG 531; ESS 532; HEA 360; HIS 304, 359; NUR 330; PSC 335, 336; PSY 346; REL 309, 310; SOC 354/MGT 354; WMS 450, 400*; either HDF 502 or HEB 410 or SOC 329 (if none taken as part of core content).

*Only two Independent Studies equivalent to six credit hours may be taken toward the Women's Studies major.

Requirements for the Minor

A minimum of 18 semester hours is required.

WMS 250 and 350 are required courses for the minor.

Students take four additional courses distributed across the following categories, so that no more than two courses are taken within any one category. (Substitute courses are permitted with consent of the Chair.)

Category A. Social and Behavioral Science Courses: ATY 550; HDF 502; HEB 410; PSC 335, 336; PSY 346; SOC 329, 354

Category B. Humanities Courses: COM 559; ENG 331, 531; HIS 304, 328, 329, 359; REL 309, 310; WMS 333

Category C. Professional Courses: ESS 532; HEA 360; MGT 354; NUR 330

WOMEN'S STUDIES COURSES (WMS)

For Undergraduates

- 250 An Introduction to Women's Studies: The American Woman (3:3). A multidisciplinary introduction to the study of images, roles and status of women in American history and culture. Special attention will be paid to the development of sex roles and the social mythology which surrounds them.
- 333 Women in Developing Countries (3:3). Explores problems and opportunities for women in developing countries, effects of the rapid process of social change, and the oppressive and liberating forces in women's lives. [NW, CNW].
- 350 Introduction to Feminist Theories (3:3). Explores and evaluates feminist theories in a socio-historical context. Raises questions about their implications for different methods of inquiry and about the nature of knowledge and rational thought. [AE, CAE].
- 400 Independent Study (1 to 3). Intensive independent study of specialized topics. Requires consent of sponsoring instructor.
- 450 Topics, Seminar in Women's Studies (3:3). An in-depth study of a selected topic or topics in Women's Studies involving directed reading and research. Category credit varies. Different topics may be repeated for credit.
- 493 Honors Work (3-6). See prerequisites under Honors Program, XXX 493 (p. 320).

For Graduate Students Only

- 600 Independent Study (1 to 3).

STUDY ABROAD PROGRAMS

A UNCG student in good standing may spend an academic year or semester abroad in several ways.

Academic Year and Semester Abroad Programs

• UNCG Exchange Programs. Through various exchange agreements, a UNCG student may swap places with a student in another country. Under these arrangements, students study abroad for approximately the cost of being in residence at UNCG. Opportunities for such exchange are currently available in Australia, Costa Rica, France, Germany, and the United Kingdom.

• International Student Exchange Program. As a member of ISEP (a Washington-based exchange organization), UNCG is able to place students in any one of one hundred cooperating universities in 35 countries overseas. The cost of such study is about the same as being in residence at UNCG.

• Semester Abroad Programs. On a regular basis the Department of Romance Languages offers semester abroad programs in Madrid, Spain and/or Paris and Lyon, France. UNCG faculty lead these groups and directly award academic credit. Although not student exchange programs, these semester abroad options are nonetheless less costly than study abroad opportunities offered through other colleges' programs.

- Non-UNCG Programs. A UNCG student may spend summer, a semester, or year abroad under the auspices of a group or institution approved by the UNCG Study Abroad Committee. While generally more costly than ISEP or the UNCG programs, this option may be of interest to students seeking particular experiences not otherwise available.

Summer Abroad Programs

UNCG professors regularly lead student groups overseas. Over the past few years, groups have gone to such countries as France, Greece, Mexico, Spain and the United Kingdom. These programs generally involve five or six weeks of supervised travel and study, followed by an additional three weeks of independent travel.

The UNCG Study Abroad Committee, the Office of International Programs, and Academic Advising

All study abroad activities are carefully supervised by the UNCG Study Abroad Committee, which is comprised of faculty members and administrators with considerable experience in international education. The Committee is constantly working to expand study abroad options for UNCG students, and make them available at reasonable cost. The Committee may recommend to the student's department that up to 30 semester hours of credit be earned for one year's study overseas.

The Office of International Programs, in addition to handling most other administrative matters affecting study abroad, publicizes the various programs and counsels prospective participants. Those interested in study abroad are advised as a first step to contact the OIP (112 Foust, phone 334-5404). For academic counseling about study abroad, students should consult the Study-Abroad advisor in Academic Advising and Support Services (150 Mossman, phone 334-5730) well before they plan to go overseas.

TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAMS

Teacher certification in North Carolina and qualification for certification in most of the other states may be earned at five UNCG professional schools and various departments within the College of Arts and Sciences. Students may select certification programs in a variety of subject areas.

The School of Education offers programs in Elementary and Middle Grades Education, and jointly directs, with departments in the College of Arts and Sciences, programs for teacher certification in liberal arts fields at the secondary level.

The School of Business and Economics, the School of Health and Human Performance, the School of Human Environmental Sciences, and the School of Music offer teacher education curricula in their respective fields. The Departments of Art, Social Work, and Communication and Theatre offer teacher education curricula in their respective subject areas.

Graduates of approved teacher education curricula are eligible for initial certification on the basis of UNCG's recommendation to the State Department of Public Instruction. As requirements may vary among departments, students should check with their major advisor for specific information regarding their program.

Admission to Teacher Education

All students who wish to be recommended for certification in any of the subject areas must be admitted to a specific Teacher Education Program. Application for admission should be made in the Office of Teacher Education (located in Curry Building, 334-5100) after completing approximately 60 semester hours of work and prior to completing 50% of the professional coursework, excluding student teaching. Application is usually made at the end of the sophomore year.

The following requirements must be met:

1. Grade point average of at least 2.5 (some departments require a GPA higher than a 2.5 to be admitted to teacher education).
2. Completion of at least 12 semester hours at UNCG.
3. Recommendation of the school or department where major is to be taken.
4. Achievement of minimum score requirements as set by the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction on the Communication Skills (CS) and General Knowledge (GK) tests of the National Teacher Examinations.

For additional requirements specific to a program, students should check with their major school or department. Students should contact the Office of Teacher Education (located in Curry Building, 334-5100) for:

1. Clarification of admission requirements.
2. Appeal of the application of a rule or regulation.

Admission To Student Teaching

During the junior year, students already admitted to the Teacher Education Program must apply for admission to Student Teaching.

Student Teaching admission includes:

1. Grade point average of at least 2.5 (some departments require a GPA higher than a 2.5 for student teaching).
2. Approval of the school or department in which the student is majoring.
3. Completion of additional requirements specific to the major department or school teacher education program.

Application forms are available from the Office of Teacher Education beginning first day of classes, Spring semester. Forms must be submitted by February 15 of the year before the student teaching is to be done.

Student teaching assignments are usually made in schools within commuting distance of UNCG, although at times student teaching programs are planned with other school systems at substantial distances from UNCG. Teacher education students are not subject to special fees but are individually responsible for expenses incurred during student teaching including transportation.

Student teaching in a number of subjects is offered in only one semester each year, either the Fall or the Spring semester. Any student who plans student teaching should check with the Office of Teacher Education to be certain of the semester when student teaching will be offered in a particular subject.

General and Professional Education Requirements

Requirements for teacher certification are specified in the respective program descriptions (see Chapter 4). In addition to the courses specified for the particular degree or major, the following requirements must be met:

1. AULER requirements as identified within each major.
2. HEA 201.
3. PSY 221 General Psychology (PSY 223 may not be substituted)
4. CEF 381 The Institution of Education
5. PSS 450 Psychological Foundations of Education
6. PSS 470 Reading Education
7. Appropriate method course(s) and student teaching

Second Major Requirement

All students majoring in Elementary, Middle Grades, Business, Marketing, Health, Physical Education and Deaf Education are required to complete another approved major or a concentration consisting of a minimum of 24 semester hours in a basic academic discipline. Depending on the academic discipline selected, a maximum of 6 hours may be counted toward the all-university liberal arts requirement and the second major or concentration. This requirement became effective for all students who entered the University in fall 1989 as freshmen. Students should check with the major school/department for this requirement or additional requirements specific to individual programs.

Teacher Certification in Social Studies

Students majoring in anthropology, economics, geography, history, political science, psychology, or sociology can seek teacher certification in comprehensive social studies with an endorsement in their major. Students seeking social studies certification must take a total of 36-42 hours in the social sciences beyond their major requirements from the departments of anthropology, economics, geography, history, political science, and sociology. Courses must be selected from the following approved list. This list is also available from the Office of Student Information and Advising (Curry 323), the student's major advisor, or the Social Studies advisor in the School of Education. Substitution of any requirements needed for certification may be made by the social studies advisor in the School of Education.

Courses Satisfying Competencies for Initial A Certification in Secondary Social Studies

Anthropology: select one from: ATY 212, 258; select one from: ATY 325, 330, 333, 335, 337

Economics: ECO 201, 202

Geography: select one from: GEO 101, 105, 114, 202; select one from: GEO 344 or GEO 560, or other regional course

History: HIS 211 and 212; WCV 101 or 102; and one selected from: HIS 204, 215 or 216, 239 or 240, 381

Political Science: PSC 200, 260

Sociology: SOC 211, 318

This certification program relies heavily on early and adequate advising. It is the student's responsibility to meet as soon as possible with both his/her major advisor and the social studies advisor in the School of Education. See other sections in this chapter for additional teacher certification requirements.

Application for Teacher Certification

An application for certification, available from the Office of the Registrar, should be filed with the Office of the Registrar during the last semester of the senior year. Students should be aware that the certification process will take up to six weeks after graduation to be completed. There is a fee charged for teacher certification.

UNCG recommends for a teacher's certificate those students who have completed the appropriate teacher education curriculum, attained acceptable teaching competencies, and whose work has been approved by the appropriate department.

To be certified in North Carolina, students must meet the specific state requirements for certification, including an adequate score on National Teachers Examinations.

TEACHER EDUCATION CURRICULA

Requirements for teacher certification are specified in the program descriptions under each respective department (see Chapter 4).

WESTERN CIVILIZATION

Steven Lawson, History Department, Coordinator

Western Civilization is a two-semester, interdisciplinary course emphasizing critical developments from ancient to modern times. Students who take the course receive credit for Historical Perspectives on Western culture. The course is divided into two broad units. The first unit (Western Civilization 101) covers the ancient world to about 1600. The second unit (Western Civilization 102) covers the modern period, from about 1600 to the twentieth century. Sections of the course may be taught by one or more faculty members and may have different thematic emphases. Readings typically include a basic history text and selections from authors central to the Western tradition.

WESTERN CIVILIZATION COURSES (WCV)

101, 102 Western Civilization (3:3), (3:3). Interdisciplinary study of Western Civilization emphasizing critical developments from ancient to modern times. Emphasis on themes relating history to the humanities, social sciences, or natural sciences. [WCV 101: HP, CHP-CPM; WCV 102: HP, CHP-CMO].

HOUSING

All UNCG students have the option of living on or off campus. Undergraduates who live in a residence hall must carry at least 12 semester hours of course work.

Approximately 4,000 students live in 18 residence halls on campus. UNCG houses students without regard to race, creed, color, or national origin.

Students may request residence halls or roommates by name, and whenever possible, such requests will be honored.

Each residence hall is staffed with part-time directors who are graduate students. Resident assistants on each floor of all residence halls are undergraduates. A staff of elected students organizes activities within each hall.

All residence hall rooms are furnished with beds, dressers, and desks. All have common toilet facilities on each floor or wing. Some residence halls are equipped with one or more lounges, recreation rooms, study rooms, laundry rooms, and kitchens or kitchenettes. All have telephone service on each floor or wing. Students may elect to contract for private telephone service to their rooms. That option must be arranged by the student directly with Southern Bell.

Students provide their own bed linens, blankets, study lamps, and curtains. All windows are equipped with venetian blinds and curtain rods.

Detailed descriptive information about rooms (including floor plans and window measurements) and about the types of electrical equipment which may be used in rooms is mailed to students when the room assignment is sent.

To request a space, students must return to the Office of Residence Life the following:

Application Card	(completed)
Contract for Housing and Food Service	(completed)
Advance Rent Payment	$100
Room Reservation Deposit	50
	$150

Housing Options

Residence Life offers a variety of housing options to suit the needs of students including single gender halls, coed halls, upperclass student halls, Sorority Housing, The Graduate Center and 24-hour Quiet Floors. In addition, students may choose to participate in one of seven Special Interest Programs which require a special application in addition to the application for housing.

These special programs include the following:

The Career Development Program, housed in Jamison Hall, gives students the opportunity to learn more about careers and the career exploration process.

The First-Year Experience Program housed in Phillips/Hawkins Hall, is designed to create an environment that facilitates the first-year students' development toward their academic, personal and career goals by integrating the academic and residential experience. Faculty, academic advisors, and other staff work with residents to better acquaint them with campus resources, to provide educational programs such as "Study Skills", "Dealing With New Freedoms", and "Appreciating Differences", and to encourage involvement in campus activities and special in-hall activities on weekends.

The Fitness/Well-Being Program, located in Jamison Hall, is designed for students who are interested in the development and maintenance of a standard of physical and mental fitness within their lives.

The International/Cultural Diversity Program is open to all students who have a particular interest in living and sharing with and learning about people from other parts of the world and/or other cultural backgrounds. This program is housed in Shaw Hall.

The International Studies Program, located in Guilford Hall, is operated in conjunction with the International Studies Department in the College of Arts and Sciences. It is open to all students who are majoring or minoring in international studies.

Residential College is a two-year program that provides a setting which encourages innovative study, small classes, unity of academic and social experiences, and close student-faculty contacts. Participants in the RC program live and have classes in Mary Foust Hall.

The Transfer Student Program is designed for students who transfer to UNCG from other institutions and emphasizes activities and skills which can ease the transition to a new school.

Residence Halls

North Spencer Hall has capacity for 204 upperclass men and women. Built in 1904, remodeled in 1938, and renovated in 1986, it is named for Mrs. Cornelia Phillips Spencer, one of North Carolina's most distinguished women. (Air-Conditioned).

South Spencer Hall is a coeducational graduate center for 106 men and women. Also named for Cornelia Phillips Spencer, it was built in 1904, remodeled in 1938, and renovated in 1986. (Air-Conditioned).

Shaw Hall is home to the International/Cultural Diversity Program for 92 men and women. Built in 1920, it is named for the great woman suffragist, Anna Howard Shaw.

Gray Hall has capacity for 113 women. Built in 1921, it is named for Robert T. Gray, member of the UNCG Board of Trustees from 1900 to 1912.

Bailey Hall has 113 men residents. Built in 1922, it is named for T. B. Bailey, member of the UNCG Board of Trustees from 1902 to 1916.

Cotten Hall has 113 men and women residents. It was built in 1922 and named for Sally Southall Cotten. The Transfer Student Program is housed here.

Hinshaw Hall has 113 men residents. Also built in 1922, it is named for G. W. Hinshaw, member of the UNCG Board of Trustees from 1910 to 1918.

Coit Hall has 113 men and women residents. Built in 1923, it is named for Laura Coit, former secretary of UNCG.

Jamison Hall has capacity for 113 men and women. Also built in 1923, it is named for Minnie Jamison, one of the college's first students and a long-time member of the faculty. The Career Development, Fitness/Well-Being and Transfer Student Programs are located here.

Mary Foust Hall is the home of the Residential College. Mary Foust was built in 1927 and named by alumnae in memory of the daughter of Julius I. Foust, president of the College from 1906 to 1934.

Guilford Hall houses 140 men and women. Built in 1927, it is presumably named for the county of which Greensboro is the seat. Guilford is also home to the International Studies Program.

Weil-Winfield Hall was built in 1938 to house 290 women. It is two distinct residence halls that are connected to give the appearance of one building. These are named for Mina Weil, benefactress of UNCG, and Martha Winfield, late professor of English.

Mendenhall-Ragsdale Hall houses 308 women. Built in 1950, it is named for Gertrude Mendenhall, a charter faculty member and head of the Department of Mathematics, and Virginia Ragsdale, who succeeded Miss Mendenhall as head of the Department of Mathematics.

Moore-Strong Hall is a coeducational residence for 350 men and women. Built in 1960, it is named for Mary Taylor Moore, the late UNCG registrar, and Cornelia Strong, late professor of Mathematics.

Grogan-Reynolds Hall was built in 1963 to house 660 women. Giving the appearance of one building, it is in fact two distinct but connected residence halls, named for Ione H. Grogan, alumna and long-time faculty member, and Katharine Smith Reynolds, alumna to whose memory the Reynolds Scholarships were established. (Air-Conditioned).

Phillips-Hawkins Hall is a coeducational hall housing 180 men and 180 women involved in the First Year Experience Program. Built in 1967, it is named for Charles W. Phillips, former Director of Public Relations, and Kathleen P. Hawkins, former Director of the Student Aid Office.

Cone Hall was also built in 1967 and provides housing for 356 women. It is named for Laura W. Cone, who was a member of the UNCG Board of Trustees for over 20 years. (Air-Conditioned).

Residence Hall Policies

Hours

Residence halls are open between 12 noon and midnight from Monday through Thursday. They are open until 2:00 a.m. on Fridays and Saturdays and until 1:00 a.m. on Sundays. Proper procedures for entering a residence hall after it has closed are discussed in the Student Handbook.

All students, except students under eighteen, have self-limiting hours and are issued a residence hall entry key. Students under eighteen must have parental permission in order to secure an entry key. Written parental permission must be presented at the time students are issued keys and will be kept on file in the office of the Director of Residence Life.

Visitation

Each residence hall participates in a visitation program which allows residents to have visitors from 12 noon to 12 midnight, Monday through Thursday, until 2:00 a.m. on Friday and Saturday, and until 1:00 a.m. on Sunday.

Room Occupancy

The signing of a housing contract does not automatically assure one of space in a residence hall. Housing agreements are for periods when classes are in session and do not cover holidays, semester breaks, and periods when classes are not in session.

Housing agreements are made for the period indicated on the contract. The right to occupy a room terminates as of the contract period. UNCG reserves the right to require any student whom it finds, after due process, an undesirable tenant to vacate a residence hall room on 48 hours notice. Should a student be dismissed or withdraw from UNCG, the room is expected to be vacated within 48 hours. The space then becomes available for reassignment by UNCG.

All room assignments are considered final until the first day of classes. Students already in residence halls have priority over entering students in selection of rooms. Room rent does not cover occupancy of the student's residence hall room during holidays, semester breaks, and other periods of time when UNCG is not officially in session.

UNCG reserves the right to make changes in room assignments in order to consolidate space and to transfer students to other residence halls during the school year.

Damages

Students living in residence halls are responsible for damages within their rooms, in hallways adjoining rooms, and in public areas. The cost of repairs as a result of damages occurring in student rooms will be billed directly to the occupants. Damages occurring in hallways or public areas on a floor will be charged on a pro rata basis to all students on the floor. Damages occurring in public areas such as kitchens, game rooms, lobby, lounge, and TV areas, will be charged on a pro rata basis to all students living in the residence hall.

University Dining Services

All students who choose to live on campus in University residence halls are required to participate in one of the campus dining plans called "Spartan Express". Each Spartan Express plan combines the traditional board plan with a cash account that allows purchases in any dining facility on campus.

A variety of dining options are available in the Main Dining Hall, including Spencer's Food Court, Chick-Fil-A, Deli Corner, Itza Pizza, College Avenue Bakery (featuring Dunkin' Donuts), 1891 Ice Cream Shop, and the C-Store (convenience store). Students may also use their cash account in the Elliott Center Soda Shop, which features Taco Bell and Pizza Hut. In addition, residential students may use their cash account to order Domino's Pizza.

Off-Campus Housing

The Office of Residence Life maintains a self-help facility which makes available listings of off-campus accommodations sent to the Office by private landlords. Persons can use the off-campus housing resource center in the Office of Residence Life during regular business hours, Monday through Friday, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Specific arrangements for off-campus housing must be contracted for by those individuals concerned. These listings are not mailed as they change frequently and most landlords and tenants prefer to complete the rental transaction in person rather than by telephone or mail.

TRAFFIC AND SAFETY REGULATIONS

All student-legislated and administrative campus regulations are published in the UNCG Student Handbook which is distributed to all students each year. Students are responsible for knowing and abiding by those regulations established for the UNCG community. Some of these are reviewed below.

Parking and Traffic Regulations

Traffic rules and regulations are in effect 24 hours a day unless signs in an area indicate otherwise.

Vehicles found in violation of UNCG traffic rules will be issued a violation notice with a penalty of from $5.00 to $100.00 depending on the violation. Penalties not paid or cleared could result in the issuance of a warrant requiring the presence of the offender in court to answer the charges. Outstanding violations will be charged against the student's account in the Cashier's office. Vehicles deemed to be committing a serious enough violation or accumulating several violations may be towed from campus at the owner's or operator's expense.

Only resident juniors, seniors, and graduate students are permitted to keep motor vehicles on campus, provided the vehicles are properly registered with Traffic Records. All commuting students are eligible to purchase parking permits. Parking permits are $150.00 per vehicle per academic year; permits sold for a partial year or semester are prorated. For motorcycles, parking permits are one-half the amount indicated for other vehicles.

For students who need a campus parking permit only for evening hours (5:00 p.m. - 7:30 a.m.), a permit is available at the same price as motorcycle permits.

UNCG reserves the right to make changes in these charges without advance notice.

Regulations Relating to Public Safety

Alcoholic Beverage Policies

North Carolina law prohibits the consumption, purchase, or possession of alcoholic beverages by people under the age of 21, effective October 1, 1986. The University operates under this provision of the law.

Individual consumption of beer, unfortified wines, and/or spirituous liquors is permitted for those of legal age in student residence hall rooms and in selected public areas of the University in accordance with the Alcoholic Beverage Policy contained in the Student Handbook.

Possession/Use of Narcotics and Other Dangerous Drugs

The use, possession, sale, or distribution of products such as marijuana, LSD, barbiturates, or amphetamines is strictly prohibited. UNCG is prepared to take disciplinary action up to and including dismissal of students involved in such practices. Furthermore, because violation of federal and state laws is involved, UNCG has an obligation to report any information concerning such practices to proper authorities. Please refer to the University's Policy on Illegal Drugs on pp. 461-462 in the Appendix.

Firearms or Other Weapons on University Property

North Carolina law declares it unlawful for anyone to possess or carry (whether openly or concealed) any gun, rifle, or other weapon on property owned, used, or operated by a public or private educational institution.

Policies Relating to Disruption of Educational Process

The complete statement of University Policies, Procedures, and Disciplinary Actions in Cases of Disruption of Educational Process is printed in the Student Handbook. It was adopted by the UNC Board of Governors on October 26, 1970.

Policy Relating to Disruptive Behavior in the Classroom

The complete statement of the University's Policy Regarding Disruptive Behavior in the Classroom is printed in the Student Handbook. This policy was adopted by the UNCG Faculty Council on April 9, 1991.

SERVICES FOR STUDENTS

Academic Advising and Support Services (159 Mossman)

The Office of Academic Advising and Support Services coordinates the faculty advising system for the campus and assigns each undergraduate student a faculty advisor.

The Office offers assistance in the following areas: academic probation, appeals and suspension; advisor assignments; changing a major; CLEP exams; consortium courses; correspondence courses; declaring a major, double major or minor; degree audit preparation; learning assistance; ROTC; study abroad; summer transfer credit; and withdrawal from the University.

Campus Ministries

Eight religious organizations are part of United Campus Ministries: Baptist Student Center, Hillel, Presbyterian House, St. Mary's House (Episcopal), University Catholic Center, Wesley-Luther House (United Methodist and Lutheran), InterVarsity Christian Fellowship (non-denominational), and Friendly Christian Outreach. Each of these organizations sponsors a schedule of activities which are open to the entire University community. Campus ministers serve as advisors for their respective organizations and are also available for personal counseling or as resource persons for other groups or organizations. Several religious organizations are active at UNCG. (See p. 366.)

Career Services Center (First and Second Floors, Foust)

The Career Services Center assists students and alumni with career exploration and with securing employment. Services are rendered in three areas:

1. Career planning
2. Experiential learning
3. Job search assistance

Staff are available to assist students and alumni with their career plans through individual appointments or group workshops. A number of inventories are available to help students assess individual interests, values and skills, and work preferences. Two computerized guidance systems (SIGI Plus and DISCOVER) are available to students and alumni who would like to examine major/career options or gather information on various occupations. The Center maintains a Resource Center which houses career information, employer literature, job listings for part-time, internships, and full-time employment, school district applications, and the Alumni Career Network.

Experiential learning services are provided by the Center's Extern Program and the Job Location and Development Program. The Extern Program provides interested students the opportunity to observe and talk with professionals in their chosen career fields during the Fall and Spring Break. The Job Location and Development Office aids students in locating off-campus employment, summer employment, and internship opportunities while they are enrolled in school.

Full-time job search assistance is provided through a number of programs and services. Individual appointments may be scheduled with staff to discuss career and job search strategies. Job search workshops are scheduled throughout the fall and spring semesters to assist with resumé development, interviewing skill preparation, and job search strategies. A number of special events are sponsored such as the annual Career and Internships Day, Education Career Day, Summer Job Fair, Part-time Job Fair, and Nursing Career Day to aid students with their career plans. Seniors, graduate students and alumni are encouraged to register with the Career Services Center so that they may utilize the following services: the On-Campus Interview Program; the Computerized Job Referral Service and the JOB CONNECTION (telephone hot line for full-time professional positions).

Please contact the Career Services Center for further information and individual appointments at (919) 334-5454.

Counseling and Testing Center (12 Gove)

The primary service of the Counseling and Testing Center is to help students meet the challenges and overcome the obstacles of their college years. Information shared between a student and a psychologist is strictly confidential and will not be released without the student's written permission.

The Counseling and Testing Center offers brief individual, group, and couples counseling and psychotherapy for students, as well as crisis intervention and referrals to community agencies. Psychological consultation is available to students, faculty, and staff concerned about the welfare of someone they know to be experiencing difficulty, such as another student, family member, etc. We are also available to the University community to provide consultation and assistance in developing a campus environment that fosters positive mental health. No fees are charged for counseling and psychological services for enrolled students.

The Counseling and Testing Center also administers standardized educational testing, including the National Teacher Examination, the Graduate Record Examination, the Miller Analogies Test, the Graduate Management Admission Test, the Graduate School Foreign Language Test, the College Level Examination Program, and the Scholastic Aptitude Test. Applications and information on these and other testing programs are available in the Counseling Center (334-5874).

Disabled Student Services (157 Elliott University Center)

The Disabled Student Services office advises and assists in securing academic support services requested by qualified disabled students. Specific services are provided on an individual basis and aimed toward enabling disabled students to compete on an equal basis in the classroom with their peers. Currently, over 200 students receive some type of academic assistance. Students must register with the office and provide any necessary documentation prior to receiving services. For further information, call (919) 334-5440 (voice & TDD).

Extended Evening Services (159 Mossman)

Through the Associate Director, this office extends from 5 to 8 pm, Monday through Thursday, all services provided by the Office of Academic Advising and Support Services (see p. 355) and most of the services provided by Admissions, Cashier, Graduate School, and Registrar's Offices. Specific, limited assistance is also provided at night for the Health Center (immunization clearance), Student Affairs, Traffic Records, and Financial Aid.

Instructional and Research Computing (235 Bryan)

Instructional and Research Computing, a department of Computing and Information Systems, provides comprehensive computing support and resources to students and faculty for research and instructional purposes. The IRC VAXCluster consists of a large Digital Equipment Corporation VAX and a smaller DEC System 3100 with very large disk packs, high density tape drives, laser printers and a range of software. In addition, an Ultrix (Unix) environment, consisting of a DECsystem 3100 and two DECstation 5100s, is available for instructional and research computing use. Computing and Information Systems provides local and wide area network services. Terminals are available in the Bryan Building and terminal emulation is available from most of the microcomputer laboratories around the campus.

IBM and compatible microcomputer laboratories are available for student and faculty use in Bryan (5 labs), Elliott, Ferguson, Graham, Petty, and Stone. Apple Macintosh computer laboratories are located in Elliott, McIver, Health and Human Performance Building and Brown. Most of the microcomputer laboratories are Novell networked and linked to each other and the VAX cluster by the UNCG broadband network. The University continues to work toward a fully networked microcomputer to host environment on the developing campus-wide broadband local-area network.

UNCG is a member of BITNET and is an Internet node. Each of these is a wide-area network connecting UNCG with universities and other research institutions around the world. Internet provides access to the North Carolina Supercomputing Center in the Research Triangle Park, to other supercomputers and to computers where special logins provide students and faculty with access to many other services. UNCG is also linked to UNC's LINCNET, allowing access to other computers in the state.

The International House/Shaw Hall

The International House/Shaw Hall is a residential community on the UNCG campus. It houses both American and international students from all over the world. These residents share experiences common to living in any other residence hall on campus, but they also have the opportunity to develop their understanding of other cultures, values of different people, systems of government, economic structures, and religions. Through educational and social programs designed by the residents and the staff and through daily interaction, International House residents have the opportunity to explore the differences and communalities of the human experience.

The International House should be of particular interest to foreign students, language majors, those involved in International Studies, Political Science, History, or those who have a genuine interest in cross-cultural opportunities.

This program is open to all interested graduate and undergraduate students.

Office of International Programs (112 Foust)

Established in January, 1992, the Office of International Programs works with students and faculty in a variety of ways to bring an international dimension to The University of North Carolina at Greensboro. The Office administers several student and faculty exchange programs between UNCG and sister universities abroad; assists students and scholars who seek funding for international activities; and conducts seminars, visiting scholar lectureships, and other such enrichment activities for the campus community. The Office promotes and conducts UNCG's several Study Abroad programs (see pp. 344-345), and provides counsel to students seeking to spend part of their educational program overseas. Students are encouraged to make use of Office resources as they plan their international experiences.

International Student Advisor (155 Elliott University Center)

The International Student Services Office staff assists international students in making the experience of international education a rewarding one. Often the transition from the customs, culture, and educational system of another country to that of the United States is confusing and difficult. Staff members provide needed information and assistance to this student group about Immigration and Naturalization Services (INS) and university/community resources.

Learning Resources Center (McNutt Center)

This center provides instructional support for students and faculty at UNCG through three divisions:

Creative Services (18 McNutt)

The services of this division include production of audio, video, graphic, and photographic materials for instruction and research.

Electronic Technical Services (35 McNutt)

Installation, modification, maintenance, and repair of electronic instructional and research equipment are the responsibilities of this division. Schools and departments are charged for replacement parts.

Media Services (73 McNutt)

This division provides facilities for individualized instruction, small group videotaping, and film and videotape viewing. Equipment of all types is available to both students and faculty for instructional purposes. Materials include college-level 16 mm films, videotapes, filmstrips and a K-12 collection of both print and non-print materials. Some restrictions may apply.

Walter Clinton Jackson Library

Jackson Library has the shelving capacity for more than one million books, an area of 220,174 square feet, and seating capacity for 1,700. The library offers a variety of materials and services to its users. Information regarding collections is available through the Library's online system. In addition, computerized database searches can retrieve vast amounts of information in a short period of time. Orientation to the library and instruction in use of its resources are available.

Current library holdings number over 2,100,000 items, including 500,000 federal and state documents and 850,000 items in microtext. The library subscribes to approximately 5,800 newspapers, periodicals, and other serials. Its open shelves provide a generous selection of reference books, bibliographies, periodicals, and books reserved for class assignments. The air-conditioned structure includes reading rooms, carrels, and study areas in the stack sections.

Special collections include historical physical education materials; cello music collections; the Randall Jarrell Collection; the Lois Lenski Collection; the Woman's Collection; collections devoted to the history of dance, the book as an art form, and modern private presses; and a notable collection of rare books in several fields.

The Library is a depository for the University archives and for material relating to the history of UNCG and is a selective depository for U.S. government documents as well as a depository for State documents. It also houses limited spoken-word and leisure-listening music record collections.

In addition to its own book collections, the Library is able to borrow, by means of interlibrary loan, material from other libraries for faculty and graduate research. Through a cooperative lending agreement with the other fifteen campuses of the University of North Carolina system, and with Duke University, faculty members and graduate students may borrow books directly from the libraries of those institutions using a privilege card issued by the Circulation Department of Jackson Library.

All students cross-registered in the Greater Greensboro Consortium have direct lending access to the libraries of these institutions. Those not cross-registered may borrow directly from the other libraries for specific projects by application through the library at their home institution.

Orientation for New Students (155 Elliott University Center)

The Office of Orientation coordinates a variety of programs which bring together faculty, administrators, and upperclass students to welcome new students to the campus and to assist with the transitional process into the UNCG community. Programs have been designed to meet the needs of traditional, nontraditional, minority, and disabled students. Orientation activities include academic advising and registration of classes along with tours of the campus, informal discussion groups with faculty, and general information sessions facilitated by upperclass students. French, Latin and Spanish language placement tests are given at this time.

Students entering UNCG in the fall semester are invited to participate in a summer program (known as Step-Ahead) which occurs the latter part of June and a fall program which takes place a few days prior to classes beginning in August. Likewise, orientation programs are planned for students entering in January a few days prior to the onset of classes for the spring semester.

Registrar's Office (180 Mossman)

The Office of the Registrar is responsible for the registration of all students in courses offered by the University. All aspects of this process, including the preparation of schedule materials, demographic updates, registration scheduling, and the processing of Drop/Add forms are handled by this office. In connection with registration, the Registrar's Office is also responsible for grade processing at the close of each semester, and maintains the official academic records for all current and former students. Services provided by this Office include the following:

Certifications. The Registrar's Office certifies student enrollment to various agencies and institutions upon the student's written request. Academic honors and athletic eligibility are also certified by this office.

Change of Address or Name. All University-related mailings access the demographic files maintained by the Registrar's Office. A student should notify this office in writing of any change in address or name.

Graduation and Commencement. Undergraduate students must apply to the Registrar's Office by the semester deadlines published in the University Calendar in order to graduate. The Registrar's Office coordinates the ordering of diplomas and Commencement activities.

Teacher Certification. Students must obtain Teacher Certification applications in the Registrar's Office. See information on p. 347 for more details.

Transcripts. The Registrar's Office will provide an official transcript to any student upon written request. Both transcript pick-up and mailing services are available. There is a fee for the issuance of a transcript.

University Directory. The demographic files maintained by the Registrar are also published in the University Directory. Unless a student requests in writing to the contrary the University is permitted to release the following types of information without consent:

name, address, telephone number, date of birth, dates of attendance, major, degree, and honors information

Under the Family Rights and Privacy Act, a student has the right to request that the disclosure of this information be withheld as long as he/she is enrolled at the University. The above information may be released without permission for students no longer enrolled at UNCG. If a student wishes to have his/her address and phone number omitted from the University Directory, the student should contact the Registrar's Office. Information regarding grades and grade point averages is never released to agencies outside the University without the written consent of the student.

Veterans' Certification. See information on p. 21.

Special Support Services (62 McNutt)

Special Support Services is an educational support program sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education and UNCG.

The program, designed to improve academic performance, offers a variety of services: tutoring for a variety of courses, supplementary instruction in writing and mathematics for

English and mathematics courses, a skills lab for reading and study skills improvement, computer literacy and word processing, academic advising and career and personal counseling. Enrollment can occur during any undergraduate year for eligible students with continuing access to services until graduation or entrance into graduate school. Services are tailored to individual need and are free of charge.

Speech and Hearing Center (300 Ferguson)

Students with speech, language, voice, or hearing problems may receive evaluation and therapy from the Speech and Hearing Center operated by the Communication Disorders Division of the Department of Communication and Theatre.

Student Affairs Office (149 Mossman)

Students are encouraged to take advantage of the open door at the Office of Student Affairs, where the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, the Associate Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, and the Assistant Vice Chancellors are available to work with, listen to, and counsel students.

This office is concerned with the meaningful quality of student life and campus experience and with any interests, problems, or grievances students may have.

Student Health Service (Gove)

The Student Health Service supports the mission of The University of North Carolina at Greensboro by offering comprehensive primary and preventive health care to students. A strong commitment is made to maintaining professional excellence in addressing the health problems that are unique to this adolescent/young adult population in an effort to:

- minimize interference in academic achievement by health concerns;
- educate students toward the achievement of a healthy lifestyle as a foundation for pursuing personal and professional goals; and
- contribute to the maintenance of a safe and healthy atmosphere in which students, faculty and staff live and work.

A Medical History Report that includes immunization information required by state law is collected from each student at the time of enrollment. Students are encouraged to have their personal physician communicate specific medical information about significant health problems, physical limitations and psychological or emotional difficulties so that appropriate health services can be continued.

Health care providers, including physicians, physician extenders and nurses, are available in the Student Health Service by appointment or walk-in during regular clinic hours (8:30 AM - 5:00 PM, Monday through Friday) to provide students with primary medical care and patient education. A psychiatrist is also available for professional consultation. Clinical support services include laboratory, x-ray and pharmacy services. After 5 PM or on weekends, students can arrange health care by calling the After Hours Clinic (334-5340).

The Health Education unit interacts with students to encourage healthy lifestyle decisions and enable more informed health care choice. Both individual and group consultation are available to address a wide range of topics, including fitness, nutrition, sexuality, sexual victimization, sexually transmitted diseases, substance misuse, self-esteem and self-image problems, stress management and many others.

Students enrolled for nine or more hours pay a Student Health Fee each semester. This fee pays for most of the services provided through the Student Health Service and the Counseling and Testing Center. While access to health professionals through office visits is currently "prepaid" through the Student Health fee, additional charges are assessed for support services, such as laboratory procedures, pharmaceutical items and x-rays. Students who take less than nine hours may elect to pay the fee through the University Cashier's Office or may choose to be seen on a "fee-for-service" basis at a rate which is comparable to charges in the local medical community.

Specialty care and diagnostic services not offered through the Student Health Service must be obtained by students at their own expense. Students are strongly urged to obtain adequate health insurance to ensure financial coverage for unanticipated medical expenses. A cost-effective student health insurance policy, designed specifically for a student population, is made available to interested health-fee paying students. For more information, please contact the Student Health Service's Administrative Office (334-3080) between 8:00 AM and 5:00 PM, Monday through Friday.

Veterans' Affairs

Veterans' enrollment certification is handled by the Registrar's Office. See page 21 for more information.

CAMPUS OPPORTUNITIES

Campus Life

The University and all its resources are organized to offer students an academic experience of the first order and to provide as well opportunities for personal development beyond the classroom through recreational, social, and cultural programs on campus.

The following list of calendar excerpts represents only a portion of the activities scheduled on campus during 1992-93.

Elliott University Center

Named for Harriet Wiseman Elliott, the University Center is the campus union at UNCG. The Center provides space for many student organizations including Student Government, Campus Activities Board, campus media, and various other activity groups as well as the University Book Store and a micro-computer lab. Dining facilities range from serve-yourself vending machines to full-service restaurant facilities.

Students expressing responsible freedom learn through participation in the planning and execution of the Center's programs. Art exhibits, films, concerts, lectures, parties, dances, leadership development seminars, and video monitors at each entrance represent only a segment of program offerings to the campus. Services as varied as providing lockers for commuting students, a ride board for riders and drivers, selling tickets for various events on and off campus events, and providing information on campus events are another part of Elliott University Center's daily operations. In addition, the Center provides a Game Room equipped with billiard tables and the latest in video machines, the Spartan Sweet Shop which satisfies the hunger for sweets, and an Automatic Teller Machine on the lower level. The Center provides information, activities, or simply a place for relaxation for the entire University community.

Weatherspoon Art Gallery (Anne and Benjamin Cone Building)

The Weatherspoon Art Gallery, located in the Anne and Benjamin Cone Building at Spring Garden and Tate Streets, features an outstanding collection of 20th-century American art that is both comprehensive and distinguished. There are over 4,500 works of art in the Weatherspoon's permanent collection available for exhibition and study. Willem de Kooning, Louise Nevelson, Robert Rauschenberg, Alexander Calder, and Andy Warhol are just a few of the recognized artists represented. The gallery schedules more than 20 major exhibitions each year and also offers a showcase for student and faculty work. The annual Art on Paper exhibition, sponsored by the Dillard Paper Company, has earned a national reputation. The Weatherspoon Art Gallery exposes the UNCG community and the greater Piedmont North Carolina community to both traditional and experimental art in all media.

University Concert/Lecture Series

Each year the University Concert/Lecture Series brings to the campus exciting and innovative programs by touring performing artists. A committee of students, faculty and staff members advises the Office of Student Activities, which selects performances and sets schedules. Tickets for all programs in the series are available afternoons at the Aycock Auditorium Box Office (334-5546).

Music Performance Organizations

All music organizations are open to all University students by audition.

Chamber Singers
Collegium Music
Jazz Ensembles
Percussion Ensemble
Men's Glee Club
Women's Glee Club
Show Choir

Symphonic Chorus
University Chorale
University Concert Band
University Symphony Orchestra
University Wind Ensemble
University Women's Choir

Chamber ensembles for instrumentalists are organized each semester.

University Dance Company

The University Dance Company provides performance and production opportunities for qualified graduate and undergraduate students who demonstrate technical abilities in dance. The Company's activities include on-campus concerts for adult and youth audiences. Its repertoire consists of traditional and experimental modern dances choreographed by dance faculty, dance students, and well-known dance artists. Auditions are required for participation and are sponsored by the Dance Department.

University Theatre Programs

The Theatre Division of the Department of Communication and Theatre has five production programs. These programs present a balanced selection of works each year involving plays, a musical, and an opera. Plays include works selected from a four year rotation among all of the significant periods and genres of drama and also include works designed for young audiences. These plays present an important co-curricular dimension of the artistic program of the University and offer exceptional opportunities for students to work in all dimensions of theatrical production. All students, regardless of major, are encouraged to audition for shows and to volunteer for backstage opportunities. With the exception of NCTYP professional productions and a few professional guest artists, roles are reserved for students and are not cast from non-student community residents.

UNCG Theatre

Four major works, including at least one musical, are produced each year in the theatre in Taylor Building and Aycock Auditorium. Directed by faculty, guest artists, and advanced graduate students, these plays provide a major showcase of student design and acting talent. The UNCG Theatre also co-produces an opera each year in cooperation with the School of Music.

Studio Theatre

Four plays are presented each year in the Studio Theatre series. These plays focus on directing and acting challenges within the Taylor Building Studio Theatre or Curry Auditorium and are directed by M.F.A. directing candidates or faculty.

Workshop Theatre

An average of 35 short plays or scenes are directed and performed by students with faculty supervision in the Workshop Theatre. Numerous roles are available in these shows; and rehearsal periods are limited to 20 hours, making them an excellent opportunity for non-majors to act. Audition notices are posted in the Green Room on the first floor level of the Taylor Building. Productions are scheduled in either Curry Auditorium or the Taylor Building Studio Theatre at 3:15 p.m. on most Monday afternoons after the third week of each semester. Students and the public are invited to attend Workshop Theatre free of charge.

North Carolina Theatre for Young People

UNC-Greensboro is the host institution for the North Carolina Theatre for Young People (NCTYP). The North Carolina Theatre for Young People Professional Touring Company produces two or three plays each year, which are presented both on campus and toured extensively in North Carolina and the region. In addition, each fall NCTYP produces a major play using student rather than professional actors.

Summer Theatre Program

The UNC-Greensboro Summer Theatre Program produces a series of plays which are presented on campus during June. The program is designed to meet the educational needs of students, especially B.F.A. and M.F.A. candidates who are completing internship requirements. Auditions are open to any enrolled student, however, and summer term practicum courses are available for non-majors.

Student Government

Authorized by the UNCG Board of Trustees and faculty, the Student Government (SG) is another form of continuous education in action. SG is UNCG's way of implementing the idea that self-government is appropriate for mature students. Operating with a constitution written and accepted by students, it represents an effective means through which students share with the administration and faculty the responsibility for creating and maintaining an atmosphere conducive to total education of the student. SG is represented on faculty-administrative committees that are concerned with current evaluations of academic, social, and student welfare policies.

It is understood that matters relating to academic questions, the health of the UNCG community, the control of property, and special cases of discipline are handled by the faculty and administrative officers of UNCG.

Information about Student Government honor policy, judicial policy, or social regulations may be found in the Student Handbook.

Greek Organizations

The Greek system at UNCG offers students a channel for social growth and organizational leadership, drawing strength from its own diversity. For those students who wish to pursue membership, the fraternities and sororities at UNCG offer a positive educational and social experience and provide an extra dimension to campus life.

Administration of the Greek system is conducted through the Office of Student Activities in Elliott Center. For further information about sororities and fraternities, please contact the Office of Student Activities at 334-5800 or speak with officers of the individual organizations. A full list of these organizations follows:

ATHLETICS AND RECREATION

On-campus facilities include gymnasias, weight and exercise rooms, a fitness course, athletic training facility, an indoor swimming pool, dance studios, a nine-hole golf course, ten lighted tennis courts, and playing fields for soccer, field hockey, softball, rugby, and flag football.

Intercollegiate Athletics

The University fields seven men's and seven women's teams:

- Men's & Women's Soccer
- Women's Volleyball
- Men's & Women's Basketball
- Men's & Women's Tennis
- Men's & Women's Golf
- Women's Softball
- Men's Baseball
- Men's and Women's Cross Country
- Men's Wrestling

The Athletic Department promotes the University's philosophy of a student-athlete through its affiliation with the NCAA Division I.

The goal of the Athletic Department is to offer a competitive schedule regionally while striving toward national recognition. Men's soccer and basketball, and women's volleyball, basketball, and tennis have all been involved in post season NCAA championship play. Men's soccer won national titles in 1982, 1983, 1985, 1986 and 1987. Women's basketball finished second in national competition in 1982 and third in 1988. Women's tennis finished second in 1983. Men's Soccer was national runner-up in 1989.

Campus Recreation (Student Recreation Center)

Located in the new Student Recreation Center, the Office of Campus Recreation provides a wide variety of recreational services for the University community including intramural sports, fitness programming, informal recreation, club sports and outdoor recreation. The "Rec Center" covers 86,900 square feet and includes three multi-purpose gymnasiums for basketball, volleyball, badminton and soccer. A jogging track, racquetball courts, an exercise room with exercise bikes, stair climbers, rowers, weight lifting machines and a large aerobic fitness room will enhance Campus Recreation's ability to offer students, faculty and staff the best in recreation and fitness opportunities. The department also employs a large number of students as facility supervisors, fitness instructors, lifeguards, artists, intramural officials, marketing specialists, program supervisors, and office receptionists.

Additionally, the University's other gyms, swimming pool, fitness areas, golf course, tennis courts, and outside fields are available for informal recreation throughout the day. A schedule of the hours that the facilities are available for informal recreation may be obtained in the Student Recreation Center or by calling the Campus Recreation Information Line at 334-3060 for recorded information. Equipment such as balls, bats, gloves, frisbees, outdoor volleyball equipment and camping equipment may be checked out from the Equipment Rooms in the Student Recreation Center with the appropriate validated ID.

The Fitness Program offers numerous opportunities for individuals to participate in step aerobics, low impact aerobics classes, sculpting/toning, and cardio-splash. Noon, afternoon, and evening classes are available. In addition to the activity classes, the Fitness Program also offers information, goal setting, basic fitness testing and evaluation, and encouragement to individuals who wish to develop their own fitness programs through the Individualized Fitness Program.

The new Outdoor Recreation program is located on the ground floor near the northeast corner of the Student Recreation Center. The goal of the program is to provide opportunities to the University community for outdoor adventure experiences. The program offers an equipment rental program for basic camping and hiking equipment and is a resource center with information on state parks and outdoor activities. Also, educational workshops relating to outdoor activities will be offered. Call 334-4033 for more information.

Intramural sports for men and women include volleyball, basketball, billiards, bowling, flag football, golf, racquetball, indoor and outdoor soccer, softball, table tennis, tennis, and badminton. A co-rec program, which involves men and women participating on the same team or as a doubles entry, includes virtually all aforementioned sports. The Office of Campus Recreation also sponsors special events including the Fall Kickoff carnival, the Jitters Jog, Games and Cards Night, the Golf Classic, and All-Nighters in the Student Recreation Center.

Club sports are offered for interested groups of students in Table Tennis, Men's and Women's Lacrosse, Fencing, Dancing, Karate, Ultimate Frisbee, Baseball, Swimming, Outdoor Adventure, Volleyball, and Scuba Diving. Students interested in forming a new sports club are invited to contact the Campus Recreation Office.

Piney Lake Field Campus

Piney Lake is a 40-acre field campus located eight miles south of Greensboro. It is used by UNCG students, faculty, staff members, their families and guests for outdoor recreation. The facility includes two lakes, one for swimming, canoeing, and fishing, and the other for fishing only. A picnic pavilion, picnic tables and BBQ grills are located next to the beach and swimming area. Other recreational activities include sunbathing, volleyball, horseshoes, table tennis and hiking. A lodge and eight sleeping cabins capable of accommodating 64 people are available. The School of Health and Human Performance uses the field campus for instructional programs in camping and outdoor/environmental education as do other departments and schools for instructional work in outdoor laboratories.

Piney Lake operates a Summer Day Camp for children ages 6-13 from June to August. The focus of the camp is Outdoor Environmental Education.

Piney Lake is open daily from April 1 to Fall Break in October for Open Recreation. It is open year round for group reservations. Piney Lake is open on all holidays during the Open Recreation period.

Maps to Piney Lake are available at EUC Information Desk and the Campus Recreation Office. For more information about Piney Lake, call the Director, 274-4216.

ALUMNI, DEVELOPMENT, AND FRIENDS OF UNCG

Alumni House

Described as "a link, actual and sentimental, with the beginnings" of the University, Alumni House stands on the site of Guilford Hall, one of the four original buildings on campus. Completed in 1937 at a cost of nearly $160,000, the colonnaded structure follows the architectural style of Homewood, the Charles Carroll mansion on the campus of Johns Hopkins University.

Alumni House provides rooms for receptions, parties, and meetings for the University community and Association members. It also houses offices of the Division of Development and University Relations and the offices of the Alumni Association.

Alumni Association

Organized in 1893 and incorporated by the General Assembly of North Carolina in 1909 to promote education, the association works to advance the interests of UNCG and encourage cooperation of alumni in the work of the University. Annual and Life memberships are available to alumni and friends.

Development Office

UNCG's Development Office seeks financial support from private sources in an effort to enrich the total educational program at UNCG. The Development Office coordinates activities related to advancing public understanding and support of the University. These responsibilities include public relations, publications, fund raising, and alumni affairs.

University Annual Giving

University Annual Giving seeks private financial support for the University from a wide variety of sources to provide assistance in meeting a broad range of needs not covered by state appropriations. Trustees, alumni, faculty and staff, foundations, parents, and other friends of UNCG are asked to make annual contributions to the University to help meet these needs. University Annual Giving provides support for scholarships, student loans, and many other valuable enrichment programs.

Office of Information Services

The University's official public information office writes news and feature stories, coordinates press coverage, sets up press conferences, and provides related services in public information and public relations. The office also coordinates the University's Speakers Bureau.

Friends of UNCG

UNCG is not an academic ivory tower apart from the community and world around it. Business groups, individuals, alumni, the Greensboro community, and friends of the University throughout North Carolina give to and receive from UNCG in a realistic, academically healthy exchange of ideas, resources, and programs.

UNCG's continuing education programs, special seminars, University Concert/Lecture Series, and student productions and concerts receive community patronage and enthusiastic support. In addition, business and civic leaders and interested individuals join forces with UNCG to provide internships, scholarships for deserving students, and funds to enrich UNCG's various programs.

Among UNCG's friends and supportive groups are the following:

Friends of the Library

Organized in 1959 to help present the mission and needs of the library to the people of North Carolina. Special projects include enriching the book collection and the nationally recognized Woman's Collection, bringing speakers to campus, and providing library services to the entire community.

Weatherspoon Gallery Association

Organized in 1942 and expanded in 1964 with the formation of the Weatherspoon Guild. Objectives are to stimulate interest in art, assist with exhibitions, and offer financial support for the permanent collection of contemporary art, recognized as the most outstanding in the Southeast.

Angels of the UNCG Theatre

Organized in 1960 by alumni and friends to assist in UNCG productions and to provide financial assistance for talented students in theatre.

UNCG Musical Arts Guild

Organized in 1972 to promote the School of Music by encouraging attendance at concerts, aiding in the development of scholarships, and assisting with musical programs and projects and the purchase of recordings and specialized equipment.

Human Environmental Sciences Foundation

Organized in 1946 as a charitable, nonprofit educational corporation to aid and promote, through financial assistance and other means, all types of education and research, both undergraduate and graduate, in the School of Human Environmental Sciences. Present endowment is slightly over $1,000,000.

The UNCG Excellence Foundation

Organized in 1966 by 42 business and civic leaders in Greensboro "to aid and promote, by financial assistance and otherwise, excellence in higher education, service, and research at UNCG." Present endowment exceeds $7,000,000. The fund supports six Excellence Foundation professorships as well as fellowships and other University endeavors.

The Spartan Excellence Fund

The Spartan Excellence Fund was established in 1986. Its mission is to provide all scholarship support for UNCG student athletes through private gifts. No state funds or student fees are utilized.

TUITION AND FEES

The expense figures listed in this chapter are for the 1993-94 academic year. However, much of this information is based on 1992-93 figures since 1993-94 rates had not been approved at the time this book was printed. Questions regarding current fees should be directed to the Cashier's Office (334-5831). UNCG reserves the right to make changes in these charges without advance notice.

The tuition and academic fees paid by UNCG students only partially cover the cost of the education they receive. The remaining costs are met by funds from the State of North Carolina, from the UNCG Excellence Fund, and from alumni, friends, corporations, foundations, and the federal government.

RESIDENCE STATUS FOR TUITION PURPOSES

The basis for determining the appropriate tuition charge rests upon whether a student is a resident of a nonresident for tuition purposes. Each student must make a statement as to the length of his or her residence in North Carolina, with assessment by the institution of that statement to be conditioned by the following.

Residence. To qualify as a resident for tuition purposes, a person must become a legal resident and remain a legal resident for at least twelve months immediately prior to classification. Thus, there is a distinction between legal residence and residence for tuition purposes. Furthermore, twelve months legal residence means more than simple abode in North Carolina. In particular it means maintaining a domicile (permanent home of indefinite duration) as opposed to "maintaining a mere temporary residence or abode incident to enrollment in an institution of higher education." The burden of establishing facts which justify classification of a student as a resident entitled to in-state tuition rates is on the applicant for such classification, who must show his or her entitlement by the preponderance (the greater part) of the residency information.

Initiative. Being classified a resident for tuition purposes is contingent on the student's seeking such status and providing all information that the institution may require in making the determination.

Parents' Domicile. If an individual, irrespective of age, has living parent(s) or court-appointed guardian of the person, the domicile of such parent(s) or guardian is, prima facie, the domicile of the individual; but this prima facie evidence of the individual's domicile may or may not be sustained by other information. Further, non domiciliary status of parents is not deemed prima facie evidence of the applicant child's status if the applicant has lived (though not necessarily legally resided) in North Carolina for the five years preceding enrollment or reregistration.

Effect of Marriage. Marriage alone does not prevent a person from becoming or continuing to be a resident for tuition purposes, or does marriage in any circumstance insure that a person will become or continue to be a resident for tuition purposes. Marriage and the legal residence of one's spouse are, however, relevant information in determining residency intent. Furthermore, if both a husband and his wife are legal residents of North Carolina and if one of them has been a legal resident longer than the other, then the longer duration may be claimed by either spouse in meeting the twelve-month requirement for in-state tuition status.

Military Personnel. A North Carolinian who serves outside the State in the armed forces does not lose North Carolina domicile simply by reason of such service. And students from the military may prove retention or establishment of residence by reference, as in other cases, to residency acts accompanied by residency intent.

In addition, a separate North Carolina statute affords tuition rate benefits to certain military personnel and their dependents even though not qualifying for the in-state tuition rate by reason of twelve months legal residence in North Carolina. Members of the armed services, while stationed in and concurrently living in North Carolina, may be charged a tuition rate lower than the out-of-state tuition rate to the extent that the total of entitlement for applicable tuition costs available from the federal government, plus certain amounts based under a statutory formula upon the in-state tuition rate, is a sum less than the out-of-state tuition rate for the pertinent enrollment. A dependent relative of a service member stationed in North Carolina is eligible to be charged the in-state tuition rate while the dependent relative is living in North Carolina with the service member and if the dependent relative has met any requirement of the Selective Service System applicable to the dependent relative. These tuition benefits may be enjoyed only if the applicable requirements for admission have been met; these benefits alone do not provide the basis for receiving those derivative benefits under the provisions of the residence classification statute reviewed elsewhere in this summary.

Grace Period. If a person (1) has been a bona fide legal resident, (2) has consequently been classified a resident for tuition purposes, and (3) has subsequently lost North Carolina legal residence while enrolled at a public institution of higher education, that person may continue to enjoy the in-state tuition rate for a grace period of twelve months measured from the date of which North Carolina legal residence was lost. If the twelve months ends during an academic term for which the person is enrolled at a State institution of higher education, the grace period extends, in addition, to the end of that term. The fact of marriage to one who continues domiciled outside North Carolina does not by itself cause loss of legal residence marking the beginning of the grace period.

Minors. Minors (persons under 18 years of age) usually have the domicile of their parents, but certain special cases are recognized by the residence classification statute in determining residence for tuition purposes.

(a) If a minor's parents live apart, the minor's domicile is deemed to be North Carolina for the time period(s) that either parent, as a North Carolina legal resident, may claim and does claim the minor as a tax dependent, even if other law or judicial act assigns the minor's domicile outside North Carolina. A minor thus deemed to be a legal resident will not, upon achieving majority before enrolling at an institution of higher education, lose North Carolina legal residence if that person (1) upon becoming an adult "acts, to the extent that the person's degree of actual emancipation permits, in a manner consistent with bona fide legal residence in North Carolina" and (2) "begins enrollment at an institution of higher education not later than the fall academic term next following completion of education prerequisite to admission at such institution."

(b) If a minor has lived for five or more consecutive years with relatives (other than parents) who are domiciled in North Carolina and if the relatives have functioned during this time as if they were personal guardians, the minor will be deemed a resident for tuition purposes for an enrolled term commencing immediately after at least five years in which these circumstances have existed. If under this consideration a minor is deemed to be a resident for tuition purposes immediately prior to his or her eighteenth birthday, that person on achieving majority will be deemed a legal resident of North Carolina of at least twelve months duration. This provision acts to confer in-state tuition status even in the face of other provisions of law to the contrary; however, a person deemed a resident of twelve months duration pursuant to this provision continues to be a legal resident of the State only so long as he or she does not abandon North Carolina domicile.

Lost but Regained Domicile. If a student ceases enrollment at or graduates from an institution of higher education while classified a resident for tuition purposes and then both abandons and reacquires North Carolina domicile within a 12-month period that person, if he or she continues to maintain the reacquired domicile into re-enrollment at an institution of higher education, may re-enroll at the in-state tuition rate without having to meet the usual twelve-month durational requirement. However, any one person may receive the benefit of the provision only once.

Change of Status. A student admitted to initial enrollment in an institution (or permitted to re-enroll following an absence from the institutional program which involved a formal withdrawal from enrollment) must be classified by the admitting institution either as a resident or as a nonresident for tuition purposes prior to actual enrollment. A residence status classification once assigned (and finalized pursuant to any appeal properly taken) may be changed thereafter (with corresponding change in billing rates) only at intervals corresponding with the established primary divisions of the academic year.

Transfer Students. When a student transfers from one North Carolina public institution of higher education to another, he or she is treated as a new student by the institution to which he or she is transferring and must be assigned an initial residence status classification for tuition purposes.

GENERAL STATUTES FOR DETERMINING LEGAL RESIDENCE FOR TUITION PURPOSES AND TUITION OF PERSONNEL IN ARMED SERVICES STATIONED IN NORTH CAROLINA

116-143. I Provisions for determining resident status for tuition purposes. - (a) As defined under this section:

- (1) A "legal resident" or "resident" is a person who qualifies as a domiciliary of North Carolina; a "nonresident" is a person who does not qualify as a domiciliary of North Carolina.
- (2) A "resident for tuition purposes" is a person who qualifies for the in-State tuition rate; a "nonresident for tuition purposes" is a person who does not qualify for the in-State tuition rate.
- (3) "Institution of higher education" means any of the constituent institutions of the University of North Carolina and the community colleges and technical institutes under the jurisdiction of the North Carolina State Board of Education.

(b) To qualify as a resident for tuition purposes, a person must have established legal residence (domicile) in North Carolina and maintained that legal residence for at least 12 months immediately prior to his or her classification as a resident for tuition purposes. Every applicant for admission shall be required to make a statement as to his length of residence in the State.

(c) To be eligible for classification as a resident for tuition purposes, a person must establish that his or her presence in the State currently is, and during the requisite 12-month qualifying period was, for purposes of maintaining a bona fide domicile rather than of maintaining a mere temporary residence or abode incident to enrollment in an institution of higher education.

(d) An individual shall not be classified as a resident for tuition purposes and, thus not rendered eligible to receive the in-State tuition rate, until he or she has provided such evidence related to legal residence and its duration as may be required by officials of the institution of higher education from which the individual seeks the in-State tuition rate.

(e) When an individual presents evidence that the individual has living parent(s) or court-appointed guardian of the person the legal residence of such parent(s) or guardian shall be prima facie evidence of the individual's legal residence, which may be reinforced or rebutted relative to the age and general circumstances of the individual by the other evidence of legal residence required of or presented by the individual; provided, that the legal residence of an individual whose parents are domiciled outside this State shall not be prima facie evidence of the individual's legal residence if the individual has lived in the State the five consecutive years prior to enrolling or reregistering at the institution of higher education at which resident status for tuition purposes is sought.

(f) In making domiciliary determinations related to the classification of persons as residents or nonresidents for tuition purposes the domicile of a married person, irrespective of sex, shall be determined, as in the case of an unmarried person, by reference to all relevant evidence of domiciliary intent. For purposes of this section:

- (1) No person shall be precluded, solely by reason of marriage to a person domiciled outside North Carolina from establishing or maintaining legal residence in North Carolina and subsequently qualifying or continuing to qualify as a resident for tuition purposes
- (2) No person shall be deemed, solely by reason of marriage to a person domiciled in North Carolina, to have established or maintained a legal residence in North Carolina and subsequently to have qualified or continued to qualify as a resident for tuition purposes;
- (3) In determining the domicile of a married person, irrespective of sex, the fact of marriage and the place of domicile of his or her spouse shall be deemed relevant evidence to be considered in ascertaining domiciliary intent.

(g) Any nonresident person, irrespective of sex, who marries a legal resident of this State or marries one who later becomes a legal resident, may, upon becoming a legal resident of this State, accede to the benefit of the spouse's immediately precedent duration as a legal resident for purposes of satisfying the 12-month durational requirement of this section.

(h) No person shall lose his or her resident status for tuition purposes solely by reason of serving in the armed forces outside this State.

(i) A person who, having acquired bona fide legal residence in North Carolina, has been classified as a resident for tuition purposes but who, while enrolled in a State institution of higher education, loses North Carolina legal residence, shall continue to enjoy the in-State tuition rate for a statutory grace period. This grace period shall be measured from the date on which the culminating circumstances arose that caused loss of legal residence and shall continue for 12 months provided, that a resident's marriage to a person domiciled outside of North Carolina shall not be deemed a culminating circumstance even when said resident's spouse continues to be domiciled outside of North Carolina and provided further, that if the 12 month period ends during a semester or academic term in which such a former resident is enrolled at a State institution of higher education, such grace period shall extend in addition to the end of that semester or academic term.

TUITION AND FEES

(j) Notwithstanding the prima facie evidence of legal residence of an individual derived pursuant to subsection (e), notwithstanding the presumptions of the legal residence of a minor established by common law, and notwithstanding the authority of a judicially determined custody award of a minor, for purposes of this section, the legal residence of a minor whose parents are divorced, separated, or otherwise living apart shall be deemed to be North Carolina for the time period relative to which either parent is entitled to claim and does in fact claim the minor as a dependent pursuant to the North Carolina individual income tax provisions of S.S. 105.149(a). The provisions of this subsection shall pertain only to a minor who is claimed as a dependent by a North Carolina legal resident.

Any person who immediately prior to his or her eighteenth birthday would have been deemed under this subsection a North Carolina legal resident but who achieves majority before enrolling at an institution of higher education shall not lose the benefit of this subsection if that person:

- (1) upon achieving majority acts to the extent that the person's degree of actual emancipation permits in a manner consistent with bona fide legal residence in North Carolina, and
- (2) begins enrollment at an institution of higher education not later than the fall academic term next following completion of education prerequisite to admission at such institution.

(k) Notwithstanding other provisions of this section, a minor who satisfies the following conditions immediately prior to commencement of an enrolled term at an institution of higher education, shall be accorded resident tuition status for the term:

- (1) the minor has lived for five or more consecutive years continuing to such term in North Carolina in the home of an adult relative, other than a parent domiciled in this State, and
- (2) the adult relative has functioned during those years as a de facto guardian of the minor and exercised day-to-day care, supervision, and control of the minor.

A person who immediately prior to his or her eighteenth birthday qualified for or was accorded resident status for tuition purposes pursuant to this subsection shall be deemed upon achieving majority to be a legal resident of North Carolina of at least 12 months duration, provided that the legal residence of such an adult person shall be deemed to continue in North Carolina only so long as the person does not abandon legal residence in this State.

(l) Any person who ceases to be enrolled at or graduates from an institution of higher education while classified as a resident for tuition purposes and subsequently abandons North Carolina domicile shall be permitted to reenroll at an institution of higher education as a resident for tuition purposes without necessity of meeting the 12-month durational requirement of this section if the person reestablished North Carolina domicile within 12 months of abandonment of North Carolina domicile and continuously maintains the reestablished North Carolina domicile at least through the beginning of the academic term(s) for which in-State tuition status is sought. The benefit of this subsection shall be accorded not more than once to any one person.

[Note The North Carolina State Board of Education, referred to in G.S. 116-143(1)(3) ceased to exist on April 26, 1979 and its jurisdiction over the community colleges and technical institutes was assumed on that date by the State Board of Community Colleges pursuant to the provisions of Chapters 462,896, and 1130 1979 Session Laws.]

116-143.3 Tuition of personnel in the armed services

(a) For purposes of this section the term "armed services" shall mean the United States Air Force, Army, Coast Guard, Marine Corps, and Navy, the North Carolina National Guard, and any Reserve Component of the foregoing. The term "abode" shall mean the place where a person actually lives, whether temporarily or permanently, the term "abide" shall mean to live in a given place.

(b) Any member of the armed services upon qualification for admission to an institution of higher education as defined in G.S. 116-143.1(a)(3) but not qualifying as a resident for tuition purposes under G.S. 116-143.1 shall be charged the out-of-State tuition rate provided that the out-of-State tuition shall be forgiven to the extent that the out-of-State tuition rate exceeds any amounts payable to the institution or the service member by the service member's employer by reason of enrollment pursuant to such admission while the member is abiding in this State incident to active military duty, plus the amount that represents the percentage of the out-of-State tuition rate paid to the institution or the service member's employer multiplied by the in-State tuition rate and then subtracted from the in-State tuition rate.

(c) Any dependent relative of a member of the armed services who is abiding in this State incident to active military duty, as defined by the Board of Governors of The University of North Carolina and by the North Carolina Board of Community Colleges while sharing the abode of that member shall be eligible to be charged the in-State tuition rate if the dependent relative qualifies for admissions at an institution of higher education as defined in G.S. 116-143.1(a)(3). The dependent relatives shall comply with the requirements of the Selective Service System if applicable, in order to be accorded this benefit. In the event the member of the armed services removes his abode from North Carolina during an academic year, the dependent relative shall continue to be eligible for the in-State tuition rate during the remainder of that academic year.

(d) The burden of proving entitlement to the benefit of this section shall lie with the applicant therefor.

(e) A person charged less than the out-of-State tuition rate solely by reason of this section shall not, during the period of receiving that benefit, qualify for or be the basis of conferring the benefits of G.S. 116-143.1(g), (h), (i), (j), (k), or (l).

FEES

Health Service Fee

All students living on campus and all students living off campus taking 9 or more hours are required to pay the health service fee, which provides medical services to students. (See Chapter 6, The University Community, for further description.)

Part-time students living off campus enrolled for less than 9 hours may voluntarily choose to pay the fee and enjoy the benefits of the Student Health Center.

General Fees

Payment of this fee gives students access to athletic events, campus organizations, Elliott University Center (student union), and many other student programs.

Room Rates: Double and Single Occupancy

The room rate of $1,635.00 per academic year is based on double occupancy. Occasionally vacancies in residence halls permit a normally double room to be occupied as a single room. When this occurs and when a student applies for a single room, the room rent is 50% more than the regular rate for a student in a double room.

Board Plans

All students who live on campus are required to contract for meals in the UNCG dining halls. Several meal plans are available (please note—rates are based on 1992-93 information):

20 meals/week, no cash	$880.00
15 meals/week, plus $100.00	$880.00
10 meals/week, plus $150.00	$880.00
5 meals/week, plus $200.00	$880.00

A student may select one meal plan for the first semester and then change to another meal plan for the next semester. However, once an election has been made for a given semester, it cannot be changed during that semester.

The week runs from Saturday breakfast through the following Friday dinner, and any unused meal entitlement cannot be carried past that Friday dinner.

For any week that the dining hall is in operation for only part of the week, the number of meal entitlements for that week shall be reduced in the same proportion as the part of the week that the dining hall is closed.

Ten dollars ($10.00) will be charged for replacement of a lost ID card.

Part-Time Students

A part-time student for fee purposes is defined as one taking fewer than 12 semester hours of work each semester. Students taking 12 or more hours per semester pay the same tuition and fees specified above for full-time students.

Students Taking From 0-11 Hours (UNDERGRADUATE)

Undergraduate students taking fewer than 12 semester hours during a regular semester will be charged a prorated portion of the tuition and the general fee. The health service fee is charged students taking 9 or more hours who live off campus. However, such a student may voluntarily choose to pay the fee and enjoy the benefits of the Student Health Service. All on-campus students pay the health service fee. Undergraduate tuition and fees for part-time students for the 1993-94 academic year follow (please note—rates are based on 1992-93 information):

1993-94 UNDERGRADUATE TUITION AND FEES (Per Semester)

UNCG reserves the right to make changes in these charges without advance notice.

Questions regarding current fees should be directed to the Cashier's Office (334-5831).

SPECIAL FEES

Auditing

A regular full-time student may audit one course free per semester. A registered part-time student may not audit more than two courses per semester and is charged a fee of $15.00 per course. A person who is not a registered credit student can receive a record of enrollment as a registered auditor. The fee is $163.50 in-state and $896.50 out-of-state for each course audited. Visiting auditors are not registered students and may apply to the Office of Continuing Education to audit courses for a $15.00 fee per course. See Admissions, Chapter 2, for details.

Computer Use Fee

Selected courses require a fee to support the use of computing facilities. One-semester-hour courses are assessed $7.00; two-semester-hour courses, $14.00; three-semester-hour courses, $20.00. The maximum fee assessed to a student in any semester is $40.00.

Music Performance

In addition to regular tuition and fees, music majors pay $45.00 per semester to compensate for private and class instruction in music performance. Non-music majors pay $30.00 per credit hour for private performance study. Class performance study, when assigned, is $15.00 per credit hour. Graduate music majors may elect to be assessed under either category. Auditing or noncredit registration in music performance is not permitted.

Music Practice Fees and Instrument Rental

Special fees are charged for the use of practice rooms and instruments. A schedule of these fees may be secured from the School of Music. The appropriate charge for each student is determined by the School of Music and is payable during registration.

Laboratory Breakage Deposit

The standard academic fees charged all students include the use of laboratory facilities. However, students are required to pay a $10.00 laboratory breakage deposit to cover the cost of any equipment which is broken or lost. The deposit is determined by the departments involved after periodic inspections and inventories. Any unused portion of the breakage deposit is refunded at the end of the academic year.

Special Medical Service Charge

Although the health service fee covers ordinary medical services provided by the Student Health Center, additional nominal charges are made for special services such as x-rays and certain medications. The University Physician determines the amount of these charges. They are payable upon receipt of a statement from the Health Center. Students not living on campus who are confined to the Health Center are charged for the meal service.

Due to high medical costs in the United States and to historical experience of previous international students, all nonimmigrant students, regardless of status or semester hours taken, are required to pay the student health fee and are encouraged to purchase adequate health and accident insurance. A Student Accident and Sickness Insurance Plan which meets the above requirements is available to UNCG students. Information on this may be obtained from the International Advisor.

Students who elect not to pay the health service fee may be treated at the Health Center on a fee-for-service basis. Standard medical charges will be made for any services rendered.

Student Identification Cards

A permanent University ID card will be issued to each student upon completion of registration for the first semester at UNCG. If this permanent ID card is lost, there is a $10.00 replacement fee which is to be paid at the Cashier's Office.

Graduation Fee

A fee, which covers the rental of a cap and gown and the cost of a diploma, is charged to all degree candidates. It is payable during the semester in which the requirements for a degree are to be completed. No reduction of the fee is allowed for those receiving degrees in absentia.

Transcripts

A fee is charged for release of all academic transcripts to off-campus agencies and employers.

OTHER EXPENSES

Books and Supplies

Costs generally run $400-$450 per year for books and related supplies. These are to be paid for as purchased, either from the University Book Store or elsewhere.

Residence Hall Furnishings

Students furnish their own pillows, pillow cases, sheets, blankets, bedspreads, towels, and room accessories such as study lamps, draperies, scatter rugs, wastebaskets.

Car Registration

Registration and parking permits are required for all student-operated motor vehicles. See Chapter 6, The University Community, for details.

Uniforms

Students are expected to use outfits appropriate to the physical education activities taken. Gym clothing, leotards, and other appropriate outfits are available from the University Book Store.

Many laboratory courses require special aprons. Smocks or coveralls are often required in art classes. A number of financial aid jobs require special uniforms. Unless the student has advance information as to exactly what is required, it is preferable to purchase these items after arrival.

Nursing Majors

Special fees for nursing students are discussed in Chapter 4 under the School of Nursing.

Laundry & Dry Cleaning Service

The University does not provide any laundry or dry cleaning service. Coin-operated washing machines and dryers are located in each residence hall.

Telephone Service

Optional telephone service is available to students in some residence halls. Each student room in these halls is equipped with a telephone outlet; the room occupants may contract for telephone service directly with Southern Bell Telephone Company. The University is not responsible for telephone service contracts between the student and Southern Bell.

PAYMENT OF FEES AND PAYMENT PLANS

Schedule of Payments for Full-Time Students

The expenses table gives costs on a nine-month academic year basis. To figure the amount due each semester, divide your total expense figure by two. This is the amount which should be paid to the University cashier during registration each semester. When applicable, the required deposit, discussed below, should be subtracted from amount due for the spring semester because it is credited toward spring semester costs.

Payment of Fees/Confirmation of Registration

Payment for the Fall and Spring Semesters should be made by the deadline dates set by the Registrar and published in the University Calendar and in the semester Schedule of Courses booklets. The deadline dates are also set forth in the letter of instructions mailed to students. Payments not received by these dates will result in the cancellation of registration. Payment by mail is encouraged. The University ID Center will validate all student ID cards upon enrollment verification through their automated file.

The University does not offer a monthly payment plan for tuition and fees. Students may, however, contact one of the following companies to make arrangements for installment plans:

The Tuition Plan, Inc.
Concord, NH 03301

The Knight Payment Plan
855 Boylston
Boston, MA 02116

Educational Credit Corporation
One Independent Way
Princeton, NJ 08540

Approved payment plans with these companies will allow a student to defer the amount approved for tuition and fees. The student must pay the amount of the bill less the approved amount in order to confirm registration.

Additional Banking Information

A Wachovia Teller II is located in the Elliott University Center and an NCNB Teller machine and a State Employees Credit Union are located in the dining hall. Students may establish checking accounts at one of the banks in Greensboro for banking services. Student identification cards will enable students to cash checks for up to $50 at the University Cashier's Office for a fee of 50¢ per check. Checks that are returned for non-payment will be charged a $20.00 return check fee for each returned check. This fee will be assessed to either the maker of the check or last endorser (whoever last negotiated the check). UNCG has the authority to cancel semester registrations for non-payments resulting from a returned checks.

The Cashier's Office is open between 8:30 am and 4:00 pm, Monday through Friday, and is located in 150 Mossman Building (334-5831).

Required Housing Deposit

A freshman or transfer student desiring to live on campus must submit a $150.00 Partial Housing Payment and Security Deposit, along with a completed Housing/Food Service Contract, in order to reserve residence hall space. The $150.00 Partial Housing Payment and Security Deposit consists of a $100.00 prepayment for the spring semester and a $50.00 key and security deposit which remains on file with the University as long as the student is a resident in University housing.

A continuing student who is presently living on campus must pay only the $100.00 prepayment if the security deposit has previously been paid. However, a continuing nonresident student must pay the entire $150.00 Partial Housing Payment and Security Deposit.

STUDENT CREDIT POLICY

Tuition and fees for all University students are due and payable before or on registration day. North Carolina law requires the University to charge and collect from each student at the beginning of each academic session tuition, fees, and an amount sufficient to pay all other direct expenses such as room and board incurred for the term. Payments may be made by cash, money order, check, or VISA or Mastercard credit cards.

As an exception to the above policy, students may be granted deferments (credit) only if they meet one of the following criteria:

- (1) Students who receive awards through the UNCG Financial Aid Office from one or more of the following programs must pay the amount of their bill less the amount awarded for the financial aid. Any liability resulting from a reduction of financial aid becomes the student's responsibility payable upon notification of the adjustment of the award. Financial aid awards for purposes of the credit policy are as follows: Pell Grants, Stafford Student Loans, Institutional Loans, SEOG, Perkins Loan, N.C. Veteran Scholarships, Vocational Rehabilitation, Disabled Veterans, Minority Presence Grants, University Scholarships, Fellowships, Assistantships, and Grants. Students who have College Work-Study or other need-based campus work are expected to apply all other aid funds immediately to their accounts, but may contract individually with the Cashier regarding payment of their wages to their charges. Wherever possible term-time earnings should be used to cover personal expenses.
- (2) Students wishing to utilize Veterans' benefits under the credit policy must demonstrate financial need in compliance with normal financial aid need standards. Credit requests under this provision must be submitted to the Financial Aid Office accompanied by a Financial Aid Form no later than ninety (90) days before the beginning of an academic term. Final approval is contingent upon the student's demonstration of need and a good credit history with the University.
- (3) Recipients of scholarships awarded by organizations outside the University in which direct payment is made to UNCG and notification is on file with the Financial Aid Office may qualify under the credit policy. Students should provide notification of such awards as soon as possible.

REFUND POLICY FOR STUDENT FEES AND CHARGES

General

If a fee is designated as being attached to a specific service (such as an application fee or registration fee), no part of the fee is refundable if the service has been rendered.

If a situation arises in which the University administration considers that equity would best be served by cancelling a student's registration, it will do so and all charges will be refundable.

For Students Who Have Not Completed Registration: Housing Deposits

Housing deposits for freshmen and transfers are fully refundable if requested in writing from the Director of Residence Life by June 1, preceding the fall semester for which the contract applies.

Housing deposits for continuing students are fully refundable if requested in writing from the Director of Residence Life by June 1 preceding the fall semester for which the contract applies. If UNCG determines that a student is not eligible to return, a refund will be made upon receipt of a written request.

Exceptions: Deposits are fully refundable by administrative action at any time for death of student, health reasons as certified by the University Student Health Center, and death in the immediate family which prevents enrollment.

Deposits are refundable if authorized by the Refund Committee.

For Students Who Have Completed Registration: Tuition and Fees

During the first two weeks of a semester, tuition and fees (not room and board) are refundable except for 10% of these charges. See the UNCG Calendar for deadline dates. After the first two weeks of classes, tuition and fees are not refundable. Students subjected to an administrative withdrawal for failure to comply with medical clearance requirements are not entitled to a refund with the exception of a pro rata refund of board charges (if applicable).

Exceptions: Charges are refundable by administrative action on a pro rata basis for the unexpired portion of the term for reasons such as the following: death of student, withdrawal for adequate medical reason as certified by the University Student Health Center, and death in the immediate family which necessitates student withdrawing.

Charges are refundable pro rata based on the unexpired portion of the term if authorized by the Refund Committee.

Late Fees for Registration

Continuing students eligible to register at the close of one term for the following semester who choose not to do so, or who fail to confirm their registration, will be charged a late fee. Waiver of the late fee will be considered only when it can be demonstrably shown that the University, through one of its offices or officials, was directly responsible for the failure of the student to complete registration.

Room and Board

Room rent is not refundable. However, if a student qualifies for an exception as stated above, room rent is refundable except for $100.00 plus the pro rata part of the remaining charge based on the expired portion of the term.

Board charges are refundable except for a pro rata charge based on the expired portion of the term.

For Students Who Have Received Financial Aid

If it has been determined that any of a financial aid recipient's UNCG charges (tuition, fees, or room and board) are refundable in any amount, the student will not receive any of the refund until the Financial Aid Office determines what portion of the refund, if any, needs to be repaid to the financial aid programs from which the student received funds.

When a student has received financial aid funds for purposes of indirect (non-institutional) educational costs such as books and supplies, personal expenses, off-campus living and food expenses, or travel expenses, the student should expect to be responsible for repaying any portion of the funds received which cannot be attributed to the expenses incurred during the student's actual period of enrollment.

Further information regarding refund or repayments of financial aid awards can be found in the Financial Aid section of this catalog.

Refund Committee

The Refund Committee considers appeals from any student who wishes to submit an appeal in writing or in person. Cases are referred to the committee when the usual regulations do not address particular circumstances.

The committee normally does not grant a refund if a student withdraws for personal reasons such as failing or transferring to another school. (Going to another campus of The University of North Carolina is the same as going to another school, since each is administered separately for financial purposes.)

FINANCIAL AID

UNCG administers an extensive financial aid program which provides assistance to more than half the University's enrolled undergraduates. Available aid includes scholarships, grants, loans, and work. (Eligibility for need-based programs is determined through an analysis of family financial information provided on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid). For information on programs, services, and application procedures, contact the Financial Aid Office.

Support for UNCG's financial aid program comes from federal and state governments, and from individuals, foundations, and corporations. Awards are granted and administered according to the provisions determined by the contributing agency or donor.

Renewal of a student's award from federal and state sources is contingent on continued support from government agencies and on the annual determination of the student's eligibility. Federal and state programs change frequently, so specific types of awards may not be available each year. Award amounts may vary year to year, based on available funds and changes in a student's financial need status.

General Scholarships

UNCG awards a limited number of general scholarships, ranging in value from $100 to $2,000 per year, to undergraduate students who have above-average academic records and financial need. A student does not need to apply for a specific general scholarship. The Financial Aid Office considers applicants for all the general scholarships for which they are eligible.

Some scholarships are restricted by academic major. Usually these awards are made by a school or department to upperclass students who have entered specific majors.

A complete listing of undergraduate scholarships offered at UNCG appears later in this chapter. Students are also encouraged to inquire with their local high school counseling staff. The Chamber of Commerce can typically provide a list of service and fraternal organizations in a student's home town who grant scholarships. Most reference libraries can direct students to publications which contain scholarship directories.

Centennial Scholarships

Established by gifts and bequests from friends and alumni of UNCG, Centennial Scholarships are intended for freshmen entering the University beginning with Fall 1993. The scholarships are renewable, full academic awards in the amount of $5,000 for in-state recipients, and $12,000 for students from out of state. To be considered for a Centennial Scholarship, a high school senior must be nominated by someone outside the University or be invited to apply by UNCG.

Recipients will be selected on the basis of exceptional academic achievement in high school, exemplary citizenship and community service, commitment to excellence, outstanding written and oral communication skills, and intellectual curiosity. A special application form must be submitted to the Financial Aid Office by December 1, and those selected as finalists for an award must participate in an interview process which, combined with application information and three letters of recommendation, will be used to determine recipients.

Ethel Virginia Butler Centennial Scholarship. Awards are made from a bequest from alumna Ethel Virginia Butler, a former teacher and for 29 years, manager of the University Bookstore.

C.D. Spangler, Jr. Centennial Scholarship. These awards are funded by a gift of C.D. Spangler, Jr., educator and businessman, while president of The University of North Carolina.

Marion White Fisher, M.D. Centennial Scholarship. Awards from this fund are made possible by a bequest of Freida White McGirt in memory of her daughter, Dr. Marion White Fisher, '39, a radiologist who died in 1978 after a long battle with cancer.

Competitive Scholarship Awards

UNCG has a Competitive Awards Program which seeks to recognize entering freshmen who have outstanding academic ability and talent. Application forms and information may be obtained from the Financial Aid Office. Applications for the Alumni, Bryan, Eisener, Ferguson, Fiftieth Reunion Class, Fletcher, Jefferson-Pilot, Libby Jones, NationsBank, Preyer and Reynolds awards (available from the Financial Aid Office) are due December 1.

The following awards are given on the basis of academic excellence and evidence of leadership ability or special talent. These awards are renewable for three successive years of undergraduate study if the scholar's performance is satisfactory.

Alumni Awards. The Alumni Association established this scholarship for incoming freshmen. Awards are $2,500 or $3,500 per year.

Kathleen Price and Joseph M. Bryan Awards. Joseph M. Bryan established these funds in 1983 to provide undergraduate scholarships for students in business and economics. Awards are valued at $3,000 per year.

Carol Jean Eisener Award. One recipient who is majoring in physical education and is from Montgomery County, Maryland, is selected every four years. This award covers the total cost of tuition, room and board.

James S. and Frances C. Ferguson Award. These scholarships were established in 1978 to honor Dr. and Mrs. James S. Ferguson. This $2,500 award is made every other year to an outstanding out-of-state student.

Fiftieth Reunion Class Award. Established in 1986 by the Class of 1936 in celebration of its fiftieth reunion, this $1,500 scholarship is awarded annually.

A. J. Fletcher Award in Performing Arts. These scholarships for $1,500 are awarded to students with special talent in the performing arts. The award rotates annually among the departments of Dance, Music, and Theatre.

Jefferson-Pilot Award. In 1961, the Jefferson Pilot Life Insurance Company established this $1,500 scholarship.

Elizabeth Louisa "Libby" Jones Awards. This $2,000 award is given every four years to students in mathematics, computer science, chemistry, or physics.

NationsBank Awards. These funds were established in 1982 by the North Carolina National Bank for students studying business and economics. Annual awards are $1,500.

L. Richardson and Emily Preyer Scholarship. This scholarship was established in 1991 to aid an outstanding undergraduate student. Emily Preyer, Class of 1939, requested that the scholarship be awarded based on academic merit.

Katharine Smith Reynolds Awards. These scholarships were established by the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation in 1962 as a memorial to Mrs. Katharine Smith Reynolds. Approximately five awards at $3,500 and 10 awards at $2,500 are made to legal North Carolina residents each year.

Scholastic Achievement Awards

Renewable awards of $1,500 per year are made annually to entering black freshmen from North Carolina. Selection criteria include outstanding academic achievement in high school and academic promise. Special applications, available from the Financial Aid Office, are due March 1.

Grants

Federal, state, and UNCG funds are available for grant awards to students with exceptional financial need. A grant is gift assistance and does not require repayment. Students who complete the financial aid application procedures are considered for all grant funds for which they are eligible.

Under the University of North Carolina Board of Governors' General Minority Presence Grant Program, black students may be eligible for special financial assistance if they are residents of North Carolina, enrolled for at least three hours of degree-credit coursework, and demonstrate financial need. At UNCG, entering freshmen who enroll full-time receive priority consideration. Awards average $500 each.

Loans

UNCG provides long-term loan assistance through federal and institutional funds to graduate and undergraduate students. Students are considered for loan assistance when they complete the financial aid application procedures. The Financial Aid Office awards a loan from the fund that is most suitable to a student's circumstances and makes every effort to meet a student's financial need with as little loan obligation as possible. When receiving a loan, the student must sign a promissory note.

Loan programs available to UNCG students include Federal Perkins (formerly National Direct Student Loans or Direct Loans) and Institutional Loans. Federal Stafford Student Loans, Federal Parent Loans (PLUS), and Federal Supplemental Loans for Students (SLS) are described beginning on page 380.

Students are responsible for repayment of loans after graduation or dropping below half-time status, or after withdrawal from UNCG. Students are expected to repay according to a schedule that they must sign before leaving UNCG. Repayment of a Federal Perkins Loan must begin six to nine months after termination of at least half-time student status, and the student pays 5 percent interest on the unpaid balance of the loan principal. Repayment of an Institutional Loan, along with specified interest, begins at the time the student leaves UNCG. Additional information about the conditions and terms of student loans and about loan repayment is available in the Cashier's Office, Loans Collections Division.

In addition to long-term student loans, short-term loans for emergency expenses up to $200 are available through the Financial Aid Office. These can be used for rent, utility expenses, or family emergencies.

The University also participates in state and federal loan programs requiring separate applications that must be submitted by the student to the Financial Aid Office. The largest of these is the Federal Stafford Student Loan Program. Parents who want to borrow through the Federal Parent Loan Program must also submit a separate loan form to the Financial Aid Office for certification. The loan form can be obtained from your local bank, the College Foundation, or other national lenders.

Student Employment

Part-time jobs on campus are available for students who want to earn money for portion of their college expenses. These include jobs in the library, dining halls, laboratories, offices, and residence halls. Funds for these student jobs are provided for in the budgets of various departments on campus and by the federal government through its Federal Work-Study Program. The average student job requires 10 to 15 hours per week, and average yearly earnings are approximately $1,300 to $2,000.

All student employees, upon being hired, must present proper documentation verifying their identity and employment eligibility as required by the Federal Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986. Original documentation must be presented on or before the first day of work. A list of acceptable documents is available from the I-9 Coordinator in 275 Elliott Center (334-5651).

Off-Campus Employment

Students seeking off-campus employment may register with the University's Job Location and Development Center (JLD), located in the Foust Building. Students are eligible to use JLD services as soon as they have been accepted for admission.

FINANCIAL AID FROM OTHER SOURCES

Students are encouraged to investigate sources outside UNCG from which they may obtain aid. Assistance from an outside agency or program may provide the full amount needed by the student, or it may be combined with an award from UNCG to meet the student's need. A student who applies for aid must report to the Financial Aid Office any assistance and income received from outside sources for attendance at UNCG so that the office can accurately determine the student's available resources and need for aid from programs administered by the University.

Federal Pell Grants

The Education Amendments of 1972 established the Basic Educational Opportunity Grant (BEOG) program (later renamed the Pell Grant program) to assist undergraduate students in meeting postsecondary educational expenses. The program introduced the concept that eligible students in need of financial assistance will be assured of receiving federal funds to help pay for education beyond high school.

A Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) must be filed to determine Federal Pell Grant and other need-based aid eligibility before an award can be made by UNCG. Ineligibility for a Federal Pell Grant will not affect eligibility for other types of aid at UNCG. A student must reapply each year for a Federal Pell Grant, and the amount of the grant usually varies from year to year.

Federal Stafford Student Loan Program

All students who are U.S. citizens or permanent residents and who are enrolled at least half-time are eligible to be considered for assistance through the Federal Stafford Student Loan Program.

Annual borrowing is limited to $2,625 for the first year of undergraduate study, $3,500 for the second year, $5,500 for upper-level undergraduates and up to $8,500 for graduate study. Total loan assistance at the undergraduate level may not exceed $23,000 and $65,500 as the aggregate total through the graduate level.

Your loan will be available at a variable rate if you received it on or after October 1, 1992, and you had not previously received a Federal Stafford Loan, A Federal PLUS Loan, a Federal Supplemental Loan, or consolidation loans. This rate will never exceed 9 percent and will allow you to take advantage of lower annual interest rates.

The two types of Federal Stafford Loans are subsidized and unsubsidized. If the student has a subsidized loan, the U.S. Department of Education pays the interest on the loan while the student is in school at least half-time. Repayment normally begins six months after the borrower graduates or terminates half-time enrollment. An unsubsidized loan means the student pays the interest quarterly. The Financial Aid Office determines your eligibility for each type of loan.

Federal regulations, including eligibility criteria, entrance and exit interviews, and fund disbursement dates govern the Federal Stafford Program.

Federal Supplemental Loans for Students (SLS) and Federal Parent Loans (PLUS)

This federal government program allows parents of dependent students, independent undergraduate students, and graduate students to borrow to meet educational expenses without demonstrating financial need. These loans are available only after annual limit for Federal Stafford Loans has been reached. The Federal PLUS and Federal SLS programs provide nonsubsidized loans at a variable interest rate that is not to exceed 10 and 11 percent per annum respectively. The maximum annual loan limits for the Federal SLS Program are $4,000 for the first two years of undergraduate school, $5,000 for the third and fourth years of undergraduate school, and $10,000 per year for graduate students. Repayment usually begins immediately after the loan is made.

These loans may be used to replace the expected family financial contribution. North Carolina residents can obtain further information and applications from College Foundation, Inc. (CFI), P.O. Box 12100, Raleigh, NC 27605. Residents of other states may use CFI, or local banks and lending agencies in their home state. Federal regulations, including entrance and exit interviews and disbursement dates, govern the Federal PLUS and Federal SLS programs.

North Carolina Student Loan Program for Health, Science, and Mathematics

Legal residents of North Carolina accepted as full-time students in accredited associate, baccalaureate, master's, or doctoral programs leading to a degree in health, mathematics, nursing, or science are eligible. Maximum loans range from $2,500 to $4,000 a year depending on the degree level. The recipients are selected according to interests, academic capabilities, motivation, and financial need.

Students should request information and applications between December 1 and April 1 from the North Carolina Student Loan Program for Health, Science, and Mathematics, P.O. Box 20549, Suite 304, 3824 Barrett Drive, Raleigh, NC 27619-2164.

North Carolina Teaching Fellows

Four-year awards of increasing amounts are made to freshmen who are promising prospective teachers. Freshmen and sophomores receive awards in the amount of $4,700; junior awards are $4,800; seniors receive $5,000. For each year a student receives an award, he or she is expected to teach one year in North Carolina. A special mentoring program and summer activities are provided. Apply by mid-January. Applications are available from high school counselors and the NCTF Commission, 117 Glenwood Avenue, Raleigh, NC 27603.

North Carolina Prospective Teacher Scholarship/Loans

A North Carolina student who plans a teaching career in the state may apply for a Prospective Teacher Scholarship/Loan. The award is valued at $2,000 per year, and each year's stipend may be canceled by a year of public school teaching in North Carolina. Information and applications may be obtained from the Department of Public Instruction, Raleigh, NC 27611. The application deadline is March 1.

North Carolina Prospective Vocational Teacher Scholarship Loan

Annual awards of $2,000 are available to North Carolina students pursuing degrees leading to certificates in such fields as health occupations education and marketing education. Information is available from the Division of Vocational Education, 116 West Edenton Street, Raleigh, NC 27603.

North Carolina Services for the Blind

Services for the Blind, a state agency affiliated with the North Carolina Department of Human Resources, provides financial assistance to visually impaired/blind college students for such items as tuition, fees, room, board, books, visual aids, and academic services. Mobility orientation and personal assistance services also may be provided.

North Carolina Student Incentive Grants

A North Carolina undergraduate student with exceptional financial need may be eligible for a state grant. Applicants need only list UNCG on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid and submit it by February 15 to be considered for an award.

North Carolina Veterans' Affairs Scholarships

The Department of Veterans' Affairs offers scholarship assistance to North Carolina children of deceased or disabled veterans or of certain veterans who were listed as POW or MIA status. An eligible student should write to the N.C. Department of Veterans' Affairs, 227 E. Edenton Street, Raleigh, NC 27601, for information.

Nurse Scholars Program

Awards are available to North Carolina residents with strong academic records. Students contract to work as full-time registered nurses within the state after graduation or they must repay the amount they are awarded plus interest at the rate of 10 percent. Students should contact the School of Nursing to be nominated for this award and for further information on the program.

Nurse Education Scholarship/Loan

The loans are awarded to North Carolina students, with preference given to juniors and seniors in nursing degree programs. Recipients are selected on the basis of financial need and merit by the Financial Aid Office and the School of Nursing. Loans may be repaid through full-time employment as a nurse in North Carolina or through repayment at a 10 percent interest rate.

Vocational Rehabilitation

Many states offer educational assistance to students who are physically handicapped. North Carolina students should contact the Vocational Rehabilitation Division of the Department of Human Resources in Raleigh. Students from other states should contact a local vocational counselor.

More information about these and other state programs is available from the North Carolina Educational Assistance Authority, P.O. Box 2688, Chapel Hill, NC 27514.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND LOANS

The following scholarship and loan funds are arranged in alphabetical order by the key word in each title. Scholarships designated for students in specific areas of study are listed in a special section by area of study. The description of each fund includes the major criteria which determine how awards are made. All funds are administered and awarded according to the guidelines established by the donors and according to institutional, state, and federal policies for financial aid awards. Scholarships listed in this publication are awarded primarily to undergraduate students. See the Graduate School Catalog for a list of scholarships awarded to graduate students.

GENERAL SCHOLARSHIPS

These scholarships are administered by the Financial Aid Office and, except in specified cases where separate applications are required, all students who complete the financial aid application process are automatically considered for them.

Alpha Phi Omega Service Award. The University's Kappa Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega Service Fraternity established a scholarship fund in 1972. Income from the fund is awarded each year by the University Scholarship Committee to an incoming freshman student who has displayed significant service to his or her high school or community, who shows potential leadership and scholarship ability, and who has financial need.

Alumni Scholarships. See description under Competitive Awards, p. 382.

American Business Women's Association Scholarship Fund. The Greensboro Chapters of the American Business Women's Association established the ABWA Scholarship fund in 1963 to provide scholarships for deserving students desiring to better themselves through education. Selection of the recipients is determined by the University Scholarship Committee.

Warren Ashby Scholarship. Established in 1985, awards honor the late Dr. Warren Ashby, whose career included service as Chair of the Department of Philosophy, Chair of the Honors Council, and first Director of Residential College. A renewable award is given annually to an academically promising rising junior who demonstrates a strong sense of social justice and has financial need.

Austin Memorial Scholarship. Established in 1986, this scholarship is awarded annually to a student with financial need.

Katherine Gregg Barber Scholarship. Katherine Gregg Barber, class of 1923, established this fund in 1981 for the purpose of assisting needy and worthy students at UNCG. All students of above-average scholastic ability who apply for assistance and demonstrate financial need are considered for this award.

Janet Weil Bluethenthal Scholarship. The children of Janet Weil Bluethenthal established this scholarship in 1982 to honor their mother. Awards are made annually to North Carolina residents based on merit, as evidenced by outstanding scholarship and leadership. Recipients are selected by the University Scholarship Committee in conjunction with the Financial Aid Office.

Jessie Lee and Landron Clifford Boney Scholarship Fund. In November 1983, Rosemary Boney Neil ('52), Dixie Boney Soo ('55), and Lynette Boney Wrenn ('49) established this fund in honor of their parents. Income is awarded annually to a student preferably from Sampson County, NC. Recipients are chosen by the Financial Aid Office based on both need and merit.

The Hennie Bynum Fund. The late Judge John Gray Bynum bequeathed to the University a fund which is used to aid young women from the Presbyterian Church in Morganton, NC. Interested students should contact the church's senior minister.

Clara Booth Byrd Memorial Scholarship. The award goes annually to an outstanding student with financial need.

Flossie A. Byrd Scholarship. This scholarship is used to help students with financial need who are planning to enter religious work or are majoring in botany, horticulture, or flower gardening.

The Class of 1965 Scholarship. Established by the Class of 1965, this award is given to an accomplished junior who has financial need.

The Class of 1966 Scholarship. This fund was established by the Class of 1966 in memory of former faculty members Dr. Helen Bedon, Dr. John Bridgers, Jr., and Randall Jarrell. Awards are made on the basis of financial need.

Ruth M. Collings Endowed Scholarship Fund. Members and friends of the Class of 1931 established the Ruth M. Collings Endowed Scholarship Fund in 1981. Income from this fund is awarded in scholarships to deserving undergraduate students majoring in health-related disciplines. Recipients are selected on the basis of academic promise and financial need.

Charlene Thomas Dale Memorial Scholarship. Established in 1988 by her daughters, Jo Carol Dale Steele and Dusty Ann Dale, this award goes to aid women who are juniors or seniors at UNCG and who are entering a professional field. The chief criterion is academic excellence, although financial need also may be considered.

Maggie E. Davis Scholarship. In 1972, Mrs. Iva Davis Holland established a scholarship fund in honor of her mother. Scholarships are awarded to students who have a genuine desire to obtain an education and who are willing to exert to the full extent of their individual capacity to obtain that education. Residents of North Carolina are given preference.

Harriet Elliott Scholarship. Members of the Class of 1950 established this scholarship in 1975, on the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their graduation, in memory of Harriet Elliott, who served on the History Department faculty and as Dean of Women. An annual award is made to a rising senior who has done well at the University and who has financial need.

Escheats Fund. A number of scholarships are given each year to students who are residents of North Carolina, through the Escheats Fund of The University of North Carolina. Awards are based on demonstrated financial need.

The Faculty Scholarship Fund. Originated with the fiftieth anniversary gift of the faculty to the University, the fund became a continuing faculty project under the leadership of the late Professor Helen Ingraham. The income provides an annual award to a junior or senior on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and need.

Martha Hicks Faison Scholarship. Louise Murphy Ward established this scholarship to honor her cousin, Martha H. Faison. Awards are made on the basis of academic achievement, with consideration given to financial need, to students from eastern North Carolina studying liberal arts.

H.L. and Beulah Coble Ferguson Memorial Endowment Fund. Scholarships are awarded to needy and deserving students nominated by the pastor of the First Baptist Church of Durham, NC.

The James S. and Frances C. Ferguson Scholarship. See description under Competitive Awards, p. 382.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND LOANS

Mary Bunn Field Scholarship Fund. A bequest in 1985 from the late Mary Bunn Field, Class of 1926, provides scholarship assistance to worthy and deserving students.

Fiftieth Reunion Class Scholarship. See description under Competitive Awards, p. 382.

Marvin M. Fowler Scholarship. Mrs. Pearl D. Fowler established this scholarship to honor her husband, Marvin M. Fowler, an outstanding civic leader in North Carolina. Three of Mr. Fowler's daughters and a granddaughter all attended UNCG. This scholarship is awarded annually to recipients selected by the Financial Aid Office.

Margaret Bynum Glen Scholarship. This fund was endowed by Lily Glen Richmond, in honor of her mother Margaret Bynum Glen. Preference for the scholarship is given to students who are lineal descendants or relatives, but other students are eligible to receive the award.

Golden Chain Scholarship. This award was established in 1973 in honor of Katherine Taylor by the student members of the Golden Chain. The recipient of the award is chosen annually by the Golden Chain Honor Society in conjunction with the Financial Aid Office on the basis of scholarship, leadership, service, and financial need.

Martha Ogburn Goodson Scholarship. This fund was established to honor Martha Ogburn Goodson on the occasion of her fiftieth class reunion in 1986 by her husband, the Rev. W. Kenneth Goodson, Bishop in Residence at Duke University Seminary. Annual awards are made to worthy students who need financial assistance.

Kathleen Pettit Hawkins Student Aid Fund. In 1967, the Alumni Student Aid Fund was renamed the Kathleen Pettit Hawkins Student Aid Fund to honor Mrs. Hawkins, the Director of Student Aid at the University from 1920 to 1967. Awards are based on need and merit as determined by the Financial Aid Office.

Vera Mae Hedrick Scholarship. This fund honors Vera Mae Hedrick, Class of 1929, and provides scholarships with preference for students from NC or the Piedmont area of Virginia.

Bain Henderson Scholarship. Established in 1989 by a bequest from Bain Henderson, Class of 1913, this scholarship is intended to "assist worthy and needy young women of North Carolina in obtaining an education." Recipients are selected by the Financial Aid Office, with preference given to women from the city of Mount Holly, NC.

Pauline Hester Green Hester and Brig. Gen. Hugh B. Hester Student Financial Aid Fund. In 1981, Gen. Hester established this fund, and added to it in a subsequent bequest, to honor his late wife Pauline Hester Green Hester, Class of 1920. Part of the annual income from this endowment provides scholarships for outstanding, needy, and deserving students selected by the Financial Aid Office.

Jennie Cummings and Benjamin H. Hoskins Scholarship. The fund was endowed in 1976 as a tribute to Jennie Cummings and Benjamin H. Hoskins. An annual award is made by the University Scholarship Committee.

THE HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

In North Carolina, all the public educational institutions that grant baccalaureate degrees are part of the University of North Carolina. The University of North Carolina at Greensboro is one of 16 constituent institutions of the multi-campus state university.

The University of North Carolina, chartered by the N.C. General Assembly in 1789, was the first public university in the United States to open its doors and the only one to graduate students in the eighteenth century. The first class was admitted in Chapel Hill in 1795. For the next 136 years, the only campus of the University of North Carolina was at Chapel Hill.

In 1877, the N.C. General Assembly began sponsoring additional institutions of higher education, diverse in origin and purpose. Five were historically black institutions, and another was founded to educate American Indians. Several were created to prepare teachers for the public schools. Others had a technological emphasis. One is a training school for performing artists.

In 1931, the N.C. General Assembly redefined the University of North Carolina to include three state-supported institutions: the campus at Chapel Hill (now the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill), North Carolina State College (now North Carolina State University at Raleigh), and Woman's College (now the University of North Carolina at Greensboro). The new multicampus University operated with one board of trustees and one president. By 1969, three additional campuses had joined the University through legislative action: the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, the University of North Carolina at Asheville, and the University of North Carolina at Wilmington.

In 1971, the General Assembly passed legislation bringing into the University of North Carolina the state's ten remaining public senior institutions, each of which had until then been legally separate: Appalachian State University, East Carolina University, Elizabeth City State University, Fayetteville State University, North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University, North Carolina Central University, the North Carolina School of the Arts, Pembroke State University, Western Carolina University, and Winston-Salem State University. This action created the current 16-campus University. (In 1985, the North Carolina School of Science and Mathematics, a residential high school for gifted students, was declared an affiliated school of the University.)

The UNC Board of Governors is the policy-making body legally charged with "the general determination, control, supervision, management, and governance of all affairs of the constituent institutions." It elects the president, who administers the University. The 32 voting members of the Board of Governors are elected by the General Assembly for four-year terms. Former board chairmen and board members who are former governors of North Carolina may continue to serve for limited periods as nonvoting members emeriti. The president of the UNC Association of Student Governments, or that student's designee, is also a non-voting member.

Each of the 16 constituent institutions is headed by a chancellor, who is chosen by the Board of Governors on the president's nomination and is responsible to the president. Each institution has a board of trustees, consisting of eight members elected by the Board of Governors, four appointed by the governor, and the president of the student body, who serves ex-officio. (The NC School of the Arts has two additional ex-officio members.) Each board of trustees holds extensive powers over academic and other operations of its institution on delegation from the Board of Governors.

THE HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT GREENSBORO

The first state-supported school for the higher education of women in North Carolina was chartered in 1891 as the STATE NORMAL AND INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL. It opened on October 5, 1892 to 223 students, a 15-member faculty, and classes in three departments: business, domestic science, and teaching. In 1896 its name changed to the STATE NORMAL AND INDUSTRIAL COLLEGE. Charles Duncan McIver, who with other pioneers in public education crusaded for women's education, was the first president, serving from 1892 until his death in 1906. He was followed by Julius I. Foust, who served until 1934.

In 1919, the school was renamed NORTH CAROLINA COLLEGE FOR WOMEN, as it continued to educate women in the liberal arts with particular emphasis in the fields of teaching, home economics, music, and physical education. The first graduate degree, the Master of Arts, was awarded in 1922.

The General Assembly of 1931 combined the North Carolina College for Women, the University of North Carolina (at Chapel Hill) and the North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering (at Raleigh) into a Consolidated University. The campus at Greensboro thus became THE WOMAN'S COLLEGE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA.

"W.C." became coeducational in 1963 when laws were amended to authorize admission of both men and women at all levels of instruction on all University campuses. At that time, the Greensboro campus was again renamed as THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT GREENSBORO. The first doctoral degree was awarded in 1963.

In October 1971 the General Assembly adopted legislation which combined all 16 of the state-supported institutions of higher education into a single University of North Carolina, governed by a board of governors and administered by a president. Each constituent institution has a separate board of trustees and is administered by a chancellor.

In 1993, as it begins its second century of service, UNCG has approximately twelve thousand students—more than one-fourth graduate students—and approximately 600 full-time faculty members. UNCG offers six baccalaureate degrees in over 100 areas of study, ten master's degrees in a wide variety of concentrations, and three doctoral degrees in 13 areas of study. The physical campus has grown to 180 acres and 75 buildings.

17 Faculty Development Committee

The primary function of the committee shall be to review and establish policies, guidelines and criteria for grants that support professional development, improve teaching methods and course evaluation, stimulate curricular innovation, and strengthen academic programs and shall receive and act upon requests for such grants. The committee shall assist in developing programs to meet the needs and concerns of faculty members in facilitating their professional growth. The committee shall also review and advise on the procedures for the evaluation of teaching.

Membership: 9 faculty (1 from each School, 3 from the College, with 1 each from the areas of the Humanities, Social and Behavioral Sciences, Natural Sciences and Mathematics). Ex officio: Provost or designee.

18 Faculty Government Committee

The primary function of the committee is to recommend to the Faculty Senate all changes to The Constitution of the Faculty. Recommendations related to the policies and regulations subject to adoption by the General Faculty shall be forwarded to the Faculty Government Committee for consideration and review before presentation to the Faculty Senate. The committee shall also review the governance structures adopted by the College, Professional Schools, and the Library to determine that they are consistent with The Code of the University of North Carolina, The Regulations on Academic Freedom, Tenure, and Due Process, and The Constitution of the Faculty.

Membership: 5 faculty.

19 Faculty Grievance Committee (elected)

The Faculty Grievance Committee shall hear, mediate, and advise with respect to the adjustment of faculty grievances concerned with matters directly related to a faculty member's employment status and institutional relationships on this campus in accordance with the provisions of The Code of the University of North Carolina. No grievance that grows out of or involves matters related to a formal proceeding for the suspension, discharge, or termination of a faculty member, or that is within the jurisdiction of another faculty committee, may be considered by the Faculty Grievance Committee.

Membership: 5 tenure-track faculty, with at least 1 member from each rank and no more than 1 member from each Department or School. (No officer of administration, including department heads and division chairs, shall be eligible to serve on the committee).

20 Faculty Hearings Committee (elected)

The Faculty Hearings Committee shall exercise the following duties and responsibilities:

(a) Receive evidence, conduct hearings, and report its findings and recommendations to the department head and the department head's immediate supervisor or to the Chancellor and, as appropriate, to the chair of the Faculty Senate, on appeals from administration decisions involving discharge or the imposition of serious sanctions, termination of faculty employment, and non-reappointment. In exercising its responsibility, the committee shall use the definition of terms and the procedures for such hearings which are established by The Code of the University of North Carolina and The Regulations on Academic Freedom, Tenure, and Due Process of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

(b) All appeals arising under Section 603 of The Code of the University of North Carolina shall be heard by the full committee. In all other appeals arising under the committee's jurisdiction, the committee may establish an ad hoc panel of at least three committee members appointed by the chair to conduct hearings, receive evidence, and report to the full committee for the committee's deliberation and recommendation. The panel report shall include records, transcripts, all other written material, and the panel's recommendation. However, no committee member may participate in the discussion or decision on his or her own appeal or in any other case in which that committee member has participated in the recommendations from departments, from the Schools, the College of Arts and Sciences, or other University committees.

Membership: 7 tenured faculty.

21 Faculty Salary Committee

The committee shall review, recommend and advise on all policies regarding faculty salaries for the regular academic year, summer session, and UNCG extension courses. The committee shall make periodic and timely reports to the Faculty Senate regarding the salary situation at UNCG such as comparison of salaries among the schools and the college, gender differences in salaries and salary inequities between new appointments and continuing appointments in similar disciplines. The committee shall also review the salaries in the UNC system, national trends in faculty salaries and the effect of inflation upon salaries. The committee shall make an annual recommendation to the Faculty Senate regarding salary increases in the form of merit pay and cost of living which shall be forwarded to the Chancellor and to the President of the UNC system through the UNCG Delegation to the Faculty Assembly.

Membership: 5 faculty.

22 Faculty Welfare Committee

The committee shall consider matters related to the general welfare of the faculty. It shall also help promote health-related activities for the University Community and advise faculty, appropriate administrators and offices on the initiation of health policies, programs, and activities. The committee shall serve as the advisory body considering policies for use of the Faculty Center and shall seek to promote its use.

Membership: 5 faculty, 1 SPA member. Ex officio: 1 Associate Provost, Associate Vice Chancellor for Human Resources.

23 Graduate Studies Committee (elected by members of the Graduate Faculty)

The Graduate Studies Committee shall be an agency of the Senate devoted to studying aspects of graduate education. Its basic duties and responsibilities are as follows:

(a) Establish the criteria for the selection and review of members of the graduate faculty.

(b) Review all new courses, revised courses, and modifications to current courses taking one of the following actions: approve, disapprove, approve with modification. Review and act on all proposals for new graduate programs or major modifications to existing programs including the discontinuation of graduate programs.

(c) Review and formulate policies and regulations related to graduate education admission, retention, and graduation requirements.

(d) Hear student appeals related to Graduate School policies and regulations.

(e) Call to the attention of the Graduate Faculty and the administration issues of concern relating to graduate education.

(f) Act on matters referred by the Faculty Senate, Dean of the Graduate School, graduate faculty, and the Graduate Student Association on graduate education.

(g) Report to the Faculty Senate on actions taken regarding graduate education policies and programs.

(h) Advise the Faculty Senate on matters relating to graduate education.

Membership: 9 full members of the Graduate Faculty (1 from each School, 3 from the College of Arts and Sciences, with 1 each from the areas of Humanities, Science and Mathematics, and Social and Behavioral Sciences). In order to achieve programmatic balance, 4 additional full members of the Graduate Faculty shall be appointed by the Chair in consultation with the Dean of the Graduate School to serve 1-year terms. 2 student members elected by the Graduate Student Association. Ex officio: Dean of the Graduate School, Associate Dean of the Graduate School.

24 Honorary Degrees Committee

The committee shall solicit and review nominations for persons to receive honorary degrees in accordance with procedures set forth in the Faculty Senate Bylaws. The committee shall present its recommendations to the Faculty Senate in executive session. Those nominees approved by the General Faculty, acting in executive session, shall be presented to the Chancellor. Final action shall be taken by the Board of Trustees.

Membership: 5 faculty. Ex officio: Provost.

The University of North Carolina Policy on Illegal Drugs

The University of North Carolina at Greensboro seeks to maintain an environment that supports the pursuit and disseminating of knowledge. All members of the academic community — students, faculty, and staff members — share responsibility for protecting the academic environment by exemplifying high standards of professional and personal conduct. Use of illegal drugs by any member of the community interferes with the activities through which the goals of the University can be realized. Therefore, such practices will not be tolerated. The University will take all actions necessary, consistent with law and University policy, to eliminate the use of illegal drugs from the University community.

This policy has been developed in accord with "The University of North Carolina Policy on Illegal Drugs," adopted by the Board of Governors January 15, 1988. It establishes the framework for programs designed to educate the campus community on the harmful effects of illegal substances and to assist afflicted persons in their efforts to become rehabilitated. It also provides guidance for punishing violators.

I. Applicability

This policy is applicable to the following: students, faculty, senior administrative officers, non-faculty EPA employees¹, and SPA employees².

II. Notice

A. Article 5 of Chapter 90 of the North Carolina General Statutes makes it a crime to possess, sell, deliver, or manufacture those drugs designated collectively as "controlled substances." As citizens, all members of the University community are expected to know these laws. The North Carolina General Statutes are readily available in the Library.

B. This policy shall be publicized in catalogs and other materials prepared for all enrolled and prospective students and in appropriate materials distributed to faculty members, senior administrative officers, non-faculty EPA employees, and SPA employees.

III. Educational and Rehabilitation Programs

A. The University shall establish and maintain a program of education designed to help all members of the University community avoid involvement with illegal drugs. This program shall emphasize these subjects:

1. the incompatibility of the use or sale of illegal drugs with the goals of the University
2. the legal consequences of involvement with illegal drugs
3. the medical implications of the use of illegal drugs
4. the ways in which illegal drugs jeopardize an individual's present accomplishments and future opportunities

B. The University shall provide information about drug counseling and rehabilitative services (campus-based or community-based) available to students and employees.

C. Persons who voluntarily avail themselves of these University services or programs are assured that applicable professional standards of confidentiality will be observed.

IV. Disciplinary Proceedings and Sanctions

A. Preliminary Determinations

The University will initiate a disciplinary proceeding against a student, faculty member, senior administrative officer, EPA non-faculty employee, or SPA employee whenever both of these requirements are met:

1. there is a reasonable basis for believing that the person has violated this policy or North Carolina law pertaining to controlled substances
 2. the alleged conduct is deemed to harm the interests of the University
- Requirement (1), above, can be satisfied by either of the following:
- (a) a conviction or a guilty plea resulting from criminal prosecution
 - (b) independent evidence obtained by University officials including police officers.

It should be noted that though an offense may be the subject of legal action by the civil authorities, University officials are nonetheless free to initiate disciplinary action that may result in additional penalties.

When the above requirements are met, the University will initiate disciplinary action against the alleged violator according to established procedures that safeguard the rights and interest of students and employees. Procedures will vary, depending on classification of the person facing disciplinary action:

Students

Judicial Policies Related to Student Conduct for the The University of North Carolina at Greensboro, approved by the Chancellor

Faculty Members

The University of North Carolina at Greensboro's Regulations on Academic Freedom, Tenure, and Due Process, Section 7. Discharge or Imposition of Serious Sanction, adopted by the Board of Trustees

Senior Administrative Officers

Policies Concerning Senior Administrative Officers of The University of North Carolina, adopted by the Board of Governors

Non-Faculty EPA Employees

Personnel Policies for Designated Employment Exempt from the State Personnel Act, adopted by the Board of Trustees

SPA Employees

Relevant regulations of the Office of State Personnel

Decisions reached by these processes are reviewable according to normal appeal mechanisms.

B. Penalties for students, faculty, senior administrative officers, and non-faculty EPA employees:

For these persons, the penalties to be imposed may range from written warnings with probationary status to expulsions from enrollment and discharges from employment. The following minimum penalties shall be imposed for the particular offences described:

1. Trafficking³ in Illegal Drugs

(a) For the illegal manufacture, sale or delivery, or possession with intent to manufacture, sell or deliver, of any controlled substance identified in "Schedule I, N.C. General Statutes 90-89, or Schedule II, N.C. General Statutes 90-90 (including, but not limited to, heroin, mescaline, lysergic acid diethylamide, opium, cocaine, amphetamine, methqualone), any student shall be expelled and any faculty member, senior administrative officer, or non-faculty EPA employee shall be discharged.

(b) For a first offense involving the illegal manufacture, sale or delivery, or possession with intent to manufacture, sell or deliver, of any controlled substance identified in Schedules III through VI, N.C. General Statutes 90-91 through 90-94, (including, but not limited to, marijuana, pentobarbital, codeine) the minimum penalty shall be suspension from enrollment or from employment for a period of at least one semester or its equivalent. For a second offense, any student shall be expelled and any faculty member, senior administrative officer, or non-faculty EPA employee shall be discharged.

2. Illegal Possession of Drugs

(a) For a first offense involving the illegal possession of any controlled substance identified in Schedule I, N.C. General Statute 90-89, or Schedule II, N.C. General Statutes 90-90, the minimum penalty shall be suspension from enrollment or from employment for a period of at least one semester or its equivalent.

(b) For a first offense involving the illegal possession of any controlled substance identified in Schedules II through VI, N.C. General Statutes 90-91 through 90-94, the minimum penalty shall be probation, for a period to be determined on a case-by-case basis. A person on probation must agree to participate in a drug education and counseling program, consent to regular drug testing at his/her own expense, and accept such other conditions and restrictions, including a program of community service, as the Chancellor or the Chancellor's designee deems appropriate. Refusal or failure to abide by the terms of probation shall result in suspension from enrollment or from employment for any unexpired balance of the prescribed period of probation.

(c) For a second or other subsequent offenses involving the illegal possession of controlled substances, progressively more severe penalties shall be imposed, including expulsion of students and discharge of faculty members, senior administrative officers, or EPA non-faculty employees.

3. Suspension Pending Final Disposition

When a student, faculty member, senior administrative officer, or non-faculty EPA employee has been charged by the University with a violation of policies concerning illegal drugs, he or she may be suspended from enrollment or employment before initiation or completion of regular disciplinary proceedings if, assuming the truth of the charges, the Chancellor or, in the Chancellor's absence, the Chancellor's designee, concludes that the person's continued presence within the University community would constitute a clear and immediate danger to the health or welfare of other members of the University community; provided, that if such a suspension is imposed, an appropriate hearing of the charges against the suspended person shall be held as promptly as possible thereafter.

C. Penalties for SPA Employees

Discipline for SPA employees is prescribed in regulations published by the State Personnel Commission. Violations of this policy and of North Carolina state law on controlled substances shall be deemed "personal misconduct" actionable under these rules. Penalties for offenses described herein will be in accord with state policy.

V. Oversight and Reporting

A. A campus coordinator will be responsible for overseeing all actions and programs relating to this policy.

B. The Chancellor shall submit annually to the Board of Trustees and to the President of the University a report on campus activities related to illegal drugs for the preceding year. The reports shall include, as a minimum, the following: (1) a listing of the major education activities conducted during the year; (2) a report on any illegal drug-related incidents, including any sanctions imposed; (3) an assessment by the Chancellor of the effectiveness of the campus program and; (4) any proposed changes in the policy on illegal drugs.

VI. This policy shall be effective with the beginning of Fall Term, 1988.

¹Non-faculty personnel whose employment is exempt from the State Personnel act

²Staff personnel whose employment is subject to the State Personnel Act

³The term "trafficking" is used in its generic sense, not in its specific application to selling, manufacturing, delivering, transporting, or possessing controlled substances in specified amounts that is the subject of North Carolina General Statute 90-95 (h).
