FOREWORD

The moving finger writes;
and, having writ,
Moves on: nor all your piety
nor wit
Shall lure it back, to cancel half a line,
Nor all your tears wash out
a word of it.

For let Philosopher and Doctor preach
Of what they will, and what they will not—each
Is but one Link in an eternal Chain
That none can slip, nor break, nor over-reach.

College Colors: White and Gold

College Flower: Daisy

College Motto: "Service."

College Song

We raise our voices; let them swell
In a chorus loud and strong;
The rolling hills send back the sound
Of our triumphant song.
For in one great unbroken band,
With loyal hearts and true,
Your daughters stand and, hand in hand,
Sing, college dear, to you.

Our college days run swiftly by
And all too soon we part;
But in the years that are to come,
Deep graven on each heart,
Our motto, "Service," will remain,
And service we will do.
And as we serve our hearts will turn,
O, college dear, to you.

Dear Alma Mater, strong and great,
We never shall forget
The gratitude we owe to you—
A never-ending debt:
All honor to your name we give,
And love we pledge anew,
Unfailing loyalty we bring,
O, college dear, to you.

A Message to the Seniors

Perhaps by the time these lines are printed you will have taken your last examination, received your last report, paid your last little "balance due," and be eagerly awaiting the very hour when you shall receive from the hands of your president the diploma which bears witness for all time to come that you have successfully and honorably, in scholarship and in character, met the requirements for a degree from the North Carolina College for Women.

I hope that you will a little regret to leave. I hope you will not find it possible to be fully happy at the thought of going. Life has been more or less ordered here. We know fairly well what we have to do and when. More than that, there has been no check on growth, but encouragement; no blighting of ideals, but nurture. I hope it will hurt a bit to leave all this—to leave the bunch, the majority of whom you will never see again, the campus and the classrooms, the hikes, the parties, the friendly bedroom talks, and the hundred and one other things that make college life.

But I shall be glad if you leave with courage, unafraid of the change into the unknown, where life will not be so definitely ordered, where ideals will not be so easy to live up to, where constant adjustments will have to be made between the ideals of college and actual conditions as we meet them in our daily environment.

I shall be glad, too, if in looking back over the four years you have spent at your Alma Mater you realize that you have been helped in learning that finest of all fine things—how to live in harmony with other people; how to live in the minds of others so that you can sympathize with them and understand them; how to work not only "with them, but for them and in them."

I shall be more than glad, too, if your Alma Mater in conferring upon you a degree at the same time bequeaths to you a far richer inheritance—a mind unsatisfied, avid for more knowledge, more light, fearlessly open, seeking the truth.

We shall want you to come back often as alumnae. Once an "N. C. C. W. girl," always one, no matter when nor where.

CLARA B. BYRD, Alumnae Secretary.

"Guided thus, O friend of mine,
Let us walk our little way." —WHITTIER.

"I have done the state some service, and they know 't." —SHAKESPEARE.

"This door will open at a touch
And welcome every friend."—VAN DYKE.

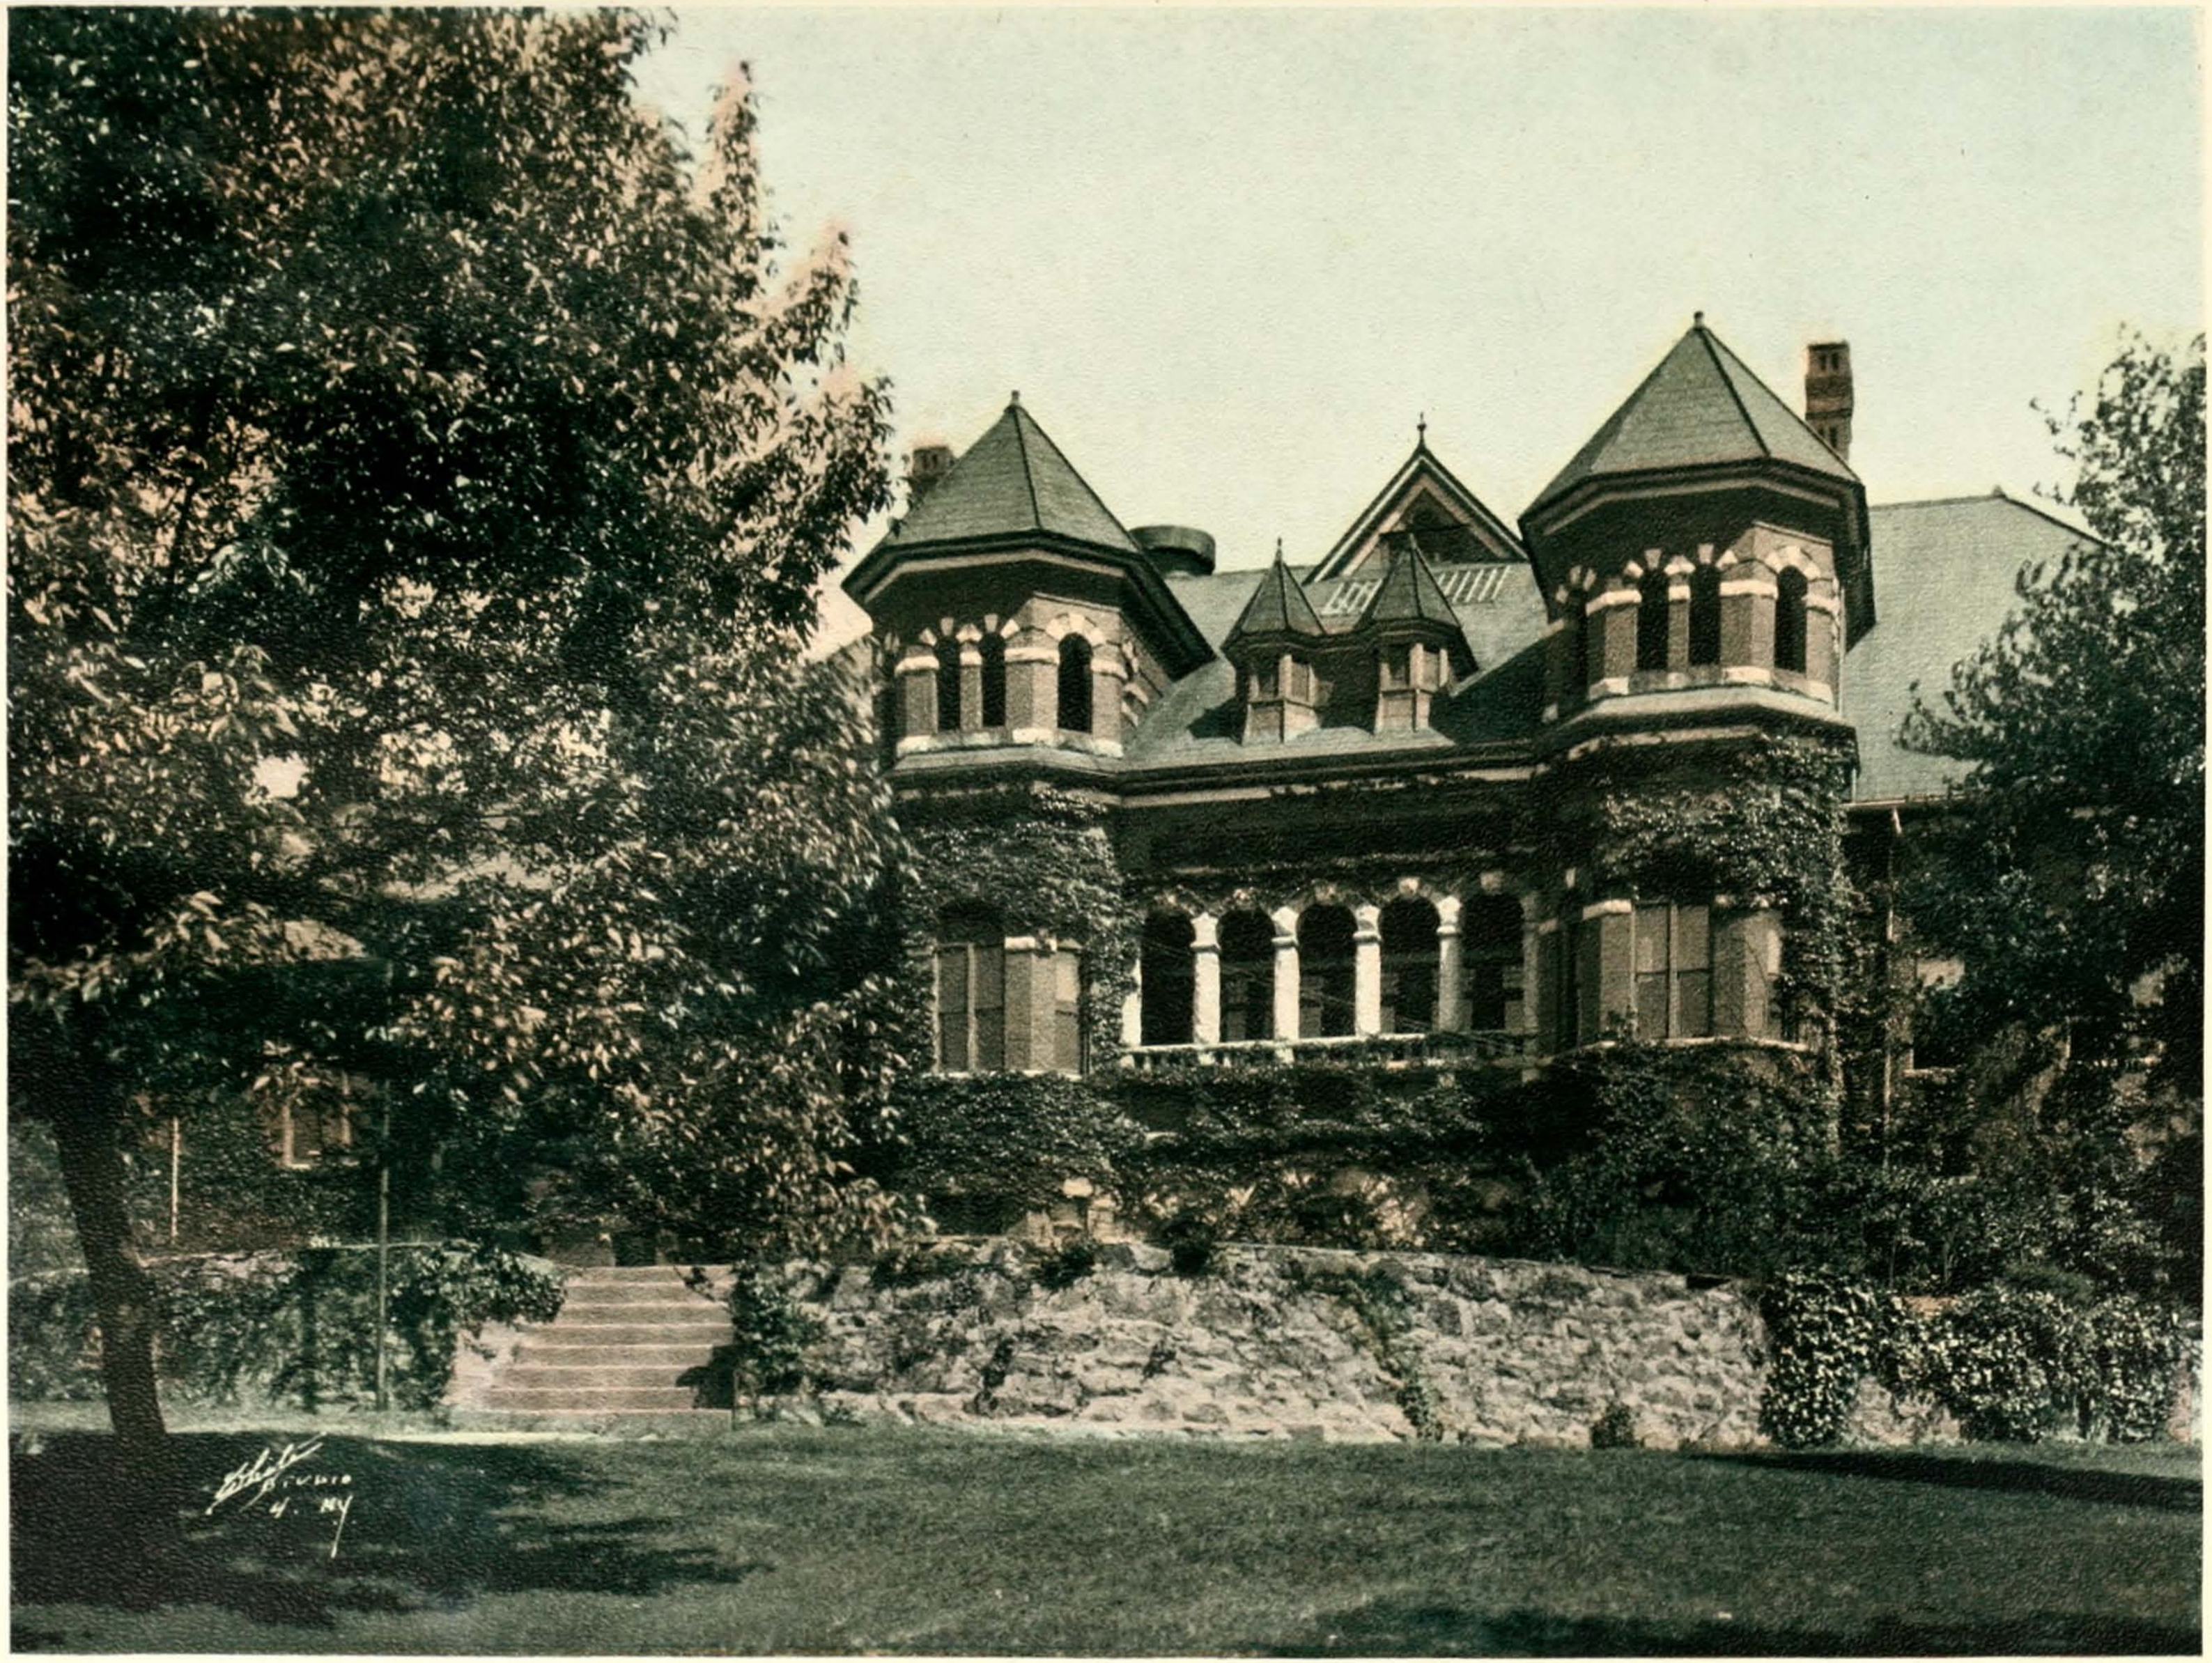

"There I find personal themes a plenteous store." —WHITTIER.

"I hear a skyborn music still." —EMERSON.

"Groves, through whose broken roof the sky looks in."—LONGFELLOW.

"Within, the master's desk is seen." —WHITTIER.

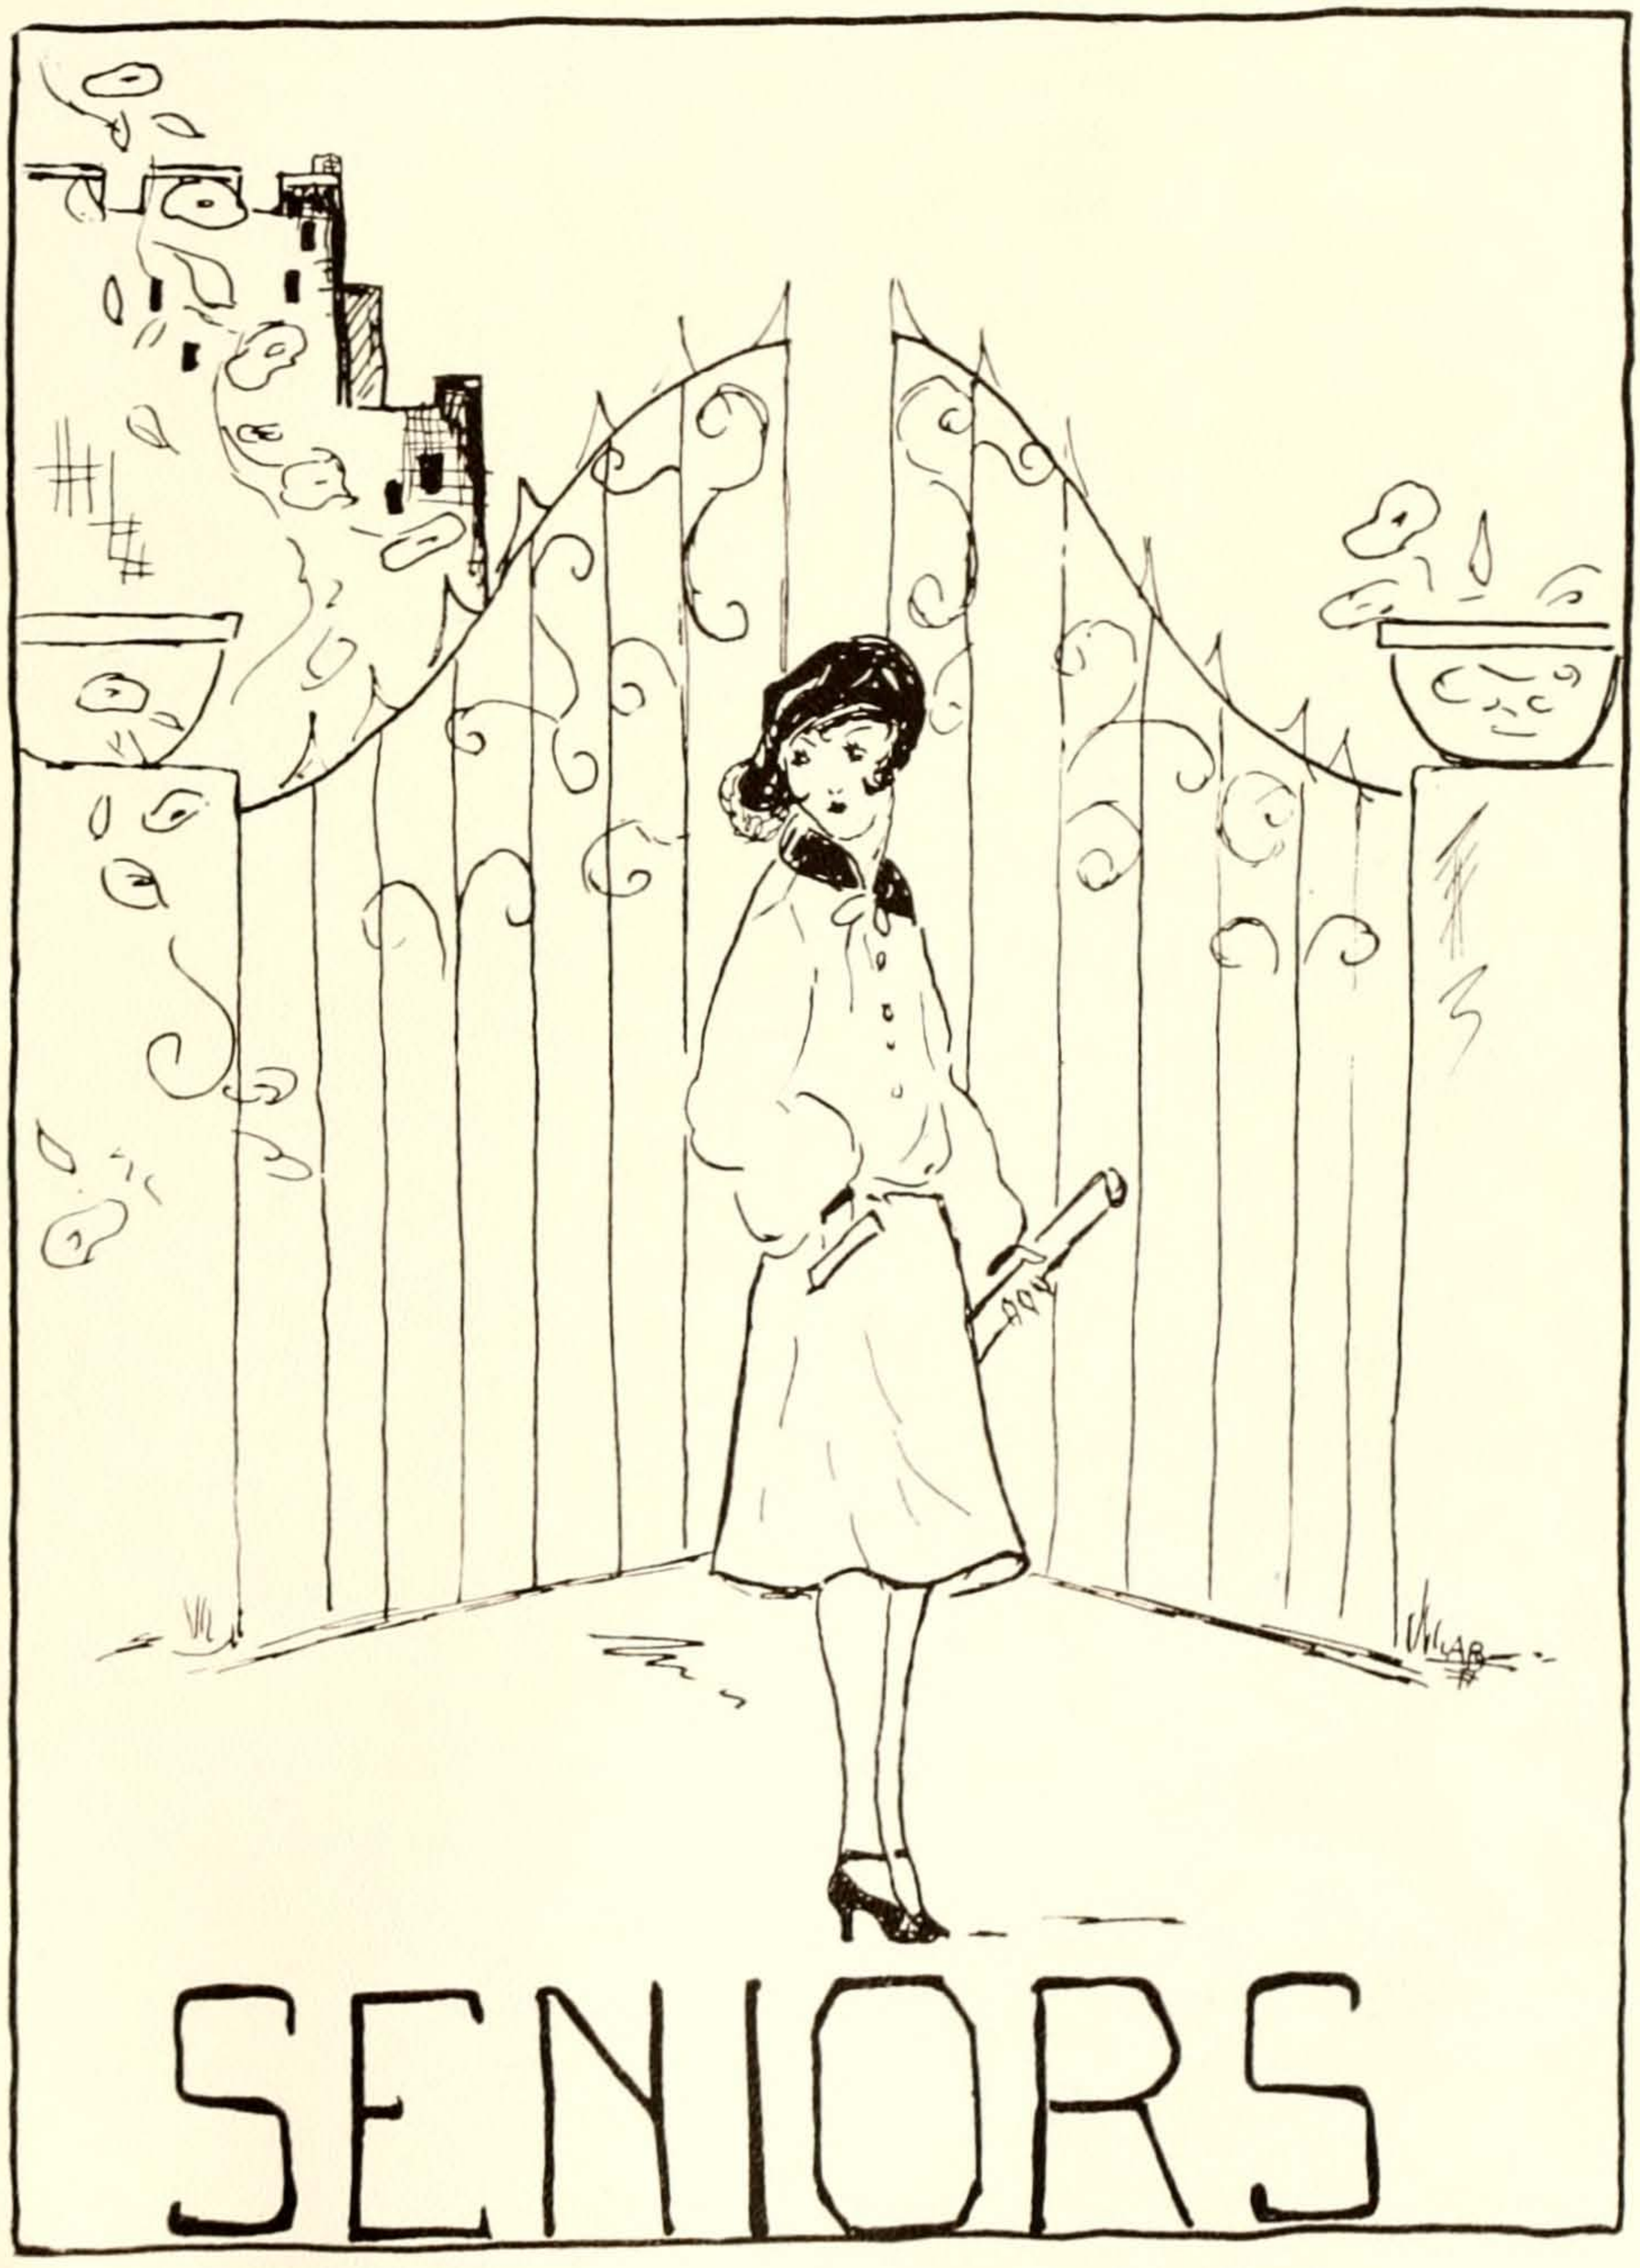

"Now my soul hath elbow-room." —SHAKESPEARE.

Myself when young did eagerly frequent
Doctor and Saint, and heard great argument.
With them the seed of Wisdom did I sow,
And with mine own hand wrought to make it grow.

Mascot

Colors: Green and White Flower: White Rose

Motto: Be True

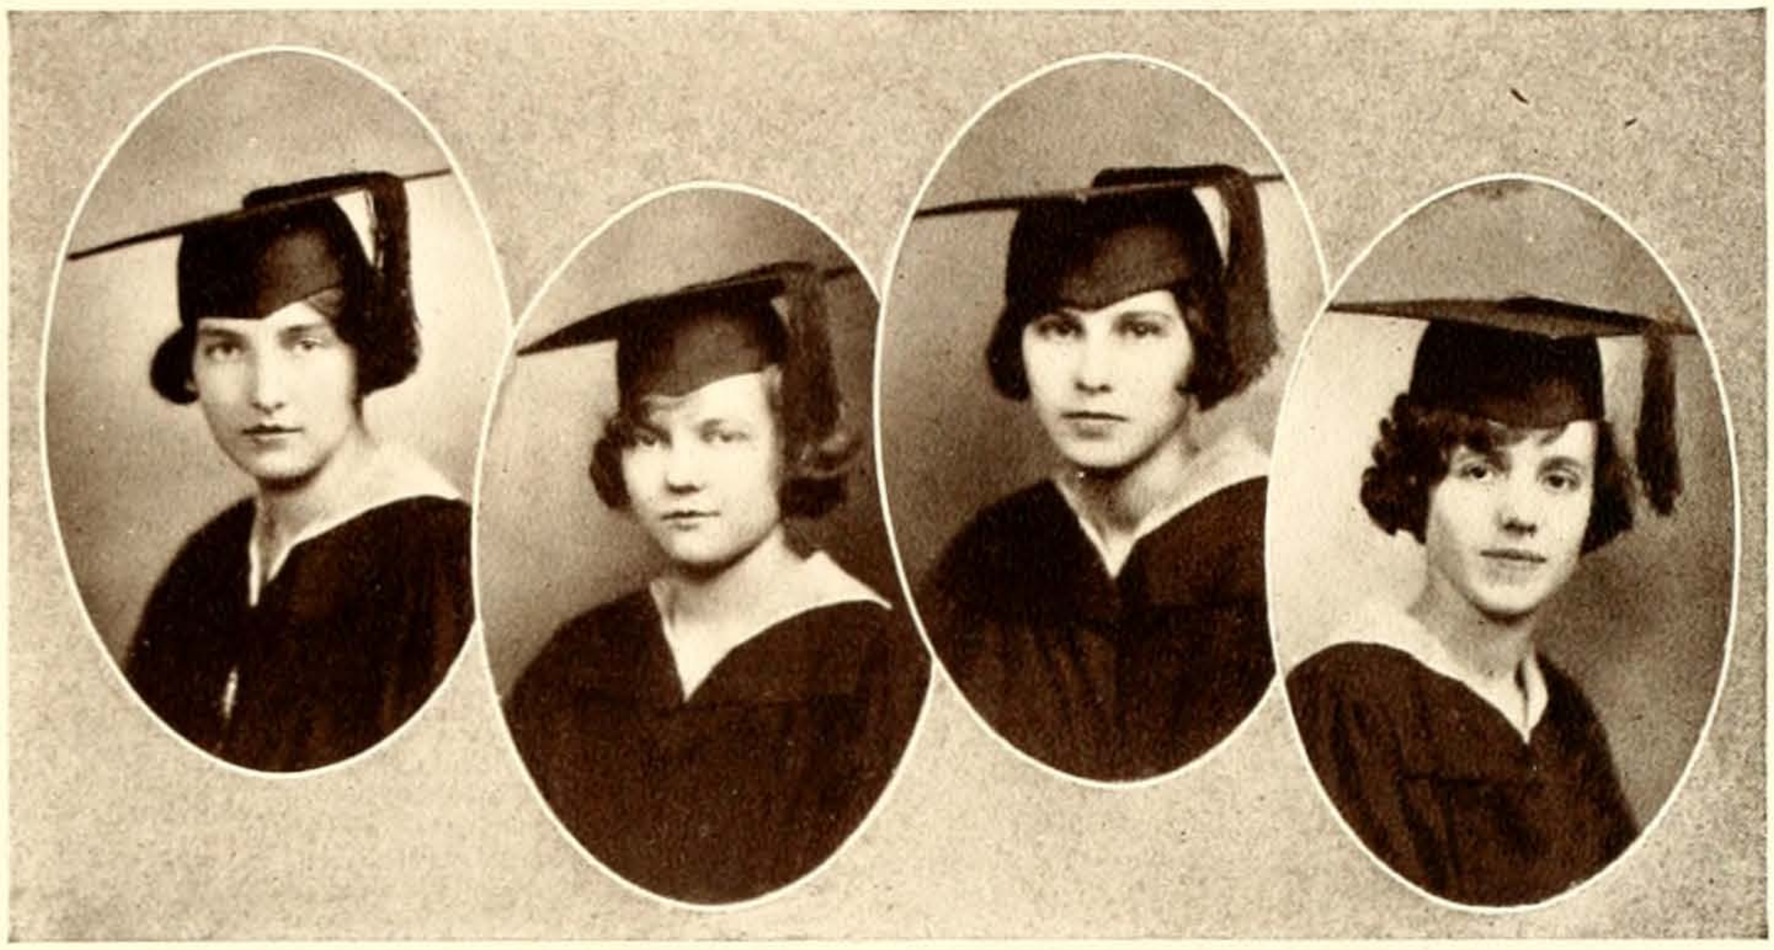

Class Song

Oh, Class of Green and White, to you
We sing our song of praise;
May we bring honor to your name,
Your banner all our days.
Your other daughters gone before
Urge us to work anew,
And inspiration leave behind,
Oh, Twenty-Six, to you.

Chorus

So may we now and in the years
Our whole long life-time through,
E'er following our ideal,
Remain forever true.

Oh, School, our Alma Mater dear,
Led by thy hand may we
The service thou hast done for us
A part return to thee.
For friendships dear we have made here,
For joyous work and play,
For all that thou hast given us,
We give thee thanks today.

Senior Class

Ruth Blair Ader
A.B.

KINGS MOUNTAIN, N. C.

Dikean; Proctor (2); Education Club (4).

Ruth may be little but she is large enough to possess a high degree of quality in sincerity, friendliness, unselfishness, and dependability. For her we predict a life of usefulness and joyous service.

Marjorie Aiken
A.B.

CREEDMOOR, N. C.

Dikean; Spanish Club (1, 2, 3, 4); French Club (2, 3, 4); Botany Club (3); Treasurer of Spanish Club (4).

Loyalty to her friends, devotion to her "little sisters," love of fun, and sparkling brown eyes all go to make up Marjorie; withal an earnest student who can readily translate French and Spanish—when she isn't too sleepy.

Mary Frances Albritton
A.B.

HOOKERTON, N. C.

Cornelian; Proctor, '24-'25; French Club, '25-'26; Spanish Club, '26; Education Club (4).

Mary Frances, with her sweetness and solid worth, has come into our hearts to stay—"And all the king's horses and all the king's men" can't move her away. When we get worried and excited, she is calm and serene. She's quiet, but oh! so much to be admired with her lovable disposition and winning personality.

Mary Elizabeth Alexander
A.B.

HUNTERSVILLE, N. C.

Adelphian; Education Club (3, 4).

She is quiet, reserved, and intelligent. She has a keen sense of duty and we doubt if the fifth grade has ever had a more conscientious student-teacher. We feel that these qualities predict a bright future for her in her chosen profession. The best of luck to you, Mary!

Senior Class

Mary Anderson
A.B.
GREENSBORO, N. C.
Cornelian.

The sweetness of her face bespeaks the gentleness of her character. You will have to search far and wide before you can find a finer girl than "Our Mary."

Elizabeth Sullivan Ashby
A.B.
MOUNT AIRY, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club, '22-'23; Proctor, '25; Education Club, '25-'26; Y. W. C. A., '23-'24-'25-'26.

Unselfish, lovable, with a disposition that is always the same, a personality that radiates and impresses favorably all those whom she meets—that's Lib.

Ruby Miller Ashe
B.S., H.E.
WHITTIER, N. C.

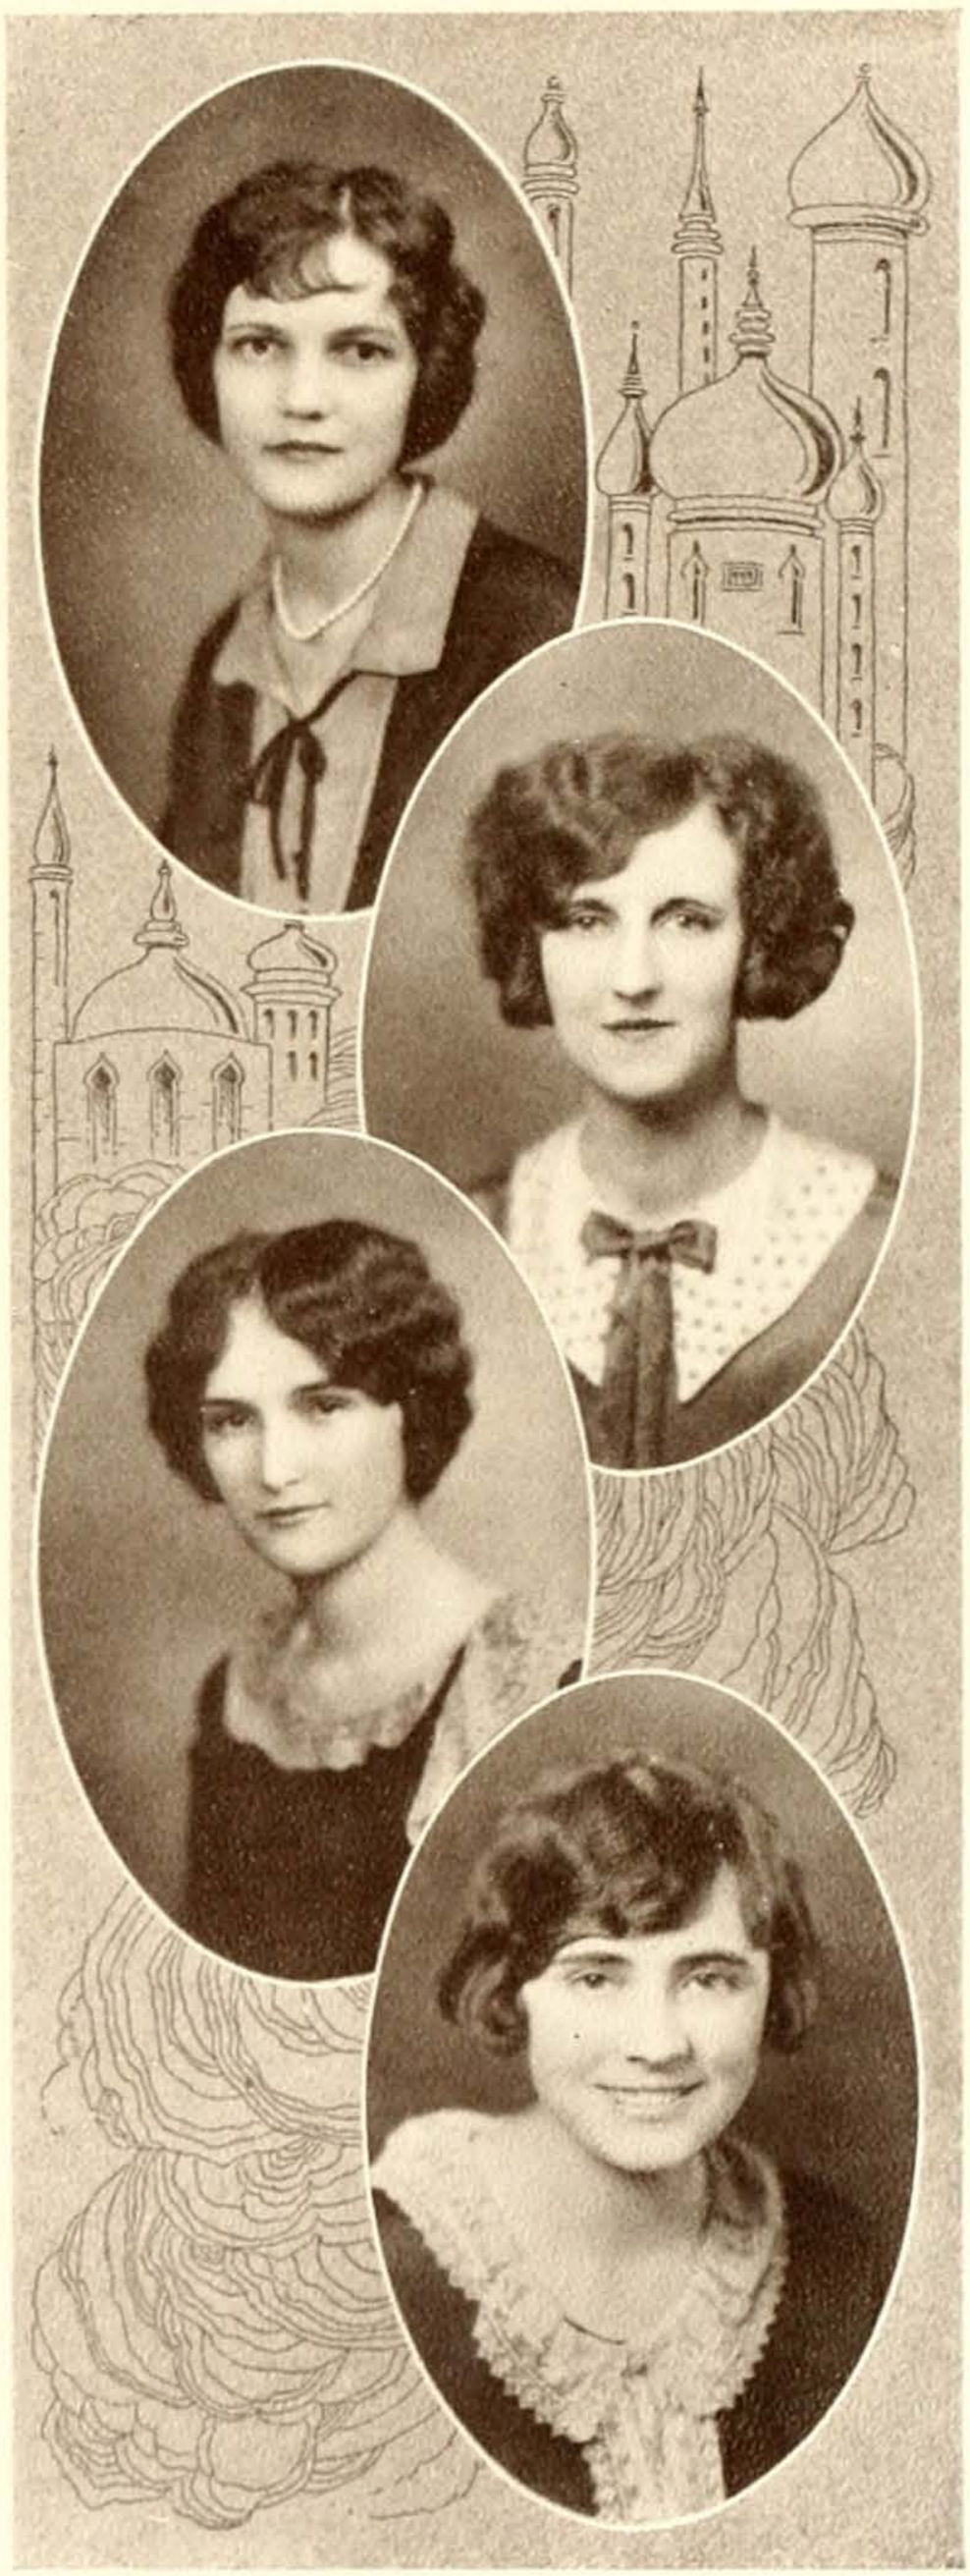

Cornelian; Spanish Club (1, 2); Chemistry Club (3, 4); Home Economics Art Club (3, 4).

We shall remember Ruby as one who is sincere and true. She has a gentle expression and a kind disposition. Hard work has no terrors for her. Ruby is a good sport, always in for fun. Truly, Ruby is a gem.

Lois Augusta Atkinson
B.S., H.E.
FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.

Dikean; Class Critic (2); French Club (3, 4); Home Economics Club (3, 4); Chemistry Club (3, 4); House of Representatives (4).

She is like a mirror—decisive and absolutely frank in the expression of her reaction to every situation. A compliment from her is the most flattering thing in the world because you can feel perfectly certain that it is, like Lois herself, something genuine.

Senior Class

Lucille Faison Aycock

A.B.

DUNN, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (1, 2, 3); Member of House of Representatives (2); Proctor (2); Vice-President of Class (2); Hockey Squad (3); Education Club (4); Adelphian Society Marshal (4).

Are you looking for a good pal, a leader, a fine student, and best of all, a true friend? Well, Lucille meets these requirements and more. We cannot say how we love her or how we shall miss her, but we envy the people to whom she goes. Success is bound to follow her through life.

Beatrice Gladys Baker

A.B.

WAKEFIELD, N. C.

Cornelian; Proctor (2); Classical Club (1, 2).

Where can be found such competence and steadiness of character, such wit and depth of intellect as are disclosed in Gladys' character? Always her constant good humor and jollity make her the best of companions, while her deep understanding and sincerity make her a friend worth having.

Ellen Williams Baldwin

A.B.

CHESHIRE, CONN.

Cornelian; French Club (3, 4); Spanish Club (4); "Carolinian" Reporter (4); Education Club (4).

"Business is the salt of life" and business is "Buddy's" long suit. Her ability in this line has a campus-wide rep. She can dispose of anything salable from sandwiches to pet Angora cats. She is noted, too, for her witty remarks, which are counterbalanced by serious purpose and real affection for her friends—an affection broad enough, it might be added, to encompass even "Teddy Bears."

Alma Steuart Ball

A.B.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

Cornelian Society: Track Team, '25; Chemistry Club, '25-'26; Zoology Field Club, '25-'26.

A wiry little rattle-trap with a whole lot to rattle about—that's Alma! Thoroughly entertaining, but wholly unassuming, she is one of the best companions that may be found anywhere.

Senior Class

Elizabeth Louise Ballard

A.B.

CERRO GARDO, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (3, 4).

Dignified? Apparently so, yet when you come to know her as a friend you find that her ways are the ways of a comrade. Loyal, dependable, lovable, all this and more—she is a friend and pal at all times. Her sweet disposition has won a place for her in our hearts. "Her ways are true, her conduct blameless, her friendship lasting."

Ophelia Barker

A.B.

MILTON, N. C.

Adelphian.

Although Ophelia has been with us only two years, those of us who know her have learned to love her. She is a true friend and a loyal neighbor. "Better than riches or worldly wealth is a heart that is always jolly."

Carlotta Barnes

B.S., Public School Music

GREENSBORO, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (1); Orchestra (1); Choir (1, 2, 3, 4); Phoenix Club (2, 3, 4); Education Club (3, 4).

Carlotta's whole-hearted enthusiasm over music is equaled only by her enjoyment in telling a humorous story. (That incomparable twinkle!) Sincere herself, she seeks always the genuine. She does not wear her heart on her sleeve, but, capable and sympathetic, she has made many friends who have found her ever loyal.

Elizabeth Pace Barnes

B.S., H.E.

WILSON, N. C.

Cornelian.

Witty, and seemingly care-free, we often wonder if Pace ever really worried about anything. However, these qualities, with her sincerity and attractiveness, make her an excellent friend. We are sure she will make a success of her domestic science course, whether it be in a school or in a home.

Senior Class

Irene Tull Barwick
A.B.

AYDEN, N. C.

Dikean; House of Representatives (1); French Club (1, 3, 4); Education Club (4).

Looking for a type? Well, here's one for you. Not frivolous nor too serious, but a mixture of vivacity, sincerity and grace. Her loyalty has won for her a host of friends. Irene is truly an ideal girl.

Margaret Battle
A.B.

TARBORO, N. C.

Cornelian.

To many she may seem reserved and dignified, but to those who really know her she means far more than that. Her chief characteristic is a Prince of Wales complex for horses. We pay Maggie the highest compliment when we say she is a good sport and a loyal friend.

Julia Elizabeth Blauvelt
A.B.

ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Dikean; Freshman Commission (1); House of Representatives (2, 4); Class Representative to Annual (2); Assistant Editor of Handbook (2); Vice-President Class (3); "Carolinian" Reporter (3); Associate Editor of "Coraddi" (3); Quill Club (3, 4); Young Voters Club (3, 4); Education Club (4); Faculty Student Council (4); President Quill Club (4); Editor-in-Chief of "Coraddi" (4).

A fit companion for Peter Pan, with dancing blue eyes that belong to one who still believes in fairies. She has an irresistible appeal like that of a child who loves people and trusts them instinctively, and the sweetness and depth which belong to a woman who was made to be loved.

Gertrude London Boone
A.B.

LOUISBURG, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (3, 4); Society Critic (3); Education Club (4); House of Representatives (4); Proctor (4).

To extremely abhor the abbreviated form of her name, but at the same time to keep her temper—that's Gertie. A conscientious worker combined with a good sport and a "boone" companion—again it's Gertie. She has found a mutual interest in Wake Forest and poetry. The second grade gives her no end of concern, but with the theory of "never take anything too seriously" she goes through life.

Senior Class

Eva Blanche Boyd
A.B.
WASHINGTON, N. C.

Adelphian; Spanish Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Secretary of Spanish Club (4); Classical Club (1, 2); Critic of Classical Club (2); College Choir (4); Education Club (4).

In Blanche we find a personality that is bound to make and hold for her a host of friends where'er she may go. Serious? Yes, when the occasion demands it. Ready for a good time? Yes! Studious? Yes, if need be. Always ready to help? Yes. And what more could one wish to have than the combination of these qualities, which make for the best kind of a friend?

Evelyn Boyd
A.B.
LINCOLNTON, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (2, 3); Spanish Club (3, 4); Education Club (4).

A winsome personality plus a happy disposition, and the ability to make a host of friends—that's Evelyn! We can truthfully say of her, "The force of her own merit makes her way." She is ready and willing to tackle any worthwhile work. She has already made a noble start in our training school, and we predict for her a successful future.

Elizabeth French Boyd
B.S., Home Economics
MOORESVILLE, N. C.

Cornelian; Chemistry Club (3, 4); Home Economics Art Club (3); Vice-President Home Economics Art Club (4).

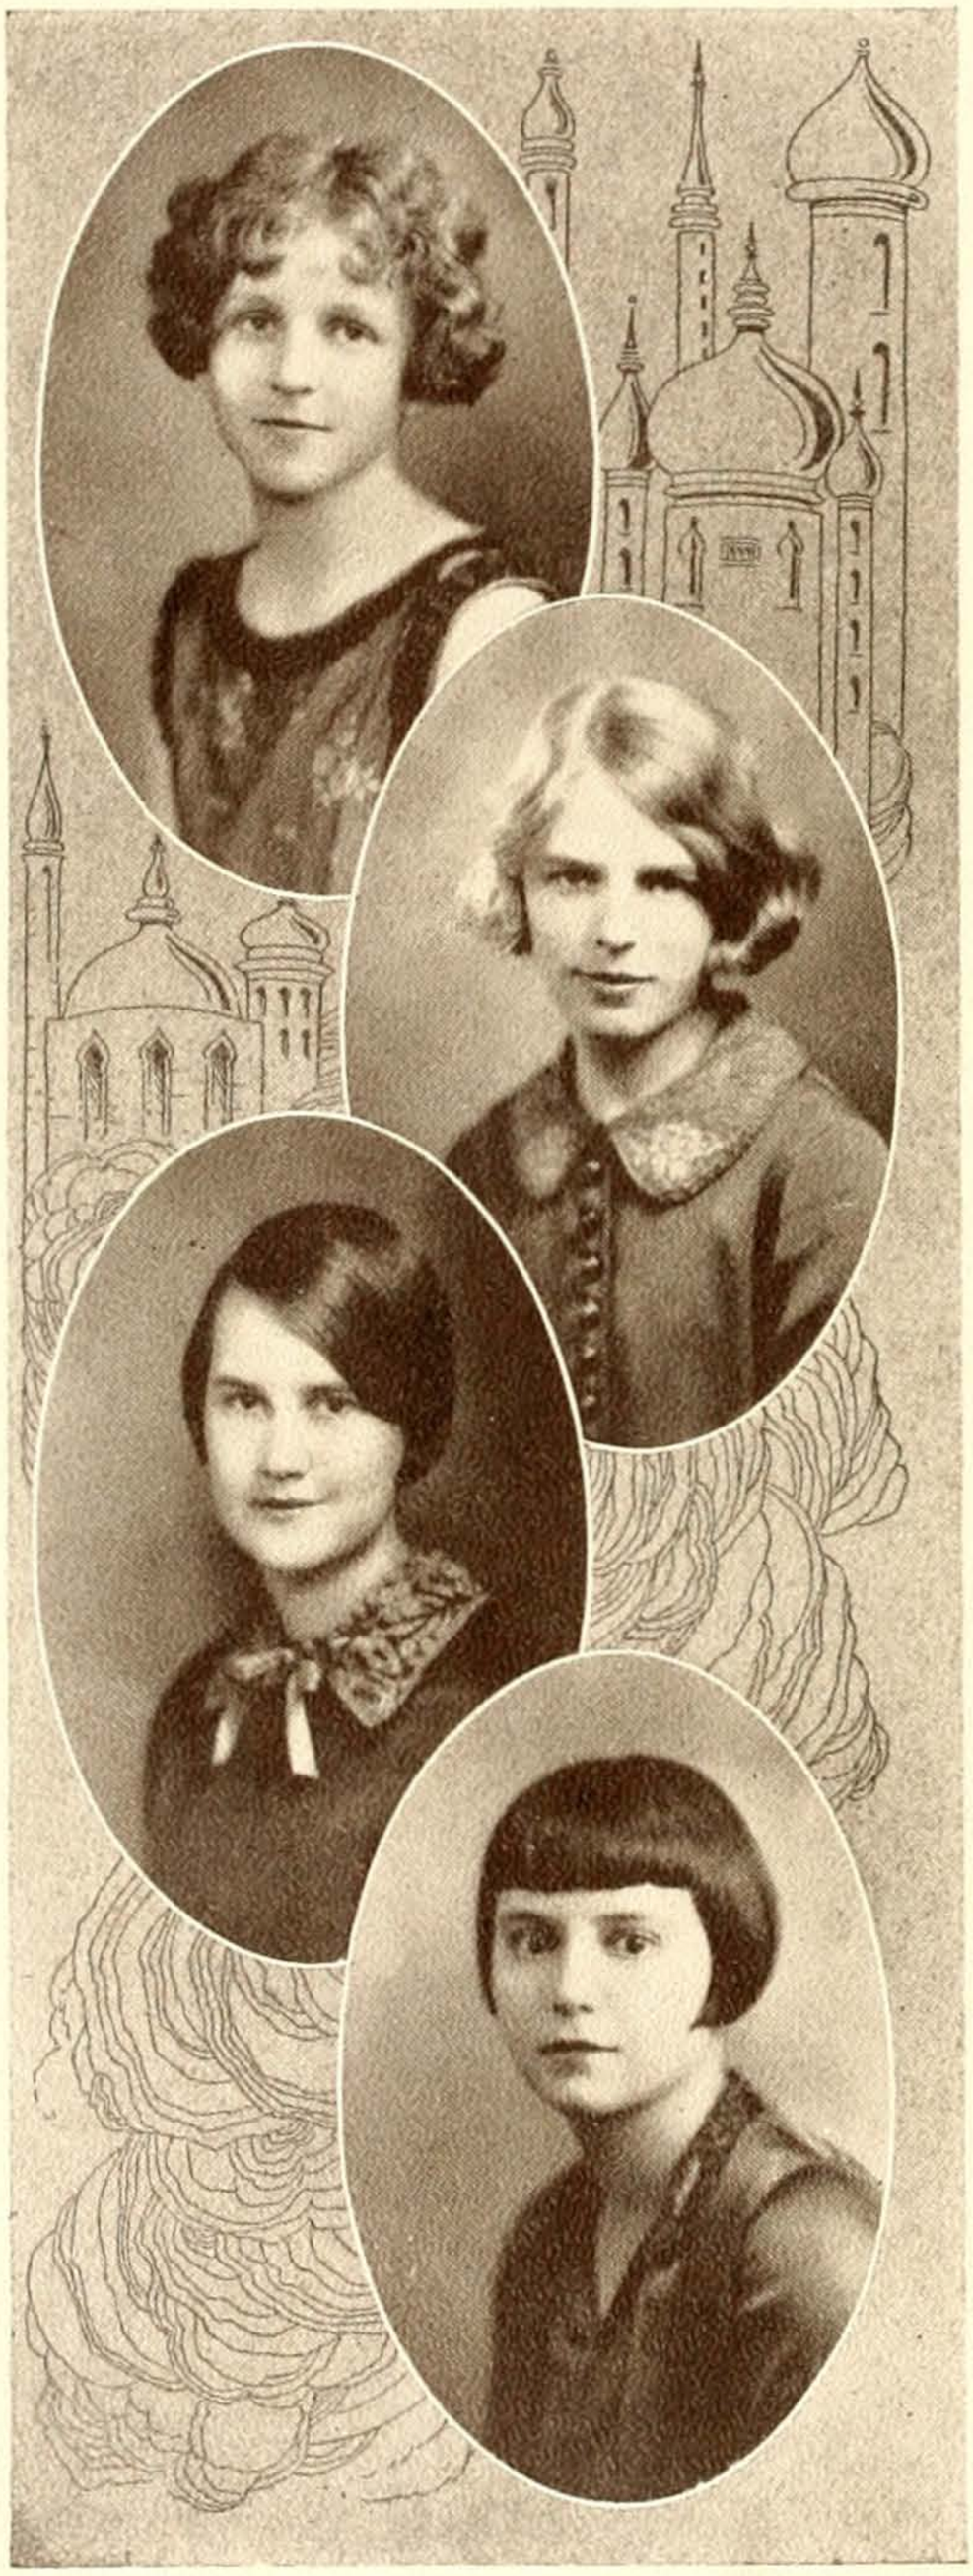

Seldom does one meet a girl like French. Behind all of that reserve and indifference lies a character of strength and beauty. She is loyal, dependable, lovable. These qualities, plus her sincerity, will make friends for her wherever she may go. Here's hoping the winds of fate may carry her far into the land of success and happiness.

Elsie Brame
A.B.
KENLY, N. C.

Cornelian; Proctor, '25; Education Club, '26.

An honest-to-goodness, sympathetic friend is Elsie. She is an earnest and conscientious worker and in spite of her reserve, she is always ready to express her opinion on her future ambition, that of being an "Ideal Teacher." With such ambition and zeal, Robinson and Dewey should look to their honors.

Senior Class

Sarah Elizabeth Brawley

A.B.

MOORESVILLE, N. C.

Adelphian; Converse College, '23-'24; Spanish Club (3, 4); Education Club (4).

Hail to the girl from Mooresville! She may appear to be the frivolous type, but those who know her have found beneath her mop of yellow hair a heart of gold. She keeps everybody in a good humor, even her professors! Where there is deviltry—there is Sarah; where a kind act has been done—there has been Sarah. Happy-go-lucky mixture of fun and seriousness—here's to you.

Audrey Allen Brenegar

A.B.

MOCKSVILLE, N. C.

Adelphian Toaster (2); Athletic Cabinet (2); House of Representatives (2); Adelphian Marshal (3); Spanish Club (3); "Pine Needles" Staff (4).

Who's the blonde? What time Audrey is not "getting her rest" she's out and about usually preserving the same gait of speed, but always managing to precede the janitors to McIver and the cooks to the dining-room. Audrey boasts a peculiar fondness for new words and does not hesitate to spring them on all occasions. Whether her life's word shall express itself in the form of a dictionary or master painting is uncertain. A rare combination is Audrey and an even more rare type of girl.

Harriet Brown

A.B.

WASHINGTON, N. C.

Dikean; Dance Drama (3, 4); Chairman of Campus Citizenship Y. W. C. A. (4).

A leader who is not a driver, a workman who need feel no shame, a thinker who thinks things through sanely, a sportsman who wins any game; actor, humorist, teacher, philosopher, poet, and friend.

Mary Bunn

A.B.

SPRING HOPE, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (3 4); Proctor (3); Education Club (3, 4); Soccer Team (3).

"The way to have a friend is to be one"—a motto not hard for "Bunny" to practice since she is earnest, sincere, substantial, able and blessed with good cheer. So—here's to a girl with a heart and smile that make this bubble of life worth while.

Senior Class

Kathryn Burchette
A.B.
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

Dikean; French Club (2); Chairman Hut Committee (3); House of Representatives (3); Senior Class Secretary (4).

"To know her is to love her." This can be truly said of Kathryn. She is a girl who is ever ready to do anything for anyone, and do it willingly, and what she does is sure to be done right.

Annie Gray Burroughs
A.B.
HENDERSON, N. C.

Cornelian; Spanish Club (2); House of Representatives (3); Education Club (4).

One has to speak of Gray in superlative terms, for hers is a superlative character. She is first and last an optimist, and between times hers is the fineness of character, the charm of personality, and reasonability which wins for her numerous friends and admirers.

Jeter Clarence Burton
A.B.
MEBANE, N. C.

Adelphian; Classical Club (1); Fire Lieutenant (3); "Carolinian" Reporter (3); Chairman of Budget Commission (4); Education Club (4); Associate Editor of "Carolinian" (4); House President (4).

Want something different? Here is a rare mixture of brilliance, common sense, and attractiveness. Jeter hails from "the little town of big opportunities" and we know that she has every reason to be exceedingly Holt-ful of the future.

Essie E. Call
A.B.
MOCKSVILLE, N. C.

Dikean.

Her character is symbolized by her tender expression and soft, fair hair. The philosophy of her nature is written in her thoughtful, self-sacrificing actions.

Senior Class

Eva Call
B.S.M.

MOCKSVILLE, N. C.

Dikean; College Choir (3, 4); Education Club (3, 4); Phoenix Club (2, 3, 4); Secretary Phoenix Club (3).

A small package of sincerity, earnestness and sweetness, set off with a dash of humor and fun, characterizes Eva. She is preparing to become one of the supervisors of our state leading potential songbirds to develop into larks and thrushes. To the ambitious and determined little girl who strives toward such a goal, we predict great success and happiness.

Rebecca Woods Cameron
B.S., H.E.

DURHAM, N. C.

Cornelian; French Club, '22-'23; Chemistry Club, '26; Home Economics Club, '26.

To know Rebecca is to love her. She has a smooth, easy-going manner, always a cheerful disposition. One of her strongest characteristics is a willingness to help others.

Corinne Frances Cannady
A.B.

DUNN, N. C.

Cornelian; Secretary of Class (2); Proctor (2); Baseball and Hockey Teams (3, 4); House President (3); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (4); Chairman Costume Committee (4); Secretary of Zoology Club (3, 4); Botany Club (4); President of Cornelian Society (4).

With her quiet dignity and sweet disposition this Senior is truly an honor to the class, assuredly a charming wearer of the white and green. The honors she has received prove her executive ability beyond a doubt.

Louise Carter
A.B.

WALLACE, N. C.

Dikean.

The kind of a person we want to be with day in and day out, always optimistic, always happy —that is Louise! Unselfishness, trustworthiness, and a good nature are her outstanding traits. We have found in Louise a real friend of whose loyalty we feel assured.

Senior Class

Aleph Cason
A.B.
WILMINGTON, N. C.

Cornelian; Education Club (3, 4).

"Nothing is impossible to him who tries." Aleph Cason is a proof of this statement, for she was unwilling to continue teaching without a college degree. Through perseverance, determination and hard work, she has won her degree —and, what is more the admiration of Faculty and students.

Emily Hearne Cate
B.S., P.E.
COLUMBIA, S. C.

Adelphian; College Tennis Sport Leader (2); Proctor (2); Vice-House President (3); Hockey Team (1, 2, 3, 4); Soccer Team (3, 4); Basketball Team (1, 2 3, 4); Baseball Team (1, 2, 3); Tennis Team (1, 2, 3); Class Tennis Manager (3); Education Club (4); A. A. President (4).

Steady and clear in her thinking, quick and sure in her playing, even balanced and calm in temperament, broad and useful in her interests, true yet reasonable in her sense of duty, staunch and sincere in her friendships, Emily has won a name here as one "Who saw life steadily and saw it whole."

Annie Lee Champion
B.S M.
FUQUAY SPRINGS, N. C.

Cornelian; French Club (1, 2); College Choir (1, 2, 3); Phoenix Club (3, 4); Education Club (4).

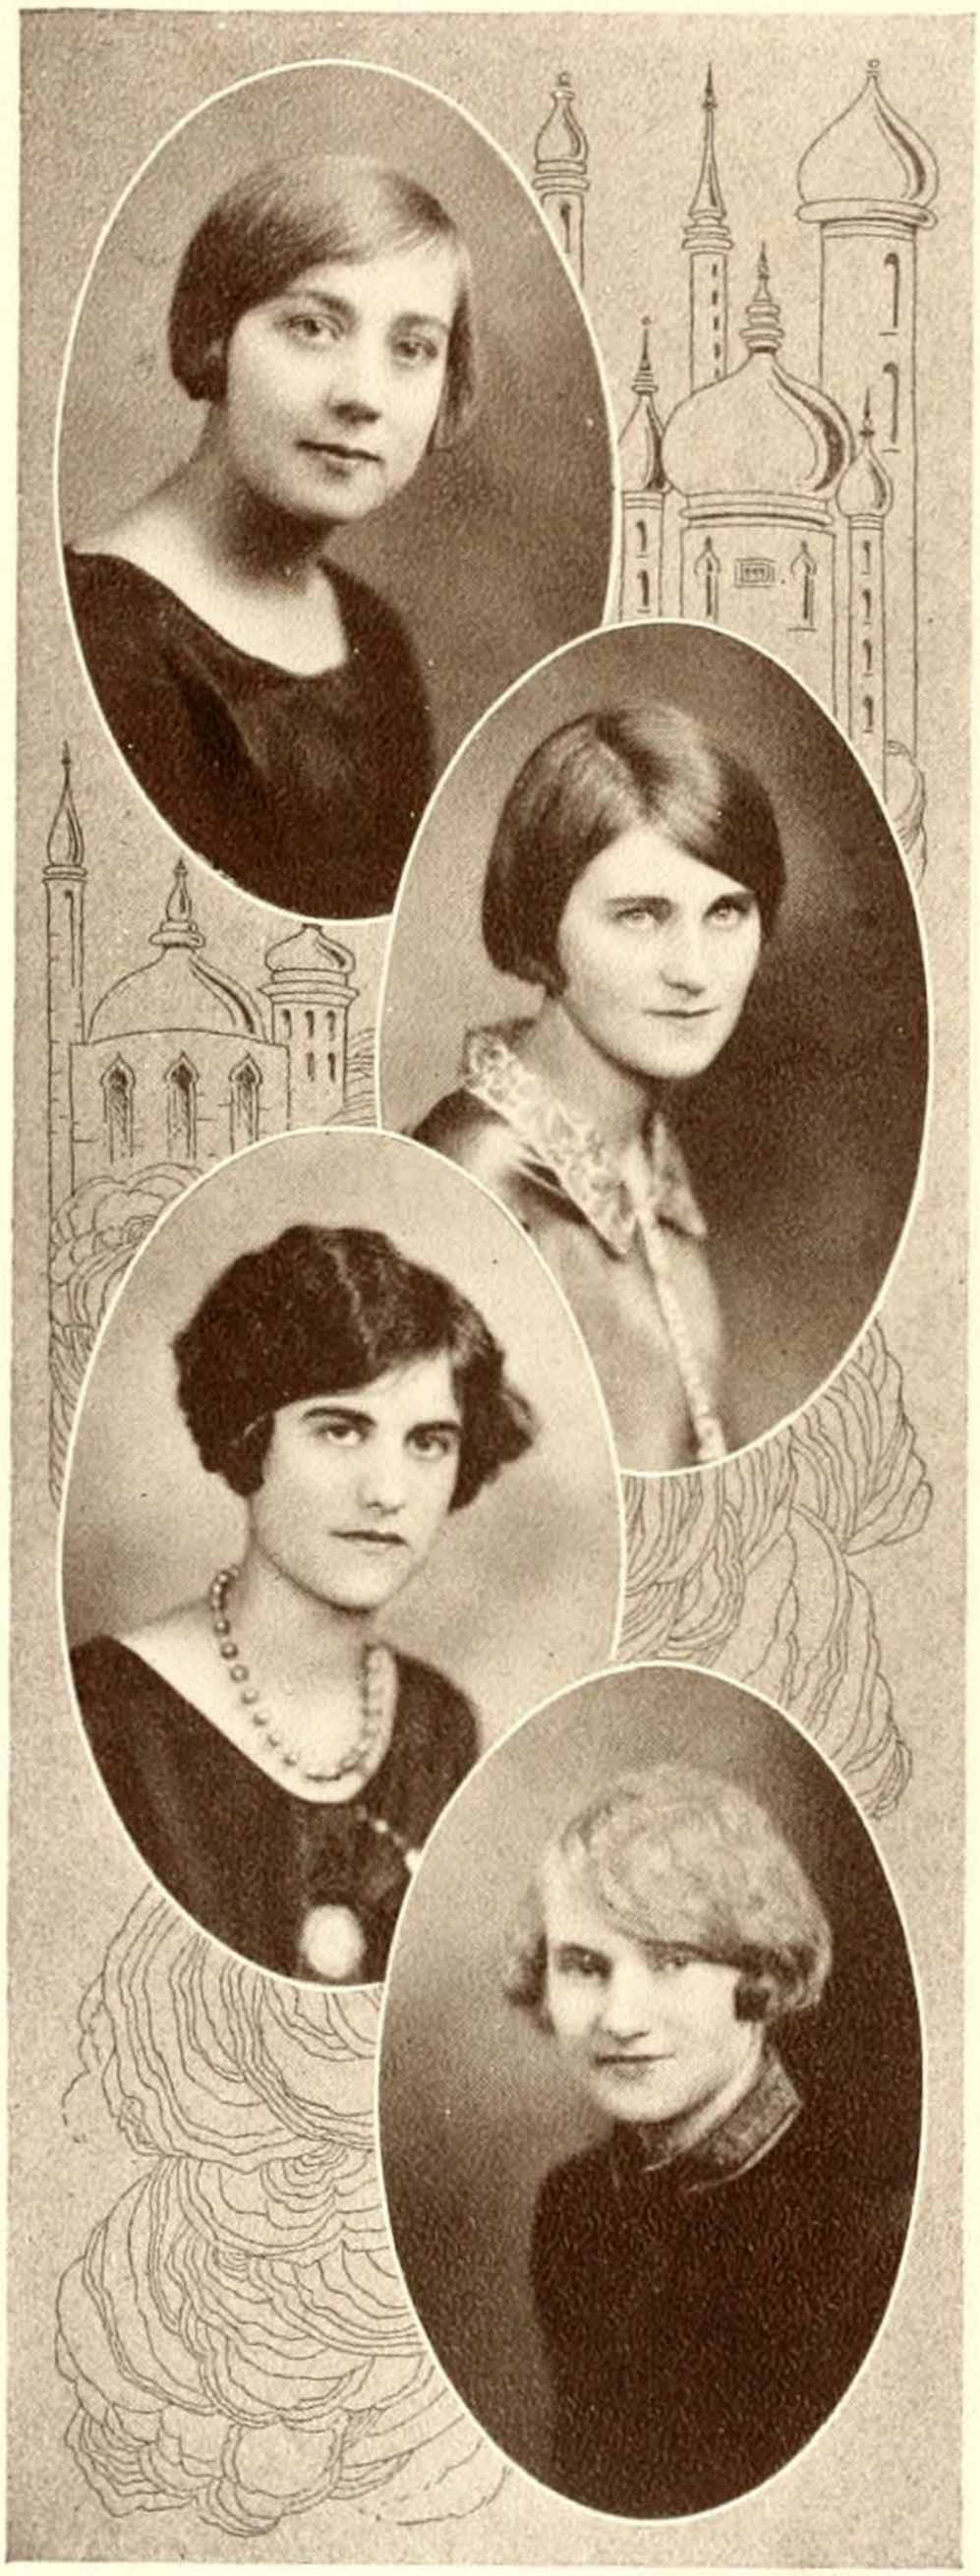

Annie Lee—the possessor of those classic curls that have withstood a four years' siege of the bobbed-hair crime wave. The very sweetness of her face and the light in her large, soft eyes speak more for the gentleness of her manner than mere words could ever do.

Marjorie Lee Chapman
A.B.
CROUSE, N. C.

Cornelian; Botany Club, '24-'25; Education Club, '25-'26.

Marjorie is one of those quiet, studious girls whom everyone admires. She never neglects her work, is kind hearted, and is always willing to lend a helping hand. She makes it a point to say a kind word or nothing about those she meets. Here's wishing you luck, Marjorie.

Senior Class

Ina Belle Chappell

B.S., H.E.

CANDOR, N. C.

Cornelian; Home Economics Art Club (3, 4); Chemistry Club (3, 4).

Young Washington said, "Be cheerful always, but in serious matters, grave." Ina brought this spirit right out of the great peach orchards of Candor. We find it prevalent in her, whether in the sewing lab or in 217 Gray—just any place. She's a girl that isn't fathomed in a minute, but in four years we have made a dent and can see that she's the girl to meet the situation.

Cora Ethel Clark

CROSSNORE, N. C.

Dikean; Chemistry Club (3, 4).

Cora, better known as "Beby" among her friends, is indeed an all-round girl. She is not only capable but splendid and lovable as well. These qualities have won for her countless friends. A truly fine character is Cora, with promise of unlimited success.

Katherine Virginia Cline

A.B.

HICKORY, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (3); Education Club (4).

The same yesterday, to-day, to-morrow, and forever, and we are glad it is so, for Katherine's "same" includes sincerity, patience, love, willingness, understanding, and ability.

Hazel Cockerham

A.B.

ELKIN, N. C.

Cornelian; Spanish Club, '23-'24-'25; French Club, '23-'24; Education Club, '25.

If silence is golden, surely we have a treasure in Hazel. She does not air her opinions on all occasions and what's more she is a good listener. What is more rare? She is the sort of girl that we all like to know and to have as a friend. The calm, easy way in which she takes life is a source of envy to us all.

Senior Class

Lucy Collins
A.B.
ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Cornelian; Education Club, '26; French Club, '24, '25, '26; Spanish Club, '23, '24, '25, '26; Secretary Spanish Club, '25; President Spanish Club, '26.

Tall, blonde and slender, that's Lucy as she appeals to the eye. As to her personality, we judge that by the number and sincerity of the friends she has made. And talk about shining,—this young lady shines equally well, in her own room, in Spanish class, in the sun parlor, and there are good reasons for believing that she even outshines herself on house parties!

Mary Nelle Connor
A.B.
CHARLOTTE, N. C.

Cornelian; French Club (2); Dance Drama (3).

A sunny smile and golden hair. A bit of sunshine, that's Nell. She loves to read and dance, and is always in for a good time. Indeed, she is rather deep and hard to be solved, yet a wonderful girl when you really have found her out, and oh, how well worth your time in finding!

Donnie Marie Cooper
B.S., P.E.
JACKSONVILLE, N. C.

Dikean.

We shudder to think what we would have done without this shining light of the diamond. No small amount of the class' baseball fame is the result of her pep and enthusiasm. But the other ways in which she has brought fame to '26 are just as great. In fact, here is one splendid unit of our class, representative of many of its phases.

Margaret Vann Copeland
A.B.
ASHOSKIE, N. C.

Dikean; French Club (2, 3, 4); Proctor (2, 3); Education Club (4).

Petite doesn't express Margaret. She's more than that. Sweet doesn't express her either—she's even more than that. But the combination of the two, blended with a goodly amount of old-fashioned horse sense, and a fair amount of philosophy all her own, will produce none other than—Margaret!

Senior Class

Elizabeth Cowan

B.S., H.E.

APEX, N. C.

Cornelian; Proctor (2); Vice-House President (3); Chemistry Club (3); Home Economics Club (3, 4).

Big brown eyes and conspicuous dimples make one look twice at Elizabeth. Her personality is one that grows with acquaintance, not only in charm, but in strength of character. When you know her lovable disposition, her high ideals, and her many capabilities, you can readily see why her classmates and everyone holds her in such high esteem.

Lolita Griffith Cox

B.S., P.E.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Dikean; A. A. Cabinet (4); Orchesus (4).

"Tee hee!" Lolita has been heard from! That little giggle has already become one of the class traditions. Many will be the times that we will long to hear it after '26 has been scattered over the state. There's a profound mystery about her—how on earth did she ever manage to get through this last year without Charlotta?

Marie Josephine Coxe

B.S., H.E.

RED SPRINGS, N. C.

Cornelian; Flora Macdonald College (1); Spanish Club (3, 4); Chemistry Club (3, 4); Home Economics Art Club (3, 4).

We have found Marie loyal, sincere, sympathetic, artistic, optimistic, sweet and kind—the same yesterday, to-day and to-morrow. We are proud to call her classmate, and know success and a host of friends will always be hers in the future.

Bertie Ratliffe Craig

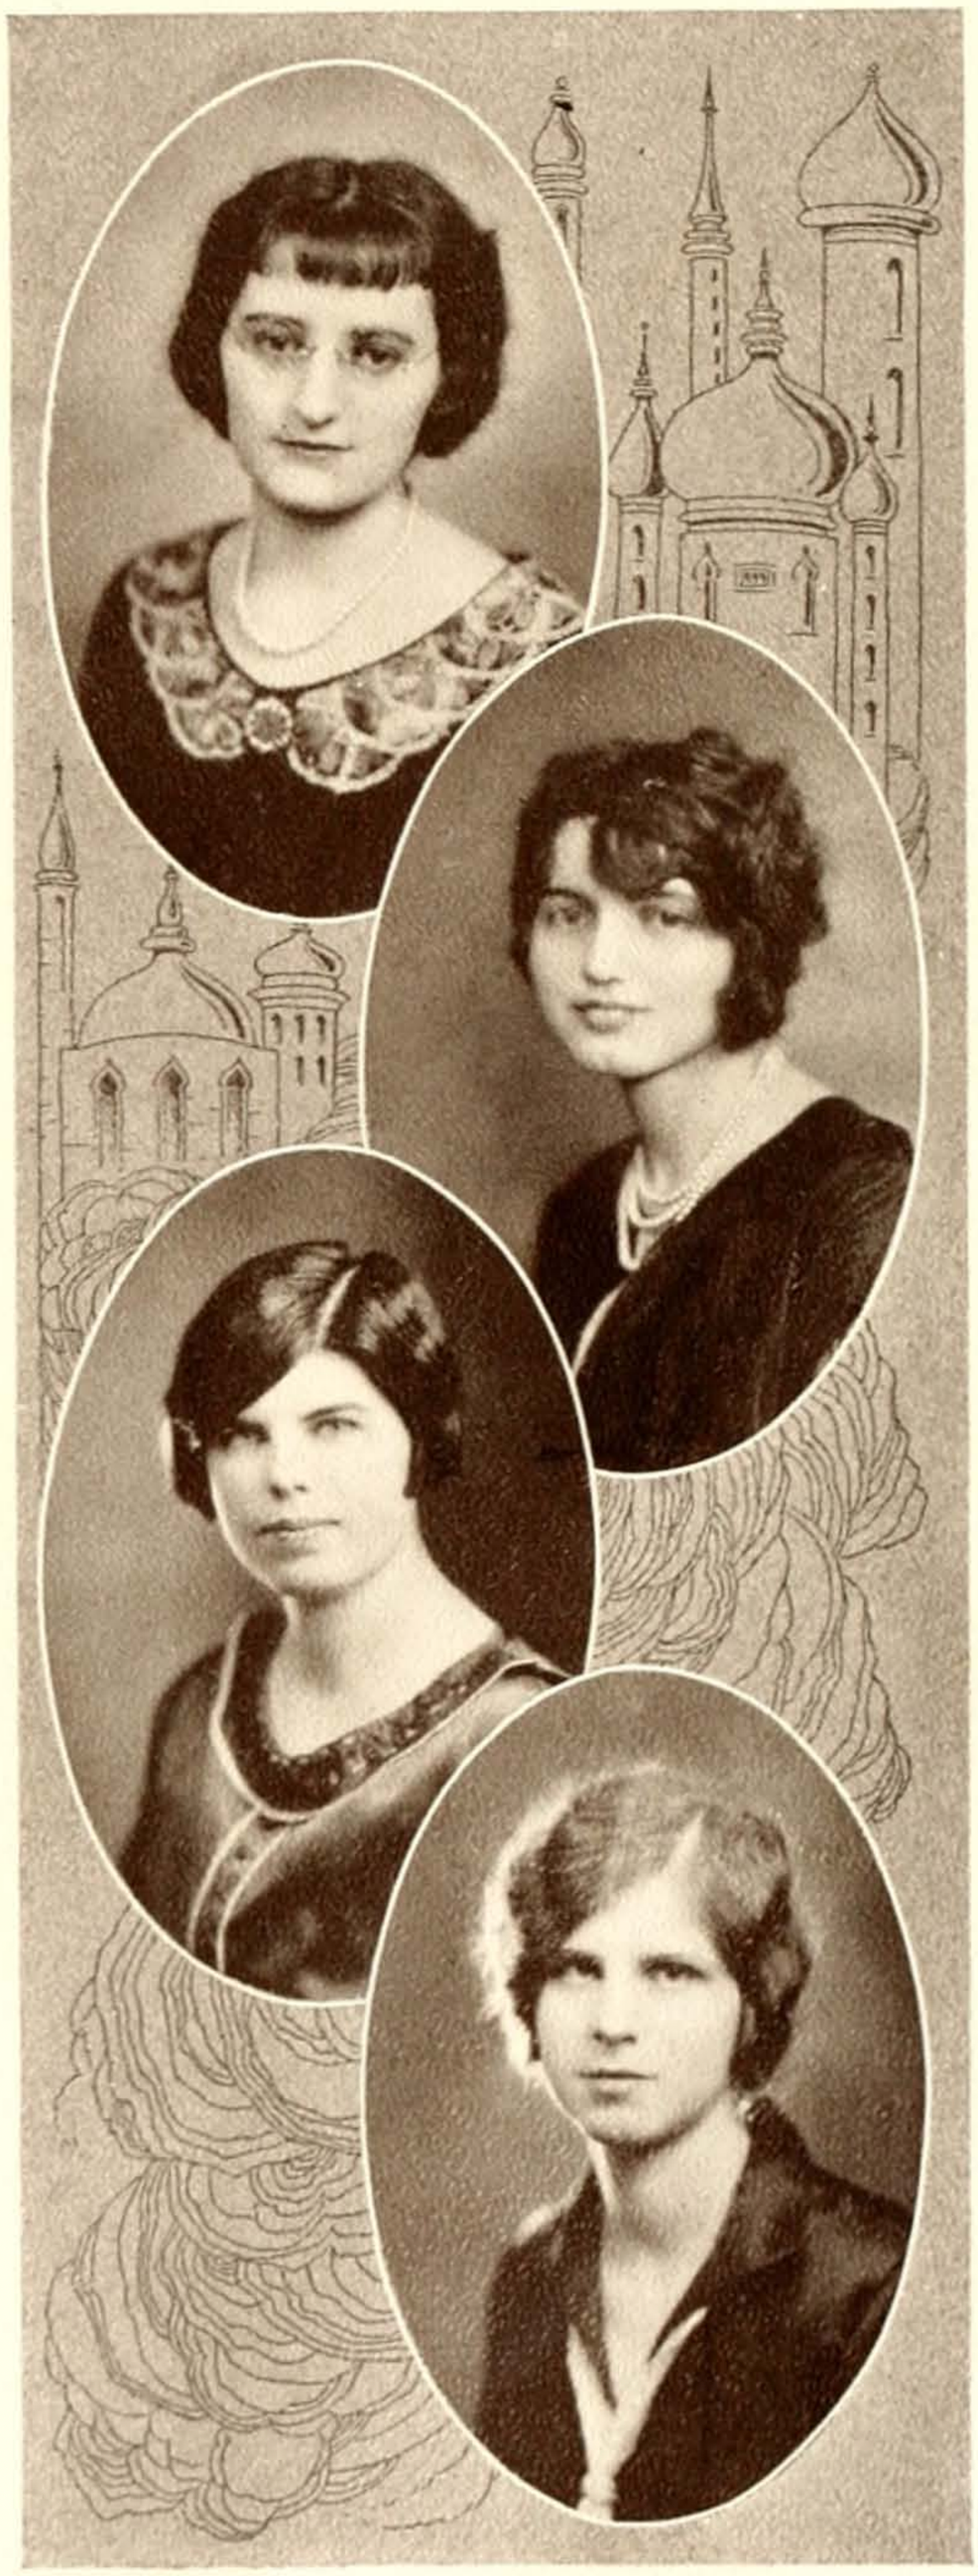

A.B.

REIDSVILLE, N. C.

Adelphian; Track Team (1); College Choir (1, 2, 3, 4); Orchestra (1); Education Club (3, 4); Quill Club (3, 4); Secretary Quill Club (3); Toastmistress Junior-Senior Banquet (3); Class Critic (3); "Carolinian" Staff (3); "Coraddi" Staff (3); Editor-in-Chief "Pine Needles" (4).

And here is a girl! For the rumored fast-disappearing combination of brains and good looks see Bertie. True wit, versatility, ambition, independence, capability, and sincerity—all moulded into one. Athletic and literary,—again an infrequent combination. She possesses an unusually striking personality with all its implications. For a typically typical Southern girl, see Bertie.

Senior Class

Annie Sprinkle Crouch
A.B.
MAYODAN, N. C.

Dikean.

The best is not good enough to say about Annie. She is intellectual and a fond lover of the beautiful—in poetry, music, and art. She is diligent, persevering in all that she undertakes, and capable of any trust. True, sincere, unselfish, lovable and loyal.

Tallu James Crumley
A.B.
CHARLOTTE, N. C.

French Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Spanish Club (3, 4); International Relations Club (3, 4); Proctor (2).

Tallu's sweet disposition and friendly manner have won for her many friends. She is a dear, kind, gentle girl—always the same. Besides her charming personality, she is studious and ambitious. We are sure that the doors of success are open before her.

Christina Crystal Curtis
A.B.
ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (1, 2); Proctor (3); Education Club (3, 4); International Relations Club (3, 4); Secretary of International Relations Club (4).

Christina is known to be one of the shining stars among us. She has that native brilliance which is spontaneous and overflowing. Her friendliness, sincerity, and good sense of humor have endeared her to all our hearts. She is a girl whose friendship is of supreme value.

Clara Jamesey Dail
A.B.
EDENTON, N. C.

Dikean; French Club (1); Proctor (3).

Her air, her manners, all who saw admired. Courteous, though coy; and gentle, though retiring; the joy and health in her eyes displayed, and ease of heart her every look conveyed.

Senior Class

Venice Davenport
A.B.

SANFORD, N. C.

Cornelian; Spanish Club, '24-'25-'26; French Club, '23-'24; Education Club, '25.

"Who is Venice, what is she?"—Indeed, so many things clamor to be said that our space is far too limited. In her we find good sportsmanship, an unusually winning personality, and one equally as attractive in person. A clever and discriminating girl is she, ever on the "qui vive," whose friendship is always true and sincere. In short, she possesses that "illusive, intangible, indefinable quality—charm."

Jane Violet Davidson
A.B.

MOORESVILLE, N. C.

Cornelian; Spanish Club (2, 3, 4); Botany Club (3, 4); Education Club (4); Vice-House President (4).

Jane—an unassuming name for a girl of exceptional ability. Initiative, good nature, generosity, a clear mind and much ingenuity are her gifts.

Martha Neal Deaton
A.B.

STATESVILLE, N. C.

Cornelian; College Chorus (1); Proctor (1, 2, 3); Vice-House President (4); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (1); Vice-President Cornelian Society (3); Cornelian Marshal (4); Toaster at Junior-Senior Banquet (3).

To every girl on the campus "Skinny" Deaton is a synonym for congeniality. Her endless amount of enthusiasm, her witty remarks, and her ability to entertain and enliven the bluest crowd, combined with frankness and a keen sense of loyalty and sincerity, certainly bespeak a unique personality.

Mary Moore Deaton
B.S., P.E.

MOORESVILLE, N. C.

D[illegible]n; Basketball Team (2, 3); Track Team (2); Hockey Team (3, 4); Baseball Squad (3); Soccer Team (4); Class Secretary (3); A. A. Treasurer (3); "Carolinian" Reporter (3); President of Physical Ed. Majors (3); A. A. Secretary (4); House President (4); French Club (2); Education Club (4).

Impulsive and lovable with a glowing vitality that leaves you breathless, and a spontaneous joy in life that is irresistible.

Senior Class

Willie Dellinger
B.S., H.E.
WILMINGTON, N. C.

Cornelian; Chemistry Club (3, 4); Houe Economics Art Club (3, 4); Education Club (4).

Bill—a sincere, appealing, and unusual Senior! She is friendly, sympathetic and good natured. This is why everyone can find a friend in her. We wish for "Bill" a life filled with sunshine and joy.

Frances Watson Dickinson
B.S., H.E.
GREENVILLE, N. C.

Dikean; Class Critic (1); French Club (2); Chemistry Club (2, 3); Home Economics Club (2, 3); House of Representatives (2, 3); Advertising Manager Playlikers (4); Vice-President Dikean Society (4).

Not at all affectionate, nor yet indifferent, she strikes a happy medium. Never in the limelight, but ever willing to donate her intrinsic worth to any cause. Although it is with a pang of regret now that she leaves us, we could not wish to delay that predicted bright future. Artistically inclined and unusually sincere—Frances.

Mary Louise Dixon
A.B.
TRENTON, N. C.

Cornelian; Classical Club, '22-'23; French Club, '22-'23-'25.

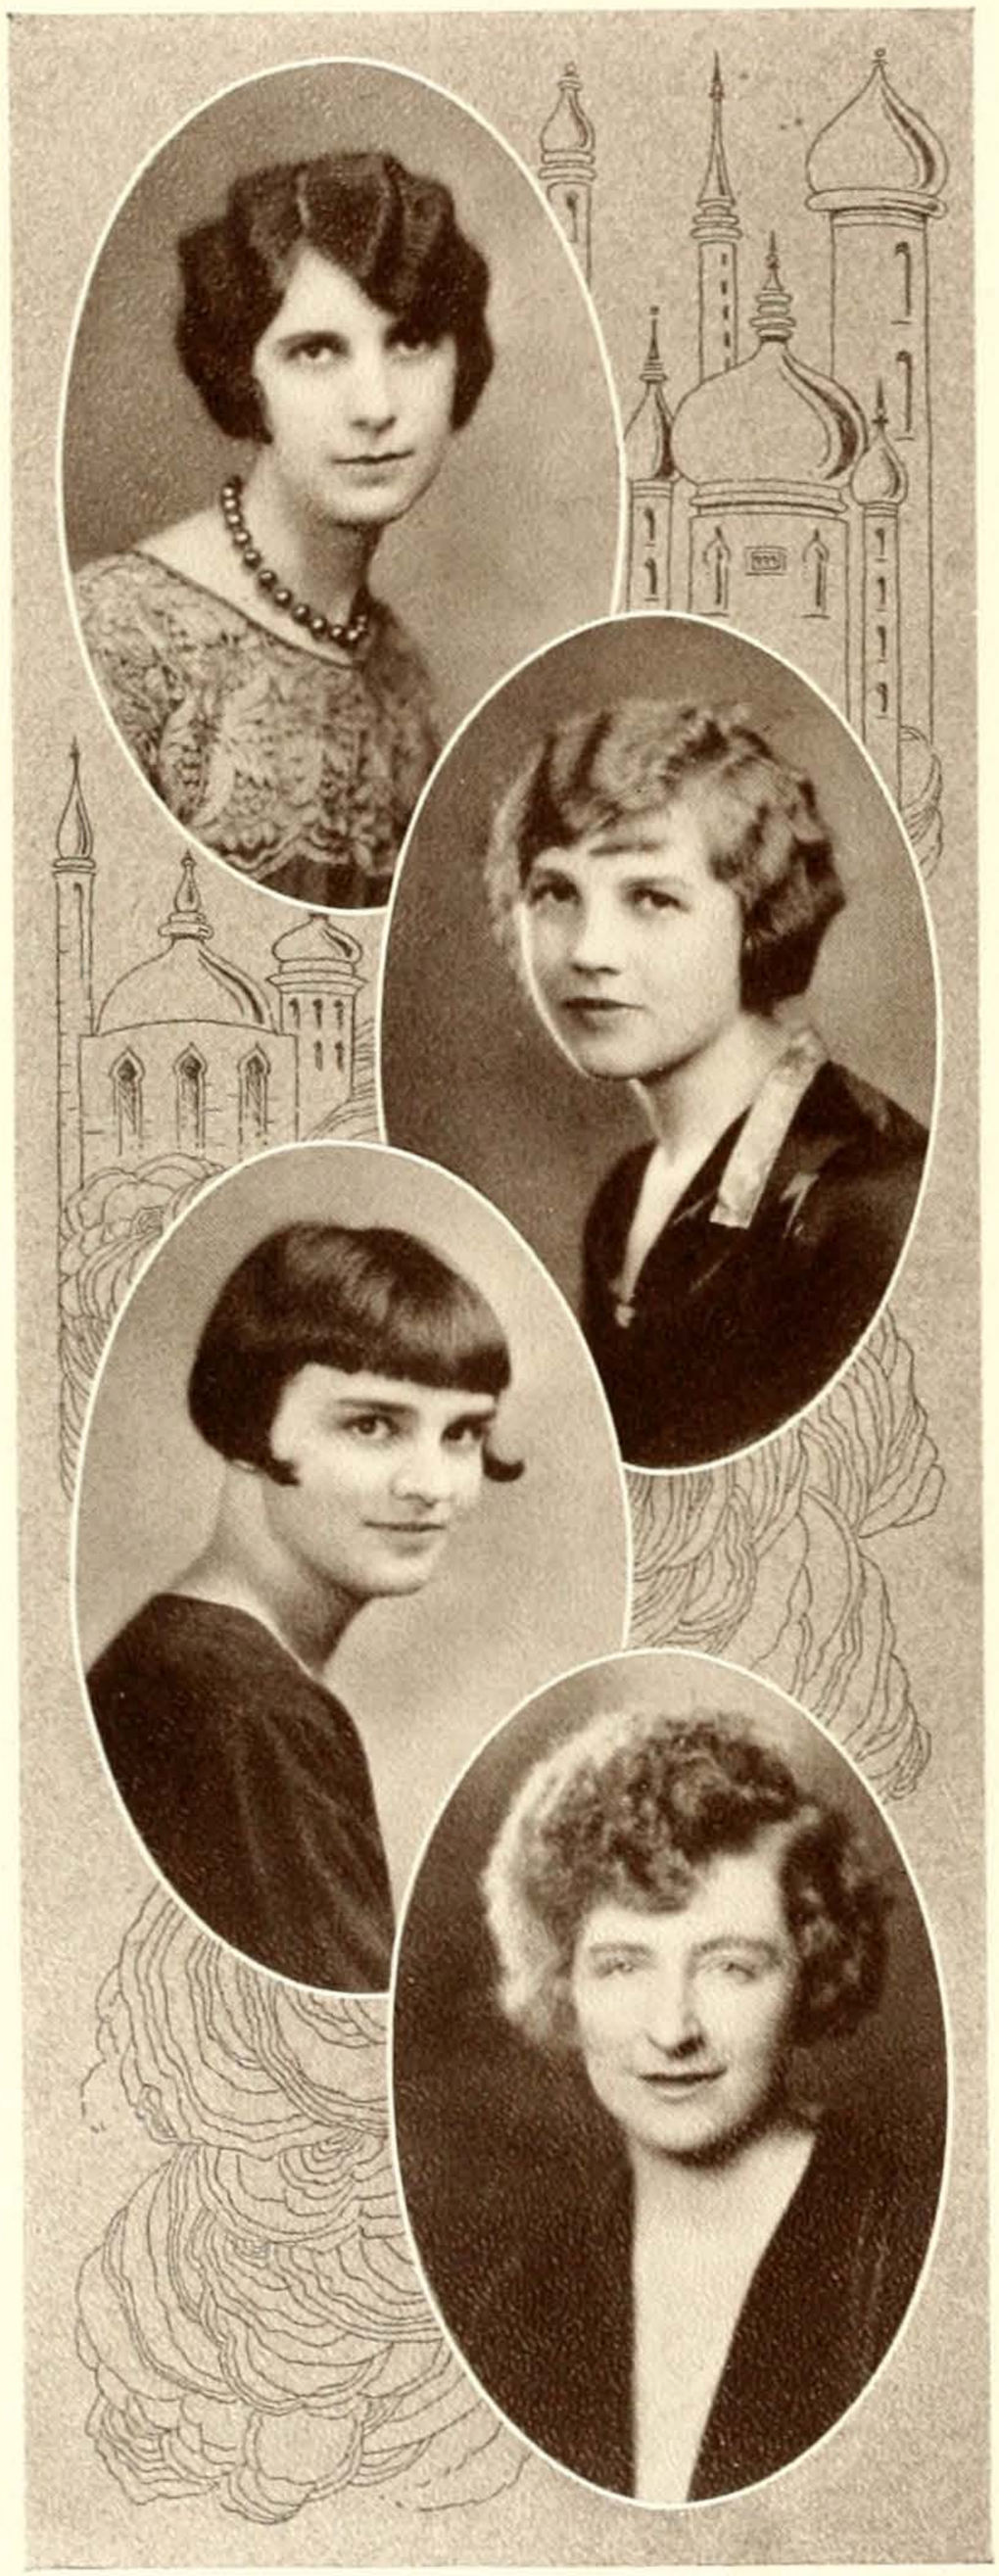

There are but few who know the treasures hidden in Louise. In all her actions she is serious, provident and wise. Whatever she aims to accomplish, she never misses her goal, you may depend upon it. A faithful student she is. Her ways are true and noble; her friendship lasting.

Miriam Kilpatrick Dobbins
A.B.
RUTHERFORDTON, N. C.

Adelphian; Education Club (4).

By looking at her you would never suspect that this quiet, quaint sort of a girl possesses rare, biting wit and cleverness that is most interesting. Her carefully worked out philosophy is saved from bitterness by her fine sense of humour and her love of the beautiful.

Senior Class

Mary Helene Griffin

A.B. (Summer School)

GOLDSBORO, N. C.

Adelphian; Corresponding Secretary of Adelphian Society (3); Chemistry Club (3, 4).

Tall and lithe, with a saucy toss of her dark head, a twinkle in her brown eyes, and a characteristic swish—is Helene. Serious and even deep at times, merry and mischievous at others, she wears her flashing promise and indifferently regards the present as a stepping stone to other things.

Anne Elizabeth Grossman

A.B.

SPENCER, N. C.

Dikean; Track (2, 3, 4); Hockey Squad (3, 4); Soccer Squad (4); Hiking Leader (4); N. C. Monogram.

Hair that has caught sunshine in its meshes; grey eyes that dance gladsomely to-day, perhaps, with a spark of their yesterday's restlessness still in their depths; a lover's heart that is shared with all the lovers in the world; high ideals and noble ambitions along with good common sense —this is "Tay."

Bess Guilford

A.B.

AURORA, N. C.

Adelphian; Proctor (1, 3); House of Representatives (4).

A better friend than Bess could not be found. We look for her in time of joy and of trouble and she never fails us. She has the respect of both faculty and students, attested by the fact that she majors in math. May her life be full of smiles.

Sarah Elizabeth Gulley

A.B.

GREENVILLE, N. C.

Dikean; French Club; Education Club (4); "Carolinian" (3, 4); Class Social Chairman (4); Dance Drama (3); Soccer Squad (4); Proctor (4).

Have you noticed that Senior with the sure 'nough curly hair? Yes, "Miss Ditch." No, she isn't our Senior flapper, but a person who has a good time, and yet knows how to work. A Senior who can dance, write, study, read the deepest of books, and then end the day with a date. For conversation with this fair lady, you should be interested in Cornell, like mountaineers, and always crave "Sweet Williams."

Senior Class

Elizabeth Elliott
A.B.
EDENTON, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (2); Education Club (3).

In Elizabeth you find that delightful mingling of sunny-hearted irresponsibility in fun and of deep earnestness in work and friendship—she can be dignified and poised when the occasion demands, but when it doesn't she is a jolly good sport.

Ruth English
A.B.
ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Dikean.

"Jennie Ruth," in all her innocent sweetness and simplicity of manner, not only has won our hearts, but has added her charm and loveliness to make up the best that is in our college. Here's wishing for her the best o' luck!

Esther Leah Epstein
A.B.
GOLDSBORO, N. C.

Cornelian; Secretary of Class (1); House of Representatives (1, 3); Corresponding Secretary of Society (2); Vice-House President (3); Chairman of Junior-Senior Banquet (3); Treasurer of Society (4); Advertising Manager of "Carolinian" (4); Education Club (3, 4).

Seriously dignified one moment, happy to the point of hilarity the next—Esther Leah goes from one extreme to the other. You can't stay blue under the influence of her contagious, joyous laugh; nor can you remain fearful for the result of any entertainment in which she has a hand.

Louise Ervin
B.S., P.E.
RICHLANDS, N. C.

Adelphian; Hockey Team (1, 2 3); Captain and Manager (2); Soccer Team (3); Track Team (2, 3); Varsity Track (3); Education Club (4); International Relations Club (3, 4).

Here's another of the "good ole standbys" of '26. Ever since her freshman year, Louise has taken an active part in campus affairs. She is a good sport and a good friend under any circumstance. The fineness of her character makes us proud that she belongs to Green and White.

Senior Class

Eva Lind Eure

B.S., H.E.

NORLINA, N. C.

Dikean; Charter Member of Chemistry Club (3, 4); Home Economics Art Club (3, 4); French Club (4); Education Club (4).

Such a charming and modest personality, as is Eva's, is as beautiful as it is rare. She has that individual charm which attracts everyone with whom she comes in contact. Her sincerity, unselfishness and reliability have won for her many friends.

Elizabeth Faircloth

A.B.

CLINTON, N. C.

Everyone hails her as "Cousin Liz." In this little bit of a girl we find a pal, a sport, and a thoroughly attractive girl. She is a combination of indifference and charm, but indifferent as she appears to be, you can find no better friend.

Ruth Madeline Fanning

A.B.

ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Adelphian; Spanish Club (2, 3, 4).

Her friends will testify that she is loyal, genuine and attractive. Her grades will testify that she is a splendid student. A survivor of Freshman math and now a major! But trust Ruth to carry on, for she has perseverance and is perfectly capable of ordering a highly successful future.

Ruth Hester Farlow

A.B.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

Spanish Club (2, 3, 4).

Ruth is a girl who does her work conscientiously, treats her friends squarely, and goes on her way smiling. Although she has been a town student for two years, Ruth has won her place among us and we hate to give her up. We know success will follow her always.

Senior Class

Eula Belle Farmer
B.A.

SALISBURY, N. C.

Adelphian; Education Club (4).

"Rip, Ray" for Eula Belle! Always happy and always ready to help someone. We all love you and we extend to you our heartiest good wishes, hoping that in the future you will bring as much happiness to others as you have to us.

Leona Sue Feagan
A.B.

COLUMBUS, N. C.

Dikean; Education Club (4).

Here is a girl who possesses a pleasing mixture of vivacity, wit and charm. Her favorite pastime is talking,—and we like to hear her talk. Blue Mondays do not trouble her, but she'd crown you with any convenient object if you were to hint that she was a Pollyanna. Her optimism is the right kind.

Lillian Grey Fetter
B.S.M.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

Aletheian; Vice-President of Class (1); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (2); Charter Member Aletheian Society (1); Secretary of Aletheian Society (2); College Chorus (1, 2, 3, 4); Secretary College Chorus (3); German Club (1, 2); Marshal (3); Proctor (3); Junior-Senior Toastmistress (3).

An unusual girl is Grey. She is interesting—perhaps because she is not afraid to express her own ideas, yet subtle enough to make you want to learn more about her. It is a rare thing to find such perfect frankness combined with a charming personality.

Lala May Fields
A.B.

PLEASAST GARDEN, N. C.

Dikean; French Club, '23; Botany Club, '24-'25; Education Club, '25.

May is one of those dependable girls who is always "Johnny-on-the-spot" when there's an occasion for work or play. Her good influence has been rightly used, when we think of her numerous efforts at evening watch and various other religious activities. Friendly, cheerful, and studious is May.

Senior Class

Ora Estelle Finch
B.S., H.E.
BAILEY, N. C.

Cornelian; Chemistry Club (3, 4); Home Economics Art Club (3, 4); French Club (4); Education Club (4).

To know Ora intimately, to recognize her ambition and enthusiasm, never detracts from one's first impression—that of steady charm and reserved dignity. One may find her tactfully mischievous at times, but this further proves her personality and gives added vim to those around her.

Mary Katharine Fisher
A.B.
SALISBURY, N. C.

Dikean; Proctor, '25; Baseball, '24.

Dignified, fun loving, keenly enjoying a crowd, and always considerate of others, but not one to be trampled upon. Mary Katharine is good at everything from music to the calculus. She doesn't advertise, but those of us who know her are proud to be her friends.

Mary Alice Fowler
B.S.M.
GREENSBORO, N. C.

Cornelian; Phoenix Club (2, 3, 4); College Choir (1, 2, 3, 4); French Club (1, 2); Education Club (3, 4).

"Girls, have you—" and we know that Mary Alice is coming. It is she who has proved to be "a friend o' man." The phrase stamps only a part of her personality, but an important part. In a serious and philosophical mood? Go to Mary Alice. Jolly and humorous? Then go to Mary Alice.

Sarah Dorothy Franklin
B.S., H.E.
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Aletheian; Home Economics Art Club, '25-'26.

Sarah has been with us only two years, but in those two she has become one of the most popular and best loved girls on the campus. We don't know exactly what she will do when she leaves, —and we hardly think that she knows,—but one thing we are sure of: whatever she does she will do whole-heartedly and well.

Senior Class

Frances Garner
A.B.
WAYNESVILLE, N. C.

Dikean; Guilford College (1); French Club (2, 3); House Committee (3).

Beneath an exterior of quiet reserve the ability to succeed where others fail, the power of minute discrimination, and a deep understanding of human nature are united in a student and a lover of life and its complexities.

Mary Gary
A.B.
SPENCER, N. C.

Cornelian.

Sweetness and charm characterize her. Who could see those deep blue eyes and rosy lips and not be fascinated? These charms and qualities have endeared Mary to the hearts of all her classmates. And if she continues to have a good disposition, and to be sweet and unaffected, we are sure she will succeed.

Elizabeth Carroway Gaskins
A.B.
GREENVILLE, N. C.

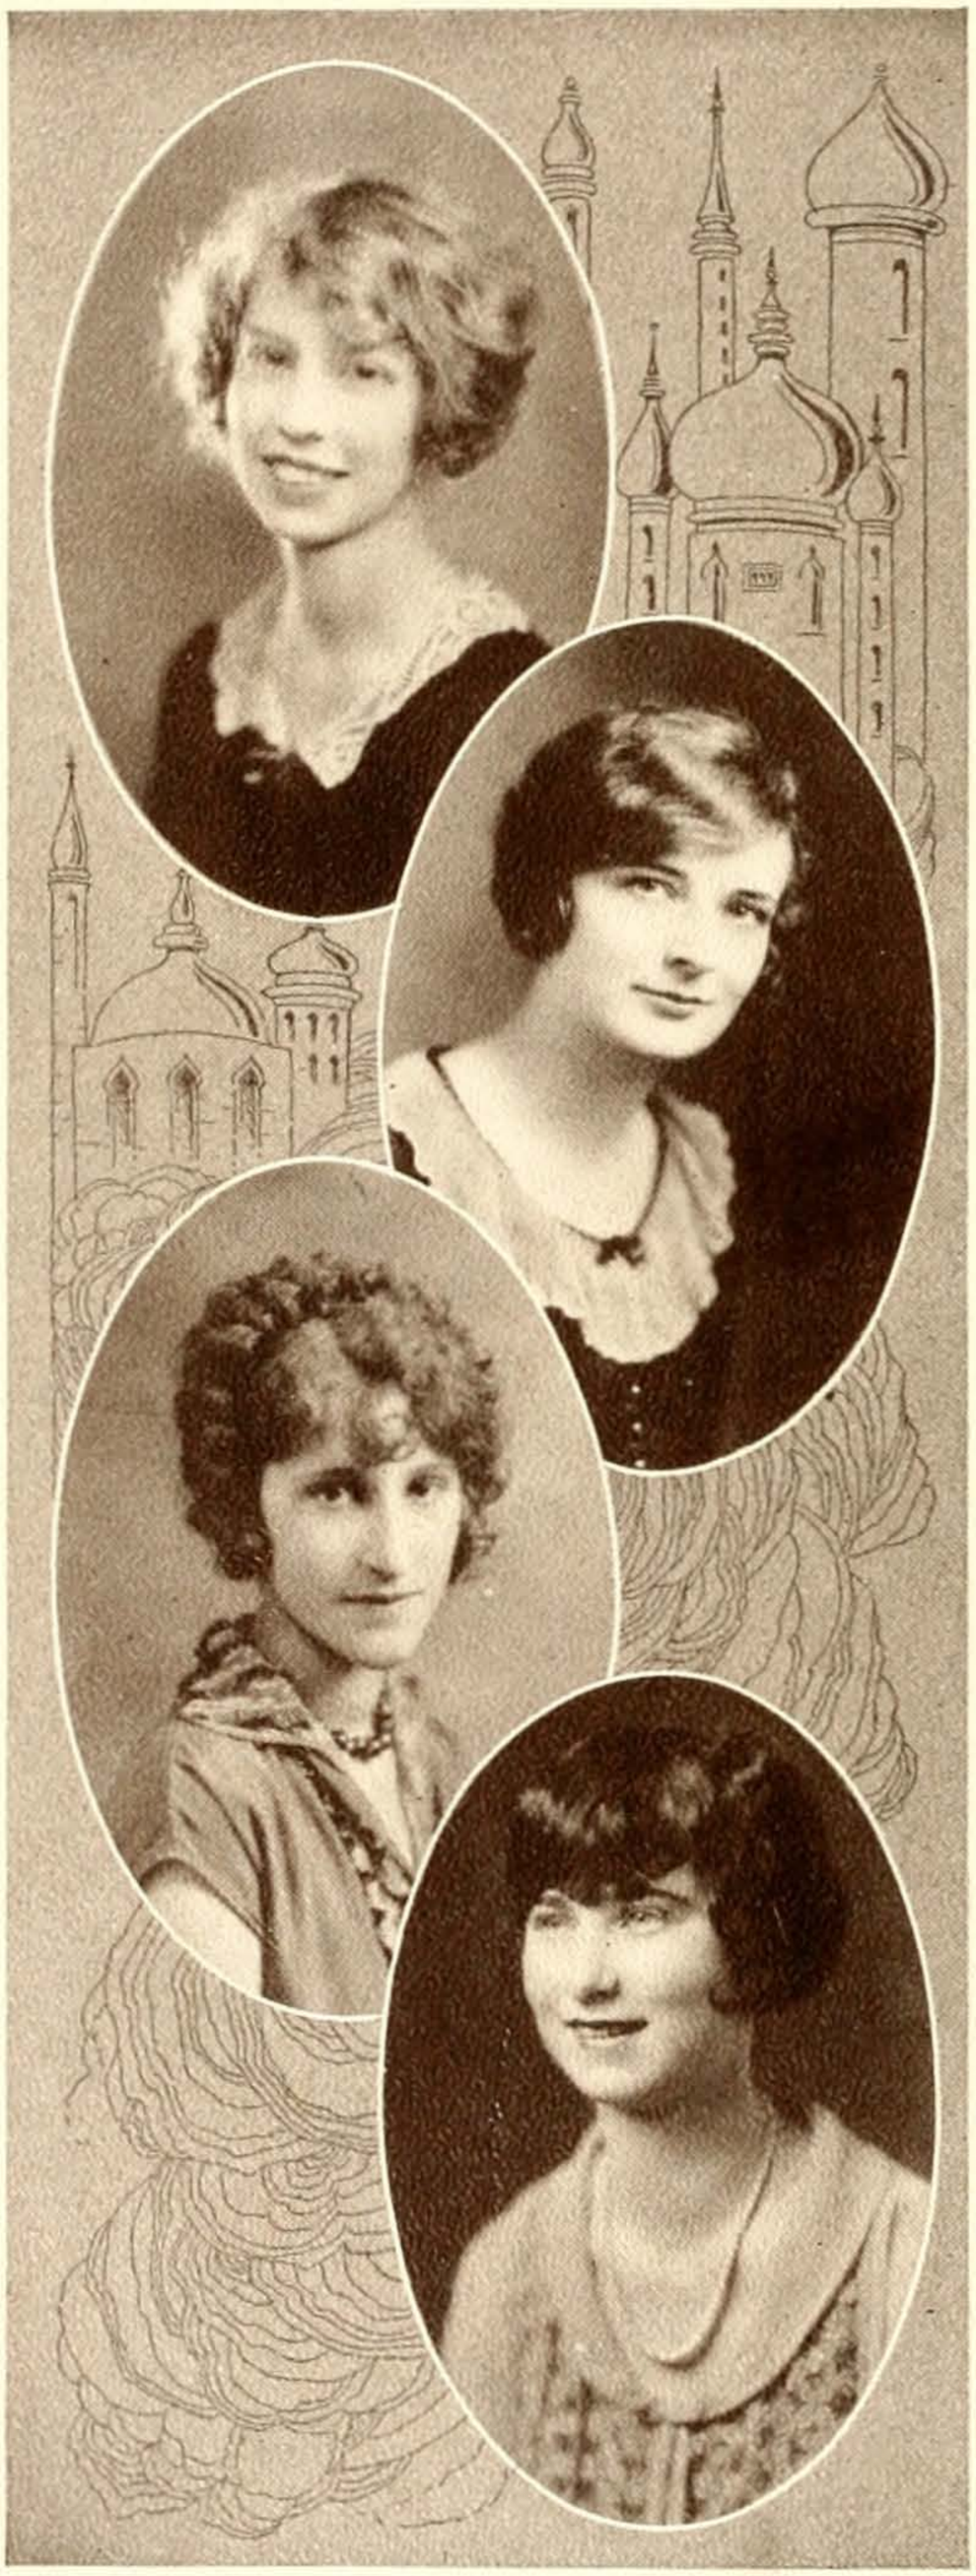

Dikean; Proctor (2); Vice-President of Class (2); French Club (1, 2, 3); Education Club (3, 4); Toaster Junior-Senior Banquet (3); Marshal (4); Senate (4); Dance Drama (3).

"Lib" is another one of our Eastern Stars. She has starred in her courses, in her good looks, and in her ability to win friends. This star has not only shone on campus but has cast its rays around so that many an admirer of the opposite sex would be forced to say that little piece of "I wish I may."

Laura Beth Gaylor
A.B.
MAGNOLIA, N. C.

Cornelian; Class Basketball Team (1, 2); Proctor (1); Class Baseball Team (2); Class Hockey Team (2); Hiking Leader (2, 4); College Chorus (1, 2, 4); Wearer of N. C. C.

In Laura Beth we find the truest of friends, a warm heart, a good report, and a smile for everyone. She has achieved much during her three years here—as a campus hiking leader, as a student, and as an athlete. And in addition to these things we certainly would say that she has no trouble ruling the hearts of men, judging from the many evidences which come by "wire," by "plane," and in "person."

Senior Class

Elizabeth Cecelia Geiger

B.S.M.

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

Adelphian; College Choir (1, 2, 3, 4); Vice-President College Choir (4); Phoenix Club (2, 3, 4); Vice-President Phoenix Club (4); German Club (3, 4); Education Club (4); Vice-House President (3).

As a good recipe for general use every day in the year, use a head of reddish gold hair, musical hands, feet, and voice, a full portion of earnest and unconscious flattery, a foundation of self-depreciation, an abundance of sensitiveness, and season generously with giggles over every occurrence of life. Or, in other words, "Lib."

Anna Lee Gentry

B.S.M.

SOUTH BOSTON, VA.

Aletheian; Y. W. C. A. Choir (1); House of Representatives (2); Proctor (2); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (2); Vice-President Aletheian Society (3); College Choir (3, 4); College Orchestra (3, 4); Marshal (4); Aletheian Charter Member.

Enthusiasm is the keynote of Anna Lee's character, whether she is working for society, studying, or playing the role of saleslady—we have known and admired her many good qualities, but it was only recently that we discovered her remarkable business ability.

Lillian Gholson

B.S., Public School Music

GOLDSBORO, N. C.

Cornelian; French Club (1); Proctor (3); House of Representatives (2, 3); Phoenix Club (2, 3, 4); Dance Drama (3); New Girl Play (1).

There can be but one "Billie" on the campus, and she is one of the most capable, lovable, and attractive girls we know. Her mass of curls crowns a head full of originality, making her the unusual combination of beauty and brains, whom one is proud to call "friend."

Mary Ruby Gibson

A.B.

LAURINBURG, N. C.

Dikean; French Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Education Club (3, 4); Vice-President Education Club (3, 4); Proctor (3).

Gentle, sweet, sympathetic, a dash of humor—these are the characteristics of Ruby, which give her a quiet charm and a friendly spirit. Then, I like her lovely clothes, her glorious auburn hair—don't let her know I told you its color; she thinks it's red—and her gay little giggle.

Senior Class

Florence Claire Gilley

A.B.

SPRAY, N. C.

Cornelian; Proctor (2); French Club (1, 2, 3); Spanish Club (2, 3); Education (4).

And who is this merry sprite who frolics so blithely through a trying world? 'Tis Claire, the joyous pal of our dreams. Here is the spirit of L'Allegro. Surely the world will be a bit happier and a bit more beautiful because she has lived in it.

Janie Gold Gooch

A.B.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.

Cornelian; House of Representatives (1); Hockey Team (1); Proctor (2); Vice-House President (3); Education Club (3, 4).

If you do not have the opportunity to know this dignified young lady, you will fail to love one of the most loyal friends a girl can have, because it is impossible to know her without appreciating those ideals for which she stands. Success shall surely be hers.

Sara Lee Goode

A.B.

BLACKSBURG, S. C.

Cornelian; Davenport College (1); Spanish Club (2); Proctor (4); Zoology Field Club (4).

Sara Lee's the sort of girl you like to have around when you are in trouble or in desperate need of aid. There's about her, too, a certain reserve and dignity which commands one's attention and respect. Then, added to this is an inclination toward things literary. What more could you ask?

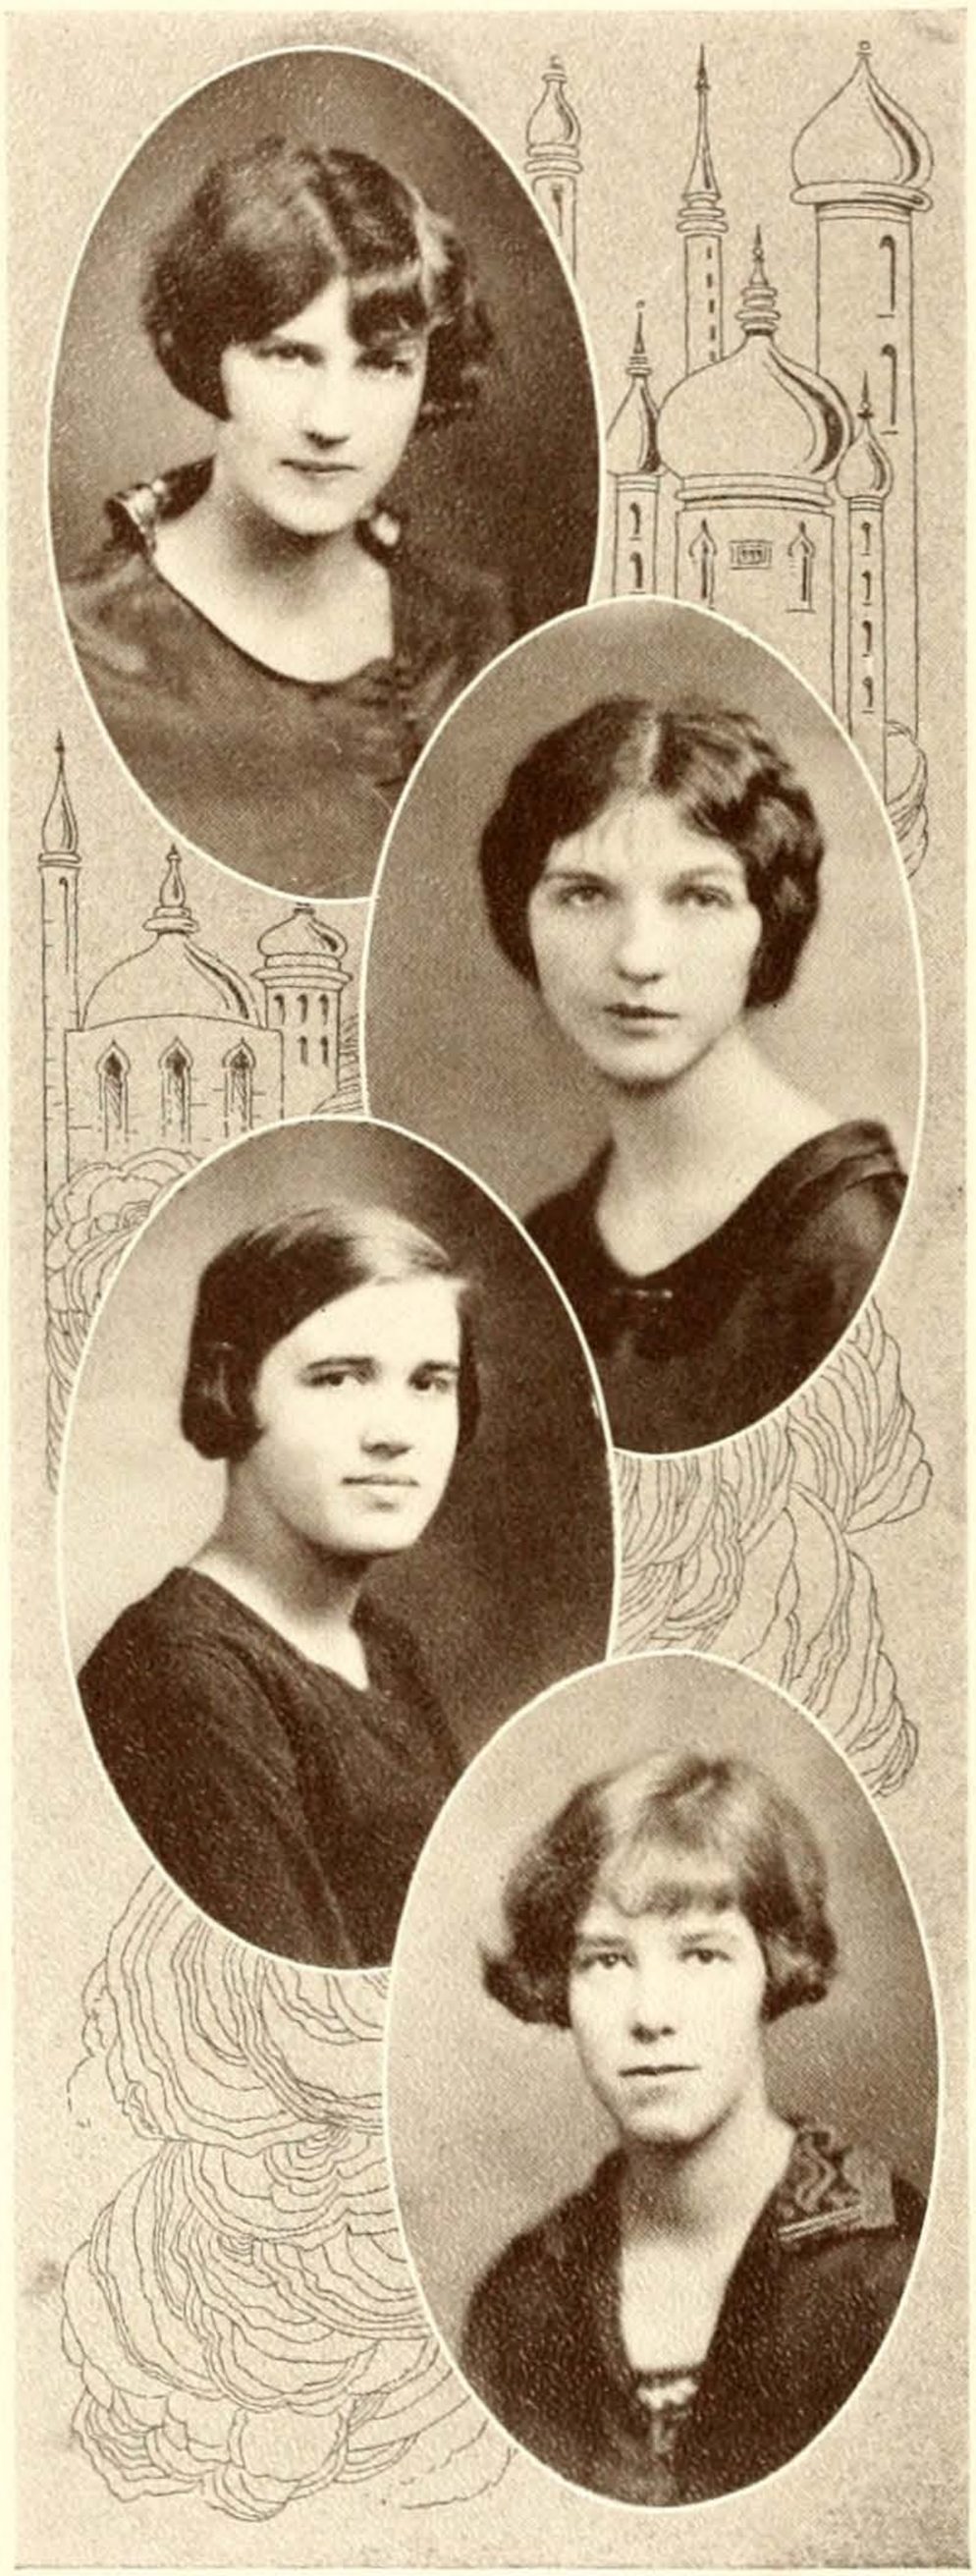

Edith Adele Goodwin

A.B.

MORGANTON, N. C.

Cornelian; Orchestra, '23; Proctor, '24; "Coraddi" Staff, '24; German Club, '25; Chemistry Club, '25-'26; Zoology Field Club, '25-'26; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet, '26.

The Future speaks:
"Light in your eyes says, 'Years! Years!'
There grows more reason in your tears.
There grows more pity in your smile.
Dreams beset you and beguile."
The Present Speaks:
"How dull it were to pause, to make an end
To rust unburnished, not to shine in use!
As though to breathe were life! Life piled on life!
Were all too little . . . . . "

Senior Class

Marion M. Gorham

B.S., H.E.

TARBORO, N. C.

Dikean; Greensboro College (1); Vice-House President A. H. Shaw (2); Spanish Club (2); House of Representatives (3); Corresponding Secretary of Dikean Society (3); Chemistry Club (3, 4); Home Economics Club (3, 4); Marshal (4).

"She's a good old girl." How often and how truly has this been said of Marion. Her sympathy and charm have won for her many friends. She has ability in lines other than winning friends, which, with her enthusiasm, will carry her far in her career, whether it be teaching or home-making.

Katherine Grantham

A.B.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

Cornelian; Orchestra (1, 2, 3); Society Debater (2); Classical Club (1, 2); French Club (1).

Katherine is brilliant, keenly satirical, intolerant of shibboleths and of complacency, and interesting for her own unusual personality. No idea, no person is too sacred or too little for her laughter. She is an earnest lover of all beauty in nature, poetry and art—a friend to fit one's every need.

Mary Alice Gray

A.B.

CARY, N. C.

Adelphian; Spanish Club (2, 3, 4).

Beneath a certain quietness and reserve there lurks fine qualities; a friendly heart which warms to those who care; a generous spirit which would share its best; a diligence at work which all admire; and more, there's fun you like to see.

Frances Vail Gray

B.S., P.E.

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH, N. C.

Dikean; Hockey Team, '22-'23; Proctor, '22-'23; Hockey Team, '25-'26; Swimming Sport Manager, '25-'26; Education Club, '25-'26.

Vail's reputation at college rests upon the active part she has taken in athletics. Proficient in all, she excels in swimming, establishing the rep of the best fish on campus. Though small of stature, Vail possesses that tenacity of purpose that commands respect and makes for success. The outstanding elements of the personality that has made her popular on campus are a commanding spirit tempered by an irresistible sweetness and lovableness.

Senior Class

Laura Lockwood Dry
A.B.

ALBEMARLE, N. C.

Dikean; Chemistry Club (3, 4); House of Representatives (4).

A girl whose quality is unmistakable; a girl whose character is genuine; a girl whose personality is lovable—Laura is all this and more.

Kathleen Holt Dyer
A.B.

SALISBURY, N. C.

Dikean; House of Representatives (2, 3); Fire Lieutenant (3); Varsity Track Team (3); Vice-House President (4); Education Club (4).

Not the same yesterday, to-day or to-morrow—just a wee bit moody. There is none better than old Kathleen. Even though small of stature, she possesses a big heart, a keen sense of duty and a broad understanding. A most unusual girl, doing and saying the most unusual things.

Mardecia Eaker
A.B.

BESSEMER CITY, N. C.

Adelphian; Elon College (1).

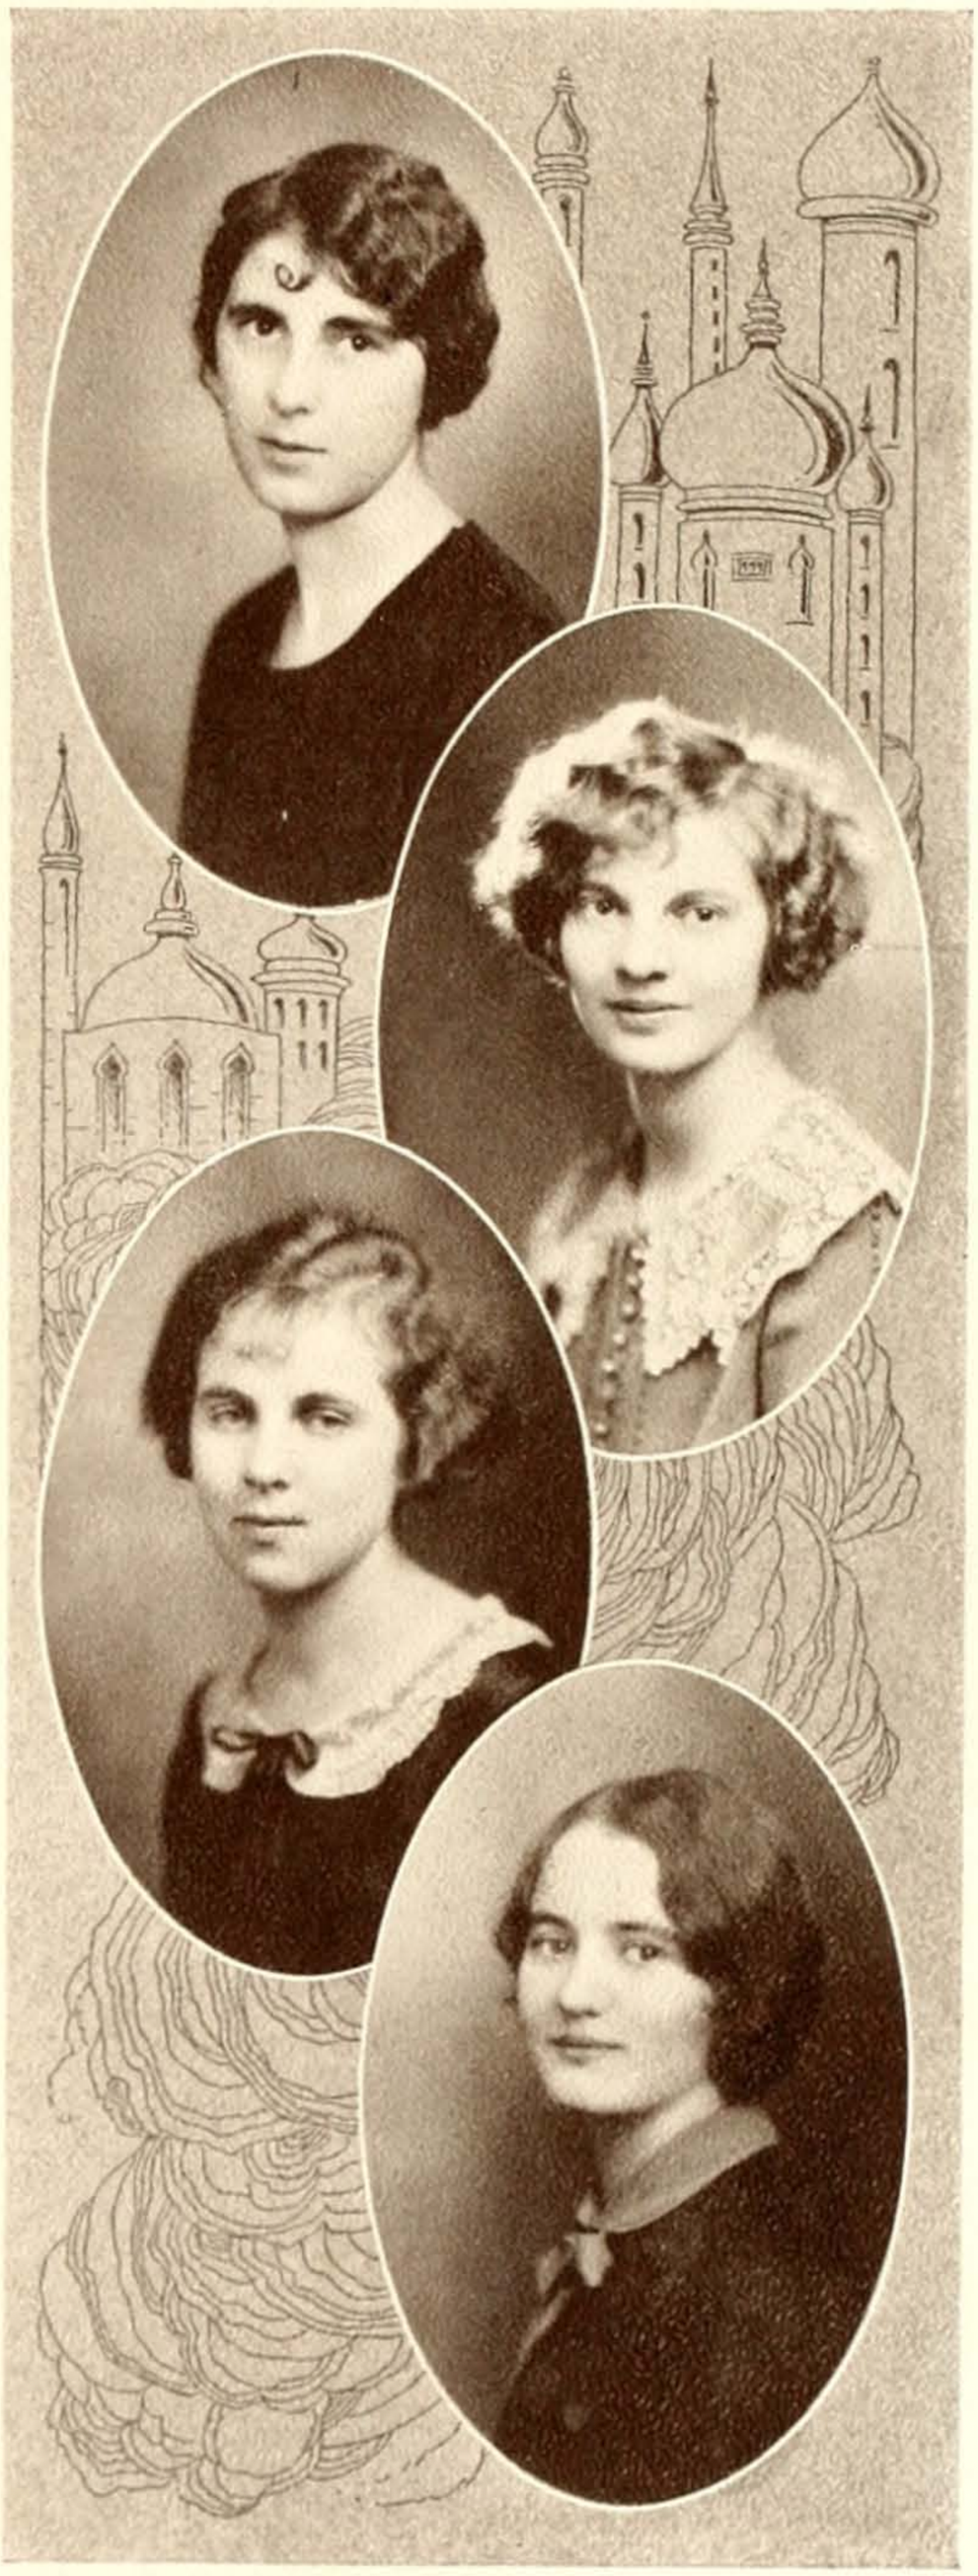

Her's is an understanding soul; a quiet, serene soul, intent of purpose, and overflowing with sympathy and tolerance. 'Decia is an unusual girl, but even her artistic and poetic temperament does not prevent her from being the dearest friend one would wish to have.

Aylene Elizabeth Edwards
A.B.

RUTHERFORDTON, N. C.

Adelphian; Hockey Squad (1); Hockey Team (2, 4); Track Team (2); Classical Club (1); French Club (2, 3, 4); Education Club (4).

Guided by the highest ideals, Aylene works hard, plays hard and strives for perfection in whatever she undertakes. A keen, alert mind, strong body and a burning ambition are her tools. The foundations are well laid, the completed edifice promises to be a thing of beauty, strength, wonder.

Senior Class

Dorothy Chapple Hale

A.B.

WINTON, N. C.

Cornelian; Proctor (1); "Carolinian" Reporter (2); French Club (3); Education Club (3, 4).

"To know her is to love her" truly applies to Dot, for you love her at first sight. You cannot be around her long without catching some of the merry winsomeness and vivacious wit that constitutes her charm. But behind this gaiety there is a profound seriousness which she tries to hide, except on rare occasions. If there be faith in wishes, we say—Long Live Dot.

Kate Chamberlin Hall

A.B.

ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Aletheian; Assistant Editor "Coraddi" (2, 4); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (2); Secretary Student Government (3); Student Coach of Playlikers (4); Charter Member of Aletheian Society; Editor of College Handbook (4); Quill Club (3, 4).

Any attempt to do her justice is mockery.

Margaret Grayson Halyburton

A.B.

CANTON, N. C.

Dikean; French Club (3); Botanical Club (3); Education Club (4).

With a resolute and dependable nature based on a groundwork of assurance, Margaret never allows trivialities to prevent her from carrying out her policies. As a friend she is indispensable, for she is one of the rarest of creatures, a sympathetic listener, as she listens her whimsical and clever comments cheer us in our moments of despondency and amuse us in times of lighter moods.

Gwendolyn Hampton

A.B.

LEAKSVILLE, N. C.

Cornelian; Class Hockey Team (1, 2, 3, 4); Captain Hockey Team (3, 4); Varsity Hockey Team (3); College Hockey Leader (4); Class Track Team (2); Class Soccer Team (4); French Club (2); International Relations (3, 4); Fire Lieutenant (3); Vice-House President (4).

It's an old refrain, and just as true as it's old; "True friends are rare." Gwen, however, is a rare girl, and anyone who knows her knows what her friendship means. Her sincerity, loyalty, and practical common sense, along with her exceptional ability to cope with almost any situation, make her a combination both admirable and enviable.

Senior Class

Sallie Idelle Harrington
B.S., H.E.
MARIETTA, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (2, 3, 4); Home Economics Club (3, 4); Chemistry Club (3, 4); Baseball (3); Proctor (4).

A true and steady friend is Sallie, who always brings sunshine with her. She's serious, yet full of fun, and always generous, whole-hearted and sincere. We depend upon her on the baseball field and admire her ability in history, chemistry, and Home Economics. No wonder that "We'll always welcome back our Sallie."

Elise Harrison
A.B.
RICH SQUARE, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (3, 4); Spanish Club (3, 4); Education Club (4).

If I were a scientist, I'd analyze "Harry." If I were a poet, I'd be inspired. If I were but human, I'd love her, and—being only too human—I confess my weakness. What more wonderful can be truly said than to be loved by all —"Harry" is!

Frances Harrison
B.S.M.
GREENSBORO, N. C.

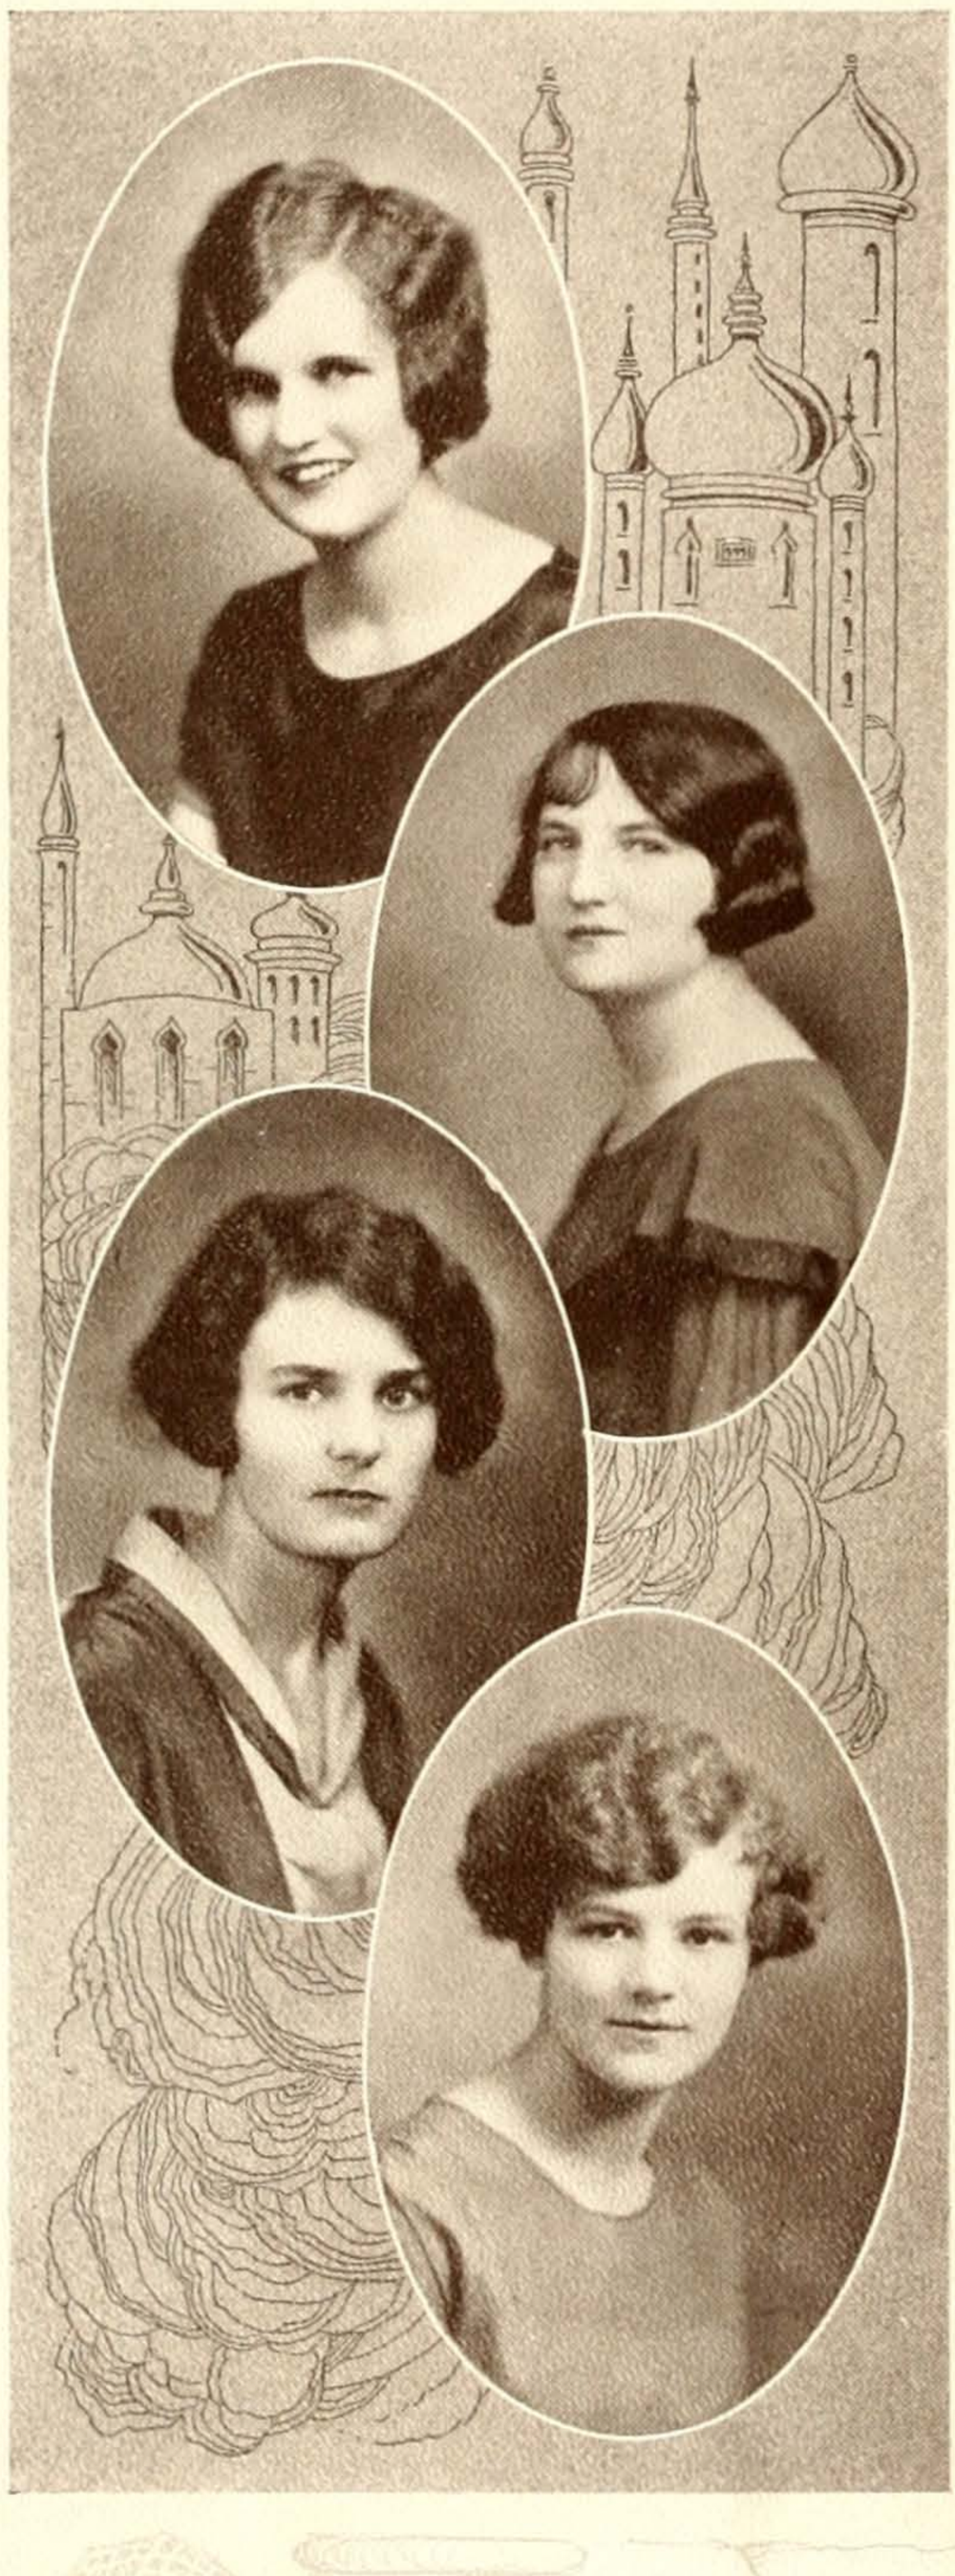

Dikean; Senate (1, 4); College Choir (1, 2, 3, 4); Class Cheer Leader (2); Phoenix Club (2, 3, 4); Treasurer College Choir (2); Class President (3); German Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Toaster Junior-Senior Banquet (3); Director Freshman Choir (4); Education Club (4).

Frances excels in so many good qualities that it is hard to estimate what her contribution to the world will be. We would not be surprised, however, if she should win for herself great fame in the line of music. Her place in our class is unique and could be held by none other. Besides all this, she is a girl anyone would want as a friend.

Margaret Lee Hartsell
B.S.M.
GREENSBORO, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (1, 2); Education Club (3, 4); Phoenix Club (2, 3, 4); Vice-President (3); Choir (1, 3, 4); Proctor (3).

What plans are formulating back of those dark eyes for conquering of the world? That they exist, we know. Whatever they are, success is hers, for one with Margaret's charm is destined to overcome obstacles. Add to it her readiness to smile, her eagerness to work—we can only wish for her the success we know is hers.

Senior Class

Louise Hudson Hayward
A.B.

WELDON, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Spanish Club (3, 4); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (3); "Carolinian" Reporter (3); Assistant Fire Chief (3); House of Representatives (4); Vice-House President (4); Vice-President Adelphian Society (4).

When you want something done—ask "Lou." Her small head is full of unique ideas and her enthusiasm just makes things go. She has a personality which has won for her many friends, for besides being lovable, she is "True to herself, true to her friends, true to her duty always."

Johnnie Heilig
A.B.

SALISBURY, N. C.

Aletheian; Class Critic (1); House of Representatives (1); Freshman Commission (1); French Club (1, 2); Charter Member Aletheian Society; Class President (2); Proctor (2); Student Alumnae Campaign Captain (2); House President (3); Education Club (3, 4); Vice-President Y. W. C. A. (4).

Who is the most influential girl on the campus? Everyone answers, "Johnnie Heilig." We all know Johnnie to be sweet-tempered, good-natured and always cheerful and gay. In developing her mind she has developed fine traits of character that have made many friends for her. If she continues to be as influential and as ambitious as she is now, she will be a wonderful woman.

Annie Smith Henderson
B.S., H.E.

MAYSVILLE, N. C.

Chemistry Club (3, 4); Treasurer Home Economics Art Club (4).

"Still water runs deep." Well, Smithy is never still. The reason is, she is so busy cheering others that she can't be still. Through her charming personality she has won countless friends who admire her for her keen mind and noble ideals.

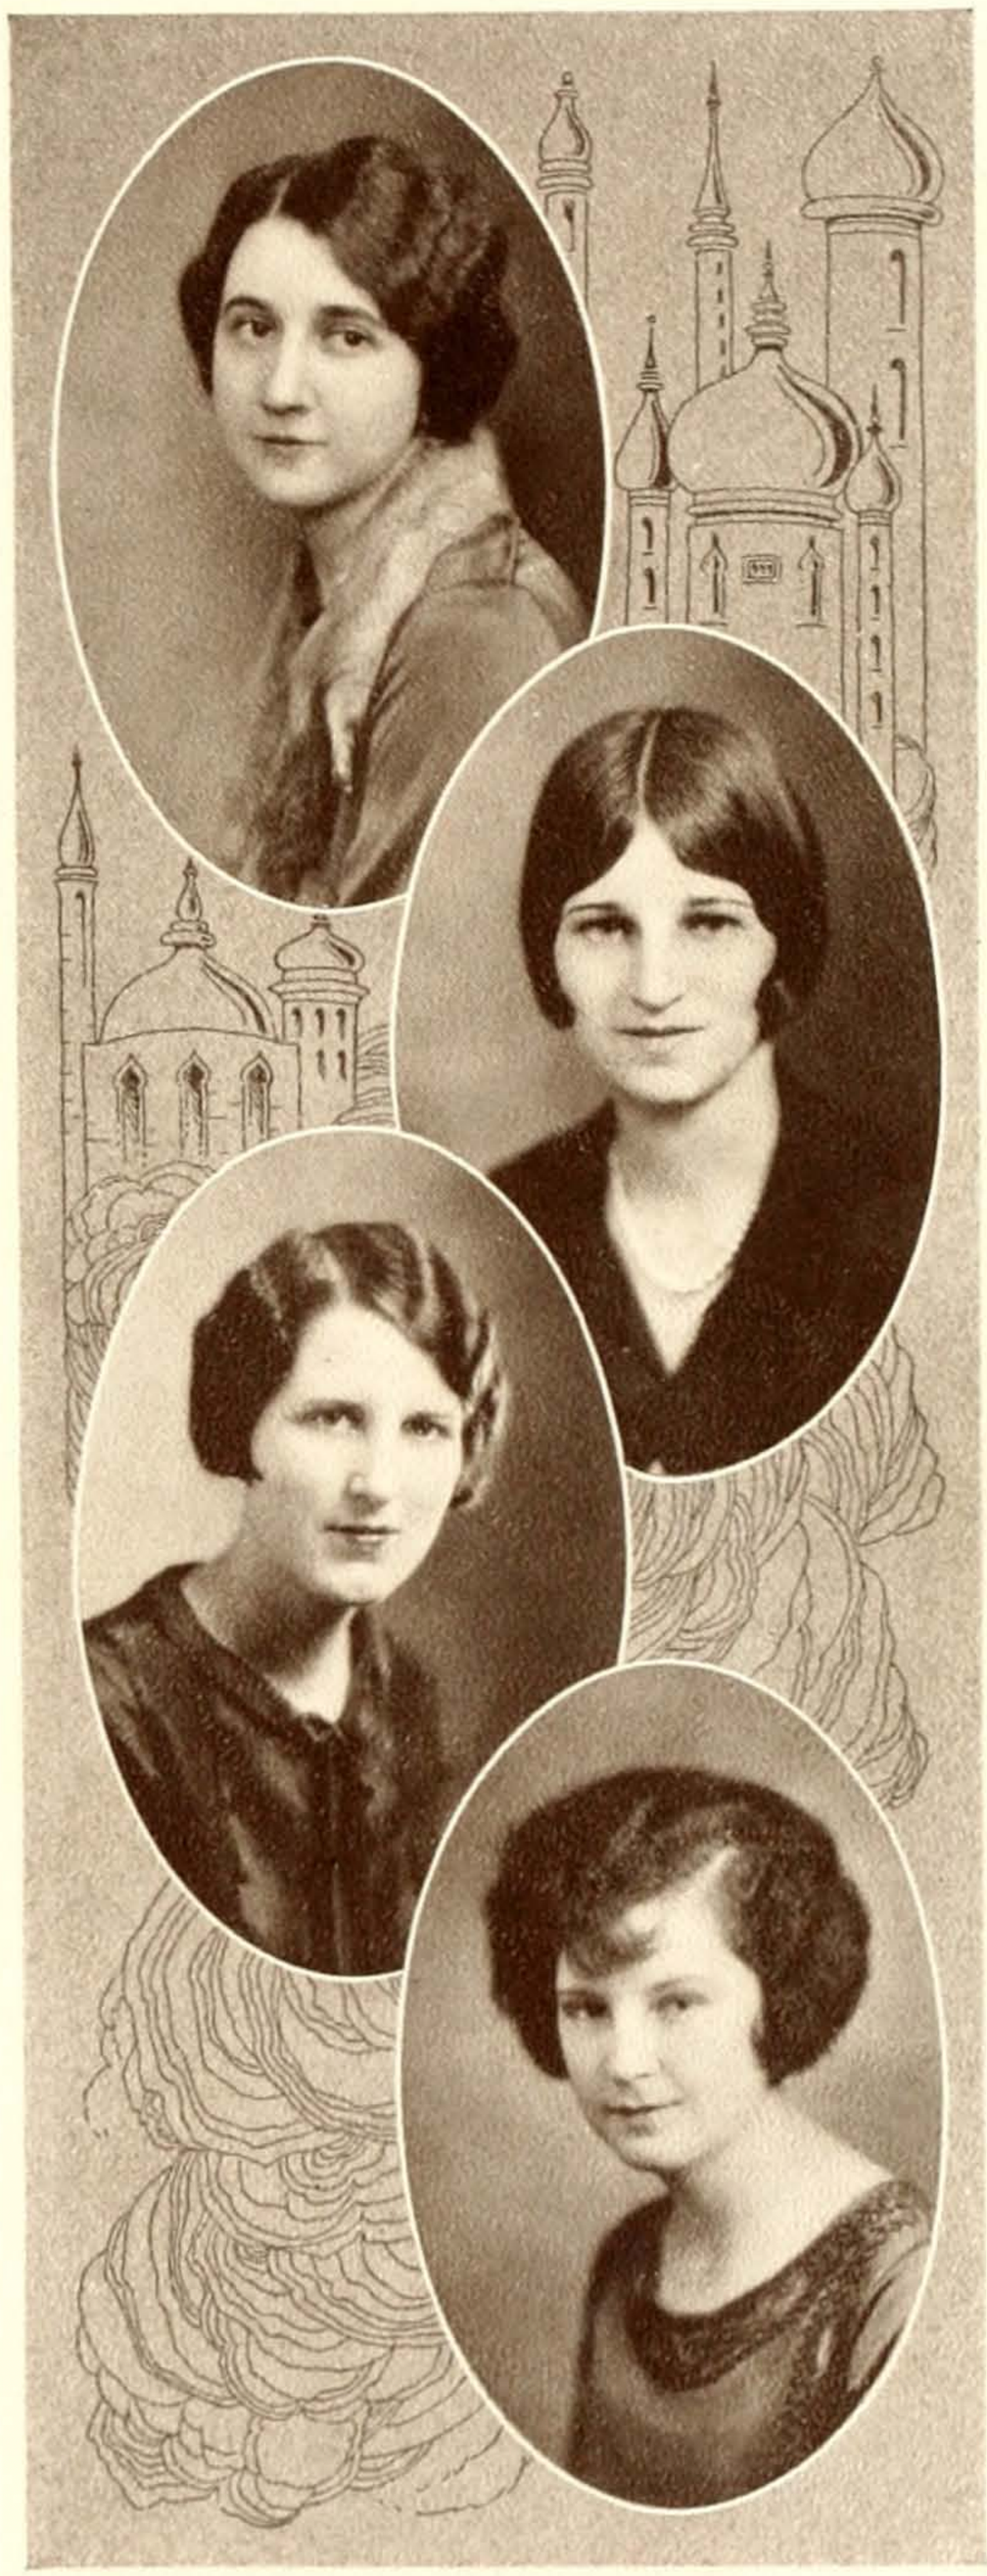

Johnsie Henry
B.S., P.E.

ROCKINGHAM, N. C.

Dikean; Hockey Team (1, 2, 3, 4); Varsity (3); Basketball (2, 3, 4); Varsity (3, 4); Track Team (1, 2, 3, 4); Varsity (2, 3); College (2); Class Treasurer (3); Vice-President A. A. (3); Wearer of N. C. C. (3, 4); Soccer Team (4); Education Club (4); House President (4).

Who knows whether it was her consideration for others, her thoughtfulness of the little as well as the big things, her fine spirit of sportsmanship, or the sum total of all these, which has won for her the host of friends which she possesses? But in some way she has won them and has kept them, for everybody who knows Johnsie is her friend.

Senior Class

Ruth Henry

A.B.

NORTH WILKESBORO, N. C.

Cornelian.

"To be rather than to seem to be" is Ruth's motto, for which we respect her. Quiet, unassuming, but ever ready with a cheerful word or a gay bit of humor, she has found for herself a place in the hearts of her friends.

Syrena Ellett High

A.B.

WHITEVILLE, N. C.

Cornelian; French Club (2); Spanish Club (2, 3); House of Representatives (2); Education Club (3, 4).

"Si" High—her name implies a lot and such she is: high ideals, high spirits, high aims, and high ambitions. A lovable person this—true to her convictions, herself, and her friends.

Ruth Hinnant

A.B.

KENLY, N. C.

Adelphian; Proctor (2); French Club (2); Education Club (3, 4).

Kind friend, if you can pigeon-hole this girl I'd like to see you do it! Being her friend for four years has made her none the less a mystery to me. Philosophizing one minute, and in the next laughing at your own attempts at seriousness, she remains to me, the Unexpected, personified.

Mary Anna Hobbs

B.S.

CLINTON, N. C.

Adelphian; Home Economics Art Club (3, 4); Chemistry Club (3, 4).

Mary Anna is like unto herself alone. We have never known any one like her, and probably never shall again. Cheerful, industrious, broad-minded, and big-hearted—that's Mary Anna. The more you know her the better you like her, which is the best thing that can be said of any one. Adieu, Mary Anna, et bon chance!

Senior Class

Marjorie Jane Hood
A.B.

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

Dikean; Spanish Club (2, 3); Proctor (2); House of Representatives (2); Education Club (4); Vice-House President (4).

Marjorie is a true campus friend; loved and admired by students. She knows how to follow, and, best of all, how to sympathize with her friends. Marjorie will always be loved anywhere she goes.

Edith Aleine Hopkins
A.B.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Aletheian; Charter Member Aletheian Society; Aletheian Marshal (3); House of Representatives (2, 4); French Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Classical Club (1, 2); Education (3, 4).

If you want to "parlez-vous" in French or English, and be charmed, see Aleine. Though she is one of our most reserved seniors, she is a girl worth knowing. Back of this reservedness we find a girl who is a champion Charlestoner, a top scorer in grades and an expert in the planning of one's future.

Lydie Pierce Horton
B.S., H.E.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

Cornelian.

We are proud to call her our own! She has done in three years what many of us think is almost impossible to do in four or five—captured a sheepskin. Here's the best of luck to you!

Margaret Green Hudson
A.B.

WELDON, N. C.

Cornelian; House President (4); Y. W. C. A. Representative-at-Large (4); College Choir (3, 4); Young Voters Club (3, 4); Education Club (3, 4); Spanish Club (3, 4); French Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Associate Editor of "Coraddi" (4).

Margaret has a variety of interests and her place is near the top in all of them. She has not only come through her four years with the grades, but also with the respect and love of those who know her—and they are many.

Senior Class

Clara Lee Hyatt

A.B.

BURNSVILLE, N. C.

Cornelian; Spanish Club (1, 2, 3, 4); French Club (3, 4); "Carolinian" Reporter Spanish Club (4); Education Club (4).

Who could guess that behind the features of a child could be the admirable qualities and talents that go to make up the individuality of Clara Lee, which all her friends know and appreciate? To discover her artistic soul all one has to do is to look at her characteristically illustrated notebook. Intelligence, mischievousness, and demureness are her self-culture.

Nellie Merrimon Irvin

B.S.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

Aletheian; Vice-President of Class (1); Basketball (1, 2, 3); Hockey (2, 3, 4); Picture Editor "Pine Needles" (3); President Dramatic (3); Masqueraders (2, 3, 4); House of Representatives (1, 2, 3); Charter Member Atletheian Society (2, 3, 4); Grace (4); Chief Marshal (4).

When it comes to being a chief we'll have to hand it to Nellie. She is not only our Chief Marshal, but our chief dancer, one of our chief playlikers, and a chief in athletics—a chief among girls. She is the Nellie to our campus that Nellie Bly is to the world.

Sarah Todd Jamison

A.B.

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

Cornelian; Freshman Commission (1); Proctor (3); French Club (3, 4); Education Club (4).

Sarah Jamison, better known as "Jimpz," is one of those rare and dear friends one must have to be happy. She is jolly and generous and is beloved by all who come in contact with her. She is not in the least athletic. In fact, a glance shows her frame to belong to the "fashionable stouts." It is boring, even when true as in this case, to read of her loyalty to college, society, and class; so, let's cut out all that and give three cheers to dear old jolly Jimpz.

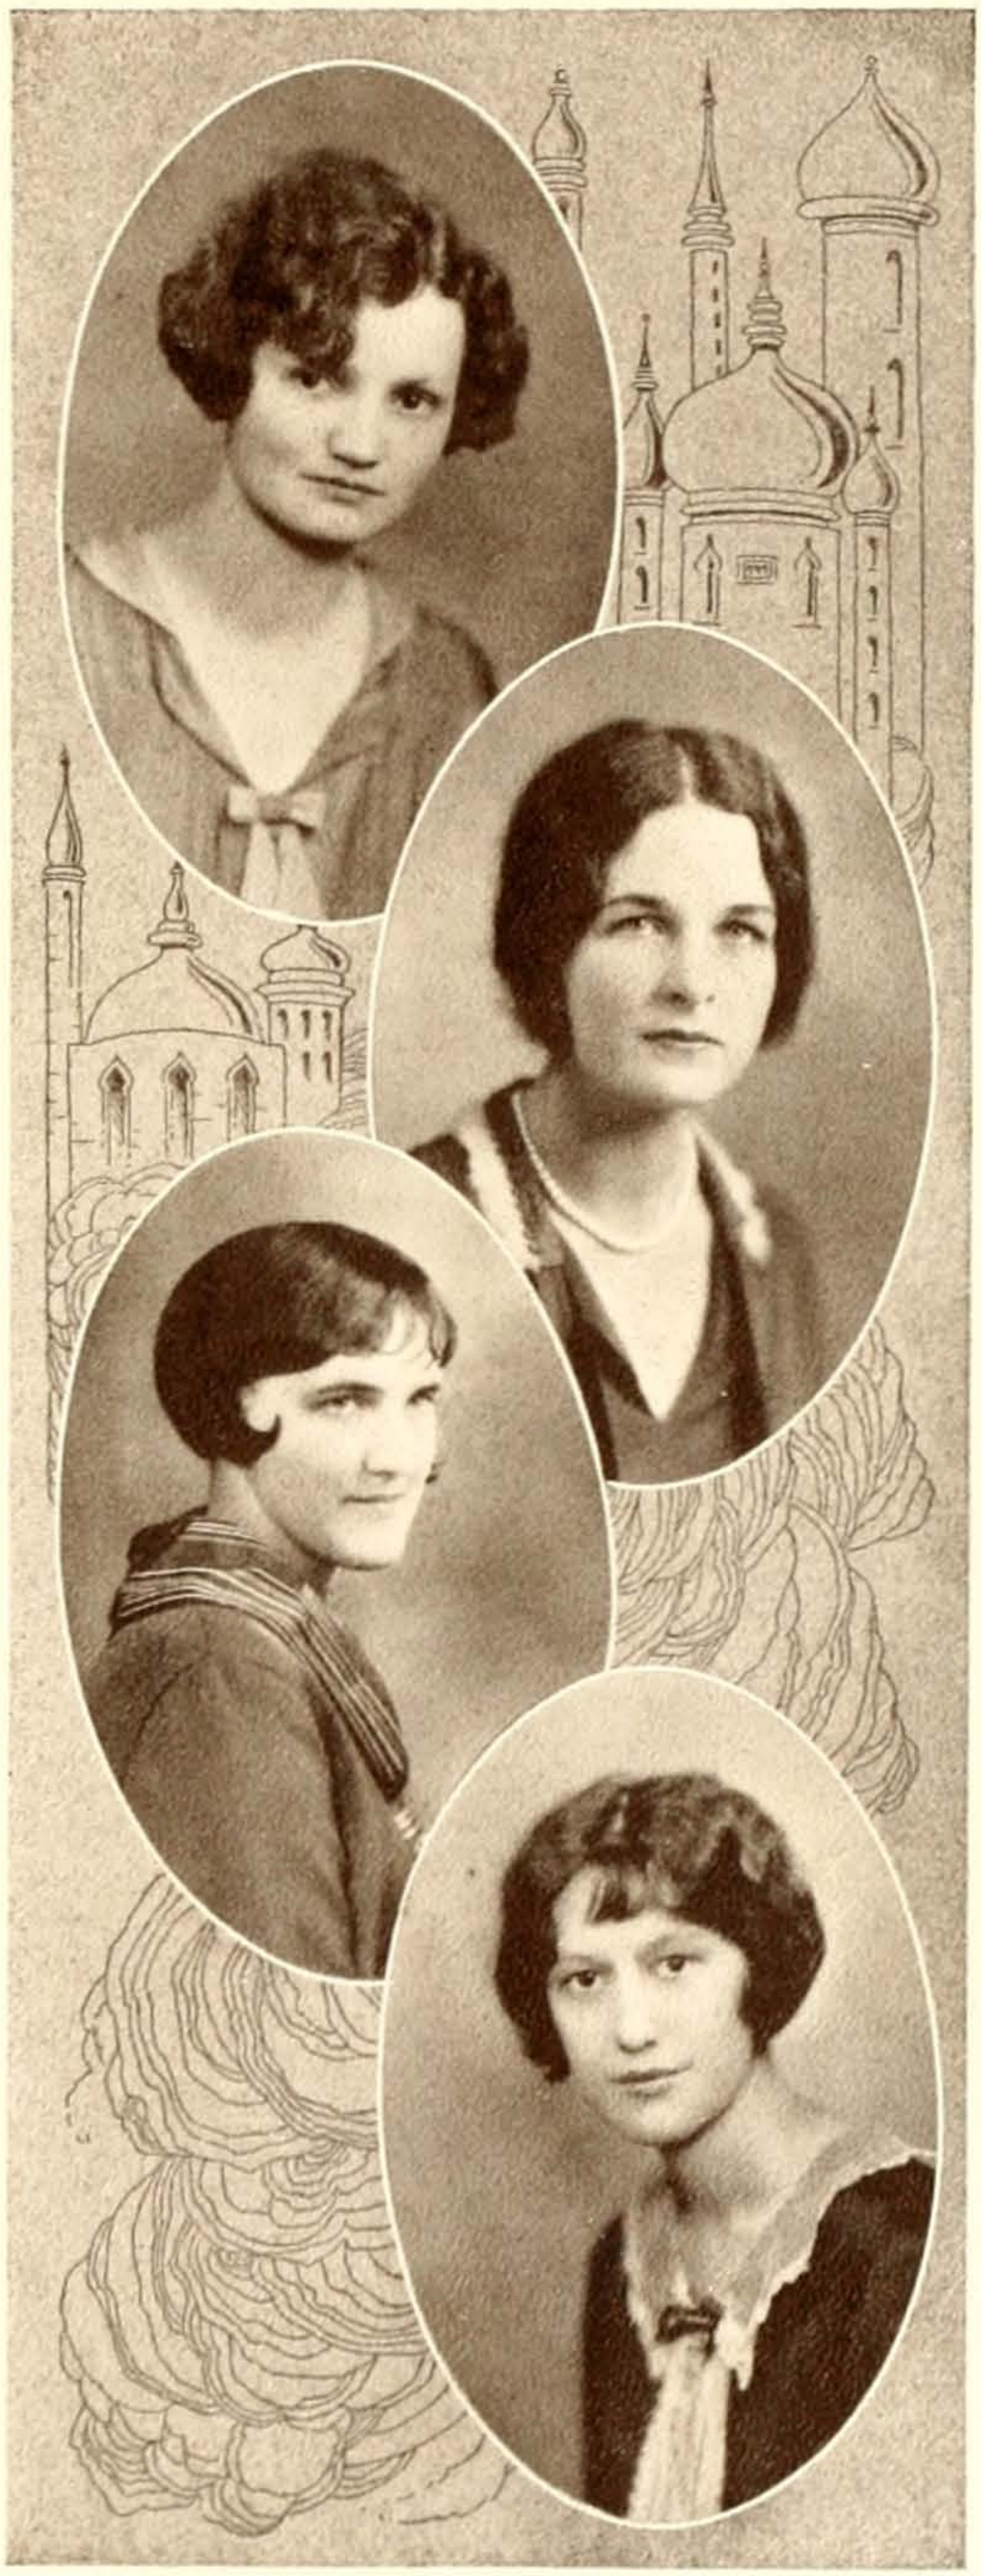

Sara Lou Jenkins

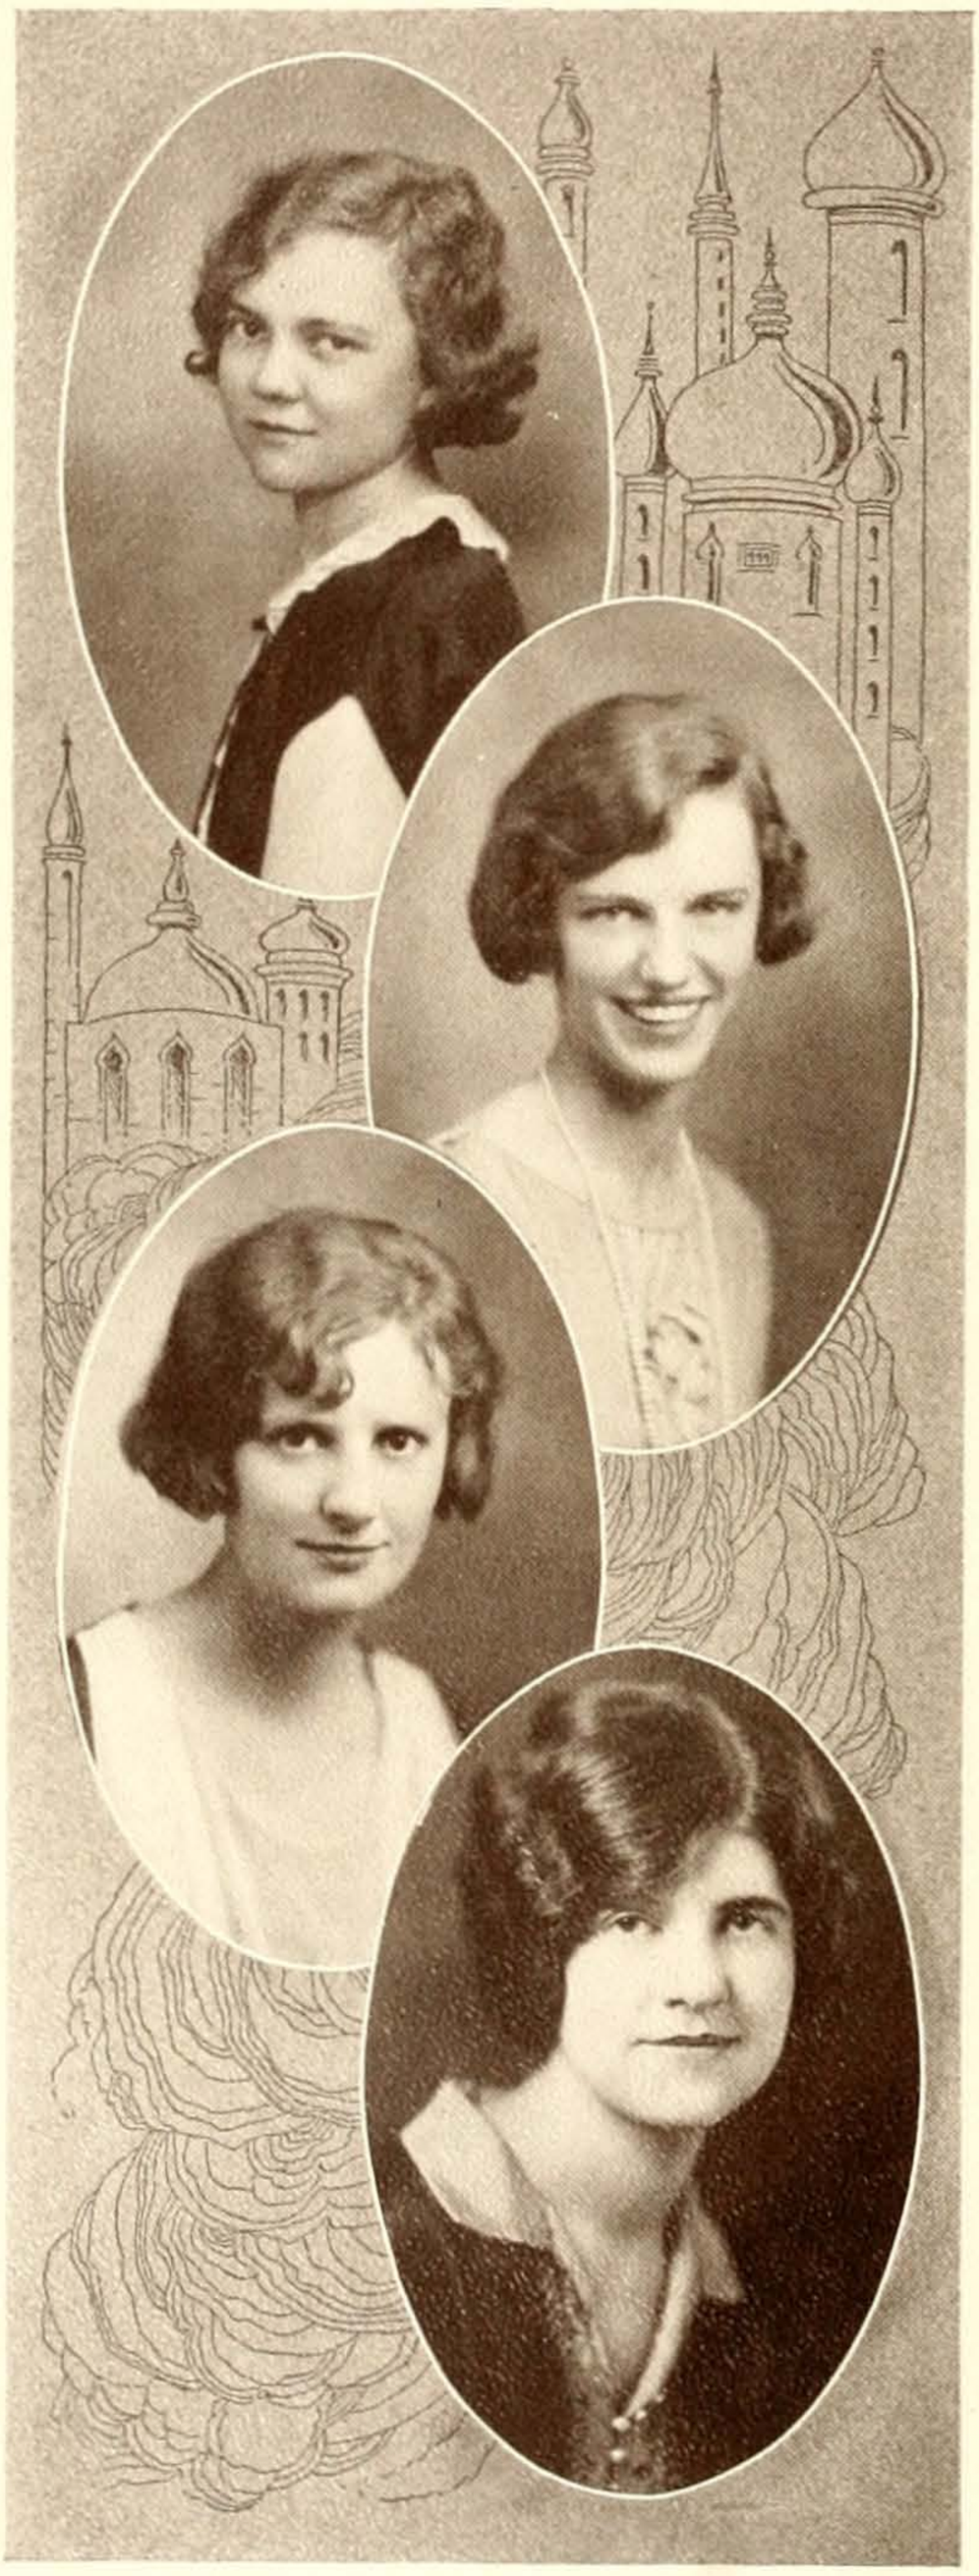

A.B.

GOLDSBORO, N. C.

Cornelian; Recording Secretary Cornelian Society (2); House of Representatives (3); French Club (3, 4); Proctor (4).

"Sallie's" fun is contagious. You just can't be around her without having a good time. But when it comes to a real hard task that requires capability and dependability, she is always there. We pay her the highest tribute that can be paid to anyone. Not only "To know her is to love her," but the more you know her the more you will love her.

Senior Class

Nan Fleming Jeter
A.B.

MORGANTON, N. C.

Adelphian; Treasurer Adelphian Society (3); Vice-House President (3); Spanish Club (2, 3); Business Manager Handbook (3); Assistant Business Manager Junior Shop (3); Vice-President Class (4); Education Club (4); Junior-Senior Toaster (3); Business Manager "Pine Needles" (4).

A crescendo of giggles—crazy songs, scores of jokes—Nan—a bubbling fountain of vivacity, gayly serious, brain-work under that frivolous mop of unruly curls. Capable, nothing artificial, the same to everybody all the time. When she goes she leaves an almost "unfillable" gap.

Adelaide Brooks Johnson
A.B.

PORTSMOUTH, VA.

Adelphian; President Freshman Commission (1); Track Team (2, 3); Champion Field Day (3); Chairman Publicity Y. W. C. A. (2); Secretary Y. W. C. A. (3); Quill Club (4); International Relations Club (3, 4); Art Editor "Coraddi" (4); Chairman Finance Southern Division Council Y. W. C. A. (4); President Y. W. C. A. (4).

Listening to her low voice, watching her quaint, quiet manners, one knows without being told that she is a Virginian of the Old Virginia. Artistic of soul and body, there is a shyness about her in which there lies a unique charm. The her in which there lies a unique charm. Above all else she is full of the spirit of youth and fun, and a lover of her fellow men.

Ethel Johnson
B.S.M.

ASHEBORO, N. C.

College Choir (2, 3); President College Choir (3, 4).

"Things are going to happen, why worry?
Everything comes to him who waits, why hurry?"

We wouldn't exactly call this Ethel's philosophy of life, but it tells a great deal about her. She really isn't indifferent to everything, for under this mask there is a musical ability through which she will win the hearts of everyone who hears her play. Here's luck to Ethel!

Mary Clyde Johnston
A.B.

GOLDSBORO, N. C.

Dikean; President Freshman Commission (1); House of Representatives (1, 2); Proctor (2); French Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Spanish Club (2, 3); Chairman College Social Committee (2); Business Manager "Carolinian" (3); Business Manager Playlikers (4); Masqueraders (1, 2, 3, 4).

When Mary throws her head back and grits her teeth, we want to be on her side because she usually does what she sets out to accomplish. That's her business ability and stubbornness combined. Add to these qualities attractiveness, grace, dramatic talent, hard common sense, loyalty, a good scholastic record, and cover these with a protective veneer of cynicism—you have Mary.

Senior Class

Marie DeVere Jones
A.B.

LILLINGTON, N. C.

Adelphian; Hockey Squad (1, 2, 3, 4); Baseball Squad (2, 3); Soccer Squad (4); Hiking Leader (4); A. A. Cabinet (4); N. C. Monogram; Hockey Manager (4); Chemistry Club (3); Charter Member Zoology Field Club (3, 4); President Botany Club (4); Proctor (3).

A lover of fun, yet one whom it is restful to be with; who has a capacity for warm friendships and even, although young, looks at life philosophically.

Lois Justice
A.B.

RUTHERFORDTON, N. C.

Dikean.

A pair of big brown eyes and a low, soft voice—that is sure to be your first impression of Lois. After you have known her for a while you find that there is a mentality back of those eyes that just everybody is not fortunate enough to possess. Here indeed is an exceptional girl.

Lena Maud Keller
A.B.

CONCORD, N. C.

Dikean.

She is a girl on whom you can depend in the performance of her duties. We predict for her a brilliant future in whatever she does, for her ability is varied in many fields.

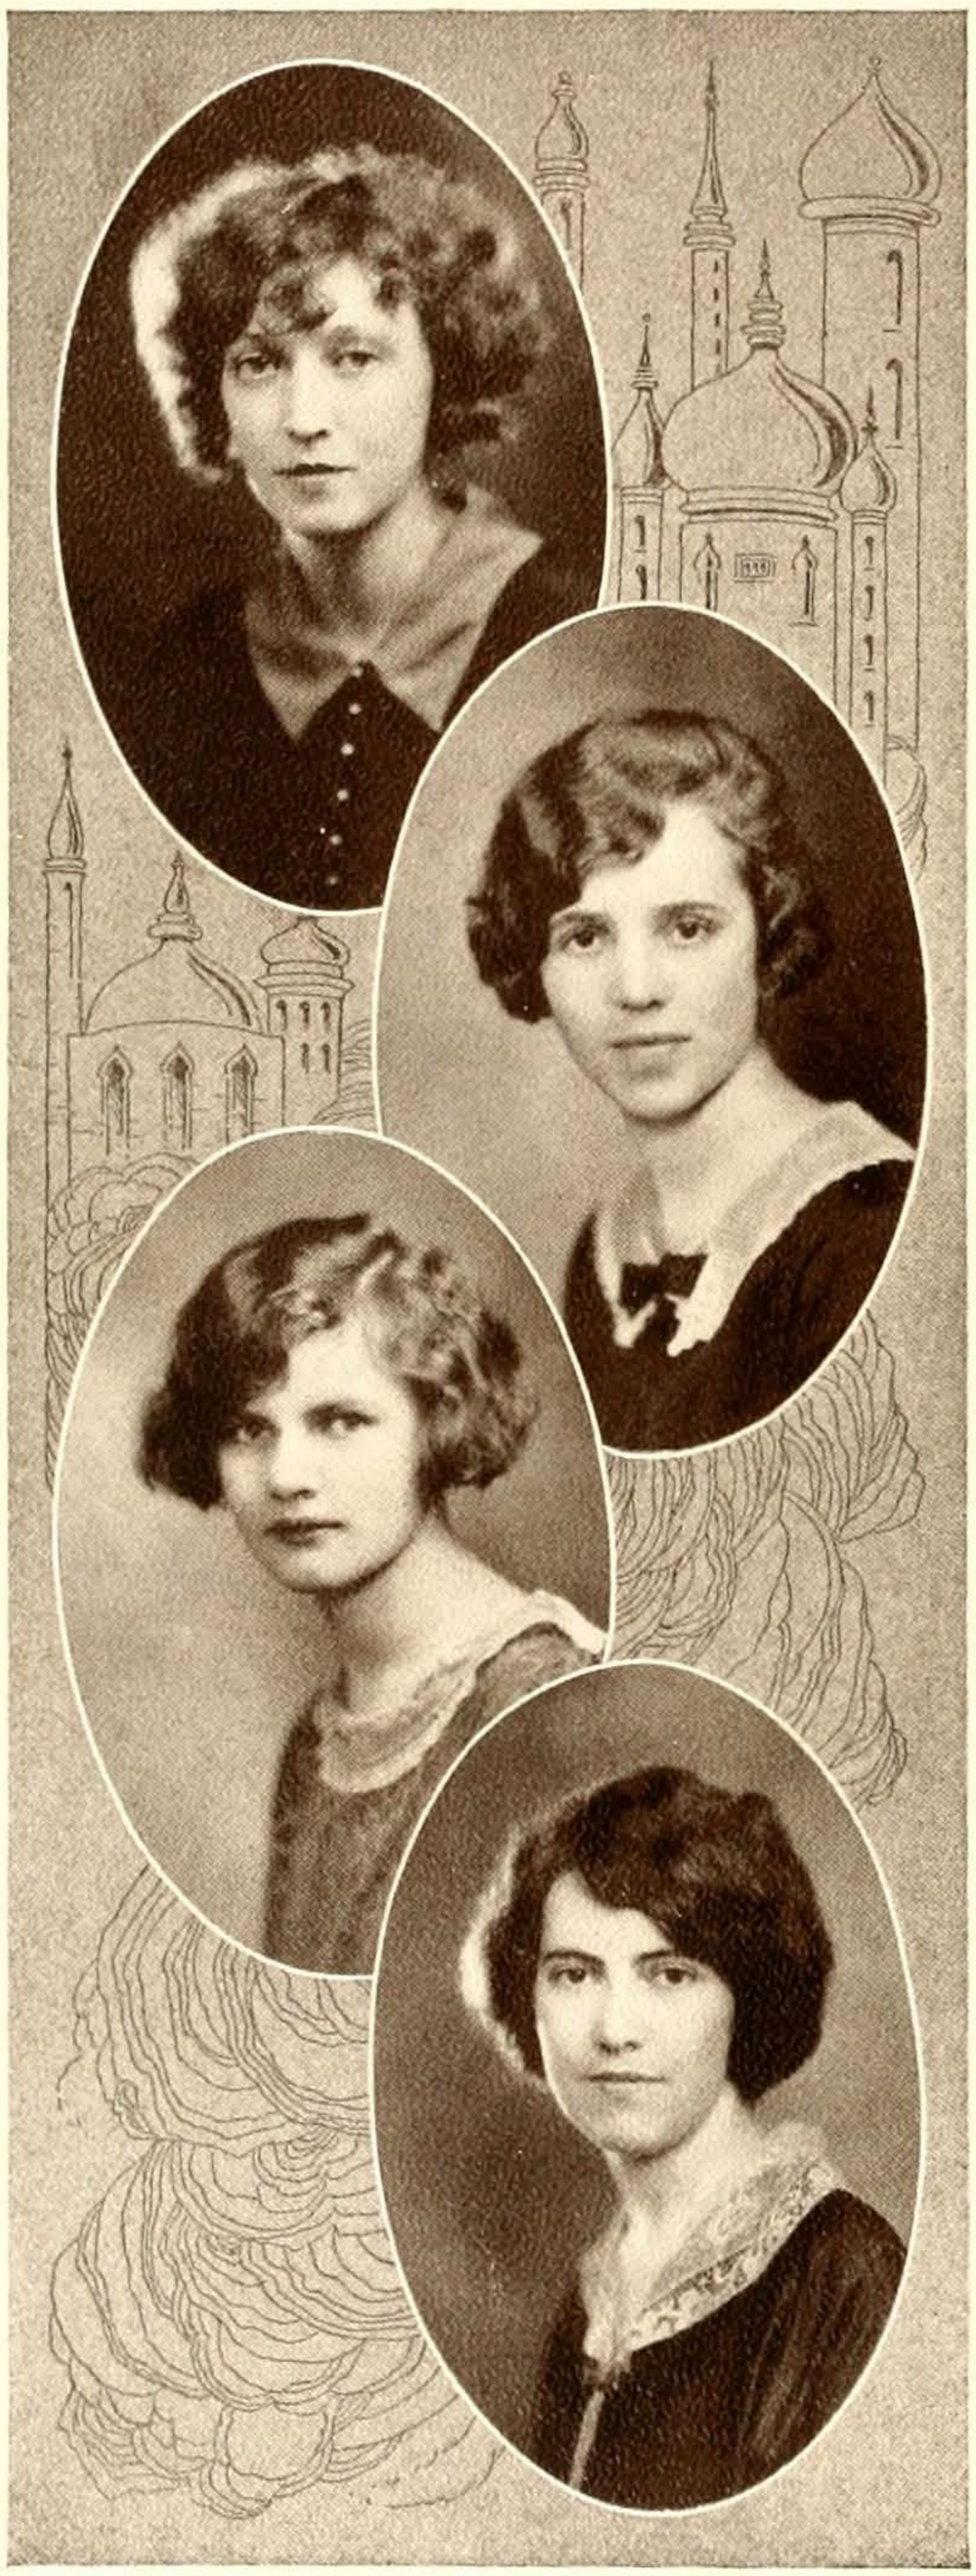

Pearl Edith Keller
A.B.

GRANITE FALLS, N. C.

Cornelian; Spanish Club (3, 4); Education Club (4).

"Pearl"—she is to those who have won her friendship—a jewel to be prized for her worth. Only a girl of her disposition, her winsome manner, her strong character and intelligence, can aspire to and attain success in life.

Senior Class

Charles A. King

A.B.

SANFORD, N. C.

Cornelian.

Charly's most outstanding qualification is her artistic ability. To people in general it is revealed in her paintings, attractive posters, and clever sketches. To her friends it takes the form of personal service, for not only is she a first class barber, but an adept in the many intricate touches which perfect our toilettes on special occasions. In short, her mission seems to be to add beauty to the world.

Inah Louise Kirkman

B.S., H.E.

CLIMAX, N. C.

Baseball Class Team (2, 3, 4); French Club (2); Chemistry Club (3, 4); Treasurer Home Economics Art Club (3); President Home Economics Art Club (4); Treasurer Senior Class (4).

A lovable girl with a keen sense of duty is Inah. Our motto, "Service," has been her creed, and with willingness and determination she has served her Alma Mater. Inah is especially efficient in domestic affairs, and we envy the man who may sometime have her for his home-maker.

Georgie Kirkpatrick

A.B.

EFLAND, N. C.

Aletheian; Charter Member of Aletheian Society; Proctor (1); Basketball Team (1, 3, 4); Freshman Commission; French Club (1, 2, 3, 4); A. A. Cabinet (2, 3, 4); Treasurer Student Government (2); Class Handmaid to Service (2); "Carolinian" Reporter (3); Hockey Squad (3); Class Track Manager (3); Varsity Track Team (3); Toaster Junior-Senior Banquet (3); Fire Lieutenant (3); Assistant Business Manager Handbook (3); "Pine Needles" Staff (4); Class Manager "Greensboro Daily News" (4); Education Club (4); Faculty-Student Council (4); President Aletheian Society (4).

How futile to attempt to express this personality with a series of stock phrases and a tangle of words. Georgie simply "ain't that kind of a girl." We have said that she is versatile—but you don't know half! Analyze her and you will find the dominant power that is behind nearly every important campus activity at N. C.

Maye Elizabeth Kluttz

A.B.

CONCORD, N. C.

Adelphia; Hut Department (3); Education Club (3, 4); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (4); Vice-House President (4).

"In framing an artist, art hath thus decreed, to make some good, but others succeed." For Maye, however, who is imbued with all true womanly virtues in addition to her natural talent for art, we say, she is successful because she is good, and good even if successful. What more could anyone desire?

Senior Class

Inez Landon
A.B.
NORTH WILKESBORO, N. C.

Cornelian; French Club (1, 2); Chemistry Club (3, 4); Quill Club (4); Associate Editor of "Coraddi" (4); International Relations (4).

Inez thinks for herself. It naturally follows that she is individual and entertaining; a person who cannot bore you and who is well worth knowing.

Mildred Little
B.S.M.
GREENSBORO, N. C.

Cornelian; Class President (1); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (1, 3); Undergraduate Representative Y. W. C. A. (3); House of Representatives (1).

This hand has had an ample share in carving the history of the class of '26 upon the portals of Fame; this hand has led its classmates to many victories; this hand has charmed our very spirits with the exquisiteness of its sublime music; this hand holds our very hearts in an everlasting grip!

Grace Margaret Lyon
A.B.
CREEDMORE, N. C.

Adelphian; Duke University (1).

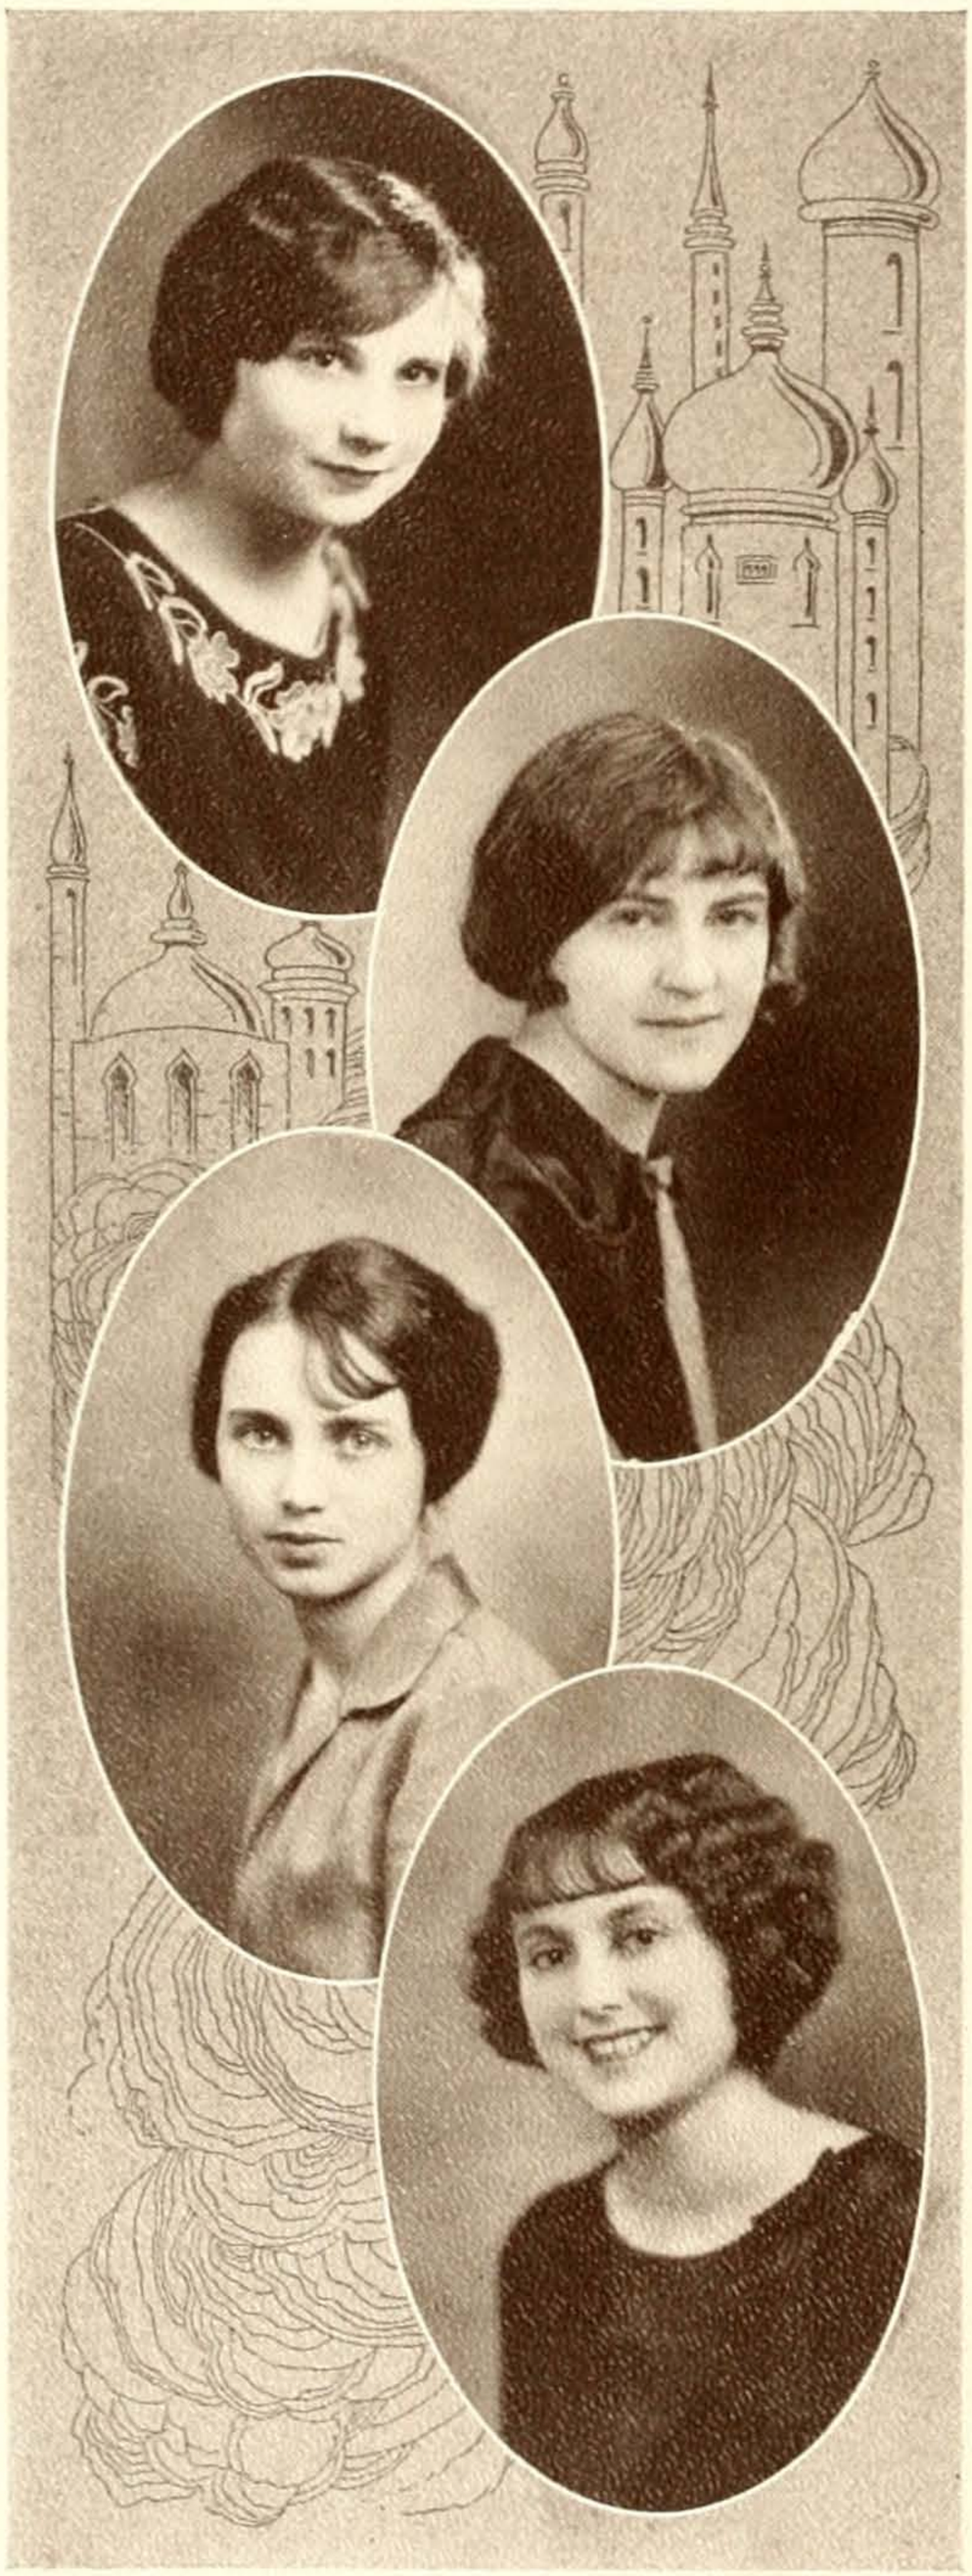

Margaret came to us in her sophomore year and we feel a distinct loss in not having had her the full four years. Loveliness of character and dignity of bearing are two of her many desirable assets. Here's hoping that success comes as easily as has true sincere friendship.

Louise Elizabeth McCarty
A.B.
AUGUSTA, GA.

Adelphian; Proctor (2); French Club (2, 3).

Who's the life of Kirkland? "McCarty" is, of course. And more than that, she is a good sport and a wonderful friend. We all love her, admire her, and give her our truest wishes for a success in life.

Senior Class

WOMBRA MCCOMBS

A.B.

GASTONIA, N. C.

Cornelian; Tennis Club (1); French Club (2); Education Club (3, 4).

Who can wish for a better friend than Wombra? We doubt if such a person can be found. All who know her are charmed by her attractive personality and her unusual ability—"Almost to all things can she turn her hand." And when she turns her hand at something you may be sure that the result will be a job well done; for along with her ability there is determination, which is the master key to success.

ANNA BERT MCCRUMMEN

A.B.

WEST END, N. C.

Adelphian; Botany Club (3, 4); French Club (3, 4).

Indeed a woman of few words! Everyone acknowledges her as "solid stuff;" for, with her store of historical knowledge and sympathetic understanding, she is able to think a thing through and decide in the best interest of all. Studious, and determined to win; yet always considerate, kind, helpful. Concealed in a tinge of fun are all her worries—a fact of which only a few are aware.

MEREDITH BASCOM MCCULLER

GARNER, N. C.

Adelphian; Hockey Squad (3); Baseball Squad (3); Home Economics Art Club (3, 4); Chemistry Club (3, 4); Proctor (4).

Thoroughly dependable and naturally sympathetic are two of Meredith's qualities which make her a typical neighbor. Too, Meredith can sew and cook as well as be a loyal friend. We hope that she does not waste her talents on a male of the species.

HILDA FLOWE MCCURDY

A.B.

SPENCER, N. C.

Dikean; Tennis Squad (4); Baseball Squad (1); Spanish Club (2, 3); Proctor (3); Education Club (4); Member of the House of Representatives (4).

A regular busy-body, but, reader, take notice, —one who attends to her own affairs. Always smiling, Hilda is optimism itself. Life with her is, however, often a serious matter, especially when the Hilda of N. C. merges into the "Miss McCurdy" of the N. C. Training School. She does not believe that college life should omit the social and to the teas she goes. Her friends that know her will tell you that Hilda has a rare love and appreciation of beauty and that her ability to understand human nature and to deal with it is startling. Your circle is not complete, girls, until you know Hilda.

Senior Class

Huldah Chloe McDaniel
A.B.

KINSTON, N. C.

Cornelian; Classical Club (1, 2); French Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Education Club (4).

It would be a good thing if we had more girls like Huldah on our campus. She doesn't worry, —why should she? She gets along beautifully without it. She is lovable; she is capable; she is loyal. With these qualities she is bound to succeed.

Ella Battle McDearman
B.S.

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C.

Dikean; Proctor (2); Inter-Society Conference Committee (3); Chemistry Club (3, 4); Secretary of Chemistry Club (3); President of Chemistry Club (4).

It is hard to find words to express just what Ella is. The people of the chemistry department have already found out some of her numerous abilities. "And such a sense of humor," say her friends. We call her our Jack-of-all-trades. Ella is a good old sport in all that she does and what more could be said?

Nolie Kathaleen McDonald
A.B.

CANDOR, N. C.

Cornelian; Proctor (2); Spanish Club (3); Education (4).

Nolie McDonald, notice the name? Of course you do! There's much in a name. She is Scotch —North State Scotch and true; original, independent, persistent, sure—the best Scotch on the earth! All N. C. C. W. knows her worth—measures her love even from her birth.

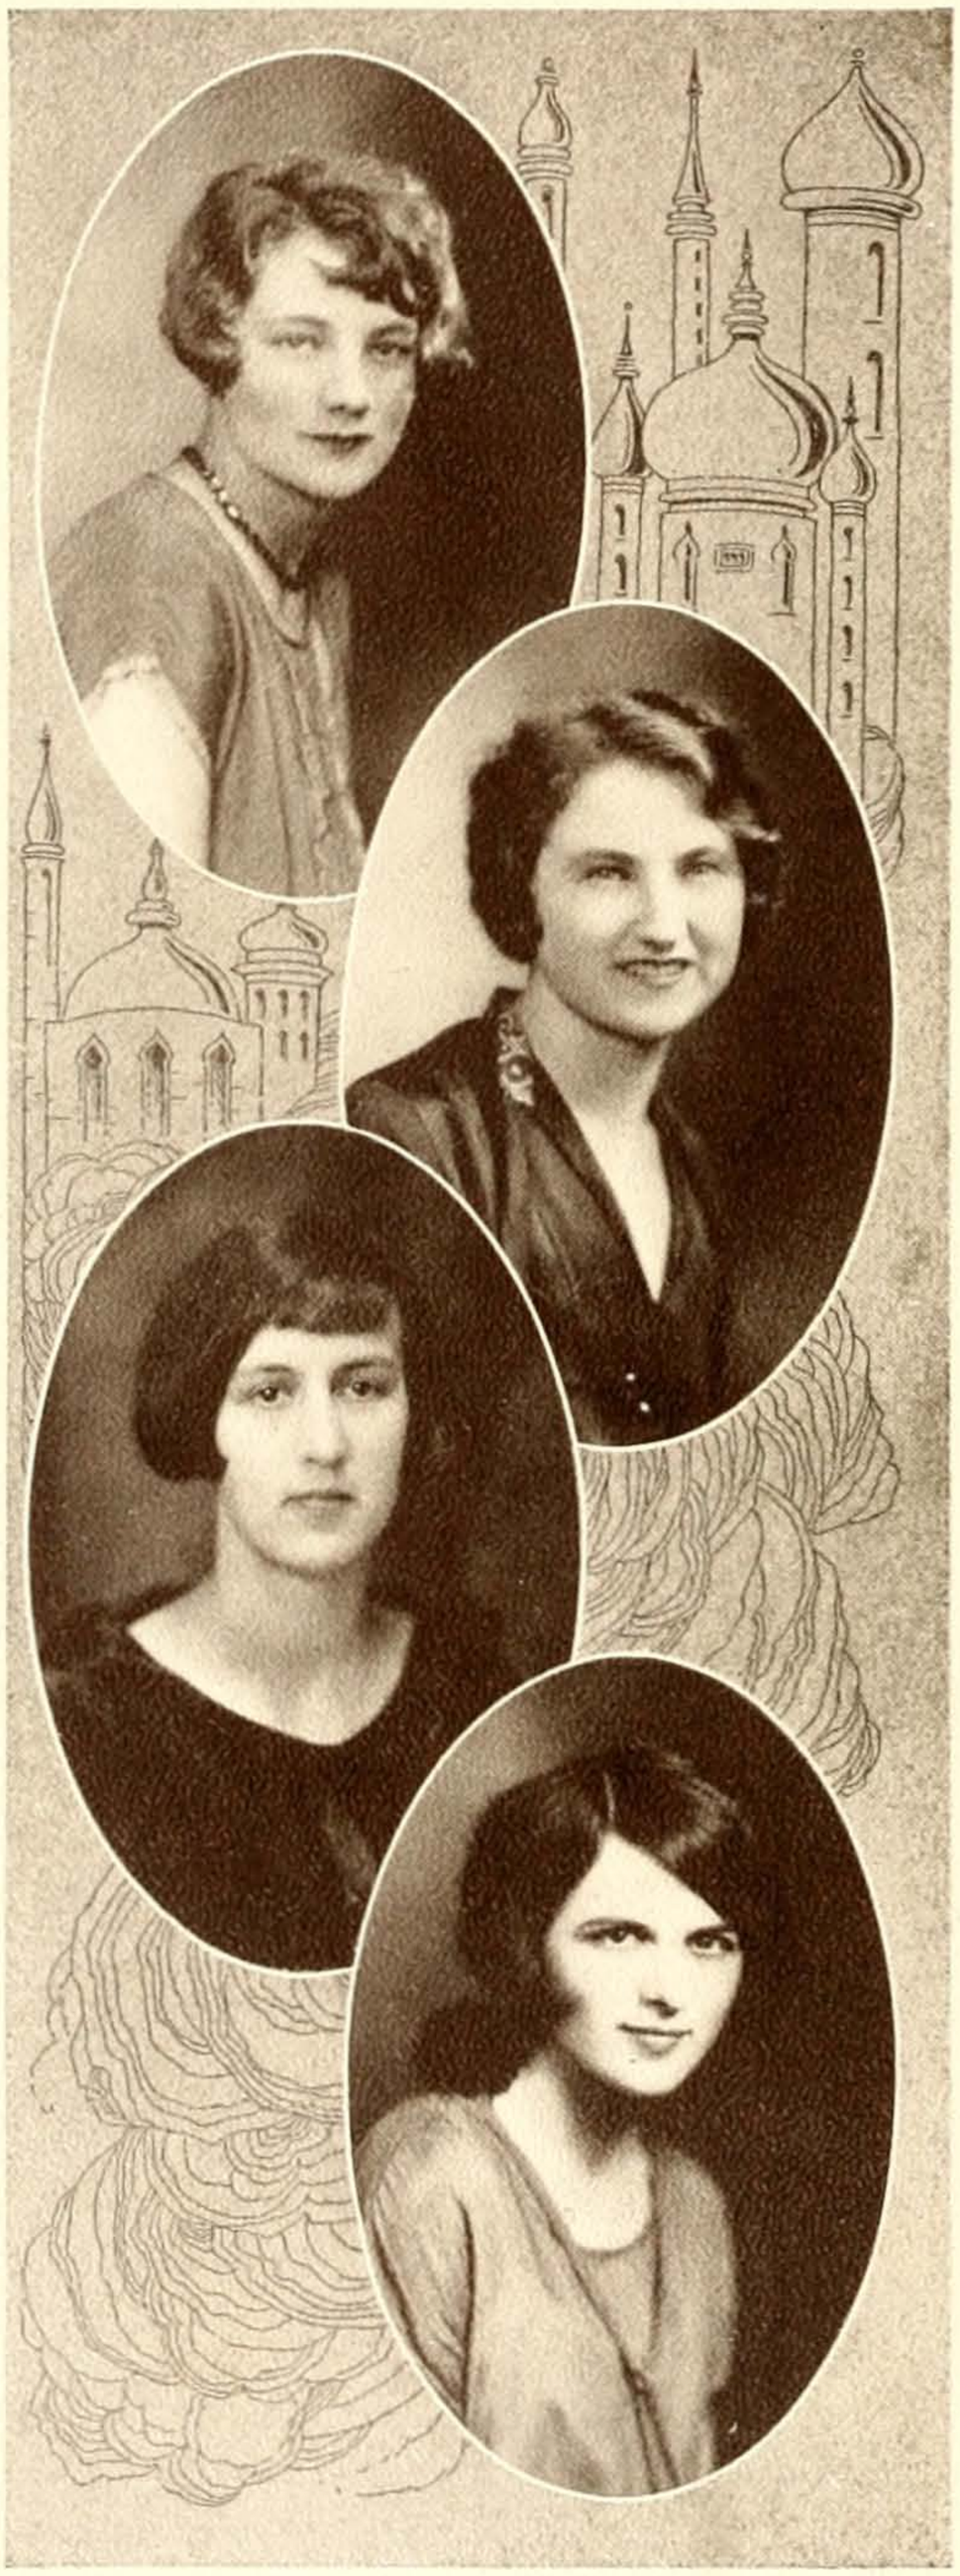

Julia Elizabeth McIver
B.S.

LUMBER BRIDGE, N. C.

Dikean; Chemistry Club (3, 4); Home Economics Art Club (3, 4).

'Neath that carroty top there's a world of fun, and a bit of shy charm for everyone.

Senior Class

Mary Kate McLamb
A.B.

ROSEBORO, N. C.

Cornelian; Proctor (1, 2, 4); Education Club (4); Cornelian Glee Club; Cornelian Orchestra.

Mary Kate is a rare mixture of good humor, intellectuality, and winning smiles. Let her talk and she is always happy! "Never hurry" expresses her rate of speed though she's never left behind. Underneath her charming personality we realize her ability to succeed in whatever she chooses as her career.

Mary Ida McLawhorn
A.B.

WINTERVILLE, N. C.

Cornelian; French Club (1, 2); Chemistry Club (3, 4); Track Team (3); College Chorus (4); Corresponding Secretary Cornelian Society (4); Botany Club (4).

In spite of her apparent dignity, Mary Ida is never too dignified to exercise her pet theory, "a smile will go a long, long way." Style? Yes, but not so stylish that she can cloak her abundance of common sense. A genial disposition, brains, a sympathetic understanding, and an extremely jolly nature make her the Mary Ida we admire.

Ruth Atkinson McLean
A.B.

RALEIGH, N. C.

Adelphian; Proctor (1); Vice-House President (4); Chemistry Club (4); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (4); Track Team (2, 3); Soccer Team (3, 4); N. C. C. W. Monogram.

A surprising mixture of seriousness and fun—that's Ruth. She has many enthusiasms, and by the same token, many talents. Of ability to riddle imperfect argument, and quick to think and to act; sincere and loyal—she is a rare friend.

Mary Augusta McNeely
A.B.

MOORESVILLE, N. C.

Cornelian; Education Club (3, 4); International Relations Club (3, 4); House of Representatives (4).

Charm, quietness and great ability go to make up "Mary Mac," our friend. She is industrious, yet carefree, serious yet fun-loving, and in every line a good old sport.

Senior Class

Nelle McSwain
A.B.
MAIDEN, N. C.

Adelphian; Proctor (2); French Club (4).

Ah, Nelle, what unguessed dreams are surging there beyond those gentle, naive eyes? Whatever they be, we know they are kind and true. May life be kind to you as you are true to all men.

Annie Lula Marine
B.S.M.
JACKSONVILLE, N. C.

Cornelian; College Orchestra (1, 2, 3); College Chorus (4).

Who is it that's calm, sweet and serene, quiet and poised with dignified mien, stately as any Mrs. King, called queen,—why yes, you guess, it's Annie Lula Marine.

Alma Elizabeth Matthews
A.B.
SEABOARD, N. C.

Adelphian; Proctor (1, 2, 3, 4); Education Club (3, 4).

To play with, to laugh with, to cry with, to love—always a true blue, honest to goodness friend—that's Alma. It's the truth to say, "To know her is to love her;" yet it's infinitely true of Alma, for no matter where she goes, she is never at loss for friends.

Ruby Cameron May
A.B.
MORVEN, N. C.

Cornelian; Proctor, '25; French Club, '24-'25-'26.

Yes, this is Ruby! She's a good all-round sport. If you want fun, she's with you; if you are in trouble, she's for you; if you need a friend, she's near you! When you try to describe Ruby, you realize that you have quite a task, for her capabilities are many.

Senior Class

Virginia Dare Maynard
A.B.

BELMONT, N. C.

Dikean; Education Club (3, 4).

An all-round good sport—that is Dare. Her sweet disposition and frank open manner have won for her a place in all our hearts. Always a true friend—that is why we love you, Dare, and wish you success in everything you undertake.

Effie Elizabeth Meacham
A.B.

STATESVILLE, N. C.

Dikean; College Chorus (1, 2); French Club (1, 2); Proctor (2); House of Representatives (2); Education Club (4).

Sympathetic interpretation of human nature, charm of personality, and unselfishness unite to make "Hap" a success. Loyal, dependable and lovable, she is all this and more. She is a good true friend, sympathetic in everything and always in the mood to comfort or rejoice as the need may be.

Serena Meadows
B.S., H.E.

OXFORD, N. C.

Dikean; Proctor, '25; Chemistry Club, '25-'26; Home Economics Club, '25-'26.

Serena is a rare mixture of sincerity and unselfishness. She is calm, patient and capable. We predict for her unlimited success in the field of her choice—To teach or to practice Home Economics—that is the question.

Alla Pittman Meredith
B.S., H.E.

TARBORO, N. C.

Cornelian; Charter Member Home Economics Club (3); Secretary of Home Economics Club (3); Proctor (2); House of Representatives (3); French Club (1, 2).

This petite figure, "Little" Alla, has a knack for sliding around and under care. The fact that she is practical, independent, and non-excitable proves to us that she is small in size only. She has given us much along artistic lines, and the Cornelians claim her as a jewel.

Senior Class

Mary Mewborn
A.B.
GRIFTON, N. C.
Adelphian.

To most people Mary is a quiet, sweet girl, but to those who know her she is a lively good sport. She is good-looking, stylish and attractive with that never-ceasing pep, a cheery disposition, and enough devilment to make life pleasant; she is by no means devoid of serious thought.

Lena Glenn Middleton
B.S.M.
LAURINBURG, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (1, 2); Education Club (4); Phoenix Club (2, 3, 4); Choir (3, 4); Proctor (2).

To use alliteration—Lazy Lena fills quite an indispensable place in our Senior class. She is known by her happy disposition—a smile, a wave of the hand, and she's gone—"miles of smiles," perhaps for a motto. Such sweetness combined with an underlying ability to do, will win for her a desirable place in the world.

Ethel Royal Midyett
A.B.
ORIENTAL, N. C.

Dikean; Classical Club (1, 2); Proctor (3).

Ethel came out victorious from her two years' campaign against Latin and Math. That's sufficient proof of her abi'ity and thoroughness. She has always responded to every call for help—whether the disease be of the mind or heart. With such a record and character, what reach will exceed her grasp?

Winifred Mode
A.B.
RUTHERFORDTON, N. C.

Cornelian; Proctor (2); "Carolinian" Reporter (4); Vice-House President (4); Education Club (4).

"Widdy" has that kind of senior dignity that we all admire. She is smooth, calm and intellectual, but with this she combines a charming flippancy. Hers is a comfortable philosophy. She has never been disappointed, because she always expects the worst. As to worries—she has only one,—that of acquiring excess avoirdupois.

Senior Class

Loreta Mooney
A.B.

DAVIDSON, N. C.

Adelphian; Basketball ,'23; Proctor, '25; Spanish Club, '25; Education Club, '26.

"Uh huh! that's she"—the girl with the boyish bob! Mooney, the cutest girl on the campus, the most indifferent girl in the world, but the best friend to everybody. Cute, but not conceited. Lovable, but not sentimental. "A friend in need is a friend indeed" is our password for her.

Mary Lucile Moore
A.B.

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

Proctor, '24; Y. W. C. A. Marshal, '25; Education Club (3, 4).

Lucile is like a book, not to be searched with a single glance. One must study her to know her and to realize the depth and beauty of her character. Like a truly good book, she has something of value to give and the more one studies her the better one loves her.

Winnie Davis Moore
A.B.

BURLINGTON, N. C.

Cornelian; Classical Club (1, 2); French Club (3); Zoology Field Club (3, 4); Chemistry Club (4).

Winnie's characteristics include a rare combination of intellect, ambition, sympathy, and optimism. Her special interests lie in science and we predict for her a future full of success and happiness.

Thelma Lucile Moose
A.B.

TAYLORSVILLE, N. C.

Dikean; Chorus, '23-'24; Choir, '25-'26; Education Club (4); French Club (4).

Variety is the spice of life—so they say—and we surely have it in Thelma. She transfers her talents from the classroom to the social gathering at will. There is a "bonne camaraderie" about her that never fails to register. Naive, enthusiastic, and always stimulating, her personality is most convincing.

Senior Class

Elizabeth Morisey
A.B.
CLINTON, N. C.

Cornelian; House of Representatives (3); International Relations Club (3, 4); Education Club (3, 4).

To know her is to like her better. The name, "Betty," is characteristically her own, pretty and proper. We like to be with her because, like a good spirit, she drives the bad feelings away. She has a personality—a contagious spirit of happiness.

Bess Newton
B.S., H.E.
FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.

Adelphian; Home Economics Art Club (3); Secretary Home Economics Club (3); Spanish Club (1, 2); Chemistry Club (3, 4).

A queer mixture is this little lass. She is one of the few truly "modern" girls that have successfully determined just to what degree is a good sport really good. Her streaks of puritanic philosophy that occasionally crop out in her staunch refusals to enter a Sunday bridge game only heighten our opinion of her as a genuine good sport.

Mary Alexander Nisbet
A.B.
CHARLOTTE, N. C.

Adelphian; German Club (1, 2); Proctor (2); Educatiton Club (4); House of Representatives (4).

Mary is an admirable person. She is neat, cheerful, sincere, gracious, dignified and sympathetic. She is not flighty nor temperamental, but calm and tactful. Once you have added her to your list of friends you may be sure that you have her "for keeps."

Bessie Noble
A.B.
KINSTON, N. C.

Dikean; Classical Club (1, 2); French Club (4); Education Club (4).

She's fair, square, dainty, and wise, but her greatest charms come from those soft, gentle, brown eyes that are so full of trust for everyone. She has "a sunshine heart, a soul for song, love for hate, and right for wrong."

Senior Class

Elizabeth Ogburn
A.B.

SUMMERFIELD, N. C.

Cornelian; College Chorus, '23-'24-'25-'26; Glee Club, '24-'25; Proctor, '25; Education Club, '26.

Elizabeth is one of those gracefully calm spirits that are varieties in the rush and whirl of a busy world. Behind her seeming reserve lies a character of strength and beauty. Her cheerful and sweet disposition makes one enjoy being around her. In her we find a friend who is true and lasting.

Mary Bailey Orr
A.B.

GOLDSBORO, N. C.

Aletheian; Winthrop College (1, 2); French Club (3, 4).

Mary has been with us for only two years, yet everyone has learned to know and admire her. She is quite capable, enough so that her class work never bothers her; she is jolly, alert and generous. Because of these qualities it is easy for anyone to overlook her one weakness,—"When I was at Winthrop,—etc."

Barbara Mabel Osborne
B.S.

MOUTH OF WILSON, VA.

Dikean; French Club (2); Proctor (3); Chemistry Club (3); Home Economics Art Club (3, 4); College Choir (3, 4); Baseball Team (3).

Babs has a smile that makes life worth while and a way of making everyone around her enjoy life. She is conscientious in her work, but she is all there when it comes to a good time. During her college career she has won many true and loyal friends.

Marguerite Overall
A.B.

ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (2, 3, 4); Education Club (3, 4).

In appearance and manner Marguerite is all that a modern young lady should be, for she is dainty and feminine, and capable of undertaking a great deal of responsibility. This fascinating little blond has won many friends on the campus by her charm and has cheered many homesick girls by her sunny smile.

Senior Class

Marjorie Perkins
A.B.
LINCOLNTON, N. C.
Dikean.

Actions speak louder than words when it comes to "Marjie," who is characterized by daintiness, sweetness and charm. These traits have endeared her to the hearts of us all, and to all of us she is a friend when we need her; therefore a friend indeed.

Virginia Tyson Person
A.B.
PIKEVILLE, N. C.
Aletheian; St. Mary's (1, 2).

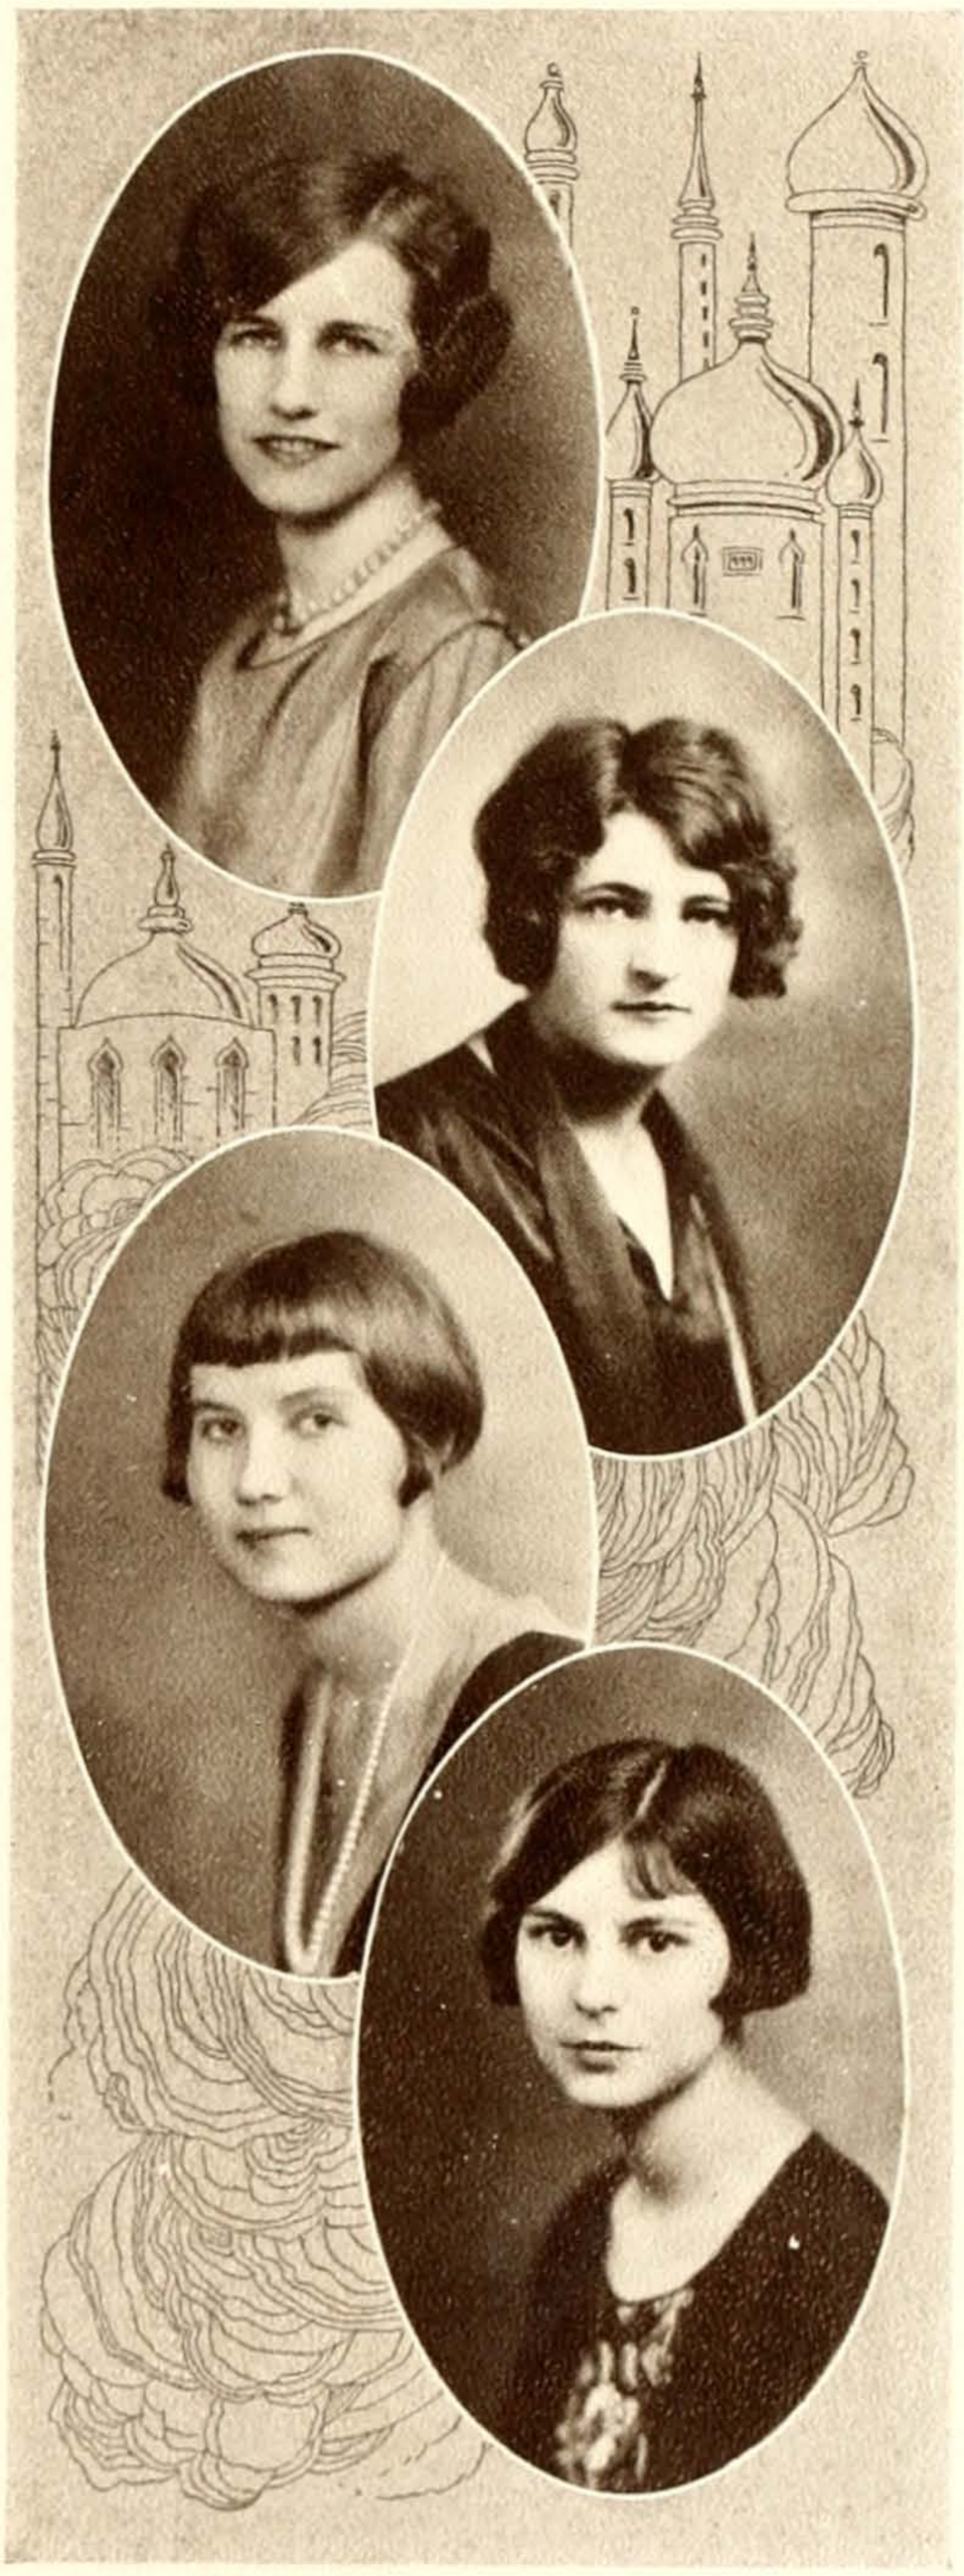

There is no one like her. It does not require flowery words to describe her, but the adjective "fine" sums up her character. It is just as if all the noblest of characteristics were put in one big melting pot, and the result is—Jennie.

Clarkie Pierce
A.B.
HALLSBORO, N. C.
Adelphian; Baseball Class Team, '25; Varsity Team, '25; French Club (4); Proctor (4).

Clarkie, better known as "Mutt," is indeed an all-round girl. She is reliable, unselfish, and faithful, and she is a pal worth having, for the better you know her the more you like her. "Mutt" is neither frivolous nor too serious; she is a girl anyone would want for a friend. As a star baseball player, "Mutt" ranks above us all.

Martha Louise Pierce
A.B.
BEAUFORT, N. C.
Cornelian; French Club (2); Education Club (3, 4).

There goes Martha—a quiet, lovable girl, who always has time to spend a few minutes with another, whether it be for work or play. The 1's which make up her report depict her ability as a student. This, together with her cheerful disposition will surely bring her success.

Senior Class

Mary Theresa Polk
A.B.

ROCKINGHAM, N. C.

Cornelian; Education Club (4); Proctor (1, 2).

Mary is the kind of girl who is liked by everyone. She is fun-loving, full of pep, and is ready for anything. However, she knows when to be serious, studious, and sympathetic, never boring one with her company. She is a true friend and a good sport.

Edith Powell
A.B.

SMITHFIELD, N. C.

One immediately thinks, "What a womanly person!" Her quiet dignity and unassuming manner makes one trust her instinctively. She gives you the impression that here is one who will understand all your troubles whether they be great or small, about love affairs or examinations.

Eugenia Salome Powell
A.B.

GRIFTON, N. C.

Dikean; Spanish Club, '24-'25; Proctor, '25.

Not too fast, not too slow, just the girl you like to know—that's Eugenia. Her attitude is ever one of peace and contentment. A soft smile—just look her way and feel her calmness. And yet beneath this outward unemotional appearance lies a feeling of genuine interest, evident to those who really know her. Her likeability wins for her many a friend.

Kathryn Wright Price
A.B.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Adelphian; Proctor (2, 3); House of Representatives (2, 3); French Club (1, 2); "Carolinian" Staff (3, 4); Marshal (4); Dance Drama (3).

Our senior with the "prophylactic smile" has certainly bewitched us all. It has had even greater charm than the Pied Piper's flute. But, different from the Pied Piper we are not disappointed after being charmed. For we find a girl of real worth, high ideals, a keen sense of humor, and a sincere friend.

Senior Class

Maude Query
A.B.
CANDOR, N. C.

Dikean; French Club (1, 2, 3, 4); College Choir (1, 2, 3, 4); Champion Track Team (3); Hiking Leader (4); Class Hockey Squad (4); Class Soccer Squad (4); Class Track Team (4); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (4).

"Red"—a combination of common sense and wit, with an undercurrent of seriousness. One whose friendships have a warmth and color equal to that of her hair that Titian would have loved to paint, and whose thoughful kindliness makes her very dear to those who know her.

Agnes Norman Reeks
A.B.
MACON, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (2, 3); Proctor (1, 2); Education Club (4).

To know Agnes is to like her! To know her better is to love her, for she has that quality about her that makes us susceptible the very first thing. Tall, slender, and blond, that's the way we see her at first, and then we see her smile and we have visions of the fun behind that smile. To know Agnes is to love her!

Elizabeth Reinhardt
B.S.M.
LINCOLNTON, N. C.

Dikean.

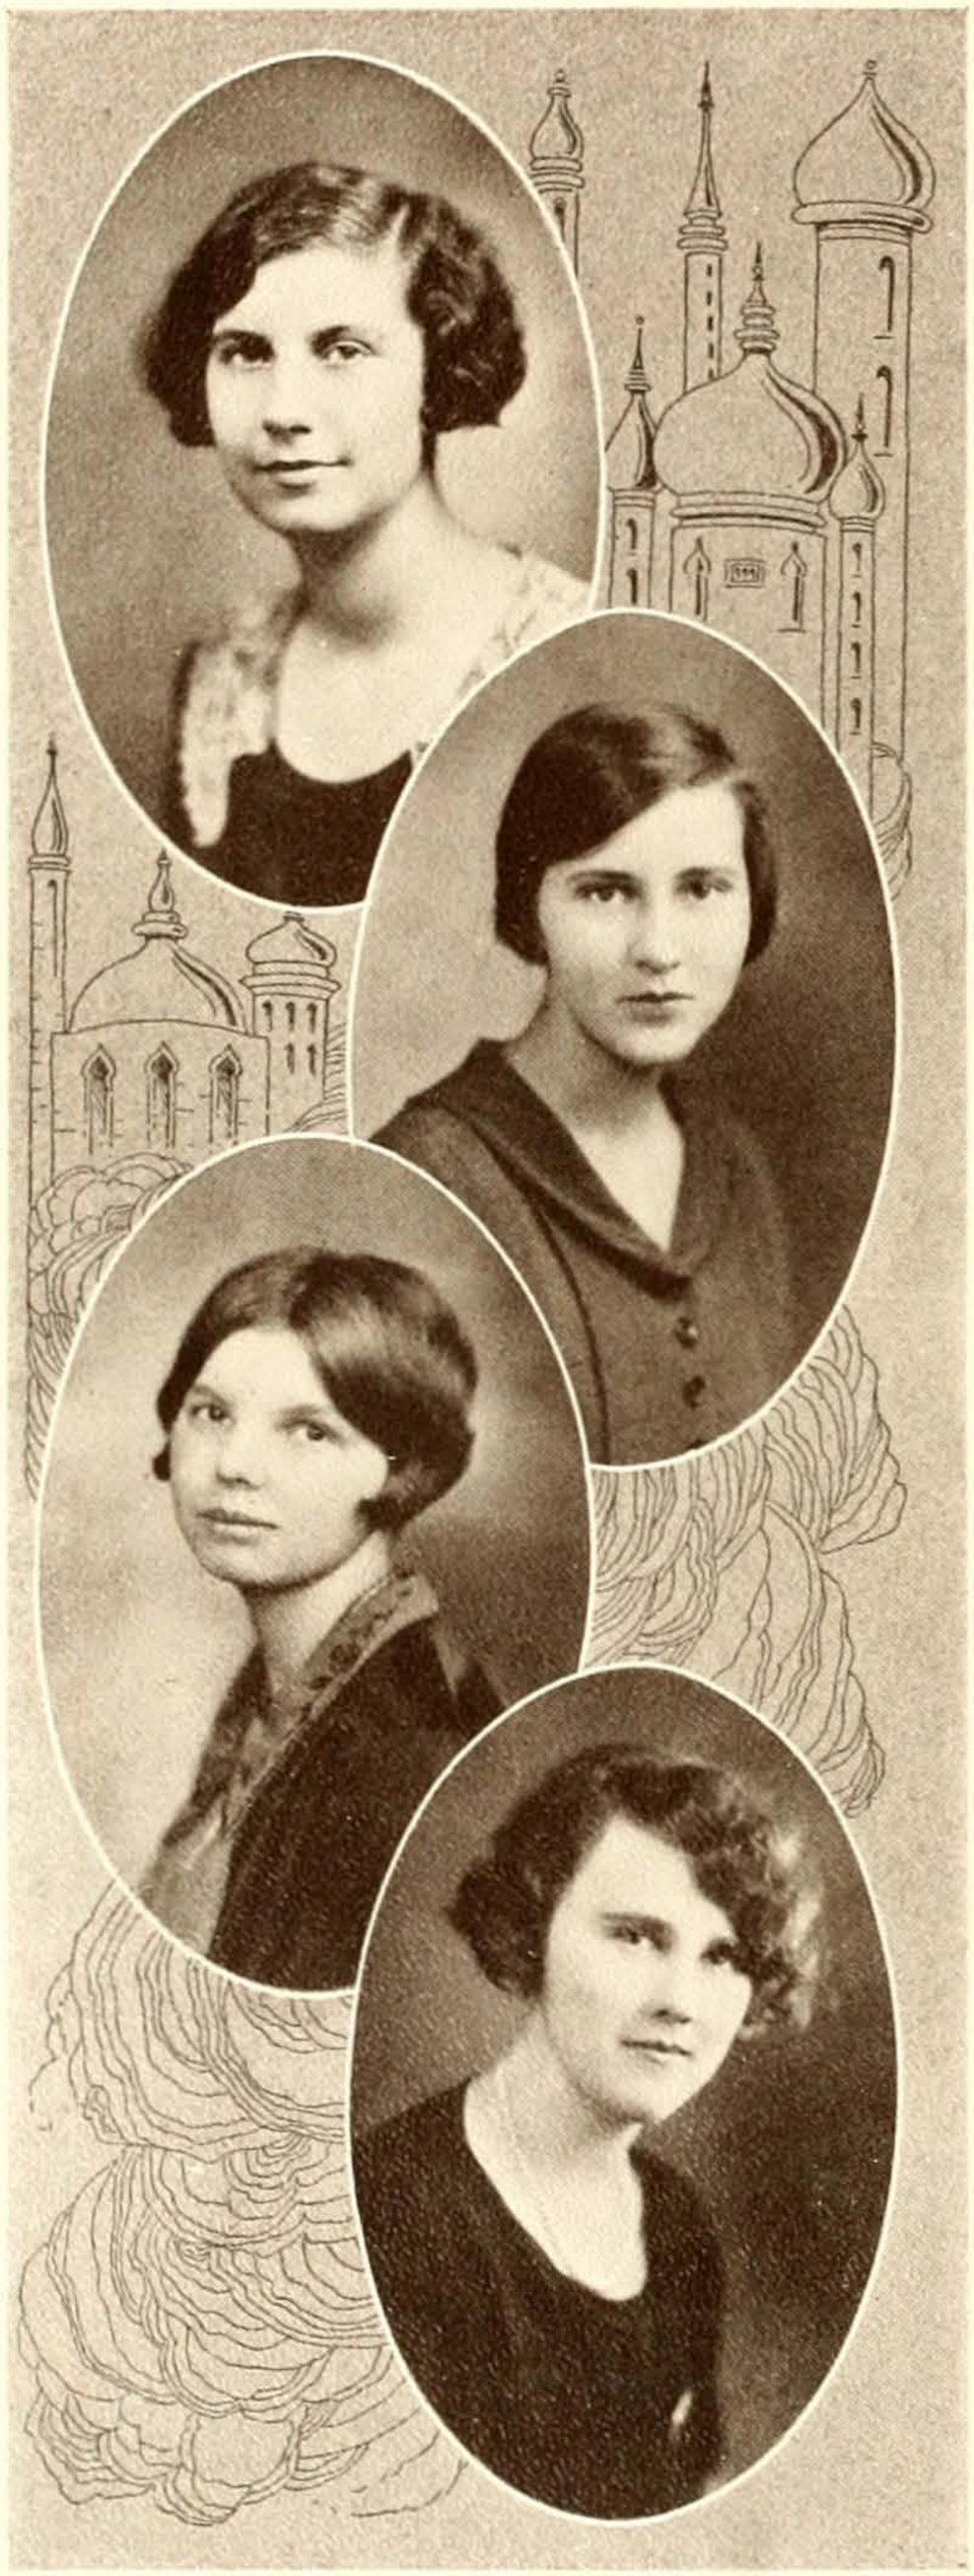

Possessor of the qualities which go to make up a charming and attractive girl, we are all sure that "Lib" will conquer the future, whether in the musical or social world. Her beauty, along with her culture, brilliance, and sincerity, make all who know her like her. Good luck, old girl!

Sarah Josephine Redfearn
B.S., H.E.
WADESBORO, N. C.

Cornelian; Home Economics Art Club, '25-'26; Chemistry Club, '26.

Know Sarah? Sure, everybody does. She is the Wadesboro girl who is so popular at home and so well loved at school. Her domestic ability is rare and with such a charming personality it is impossible to get along without her, and that is why we say that she is: "Someone who is steadfast in joy and sorrow—someone who grows dearer to-day and to-morrow."

Senior Class

Doris West Richardson
A.B.

DOVER, N. C.

Cornelia; Proctor (3); French Club (2, 3, 4); Spanish Club (2, 3, 4); Vice-President Spanish Club (4); Education Club (3, 4); Secretary and Treasurer Education Club (4).

Doris is just the sort of person we can't do without. When you want some good advice or want to be cheered up she's indispensable. Though rather undemonstrative, she has a charm of manner which attracts everyone with whom she comes in contact.

Susie Wall Robertson
A.B.

FRANKLINTON, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (1); Tennis Team (1, 2, 3); Winner of Singles Cup (2); Winner Doubles Cup (2, 3); Hockey Team (2, 3); Basketball Team (2, 3); Track Team (2); Varsity Hockey Team (3); Editor Y. W. C. A. Handbook (3); Proctor (3); A. A. Cabinet (2, 3); Junior Shop Manager (3); House of Representatives (4).

Susie Wall—defiant integrity to the end. Here she is refusing to be pigeon-holed, a delightfully unique personality! Complementing her insistent intellectual daring,—her impatience of unsound thinking, her embarrassing habit of asking questions that one cannot answer,—is her gentleness, her worship of fineness and truth, and her reverence for individuality.

Mary Alice Robertson
A.B.

RALEIGH, N. C.

Cornelian; Property Manager Playlikers (2); Stage Manager Playlikers (3); Assistant Stage Manager Playlikers (4); Member House Representatives (2, 3); Major Part One-Act Play (3); Major Part Three-Act Play (4); Assistant Business Manager "Coraddi" (3); Business Manager "Coraddi" (4); Zoology Field Club (3, 4); Education Club (3); Secretary Playlikers (4); Freshman Commission (1).

With your gentle charm, a willing hand, a will to do, a mind to direct, and a heart to guide, you have won the respect of your classmates and the love of your friends. In the years to come our lives will be a little fuller for having known you and our college a little finer for having served you.

Mattie Mozelle Robertson
A.B.

ZEBULON, N. C.

Cornelian; Proctor (1); Education Club (4); Vice-House President (4).

Dignified, self-controlled, sincere—Mozelle is all this and more. She is absolutely and always faithful to what she is called upon to do, no matter how small the task.

Senior Class

Christina Elizabeth Rollins
A.B.
DURHAM, N. C.
Dikean.

This girl is who? Take guesses, two. It is, you'll guess, if your best you do—Elizabeth, who's fair and quite debonair, has eyes of blue, and a heart as true as a well-liked lass, in the Senior class, should have,—to be liked by you!

Vera Rosemond
A.B.
SPENCER, N. C.
Adelphian; Spanish Club, '23-'24; Education Club, '25-'26.

The most outstanding thing about Vera is that she is unusual. Some say independent, but if this is true, her independent ways are surely becoming. She is attractive, charming, and a clever entertainer among the "Duke's" and "real estate Deal—er's." Above all she is sympathetic and frank to her many friends.

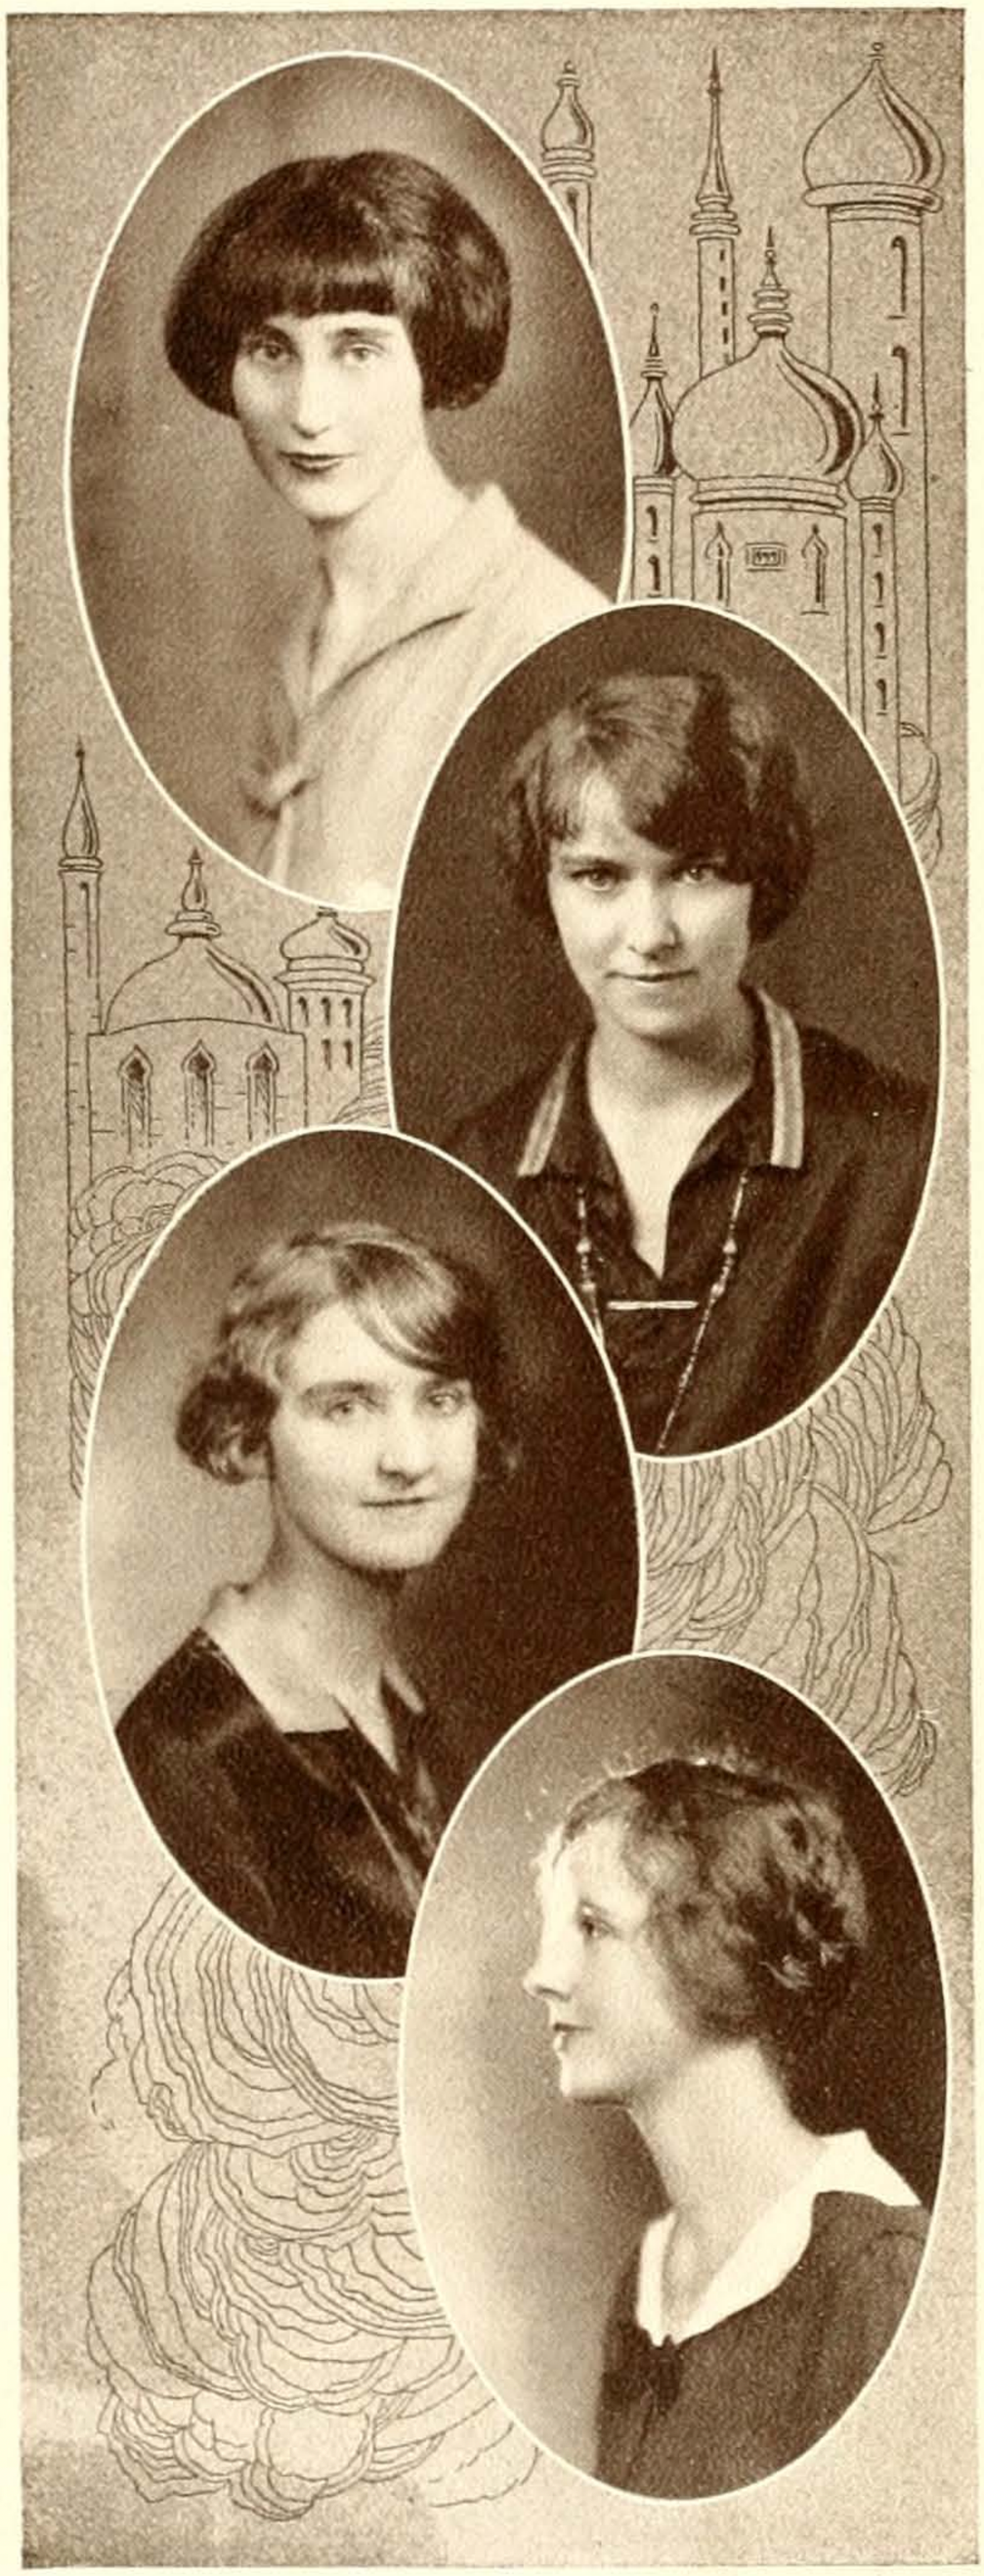

Ina Beatrice Seaford
A.B.
TIMBERLAND, N. C.
Dikean; French Club, '24-'25.

An intense love of life and all things true and beautiful, a heart overflowing with good fellowship, a ready wit, a keen mind, and a sympathetic understanding of people—this and more is Ina's happy heritage.

Stella Thetis Shepherd
A.B.
ORRUM, N. C.
Cornelian; Classical Club, '22-'23; '23-'24; Botany Club, '25-'26.

A definition: "Thetis" means soothing or spirited music, Latin literature properly appreciated, the blues driven away, the sick made well. It means seriousness, earnestness, wit, and fun. In short, "Thetis" is the synonym for versatility in service.

Senior Class

Helen Nora Sherrill
A.B.

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

House of Representatives (1); "Carolinian" Reporter (2); Tennis Team (1, 2, 3, 4); Young Voters Club (3, 4).

There was a girl—you'd remember her if you saw her grin. There was another girl—only she was solemn and serious. There were two girls rolled into one, solemn, serious, gay, and sweet. And they were Tup!

Katherine Elizabeth Sherrill
A.B.

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

Dikean; Class Treasurer (1); House of Representatives (1); Freshman Commission (1); Proctor (2); Inter-Society Debate (2); Faculty-Student Council (3, 4); Education Club (3, 4); Society Treasurer (3); House President (3); Student Government President (4); Y. W. Cabinet (4).

Did you hear that laugh? It tells us many things: first, that its owner knows the full joy of just being alive; second, that she has known the deep satisfaction that comes to one who has made it truly worthwhile to be alive; third, that "Fud" is near! What more could anyone want?

Clara Ernestine Shipp
A.B.

TURKEY, N. C.

S. A. E.; Tennis Club (1); Classical Club (1, 2); Vice-President Classical Club (2); Fire Lieutenant (2); House Representatives (2, 4); Inter-Society Conference Committee (3, 4); French Club (2, 3, 4); Spanish Club (3, 4); Cornelian Critic (4); Education Club (4).

Behold the true Cornelian disciple! Her high ideals, her scholarly intellect, and her tolerant attitude toward life, make her a real citizen whom we are proud to know.

Lola Pearl Shore
A.B.

SALISBURY, N. C.

Adelphian; Spanish Club (1, 2); Education Club (4); Vice-House President S. S. (2, 3); Botany Club (4); House of Representatives (4).

Sweetness and charm characterize Lola. She has a magnetic personality set off by an unusual loveliness of face and manner. When it comes to sense, both varieties, we can depend on her. Of her we may say: "She's loveliest of a festal throng, in delicate form and Grecian face."

Senior Class

Pauline Short
A.B.
FREMONT, N. C.
Adelphian.

And where are you going, my pretty Spanish maid? Though you are "Short," 'tis not of comeliness, nor yet of charm. May all the happiness you have given us, return to you fourfold, and take you far along the golden road.

Thayer Lucile Sink
A.B.
ROCKWELL, N. C.
Dikean; Classical Club (1, 2); French Club (3, 4); Education Club 3, 4).

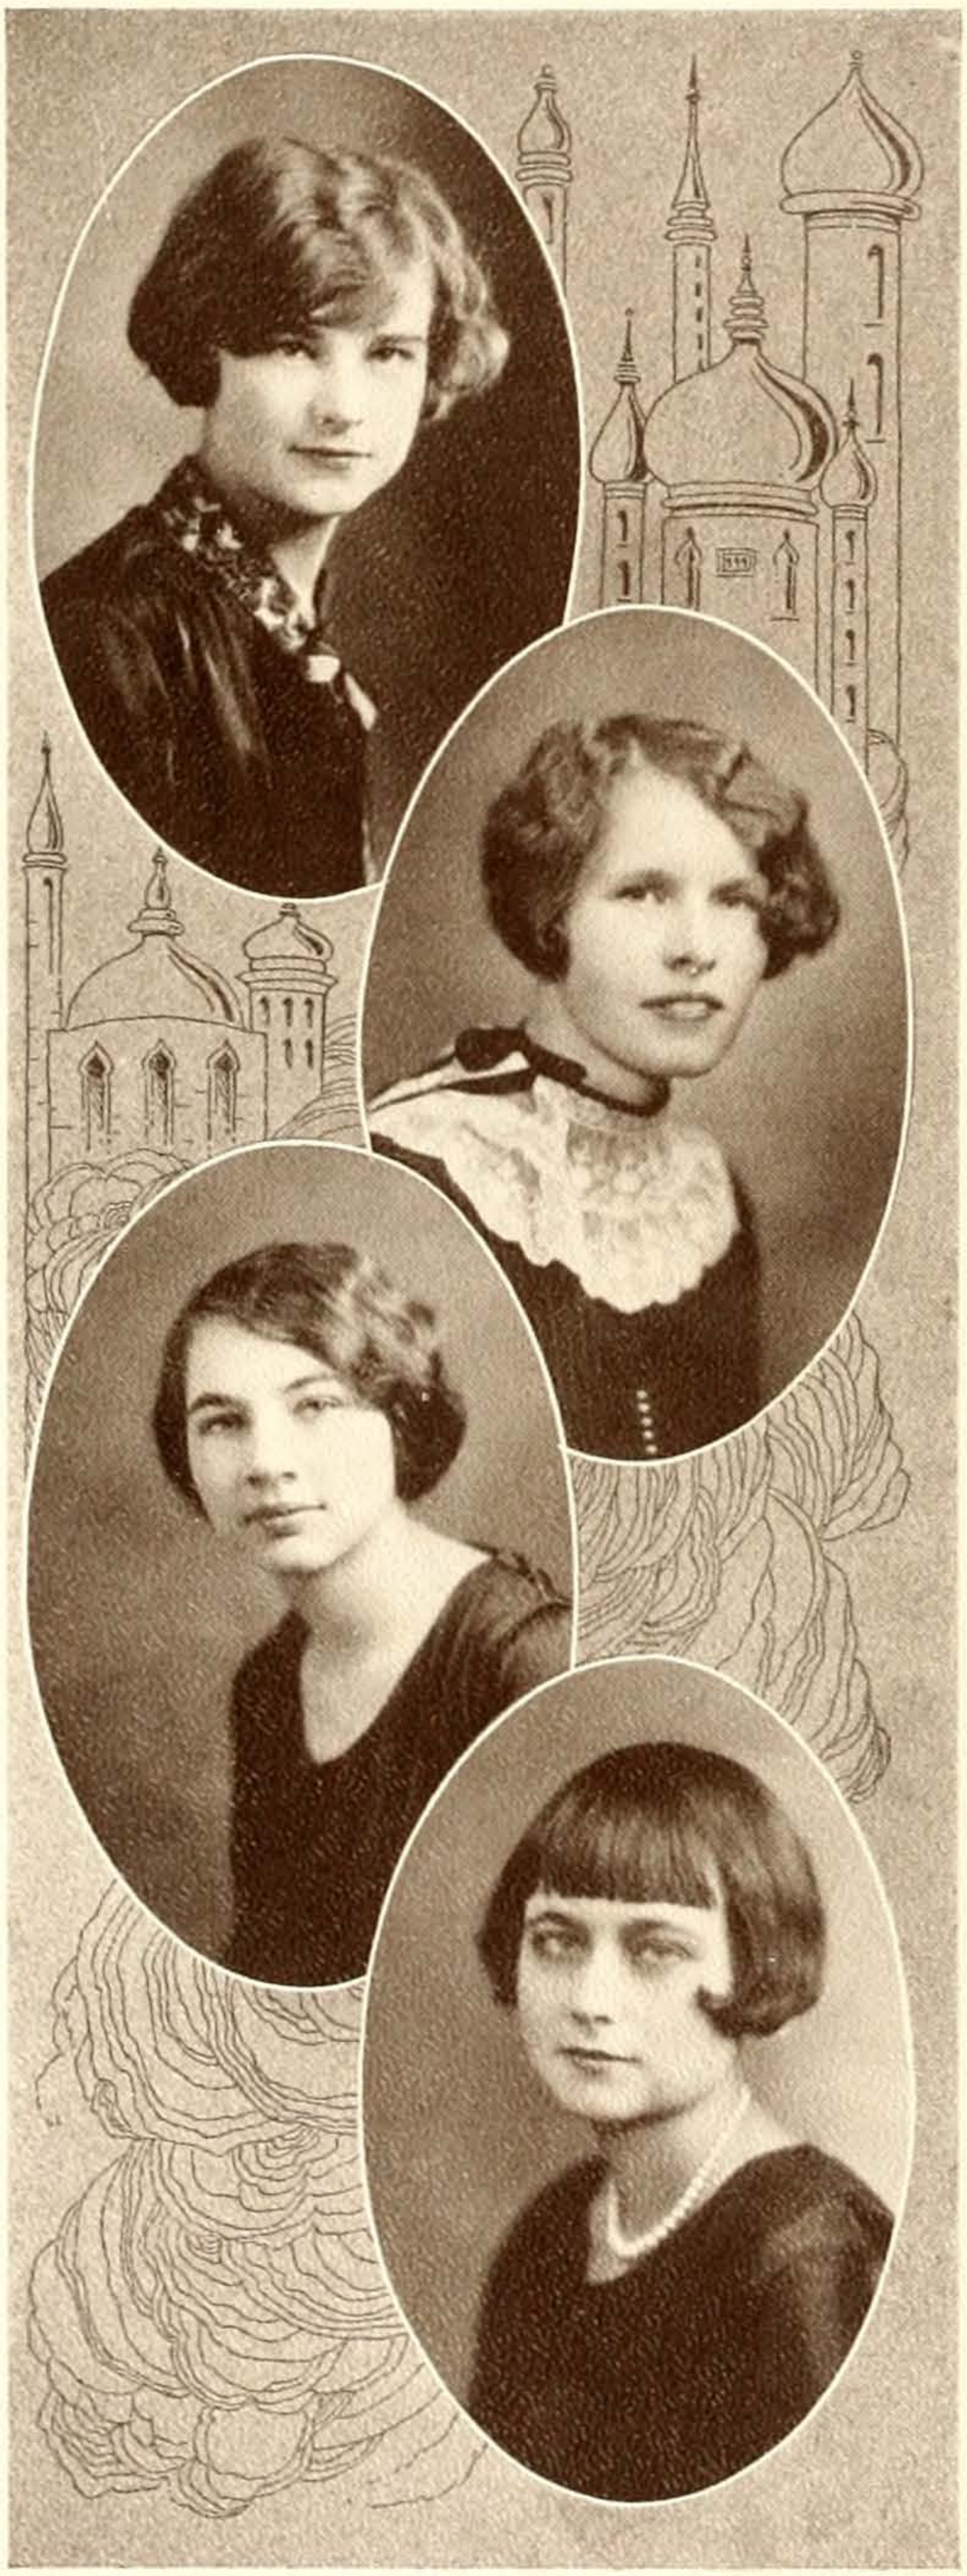

"Suitcase"—unusual is the name so humorously applied to this apparently reserved senior. To those who know her, reserve fades in the light of her keen wit and humor. Brilliant in her studies, sincere to her friends, loyal to her ideals, she is on the road to a successful career.

Lella Mae Sitterson
A.B.
WINDSOR, N. C.
Cornelian.

A high degree of quality in sincerity, dependability, and modesty characterizes Lella Mae. Her sympathetic, unselfish attitude toward her associates invites one's confidence, and we have found in her one of the truest of friends. Her attractive personality has won for her a lasting place in the hearts of many of her classmates.

Della Dawson Slaughter
A.B.
GOLDSBORO, N. C.
Cornelian; Proctor (2); Education Club (4).

Everybody knows Dawson's beautiful, but not quite everybody is so fortunate as to know what's really behind all that. We do. Don't you just love to meet a person who can sympathize with you sweetly, dance with you divinely, laugh with you freely, and then talk with you sincerely? Some good town is getting a lot when it gets Dawson.

Senior Class

Mary Hazel Small

A.B.

SALISBURY, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (1, 2); Spanish Club (2, 3); Proctor (3); Education Club (4).

Her petiteness makes her French—and the French are always clever. Her twinkling eyes proclaim her wit—and the witty are always philosophers. Her cheery smile welcomes popularity—and popularity calls for friends. Her infinite charm gives her an irresistible personality which makes her our Mary.

Margaret Ella Smith

A.B.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

Adelphian; House of Representatives (2); Vice-President of French Club (3); President of French Club (4).

Did you ever know anyone fashioned by the pattern of the gods? If you haven't—seek Margaret. You will not find her absolutely perfect—no! She is just charmingly imperfect enough to be interesting and entertaining to those who are cut by a different pattern. She is smart, but is not the type who broadcasts it. One learns it from association with her. She is even tactful enough to know the degree of smartness that is safe to profess.

Virginia Elizabeth Smith

B.S. (Public School Music)

FRANKLIN, N. C.

Cornelian; Proctor (2); Phoenix Club (2, 3, 4); Choir (2, 3, 4); Education Club (4).

Here is another girl from those wonderful hills of Western N. C., whence so much greatness has come. She possesses that rarest and most valuable of all qualities, that of being able to make friends wherever she goes. She is a little temperamental, too, which is perfectly proper for a musician, and only adds to her charm.

Vivian Smith

A.B.

WILSON, N. C.

Cornelian; French Club (1); Hiking Leader (3); Hockey Team (4); Soccer (4).

If you are looking for a genuine, good all-round girl, see "Viv;" in her one can always find a pal, an entertaining friend, and a good sport. Wit, humor, and determination characterize her as nothing else can. A real appreciation of her can be realized only when we think of losing the little girl whose place cannot be filled.

Senior Class

Eloise Sparger
A.B.
MOUNT AIRY, N. C.

Cornelian; French Club (2); Vice-House President (3); Fire Lieutenant (2); Proctor (2); Education Club (4).

This mixture of comedy and seriousness happily appeals to everybody. Her drole manner can almost bring tears to one's eyes, then, just in time to save the day, she smiles. That broad grin can put a happy ending to the saddest tale ever told. She makes a good impression at first sight—then improves on acquaintance. Yes, she is rare!

Evelyn Beatrice Sparks
A.B.
MORGANTON, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club, '23; Botany Club, '25; Education Club, '26.

Pretty, winsome and cultured is "Bat;" with her fiery sarcasm and humorous wit she can entertain crowds without the slightest suggestion of hesitancy. Devilish? Yes! but underneath her flippancy there is a more serious note of thoughtfulness that might well be appreciated by the intelligencia.

Lois Long Spaugh
A.B.
MOUNT AIRY, N. C.

Dikean; Proctor, '23; Education Club, '25-'26; French Club, '22-'23.

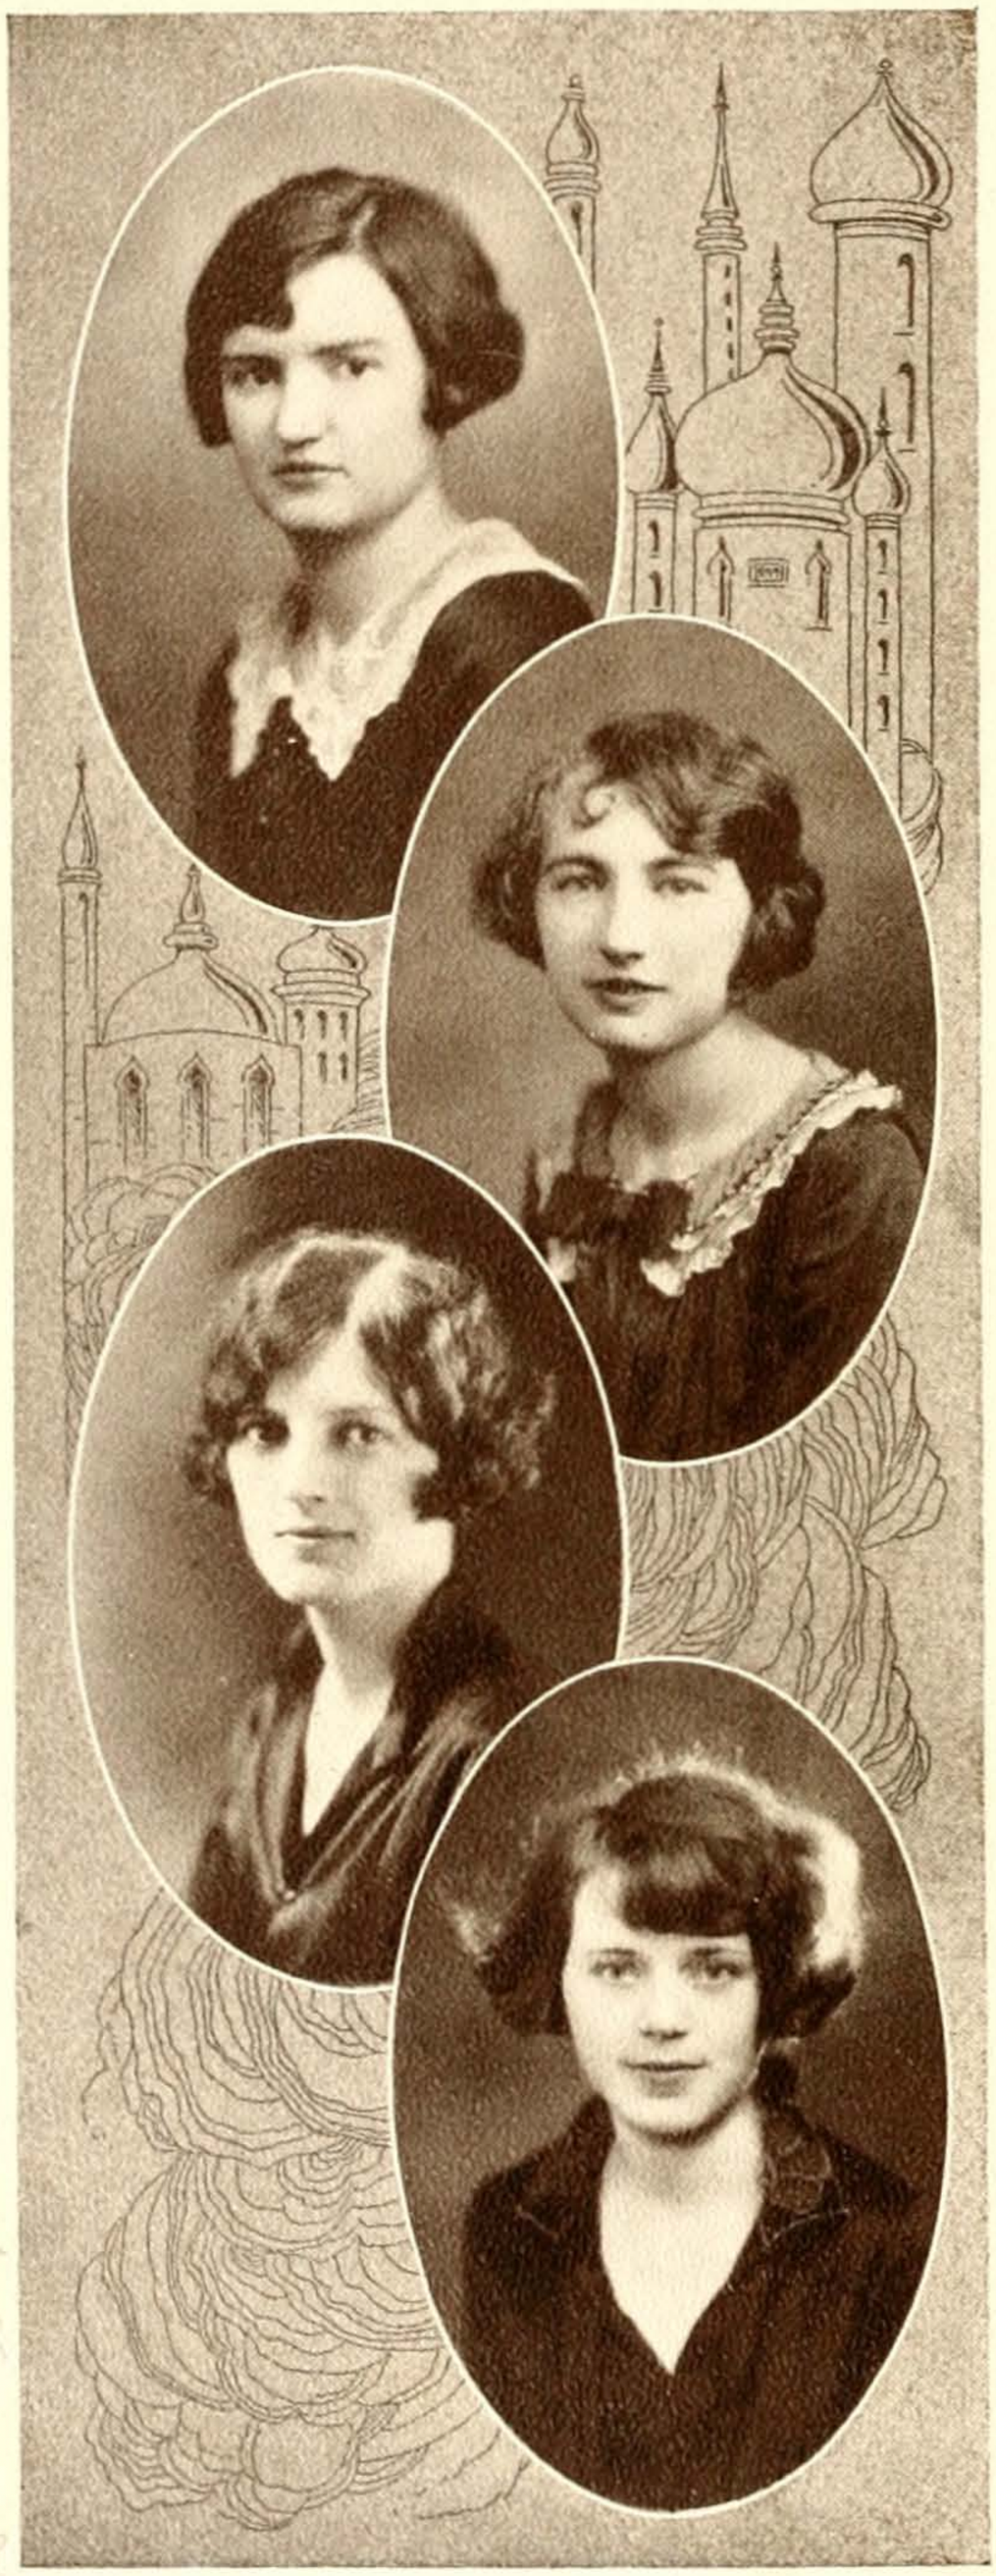

Charming wit, sparkling vivacity, and endearing naivete make "Polly" an entertaining hostess, enjoyable companion, and beloved friend. In fact, she is a friend to all from the aspiring poet to the learner of the A.B.C.'s. May the world feel as rich for having had her as does N. C. C. W.

Martha Caroline Stack
A.B.
WILMINGTON, N. C.

Adelphian; House of Representatives (1); Proctor (3); Classical Club; Spanish Club; French Club; Education Club.

This diminutive and dainty maid from the City by the Sea has an intellect that sparkles as brightly as the light within the depths of her sparkling brown eyes. Martha is one of those few girls you couldn't forget if you had to. Her accomplishments like her friends are fairly innumerable.

Senior Class

Susan Steele
A.B.
MARSTON, N. C.
Cornelian.

"Precious things come in small packages" might well be said of Susan. She is lovable, friendly, sympathetic, and witty. No one can ever take her place in the hearts of those who know her. In the four years that she has been here she has made many friends. But who could find words to describe Susan?

Dorothy Maxine Stephens
A.B.
HERTFORD, N. C.

Adelphian; Proctor (3); Chemistry Club (3, 4); President of Zoology Field Club (4); Botany Club (3); House of Representatives (4).

Behold her, the Court Jester; now hear the Royal Musician; then consult the King's Scientific Adviser—by heck, Dot's just about the whole shebang rolled into one! And to cap the climax, her name is to be found in the exclusive society of Miss Moore's honor roll—but just try to congratulate her!

Evelyn Stephenson
B.S., H.E.
ABINGDON, VA.

Adelphian; Proctor (3); House of Representatives (3); Home Economics Art Club (3, 4); Chemistry Club (3, 4).

"Steve"—contradictory mental pictures. The ability to surmount the highest peak of gravity, and to sink to the indigo sobriety of the "blues." Winsome mannerisms, a lovableness that draws everyone to her, a good all-round sport. "Nuff said," according to present day vernacular.

Agnes Gorrell Stewart
A.B. (Summer School)
GREENSBORO, N. C.

Cornelian; College Chorus, '25-'26; Proctor, '24.

Even though many people think that she is a freshman, and say that she doesn't look like a senior, those of us who have been here four years know the real meaning of a wonderful little girl in knowing her. But we know that most valuable things come in small packages and Agnes certainly fills this bill.

Senior Class

Ellen Mabel Stone
A.B.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

Adelphian; Hockey Team (1, 2, 4); Class Hockey Manager (3); Basketball Team (1, 2, 4); Manager and Captain Basketball Team (2); Track Team (1, 3); Varsity Track Team (3); College Track Sport Leader (3); Senate (3); Wearer of N. C. C. (3; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (4); Vice-President Student Government (4).

There's an ineffable sweetness about Ellen—it may be her soft voice, her grave eyes, or her dignity of bearing; or maybe it's a composite of these things with others added. She is herself always; there is no sham or affectedness about her; she has "the courage of her convictions." There's no need to wish that she might obtain happiness; it will surely come her way.

Irene Stroupe
A.B.

CHERRYVILLE, N. C.

Dikean.

Here is a girl possessing a rich nature, a heart with no place for malice, a mind that seeks only the truth, and a personality that is both charming and different. She is fun-loving, frank and wholly lovable.

Mary E. Stuart
A.B.

RALEIGH, N. C.

Cornelian; Y. W. Cabinet (1); Proctor (1); French Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Secretary of Class (2); Spanish Club (3, 4); Student Friendship Committee (4); Education Club (4).

Mary—such an ordinary name, but not an ordinary girl at all! One values her friendship, for in it you find sincerity, fineness of character, capability, and a readiness to serve others. Mixed with these qualities you detect that spirit of fun and life which makes her so charming and lovable.

Elizabeth Sutton
A.B.

WINDSOR, N. C.

Adelphian.

Tiny, but not so small that she does not fill a large place in the friendships of numerous students—that's Bug! Full of fun, sensible, and extremely thoughtful of others—here's a pal! Bug spends no small portion of her time in the library, but always manages to meet the morning mail in time to receive the daily letter from Windsor. A regular girl—that's Bug!

Senior Class

Lina Tarleton
A.B.

WADESBORO, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club (1, 2, 3); Proctor (2); Corresponding Secretary Adelphian Society (4); Hockey Squad (3); Soccer Team (3); Baseball Squad (3); Athletic Cabinet (3); Education Club (4); Assistant Business Manager of "Pine Needles" (3).

Every little whit of a thing loves Lina. In fact, she is the kind of a girl to be admired by all. A thousand girls in one—the good sport, the society butterfly, even the business woman, but especially do we like to remember her as the girl, and, above all others, the true friend.

Louise Morris Tate
A.B.

WILKESBORO, N. C.

Cornelian.

Here's that tiny, little senior whose friends swear by her. Though she has remained in the background because of her natural reserve, she but proves her womanly character. We are sure she will furnish an inspiration to the youth of the land.

Carrie McLean Taylor
A.B.

GASTONIA, N. C.

Cornelian; House of Representatives (2, 3); Assistant Business Manager of "Carolinian" (3); Society Critic (3); Proctor (3); Education Club (3, 4).

"Mac" is another one of those girls who puts herself whole-heartedly into any project. She thinks clearly and fairly before she voices an opinion, but when she does speak her idea usually carries. Yes, Mac is a good sport.

Effie Lynn Taylor
A.B.

LOUISBURG, N. C.

Adelphian; Classical Club (1, 2); Secretary-Treasurer Classical Club (2); French Club (1, 2, 3, 4); "Carolinian" Reporter (2); "Carolinian" Editor (3); Quill Club (4); President Adelphian Society (4); Class Historian.

A girl that you would shamelessly attempt to imitate, only to discover that her charm is far too intangible for reproduction—elusive but thoroughly substantial. Her quaint little modesty tends to make you forget that she is one of the outstanding leaders of campus activities and is known by everyone as one of the wittiest girls in the college.

Senior Class

Mable Taylor
A.B.

NORTH WILKESBORO, N. C.

Cornelian; Tennis Club (1); French Club (2, 3); Proctor (3); Education Club (4).

A casual glance at Mable makes us think of an irresponsible, chuckling cherub. Her charming personality greatly bears out her appearance. However, we who have lived and worked by her side, know that beneath her delightful jollity there is a strong vein of capability, which will serve her as truly throughout life as it has heretofore.

Pearl Morris Teiser
A.B.

RALEIGH, N. C.

Cornelian; "Carolinian" Staff (1); Circulation Manager (2); Spanish Club (1, 2, 3, 4); House of Representatives (3, 4); Proctor (3); Education Club (4).

Pearl has a lovable personality and an admirable brain. She has remained naive enough to still trust the world and there is every indication that the world will play square with her.

Lavinia Thomas
B.S., H.E.

FRANKLIN, N. C.

Cornelian; Home Economics Art Club (3, 4).

None can have a greater love for human nature, and none expresses it more frankly. She is thrilled by the romance of life, puzzled by its complexities, yet cannot exult with those who feel the power that achievement brings. Hers is a coveted versatility in household arts—a realm in which her greatest triumph will lie!

Sarah Vance Thompson
A.B.

HAMLET, N. C.

Dikean; Hockey Squad (2); Zoology Field Club (4); Chemistry Club (4); House of Representatives (4); Second Hockey Team (4); Vice-President Zoology Field Club (4).

Here's to Vance! One of the best natured girls on the campus, for she never lets anything worry her. We are sure Vance will make a wonderful success in the medical world. Her straightforward manner, her undying energy to do something, will surely carry her to the heights that great men attain.

Senior Class

Mary Emily Thornberg

A.B.

TIMBERLAND, N. C.

Adelphian; French Club, '23-'24-'25-'26; International Relations Club, 25-'26; Education Club, '25-'26.

"Mary, Mary, quite contrary" does not suit her as well as would the term "Professor." Sympathetic, kind, with plenty of common sense, she is always ready to give advice on anything from lessons to love affairs. After a short chat with her one is almost envious of her ability to entertain. She is indeed a friend worth having.

Eleanor K. Vannemann

A.B.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

Cornelian; Class Cheer Leader (2); "Carolinian" Reporter (2); Managing Editor (3); Class Basketball (1, 2, 3, 4); Soccer and Track Teams (3); Varsity Track (3); Class Soccer and Hockey Teams (4); Editor-in-Chief of "Carolinian" (4); Varsity Basketball (4).

Characterized by endurance, foresight, strength and skill is Van, so well-known as the editor-in-chief of the Carolinian. She is a mixture of vivacity and wit and is a good sport in everything. When one is with Van one thinks that truly the heart has responses that reason cannot understand.

Martha V. Ward

B.S., H.E.

SELMA, N. C.

Dikean; Home Economics Club; Chemistry Club.

"How do you do it?" ask the curious ones who try to find the secret of Martha's popularity. It is such a foolish question, however. We all know that it is just by being her own sweet self that she has created lasting friendships wherever she has been and many of us are fortunate enough to be able to count ourselves among that number.

Hermene Wharton Warlick

B.S.M.

HICKORY, N. C.

Cornelian; Orchestra (1, 2, 3, 4); Choir (1, 2, 3, 4); Glee Club (3, 4); Dance Drama (3); Proctor (2); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (4); Secretary of Orchestra (3); Librarian of Orchestra (4).

Hermene—talented devotee at the beautiful shrine of music—it is only fair that we speak of that love first and to the greatest length. Organ, piano, her own compositions—it is impossible to reproduce on paper the magic that lies beneath the power of her fingers and of the fine imagination and skill of the brain that controls them. Just to say "Music" is enough, isn't it—for Hermene?

Senior Class

Anne Leta Warren

A.B.

NEWTON GROVE, N. C.

Dikean.

To those who know Leta, she is a girl who possesses a personality which has won for her a host of friends not only on the campus but elsewhere. She is serious, conscientious, and dependable at her work, but when work is over she is ready for a good time.

Emma Leah Watson

B.S., H.E.

GREENSBORO, N. C.

A girl who is truly worth knowing, a most dependable young person in everything, whether it be in play or in the art of home-making. We would vouch for her making a success of anything that she attempts—home-making included!

Ethel Holbrook Watson

A.B.

ENFIELD, N. C.

Dikean; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (2, 4); House of Representatives (2); A. A. Cabinet (2, 3, 4); French Club (3); Zoology Field Club (3); Class Soccer Leader (3); Class Soccer Team (3, 4); Class Hockey Team (2, 3, 4); Class Track Team (3); Wearer of N. C. C.

With the heart and mind of a Puritan in which are found odd strains of the modern, "little Watson" appeals strangely to those who understand her. In her is combined in charming proportions the athletic girl of to-day and the domestic maid of yesterday. She surely has her place in this world, and here's wishing her the best success in filling it.

Glendolyn D. Weaver

A.B.

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C.

Adelphian; House Committee, '22-'23; French Club, '24-'25-'26; Education Club, '25-'26.

Life can never get the best of Glen. Rather, to one of her temperament, it is an ever interesting experience. Absolutely refusing to be downcast, she meets its ironies with a smile, its varieties and subtleties with a glowing animation in the thrill of the unexpected, and its mysteries with a keen curiosity which ferrets out the secrets of the unusual.

Senior Class

CELESTIA WEEKS
A.B.
TARBORO, N. C.

Odeum; Spanish Club (2); Education Club (4); House of Representatives (3).

Who can leave a crowd of girls and not be criticized? "Celes"—witty, jolly, and optimistic is the usual comment. Her wit has saved many a situation. Her cheerful disposition and loyalty are desirable characteristics of her personality.

HILDA WEIL
B.S. P.E.
SALISBURY, N. C.

Adelphian; Proctor (2); Hockey Team (1, 2, 3, 4); Varsity Hockey Team (3); Baseball (1, 2, 3); Basketball (2, 3); Swimming Team (3); Recording Secretary of Adelphian Society (3); Property Manager of Pantikon (4); Orchesis Club (4); Junior Step Manager (3); Senior Class President (4).

A born leader; a sincere, understanding and true friend; a genuine girl—what more can one wish?

FRANCES WELCH
B.S. H.E.
HIGH POINT, N. C.

Odeum; House of Representatives (3); Chemistry Club (2); Vice-President Home Economics Art Club (3); Home Economics Art Club (3, 4); Proctor (3); Corresponding Secretary Odeum Society (4).

There is something about her that suggests an orchid—dainty, fragile, and beautiful. Not only is she beautiful, but her type of excellence is just as rare among girls as is the orchid among common garden flowers.

CLARA DORIS WHEELER
A.B.
BREVARD, N. C.

Curtain; Classical Club (2, 3); Proctor (4).

"They are never alone who are accompanied by noble thoughts." Her cheery disposition, ready smile and quick sense of humor have won for her innumerable friends. These traits, with her scholastic achievements and noble ideals, make a rare harmony of virtues.

Senior Class

Vivian Maye Wheless
A.B.

SPRING HOPE, N. C.

Dikean; Baseball Squad (1); Proctor (2); Botany Club (3, 4).

It is in terms of others that you'll always find her thinking—Vivian the tender-hearted, the loyal, the sincere. Vivian takes life unusually seriously; problems from the every-day campus life to those of that larger life, involving her very faith and creeds, present themselves to her as things that must be solved. Her mind, too, is unusually receptive, her soul delicately sensitive. One must search for a finer girl.

Fannie White
A.B.

VANCEBORO, N. C.

Dikean; Spanish Club (2); Education Club (3); Proctor (3).

Jolly, pleasure-loving, yet not carefree is Fannie. The calm way in which she meets life's problems (both triumph and defeat) gives her acquaintances new courage and ability to do master works. It is in her only that many of us are able to find a real optimist, for there is always something better, bigger, and greater ahead of Fannie that she climbs for and inspires others to reach.

Louise White
A.B.

WINDSOR, N. C.

Dikean; French Club (2).

Neatness personified is Red. Fun, mischief, and a rare sense of humor make for her popularity. If hair be woman's crowning glory then Red has over her share in wealth of curls and color. In spite of the traditional associations with such a color, Red has an unruffled disposition, except where rats are concerned. She is always ready to give them the entire floor space. Picture her teaching! She does it.

Evelyn Norwood Wilkins
A.B.

GOLDSBORO, N. C.

Cornelian; Coker College (1, 2); Proctor (3); Fire Chief (4); Class Cheer Leader (4); Education Club (4).

"Wonder why those girls are laughing?"—Evelyn's around, you might know. Witty she is, statistics say, and we know she's clever, too. Capable? Yes—even to apportioning dining room seats satisfactorily. Here's a bit of rare completeness, wit, wisdom and pep.

Senior Class

Bettie Neal Williams

A.B.

OCRACAKE, N. C.

Cornelian; House of Representatives (1); French Club (2, 3); Proctor (2); Education Club (3).

Bettie, through her abounding source of thought and energy, has left her class of red and white behind and we are glad to feel that this little sprite with all her fun and earnestness, is one of us. Her exuberant little chuckle is contagious; she laughs and we laugh with her. With her intellectual ability, her visionary idealism, and her personality, she will be an influence in whatever profession she enters, whether it be law or teaching.

Grace Williams

A.B.

MONROE, N. C.

Cornelian; French Club (2, 3); Proctor (3); Fire Lieutenant (4).

You have only to look into those bright brown eyes of Grace's and see that sweet expression which portrays a disposition that anyone might legitimately covet, and you will not be surprised at her ability to make such a number of everlasting friends. Besides all that, she is a real genius when it comes to solving mathematical problems. Success is surely hers if she is as loyal to her future undertakings as she has been to her tasks and friends at N. C. College.

Lois Emily Williamson

A.B.

LIBERTY, N. C.

Dikean; Baseball Team (1, 2, 3); Champion Baseball Team (1); Class Baseball Manager (3); Tennis Team (3); Proctor (2); Vice-House President (4); French Club (2, 3, 4); Vice-President French Club (4); Spanish Club (3, 4); Education Club (4); House of Representatives (4).

If you can find anything athletic in which Lois isn't interested, you are the first one. She's a truly good sport on the field, which means that she can keep her good disposition under all circumstances. As a student she's conscientious yet not so serious-minded that she can't forget business for pleasure if necessary. Briefly, she's an all-round, fair-minded, likeable sort of girl.

Norma Elizabeth Willis

A.B.

SOUTHPORT, N. C.

Cornelian; Freshman Commission (1); Treasury (1); Spanish Club (2); House of Representatives (3); Senate (4).

Mr. Hall called her "Normal," the photographer labeled her with a "classic profile," but in spite of it all she smiled bravely and easily won her way into the hearts of us all. A ready wit,

Senior Class

Mary Addie Wilson

A.B.

ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Adelphian; Proctor (2); Vice-House President (3); Hockey Squad (3, 4); Track Team (3); French Club (2, 3); House of Representatives (4).

To those who know her, Addie is a dreamer with high ideals. She is the possessor of a sincere and wholly admirable nature, a fine philosophy of life, and a soul wrought of such fine fabric as will bring her an abundance of the joys and sorrows of life.

I. Phillup Space

O.K.

HERE, N. C.

Samaritan; First Aid to "Pine Needles" Staff (4).

This young woman, unbeknown to herself, is obliging ye flustrated editor by adorning the space that was reserved for the mythical Edith L. Wilson, who seems to exist only on the senior class roll. Our sense of impartiality urges us to declare that, even though she is not a senior, no doubt she has some of those rare qualities: patience, unselfishness, dignity, and love. Thanks!

Ruth Louise Wilson

A.B.

ACME, N. C.

Adelphian; Proctor (2); House of Representatives (1); Education Club (3, 4); "Carolinian" Reporter (4).

Ruth—the mere mention of the name is monument enough to keep her in our hearts. Her success at making friends at college will win her success in other things. Ambitious, loving, sympathetic, Ruth is the best of friends, and we wish her the best of luck.

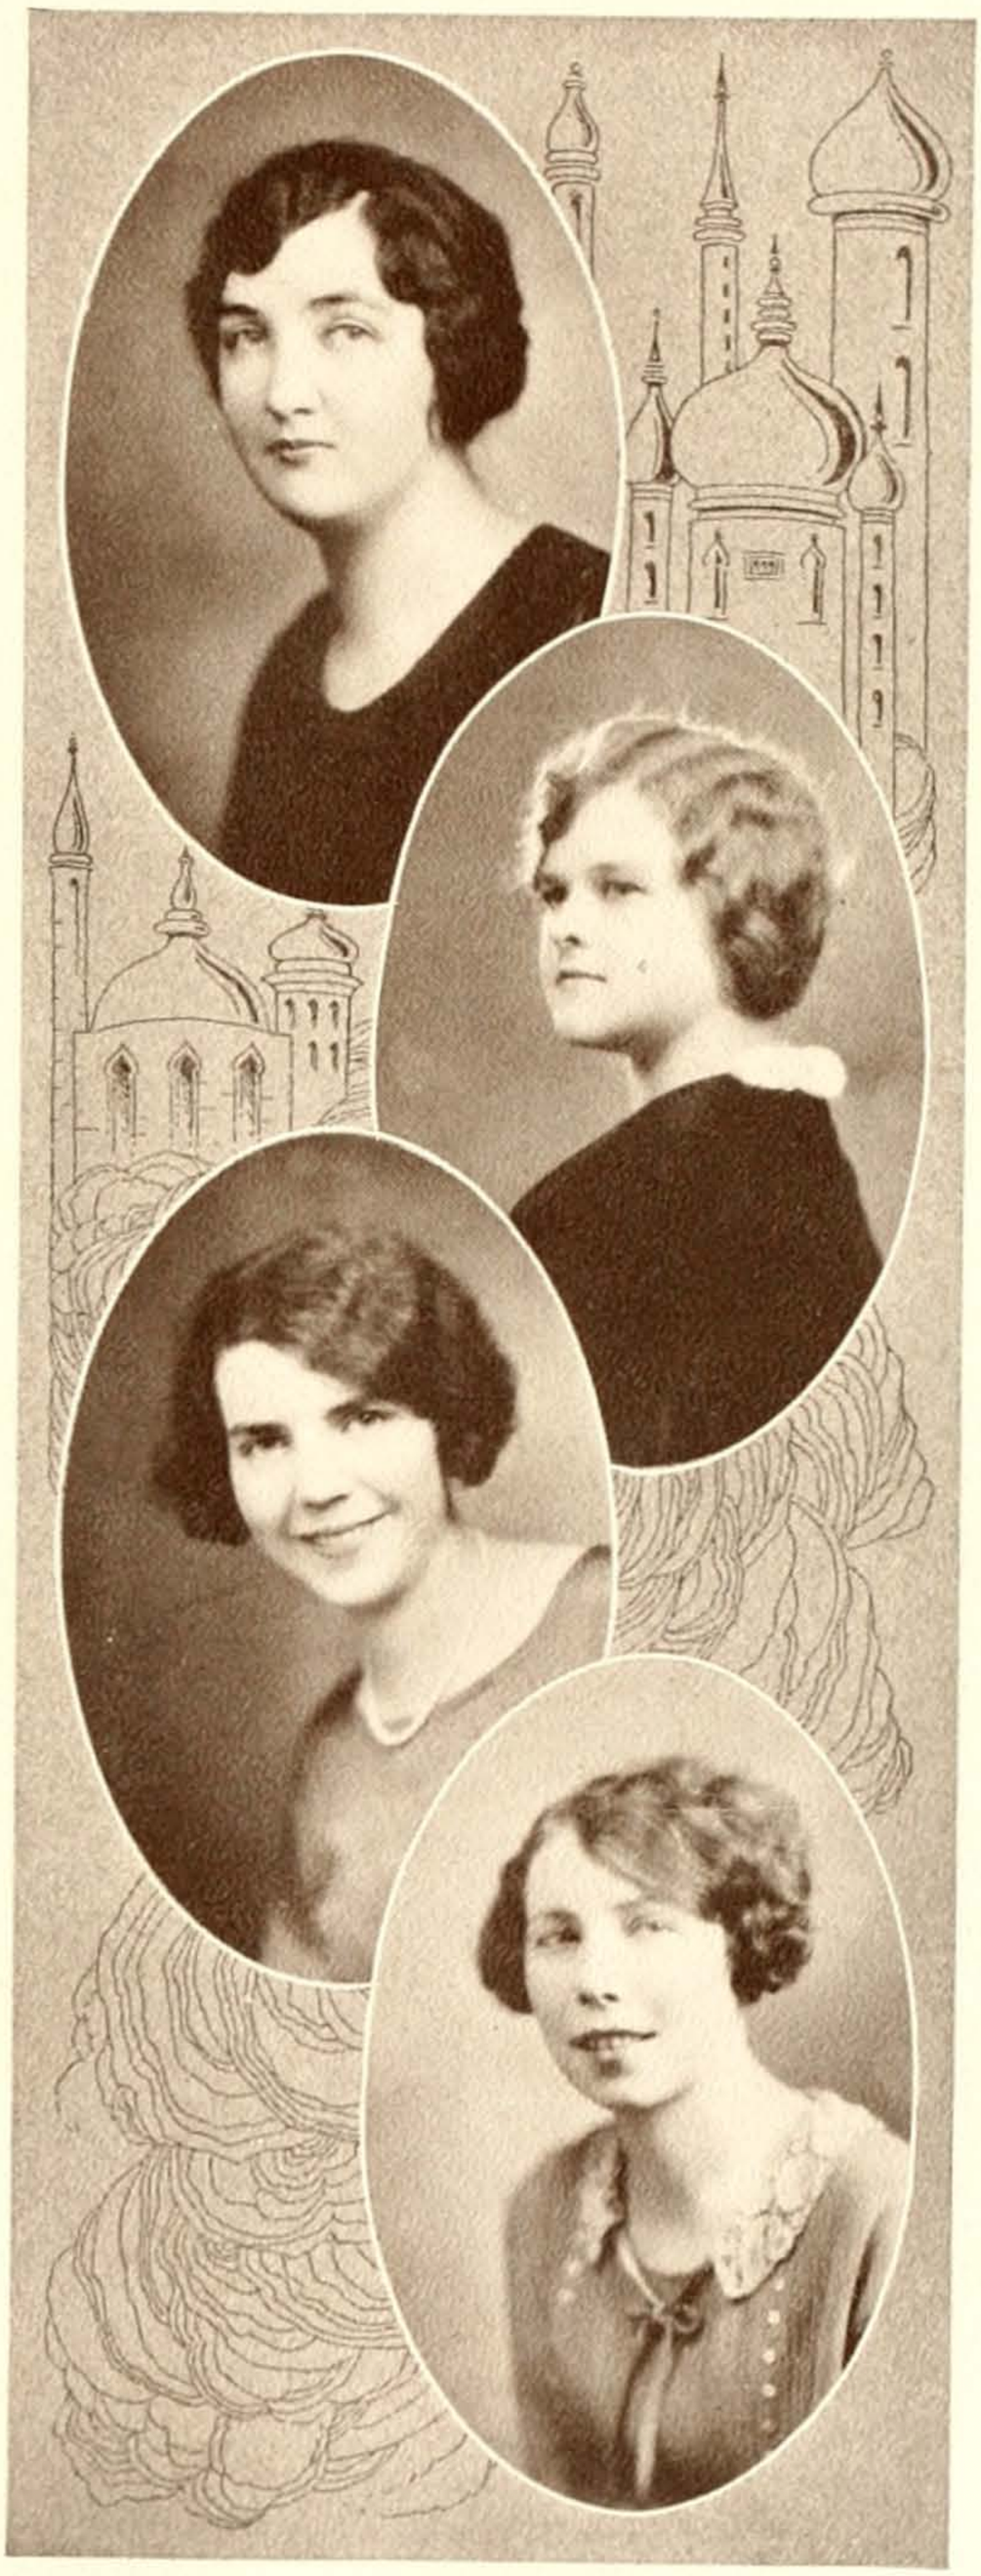

Susan Virginia Wilson

B.S., H.E.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.

Dikean; Chemistry Club (3, 4); Home Economics Club (3, 4); Chorus (4); French Club (2, 3).

"V" just won't worry, but she accomplishes more than those that do. Her gay camaraderie and endless generosity have won her a host of friends. She is full of pep, but when the occasion demands she can assume a dignity that enables her to meet any situation with perfect ease.

Senior Class

Mary Wood Wolfe

A.B.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Cornelian; French Club '22-'23-'24-'25-'26; Classical Club, '22-'23-'24; Proctor, '22-'23; '24-'25; Vice-House President, '24-'25; Cornelian Marshal, '24-'25; Spanish Club, '24-'25-'26; Education Club, '24-'25-'26; President Education Club, '25-'26.

Don't let her deceive you by her dignified appearance. You don't know her if you think she is as she looks. The real Mary is just as mischievous and fun-loving as the giddiest flapper but there's more to her than that. She is serious at the right time, dependable, diligent, and the kindest and most sympathetic of friends.

Katherine McKean Wolff

A.B.

CONCORD, N. C.

Dikean; French Club (1, 2); Class Critic (2); Proctor (3); Basketball Squad (1, 2, 3); Baseball Squad (1, 2, 3); Baseiall Team (1); Hockey Team (3, 4); Soccer Team (3, 4); Tennis Team (3); Young Voters Club (3, 4); President Young Voters Club (4); Society Critic (4); House President S. Spencer (4); N. C. C. W. Monogram.

Naturally endowed with an unusually bright mind, Katherine Wolff has been an outstanding member of the class of '26 since her Freshman year. In studies, athletics, society, and Student Government activities, Katherine has been a leader.

Cammie Odessa Worthington

B.S., H.E.

WINTERVILLE, N. C.

Dikean; Chemistry Club (3, 4); Home Economics Club (3, 4).

"Cam"—modest, unselfish, loyal with a sense of humor and originality that make her the "life" of any crowd. She has found her way into the heart of many a member of the opposite sex who have been made to fall under the spell of her attractiveness and magnetism.

Mildred Lucile Wynne

A.B.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

Aletheian; Charter Member of Aletheian Society (1); House of Representatives (2, 3); Charter Member of Playlikers; Stage Manager of Playlikers (3, 4); Assistant Business Manager "Coraddi" (2); Education Club (3); Spanish Club (3, 4); College Choir (1, 2, 3, 4); French Club (1, 2, 3, 4).

"Skinny" is one of the hardest workers on the campus. Day and night she collects properties for the Playlikers and manages the maneuvers of the stage. The fact is that she is indispensable because of her good nature and perseverance.

Senior Class

Mozelle Yelton

B.S.M.

LAWNDALE, N. C.

Phoenix Club (2, 3, 4); Baseball Squad (3); Y. W. C. A. Choir (3, 4); College Choir (3, 4); Education Club (4).

"The trouble is small, the fun is great." Yes, fun-loving, mischievous—that is Yelton. But the tone of gaiety to which she is usually keyed is a thing of the surface, not hiding, but enhancing her more essential traits. Yelton is independent, determined to lead her own life in her own way. She is, in fun, in work, in love—especially one would say, in love.

Elizabeth Young

A.B.

SMITHFIELD, N. C.

Cornelian; Class Baseball Team (1, 2, 3, 4); Class Hockey Team (3, 4); Class Basketball Team (3); Class Baseball Manager (2); College Baseball Manager (3, 4); Varsity Hockey (3); Varsity Baseball (3); Vice-House President (3); House President (4); Spanish Club (4); French Club (3, 4); Classical Club (1).

Lib is both a good sportsman and a good sport, an irresistible combination. Her creed of the athletic field is one of honorable and generous rivalry and loyalty. She carries that creed with her into her daily life; in the class-room, in the society hall, in all her contact with her fellow students, she is a challenge to us always to "Play up, play up! and play the game!"

Winifred Eudora Younginer

A.B.

ASHEVILLE, N. C.

Adelphian; Classical Club, '22-'23-'24; French Club '23-'24-'25.

"Hold on, there's better yet!" Of course, Eudora is diligent, has broad, good sense, likes math, has high, worthy ideals, but more than that, she's independent, resourceful, enduring, true, and sincere. Her sense of humor softens all and flashes forth in grand outbursts of wit—rich with that colors life and makes folk say not only "Eu-ador-er," but "I-ador-er," too.

Blanche Mae Zimmerman

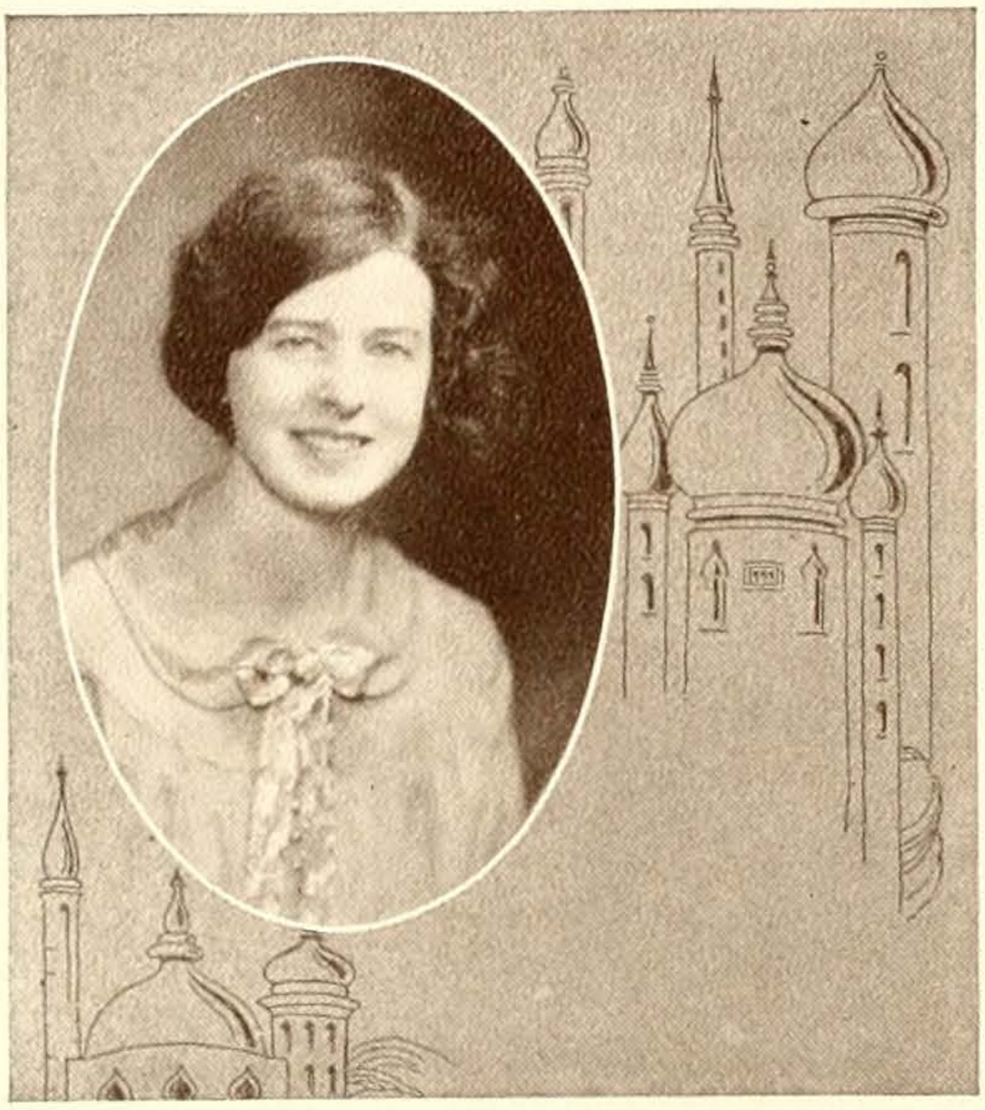

A.B.

LEXINGTON, N. C.

Dikean; Education Club (4); Proctor (4).

A most admirable personality, even in this modern age, is surely marked by calmness, serenity, and sincerity. Blanche is cast of such metal. We think of her as one slow to speak, always using good common sense, not minus a real flavor of humor. Those who know her best say that "of such comes success."

Senior Class

CAROLYN ELIZABETH ZOELLER
B.S., P.E.
TARBORO, N. C.

Dikean; Freshman Commission; Baseball (1, 2, 4); Spanish Club (1, 2); Class Treasurer (2); Hockey (2, 4); Vice-President Dramatic Association (3); Circulation Manager "Carolinian" (3); Fire Lieutenant (4); Class Cheer Leader (4); A. A. Cabinet (4); Education Club (4); Soccer (4); Hiking (1, 2, 3, 4).

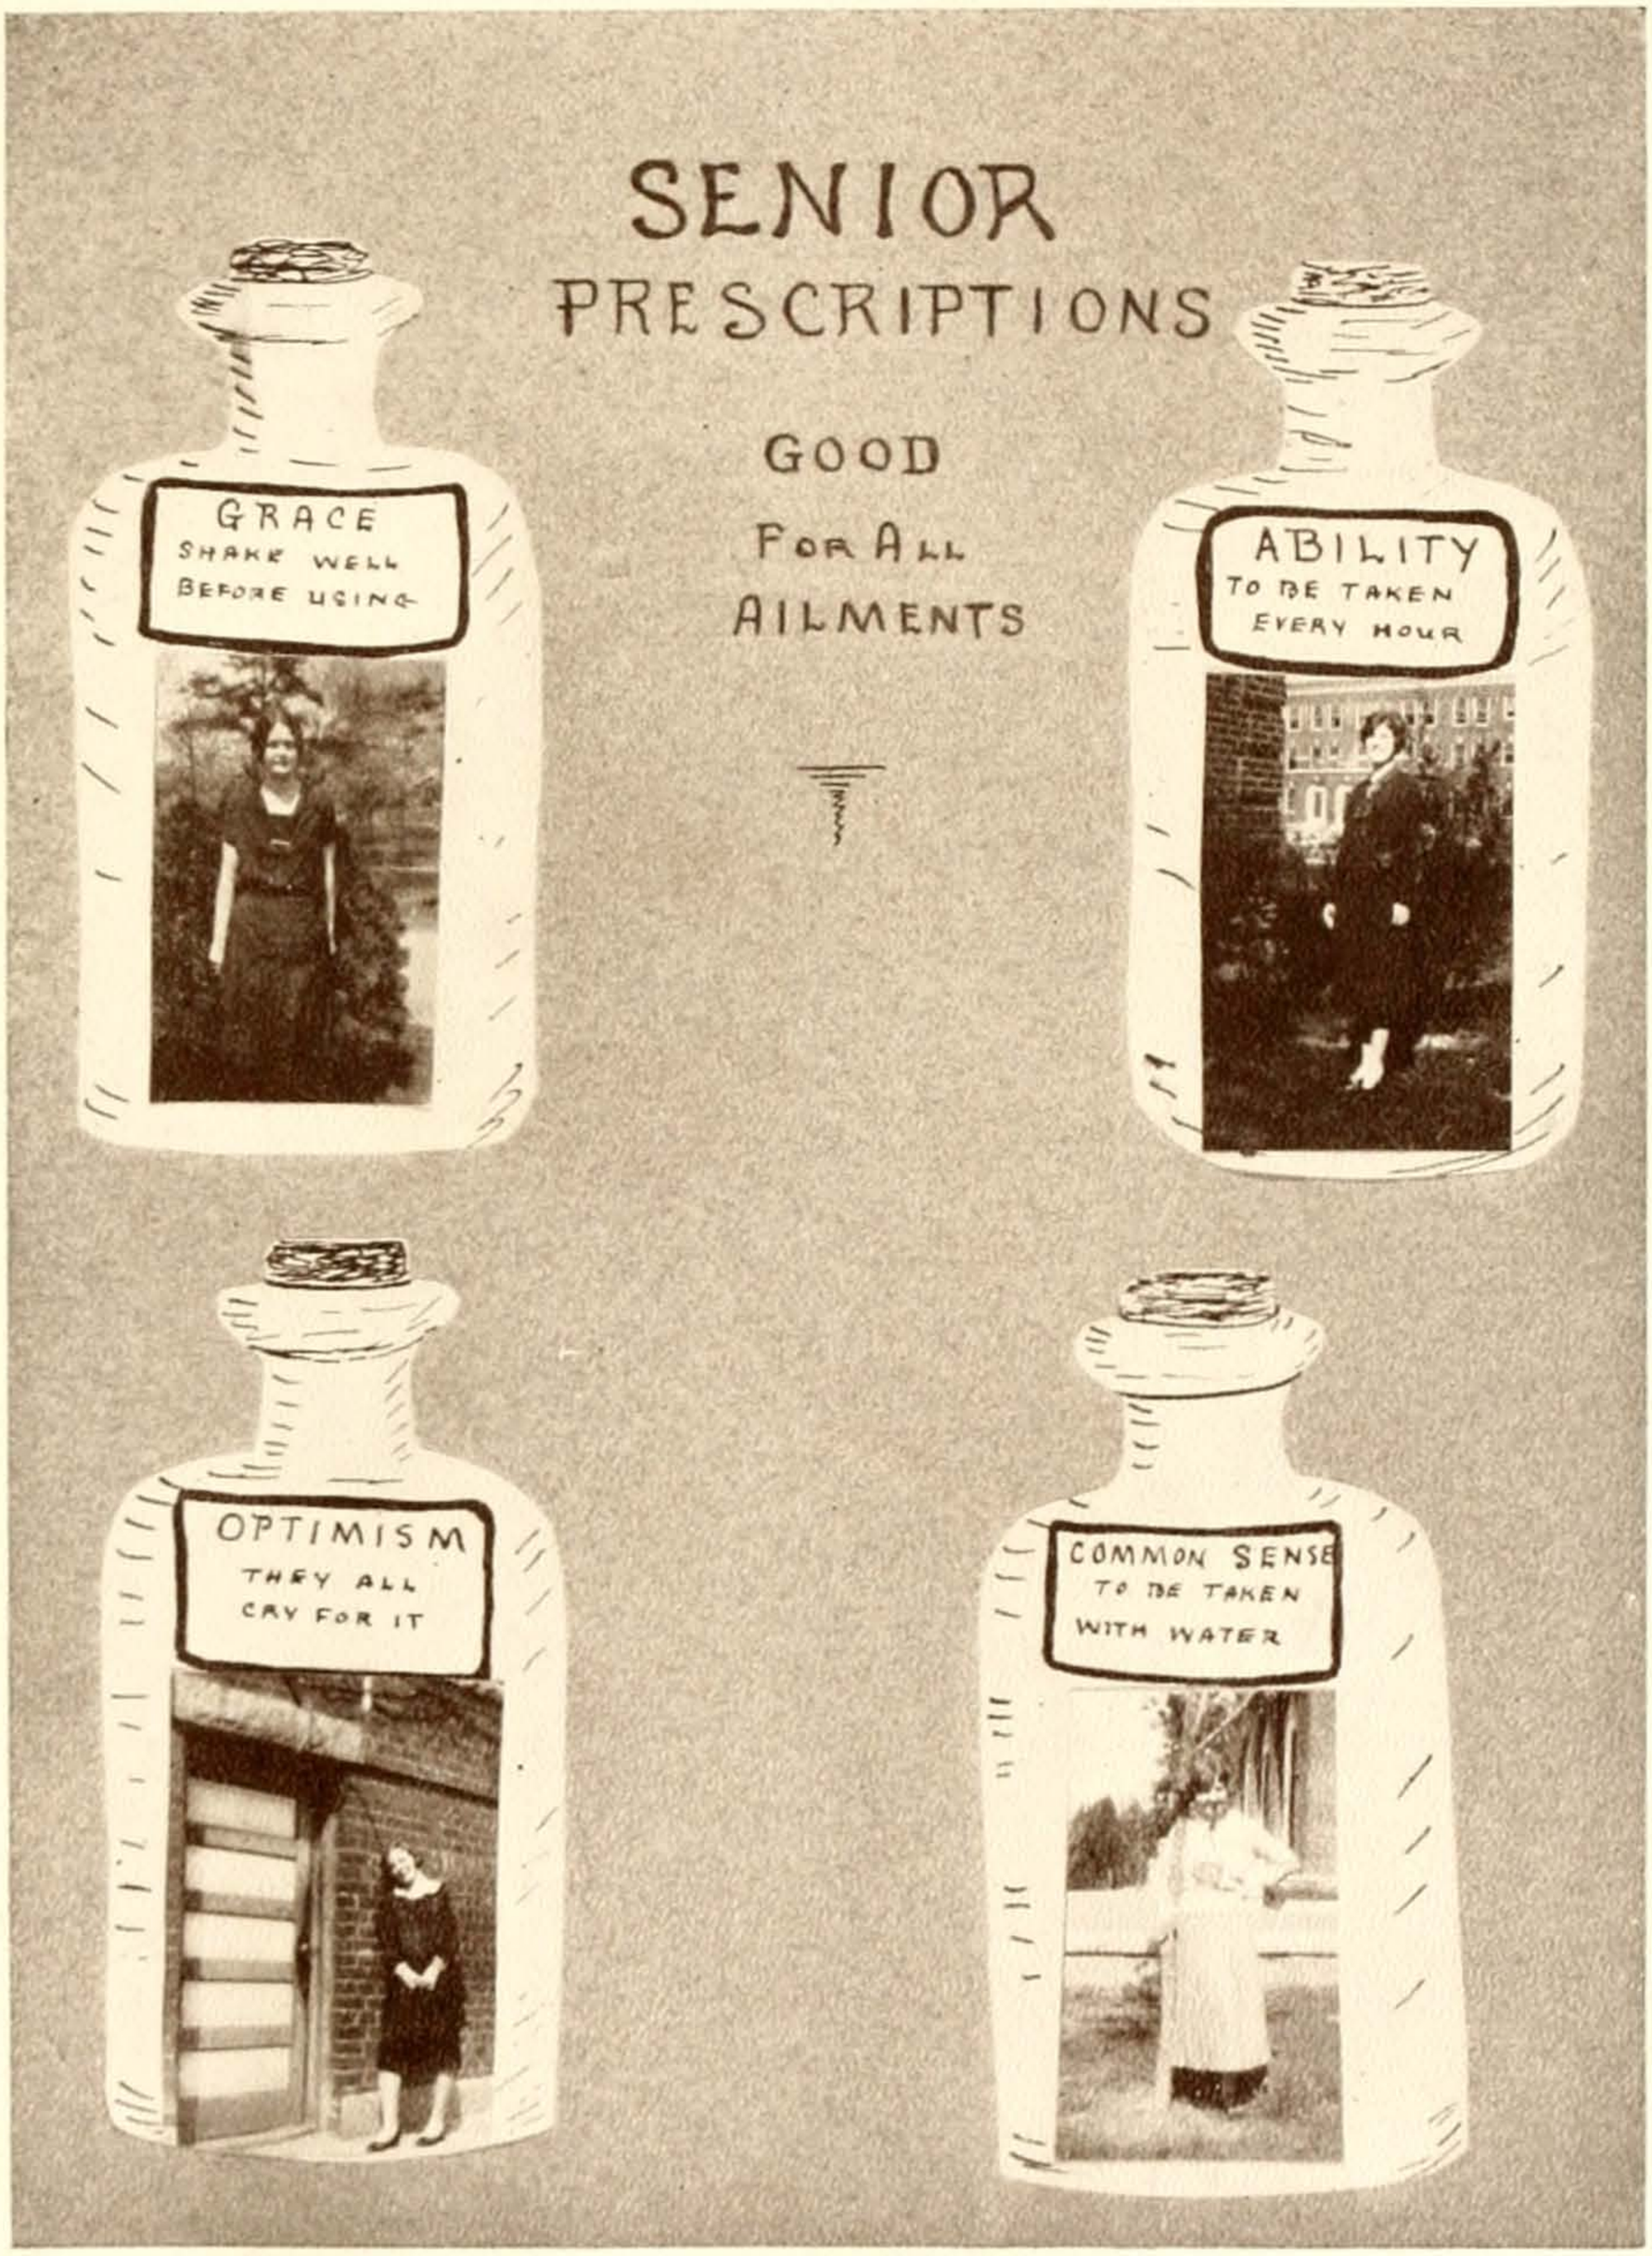

Do you need some scenery shifted? Ask "Zu." Your cut finger tied up? Call "Zu." Someone to fix your curtains or make your dress hang straight? Hunt "Zu." Though the field of athletics is her specialty, she will help with all these things and more. "Ask Zu," we say, "she'll do it well."

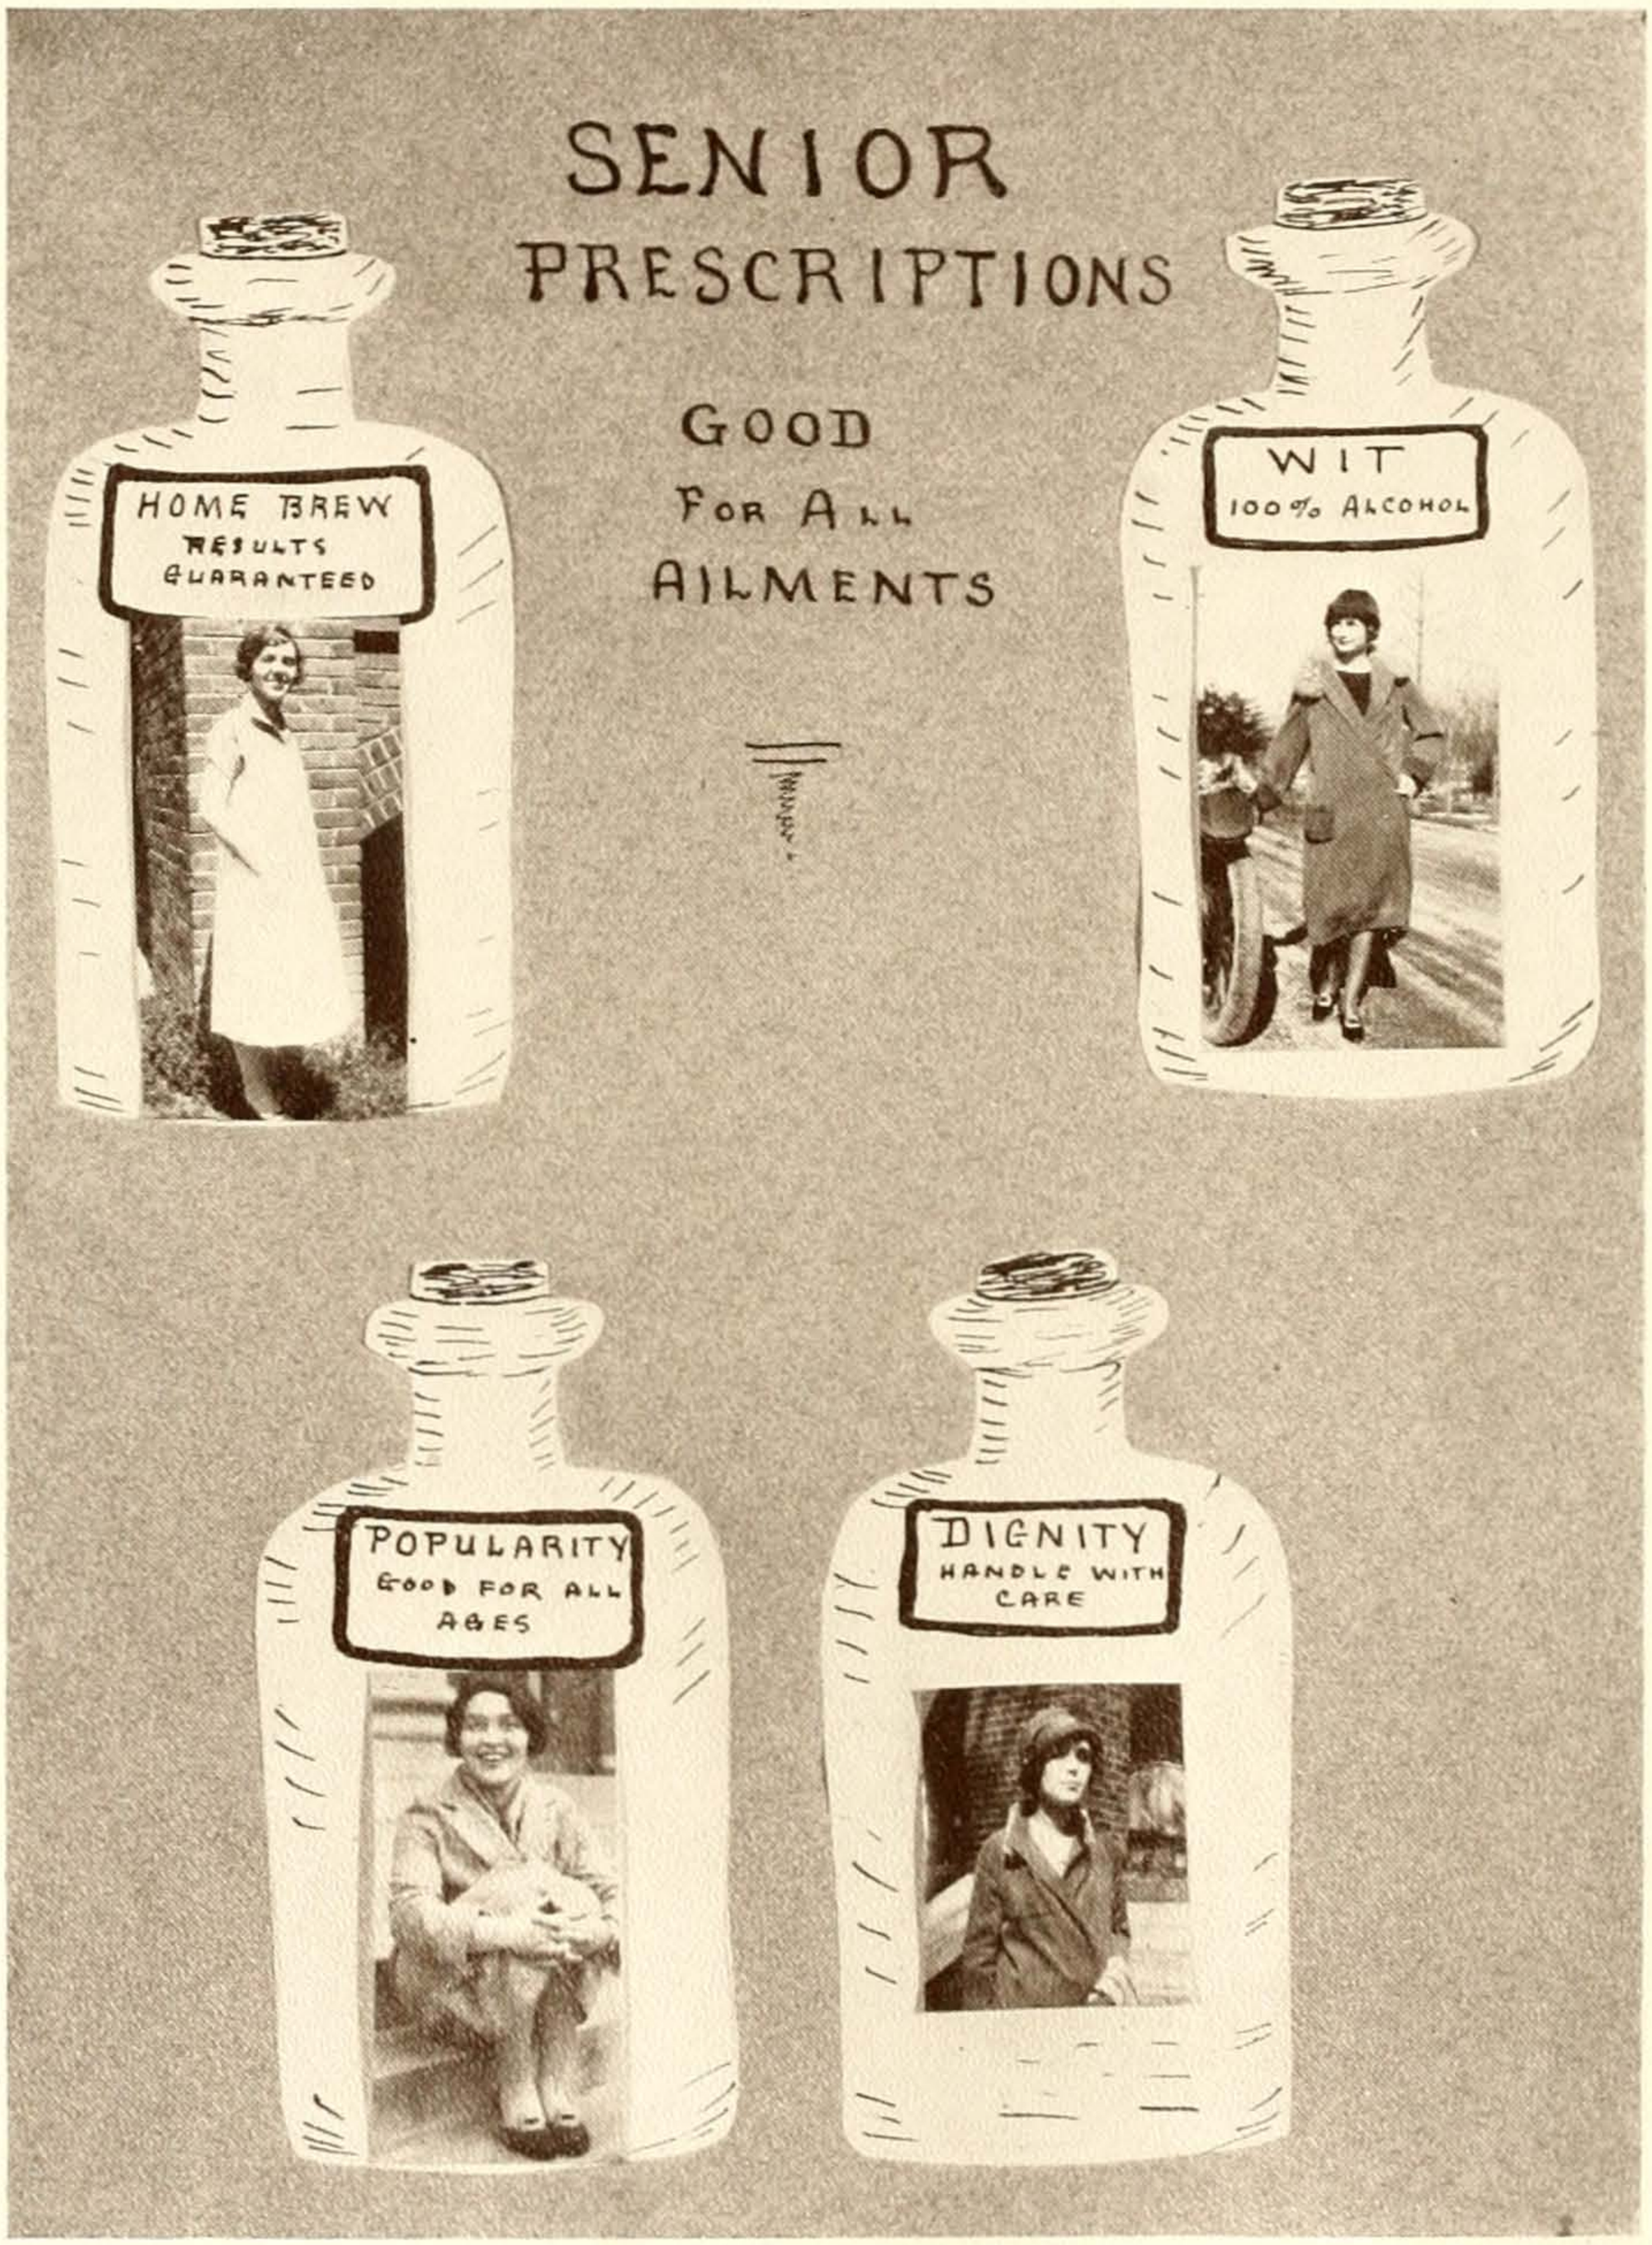

To the Seniors

"May what we are be all we might have been,
And that potential, perfect, O my friend,
And may there still be many sheafs to glean
In our love's acre, comrade, till the end.

And may we find, when ended is the page,
Death but a tavern on our pilgrimage."

Ye Chronicles of '26

HISTORIES, as class histories go, begin customarily with "the first day we were at college" and pursue their detatiled course until "we come to the end of that perfect day," —no more nor no less than that graduation day. Trusting that a mere mention of the "before-college" days of our class will not depart too far from the traditional requirements, I venture a word or two.

To go into the noisy preparation of high school of each individual of the largest class to graduate from this college up to this time would be to demand the typing space of two such volumes as you now hold and would exemplify extreme conceit in the writer.

During the months of May and June, 1922, there was in the minds of no less than 750 girls in North Carolina and more than thirty other states, as statistics show, a mental vision of that day four years in the dim future when she should hold the genuine sheepskin bearing, not the seal of Blank High School, but the Minerva head of N. C., picturing herself a model of the typified wisdom.

Summer preparations and a fall train landed at the gloomy Greensboro station the same 750 girls, high school graduates, college freshmen, the class of '26. "Get your baggage checked here" broke through the occasioned gloom and '26 got its first taste of line-ups. City girls mingled in common misery with their country classmates, and '26 yet ignorant of its class colors paled white with fear and registered green. Jammed street cars literally dumped the new freshies into the arms of the waiting class of '24, the Big Sisters, and the returned Y. W. representatives. Led to their rooms, the weary freshmen of '26 began their first night's rest at N. C. "Thus endeth the first day," and thus ends an experience forever implanted in the mind of any N. C. freshman. Registration days, trials and tribulations followed in due turn, and the class, having furnished the customary amusement for the upper-classmen, began work.

"United we stand," thought the freshmen, when Dorothy Jordan of Asheville was elected mistress of the green class. Green and white were officially accepted as colors and the motto, "Truth," adopted together with the white rose as class flower. Sara Harrison of Greensboro made her debut as mascot at the next "Gathering of the Green," the name by which future class meetings of '26 were to be known.

The Court of College Life formally opened its doors to the new class the first week, the first social of the season, followed in October by the "Follies of '25," presented by that class to the freshmen and establishing good-will between sophistication and greenness. '24 followed with a "Backwards Party," when the guests were apparently rudely greeted "good-bye" at the entrance and were hesitant to leave when the "hellos" rained freely at the exit.

Physical exams, medical exams, Thanksgiving boxes, and numerous smiles hinted strongly of the approaching holidays. Preparations for returning at the end of two weeks received the paralyzing shock when letters from Dr. Gove announced another two weeks' holiday due to the fact that health conditions warranted the delay. Exams and their ever-ready companions, the billet-doux, followed, with field day close in their wake, when the class of green and white were formally awarded the championship cups for both baseball and tennis. To Emily Cate, present president of the Athletic Association, went the first monogram ever presented to a freshman in the history of the college. Johnsie Henry, elected "Sportsmanship" in 1924, was for two succeeding years the individual high scorer on field day. On the following night the first Athletic Association banquet was held.

An Easter forever conspicuous in college history for its lack of holidays preceded what was considered the most original entertainment in several years, when '26 conducted their junior sisters on a foreign tour.

The class song of '26 had been sung for the first time at a fall mass meeting, with Mildred Little, president during the spring term, as composer, and Julia Blauvelt as author of words.

June and home-bound trains prove synonymous for N. C. girls, and June trains carried home for the summer vacation nearly 750 N. C. ex-freshmen, together with more than the same number of upper-classmen.

September trains brought back nearly 700 sophomores, "the wise fools" that we were not, and the struggle to live up to the "sophister moros" began. The first "Gathering of the Green" for the year chose Johnnie Heilig of Salisbury as president.

Sophomore entertainment again spectacularly manifested itself when, in November, 1923, seniors in close wake of the animal wagons followed the soph parade to the circus grounds, where dagoes, gypsies, and circus feats drew interested spectators.

Society bids brought welcomed opportunities for "getting it back" on the freshmen, and orders to "clean my room" or "polish my shoes" showered heavily, ordeals which in our sophistication we would feign call "hazing."

An intermission of two weeks hailed the inevitable exam schedule and '27 found common sympathy with '26. Ellen Stone of Greensboro was elected president for the spring term. '26 had, during the preceding semester, entertained '27 at a Sophomore-Freshman Prom at the Hut.

Sophomores figured largely in the Alumnae Building campaign, put on in that year, and still more largely in the snake dance on Elm Street when the merry-makers held up traffic and attention for some time, as well as meriting a front page story in the Daily News.

Field Day victories heralded last mass meetings and seniors took formal leave of the student body to the doleful accompaniment of '26, the little sister class' farewell songs. Easter vacation, new clothes and diamonds, followed by June, and '26 deserted the ranks of the sophs for the more mature one of Juniors.

To notice the trains in September would have hinted, however, that '26 had chosen to go backward rather than forward in its college flight, but for the explanation that the Green and Whites, consoling themselves for the loss of '24, had adopted little sisters of their own and were returning to "show 'em over the place." Frances Harrison of Greensboro headed the characteristically jolly bunch.

Junior-Freshman entertainment for the year took the form of a child party when trim maids led boys and girls to Spencer gym and more than an afternoon of entertainment.

A manful struggle with the almost compulsory psychology haunted the greater part of '26 and exempting final experiments ran abroad through the land, innocent under-classmen often perceiving themselves being forcefully jerked from their grinding courses to serve as subjects for psychological experiments.

Christmas, exams, and billet-doux slipped hazily into the background when preparations for Junior- Senior began. Secrecy and work brought April 24 to hand and evening-clad gentlemen escorted evening-clad ladies and flowers to banquet-clad halls and Spain. With Bertie Craig and Grey Fetter as senorita toastmistresses for West and South dining halls, the festivities wore on until the hour hand pointed to Sunday and the end.

Junior week-end followed soon after, bringing with it senior privileges, a theater party, a dining room program, and a senior tea Sunday afternoon.

Easter and the end of exams, when seniors proudly donned newly-arrived class rings, the pattern of which had been changed by that class, caught senior caps and gowns, and bade farewell to the class of '25, made the space between '25 and seniority only a matter of three months of vacation.

For the third year in succession '26 boasted among its ranks the most beautiful in college, as statistics show. The Junior Shoppe had proven a profitable investment under the management of Hilda Weil as chief and Nan Jeter as assistant. The proverbial wash-stand had been deserted for a new glass show case and a cash register.

The keys were handed over to '27 when '26 returned in the fall to take the places of dignity as heads of the tables and of campus organizations. We were regarded as objects of awe and oracles to be consulted on all occasions by the newly-arrived '29-ers.

Senior privileges, including the much-treasured extended week-ends, dot the roll books of every senior-instructor who sighs with relief when all his seniors have completed their extension courses and are of necessity content with those on the campus.

As this goes to press we find ourselves having spent the last Thanksgiving at N. C., but looking as eagerly forward to the approaching Christmas holidays as we did as freshmen three years ago, to Junior-Senior when we shall be the guests of honor, to Easter and to June and the coveted sheepskin so eagerly dreamed of four years ago as high school graduates, regretting at the same time the hour when we as students shall sing together our college song, or that one nearer to us, —the song of '26, trusting, however, that we as "other daughters gone before may urge others to work anew, and inspiration leave behind, Oh '26, to you."

EFFIE TAYLOR, Historian.

Class Prophecy

June 10, 1950.

MY colleague, Miss Landon, rushed into the room in a fever of excitement. In fact, I had not seen her so enthusiastic since we began our experiments with oysters to determine the different effects obtained upon reading iambic pentameter and free verse to them. Her ardor had only been similar in her daily vacation Bible school in the mountains. This she was forced to abandon because of lack of space.

"Wonderful! Marvelous!" she cried. "Have you read Henderson's latest pamphlet, 'The Triumph of the Shell'?"

I confessed my ignorance.

"Well," she continued, "you remember in our Senior year in college psychologists proved that the Edwardses weren't really good and the Jukes weren't really bad. Immediately, the foremost scientists set to work to prove that environment was really the determining force in the universe. And, after all these years, here are the results. And what do you think? But wait—I'll read it."

In perpetrating our research on the primacy of environment in determining the ultimate character of an organism, and most especially of a human being, it was necessary for us to consider the following points:

Our group must be varied as to personnel. The environment, for a period of time, must be exactly the same. Then, the careers of the individuals were to be traced and the results would determine, in a measure, the influence of the environment. Looking around for such a group, we were at once impressed with the class of '26 of the North Carolina College for Women as unsurpassable material. These girls were gathered together from widely different localities and circumstances. After being under the influence of the institution for four years, all have attained unusual distinction and success. We publish below an account of their achievements since leaving college. We only wait your perusal of these statistics to be sure of your agreement that environment is greater than heredity.

To this class America owes many of its most visionary and far-reaching inventions. What mother is not familiar with Miss Harrison's machine for giving children the weekly bath—the Sat-O-Soap? What movie goer has not witnessed in the Splathe News the first trial of it by Matron Fetter of the Sitterson Orphan Home? There is the great discovery of the only method in existence for mending broken hearts. Miss Rosemond has contributed this to medical science. Miss Gholson inaugurated the straight and narrow bob, which is the only hair-cut ministers approve of. Even such orthodox clergy as the Reverend Matthews, Gibson, Ward and Worthington endorse it for girls under fifteen years of age. To Miss Eva Call the colleges owe the invention of the popular pocket victrola, which can be played between classes. Another popular pocket device is the pocket telephone put out by the B. Sparks and C. High Company. It prevents college girls missing any calls while at meals or classes. Beauty devices such as Query's Sun-glo and Wynne's Slendrex are the products of the ingenuity and experience of members of this class. Miss Sink's illuminating discovery of an automatic light which turns itself off when footsteps are heard approaching the room after ten-fifteen has revolutionized the college world. The new mail system by which mail is sent out to the waiting throngs on the sidewalks by shutes was the product of long years of observation on the part of Miss Guilford and Miss Faircloth. We must not neglect to mention the patent chewing gum holder so much in vogue. It may be worn hanging from a chain around the neck, as an ornament, but when the top is removed its intrinsic value as a parking place for gum in those inconvenient in-between-times is at once apparent. The patent is the exclusive property of Misses Mozelle Robertson and French Boyd.

The whole college system is in a fair way to be changed by the wonderful scientific discovery carried on by Ella McDearman and Marie Jones. The process of investigation may be interesting to any person sufficiently interested in science to peruse this article at all. Examinations were made of the brains of brilliant students before and after taking a course. These experiments were made by the aid of the McCurdy Brain-o-scope. The subjects were Christiana Curtis, Lena Middleton, and Gwendolyn Hampton. A chemical analysis of the changes in the grey matter was then made by McDearman and Jones and these chemical materials incorporated in pills. These pills are taken by students in lieu of cramming for examinations. They hope to have eventually pills for every course in N. C. College except Freshman History. Mary Thornburg and Helen Norah Sherril, who are now teaching the subject, have made it so difficult that several chemists have had nervous prostration in attempting to find the chemical base of the course. In advertising the pills the services of Ellen Baldwin, the witty rhymester, have been employed. Their slogan is the following:

"Take our pill
Do what you will
You'll make one still."

Wealthiest of all the erst-while students of the class of '26 are Corinne Cannady, Elizabeth Morissey, and Mary B. Orr, who invented house boats as summer homes for the four hundred. These are anchored just outside the three-mile limit for the summer months and the residents go to and from the coast in Sutton Motor Sailers. Some of the choicest sites were immediately bought by Hartsell and Slaughter, the celebrated manufacturers of week-end bags, and Johnsie Henry, who won the world's record in Arabia in running a mile for a camel.

But perhaps the one invention which is to mean most to future generations is that of Katherine Sherril. It is a self-rolling super-size baby carriage. It will hold two pairs of twins comfortably. It is said that she was first inspired to this work by her own dear brood of youngsters.

From the ranks of the class of '26 the world of letters has received many of its most prominent members. We need only to mention the titles of the following books whose names are on every tongue:

"The Way to a Man's Heart"—a practical Home Economics textbook for college students, by Alexander, Newton, Harrington, and McCullers.

"Metropolitan Astronomy"—a review of the stars on Broadway—Fanning and Dail.

"From Bawl to Ball"—or "The Evolution of Mathematics"—by G. Baker.

"Concordance of the Bible and Paradise Lost"—May Fields.

"Directory of N. C. Young Men from Mebane to the Coast"—a unique book which no North Carolina girl is without—by Jeter Burton.

"New Translation of Les Miserables," which corrects all mistakes in former translations—Cora E. Clarke.

"New Translation of Virgil"—by Ethel Midyette. This book far surpasses any previous attempts of the kind. It is accompanied by a preface by Miss Boddie.

All readers of the latest novels have read:

Miss Atkinson's novel of the Eternal Triangle entitled, "Ever Frank and Ernest;" Elizabeth Gaskin's melodrama, "The Red Lampwick," and McLawhorn's "Rural Romance."

A unique book on home decorating is by Hayward. It is entitled "The Use of Brown in the Home."

Two outstanding poetry collections are the volume of pathetic love lyrics by the retiring and shy Mary Clyde Johnson, and "Songs in Spanish" by Miss Teiser.

Miss Goodwin's book, however, has made the greatest sensation. It was suppressed in this country, but is extensively used as a textbook in the Russian schools. It is said to be essentially red in character.

Kate C. Hall has become famous writing plays. The only adverse criticism of her plays usually is that all her heroines of whatever type are named Florence.

Two libraries are the result of the philanthropic interests of numbers of the class of '26. Jane Davidson has established a library from which students are allowed to take books for an unlimited length of time without the formality of signing cards.

Kathryn Price and Nan Jeter are in charge of a special library for college students. All students are admitted to the stacks, but the books are fastened to the shelves by chains. When the book wanted is chosen, the librarian is called and unlocks the book from the shelf by a secret combination. Grace Williams and Eudora Younginger, the noted math sharks, are employed to remember the combinations. In consequence of this, Louise White and Frances Welch have made quite a fortune on their "Nail Restorer." It is extensively used, as many students have broken their nails endeavoring to find combinations for their favorite books.

One of the most outstanding members of the class is Hermene Warlick, the listing of whose achievements has made it necessary to publish a special DeLuxe edition of "Who's Who." In piano, she now holds the place formerly occupied by DePachman. She has also invented a new method of teaching arithmetic by the color method. She writes for "Snippy Stories" and "Scream World" and is married to the principal of the South Buffalo High School.

Some other prominent Green and Whites whose names appear in Who's Who are: Gwendolyn Weaver and Mary Frances Albritton, who invented the dance called the "Pomona," which quite eclipsed the ancient Charleston; Janie Gooch, the great Educator, who introduced the picture method of teaching children: and Hilda Weil, who is famous on two continents for her "Physical Ed. School for Infants." Children are not admitted, however, under three months of age.

Many of the members of the class have entered the field of politics. Harriet Brown is a justice of the Supreme Court. However, she continues her work in dramatics, as she is so closely allied to the World Court, that any case she has is automatically turned over to the World Court. Katherine Wolff and Mary McNeely have organized a Junior Young Voters' Club. They give lectures on international affairs in rhyme for the radio in place of the old-fashioned bed-time story. Georgia Kirkpatrick is a member of the State Legislature. The people of the state are more intelligent than ever before since she introduced the adoption of a bill which makes it compulsory for every voter in the state to subscribe to the Greensboro Daily News. Evelyn Wilkins is in charge of making seat assignments for the members of the League of Nations. Only Evelyn's infinite tact and geographical knowledge have prevented many an international cataclysm. Nellie Irvin is running for governor on the platform of "More Milk for our School Children." Mildred Little is her campaign manager and has influenced many voters by her stirring rendition of the campaign song, "Where is My Glass of Milk To-Night." Mary Nisbet, the famous advocate of woman's rights, is well known, also, for her four divorce cases. She divorced four husbands on the ground that they interfered with her career. Doris Wheeler and Lois Williamson are prominent labor leaders. The Russian government is run largely by the imported socialist agitators, Celestia Weeks, Alma Ball, and Marjorie Aiken. Martha Stack is Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

As may be expected, many became educators. Varied types of institutions of learning are glad to boast of members of the class of '26 as founders or members of their faculty.

Thetis Shepard, who is teaching Latin at Chicago University, gives a course in Greek derivatives for Freshmen. President Baker of Elon has recently added Huldah McDaniel and Thelma Moose to the faculty. Elizabeth McCarty is head of the Latin department at the University of N. C. Agnes Stewart is a visiting teacher, having an itinerary of the North Carolina and Tennessee mountains. She is striving to teach music appreciation to the natives. Esther Leah Epstein and Louise Tate have had marked success in a novel experiment they are conducting in Primary education. They are in charge of a consolidated school at South Buffalo. The students conduct the school by the project method, and instruct themselves so efficiently that Miss Epstein and Miss Tate only have to attend school once a week to hold a social with the children. This is done to keep the feeling of personal contact between the students and teachers. Evelyn Boyd, Wombra McCombs, Loreta Mooney, Pauline Short and Hazel Cockerham are teaching in mission schools in the South Sea Islands. Mary Alice Fowler and Lucille Aycock are teaching mocking birds public school music. This helps the state to economize as the children in the primary grades learn to follow the birds in singing scales, etc., and the number of teachers can be reduced. The birds are raised by Eugenia Powell and Martha Pierce. Louise Ervin and Mary Gary have a select school for refined young ladies. Miss Ervin teaches knitting and fancy work, while Miss Gary gives instruction in the fine arts and etiquette. A school for the deaf and dumb has been established by Dorothy Hale and Sara Jamison. The pupils are said to be quite content not to speak, as their teachers do enough talking for all. Ina Seaford and Addie Wilson have made extensive investigations in intelligence tests to be used as entrance examinations for N. C. C. W. and other state colleges. Their most conspicuous rival is Ruth Henry, who is trying to establish grades in a pre-college course in Word Study as the basis of entrance. Julia McIver is athletic coach of the new college called N. C., Jr., which was devised by the famous educator, Mary Small, as a preparatory school for the North Carolina College for Women. No one is admitted under ten years of age, according to a statement made by Dean Collins of that institution. Frances Garner is making quite a success of her enterprise, the "Rocky School of Journalism," in Hayward County.

Nor has the lecture platform been without celebrated additions from this remarkable class. Glancing through the lists of lecturers to appear in the large Eastern colleges during the current year we find the following: Helene Griffin is making an extensive tour of colleges from Florida to Maine, speaking on a subject dear to her heart—"The Value of the Summer School as a Social Institution." Margaret E. Smith has consented to leave her classes in the Lincoln School in New York to give lectures in Teacher's College on "The Advantages of Teaching in a Large City." Annie Lula Marine is on a prominent lecture course. Her subject is "Goulash, its Causes and Cure." Her dignity adds much force to the presentation of her subject. Margaret Battle and Alla Meredith lecture on "The Negative Correlation of Insomnia and Inteligence." Eleanor Vanneman gives quaint, old-fashioned lectures on ancient subjects. The most popular, perhaps, because most novel, is "In Ye Olde Days, Ye Facultye Indignation at Ye Student Editorials." Vivian Wheless gives radio lectures on "How to Write a Successful Love Letter." Another prominent series of lectures given by radio is Mary Alice Robertson's "Business Managing on a Minimum Budget." This is followed by a series by Barbara Osborne on "The Art of Salesmanship." Elizabeth Rollins and Sara Lee Goode, who now manage a gigantic biological cat-trapping concern, avow that her lectures first inspired them to become what they are to-day.

Many of these former North Carolina College students have shown almost startling abilities in the business world. We have only to mention the name of the McDaniel Family car factory at Elon and our audience is alert. But there are other equally important names to add to these. Mary Nelle Connor, Margaret Copeland and Ruth English have opened a restaurant on the top of the Cooper building, which is 125 stories high. Miss Cooper, the owner of this massive structure, made her millions on mouse-traps—college style a specialty. Evelyn Stephenson and Marie Coxe are proprietoresses of a flourishing shoe store at Alamance. Elizabeth Ashby, Lois Spaugh and Eloise Sparger have a sport model pharmacy in which they entertain their many friends, business and otherwise. Lois Justice and Bertie Craig are joint owners of a little art shop in Kimesville. Miss Craig, unable to uproot her love for Pine Needles, makes a specialty of Balsam pillows, while Miss Justice sells a complete line of Christmas cards made from exclusive models obtained from Mrs. Weatherspoon's course in Fine and Industrial Arts. Mary Alice Gray has a Book Store in Grub Street, London. Lavinia Thomas is nearer the site of her Alma Mater and sells her distinctive mortorcycles in Franklin, North Carolina. The greatest commercial success, however, has been achieved by Pace Barnes and Aleph Cason, the hot-dog manufacturers. The prestige of their firm is largely the result of their introduction of the greatest juvenile delicacy of the past decade,—the hot puppy.

The famous members of the bar are Mary Bunn, Ruth Farlow and Margaret Hudson. Miss Hudson first became renowned when appearing in the world famous Feagan-Mode-Dobbins triangle. The question was which should retain the affection of a man whom all had under consideration. The lawyer most ably and quickly settled this by appropriating the man in question temporarily, herself.

It would be expected that a class of such varied talent woud make its contribution to the stage and the motion pictures. But one is scarcely prepared for the stupendous array of celebrities which it can claim in these fields. The chorus of the Zimmerman Follies, which have long since eclipsed Ziegfield's, can boast of Annie Crouch, Eva Eure, Bert McCrummon, Elsie Brame, Marjorie Hood, Ina Chapelle and Ora Finch among its number. To the movies have gone Margaret Halyburton, Annie Smith Henderson, Mary Anna Hobbs and Lucille Moore. Carlotta Barnes, Mozelle Yelton, Blanche Boyd and Annie Lee Champion have risen to even more exalted heights than this. They are singing in Grand Opera in Checko-Slovakia. The language was hard for them to grasp at first, but they soon mastered it with the aid of Essie Call's invaluable manual, "Easy Method of Learning All Languages—English Included." Sara Franklin is starring in the popular musical comedy, "Booful Baby Talk." Elizabeth Young and Caroline Zoeller are dancing on Broadway. The variety of ability shown by the class is well illustrated by the mention of the circus performers. Tallu Crumley and Nolie McDonald are tight rope walkers in the Shore-Cline circus; Pearl Keller is the Lion Tamer, while Margaret Lyon charms audiences and snakes.

Science is indeed indebted to Margerie Chapman for her discovery of how to make pictures of electrons. These pictures are very soothing used as a remedy for delirium tremens. The main cures have been effected on Charles King, May Klutz, and Pearle White. Dorothy Stephens is a famous surgeon. Her contribution to materia medica was the discovery that brains could be plasticized by operation and careful manipulation of the gray matter. Louise Dixon is a veterinarian. Doris Richardson and Edith Powell have adopted nursing as their profession. They were inspired to engage in this life work because of delightful associations at the N. C. C. W. infirmary.

But while these have been renowned by ministering to the bodily ills of mankind, others have not been lacking who have made their life work an attempt to solve their mental and spiritual difficulties.

Ruth Ader is the president of the W. U. A. C. S. (Woman's Union for Abolishing Cigarette Smoking). Affiliated with her are Mary Anderson and Louise Ballard. Sara Brawley is matron of our old ladies' home. Aylene Edwards and Elizabeth Cowan are conducting Baptist conference tours. Students may leave with them in the fall and continue the itinerary until June. They are planning a trip to Mars when Mary Stuart has her B. Y. P. U. sufficiently organized there. It was on one of her Martian trips that Mary Stuart came across the two members of the class whose uncertain locality had held up the publication of this book. They were sighted half way between the earth and Mars where they were taking eager crowds to try Ether baths as an aid to beautiful complexious. Katherine Grantham and Ruth McLean having evolved a religion of reason are now in Mexico teaching it to the Aborigines. Lena Keller accompanies them to give a philosophical basis for their emotional acceptances of the Grantham-McLean doctrines.

Aiding science and, incidentally, humanity in a very different but valuable way, is Ethel Watson, who raises sharks for Zoological laboratories; Leta Warren is in the business of catching frogs and growing earthworms for a similar purpose.

There are several prominent names among the lists of great producers of commodities, Food Kings, in a word. Clara Lee Hyatt, Lydia Pierce Horton and Elise Harrison have a farm in Yancey County where they raise goats and sweet potatoes to supply the growing demands of N. C. C. W. Sara Lou Jenkins and Elizabeth Ogburn have a cod-fish pond which is also under the auspices of N. C. This work would be drab at times were it not for the fact that Inah Kirkman and Laura Dry give it the aesthetic touch by rearing goldfish. Frances Dickinson raises raspberries. Elizabeth Geiger began as her co-worker, but now confines herself to her unsurpassed garden of pinks.

Varied indeed are the activities to which members of this class have given a hand. Audrey Brenegar is the audacious umpire in aeroplane races. Mary Moore Deaton and Lolita Cox exercise the laughing hyenas at the Central Park Zoo. They take alternate weeks, as the continual giggling of the hyenas is grating on the nerves. This position, however, is, they state, infinitely superior to teaching gym to college freshmen. Vail Gray has carried off the high diving record at the Olympic games three times in succession. Effie Meacham has introduced a new style of dinner called "The Repeater." It is to be found in all up-to-date etiquette books. Venice Davenport and Elizabeth Elliot are traffic cops in Greensboro. This position gives them an opportunity to be downtown constantly. Johnnie Heilig is corresponding secretary to states departments for a prominent woman's club. Emily Cate is at the Chicago exposition, giving an exhibition of her sweaters. She has won the largest number of any athlete in the western hemisphere. Ellen Stone heads the "Lettum Smoke" movement, which was started at the North Carolina College in 1927. She was probably influenced by Irene Stroupe and Mabel Taylor, who are operating cigarette factories, or Dare Maynard and Ruby May, who are wealthy tobacco planters.

Sara Gulley and Annie Lee Gentry own a mammoth hose factory. They have made so much money that they are able to give their salesmen whole pairs of stockings as samples. Carrie McLean Taylor is employed by the Australian government to teach imported American fish the Australian crawl. Brooks Johnson has had many of her pictures exhibited at the Royal Academy in London. She has made many fortunes from the sale of these pictures, but has sunk them all in ships. Ruth Hinnant is a confirmed sportswoman. Her favorite game is Bob Whites. Agnes Reeks, Marjorie Perkins, Clarkie Pierce and Bessie Noble, after teaching for some time, are now producing a play of school life entitled "They Shall Not Pass." Mary Katherine Fisher and Vivian Smith are professional baseball players. They took the laurels from Babe Ruth shortly after their graduation. Ethel Johnson has a position playing the new $100,000 organ in the North Carolina College auditorium. Effie Taylor publishes a weekly called "Giglets." It is written for by the great wits of the nation. A prominent place is given to Gertrude Boone's department called "Cute Sayings of Second Grade Children." Mary Kate McLamb is the illustrator of the periodical. Winnie D. Moore and Virginia Smith are responsible for the installation of the new electric elevators now used in Main and McIver buildings.

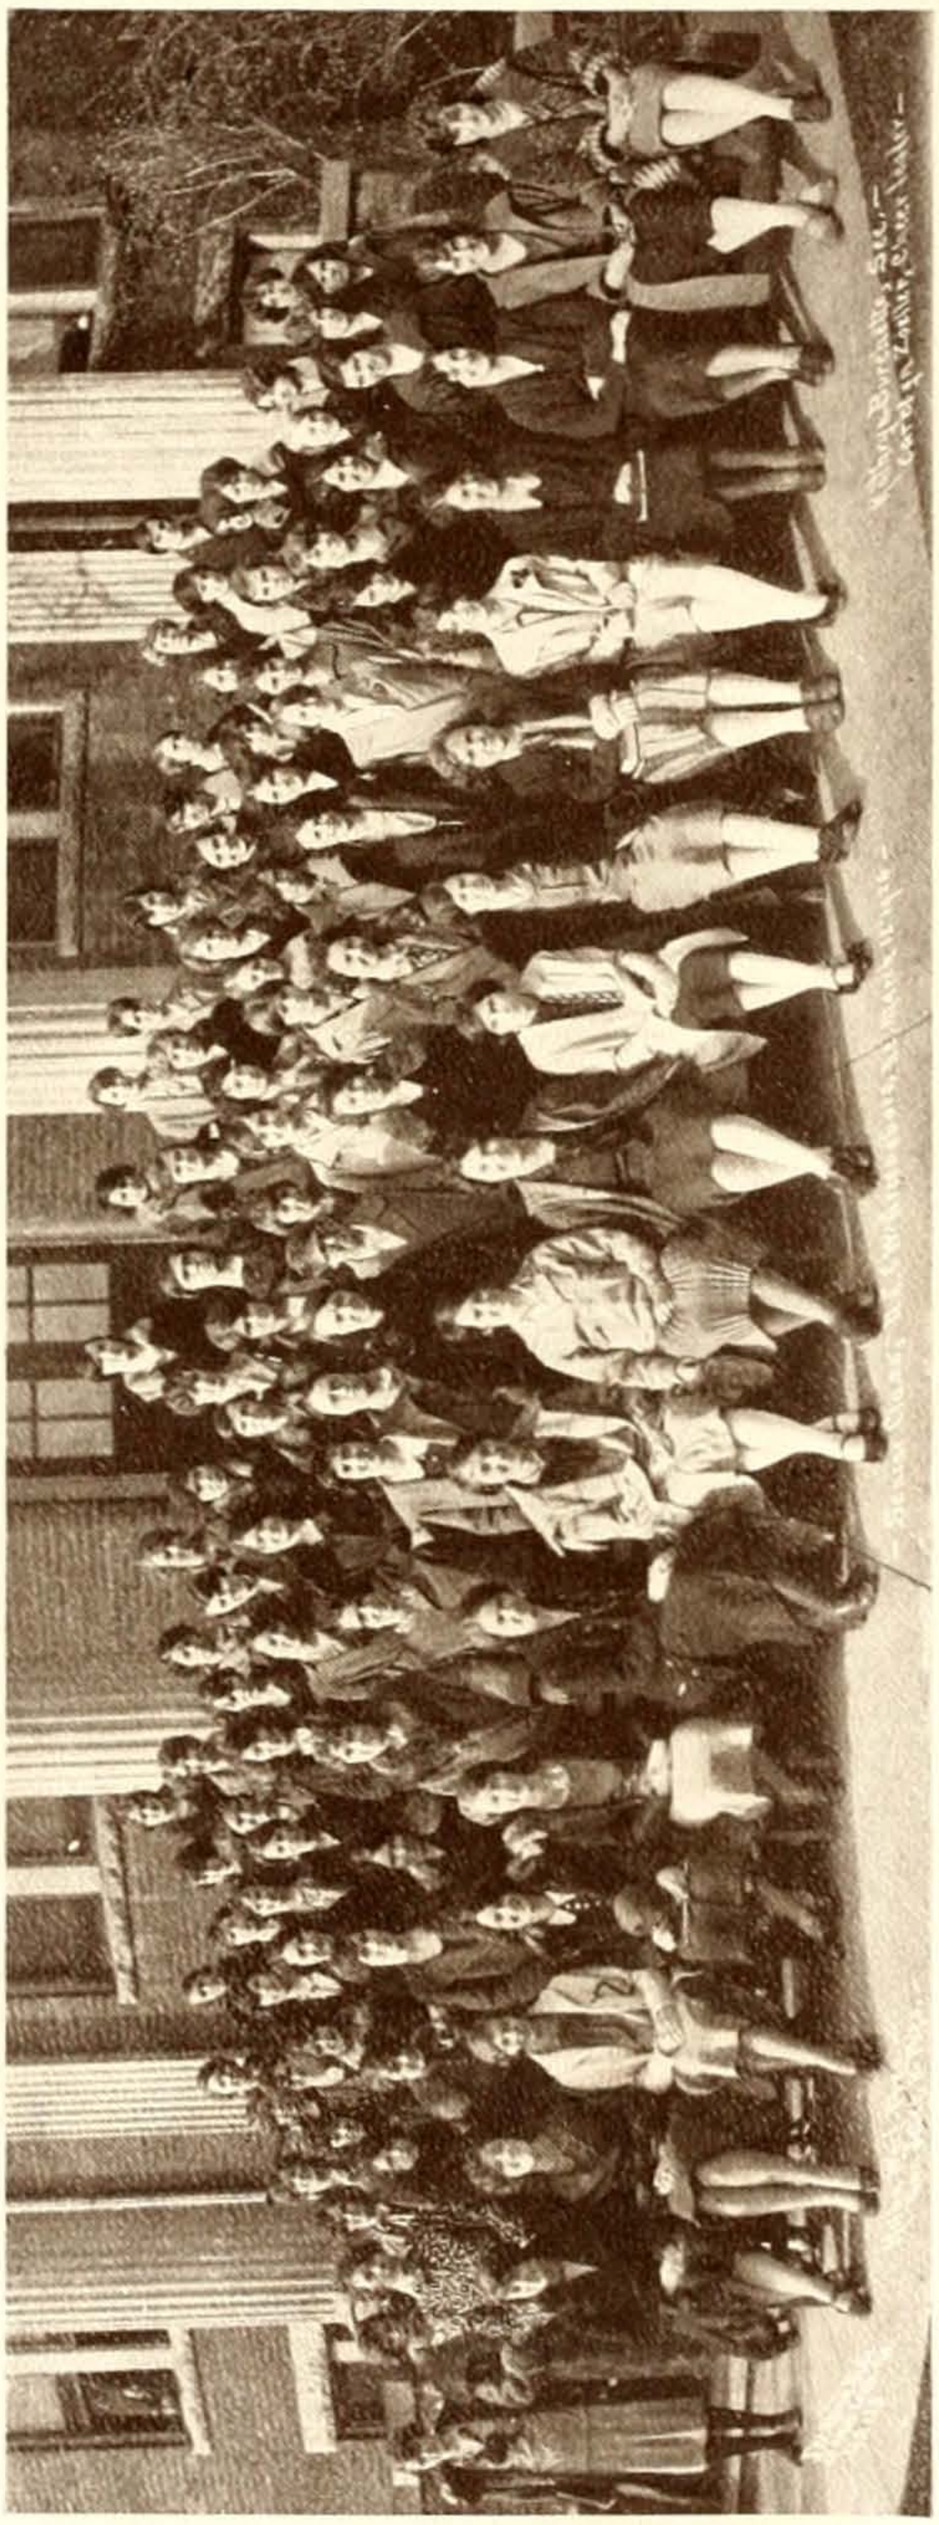

The Cherokee Indians no longer are forced to be content with tom-toms. Susan Steele and Virginia Wilson are now teaching them to play the ukelele. Virginia Pearson, Mary Polk and Elizabeth Rineheart are making a study of undomesticated animals in Australia. Nellie McSwain is with the expedition and makes a special study of giraffes. Susie Wall Robertson is the architect of the new N. C. C. W. picture show which is operated by Serena Meadows, and in which were shown the exclusive photos of the Barker-Burroughs polar trip. Edith Wilson, Bette Williams, and Vance Thompson are responsible for the chute-the-chutes which have been installed in the Grand Canyon of Colorado. One of the most novel professions, however, is that of Mary Mewborn and Emma Leah Watson. They take care of the babies checked at balls.

In spite of the way they may have voted as to professions, or marriage for women, the following members of the class are married happily or otherwise and have given up other careers. We conclude with these:

Living in Brown Stone Mansions on Riverside Drive are: Lina Tarleton, Ruby Ashe, Elizabeth Grossman, and Willie Dellinger. While selling real estate in Florida, Skinney Deaton eloped with a Noble. Kathleen Dyer is married to a government official in Washington, and Eula Belle Farmer is married to a famous preacher.

We have presented the statistics. We leave it to the unbiased judgment of our readers to pronounce the sentence. And now abideth heredity, environment and the organism, but the greatest of these is environment.

Class Song

Let every voice sing the praise
Of the Class of Red and White.
Our hearts are gay with loud acclaim;
For you we'll always fight.

Chorus

We've gathered here from far and near;
We've worked, we've fought, we've played;
And through it all we cherish most
The friendships we have made.

And now, old Alma Mater, dear,
We pledge our love anew;
By courage and by purity
We'll be forever true.

SUSANNE HEADEN HURLEY
Mascot of Class of '28

Colors: Lavender and White

Flower: Violet

Motto: Love, Honor, Loyalty

Class Song

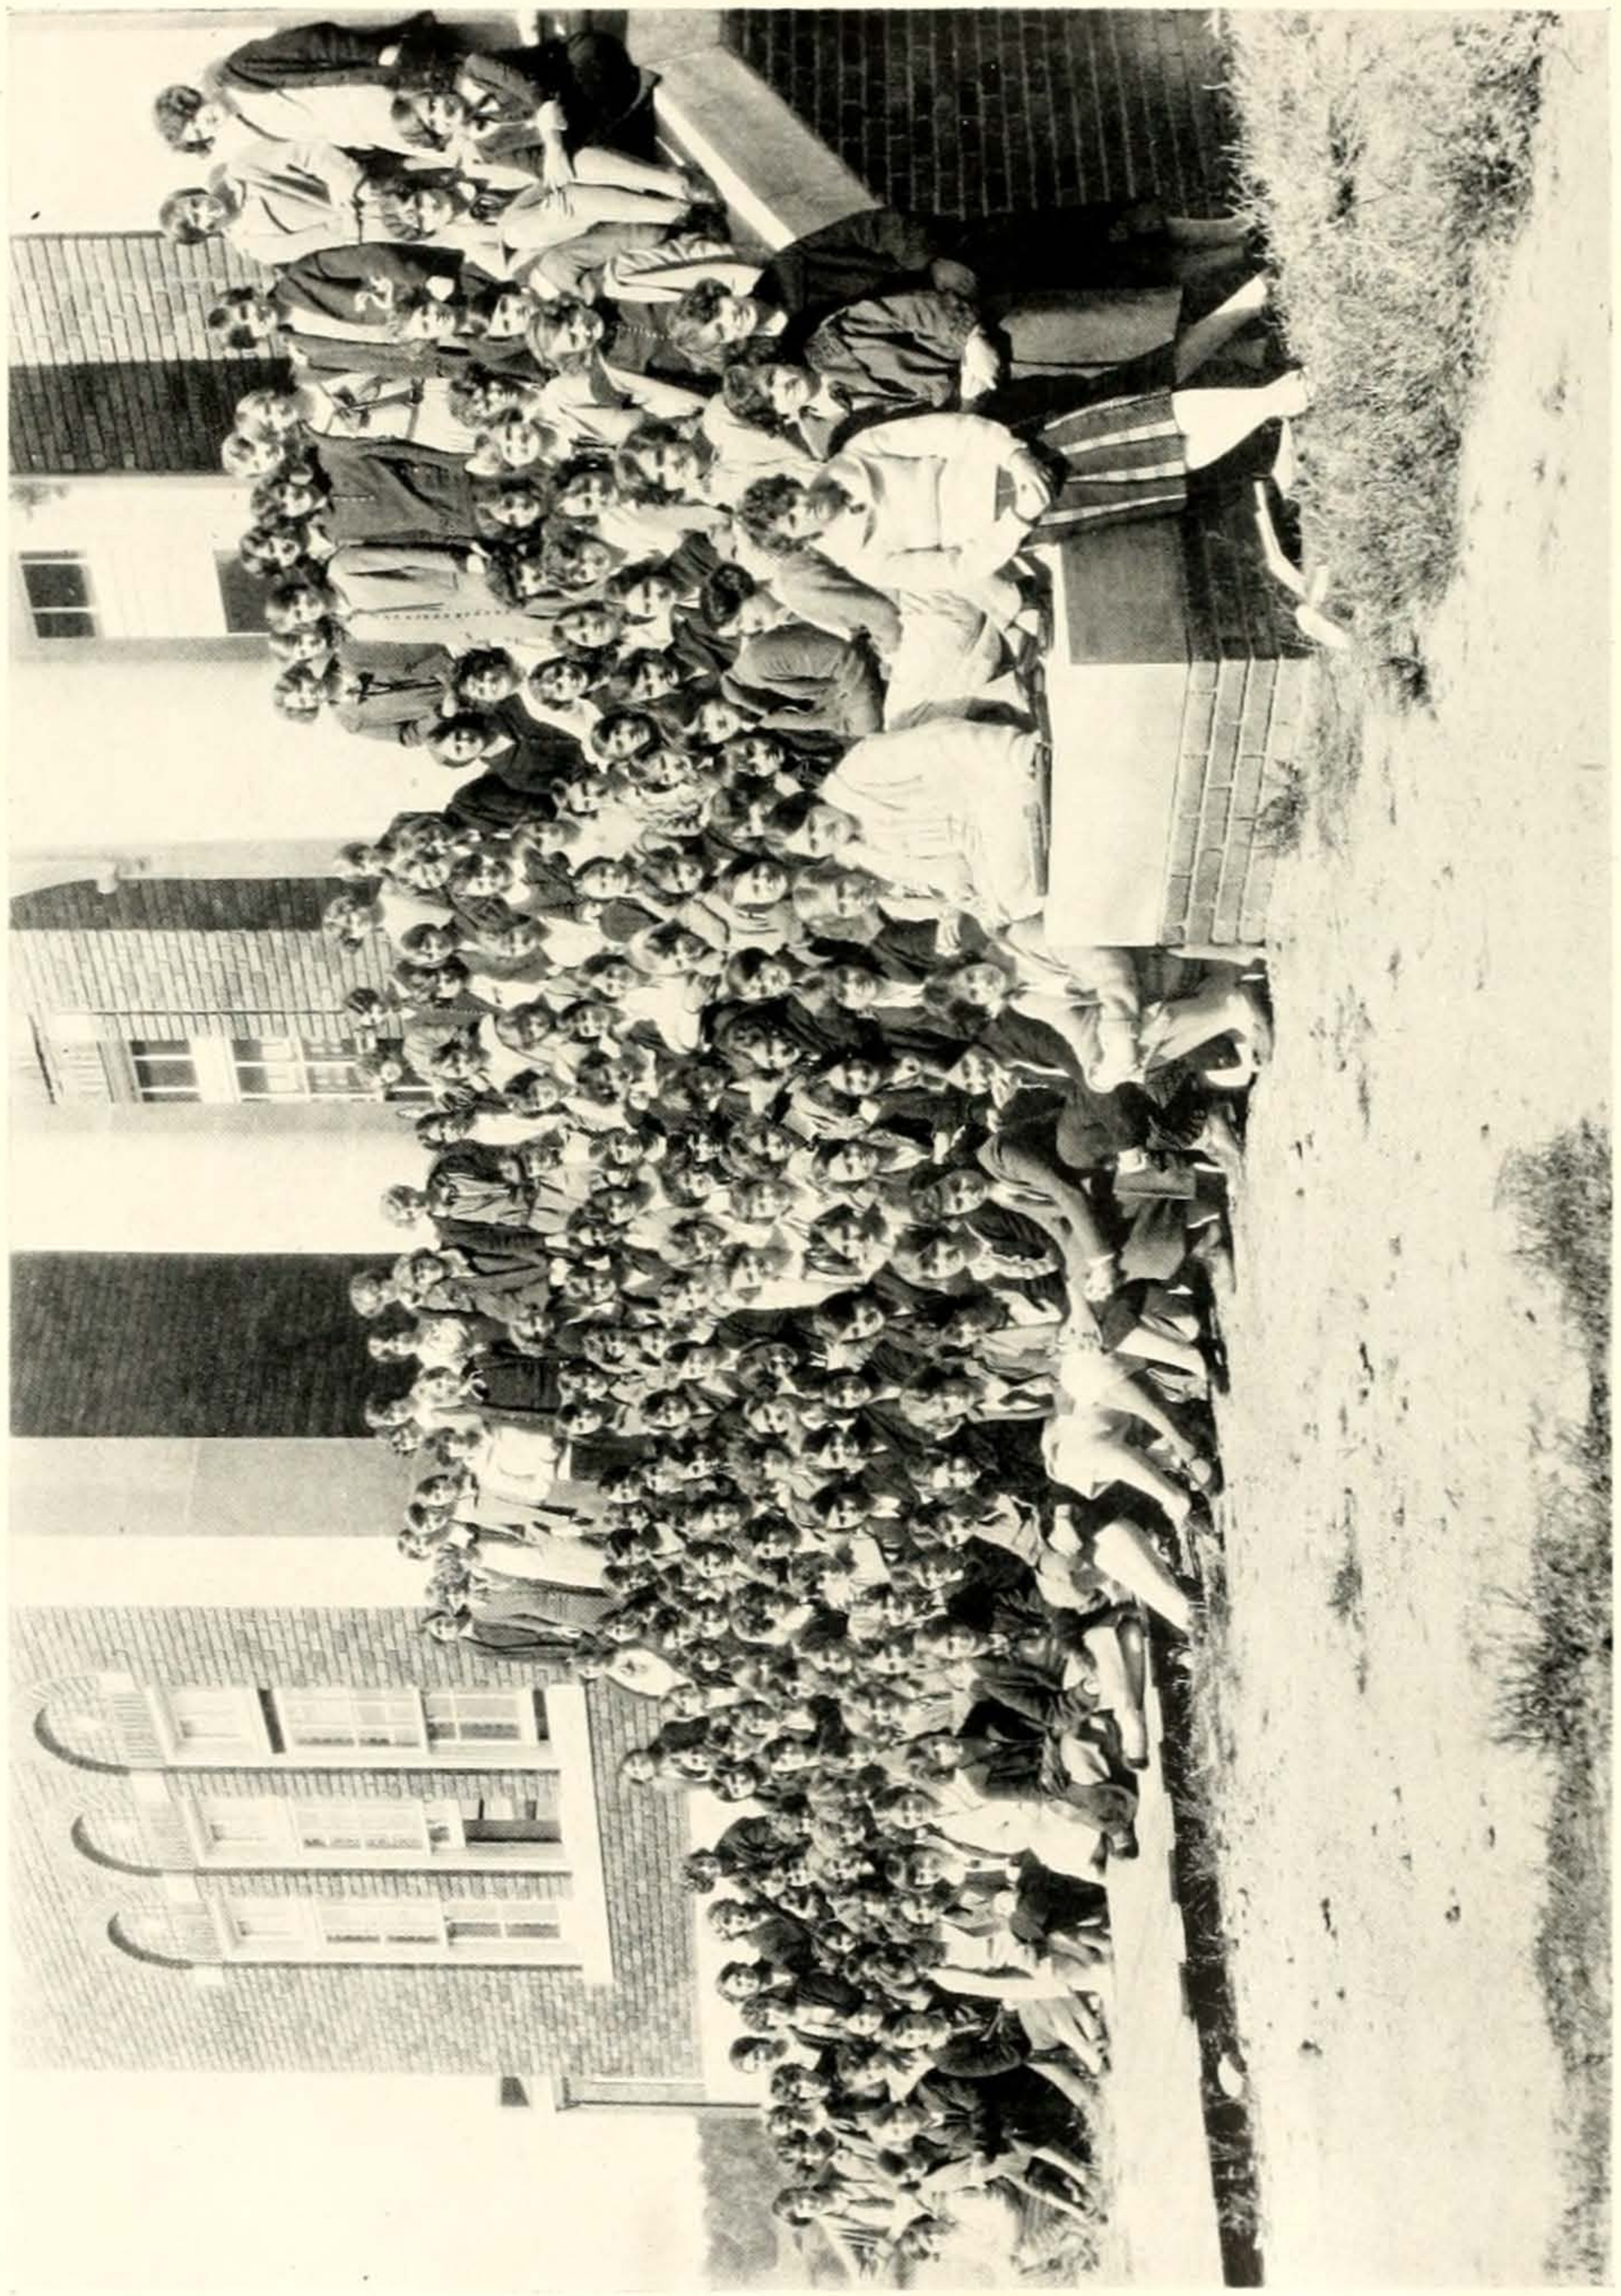

To thee, oh Lavender and White,
Our high desires we bring,
And pledging now to keep them bright
We start our journeying.

Chorus

As it unfolds its colors fair,
The Lavender and White,
So we set forth to do and dare
And keep its colors bright.

We give our Alma Mater, too,
Our loyalty while we live;
Think not the Class of '28
Shall take and never give.

Now may its royal purple sheen,
Inspired to greater deeds,
May its pure white keep our hearts clean
As we follow where it leads!

SARAH POWER ARMSTRONG
Mascot of Class of '29

Colors: Blue and White

Flower: Sweet Pea

Motto: Onward

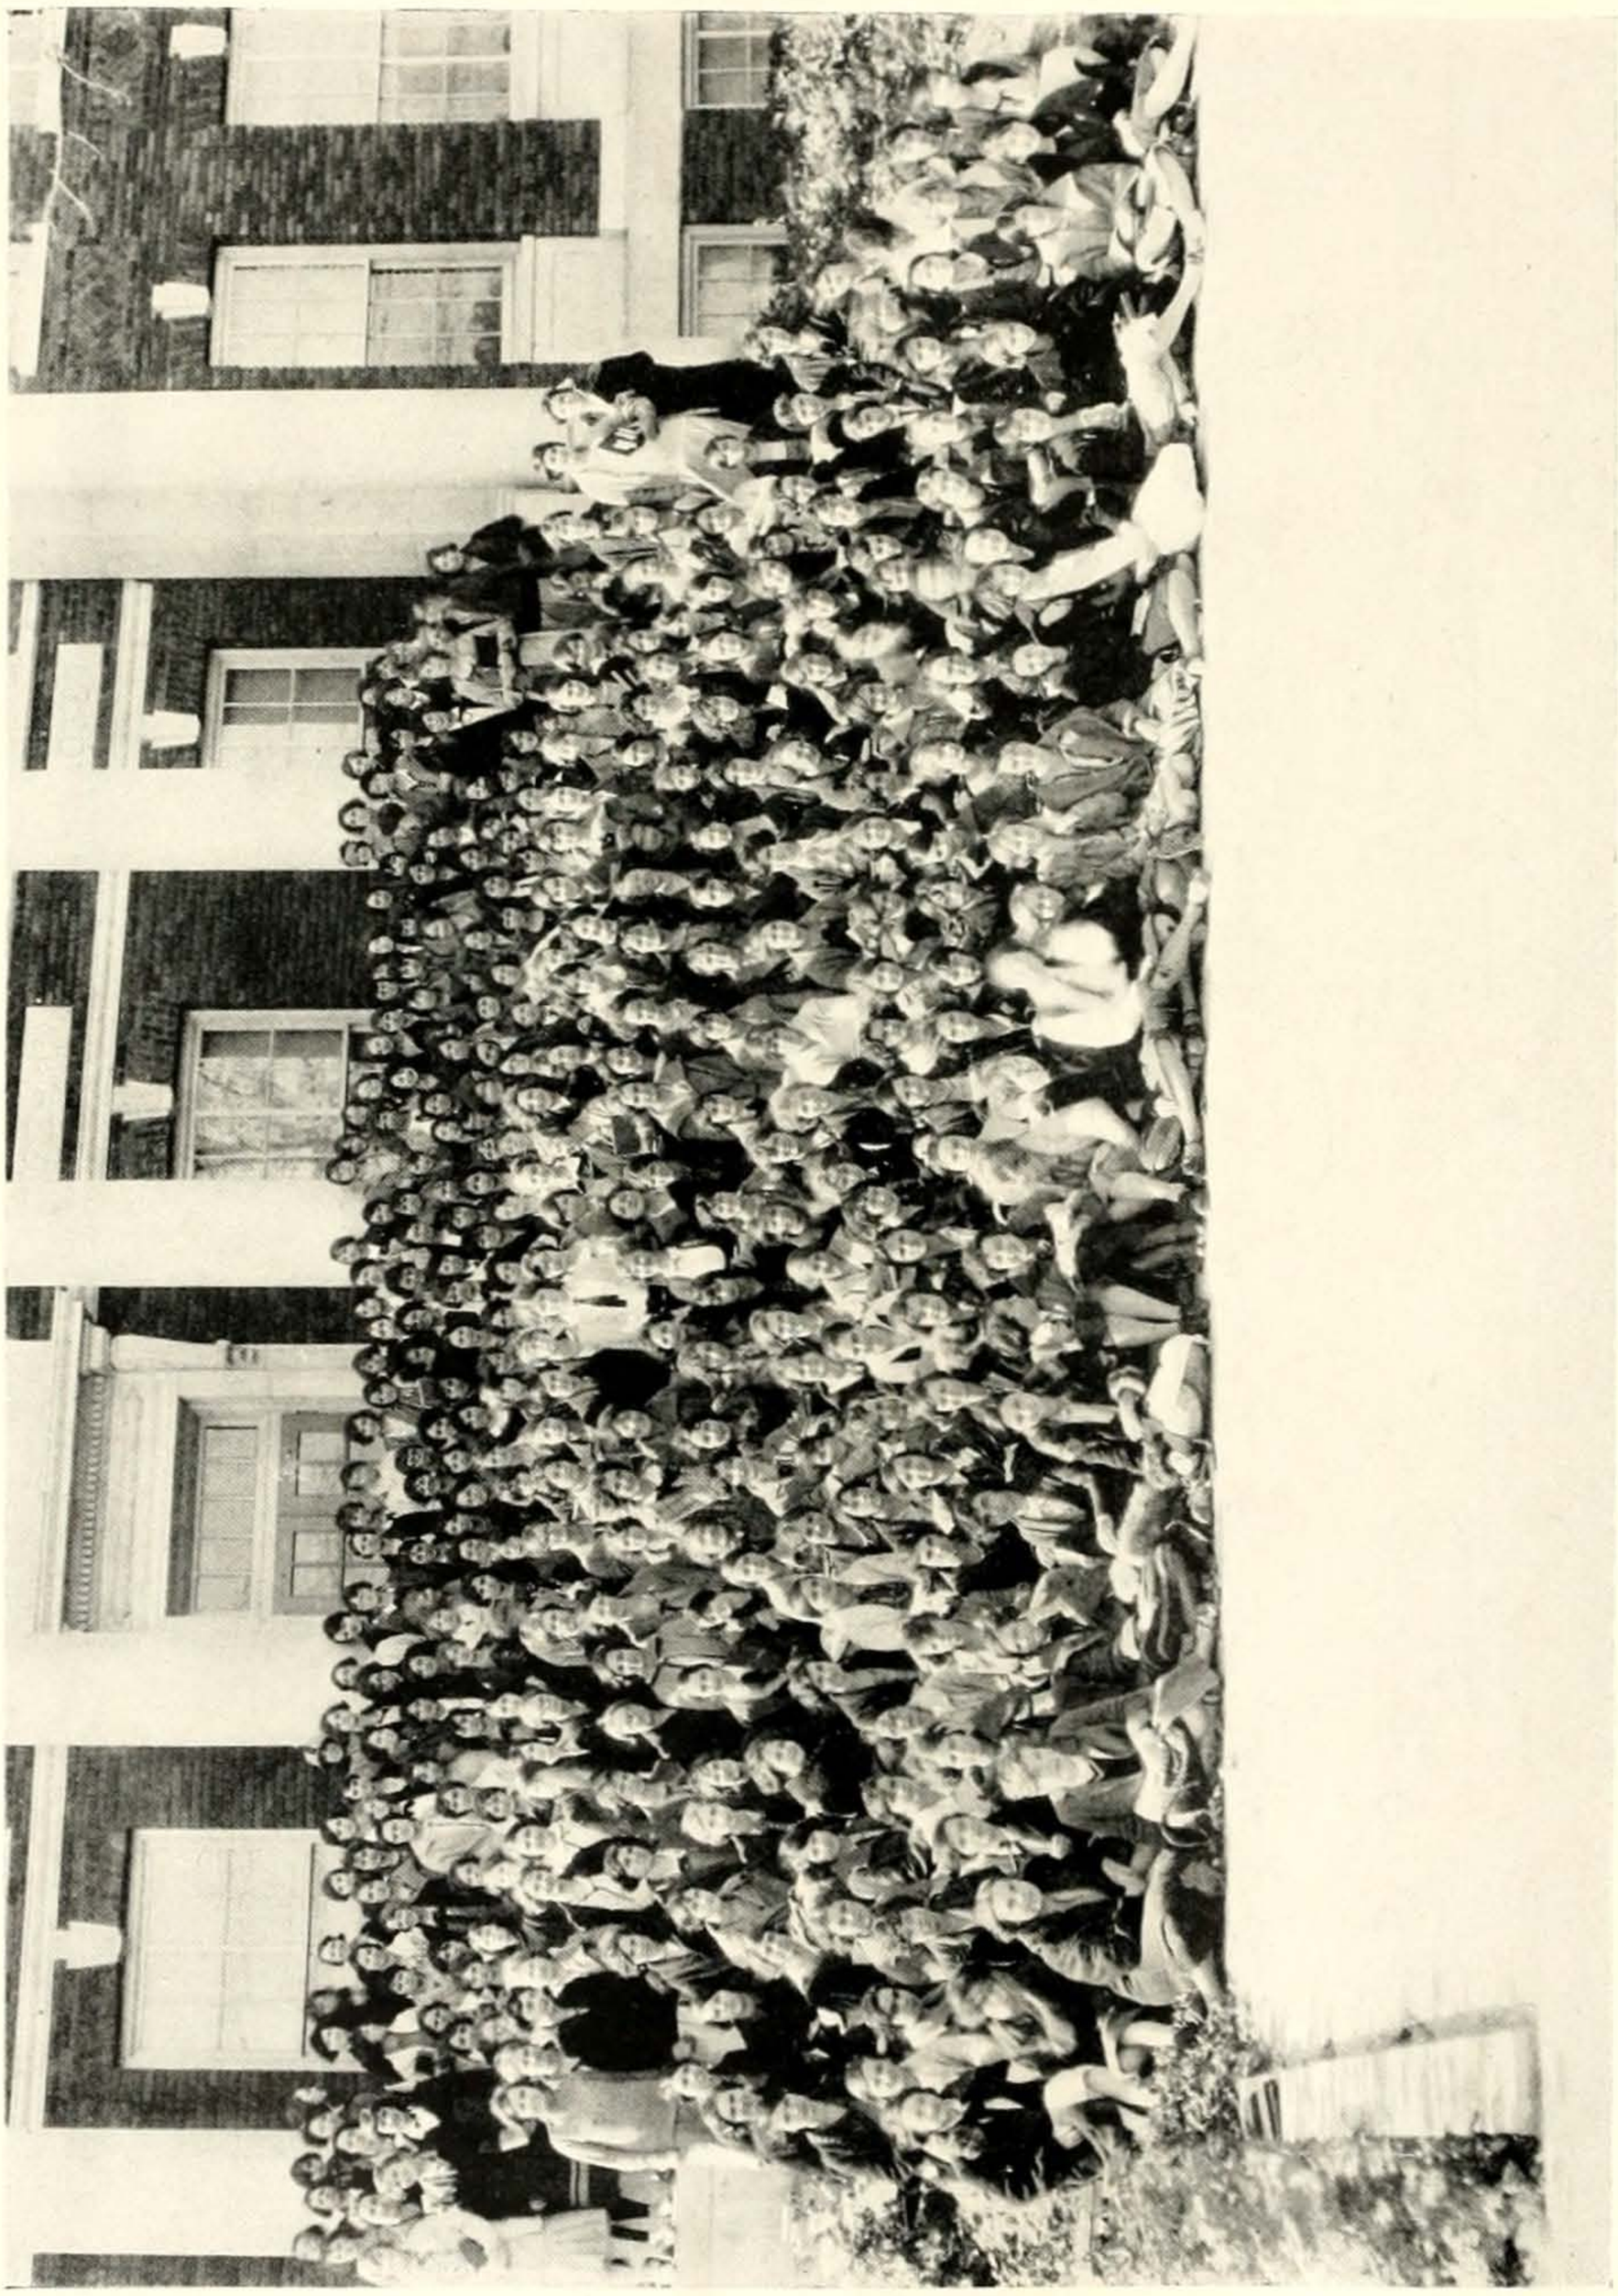

Class Song

Three cheers for the Blue and White,
Striving always for the right,
Our aims are high and loyal,
To them we'll e'er be true,
And '29 moves "Onward"
Forever toward her goal.

Chorus

"The Blue and White forever!"
Our cry shall ever be,
And "Onward! Ever onward
To our victory!"

To you, dear Alma Mater,
We pledge our hearts anew,
We'll honor, love and cherish
The days we've spent with you;
We'll love and serve you always,
Dear College, here's to you!

The Freshman Choir

Much of the success of the first year of Freshman Chapel has been due to the choir. This is composed entirely of Freshmen, under the supervision of Frances Harrison and Grey Fetter. The members of the choir present a most impressive sight as they march in, singing the processional and wearing robes with blue and white stoles. All who have attended chapel exercises on Thursday have enjoyed the special music which they have rendered at various times. The following are members of the choir:

Shoulder to shoulder, hearts filled with devotion,
With purpose not aimless, but earnest and true;
United by all of the ties of deep friendship,
We bring, O Adelphae, our homage to you.

We pledge to you loyalty, long and unending,
Loyalty, which will be firm, will be true;
Devotion, we pledge you, that never will perish,
And love which through all coming time will endure.

With courage undaunted, we'll march ever onward,
Up heights to be won, along parts strange and new,
But now and forever, one great band of sisters,
We'll be, O Adelphae, still loyal to you.

CORNELIA AND THE GRACCHI

Cornelian Society Song

In joy and praise come let us sing
With anthem clear and strong;
Let all Cornelian voices ring,
In free, exultant song.
Of pride for that fair name we bear,
Cornelia, glorious word,
To make us gladly do and dare,
Whene'er 'tis thought, whene'er 'tis heara.

We'll onward, upward ever move,
Our footsteps forward pressed
Together move in sister-love
Upon the mountain's crest,
To gain the fair, wide, spreading view
Which round the mountain lies,
And give us understanding new,
Enlightening our eager eyes.

May Cornelia's name have ne'er a stain
From any daughter's deed.
For her all glory will be given
And give her honor's meed;
For firm and staunch we'll ever stand
Unto each other true,
And loyal to her noble band,
Hers, yea, her own, our whole lives through.

DIKE

Dikean Society Song

Dike, who speaks with reverberant grandeur,
Through listening portals of true womanhood,
Into thy vastness, we come now entrusting
Powers as yet latent with will's hopes imbued,
Glad for the toiling, the common endeavor,
Glad for the wideness of ways to be won,
To do for the deed's sake, still keeping the vision,
Trusting secure in the love round us thrown.

Stamped with that beauty and light of thy image,
We would go forth with a creative faith;
Builders potential and makers of highways,
Easing for others the paths they may take,
And as the sunset gives place to the sunrise,
After us cometh the child of the dawn
To fashion the fabric of dreams scarce completed
And serve thee forever, O light, farther on.

Voices Among Us

Pagan Song

JULIA BLAUVELT, '26

In next year's sunshine you shall see
The very golden dust of me.
For I could never lie below
With flowers peeping from the snow.
I'd send my substance through their veins
To throb and grow in springtime rains,
'Till one warm day toward May or so
In some gay blossom I should blow,
My soul-stuff mingling with its dew.
The sun would beckon till I flew
And laughed to God as I passed by,
"I told you I should reach the sky."

Explanation

BROOKS JOHNSON, '26

Gaily I make my rhymes
And clearly like a bell
Sing of the love I never had—
But no one knows—don't tell!

Poem

FADEAN PLEASANTS, '28

God of the outdoors, teach my heart the song
That the tree sings to her dying leaf-children,
So that I, like them, knowing all the while
That cold, wet earth awaits my singing self,
May whirl and dance in the silver rain
That beats me ever downward,
A bit of red or gold
Against November grey.
O, teach me their song
And tell me not that they, too,
But feign their joyous bravery
To hide their heavy hearts.

Rain

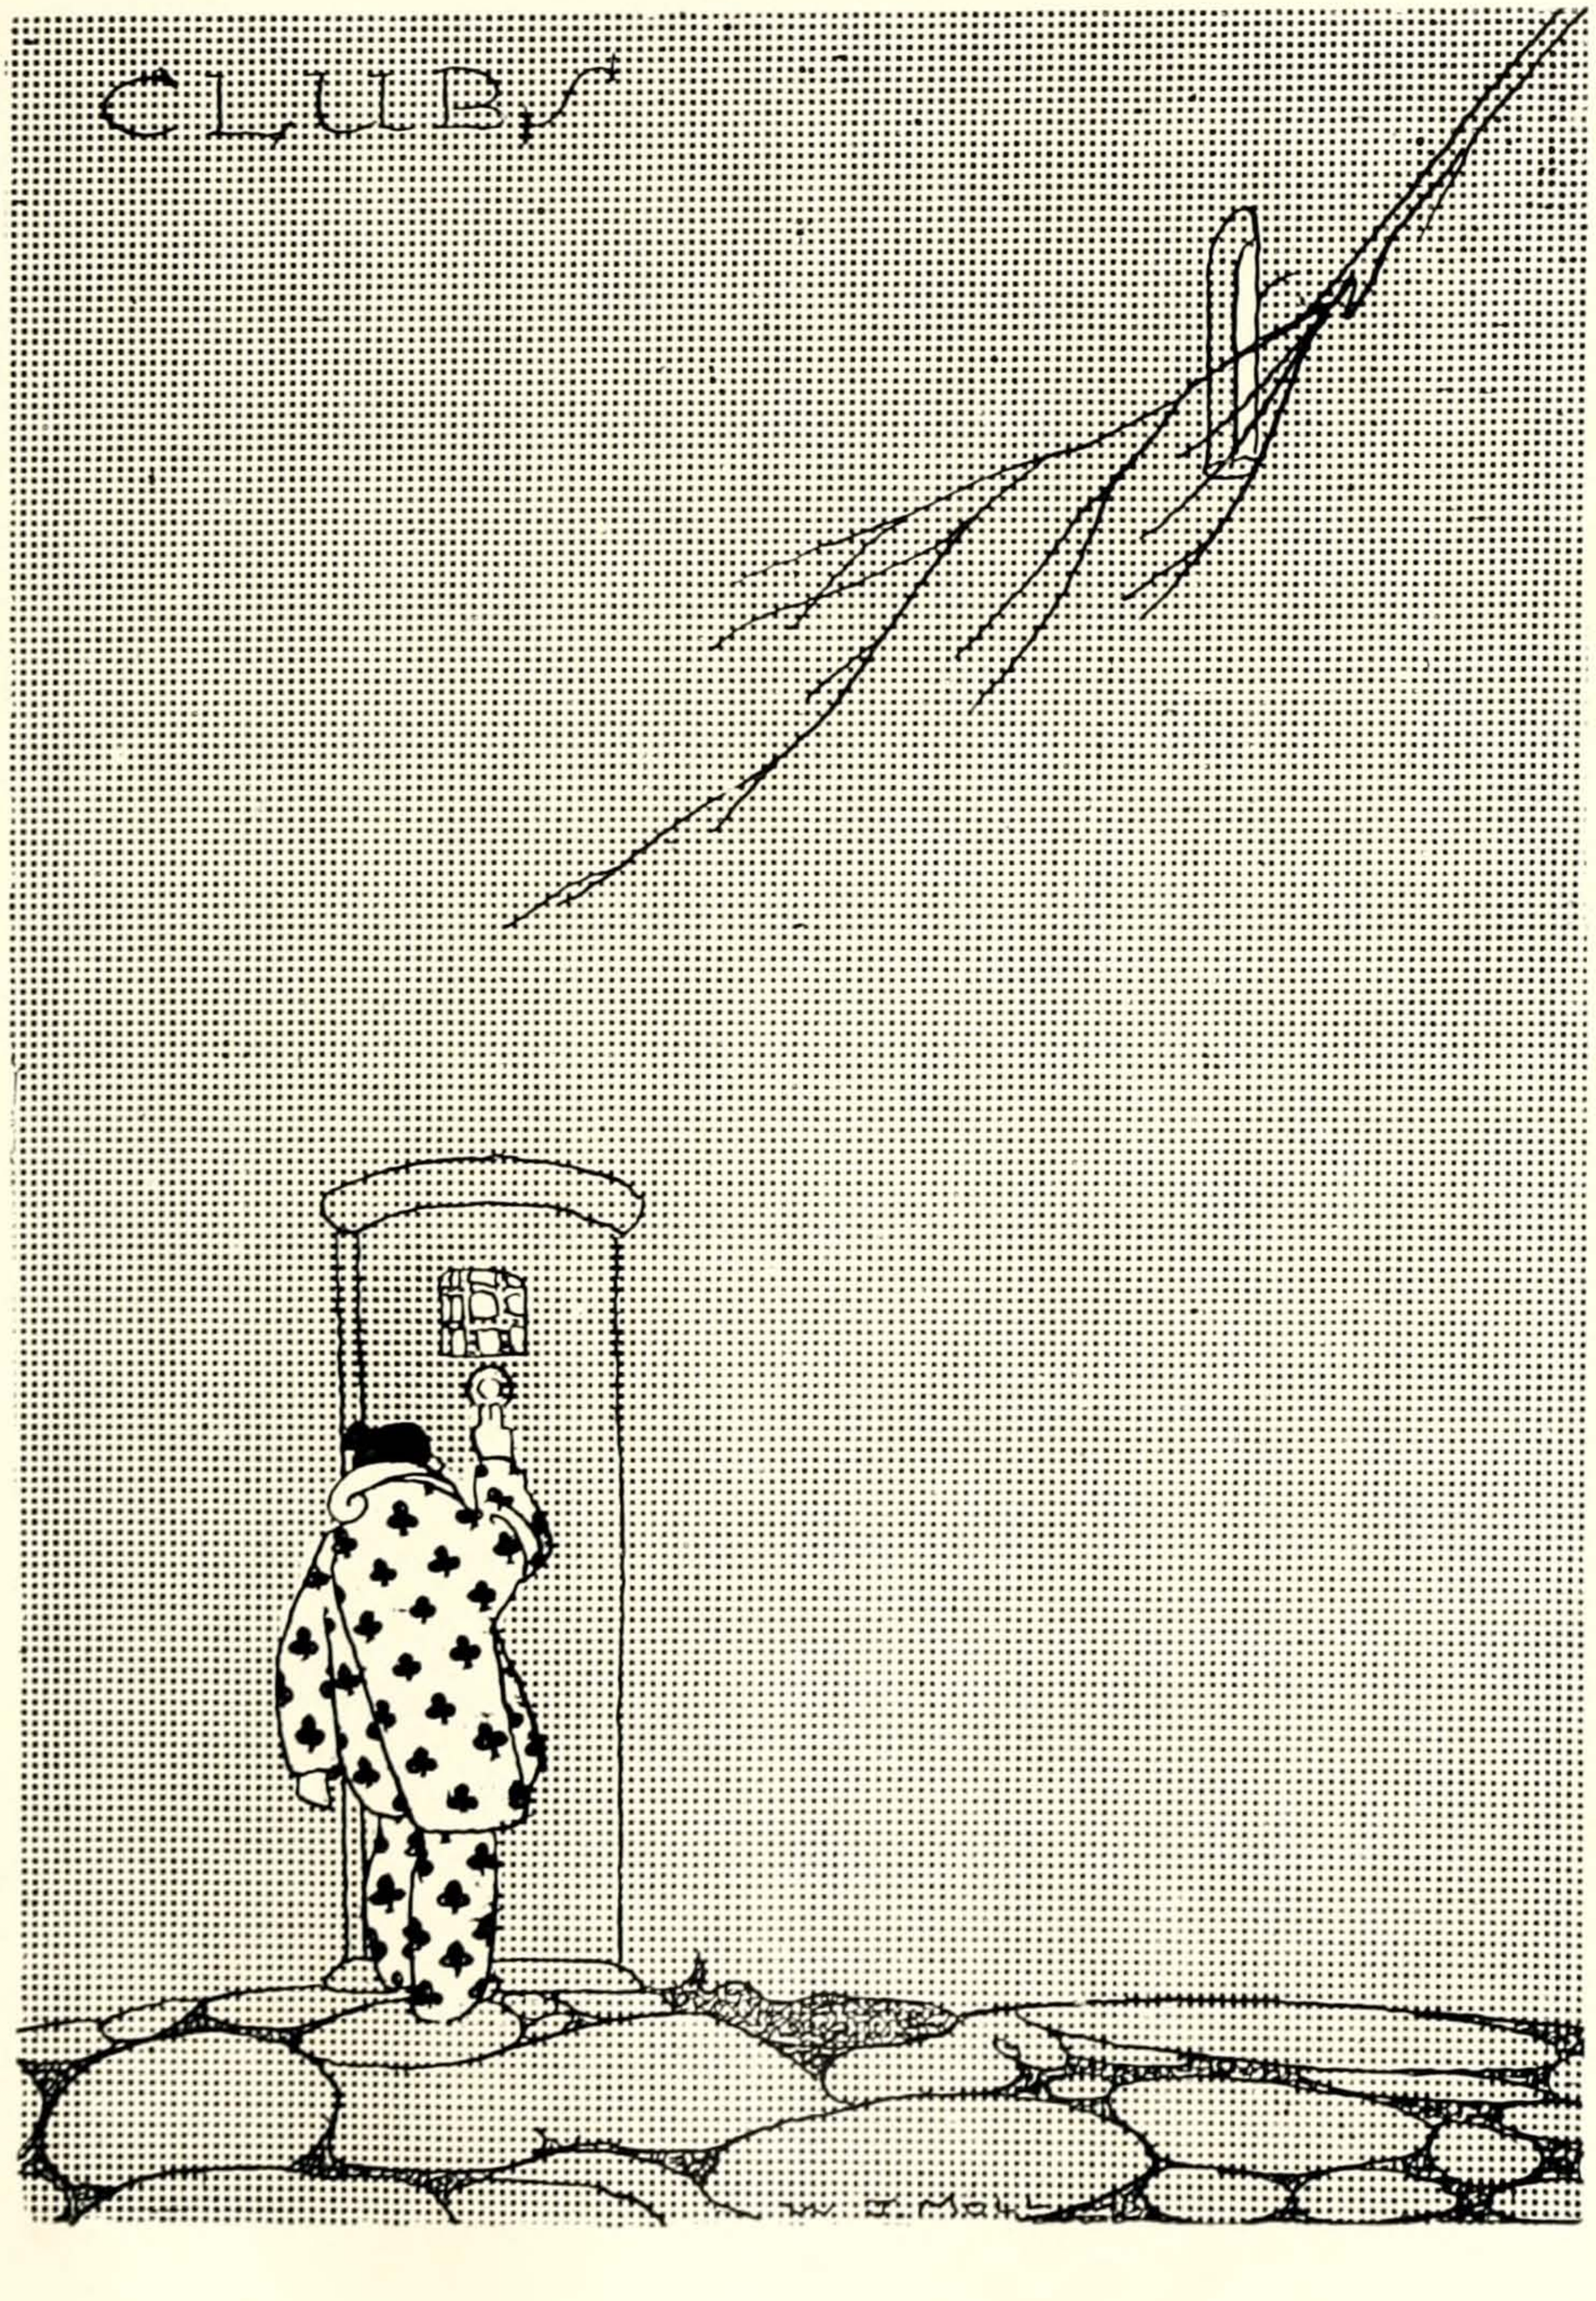

NANCY LITTLE, '27

Can't you see him
Way up there on that puffed cloud,
Those pudgy fingers grasping that smutty pitcher jar?
I like the way he half rises on those short fat legs
And tilts the heavy pitcher
Till the contents splash and drop.
That red, red tongue in his mouth's upward curve!
The way he sticks that rounded fist
Into the pitcher jar
And quickly draws it out, then shoots
Each finger wide apart.
Trickle, trickle, drip, drip, drip.
I wish I could stay awake
To see if he will break
The jar.

Prayer of a Youth

BERTIE R. CRAIG, '26

Inscrutable Law of Living Things,
Great Whole, let me, a unit,
Venture where the mind is never sure,
Where man would explain the inexplicable,
Where man would harness the intangible.
Let me, like others, scheme to hold
My note in the Harmony of Life
Long after the grand amen has faded.
But let me live with intensity
While mine is the upper hand
In this parasitic game
Before that Life Hereafter comes—
Nourishment for grasping greedy roots
And food for hungry crawling things!

The Education Club was organized for the purpose of acquiring a knowledge and pride in teaching as a profession. The club studies educational problems and conditions in the state with the purpose of finding means of improving them. In order to do this some of the leading educators in the state are speakers at the monthly meetings of the club. There are social functions which give the student members an opportunity to become better acquainted with each other and with the faculty members of the club.

The membership of the club consists of seniors who do practice teaching, juniors selected by the nominating committee, and faculty members of the School of Education.

Anyone who can play any orchestral instrument well is eligible for membership in the college orchestra. The orchestra is now composed of twelve violins, two clarinets, three cellos, two trumpets, two trombones, flute, bells, drum and piano.

We feel sure that the orchestra is now one of the most enthusiastic organizations on the campus. Tuesday night rehearsals receive the best attendance and the most hearty co-operation is shown. Three public performances were given last year. The selections were of a higher standard than before and were rendered very satisfactorily. We feel very much encouraged and are looking forward to really fine results next year when we give a real Beethoven Symphony.

Those who have excelled in dance drama are eligible for membership in the Orchesus Club. New members are elected by the club upon the basis of earnestness of effort and proficiency of the applicant in her dancing. Two beautiful initiations have been held and now the membership numbers between thirty and forty girls. The work is interpretative, both lyric and dramatic dancing. The club has furnished dancers for many college entertainments. The year's work culminates the night of Field Day when a magnificent dance drama is presented in the open air theatre.

The Playlikers

"We play-like and we like plays."

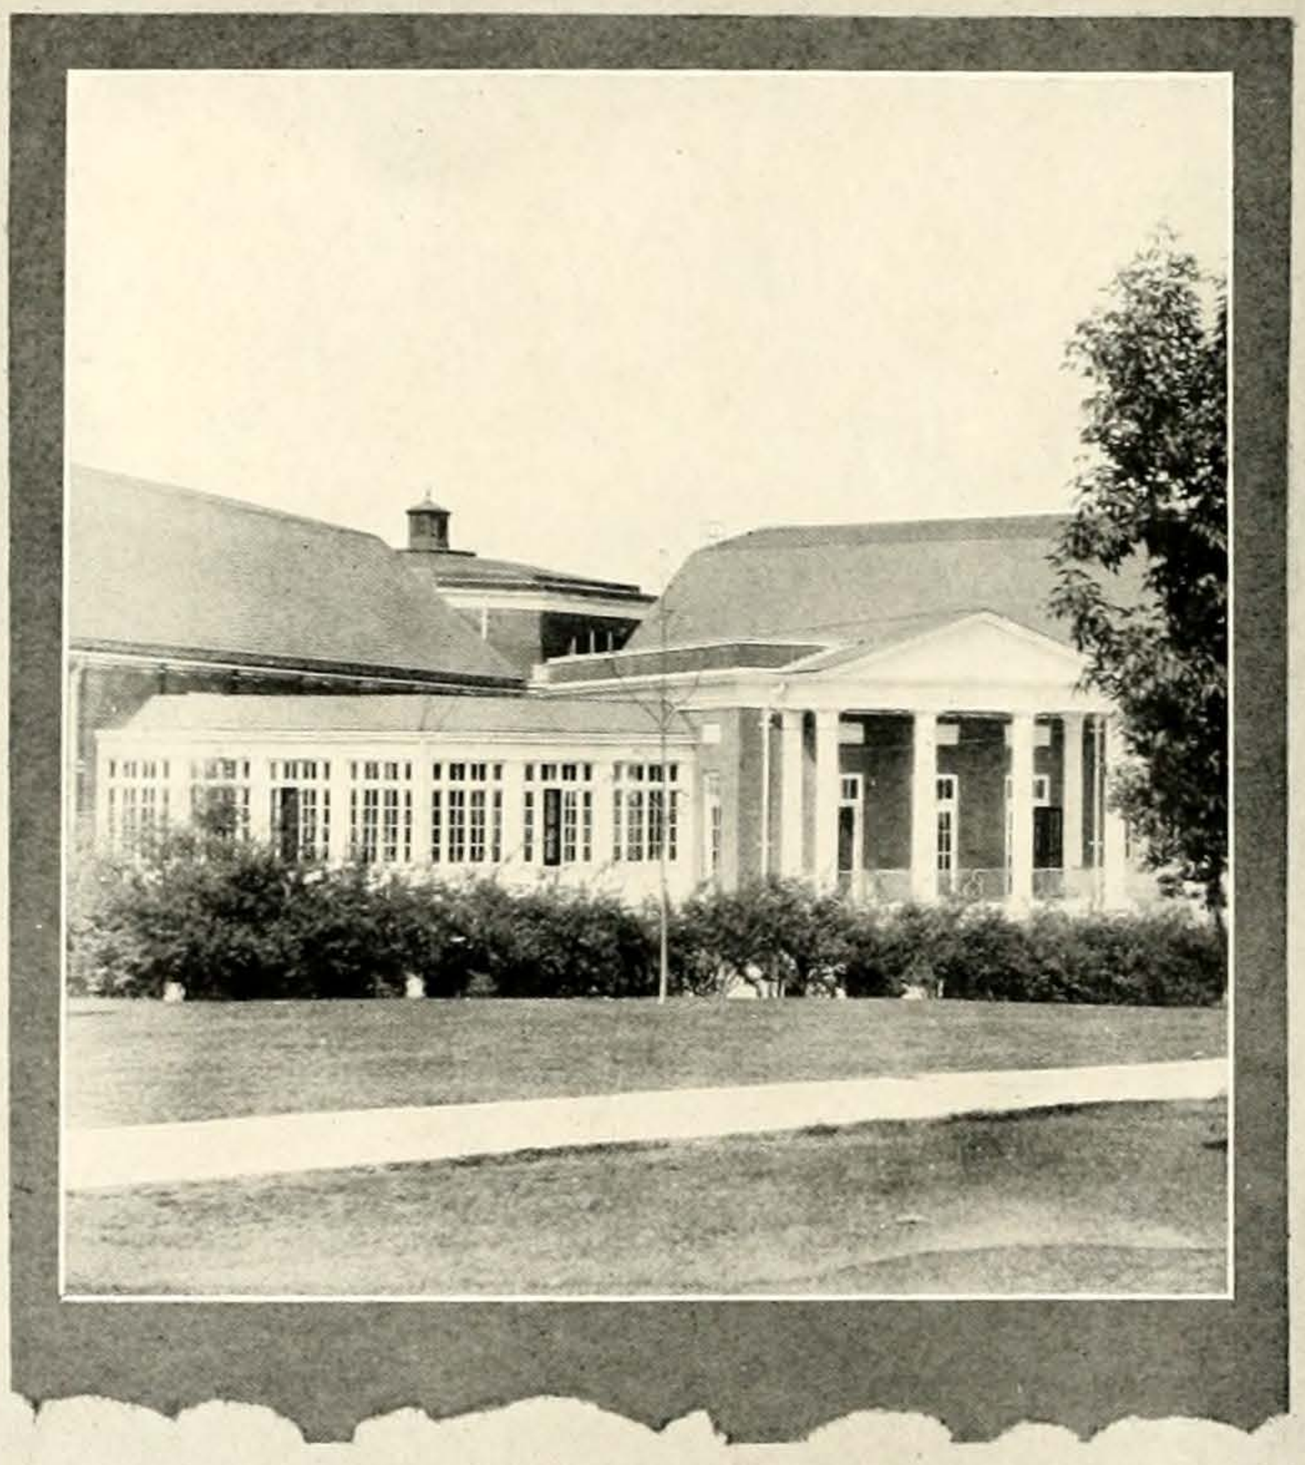

The dramatic association of North Carolina College, known as the Playlikers, has been an organization for only a few years, but in those few years it has done more than enough to justify its existence. Having its origin in the dreams and aspirations of Mr. W. R. Taylor and a small group of students, who had a strong feeling for dramatic art, it has grown into an association whose membership consists of faculty members and students who have already shown enough interest and ability in the field of dramatics to guarantee their helpfulness in fulfilling its purposes.

As an advisory committee, a group of interested and able faculty members unite with Mr. Taylor in outlining a general policy for the association. In addition to this advisory committee, there is the dramatic council, which is composed of the president, secretary, treasurer, business manager, faculty director, and student director of the Play-Likers, and which is the executive body of the association.

The practical staff, which is largely drawn by Mr. Taylor from his Play-Production classes, is composed of stage manager, assistant stage manager, electrician, stage hands, scenery makers, directors and many more. These people are the ones who do the work which goes into the making of the plays which run so smoothly when seen from over the foot-lights. The work is hard and exacting, but the students who engage in it are sufficiently interested to be glad to give their time and energy to the making of artistic productions.

Always fortunate in having excellent student talent for acting, the Play-Likers have been able to overcome the difficulties usually encountered by a dramatic association composed solely of women, because of the ability and interested co-operation of the men of the faculty, who have joined the group of actors, much to the improvement of Play-Liker productions. In the past two years, these men have co-operated with the student actors and with the Play-Liker staff to produce four full-length and one set of one-act plays, all of which have met with success. During the year 1924-1925, Fashion, a play which had recently been revived in New York, and The First Year were produced, and during this year just past, The Book of Charm, another play which had just run on Broadway; Blue Diamonds, a mystery play written and directed by Mr. L. B. Hurley of the English Department of the college, and Sims, and The Quick and the Dead, two one-act plays written by Kate C. Hall and Andrina McIntyre respectively, both of Mr. Taylor's play-writing classes, have been presented with the use of faculty people in the men's roles.

Still a young organization, this dramatic association has set no limit to its aspirations, hoping to build here a group that shall be constantly attaining technical, artistic, and creative growth in dramatic art.

Here and There on the Campus

Dr. Yocum (in the park): "Can you tell me, young woman, if this plant belongs to the arbutus family?"

Sweet Young Thing: "No, sir, it doesn't. It belongs to the college."

* * *

"Johnsie must be doing some pretty heavy training now."

"Why?"

"I heard one of her professors say this morning that she was always jumping at conclusions."

* * *

"What did that Freshman's parents say when she was sent home after exams?"

"They congratulated the college on turning out such fine girls."

"I hope that is a nice book for you to read, darling," said a conscientious mother to her college daughter.

"Oh, yes, mother," said Miss Collegiate. "It's a lovely book, but I don't think you would like it. It's so sad at the end."

"She dies and he has to go back to his wife."

* * *

Marr: "Do you believe that there are mermaids at the bottom of the sea?"

Sellus: "Dunno, but there's usually a woman at the bottom of everything."

* * *

Mr. Keister: "Ever had Economics?"

R. Hinnant: "No, just measles and whooping cough."

ZOOLOGICAL

"Dear!"

With a glance she tried to cow him, but he only looked sheepish.

"Dog!" she exclaimed.

He choked—there was a frog in his throat. Realizing that he had made a monkey of himself by acting like a bear, he ducked.

* * *

Mr. L. M. Johnson: "Somebody give me a sentence."

Fresh: "Quick! Somebody call the judge.

* * *

Blanche: "Why do you think you can work on a newspaper?"

Applicant: "I am able to type with two fingers and cuss."

One: "Do you room off campus?"

Two: "Yes, but I get bored at class."

* * *

THE TROUBLES OF AN EDITOR

I have a book of synonyms,
Concordances galore;
A dictionary up to date,
And Textbooks by the score.
I have a folding typewriter
That's been in use for years;
I'm long on all material,
But short on good ideas.

* * *

Dr. Foust: "Yes, my dear madam, we guarantee good results or return the girl."

* * *

"Who was Shylock, Miss Winfield?"

"My dear! You go to Sunday School and don't know that!"

"Where have you been, my pretty maid?"
"To college, sir," she said.
"What learned you there, my pretty
maid?"
"An awful lot," she said.

"Then why are you back, my pretty
maid,
The streets to idly roam?"
"I failed, kind sir, to make the grade,
And so they sent me home."

"And did you fail in every course,
Or in a single test?"
"I made an A in just one course,
And flunked in all the rest."

"In what, pray tell, did you do so well,
My pretty little lass?"
"In How-to-Study course, befell,—
In that I lead my class."

The William Jennings Bryan Club

Most Popular Campus Organization

The membership shall include: Any student who has been rooked at the polls more than once and still believes in Santa Claus.

For the motto the club shall use Shakespeare's famous words, "Don't give up the ship."

The standard anthem shall be: "How Come You Do Me Like You Do?"

The official emblem: A sack.

It is expected that this club's influence will be felt very strongly throughout the whole campus, particularly in the field of athletics where they can offer a great moral support for the members of the track team.

* * *

"Chief, the patient in cell forty-five wants a typewriter. She thinks she's a Carolinian editor."

* * *

"I'm beginning to suspect my social director."

"Why?"

"She believed my story last night."

Enlightenment—Via Freshman Themes

"Elinor Glyn wrote the Passion Play."

"Joan of Arc was burned to a steak."

"Milton wrote Lycidus in memory of his diseased friend, King Edward."

"Luther came out from a diet of worms unharmed."

"All church lands were confiscated except the Vatican, which was reserved as grazing ground for the papal bull."

"The Roman Empire lies south of the Great Lakes."

"Wordsworth wrote Imitations of Immorality."

* * *

Doris: "Let's go to the library."

Lois: "Sorry; I gotta study."

A Doctor of Literature

"Dear Doctor:

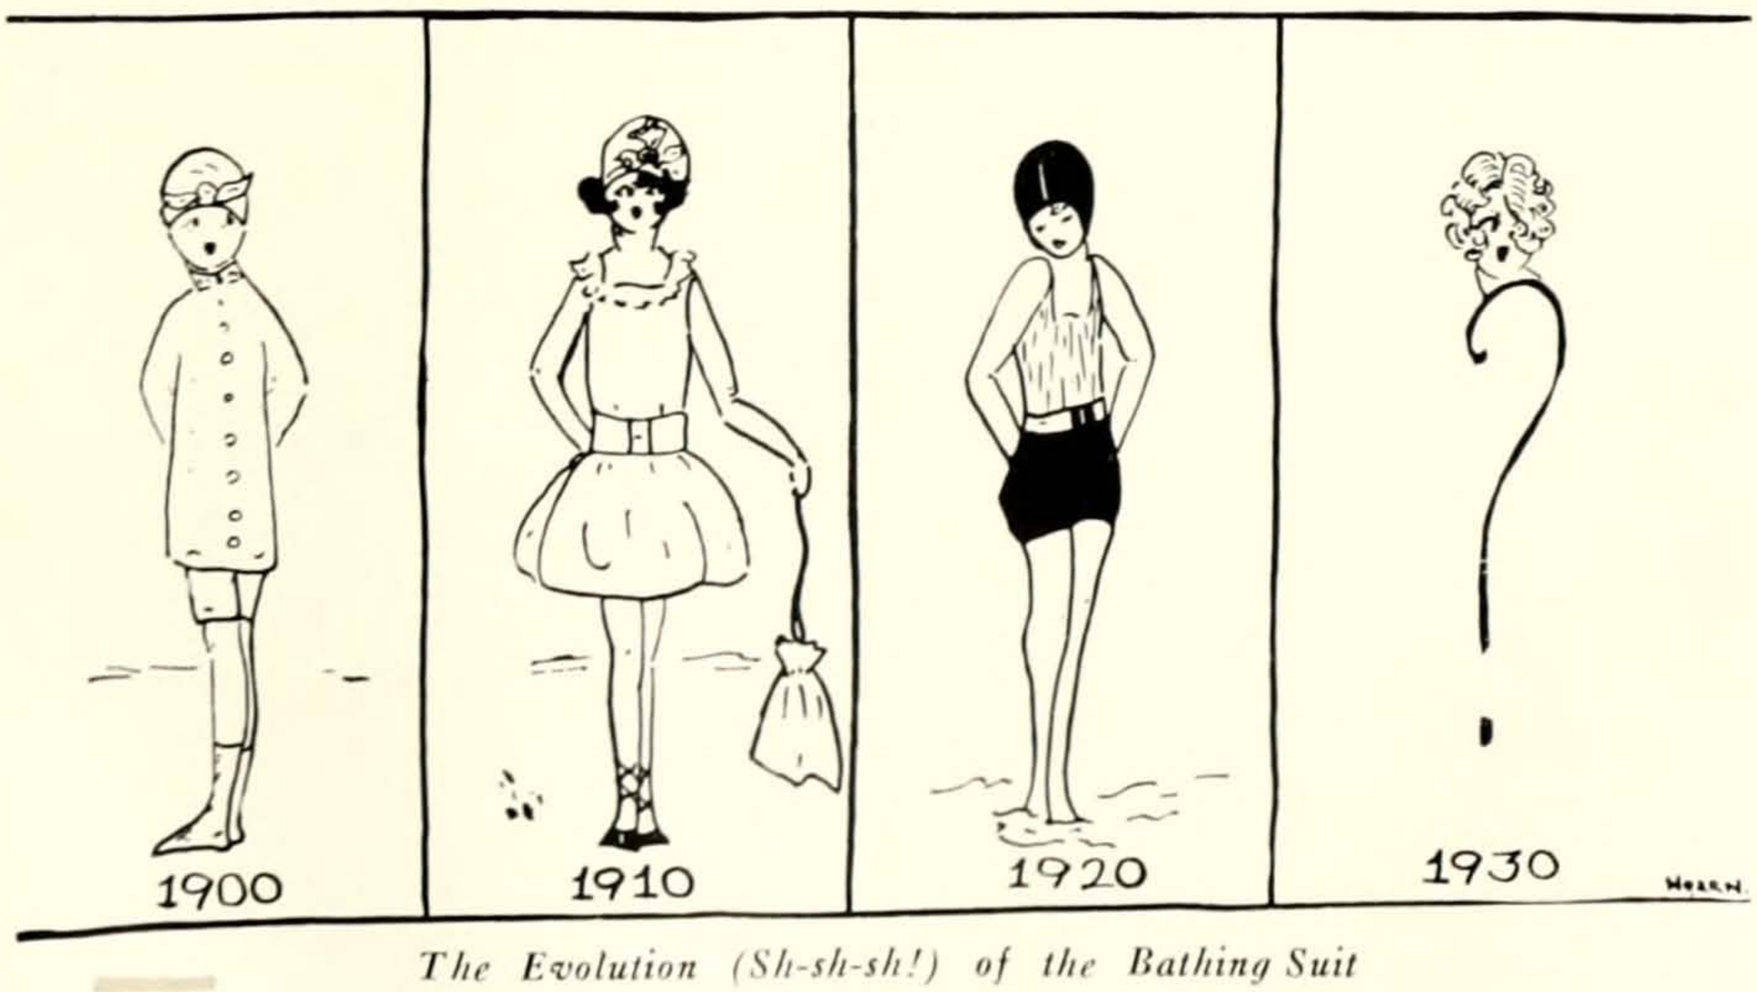

"My pet billy goat is seriously ill from eating a complete leatherbound set of Shakespeare. What would you prescribe?"

Answer: "Am sending Literary Digest by return mail."

* * *

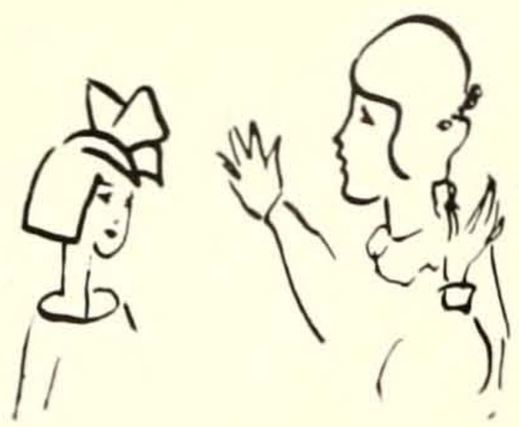

Jean (impatiently): "Come on, Judy, why does it take you so long to take a bath?"

Katherine (in passing down the hall): "Don't rush her. She's having the time of her life playing in the mud."

Dr. Foust: "What would the people of the state think?"

Mrs. Durand: "Now don't you agree with me about this?"

Mr. Miller: "That's the finest statement I ever made."

Mr. Martin: "Well, I won't argue with a woman."

Dean Smith: "I was having a delightful extension class in—"

Mr. A. C. Hall: "Someday, I'm going to make a study of that."

Miss Andrews: "My dear, if you'd just as soon—"

Dr. Cook: "Now is there anything further on that?"

Mr. L. M. Johnson: "Young ladies, I am going to tell you a little joke."

Mr. Morrison: "Now what I mean to say is this—"

Dr. Arnette: "It was 'tremenjous!' "

Dr. Kendrick: "Now if we just had a map."

Mr. Shaftsbury: "Ye gods! That's unfortunate!"

Miss Schaffer: "That's correctly right."

"Absence makes the heart grow fonder."

"This hurts me worse than it does you."

"I simply did not have time to write."

"I forgot."

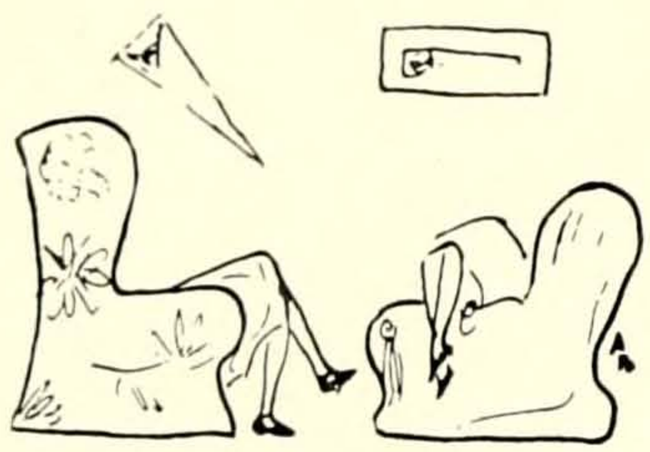

"It was not on reserve."

"I still love you."

Signal Progress

In the college story of the future we may read: "The famous halfback then took thirty minutes brisk practice on the adding machine."

* * *

Tom: "What are they playing now?"

Anna Lee: "Beethoven's Ninth Symphony."

Tom: "Oh dear! Have we missed the other eight?"

* * *

The Secret Is Out

Fresh: "I know now why college editors call themselves 'we.'"

Van: "Why?"

Fresh: "So that the faculty member who doesn't like the editorials will think that there are too many of them for him to lick.

"Dear Teacher: Kindly excuse Johnnie's absence yesterday. He fell in the mud. By doing the same you will greatly oblige his mother."

* * *

From a Junior's paper in American Literature: "The music in Hiawatha lies in Longfellow's use of parallelograms."

* * *

A member of the faculty tells the following joke on herself:

Stern Prof.: "Young woman, what is your full name?"

Miss Barrow: "Elvira Eudora Barrow."

Prof.: "Euphonious, isn't it?"

Miss B.: "No, it's Eudora!"

No, dear, she is not a golfer. She's the Pine Needles editor.

Ambitious Author: "Hurrah! Five dollars for my latest story."

Friend: "From whom?"

Author: "The express company. They lost it."

* * *

Wilma K.: "I've got to write a theme. Can't you suggest some sort of a dumb subject that I might use?"

Sympathetic Senior: "Why not try an autobiography?"

* * *

Miss Coolidge: "Do you like codfish balls?"

Brooks J.: "I don't know. I never attended one."

* * *

First Frosh: "Are you going to sign up for Hockey or Physical Ed.?"

Second Frosh: "Neither! Think I'll take Gym because I've already bought my suit."

Jimmie: "Did she give you the key to her heart?"

Bill: "Yes, but I have found out that she has too many duplicates."

First Girl: "You're teacher's pet."

Second Girl: "Do you think they do?"

* * *

Jeter B.: "Nan, what do you call a man that marries more than one woman, a Brigamist?"

N. Jeter: "No, dumbell, they call that kind of a man a Moron."

Alla: "Why did you ever go with Paul?"

Bess: "He's the plot to my confession stories."

* * *

He: "I'm rather in favor of the English than of the American mode of spelling."

She: "Yes?"

He: "Yes, indeed. Take 'parlor,' for instance; having 'u' in it makes all the difference in the world to me."

* * *

"It took me four years to learn that I could not write poetry."

"I suppose you gave it up then?"

"No, no. I got my name in the American Mercury and didn't have to then."

Can't Fool Ole Education

Freshie (wandering around in Students' Building): "Wonder why they don't throw away that old broken-up statue down there in the hall?"

Sophistication: "Oh, don't you know, that is the 'Winged Victory'."
