The Horse Shoe

The horse shoe is perhaps the most popular talisman in every part of the world, and a belief in its luck-bringing efficacy has been present since the dawn of civilization. It is still seen in all countries, over doorways, on doorsteps, and hanging in windows, the one universal symbol of luck. When a horse shoe is found, the more nails left in the shoe, the more luck it carries.

College

We are all more or less prone to have some secret belief in one thing or another which will bring Luck our way. Even those most inclined "to deny the soft impeachment" will often confess to just one pet belief which they laughingly ascribe to their ancestry. Luck and charms are certainly of ancient origin. These pages would contain nothing else, were we to go into the various emblems of Luck which foretold that in which our ancestors believed. Even in the World War, there were soldiers who wore a charm and firmly believed in its efficacy as a means of protection from danger and a preservation of life.

ADMINISTRATION

WE ARE FORTUNATE TO HAVE HAD DR. CHARLES DUNCAN

DR. CHARLES DUNCAN McIVER

Founder and First President of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina

WE gratefully attribute to Dr. McIver the opportunities now afforded the women of our State for obtaining a broad and practical education. It was through his efforts that the women of North Carolina were brought to a realization of their responsibilities as citizens, but he emphasized no less the importance of educating a woman for her home. Those who knew him well are familiar with his saying: "Educate a man and you educate an individual; educate a woman and you educate a home."

His plans were not laid for time as we measure it, but the endless years stretched out before his vision and he showed his wisdom when he invested his time and strength in this great work to which he gave his life.

"FIT FOR EVERY MOOD AND

WE ARE ENRICHED TO HAVE HAD DR. JULIUS ISAAC FOUST

DR. JULIUS ISAAC FOUST
President Emeritus

Woman's College of the University of North Carolina

JULIUS I. FOUST came to the college in 1902, and for thirty-two years he served it: as Dean and Director of the Department of Pedagogy from 1902 to 1906; as President from 1906 to 1934. Under his leadership the institution grew from a small normal school with fewer than five hundred students to a standard college with an enrollment in the peak year of more than eighteen hundred students. His was the task of guiding this rapid development: of directing great material expansion, of assembling and unifying a faculty with diversified interests, of enriching the course of study to meet the cultural and professional demands of the times, and, most important of all, of shaping the life and spirit of the college. How wisely and valiantly Dr. Foust wrought is attested by the esteem in which the college is held today. For this long and distinguished service there is gratitude among the thousands of students who know him as their friend and guide and among the people of North Carolina who know him as a great educational statesman.

IT IS A PLEASURE TO HAVE DR. FRANK PORTER GRAHAM

DR. FRANK PORTER GRAHAM
President
University of North Carolina

STUDENT, teacher, superb workman in his chosen field of History, blood-brother in spirit to all who labor upward anywhere, militant pioneer on the frontiers of a civilization he would spend himself in making more economically productive, more socially just, and more spiritually beautiful; called to exacting responsibility, equipped with authority, and loaded with titles and distinctions of honor, he is sought by high and low who press upon him with many and conflicting purposes. The complexities of such a life he simplifies through the genius of moral intuition, unifying his heart with the heart of the universe and the heart of his fellows. Desiring nothing for himself, he fears nothing, and in the strength of his self-abnegation he leads forlorn hopes to victory. And in the sincere democracy of his spirit he transforms all responsibility, all authority, all distinction, all business with high or low, into terms of friendship.

WE ARE HONORED TO HAVE DR. WALTER CLINTON JACKSON

DR. WALTER CLINTON JACKSON
Dean of Administration
Woman's College of the University of North Carolina

WITH a superlative understanding of human nature, he yet has the desire to learn the mind and needs of the student body and of each individual who is a component part thereof. With an open mind he listens, and with unbiased judgment he decides. No matter how busy his days, how crowded his moments, he always has time for the student with a troubled mind and sends her on her way rejoicing. His is a herculean task, burdened with responsibilities and wearisome details. For his presence the world is a finer place in which to live, and those who seek his advice and counsel are the happier and the wiser for it. A great believer in youth and the ability of young people to learn by doing and therefore fight and win their own battles, he is pre-eminently fitted for the position to which he has been appointed. He is believed by students and admired by faculty and friends.

Dean of Women

Woman's College of the University of North Carolina

WE are proud to welcome as Dean of Women Dr. Geneva Drinkwater, whose scholarly accomplishments, culture, and enthusiasm for education in its broadest sense set for us an example to be followed and whose personal culture and high social ideals for the student and graduates of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina are a challenge for the present and for the future.

THE WEDDING RING

An old Jewish legend tells that Cain made the first ring and gave it to his wife. It is supposed that the idea originated in the far-off dawn of all things, when men first looked out into the world, noted the circling horizon, and sought to reproduce it in miniature.

MISS ETHEL L. MARTUS

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF PRECIOUS STONES

Each jewel and precious stone is credited with possessing certain qualities as luck-bringers to those whose birthstone it happens to be, provided it is given them and not bought by them.

AGATE

Especially good for gardeners, foresters, and farmers, the agate endows its wearer with love and friendship.

AMBER

Amber is lucky particularly when worn as a necklace, for those whose birthstone it is. All yellow stones are luck-bringers to these people.

AMETHYST

Pre-eminently the lover's stone, as it was dedicated to Saint Valentine, their patron saint, the amethyst signifies true love and fidelity.

AQUAMARINE

The aquamarine insures happiness and fidelity. It is good luck for sailors, as it is the Water Stone.

BLOODSTONE

This is the emblem of courage. It was worn by soldiers to protect them from bleeding to death.

PEARLS

Deemed inspirers of love, pearls are an excellent gift for a bride from the bridegroom. Pearls are riches and contain qualities of the soul.

JADE

This is the ancient favor for good health and long life.

OPAL

This is the emblem of hope, because of its rainbow hues. It is called "The teardrop of the moon."

SAPPHIRE

All blue stones are lucky to lovers, since they are the color of Venus, the goddess of love. It is claimed to have occult powers, bringing in peaceful influence, love, hope, and joy.

TURQUOISE

This stone is also blue, but it has an added quality of avoiding danger.

CORAL

This stone is a promise of long and happy lives to brides.

DIAMOND

Deemed the most powerful of all stones, the diamond signifies wisdom, insight, innocence, and joy. It is the symbol of the sun and invisible fire.

EMERALD

Faithfulness of lovers is symbolized by its exquisite depth of color, which rarely fades. It also signifies simplicity and brilliance to its wearer.

JACYNTH

This stone will render its wearer fascinating. It should always be set in gold.

MOONSTONE

It contains a charm for all those who travel by land or sea, and gives protection.

RUBY

This stone is the symbol of great happiness. Its brilliance brings charm to its wearer and inspires confidence. It brings good fortune in all undertakings.

Senior Class Song

*Before us wide seas sparkle and endless caverns burn,
We've a thousand miles to travel and a million things
to learn,
But U. N. C. will see us through with spirit set alive
And we'll emerge the brave and true—the class of '35.
'35, '35—so strong and brave and free,
We'll strive with God to reach our goal
In praise of U. N. C.*

SENIOR CLASS POEM

As We Go Forth

*Oh, World, salute us now as we go forth
To conquer life—or to be conquered by it,
And wish us health and happiness and joy
And strength that we may meet life face to face;
For time will not be still and let us stay
As we are now—with eyes still deep with dreams—
Half-hidden lest you laugh and restless hands
That still cling to the past—a little fearful
And yet are eager for the work of life.*

*The day will come when we will find that time
Has either made us strong—or broken us;
Has given to our dreams a permanence
Or killed them with the weight of trivial things;
Has used our bodies to create new life
Or drained their power and left them pain; has used
Our hands to build a finer dwelling place
Or left them lying limp upon the sheet.*

*But where we go or what we are or do
Is a secret that's lying deep in the heart of time.
So, World, salute us now as we go forth
To conquer life—or to be conquered by it.*

HISTORY OF THE SENIOR CLASS

INTRODUCTION

From every corner of North Carolina and from many states in the Union came the girls who, by entering this College in the fall of 1931, automatically became members of this our Class of 1935. But then we scarcely considered ourselves a class; we were more essentially individuals, looking at each other and the rest of the College with curious eyes, wondering what it was all about—what was expected of us, and what we could expect of the others. Most of us had to learn that there was another place in the world besides the communities from which we came. We had to learn how to get along with strangers—persons who did not know us or our families—who were looking at us, and not at our backgrounds. It was through our organization as a class that we began to orient ourselves to this new mode of living; and while gradually becoming molded into a recognized unit, we were also learning to develop ourselves as individuals. By working together to carry out traditions handed down to us from other classes, we discovered that we were capable of assuming responsibility. We gradually learned what was expected of us; and we discovered that we were at least partially capable of living up to those expectations. At the time we began to expect less of others, to find that we could stand alone.

Suffice it to say that as we became a definitely organized unit, we carried out with varying degrees of success or failure the traditions that we from year to year inherited. During our sophomore year we had a luxuriant daisy chain, a busy, distracted jacket committee, and a quaint Christmas pageant. In our junior year we were chiefly occupied with class rings, "Junior Shoppe," and "Junior-Senior." Our senior year has been a series of responsibilities tackled and, in some way or other, carried out. The gift of our class to the College is a contribution to the fund for the long-desired organ for Aycock Auditorium.

Rather than describing these activities in detail, let us take advantage of this opportunity to look back over the many events that have taken place on campus during the four history-making years that our class has been upon it.

SUSANNE KETCHUM
Poet

CHAPTER I.

With its first officers, elected at the beginning of the second semester of our freshman year, the class really did something remarkable, especially remarkable in the light of the scarcity of money then (as now) and the small amount of dues we had to pay. With Helen Dugan as president, Heath Long, vice-president, and Dorothy Gunter, secretary, our class, the only class to finish the year without a debt on it, had a hundred dollars left over. This sum was given to Miss Coit to be used until our senior year as a loan fund, at which time we would get it back in order to put it on our gift to the College.

An innovation in social life on campus came that year with the first society dances, which, as annual events, have since become an important part of the life of the societies (and, incidentally, of the girls).

CHAPTER II.

During our sophomore year we had two sets of officers. In the first semester Mary McFarland was president, Mary Tyler, vice-president, and Genevieve Corbett, secretary-treasurer. For the second semester Gertrude Hatcher held the reins, with Martha Lockhart assisting, and Mary Brantley secretary-treasurer. Helen Dugan served as daisy chain chairman.

This year something really important happened to the College. It became a part of the University of North Carolina, and we could proudly call ourselves sisters of the students in the colleges at Chapel Hill and Raleigh.

An event of freshman week of this year filled us with horror and dismay—it was the burning of the library. As it is, however, we have been amply repaid for the horror we suffered when we saw the buildings in ruins and the inconveniences we experienced while it was being rebuilt, by the wonderfully improved structure that has taken its place—a library admirable in its conveniences and management.

The Student Curriculum Committee came into existence in this year. And the "Y" organized the Vesper Choir, to be directed by Mr. Thompson, inaugurating by this move the annual candle-light program of Christmas carols, given by this choir, which program has become a cherished tradition of the College.

CHAPTER III.

Officers of the class during our junior year were: Anna Wills, president; Frances Smith, vice-president; Mary Hazel Meacham, treasurer; Marian McDowell, secretary; and Isabel Rhodes, manager of Junior Shoppe.

Two new committees were organized this year, the Student Activities Committee and the Honor Board.

In February the long-to-be-remembered sleet storm changed the looks of our beloved campus by turning to pieces many of our finest old trees, some of whose stoutest branches broke under the enormous weight of ice that covered them. We heard the branches and smaller trees and telephone poles crashing all night long, and the next day, sick at heart, viewed the damage that had been done. The scene, everything covered with ice, was beautiful, yet ghastly. It looked like a lovely fairyland where an enraged giant had stalked, wreaking destruction. Later a corps of foresters trimmed the trees and in a small way alleviated the damage that had been done.

A real satisfaction came to us with the complete renovation of the society halls, and hope was roused in our breasts when work on a much-desired golf-course was begun.

CHAPTER IV.

With Margaret Moser as president, Jane Page Powell vice-president, Jane Costner secretary, and Isabel Rhodes treasurer, our class started out on its last year. Spectacular changes had taken place in the administration of the College and many changes were to come in other phases of campus life. Dr. Jackson became our Dean of Administration, Dr. Geneva Drinkwater our Dean of Women. The Student Curriculum Committee and the Student Activities Committee were combined. The Student Government inaugurated Loyalty Week. A new chapel committee, on which there were, besides faculty members, student representatives from each class, was organized. The big College Choir, which sings the devotional exercises held on Tuesdays, was organized. A long-awaited cut-system was inaugurated. And finally, through the patient efforts of several of our faculty members, a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa was installed at the College.

After carrying our golf sticks back and forth on the trains and buses for two years in vain, meanwhile getting the ill-will of our fellow-passengers, whose ribs they invariably poked into, and getting no use of the belated golf-course, we have finally seen the tender new course opened, ready for use. We hope that the classes that follow us will get as much pleasure out of it as we had hoped to do.

AS WE LEAVE THE COLLEGE.

During the four years that we have lived on this campus we have striven to build up our college, our class, and ourselves. We feel that we have gained much strength from the College and that we have given a small return; but we believe that the greatest thing that we can do for our College is to stand on our own feet after we leave its strengthening but sheltering walls, and make it proud to remember that we are part of it.

The Young Woman's Christian Association has chosen Miss Mary Brantley of Charlotte, N. C., president for the coming year. Miss Mary Woodward, also of Charlotte, N. C., is the new National Field Secretary. The other officers elected were as follows:

The young women of this successful company which so strangely advocates contact women are: Misses Mary Howell, Helen Howard, Kate Wilkins, Bet Nelson, and Dorothy Burger.

Only two of these successful women studied commerce in college, which only gives further proof to our argument: that personality is everything.

Misses Virginia Bennett and Frances Belvin of the laboratory staff of Squiff and Company, Chicago, yesterday announced the discovery of a new light ray which they have named the Z-ray. It is claimed that this new ray will cure any disease known to medical science.

The apparatus for concentrating the ray is very simple and the series of five treatments is inexpensive. Every man, woman, and child can have health and a life span of five hundred years as an average.

The two young women are now planning the organization of a plant in each state to manufacture these machines with only a narrow margin of profit for themselves.

Miss Moser did her undergraduate work at the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, N. C. She received her M.A. from Mediocre University and her doctorate at Gerlin.

Susanne Ketchum's new book of poetry, "Dust From These Stars," is just off the press and is receiving much favorable criticism. We think it a masterful work and look with interest for her next publication. A copy of "Dust From These Stars" will be an addition to your library and a pleasure to you.—From the Book Review Section of "The New York Times."

The New York Gazette, through the fine works of its managing editor, Miss Mary Wells, got out an extra today featuring the forced confession of the real kidnaper of the Lindbergh baby. The paper's subscriptions have risen 1,500 in twenty-four hours.

INTERNATIONAL LANGUAGE IS DEvised BY EXPERTS

Innovation Is Combination of Latin,
French and English.

The world has, in effect, become half its original size with the recent successful deviation of a common international language. Drs. Mabel Satterfield, Lorena Fairbanks, and Martha Spruill Everett, experts in language research, have been working together on this difficult project for the last eighteen months. They have compiled a dictionary and grammar to be published in the early summer.

Some Spanish and Italian have been used in the new tongue. No Eastern tongues, however, have been included; and there is speculation as to the possibility of its adoption in that section of the world. The western hemisphere, if not the entire world, has a common bond now.

This deviation is considered to be the potentially greatest single event in the life of modern international trade and commerce as well as politics and literature.

Edith Aycock is the new designing artist for the Hamlin Florist Shops of New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore. She designs corsages in particular and works with everything from ragged robins to orchids.

This position presents a new field of work which is opening up to women; and Miss Aycock's progress in it is watched with greatest interest by her friends and college women in general.

"Lava" is the title of a new book just written by Miss Alice Iola Taylor of New Bern, N. C. Miss Taylor has been making an intensive study of the subject for the past few years. Among other considerations, she takes up the question, "Can You Out-run Lava?"

The book is dedicated to the grammar grade students of Curry High School, Greensboro, N. C.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE SENIOR CLASS

We, the Class of 1935, having, despite the damaging effects of four years of terrific mental exertion, not yet been adjudged insane—probably due to the inability of interested parties to defray the expense of litigation during depression years—do hereby make our last will and testament.

ARTICLE I.

To the student body at large we do will and bequeath all the luck we wished for and did not get, confident in the knowledge that it will last over several generations of university women.

ARTICLE II.

To the incoming Seniors, who have spent three years in the inhalation of vaporous wisdom, lest they be not yet acclimatized, we leave all our oxygenic motivation to promote intellectual acuity.

ARTICLE III.

To our little sisters, who will be the Juniors we bequeath our knowledge of color therapy, i. e., our ability to look at the world through rose-colored glasses and yet realize that even though Monday looks purple, it is still blue.

ARTICLE IV.

To the rising Sophomore Class we do will our Epicurean attitude toward life with the hope that the eating will not result in obesity nor the drinking and merrymaking in a loss of equilibrium.

ARTICLE V.

Upon the Freshman Class to be, we do bestow our ability to discuss, thrash out, and solve, all the problems of campus, state, nation, and universe, with a warning not to emulate our habits of inertia and lethargy in allowing them to end in casual death.

ARTICLE VI.

Item 1. The members of the Honor Society wills all of its vast store of A's to be distributed impartially and indiscriminately to the student body in general.

Item II. We, the four Society presidents do bequeath all our supply of crepe paper, the remains of several packages of silver icicles, one large chandelier, and numerous slightly used pine trees with ivy already entwined, to next year's dance chairmen.

Item III. The Carolinian staff leaves its well established and dependable credit to purchase furnishings for a more luxuriously equipped office.

Item IV. The Coraddi does leave all its pictures of beautiful women from the cigarette ads as models for business staff members to charm the local Greensboro merchants into giving them ads.

Item V. To Miss WCUNC of 1936 we bequeath the following: Jane Page Powell's hair, Mary Lamb's eyes, Mebane Holoman's nose, Bet Nelson's complexion, Kate Wilkin's smile, Doris Poole's figure, Heath Long's sense of humor, Barbara Graves' general intelligence, Susanne Ketchum's versatility, and Mary Brantley's friendly disposition.

Item VI. We do hereby nominate for oblivion: community singing, double cuts, blue Mondays, garrulity in chapel speakers, the campus Huey Long's.

As sole executor and administrator of this valuable parchment, we, the Senior Class, do set our hand and seal to this document on this first day of April in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, in the town of Greensboro, Guilford County, in the State of North Carolina.

Sophomore Class Song

*College days pass by so quickly,
Faster than we realize.
The road to our success is rugged,
But onward we will ever strive.*

*Freshmen, Sophomores, or Juniors,
Seniors wrapped in dignity,
It makes no difference what our name is
This our song will always be.*

*We are the class of 1937 of W. C. U. N. C.
Staunch we'll stand through all the years,
For the Blue and White we'll give three cheers,
And as the years go quickly flying by
We'll strive to reach our goal.*

*We are the class of 1937 of W. C. U. N. C.
We will through all our college days
Seek "Honor Non Honores."
And when the time has come for us to part
We will forever be faithful, true, in all we do
To W. C. U. N. C.*

HAIL 1935!

TO become an alumna is simply to advance into the next class. The Alumnae Association is that "next class." We no longer think that Graduation Day brings us to the edge of a chasm which forever divides us from our College, from its interests and activities, and from participation in them. The Alumnae Association is the bridge across the break. Over it our College goes to meet its daughters again and again, and in a hundred ways to follow us with enduring interest. Over it we may return to our College through the months and years, bringing with us gifts of counsel tempered by experience, and evidences of our steadfast faith in its purposes; bringing also thirsty minds and hearts for refreshment at its eternal springs. We who are a step ahead know that these things are true. And so as you say "Farewell," we blithely answer, "Hail!"

In a very large degree the future of the College is in the hands of the alumnae. A tree is known by its fruits. A college is known by its products. Deciding what college to attend is a thing of tremendous importance in a girl's life. Quality students facing this decision will naturally seek admission to colleges which produce quality alumnae. Quality alumnae can be produced only from quality material. Will you accept your individual responsibility for the future of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina? Will you with enthusiasm see that its fine advantages are made known to possible students and to citizens in general wherever you may be? Will you keep yourselves informed about its problems, determined to help find a solution? Seeing always new goals upon the horizon, will you go along hand in hand with our College, steadfastly, courageously, until these purposes have been achieved? Will you, because to do so is a privilege as well as duty, an opportunity as well as a responsibility, enter into partnership with our College, take your place joyfully in the association of alumnae, and when the call to service comes, as it does and will, for the work to be done is great, answer gladly? We extend an invitation now.

MRS. OCTAVIA JORDAN PERRY,
President of the Alumnae Association.

CLARA BOOTH BYRD,
Alumnae Secretary.

The Number Thirteen

The number thirteen must be lucky. It has played a prominent part in the history of our country, the most fortunate and the most respected nation of today. There are thirteen original colonies. There are thirteen bars in the American flag. There are thirteen stars in the United States Seal. There are thirteen stars on the silver currency of the United States. There are thirteen letters in E Pluribus Unum. There are thirteen letters in Woodrow Wilson, under whose direction we won the World War.

There are thirteen letters in NORTH CAROLINA.

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES COUNCIL

PURPOSE

It is our desire that here on our campus the true spirit of religion, as a "radiant, joyful, liberating force, shall so promote our life together that we may constantly discover fresh sources of spiritual supply, and in our daily relationships continually build up these spiritual reserves essential to life at its highest and best.

Certain great needs are common to us all: the need for worship; the need for a knowledge of the infinite resources of religion; the need for opportunity to express in life the convictions being built up in our hearts. It is for such fundamental needs as these that the Religious Activities Council, composed of representatives of the Y. W. C. A., the faculty, and the various church groups, seeks to make provision. The purpose of the Council is two-fold: to nourish on our campus an atmosphere conducive to normal growth in spiritual understanding and power; and, second, to promote a program of religious activities designed to give adequate opportunity for the daily expression of Christian ideals and convictions.

*Shoulder to shoulder, hearts filled with devotion,
With purpose not aimless but earnest and true,
United by all the ties of deep friendship,
We bring, O Adelphi, our homage to you.*

*We pledge to you loyalty long and unending,
Loyalty which will be firm, which will be true,
Devotion we pledge you that never shall perish,
And love which through all coming time will endure.*

*With courage undaunted we'll march ever onward,
Up heights to be won along paths strange and new;
But now and forever one great band of sisters
We'll be, O Adelpia, still loyal to you.*

Aletheian Song

*Ah! Truth, whose light throughout the countless years
Has been passed down to us from soul to soul,
We seek Thee, tho! through toil and tears,
Until we find Thee, that we may be whole.
A spark of Thee is born within each breast;
We strive to feed that tiny altar fire
With other sparks we find upon our quest,
O Aletheis, of our pure desire.*

*Thou art an ideal, boundless, unattained,
While yet we strive to live Thee every day;
Thou art in all, and yet cannot be gained
Save by long search, and weary, and the way
Winds by strongholds of ignorance and sin.
But seeking Thee in all we know, at last
We'll break the gates that there may enter in Thy light of understanding when our search is past.*

Cornelian Song

*In joy and praise come let us sing
With anthem clear and strong;
Let all Cornelian voices ring
In free, exultant song.
Of pride for that fair name we bear,
Cornelia, glorious word,
To make us gladly do and dare,
Whene'er 'tis thought, whene'er 'tis heard.*

*We'll onward, upward ever more,
Our footsteps forward pressed;
Together move in sister-love
Upon the mountain's crest,
To gain the fair, wide, spreading view
Which round the mountain lies,
And give us understanding new,
Enlightening our eager eyes.*

*May Cornelia's name have ne'er a stain
From any daughter's deed.
For her, all glory will be given
And give her honor's meed;
And firm and staunch we'll ever stand
Unto each other true,
And loyal to her noble band,
Hers, yea, her own, our whole lives through.*

Dikean Song

*Dike, who speaks with reverberant grandeur,
Through listening portals of true womanhood,
Into thy vastness, we come now entrusting
Powers as yet latent with will's hope imbued;
Glad for the toiling, the common endeavor,
Glad for the wideness of ways to be won,
To do for the deed's sake, still keeping the vision,
Trusting secure in the love 'round us thrown.*

*Stamped with that beauty and light of thy image
We would go forth with a creative faith;
Builders potential and makers of highways,
Easing for others the paths they may take.
And as cometh the child of the dawn
To fashion the fabric of dreams scarce completed
And serve thee forever, O Light, farther on.*

SOCIETY DANCE

College Song

*We raise our voices; let them swell
In a chorus loud and strong;
The rolling hills send back the sound
Of our triumphant song.
For in one great unbroken band
With loyal hearts, and true
Your daughters stand, and hand in hand
Sing, College dear, to you.*

*Our college days run swiftly by,
And all too soon we part;
But in the years that are to come
Deep graven on each heart
Our motto, "Service," will remain,
And service we will do.
And as we serve our hearts will turn,
O College dear, to you.*

*Dear Alma Mater, strong and great,
We never shall forget
The gratitude we owe to you—
A never-ending debt;
All honor to your name we give
And love we pledge anew,
Unfailing loyalty we bring,
O College dear, to you.*

Black Diamonds

A girl typist in Boston, in the presence of liable witness declared that she had just gone to a new job in the city, after weary weeks of unemployment, and disappointment, and she solemnly ascribed her luck to the fact that she picked up a piece of coal from the street on her way to be interviewed by a prospective employer. Not only that, but she had passed on the tip, and the black diamond, plain coal to us, to a friend of hers, when she went after a job. It proved equally successful to the friend. Seniors, we pass this on to you. Pick up a piece of coal when you launch that expedition of "job hunting."

The custom of throwing an old shoe, comes from the Anglo-Saxon. It corresponds to that passage in Psalms, "Over Edom will I cast my shoe." It was the symbol of authority used in marriage ceremonies, to denote that the bridegroom was to have power over his bride. Perhaps they in olden times just created that "OBEY" for the brides of modern times. The rice is a token of fruitfulness and plenty

The roses denote happiness, and the orange blossoms or myrtle are emblems of constancy and never-dying love.

The Swastika

The most ancient of all talismen, according to various authorities, is the swastika. It has been discovered in temples and among ruins and stone implements in all parts of the world, and has been traced back to the Neolithic Age. Chinese, Hindoos, and Red Indians believe in it as a symbol of luck, and cultured Western people have adopted it as a charm. The name in the Sanskrit stands for the purveyor of good fortune.

The Four-Leaf Clover

A modern symbol of Luck, yet a very popular one is the four-leaf clover. It is rare, but clover itself is a lucky plant, since its blossoms are so fragrant. "The sweeter the flower, the more charm it contains." It is most sought after, for it gives the finder her secret wish. A maiden will wear it in her shoe to expedite her wish and assure her good fortune. If one of more than four leaves is found, one should give that away and thus bring good luck to both persons.

A Chaplet of Flowers

In ancient Rome, every bride wore a wreath of flowers on her head. In Tudor times, it consisted of ears of corn to signify plenty. During the thirteenth century, wreaths for both the bride and bridegroom were retained in the churches for use at weddings.

In Teutonic countries, the bridesmaids visit the bride the evening before her wedding and present her with a myrtle wreath. Elsewhere, mothers grow a pot of myrtle in preparation for their daughters' nuptials.

In Denmark, every bride wears a wreath of myrtle, and after the wedding she stands in the midst of her bridesmaids, throws a spray among them. The one who catches it is supposed to be the next bride.

Thus comes our custom of a bride's wearing a wreath of flowers, and throwing her bouquet to her attendants.

Find your lucky number and read the significance.

Either the first or last name or both.

This is the way:

Put the figures, which the letters in your name denote on the chart, and add them. For instance, MARY represents 4197. These added make 21. 2 added to 1 makes 3. Therefore, the lucky number for Mary is 3.
