PINE NEEDLES

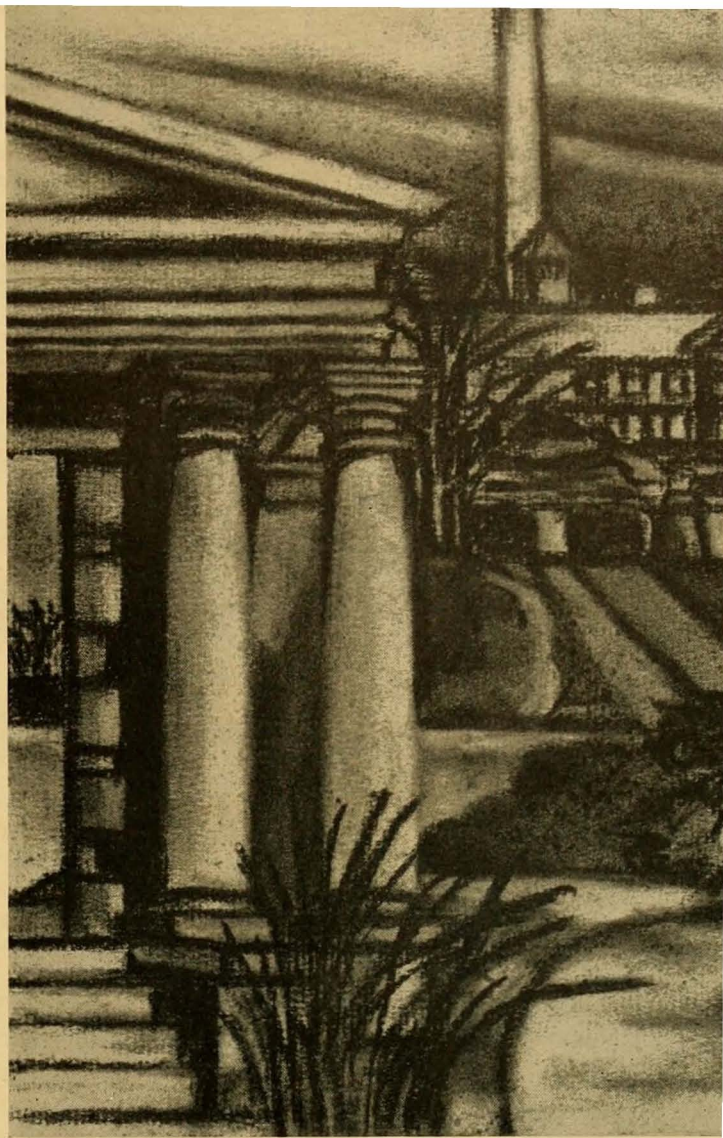

In this volume of the PINE NEEDLES it is our purpose to bring before you an accurate and appropriate glimpse of our college life as we have lived it. It is our hope that in the years to come, when our memories of college days become hazy, this 1938 PINE NEEDLES will help us to recapture some of the fair-mindedness, light-heartedness, and companionship which has been ours during our stay at Woman's College.

In recalling for you the numerous activities and organizations of the University, Time has been pursued through the use of symbols of the passing of time—of the day, the clock; of the month, the calendar; of the seasons, the signs of the zodiac.

RESIDENCE HALL LIFE

Each of the thirteen residence halls on the Woman's College campus has an official hostess, a Counselor. It is to these Counselors that the students may go for advice on questions academic as well as social. A distinct feeling of friendship exists between the Counselor and the students of her residence hall.

The social life on the campus pivots around the social life in these thirteen houses. Each hall is the home of approximately one hundred and twenty-two students from September until June. During these months the girls live together in a congenial and elevating atmosphere. Tea dances, informal parties, outdoor activities play their share in rounding out a college program in which all students are urged to participate.

VIRGINIA TATUM

The Student Government Association is the student organization of the college through which each student assumes responsibility for the life and conduct on the campus. This opportunity for self-government necessitates the serious effort of student officers, the judicious use of the powers entrusted to them, and, above all else, the loyal support of every college student working for the improvement of the College with which she has chosen to associate herself.

To uphold as a student body the academic and social standards of the College, to exercise the powers of self-government to the best of our ability, to achieve a spirit of co-operation and to do our part to build a Greater University is the purpose of our Association. Through the accomplishment of such an aim we hope to render ourselves worthy of the trust placed in us when the organization was created.

EMILY HARRIS

GERTRUDE DARDEN

SENIOR CLASS SONG

Arise! Arise! And sing of '38
 Ye daughters one and all.
 Lift your voices, answer loud and clear
 Alma Mater's call.
 We'll stand together as we pledge,
 Our love and loyalty;
 And our hearts we'll ever turn,
 Green and white to thee.
 We'll take our place, and bravely we will stand,
 Our hands firm clasped in thine,
 As down the years thy children march
 In one unbroken line.

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1938

W. C. U. N. C.
Greensboro, N. C.
November 7, 1934

Dear Sally,

My old alibi, "meant to write but have been busy" comes to the fore again, but now that I am writing, I do want to tell you about college life. Remember how we used to picture it? Well, it's nothing like we thought or like it is in the movies! We don't ride around in sport roadsters all day or sit around in lounging pajamas and have bull sessions, altho' I'll admit we have plenty of those especially after the light bell has rung at 10:30. Let me tell you about my arrival, tho'. As the train pulled into Greensboro I began to get that sinky feeling in my stomach and to wish that I was back home once more. It was a grey, chilly day, and the rain poured down in sheets. As a matter of fact, it has rained over half the days of this month. This town certainly has its rainy season! At the station were some upper-classmen, and I don't know what I would have done without them, for they authoritively took charge of the situation and packed me and my bags into a taxi and gave the driver instructions as to where to carry me. Spencer was my destination and the sweetest, whitehaired lady met me at the door. I began to feel right at home, and after my big sister and Junior adviser had called on me I felt as though I owned the place! But that night—oh! I'll never forget it! My roommate hadn't come, and around ten o'clock I began to get that lonesome, homesick feeling. You know that I've been away from home before, and you remember also how I poked fun at Margie, who came right back home last year because she was homesick, but I came mighty near doing that thing myself! The next morning, tho', was a beautiful day, and I was so busy doing and seeing things that I didn't have time for homesickness. The only time I got that feeling again was when the doctor at the infirmary poked a needle in my arm in some sort of a tuberculin test, and I thought that only those who were suspected of T. B. had to take the test. I cried 'n' cried until my next door neighbor told me that all freshmen took it, and explained to me that it was a part of our physical and medical examinations.

Rain seems to be the order of things in all our class activities. We had the Lantern Festival down in Peabody park, and just as things were getting under way there came a cloudburst, drenching all of us and putting out our pretty lanterns which were strung on clothes-hangers. I made a mad dash for the dormitory, but it was raining so hard that I stopped in Mary Foust. There I met a lot more Freshmen and it made me feel more than ever a part of a unit. Mary Foust and New Guilford, as well as Spencer, are freshman dorms. I can see why they put all of the Freshmen so close to the class buildings, for I'd certainly get lost in this huge place if I had to go very far. There are twelve dormitories, and so many other buildings that I haven't even gotten around to counting them yet. The two dorms farthest away, East and West, aren't opened, but a lot of the Freshmen don't know that. Consequently they have been sent on many errands over to East or West, only to find the doors locked.

Every night after light-bell has rung we play around. One night last week I got locked in the closet in another girl's room because we heard Mary Clare coming (she's our House President) and I almost suffocated before

I got out. Adrienne kept trying to get her out, but she kept talking and asking questions, and there I was, smothering under somebody's laundry bag! That week was my unlucky one I think, for the very next night I got closed study for playing the piano in the game room after 7:30, and the house vice-president blessed me out because my alarm clock went off at four o'clock in the morning. Just as soon as I find who set it for that hour I'm going to fix her up fine with a pie-bed.

Society initiation was the most fun! We had to carry our books in pillow cases, and wear ribbons on our heads, and no makeup. One girl had to stop the trolley, put her foot on the step and tie her shoe string, and then move off. Except for cleaning up the dirtiest room I ever saw and skipping backwards down steps, I had nothing particularly bad to do. I really believe that those girls tried to see just how dirty they could get that room for the fun of watching me clean it up.

I've got to stop now and go to class, Sally, but I promise that I'll write sooner next time. Answer this before I go home Thanksgiving. We get four whole days— isn't that wonderful?

Love,

MARY GREEN.

Dear Sally,

Just think, I'm almost a Sophomore, and it seems only yesterday that I came up here all scared and worried. Everybody (the Seniors, anyway) say that Sophomores feel their importance, but I don't believe I will. Of course, I'll be glad that I'm not a Freshman any more, but I don't think I'll feel all "uppity."

Now that spring has come more exciting things have been happening. At last we have a class song, and in a few weeks we are going to entertain our Big Sisters at a banquet; I know it will be more fun!

Last Saturday night was the date of the Junior-Senior dance, and the Sophs gave the Mock Junior-Senior on the same night. It was a lot of fun, except that the victrola would get hung on almost every record.

We had our class elections, also, and the following officers were elected: Eleanor Dunn, president; Marietta Muller, vice-president; Elnora Raiff, secretary; and Ruth Westcott, treasurer. They are to serve for the first semester of next year.

Soon will come exam time, and then we go home, to return not until September— unless an F on biology is forthcoming. In that case— summer school. Well, I won't think about that now!

As ever,

MARY GREEN.

Dear Sally,

We are busily working on the Sophomore pageant, but I decided to take a few hours off and write to you, so here 'tis—The pageant should be lovely. Adrienne Wormser is the chairman and from all I see and hear it ought to be the best one ever given. We had our dance on the 23rd of November, and I wore my new green dress—have to show I'm a member of the class of '38, you know.

Work has begun on the Alumnae House, and for all the progress that is being made we will probably get in it by the time we graduate—only three more years, you know.

Nino Martini was here last week and thrills and heart throbs are the results. Something that I really enjoyed was the Minneapolis Symphony.

Remind me to show you my class jacket when I get home. It is lovely. Some of them are suede and some are leather, but all are green, with the seal on the pocket. Mine is suede.

This will have to be a short letter, Sally, as I have to go to the auditorium at five to practice for the pageant, so 'bye now—

As ever,

MARY GREEN.

Dear Sally,

You should have seen our Chapel program; it was a scream. Gena Tatum, who can be so dignified, stole the show by her version of the snake dance, and Charlotte Williams is a potential Jeannette MacDonald. We have had elections of all sorts recently. "Pug" Grissette was elected Daisy Chain Chairman; Vivian Rothacher, class president for next year; Lillyn Miller, vice-president; Mary Boney, secretary; and Ruth Westcott, treasurer.

We have been practising our farewell song to the seniors. It is to the tune of "The Old Refrain," and I know that we'll all break down when we sing it. If we feel that way about it now, think how we'll feel when we have it sung to us two years from now. That time is beginning to seem not so far away now, for this year has literally flown by. When I look back all I can see is a jumble of the Kolisch Quartet, the tornado that hit Greensboro, the Hedgerow Players, the pageant, dancing every night in the Game Room, cramming for exams, reading the "Over the Transom" column in The Carolinian, playing tennis on warm afternoons, and sitting up all night Saturday night playing bridge. Then there is the last-month rush to the library to work on unfinished term papers, with a jaunt down to Bert's or the Grill afterward to get a dope, and then the Sping nights when we go out and pick the campus flowers for our room before it gets dark.

I have already stored up so many memories of college life that it seems always to have been a part of my life. I must stop this reminiscing, though, Sally, for I'll have to go to dinner now. Goodbye. I'll see you soon—

As ever,

MARY GREEN.

Dear Sally,

You ought to see our little green and white caps with '38 on the front of them! The old rivalry between '38 and '39 burst into flame at a mass meeting not long ago—'39 wore red and white skirts and sweaters and sang the loudest, but we created the biggest sensation with our little caps. They certainly are coming in handy, for we wear them for everything from rain-hats to calots.

We are so proud of our Little Sisters, for they've jumped right into things. The Junior-Freshman ceremony in the park went off just fine. I went off fine the first six weeks, too,—off the deep end with an "Unsat." It's the first one I've ever got and it was a surprise, though not as great a shock as it might have been.

We have had some good concerts and chapel programs recently—I don't think I'll ever forget the Sedalia Singers' "Jericho," or the Joos Ballet. Nelson Eddy is coming in April, and from all reports we're going to have to go to the Auditorium in March in order to get a seat.

'Bye now,

MARY GREEN.

Dear Sally,

Our class came to the fore again when we won the gym meet. This is the second time that we have won, and you have no idea how thrilled we are. In fact, our class has been in the foreground all semester. The major Student Government officers came from our class, and the elections were most exciting. So many good and capable people were up for every office that it was hard to decide whom to vote for. The elections ended with Lucy Spinks as president of Student Government and Virginia Tatum as vice-president. The snake dance afterward was a memorable occasion, despite the fact that it had rained that day. All of our class activities resemble the aura of the sun shining through the rain, for in spite of bad weather we always came through.

Among the girls who made Pbi Beta Kappa this year were three Juniors: Georgia Arnett, Gwen MacMullin, and Katherine Causey. I remember some one remarked about our class that it was no average one, for the results of the preliminary tests we were given our Freshman year showed that we were either way above average or way below, and I suppose by now only the way above ones remain.

Outstanding among the social events we have had was the Junior-Senior dance. Liz Peden was dance chairman, and the cellophane decorations were something to look at as was Earl Mellen, the orchestra leader. You can't imagine how everybody felt when they saw him in person. From his picture we expected him to be tall and handsome but he was only handsome!

I hate to see this year end, for only one more remains to us. These past three years have flown by, each going a little faster than the last. I can't imagine how it would feel not to be in school. Dashing madly to classes at 8:14, running to the corner for a lemon dope, waiting a half-hour in the lunch line, trying to make a flying trip from Curry to the Auditorium, with the Post Office sandwiched in, going to the library at 9:10 to get an overnight book—all these things have become so much a part of my life that a time when I did anything else doesn't seem ever to have existed. The place that seemed so strange to me three years ago has become a second home.

I'll write you again soon, Sally. Until then—g'bye.

Love,

MARY GREEN.

Dear Sally,

Here's a note from the almost graduate. So many things have been packed into this one short year that it's almost impossible to tell you everything.

This little fish swam merrily over to Rosenthal pond for the Senior dance and floated around for a few hours. From what Mr. Phillips told us at our last class meeting we're soon going to be swimming elsewhere, whether with or against the current remains to be seen.

The outstanding Seniors have been selected, and they are as follows: Vivian Rothacher, Lucy Spinks, Rachel Nye, Adrienne Wormser, Marietta Muller, Virginia Tatum, Betty Calder, and Alma Hall. Marietta was elected May Queen and plans are being made for the prettiest May Day that we've ever had. Eileen Gamble is May Day chairman.

I'll write you later, Sally, and tell you more about the graduate of '38. Just now in the rush of things she's not exactly sure about what is happening, but she's doing her best to be the dignified senior!

Love always,

MARY GREEN.

SENIOR CLASS POEM

The giant monoliths taut in the purple shadow
 Frown down, but with a knowing that is gaunt,
 For their presence transilluminates eternity.
 They have not yet gone, nor shall be gone
 Until all living rock has yielded
 To the ravages of temporality —
 That relentless hand with its tenaculum
 Plucking and pulling off veins and flesh
 Until nothing but the milky bone
 Is yet able to keep its identity
 Apart from the all-consuming earth.
 And bleaching in the heat of the Nevada deserts
 (ever moving on their restless feet of sand)
 Lie crumbling the great buffalo frames,
 Silent, frozen testimonies of the past.
 But the ages have not yet muted
 The virile throats of Alighieri and Isaiah,
 Of those who spoke and taught
 Of Beauty in the Athenian market-places
 And left their wisdom in the laps of the gods;
 Of their spiritual sons who have walked

In endless file down the centuries,
 Lending thought from lip to lip
 And in turn from mind to mind —
 Thought like the silver muscle of a stream
 Forcing two hills down into a valley
 And binding them with its fluid band.
 We must believe that nothing of the mind is remote.
 Nothing that is now thought will be so
 To those future years whose misty reaches
 Overwhelm one with their untried power.
 For knowledge is but the total sum
 Of the gleanings of an ever living past,
 Not a newly divined intuition.
 It is we who have received the strength
 To push up with our mortal hands
 The great undying eyelids, often closed
 And coldly incomprehensible to multitudes,
 And peer long into their ever-clearing depths.
 It is we who through this experience
 Shall create in turn a new past to be absorbed
 And integrated long before our dust has completely gone.

JUNIOR CLASS SONG

Seeking beauty, strength, and wisdom,
 In a never-ending quest,
 We, the Class of Thirty-nine,
 Cherish ideals pure and fine,
 Seeking, giving of our best,
 As we march toward Life's bright crest.

With all the zeal of our courageous young hearts,
 With all the loyalty they hold,
 We'll look to God to guide as forward we go;
 We'll ever strive to reach our goal.
 Oh, College dear, may we bring honor to you!
 Thirty-nine is loyal to you!
 We're strong to dare and do!

RUTH GILLMORE

We praise thee today, our dear College,
 Our Alma Mater so true,
 May thy numberless daughters, wherever they roam,
 Be faithful and loyal to you.

All hail from the proud class of '40!
 All hail to our College so dear!
 We will ever remember and cherish
 The years we will spend with you here.

There is joy in the halls, on the campus;
 1940 answers your call.
 And the torch that you hand us we'll keep burning high,
 And pledge you it never will fall.

THE SOCIETIES

Social organizations managed entirely by students, the societies, Aletheian, Adelpian, Cornelian, Dikean, give opportunity for friendship and social experience. Membership is optional, but few, if any, representative students fail to identify themselves with one of these groups. Informal teas, dances, and parties are features of many regular programs. Each society has a formal dance during the spring semester.

The Cornelian, Adelpian, and Dikean Societies, originally organized as literary societies, sponsored the development of a literary magazine on this campus, a magazine which still bears the name Coraddi (Cornelian, Adelpian, Dikean), and which has become the organ for artistic and literary expression for the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina. Through the publication of the best stories, articles, poems, and pictures submitted for its four issues, Coraddi has sought to encourage young writers and artists.

The Young Women's Christian Association, affiliated with the national organization and with the World's Christian Student Federation, seeks not only to aid students with their intimate daily problems of living, but also to form a channel through which they may unite themselves with the great body of students throughout the world seeking the best way of life for themselves and for all people of all races.

In a significant sense, the "Y" belongs to the whole campus, for its purpose is to serve wherever there is a need to which an organization of this kind can minister. Its membership is open to any student who accepts its purpose, and throughout the year many students may find opportunity for interesting and creative expression of both conviction and talent through the "Y's" various committees. Through discussion groups, seminars, chapel speakers, vesper programs, and community service, the "Y" endeavors to provide stimulus and guidance for students who wish individual and group experience in the field of religion.

An invitation to join the Quill Club brings with it the highest literary honor on campus. The organization is composed of a limited number of both students and faculty members who are interested in creative as well as journalistic writing. At each meeting contributions from the members are read aloud and criticized in informal discussions. Much of this work finds its way into Coraddi. Each year the Club entertains a writer or editor of note who appears on the lecture program.

The Art Club was organized in the spring of 1936 by a small group of students led by Patricia Pittman of the Class of 1937. The purpose of the Art Club as stated by the Constitution which the group framed is "to make the study of art more interesting by means of lectures, by the introduction and sponsoring of art exhibits and social functions, and by art services." The services include requests for posters, placards, illustrations, special lettering, decorations, and similar work which are referred to the Club for execution. The programs include lectures and exhibits and are open to the public.

The organization also has contributed to the Sarah Atkinson Loan Fund established by the class of 1939 and dedicated to the memory of their classmate, Sarah Atkinson, who was an art major, and an officer in the Art Club at the time of her death. This fund is for the purpose of aiding worthy art students. The Club hopes to make further contributions to it in the future.

The membership includes the art faculty, outstanding Art Majors and Minors, and other interested persons voted in by the club. Election and inauguration of new officers take place at the end of each semester.

As soon as a new member gets the "B" stamped on her forehead, she takes the pledge to support the Botany Club policy of wild life conservation. This purpose is carried out by planting various trees on the campus to get representatives of all the kinds found in the state. Among the rarer species are bald cypress, ginkgo, slash pine, table mountain pine, hemlock, and the Harbison and Ashe hop hornbeam (commemorating two great botanists). Members also bring flowers from all over the state to make Peabody park a wild flower sanctuary and to add to the traditional nature trail.

Looking always toward service, the Chemistry Club tries to provide a common meeting ground for faculty and students who show an interest and a pride in chemistry. Through the work of the Club the members not only keep up with recent developments in the chemical fields, but also broaden their interests to include the more unfamiliar phases of chemistry. The Club members have felt the need of spreading interest and information among the students, faculty members, and others. This need has been answered with a yearly project consisting of numerous exhibits, experiments, and unusual phenomena. In this, as well as in everything else the club undertakes, the relationship existing between chemistry and the present industrial civilization is shown.

It is also our purpose to enjoy social occasions and to become better acquainted with one another and with educators of North Carolina.

The membership of this club includes those seniors who teach under supervision, the members of the Education Faculty, and those directly concerned with practice teaching. All juniors who expect to do practice teaching in their senior year are eligible for membership during the spring meetings of the club. We also welcome any girls who are interested in helping to foster our aims, and we are delighted to share with them the privileges of meeting leading educators.

The membership is made up of thirty-four students of the Voice Department chosen on the basis of musicianship, tone quality, and reliability. This group, which is the first organization of the School of Music to be heard outside of Greensboro, made its first tour this spring. Local concerts and radio broadcasts were also included in the year's activities.

In 1927 the mathematicians on the campus succeeded in doing the seemingly impossible—they formed a square circle. Once a month this Square Circle meets to promote interest in the science of mathematics and to encourage a spirit of friendship among its members. Each year a faculty member of the mathematics department advises the club in its activities. At the regular meetings special guests speak or members give illustrated talks, papers, and book reviews. Two meetings during the year have become traditional: the February meeting is reserved for the initiation of students eligible for membership, and the May meeting for an outdoor picnic and the election of officers for the coming year.

Freshmen averaging at least B on mathematics during the first semester, all Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors taking mathematics, and faculty members interested in this field of science are eligible for membership.

This year the Square Circle has sponsored a problem contest. The club elected team captains who in turn chose their respective members. The team solving correctly the greatest number of problems from a given list were the guests of the losing team at the May picnic.

AN HONORARY MEMBER

On December 17, 1926, Mr. H. H. Brimley gave a talk before the Zoology Field Club. Since then his talk before the Club has become an annual event. Mr. Brimley, who is now Curator of Zoology at the State Museum at Raleigh, recently resigned as Director of the Museum after serving forty-two years in that capacity. For many years he has been widely known as a collector and preparator of natural history specimens, and many preparations and groups in the Raleigh museum are enduring monuments to his genius and industry. We, with the other people of the State of North Carolina, are proud of him and of his work. The Zoology Field Club dedicates this space to its best loved member, Mr. H. H. Brimley.

The primary aim of the Speakers' Club is to create interest in public speaking. Programs are presented regularly by the students who wish to obtain experience in speaking. The club sponsors debating and the Speech Choir, both of which are directed by Dr. Elbert R. Moses, Jr., Faculty Adviser of the club. At the beginning of this year the Club sponsored a course in Parliamentary Law for the student leaders. The course was conducted by Miss Louise Alexander.

Le Cercle Francais was organized for students who are sufficiently interested in French to wish to speak it outside the classroom and who would like to become more intimately acquainted with the French people, their life, and their literature. The meetings are conducted in French; the programs consist of plays, pageants, songs and speakers from this and other colleges.

The Physics Club is composed of students who have done good work in the Physics Department and are recommended for membership by the instructors of the Department. The policy of the Club this year has been to encourage individual projects of practical significance in order that the activities of the organization may be best adapted to the interest of all its members. This affords an opportunity for those students who are no longer taking physics courses to pursue actively their interest in physics and to enjoy the guidance of the physics faculty. The members of the Club usually number around twenty-five.

The Handbook is used, not only as a guide book for members of the student body, but also as an introduction to the College for prospective new students. It contains information about every phase of student life, including organizations, activities, and life in the residence halls.

The Handbook is of particular value to new students, who may learn through it important facts about the Student Government Association, the Y.W.C.A. and its work, the various clubs on the campus, the religious groups, the societies, and all extra-curricular activities.

Through the Handbook the new students become acquainted with the campus leaders and many members of the faculty and get a foretaste of what their campus life will be.

The Square Dance Club has as its primary aim the preservation of a Southern folk art, bringing joy to those participating. The fact that the Club has fifty-five members seems sufficient evidence that, to some degree, it lives up to its objective. The Club was sponsored in 1936 by Miss Aldace Fitzwater, former member of the faculty. Members of the Club include not only physical education majors, but also any students who are interested enough to attend meetings, learn the steps, and take an active part in the Club.

The Inter-Faith Council is composed of representatives of the Y.W.C.A., the faculty, and the various church groups. The purpose of this Council is two-fold: first, to create an atmosphere conducive to growth in spiritual understanding and power; and second, to provide a program of religious activities designed to give adequate opportunity for the expression of Christian ideals in living. SOCIETY SPORTS DAY

A half holiday is set aside each year in May for what is known as Society Sports Day. Classes and school work are put aside and hundreds of girls take part in numerous and varied tests of skills during the afternoon.

The program is sponsored by the Athletic Association and the four societies on the campus. All participants enter for their particular society in one or more events, according to their ability and the schedule of activities. But ability and skill are not necessary pre-requisites for taking part in Sports Day. The aim in having such a day is to provide fun for everyone who might enjoy taking part. The games and activities range from those of lower organization to team games and include jacks, scavenger hunts, horse shoes, volley ball, shuffleboard, tether ball, archery, bowling, tennis, relays, swimming, and last and often most entertaining—a baseball game between student and faculty teams. Of special interest also is the Horse Show which ends the activities of the afternoon and for which ribbons are given.

As part of the program there is a formal dinner, honoring the participants, at which time the winning society is announced and the silver cup is presented to the president of that society. Also, awards in the form of pins are given to those students who have amassed as many as one thousand points by participation in athletic activities during the previous years.

As conclusion to the program for the day, it is customary for each society to present a one-act play in competition with the other societies. This is a fitting climax to an afternoon where fun has prevailed and where friendly intra-society relationships have been strengthened by play and sport.

Sports began in the fall of 1937 with practices for the major and minor sports. The major sports, hockey and soccer, held practices twice a week while the minor sport, volley ball, was practiced once a week. These practices ended in inter-class games which proved to be a great deal of fun and excitement, not only for the participants but also for the spectators who came out "clothed" in class spirit. The combined junior team, consisting of physical education majors, and non-majors, won the final hockey game whereas the combined sophomore and junior class claimed the honor of being soccer champions. As much as we all enjoyed these sports we willingly left them and began practicing for the winter season.

The major activities here were basketball and swimming with gymnastics as a minor sport. Our intra-mural basketball program is quite extensive, taking in all the residence halls and society teams. These games were followed by the inter-class practices and games.

Swimming practices are always fun, consisting of technique work on strokes and diving and ending with a water game or a free swim.

The culmination of the gymnastics season is the Gym Meet which is one of the outstanding events of the year. Stunts, demonstrations of apparatus work, relays, are a part of the program.

And now it is time for spring sports. Baseball and tennis command a wide circle of enthusiasts. Archery is becoming more and more popular and life-saving speaks for itself.

SOCCER

Sport Leader Gwendolyn MacMullin
Faculty Head Miss Henrietta Thompson

Soccer is a major fall sport. Practices are held twice a week throughout the season. This culminates in inter-class games, bringing forth much fun and enthusiasm.

HOCKEY

Sport Leader Gertrude Rainey
Faculty Head Miss Christine White

Hockey season is hailed by its many campus enthusiasts as the time when real fun starts. As the most popular major sport in the fall, hockey calls girls out in great numbers to their bi-weekly practices. After weeks of work under student coaches class teams are chosen. At first the classes are represented by two teams, one made up of majors in physical education and one of the non-majors. After an exciting round-robin tournament the two teams of each class are fused into one and the real class tournament begins. When this has been brought to a thrilling close the head coaches meet to select an honorary varsity team. This squad is made up of girls of all classes who have proved themselves to be of a rather high level of playing ability. This year the first tournament was won the junior non-major team and the final by the combined junior team. Members of the 1937 varsity are: Frances Crockett, Mary Margaret Johnson, Ruth Gillmore, Bruce Miller, Dorothy Coley, Margaret Poynor, Dorothy Ficker, Alice Suiter, Anna Stone Railey, Helen Bolling, Gertrude Rainey, Margaret Greene, and Dorothy Rosseland.

BASKETBALL

Sport Leader Helen Bolling
Faculty Head Miss Christine White

Over three hundred students participated in basketball during the winter season. In the intra-mural tournament this year the New Guilford team won first place over the Cotten aggregation. Two tournaments are organized for the class games—one for physical education majors and the other for non-majors. The juniors are the defending champions this year.

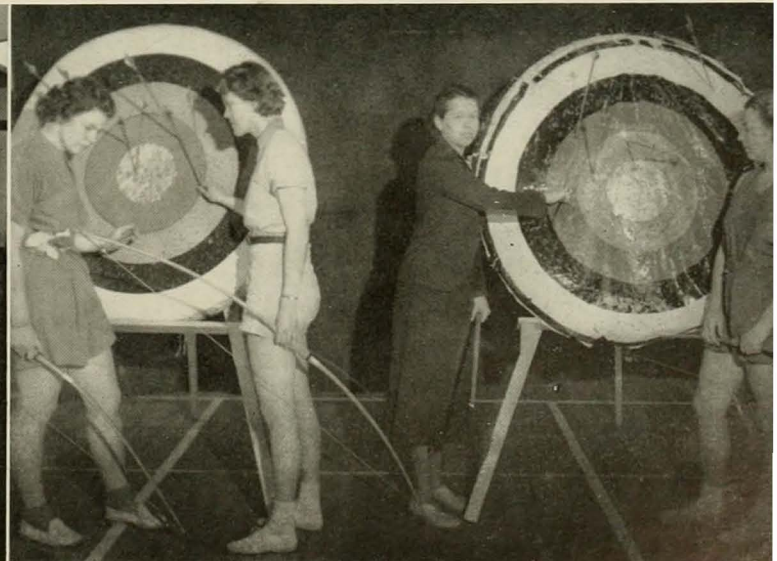

Some time during the basketball season a Play Day is held in which our neighboring colleges participate. The teams from all the colleges are intermingled for an afternoon of play.

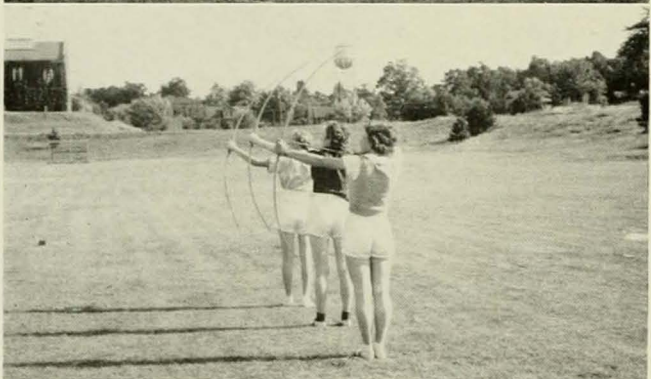

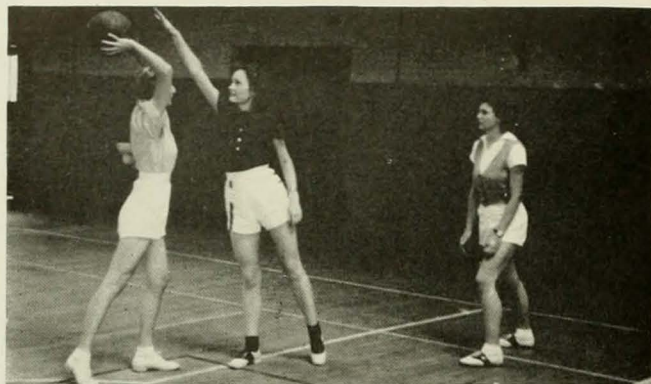

The honorary varsity for 1937 includes: Helen Bolling, Margaret Greene, Marjorie Leonard, Ruth Rogers, Dorothy Tyson, and Rowena Wilkinson.

SWIMMING

Sport Leader Katherine Schneck
Faculty Head Miss Henrietta Thompson

Swimming as a major sport of the winter season meets four times each week. At these practices all the swimming strokes are taught with emphasis upon correct form. Diving also receives its share of attention. All this practice is climaxed by an inter-class swimming meet at the end of the season on which night keen rivalry and class spirit are displayed.

GYMNASTICS

Sport Leader Margaret Poynor
Faculty Heads ... Miss Dorothy Davis, Miss Ethel Martus

What if you do prefer to stand on your own feet? Wouldn't you like to stand on your head—or even on your hands? Or would you prefer to swing on the rings? Gymnastics will give you all of these plus fun a-plenty. This is a minor sport of the winter season which meets one afternoon a week. Both stunts and apparatus technique are taught.

One big event of the year which everyone looks forward to is the Gyn Meet or Exhibition which brings all of this enjoyment to a climax. In addition to the class competition in apparatus and stunt activities, there is a big relay, a volley ball game and entertainments by various dance clubs and physical education classes.

The honorary gym team varsity as selected for 1938 is: Dorothy Coley, Ruth Gillmore, Marjory Kinney, Eloise McLean, Gwendolyn MacMullin, Margaret Poynor, and June Wilson.

VOLLEY BALL

Sport Leader Virginia Wilson
Faculty Head Miss Ethel Martus

One of the minor sports offered in the fall is volley ball. All classes participate in the practices which occur once each week. Most of the time the girls play with the regular volley ball but on some days the giant volley ball is used. The last two practices are spent in inter-class volley ball games.

The high sport of the volley ball year is on Society Sports Day when the varsity, the best players of the four classes, plays the faculty.

BASEBALL

Sport Leader Ellen Griffin
Faculty Head Miss Ethel Martus

Ninety girls reported for baseball, one of the major spring sports this year. The interclass tournament was played during the month of April and May resulting in the Sophomores winning the class championship for 1938.

Two varsity squads were chosen from the participants in this tournament; one team played a game with the faculty men team while the second team competed against the faculty women team.

The honorary first varsity team for 1938 includes: Ellen Griffin, Dorothy Coley, Anna Williams, Edna Gibson, Matooka Torrence, Eloise Smith, Alice Suiter, Marjorie Gallagher, Anna Mae Parrish, and Ruth Rogers.

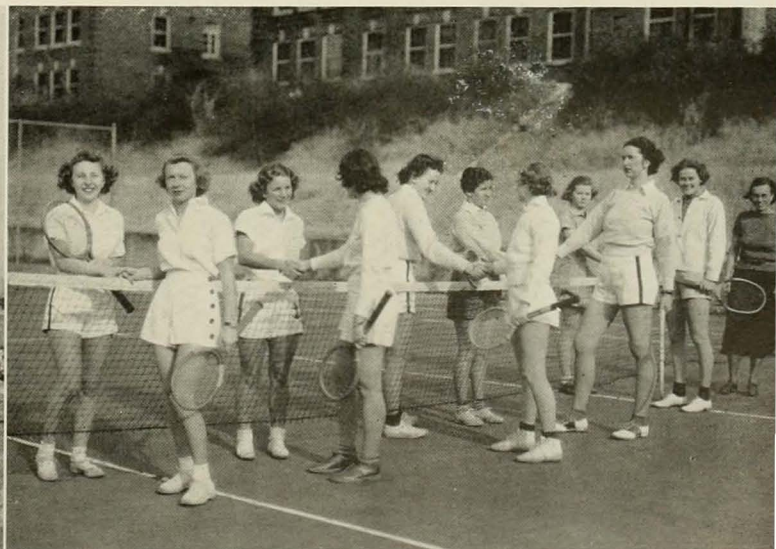

The second team includes: Mary Margaret Johnson, Margaret Greene, Frances Crean, Lena McFadyen, Martha McLean, Lora Walters, Margaret Parker, Dorothy Tyson, Mary Louise Edwards, and Marjory Kinney.

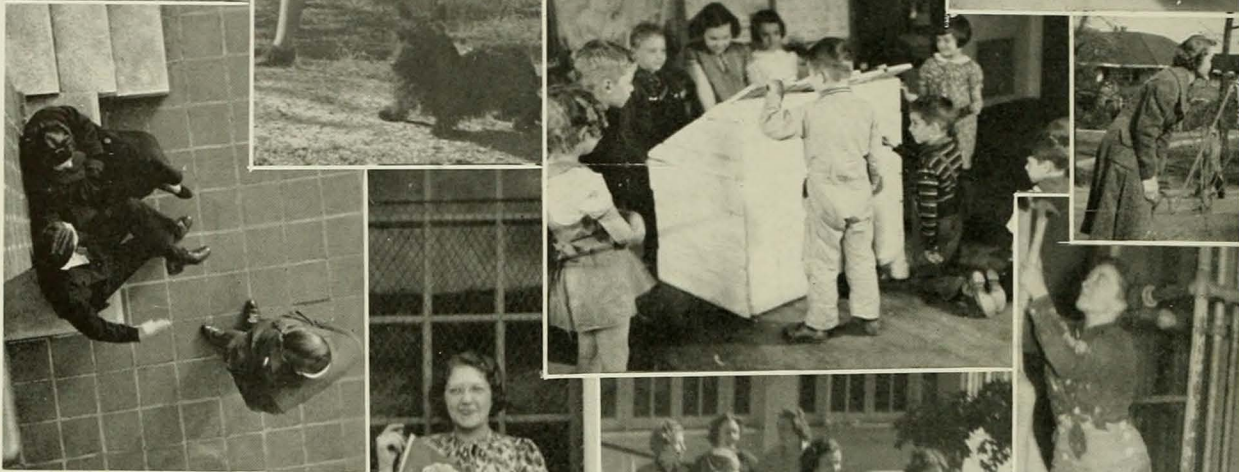

TENNIS

Sport Leader Emily Harris
Faculty Head Miss Dorothy Davis

Around seventy girls came out for the spring sport, tennis, this year. A ladder tournament was played off among the class teams during the first part of the season. Then, first and second class teams were selected from the top ranking players in the ladder tournament by the faculty head and the student coaches.

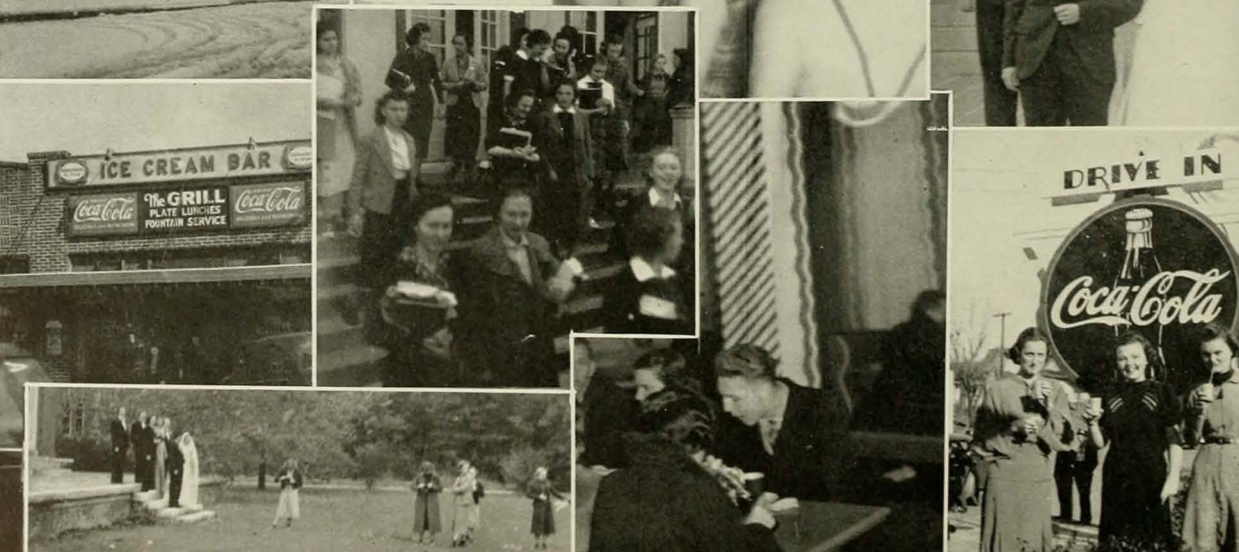

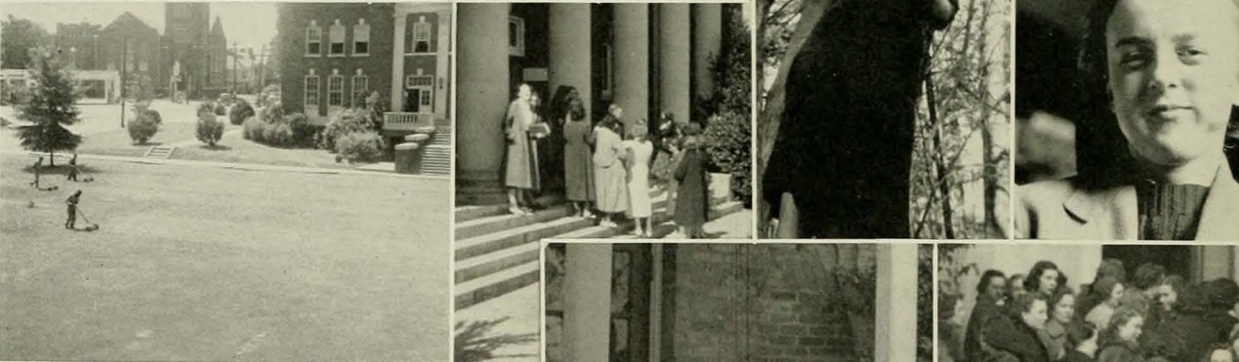

In the fall of each year, a tennis tournament is played off to find the best players in the Woman's College. Any girl can participate in the tournament; no practices are necessary. Eloise McLean won the singles tournament; while Dorothy Tyson and Eloise McLean came out on top in the doubles matches.
